All of Seton Hall's programs and policies are consistent with the University's mission and are carried out in accordance with the teachings of the Catholic Church and the proscriptions of the law.

The University supports and implements all state and federal anti-discrimination laws, including Executive Order 11246, as amended, which prohibits discrimination in employment by institutions with federal contracts; Titles VI and VII of the 1964 Civil Rights Act, which prohibit discrimination against students and all employees on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin or sex; Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, which prohibits discrimination against students and all employees on the basis of sex; Sections 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, which require affirmative action to employ and advance in employment qualified disabled veterans of the Vietnam Era; the Equal Pay Act of 1963, which prohibits discrimination in salaries; the Age Discrimination in Employment Acts of 1967 and 1975, which prohibit discrimination on the basis of age and; the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, which prohibits discrimination on the basis of disability.

Seton Hall University is committed to programs of equal employment opportunity and affirmative action (EEO/AA). No person may be denied employment or related benefits or admission to the University or to any of its programs or activities, either academic or nonacademic, curricular or extracurricular, because of race, color, religion, age, national origin, gender, sexual orientation, handicap and disability, or veteran's status. All executives, administrators, faculty and managers — both academic and administrative — are responsible for individual and unit support of Seton Hall University's EEO/AA programs. EEO/AA policies are to be applied in all decisions regarding hiring, promotion, retention, tenure, compensation, benefits, layoffs, academic programs, and social and recreational programs.

Thomas Del Core, employee and labor relations manager, is the University's equal employment opportunity/affirmative action officer who is responsible for providing information regarding the provisions of the laws and regulations referenced in the preceding paragraphs and their applicability to the services, programs and activities offered by the University. Mr. Del Core is located in the Department of Human Resources in the Martin House, 366 South Orange Avenue and may be contacted at delcorth@shu.edu or (973) 761-9284. Lori Brown is the University compliance officer who is responsible for providing information regarding sexual harassment and racial and/or ethnic discrimination, as well as protocols for the investigation of complaints in those areas. Ms. Brown is located in Presidents Hall and may be contacted at brownlor@shu.edu or (973) 313-6132.

Commuter students and those not on voice mail should call (973) 761-9000 or visit www.shu.edu Every effort will be made to have emergency closing information available by 6 a.m.

From the President

Saint Elizabeth Ann Seton, from whom our University takes its name and its inspiration, lived and breathed a lifelong commitment to education. As a visionary and the principal architect of our country's parochial school system, her deepest and most dearly held conviction was to form responsible citizens capable of bringing to society the wisdom, knowledge, competence and integrity it so desperately needed, then and, perhaps even more so, now.

Today we use the term "servant leader" to encapsulate our commitment to that foundational concept.

"It has been the only desire of my soul to know the Truth," Mother Seton once wrote, nearly two centuries ago. As our University celebrates more than 150 years of service to you, the students, who are the most important members of our community, I can say without hesitation that our desire remains the same: The courses contained in this catalogue have as their ultimate goal that truth which our patroness sought with her whole heart, mind and strength.

Truth in all its wonderfully rich and varied aspects, theological and scientific, philosophical and literary, is the stated aim and essential characteristic of a Seton Hall education, which seeks to form servant leaders willing and able to give something of lasting value to the society in which they live and work.

Please keep this in mind as you glance through the pages of this catalogue and prepare for the academic year. In selecting your courses, know that you are embarking on a great adventure and following tens of thousands who have gone before you, each pursuing that truth, which alone sets us free.

Godspeed on this, one of the greatest adventures of your life!

From the Provost

As you think about what you expect from your university education, I invite you to reflect on the many dimensions of what it means to be an educated person. While the acquisition of professional skills and expertise is part of what is involved in being educated, a full education goes beyond this and explores the deeper questions of why we are doing what we choose to do. “What is man? What is the meaning, the aim of our life? What is moral good, what sin? Whence suffering and what purpose does it serve? Which is the road to true happiness? What are death, judgment and retribution after death? What, finally, is that ultimate inexpressible mystery which encompasses our existence: whence do we come, and where are we going?” These central questions of the Catholic and other intellectual traditions, as articulated by the Second Vatican Council, form the core of Seton Hall University’s new Core Curriculum, which offers our students that broader framework for understanding the reasons for their education.

Seton Hall University has a wide variety of excellent academic programs and a distinguished faculty, many of whom are nationally and internationally recognized as experts in their fields. For a century and a half, our graduates have gone on to professional success and leadership in their chosen professions. What distinguishes a Seton Hall education, however, is our focus on your personal development as well as on your professional skills.

We challenge you to see your university years as an opportunity to become a fully-educated person: come to grips with the writers and the ideas that matter; learn more about the global world; become the professional you aspire to be. I encourage you to try a new language, study an area of history you have not studied before, immerse yourself in a new culture – to stride boldly in the direction of new ideas. It is through the study of new ideas that we gain a better understanding of ourselves, and learn how we can make a greater contribution to society. Become a servant leader in our global society. And get to know your faculty, staff, and administrators - we are, after all, your servant leaders.

Seton Hall University

Our Mission

Seton Hall is a major Catholic university. In a diverse and collaborative environment it focuses on academic and ethical development. Seton Hall students are prepared to be leaders in their professional and community lives in a global society and are challenged by outstanding faculty, an evolving technologically advanced setting and values-centered curricula.

AS APPROVED BY THE SETON HALL UNIVERSITY BOARD OF REGENTS, JUNE 6, 1996.

University Overview

Seton Hall University was founded in 1856 by Bishop James Roosevelt Bayley, the first bishop of Newark, who named it after his aunt, Elizabeth Ann Seton, a pioneer in Catholic education and the first American-born saint. The University is the oldest diocesan university in the United States.

Nestled on 58 acres in the suburban village of South Orange, New Jersey, Seton Hall's campus is home to eight schools and colleges: the College of Arts and Sciences, the College of Education and Human Services, the College of Nursing, the John C. Whitehead School of Diplomacy and International Relations, the School of Health and Medical Sciences, the Stillman School of Business, and the Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology.

Seton Hall's eighth school, the School of Law, is located in Newark, New Jersey.

A Tradition of Christian Values

Seton Hall University is founded on and defines itself and its academics, student life and community programs on a Christian understanding of the nature of the world and the human person. With a tradition of quality education based on Christian values, the University takes pride in its concern for the intellectual, ethical and spiritual development of its undergraduate and graduate students.

Religious beliefs and values are taken seriously at Seton Hall. The University emphasizes the importance of religious and ethical concerns to all areas of human inquiry. With Roman Catholic teaching and tradition as a life-enhancing and enabling vision, the University calls on its students to explore and appreciate all that is the best and most humane in the world.

Seton Hall is Catholic not only by its charter and mission, but also by its ongoing spirit and activity. There exists a basic tenet at the University that religious faith is vital to life and its meaning. This tenet provides a context in which the University has and will continue to define and develop its identity. The Office of Mission and Ministry was instituted in order to foster the spirit and the reality of the Catholic faith on campus.

At the same time, Seton Hall is committed to bringing together people of different races, cultures, religious traditions, lifestyles and ethnic backgrounds into a community that is respectful and supportive. This commitment has helped to establish a truly multicultural community in which all people of good will are welcome.

Seton Hall strives to develop the intellectual, social and religious talents of its students so they may live their lives responsibly, generously and successfully.

Academic Programs: A Commitment to Excellence

At the undergraduate level, Seton Hall offers more than 60 majors and concentrations, as well as many minors, certificates, and interdisciplinary and other special programs. These curricula are continually evaluated and enhanced to meet the changing educational, professional and technological needs and expectations of our increasingly complex society.

One thing that has remained consistent, however, is the University's commitment to individual attention: With more than 400 full-time faculty and many adjunct faculty, the average class size is just 20 students, and the student-faculty ratio is 14-to-1. In addition to a highly dedicated and accessible faculty, the University offers comprehensive academic advising and career development programs, as well as a diversity of special services designed to assist students in their academic, personal, professional and spiritual development. At Seton Hall, students find people who are willing to listen, offer support and help them achieve their goals.

The University also encourages students to enhance their academic preparation through involvement in extracurricular activities, such as student government; student professional organizations; internships and cooperative education experiences; varsity, intramural and club sports; recreation and fitness activities; fraternities and sororities; community service; cultural programs; and ethnic and other special-interest organizations.

A Window to the Wider World

Seton Hall is in the midst of one of the world's most cosmopolitan centers of education, business, publishing, art and entertainment. The University's close proximity to New York City (which is 14 miles from South Orange) allows students to explore the best that the "Big Apple" has to offer, including museums, plays, concerts and sporting events. In the city as well as throughout areas of New Jersey, students take part in field trips, internships, cooperative education assignments and community service activities. And with the increasing importance of international business, communication and governmental cooperation, many students elect to pursue international study programs.

The History of Seton Hall

The "three chapters" of the University's history span over 150 years of intellectual and spiritual development, from the founding era into the 20th century, through depression, world war and cold war, and through the most recent period of rapid, far-ranging expansion.

From its original enrollment of a handful of students, Seton Hall grew rapidly. During its first 12 years, the College enrolled more than 500 freshmen from 17 states and six foreign countries. The seeds of diversity at Seton Hall were planted almost from its birth.

Seton Hall always has reflected the growing ethnic scope of its students and the increasing diversity of the Church and society it has served. In the 19th century, in spite of setbacks, major fires, lean times and the Civil War, the College continued to expand. By 1937, Seton Hall established a University College. This marked the first matriculation of women at Seton Hall. The University became fully coeducational in 1968.

The years after World War II witnessed unprecedented growth for Seton Hall as it responded to the needs of thousands of veterans seeking higher education. The College was organized into a university in 1950, comprising the College of Arts and Sciences and the schools of Business, Nursing and Education. The School of Law opened its doors in 1951 and the John C. Whitehead School of Diplomacy and International Relations was established in 1997, and formally named in 2002.

The next two decades saw the construction and modernization of a large number of facilities and the construction of the library, science building, residence halls and the University Center. Many new programs and majors were inaugurated, as were important social outreach efforts. New ties were established with the private and industrial sectors, and a growing partnership developed with federal and state governments in creating programs for the economically and educationally disadvantaged.

The '70s and '80s continued to be a time of growth and renewal. New business and nursing classroom buildings and an art center were opened. In 1984, Immaculate Conception Seminary returned to Seton Hall, its original home until 1926, when it moved to Darlington. With construction of four new residence halls between 1986-88, and the purchase of off-campus apartment buildings in 1990 and 2004, Seton Hall now provides living space for approximately 2,100 students.

The physical development of the campus continued in the 1990s. In 1994, construction was completed on the $20 million, four-story Walsh Library. This facility provides first-class study and research resources to undergraduate and graduate students, faculty and scholars from around the world. The opening of Walsh Library is symbolic of Seton Hall's transformation from a small, local institution whose library housed the personal collection of its president to a major national university with current library holdings of nearly 700,000 volumes.

Seton Hall houses its College of Education and Human Services, Stillman School of Business, Center for Public Service, and the departments of Sociology and Anthropology, Psychology, and Political Science in Jubilee Hall, named to commemorate the University's Sesquicentennial in 2006. The building provides a wide range of teaching spaces — from seminar rooms to a 390-seat auditorium. All classrooms in the building are wired to accommodate notebook computers, and many of the lecture halls are equipped with distance-learning technology.

When the Sesquicentennial of Seton Hall was observed in 2006, we looked back on the prophetic concluding words from the 1956 centenary history of the University: "Seton Hall University's great boast and claim to fame is not predicated on expansion, buildings or even curriculum. It lies rather in the hearts and minds of a dedicated and devoted faculty." Seton Hall's history has been one primarily of people: students and faculty living and working together in a community of learning, a community rooted in a Catholic tradition that is a home for the mind, the heart and the spirit.

The Science and Technology Center opened in Fall 2007. This state of the art facility houses the departments of Biological Sciences, Chemistry and Biochemistry, Mathematics and Computer Science, and Physics.

Priest Community at Seton Hall

From its earliest existence as a diocesan college, Seton Hall has been staffed by the priests of the Archdiocese of Newark. At present, more than 40 priests (the largest single apostolate of diocesan clergy anywhere) serve the University community in a variety of ways. Some work in administration or on staff, others are professors on the University or Seminary faculties. Some work directly with students in a pastoral capacity in Campus Ministry. Some have retired after many years of service to the University and continue to live on campus and contribute to the spiritual and liturgical life of the campus community.

The presence of dozens of priests of the Archdiocese of Newark, as well as those from other dioceses or religious orders who also work on campus, is a vital element in furthering the Catholic mission and identity of the University. In addition to their administrative or academic duties, the priests minister to all members of the University community, not only through the scheduled liturgical services in the University chapels, but also through their availability, personal concern and response to individual needs.

Accreditation and Memberships

Seton Hall University is fully accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education. The academic qualifications of the undergraduate programs have merited their accreditation by appropriate professional memberships as well. Below is a list of University memberships; additional information regarding individual program accreditation is available from appropriate University departments. The University's National Honor Society memberships are listed in the Academic Policies and Procedures section of this catalogue.

Documents describing the University's accreditation status are available for review in the Monsignor William Noé Field University Archives and Special Collections Center, University Libraries.

Schools and Colleges

Schools and colleges of the University that offer both undergraduate and graduate programs are the College of Arts and Sciences, College of Education and Human Services, College of Nursing, the Whitehead School of Diplomacy and International Relations, the Stillman School of Business, and the Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology. Undergraduate programs offered within these areas may be found by consulting the table of contents and/or index of this catalogue. Information regarding graduate programs offered by these schools may be found in the University's Graduate Catalogue.

Seton Hall also has two schools offering primarily graduate and professional programs: the School of Health and Medical Sciences, and the School of Law. Information about programs offered within these areas may be obtained directly from these schools and from the Graduate Catalogue.

School of Law

The Seton Hall University School of Law was founded in 1951. It is the only law school in New Jersey operated by a private university. It offers a full-time program, leading to a J.D. in three years and a part-time evening division leading to a J.D. in four years. It also offers an LL.M. in Health Law and an LL.M. in Intellectual Property Law. An M.S.J. in Health Law and/or Intellectual Property Law is also available.

In addition to basic courses required for admission to the bar in all states, the School of Law offers advanced courses in a variety of areas of the law, including a number considering legal and policy questions being addressed across the nation and internationally. The School offers opportunities for concentrations in health law and intellectual property, as well as opportunities to explore criminal law, corporate law, employment law and international law. Active participation in appellate and trial moot court provides training in the effective presentation of legal cases and argument.

In the area of clinical legal education, the School of Law's Center for Social Justice has developed a number of litigation clinics and other programs that offer practical skill training and an opportunity to serve the community.

Further information on concentrations in health law or intellectual property for J.D., LL.M. or M.S.J. students is available at (973) 642-8871. General admissions information and information on the J.D./M.B.A. and J.D./M.A.D.I.R. is available from Admissions, Seton Hall School of Law, One Newark Center, Newark, NJ 07102, (973) 642-8876, or visit the Web site at law.shu.edu

The University's Technology Long-Range Plan

Seton Hall University has made a major commitment to information technology through its Information Technology Long-Range Plan. This plan was approved by the University's Board of Regents in 1995 and revised in 1997. Under this plan, the University has invested more than $15 million to improve its technology systems and services, including wiring of classrooms, residence halls and public spaces, and replacing the University's fiber-optic network and servers. The University's technology plan focuses on the use of information technology in support of teaching and learning. The University views information technology as a transformative agent that not only enhances traditional modes of teaching and learning, but also enables new kinds of teaching and learning and new methods of delivering the University's educational services.

The University's 2003 Strategic Plan builds on the momentum and success of the first technology plan. It encourages further innovation in the use of technology to enhance the learning experience of the student and explore the possibilities for achieving an even greater sense of community. Within this plan, technology is used to transcend the limits of the physical classroom. It keeps students connected with one another and their teachers beyond allotted class time, thereby enabling all to be engaged in dynamic and shared learning activities on campus. The University Strategic Plan also focuses on the use of technology to streamline and improve the administrative activities of the University.

12 University Overview

The Mobile Computing Program

One of the cornerstones of the University's technology plan is making technology ubiquitous throughout the educational experience. This commitment is embodied in the University's Mobile Computing Program. This is an innovative, academic program with three components:

Ubiquitous Access: All students in the Mobile Computing Program are provided with a laptop computer as part of their tuition and fees. The computer is upgraded at the end of the student's second year as a full-time undergraduate student at Seton Hall University.

Curricular Integration: The University supports and encourages faculty to integrate the use of technology into the curriculum.

Infrastructure and Support: The University provides the technology infrastructure and support services that enable students and faculty to make effective use of this teaching and learning tool.

Participation in the Mobile Computing Program is mandatory for all full-time undergraduate students. This program is not merely a computer lease arrangement; rather, it is a comprehensive, yearly academic program designed to integrate information technology into all aspects of student life. No computer skills are required to participate; the University provides appropriate training and support for all students, whether they are beginning or advanced computer users.

The Mobile Computing Program, along with other teaching, learning and technology initiatives at Seton Hall University, is designed to achieve the University's goal of providing a technologically advanced learning environment. Through this program, Seton Hall University makes the best possible use of technology in teaching and learning, and prepares students for life and careers in the Information Age.

Transforming Education through Information Technology

Seton Hall University has institutionalized the process of educational change through the use of information technology. This commitment was recognized by the University's receipt of the 2000 EDUCAUSE Award for Systemic Progress in Teaching and Learning with Technology. The University's Teaching, Learning and Technology Center (TLTC), located in Walsh Library, provides the programs and services that support the effective use of information technology to enhance teaching and learning. The Curriculum Development Initiative (CDI) provides systematic support for departments integrating information technology into required core courses or course sequences.

The Student Technology Assistants Program (STA) is a nationally renowned program, affiliated with the TLT Group STA initiative, which engages students in supporting the University's technology initiatives for integrating technology into the curriculum, and for supporting the University community on its standard software applications. The STA program is student-centered and student-run with guidance from University faculty and technologists, who provide students with a structured experience in technology support and consulting services.

The Campus Network

Seton Hall University received the 1999 EDUCAUSE Award for Excellence in Campus Networking, and in 2003, Forbes magazine ranked Seton Hall as the 16th "most-connected campus" in the United States. The University also has been included in Yahoo! Internet Life magazine's listing of the Top 50 "most wired" universities in the United States.

All residence halls are equipped with both wired and wireless connectivity to the University network. All of the University's classrooms have wireless network capability, including a significant number that provide power and a wired network connection to each seat. All public spaces are also covered by the wireless network and a number have wired data connections, including the University Libraries, the University Center, study lounges in Jubilee Hall, the cafeteria's Galleon Room, the Pirate's Cove coffeehouse, the Pirate Cellar freshman lounge and the University Green.

Each student at the University automatically receives a network account. The campus network provides access to e-mail, the Internet and a wide variety of instructional software. All computers use the Microsoft Windows operating system and the Microsoft Office application suite. The University's campus e-mail is based on Microsoft Exchange, and students access their email by using the University's portal at piratenet.shu.edu. Many courses use Blackboard as a collaborative learning environment, providing online document repositories, discussion groups and assessment tools for faculty and student use. The University provides Webhosting services for student home pages and network storage for student files (26 GB). Upon graduation, students are eligible for an alumni e-mail account for life at no cost. The Department of Information Technology and the Department of Public Relations and Marketing have developed a comprehensive Web site to serve the community. For information on Web development, system status or the Mobile Computing Program, visit technology.shu.edu

Technology Services

The University provides a wide range of facilities and services to support information technology. Among these are:

PC Support Services: Located on the lower level of Corrigan Hall, PC Support Services provides walk-in support, computer repairs and laptop one-on-one consultation, as well as phone support for the entire University community. Technical services personnel are available Monday through Friday, 8 a.m.-6 p.m. The Consultation Area is open Monday through Thursday, 8 a.m.-8 p.m., and Friday from 8 a.m. - 6 p.m. The Technology Help Desk operates 24 hours a day, seven days a week to support all standard supported software, including the Blackboard learning system. The Technology Help Desk can be reached on campus at ext. 2222, off campus at (973) 275-2222, or by e-mail at helpdesk@shu.edu for more information.

Public Computer Labs: PC Support maintains three public computer labs containing more than 100 computers in three academic buildings: Jubilee 524 Lab in Jubilee Hall, Nursing 203 Lab in Schwartz Hall, and the Information Commons in Walsh Library. For the public computer lab hours of operation, visit the technology Web site.

All of the University's public computing labs are equipped with modern computers connected to the campus network, public access printers and mobile ports for those students who wish to use a laptop in the lab. The software in the computer labs consists of the standard Seton Hall supported applications, including the Microsoft Professional Office Suite, Internet Explorer, Maple and SPSS, as well as several discipline specific applications that have been installed at the request of various departments throughout campus. For a more detailed list of the applications in the labs, visit the Public Computer Lab Web site at technology.shu.edu

Jubilee 524 Lab contains an adaptive technology workstation for members of the Seton Hall student community with special needs. We provide scanning, screen reading and voice recognition software, as well as an alternative mouse for easier navigation.

In addition to the public computing labs, a number of academic departments, including business, communication, education, mathematics and computer science, and modern languages, operate their own computer labs in partnership with PC Support Services.

In addition to the professional staff hired to support technology at Seton Hall, PC Support Services also hires

100+ students to work as Student Technology Assistants (STAs). The public computer labs are staffed by STAs who provide assistance in the use of the University's computers, networks and software. Students interested in learning more about computers and/or working in the field of information technology can visit the technology Web site.

University IT Services (UITS): Located in Corrigan Hall, University IT Services is responsible for maintaining the campus network, all campus servers (e-mail, Web, applications), and the Banner student, administrative and financial systems. UITS is also responsible for all telephones, telephone switches, voice mail accounts and cell phones.

Teaching, Learning and Technology Center (TLT Center): Located in Walsh Library, the Teaching, Learning and Technology Center supports the use of information technology both in and out of the classroom. The TLT Center provides facilities and classroom support; audiovisual equipment for classrooms and events; media production; video conferencing facilities; capabilities for acquiring, converting and editing digital media and streaming media. The TLT Center also offers faculty development and support in the scholarship of teaching with appropriate integration of technology and provides appropriate training for all University-supported computer software to the entire Seton Hall community. Its mission is to link training with the University's strategic technology goals and to provide free training to faculty, students, administration and staff all year round. In addition, TLT Center sponsors Webcasts, events and conferences to promote a wider understanding of academic activities and learning with technology within the Seton Hall community as well as to connect with other institutions of higher learning. To learn more about the TLT Center visit the technology Web site at technology.shu.edu

University Libraries

Chrysanthy M. Grieco, Ph.D., Dean
Paul C. Chao, M.A., M.L.S., Associate Dean

Library faculty and staff provide Seton Hall University library services on the South Orange campus in the Walsh Library. During the academic year, the Library is open 24 hours a day Monday through Friday; on Saturday from 7:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m.; and on Sunday from 7:00 a.m. until midnight. This four-story 155,000 square-foot facility, which opened in August 1994, houses the University Libraries; the Walsh Library Gallery; and the Monsignor William Noé Field University Archives and Special Collections Center, which includes the University's Records Management Center. Walsh Library also accommodates the Teaching, Learning and Technology Center, which includes the Faculty Consultant/Instructional Design Team; the Computer Training Center, the Student Technology Assistant Program; the Interactive Television Classroom; and University Media Services. The Library is home to the Bernard J. Lonergan Institute, the Center for Catholic Studies, and the Chesterton Institute. The Monsignor James C. Turro Theology Library is located in Lewis Hall as part of Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology. The Peter W. Rodino Jr. Law Library, located on the School of Law campus, is separately administered. Strong onsite collections in the University Libraries are augmented by electronic gateways to connect Seton Hall University library community members with global academic resources in other libraries and institutions worldwide. Visit the Web site at library.shu.edu

The University Libraries

The University Libraries have notable resources, including extensive holdings of almost 800,000 book volumes, and 1,127 current periodical subscriptions, back-files of more than 6,500 serial titles, electronic access to full text articles in more than 35,000 journals, a broad selection of indexing and abstracting services in both digital and print formats, various microform collections, music CDs, and audiovisual aids. The University Libraries are selective depository for U.S. Federal, State of New Jersey and U.N. publications.

Depository status provides exclusive access to thousands of publications in electronic or print formats. For added bibliographic access and document delivery, the University Libraries participate in consortia such as PALCI, VALE and the international OCLC consortium. It provides more than 5,000 interlibrary loans to students and faculty free of charge. A majority of periodical interlibrary loans are delivered through e-mail. The University Libraries have strong and growing collections in the areas of theology, Asian studies, Judaeo-Christian studies, Italian studies (Valente Collection), Slavic and Eastern European studies, and other areas of the humanities. The Curriculum Resource Lab contains K-12 resources that support instruction provided by the College of Education and Human Services.

New books are available on open stacks and are displayed on specially marked “New Books” shelves. Popular periodicals and a variety of local, national and international newspapers are displayed in the Browsing Room, which offers soft chair seating and study tables. All information resources are catalogued and accessible through SetonCat, the University Libraries’ online public access catalog.

Ergonomic seating accommodates more than 1,100 students, faculty and visitors in a variety of study facilities, including tables, carrels, group-study rooms and scholar study rooms. In the past year, more than 25,000 students used group study rooms and more than 500,000 people visited the library. A faculty of 13 qualified full-time professional library faculty, supported by administrative and clerical staff, focus on Seton Hall’s community of students, classroom faculty and scholars by seeking out and listening to needs, and continuously transforming the University Libraries to exceed clientele expectations.

Library faculty, staff and administrators practice the virtue of hospitality in welcoming and assisting students to be successful in using information resources for scholarship, and by assisting faculty in knowledge creation and classroom instruction. The library faculty provide reference desk, Internet and telephone service consultation. In addition they offer bibliographic and information services via telephone at (973) 761-9437, e-mail at library@shu.edu and virtual reference through the library Web site to enrolled students, current faculty and staff in on-campus and distance education programs. Library faculty serve as subject bibliographers and liaisons to various academic disciplines for collection development and curriculum support.

The University is committed to developing students’ information literacy skills. Toward that end, University Libraries is spearheading campus instructional and research information literacy initiatives. The University Libraries provide orientation and instruction in information literacy skills to all freshmen in partnership with the Freshman Studies Program and the Department of English. In a growing number of English courses library faculty are available to assist students through their electronic course management system, called Blackboard. The library faculty instruct nearly 8,000 students including upper level and graduate students. The library faculty also provide services to high school students through Project Acceleration, a program that enables high school students to earn college credits. Library administrators and faculty teach in the University's Core Curriculum Program.

Technology available in the University Libraries includes the Web-based delivery of key academic databases of indexes, abstracts, and digital full-text resources for study and research. The University Libraries' Learning Resource Center provides users with 60 state-of-the-art computer workstations, and the University Libraries feature wireless connectivity throughout the facility. The libraries' electronic-reserve (e-Reserve) capability allows students to access faculty-assigned readings and electronic academic databases from anywhere on campus, or remotely off campus, with Internet access day or night.

The University Libraries facility complies with the Americans with Disabilities Act (1990) and the Rehabilitation Act (1973) by providing building access via an entrance ramp and elevator service, accommodating wheelchair-bound individuals, providing handicapped-accessible rest rooms and nearby parking spaces for the handicapped. Students or faculty with visible or invisible disabilities, who self-identify at the Circulation Desk, may receive special assistance. Additionally, individuals may use an array of adaptive equipment that is available to assist handicapped/ challenged persons in the use of resources and facilities in the University Libraries.

The Monsignor James C. Turro Theology Library

The Monsignor James C. Turro Library is located in Lewis Hall on the South Orange campus. Its collections support the curriculum of Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology, an undergraduate and graduate School of Theology at Seton Hall and the major seminary of the Catholic Archdiocese of Newark. The collection contains more than 80,000 books, 400 periodical titles, periodical microfilm holdings and some audiovisual material. The collection's focus is on theology and Church history. It is particularly strong in liturgical and biblical studies. Resources are available in German, French, Italian, Latin, Spanish and other essential languages for theological and biblical scholarship such as Hebrew, Greek and Syriac. The Turro Library's collections are included in SetonCat, the online catalogue, and are housed in a modern facility that provides comfortable and convenient study areas. Collection resources are on open shelves. Access to the collection is limited to students and faculty of Immaculate Conception

Seminary School of Theology and other University faculty. Seton Hall undergraduate and graduate students may obtain a one-time-use courtesy card at the University Libraries Reference Desk. Other persons must access the collections through inter-library loan services provided by the University Libraries or their home library. Visit the Turro Library Web site at library.shu.edu/seminary.htm

Monsignor William Noé Field University Archives and Special Collections Center

The Monsignor William Noé Field University Archives and Special Collections Center is located on the first floor of Walsh Library. Encompassing nearly 4,000 square feet, it contains various historically unique and significant resources that document the history of Seton Hall University the Archdiocese of Newark and Catholic New Jersey. Manuscripts, ledger books, photographs, newspapers, annual reports, scrapbooks, physical artifacts and other types of archival resources form the nucleus of this collection. The papers of various bishops, parish histories and Catholic directories constitute a portion of the collection, highlighting the continuous development of the Archdiocese of Newark from 1853 to the present day. Institutional resources in the form of presidential papers, departmental files, physical plant data and self-study records are integral part of the expansive school history archival file, which dates from 1856.

Among the distinctive collection resources are the manuscripts of prominent former New Jersey governors Richard Hughes and Brendan Byrne along with the papers of national political figures, including Marcus Daly, Leonard Dreyfuss, Matthew Rinaldo and Bernard Shanley. The Seton-Jevons papers (1792-1963) showcase activities undertaken by various relatives of the first American-born saint, Elizabeth Ann Seton. Other significant collections include those of prominent Seton Hall personalities and prolific authors such as the late Monsignor John Oesterreicher (1904-1993), founder of the Judaeo-Christian studies department, and the late Monsignor William Noé Field (1915-2000), English professor and archivist. The collection also contains more than 10,000 printed works, including rare and autographed books, the MacManus Irish History and Literature Collection, the Gerald Murphy and Pierce Byrne U.S. Civil War and World Military Uniform Book libraries, and hundreds of master-level and doctoral dissertations of Seton Hall graduate students.

The Monsignor William Noé Field University Archives and Special Collections Center provides a comfortable reading room designed for serious research and an adjacent room for instruction and small-group seminars. Microfilm readers are available for scanning records along with computer workstations that facilitate research and access to academic databases and gateways to worldwide information resources. Public service is a priority, and Seton Hall students are encouraged to use these resources as part of their scholarly development. The University's collections and archives also are open, by appointment, to faculty, clergy and the general public who have specific research needs. The Monsignor William Noé Field University Archives and Special Collections Center coordinates research initiatives and accepts donations of materials that fit within its scope. Alan Delozier, Director, may be contacted at (973) 275-2378 or via e-mail at delozial@shu.edu. Visit the Monsignor William Noé Field University Archives and Special Collections Center Web site at <http://library.shu.edu/sc-homepage.htm> or call (973) 761-9476.

Office of Records Management

The Records Management Center is located within the Monsignor William Noé Field University Archives and Special Collections Center. It houses non-current and permanent nonarchival institutional records. The Records Management program is designed to create, facilitate and monitor the official standardization of retention schedules for each University department. Information files are systematically transferred, stored and made available for review by the originating University office upon request. The Records Management Center can be reached at (973) 275-2063.

The Walsh Library Gallery

Walsh Library Gallery offers the Seton Hall and external communities an opportunity for cultural appreciation and spiritual growth. Since opening in Fall 1994, Walsh Library Gallery has provided a forum for community members to share society's richly diverse cultural heritages through artistic expression. Located on the first floor, the gallery is a state-of-the-art, climate-controlled space encompassing 2,500 square feet. During the academic year, Walsh Library Gallery offers a number of rotating exhibits, providing campus and outside community members with an opportunity to observe and experience beauty in works of art. In addition to interior exhibit space, there are six exterior window exhibits. These window galleries highlight exhibitions being shown in the main gallery, showcase special events on campus, draw attention to issues of current interest, and provide an ongoing visual survey of new library acquisitions and technology. Exhibits and special event programs are free-of-charge.

Artists from around the world have displayed their work in Walsh Library Gallery, including artists from the United States, Brazil, China, the Dominican Republic, France, Italy, Lithuania, Poland and the Ukraine, among others. Media have included paintings, watercolors, sculpture, etchings, photographs, posters, prints and textiles. Styles have been equally diverse. Historical topics have ranged from the cultural heritage of the Lenape Indians to the history of the Harlem Renaissance to photography of parks designed by Frederick Law Olmsted. Walsh Library Gallery audiences continue to broaden. University students from undergraduate liberal arts classes such as art, anthropology, ethics, history and literature, and graduate students in programs such as museum professions, often have class assignments and oral presentations that are integrated with exhibit themes. Walsh Library Gallery provides opportunities for students, under the direction of faculty and the Walsh Library Gallery director, to plan, produce and mount exhibitions.

Students from around New Jersey in grades 3-12 visit Walsh Library Gallery to hear presentations that focus on exhibits. Pre- and post-visitation packets provide activities and curricular materials for teachers to enhance their students' educational experiences.

In addition to exhibits, Walsh Library Gallery regularly hosts scholarly events, such as the Department of English's Poetry in-the-Round series, which features renowned and award-winning authors and poets. These activities draw a large number of visitors to the gallery's exhibits. Receptions in conjunction with exhibits, feature lectures, live music, ethnic food tasting, and ample opportunity for students and visitors to meet and speak with featured artists.

Activities of Walsh Library Gallery are regularly featured in local and large-circulation newspapers, including feature articles in The New York Times and the Newark Star-Ledger. Walsh Library Gallery has been featured in New Jersey Monthly magazine's "Out and About Calendar" of not-to-miss events. Television Channel 12 News, NJN/Channel 13 and Spanish language Channel 48 provide frequent coverage of Walsh Library Gallery exhibits. The campus community regularly learns about exhibits and special programs through The Setonian and e-mail community announcements. Visit the Walsh Library Gallery Web site, which provides access to current and past exhibits, at library.shu.edu/gallery.

Gifts of art from donors and artists, along with the occasional purchase of art, are creating a significant permanent art collection for the University. Many of these pieces are available for viewing throughout the University Libraries and in other campus public spaces. The director of Walsh Library Gallery may be contacted at (973) 275-2033.

Ruth Sharkey Academic Resource Center

Peter Hynes, M.B.A., Director

The Ruth Sharkey Academic Resource Center (ARC) is part of the College of Arts and Sciences and is located in Arts and Sciences Hall. The ARC serves all Seton Hall University students, regardless of their year of study, in three ways: it provides expert tutors who assist students with challenging writing projects, mathematics, science and modern language courses; it offers resources for students interested in national scholarship opportunities; and it aids students who are pursuing interdisciplinary and pre-professional majors.

All students are encouraged to take advantage of the ARC's free tutorial services which are designed to supplement classroom instruction and to improve academic performance. ARC tutoring programs offer students the option to schedule appointments in advance, drop in for assistance, or attend group review sessions. Tutoring schedules and announcements are always accessible on the ARC web pages.

The ARC also promotes and supports student interest in applying for nationally competitive scholarships by providing extensive information on its website and hosting scholarship information sessions.

Pre-professional and interdisciplinary program information and advising are available through the ARC. Students pursuing majors in liberal studies or social and behavioral sciences, or considering graduate programs in law or the health professions can find information on the ARC website or meet with faculty advisors to discuss courses and academic options.

The ARC is thus a resource for all students who wish to participate more fully in their own academic development: students can supplement their classroom learning or prepare themselves for future opportunities by engaging with a learning community that consists of peers, graduate teaching assistants, faculty and administrators.

For more information, please call (973) 761-9108, or send an e-mail to ARC@shu.edu

Academic Success Center

Bernadette, Manno, M.A., Director
 Mooney Hall 11

The Academic Success Center (ASC) provides advising assistance to students in transition. It serves as a starting point for students with academic questions. A primary goal of the Academic Success Center is to function as a clearinghouse for all students who have academic questions. It serves as a referral point for new transfer students to assist in their transition to their major department. The Academic Success Center also works with students who have been unsuccessful in tracking a major. Professional advisers at the ASC work with students in transition to help them formulate clear academic goals and to create specific academic plans that culminate in graduation. The Academic Success Center works closely with other support areas, including Freshman Studies, Disability Support Services, Student Support Services, the Career Center and the Academic Resource Center, to help students succeed.

The Academic Success Center is also responsible for the electronic Early Warning System, which allows professors to alert their students and the academic advisers when a student is in danger of failing a course. The Academic Success Center relays these electronic warnings to the student's academic department or adviser. About 2,000 Early Warnings are generated each year. Seventy percent of the students who receive warnings do not fail the class.

Academy for Urban School Transformation

Charles P. Mitchel, Ed.D.,
 Executive Director & Associate Dean for Urban and International Initiatives

The College of Education and Human Services' (CEHS) long-standing commitment to leadership and to serving urban schools led to the creation of The Academy for Urban School Transformation. The mission of the Academy is to raise student achievement by providing urban schools with research-based, practitioner-validated quality education services. The Academy is the first in New Jersey to focus specifically on urban educators and the issues they face.

The Academy builds on the successful relationships that have been forged between the CEHS staff and New Jersey's urban educators. Since 1996, the CEHS has worked with Newark, Orange, East Orange, Irvington, Paterson, and many other urban districts, providing workshops and training for administrators and teachers on such critical issues as leadership, teaching styles, time management, and closing the achievement gap. Additionally, the Grow Your Own future leaders program has resulted in over 60 Newark educators receiving Masters' Degrees preparing them to become the next generation of urban leaders.

Most recently, Seton Hall has been featured in the New York Times, the Newark Star Ledger, ABC Eyewitness

18 University Overview

News, and One-on-One with Steve Aduato for its groundbreaking work at the Newton Street School, one of the lowest performing schools in Newark. This work has featured a partnership with the Newark Teachers Union, the Newark Public Schools, and a major Foundation, and has been termed “the grandest experiment in New Jersey’s history” by John Mooney of the Star Ledger.

Opportunities for partnerships between urban schools and the Academy include the following: Grow Your Own Future Leaders – On-line and blended (face to face and on-line) Master of Arts in Urban Leadership Program.

- Professional Development – The Academy will provide tailor-made, state of the art professional development services based on school and district needs. Follow-up coaching is required.
- Research – The Academy will conduct research relevant to the urban school setting upon request.
- Beyond Restructuring – Re-culturing and Re-timing are where the real work begins.

American Humanics

Roseanne Mirabella, Ph.D., Campus Executive Director

The American Humanics (AH) program is an innovative course of study that equips college and university students to become skilled professionals and leaders in local nonprofit organizations. The mission of the program is to prepare and certify future nonprofit professionals to work with America’s youth and families, and to be the region’s preferred source of nonprofit professionals. Seton Hall University’s students are increasingly civic-minded and committed to community service — including an inclination to pursue employment in nonprofit organizations. American Humanics graduates immediately impact the nonprofit agencies they join and continue to make a significant contribution to the nonprofit sector throughout their careers. The American Humanics program is offered to undergraduate students on more than 80 campuses across the country. Seton Hall University became an American Humanics affiliate in December 2000.

Seton Hall University’s American Humanics program offers an innovative course of study and experiential education to students. The benefits to the students include:

- certification in entry-level nonprofit employer competencies;
- coursework grounded in the foundation and practices of nonprofit management;
- tested practices and principles through experiential learning;
- one-to-one support, career development and mentoring;
- networking with prospective employers;
- opportunity to test skills and various nonprofit roles through internships, co-curricular and community service activities;

- potential for references and referrals from nonprofit organizations’ executive directors, advisory board members and community leaders;
- exposure to national nonprofit network of partners and career options;
- increased sense of being connected and belonging to the community; and
- opportunities for lasting friendships.

Asia Center

The Asia Center at Seton Hall has a long and rich history of more than 50 years. The center’s mission is to foster understanding, respect and knowledge of East, Southeast and South Asia among the Seton Hall and local communities. The Asia Center works in cooperation with the Department of Asian Studies and other groups promoting interest in Asia to support the exploration of Asian history, cultures, politics, and social and economic issues.

Center for Academic Industry Partnership

Nicholas Snow, Ph.D., Director

The Center for Academic Industry Partnership is an institutional initiative to promote our programs specific to ensuring quality laboratory science practice in the chemical and pharmaceutical industries. The center enhances current efforts in the training of undergraduate students, graduate students and industrial scientists through unique programmatic initiatives housed in the University’s Science and Technology Center, a state-of-the-art research and training facility. Laboratories provide the latest in chemical analysis, scientific instrumentation and computing technology. For further information, please call (973) 761-9035, or visit McNulty Hall, Room 420.

Center for Africana Studies

Kwame Akonor, Ph.D., Director

The Center for Africana Studies, established at the University in 1970 and located in the Department of Africana Studies, encourages serious scholarship committed to social change and human rights. The center seeks to involve the entire University in an appreciation of the black experience and the promotion of social change.

Center for Applied Catalysis

Robert L. Augustine, Ph.D., Executive Director
Setrak K. Tanielyan, Ph.D., Technical Director

The Center for Applied Catalysis (CAC) realizes the positive impact of harnessing the talent and resources of both academia and industry through mutually beneficial partnerships. Established at Seton Hall University in 1997 as an entrepreneurial offshoot of the Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry, its main thrust is to assist industrial clients in developing catalytic processes for commercially important reactions. The work is performed primarily by post-doctoral associates working under the supervision of Robert L. Augustine, executive director, and Setrak K.

Tanielyan, technical director. The center works on research projects that have industrial applications, and thus, are of maximum use to clients. For more information about the CAC, visit <http://www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/cac/index.cfm>

Center for Catholic Studies

Monsignor Richard M. Liddy, S.T.L., Ph.D., Director

The Center for Catholic Studies at Seton Hall University is dedicated to a dialogue between the Catholic intellectual tradition and all areas of contemporary culture. The center conducts an undergraduate degree program in Catholic Studies, offering a major, minor, certificate program, and foreign study opportunities. In addition to presenting programs on faith and culture for students, faculty and the public, the Center incorporates the Bernard J. Lonergan Institute, the Seton Hall Institute on Work, the Micah Senior Executive Project, and the G.K. Chesterton Institute for Faith and Culture, with its prestigious journal, The Chesterton Review. For more information about the Center for Catholic Studies, visit www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/catholic-studies/index.cfm

Center for Community Research and Engagement

Roseanne Mirabella, Ph.D., Executive Director

The Center for Community Research and Engagement (CCRE) was established in 1997 to support the activities of Seton Hall University as it implements service learning and community-based research on campus. Service learning, defined as a form of experiential education in which students engage in activities that address human and community needs together with structured opportunities intentionally designed to promote student learning and development, is a pedagogy that integrates academic and community-based learning with the intellectual work at the University.

Designed to introduce students to the complexity of social issues and community decision making, the center provides students with opportunities to participate in both in-class and onsite projects, such as volunteerism, community development and nonprofit management. Service learning and community-based research affords students the opportunities to explore the causes of community problems, clarify his or her values, consider social service as a career choice, and become a more informed citizen and decision maker.

To assist in the achievement of these goals, the Center develops and implements seminars to introduce faculty to the theory and practice of service learning and community-based research, works with faculty in graduate and undergraduate departments as they develop courses that involve service learning and community-based research, facilitates collaboration among professors and staff to enhance volunteerism in the community, and works with community leaders in Newark, Essex County and beyond to establish service learning and nonprofit management relations.

Center for Computational Research

Stephen Kelty, Ph.D., Director

The Center for Computational Research's mission is to complement existing and future basic and applied research being conducted at Seton Hall University through the use of computer based modeling and simulation tools provided by the Center, thereby enhancing the research capabilities and competitiveness of the University. Research collaborations exist with faculty in the Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry, the Department of Mathematics and Computer Science, and the Department of Physics.

Center for Entrepreneurial Studies

Susan Scherreik, M.B.A., Director

The Center for Entrepreneurial Studies was created in 2003 to raise student awareness of self-employment as a career option. The center fosters the collaboration of faculty, students, alumni and entrepreneurs in a variety of activities and projects to advance hands-on entrepreneurial learning in the Stillman School of Business. The center is integral to the Stillman School's mandate to prepare students for careers in the 21st century by acknowledging the growing importance of entrepreneurship in the global economy.

Center for Leadership Development

Michael M. Reuter, M.B.A., J.D., Director

Since its inception in 1994, the mission of the program has been to develop great leaders of the future, enabling its members to successfully achieve their fullest potential in both their personal and professional lives. The program enhances its members' core values, competencies and skills that will enable them to be effective leaders, corporate citizens and community servants. The essential skills include proficiency in strategic thinking, critical analysis, logical reasoning and effective oral and written communication.

Practical business experiences are an integral part of the program and are emphasized in the program's lecture series. During their junior year, students are paired with mentors from the Leadership Council and work with them on a project related to the individual executive's company or organization. The Leadership Council is the advisory body to the Leadership Studies Program, and is comprised of senior corporate executives, entrepreneurs and community leaders. The project and personal mentoring experience provide students with insights into leadership perspectives and thinking as well as important networking opportunities.

The Leadership Studies Program consists of a specialized curriculum that combines traditional course work with practical experiential learning. These courses have been recommended by the Leadership Council.

In addition to the academic requirements, students must complete 40 hours of community service, hold leadership positions both on and off campus to complement their studies, attend leadership functions, and maintain a GPA of 3.2 or higher. Visit business.shu.edu/leadership for more information.

20 University Overview

Center for Public Service

Naomi Wish, Ph.D., Director

The Center for Public Service is the University's arm for outreach programs to the public and nonprofit sectors. Housing the Nonprofit Sector Resource Institute, and located in the Department of Public and Healthcare Administration, the center runs a variety of programs to place members of the University community into closer contact with the public and nonprofit organizations that surround us. The center facilitates student internship and practicum placement, organizes speakers and seminars throughout the year, and serves as a clearing house for the nonprofit community of Northern New Jersey.

Center for Securities Trading and Analysis

Elven Riley, B.A., Director

The Center for Securities Trading and Analysis is designed to mimic the actual trading room activity that occurs in investment banking: up-to-the-second market-clearing quotes; dynamic information flow; and domestic and international data on all frequently traded securities, including stocks, bonds, options, commodities and currencies. Partnering with the Reuters Group and Bloomberg, both renowned for financial news and market data, it provides students with an unprecedented opportunity to enhance the realism and relevance of accounting, finance, economics, and international business. The Stillman School is building on its leadership in wireless technology and its innovative academic programs to provide students with real-time, cutting-edge technology that inventively integrates the theory and practice of business disciplines.

The Center is the home for the Stillman Exchange, an undergraduate student newspaper that covers local, domestic and international business news, featuring articles on investments, macroeconomic policy, business ethics, and international political economy.

Center for Sport Management

Ann M. Mayo, Ph.D., Director

The Center for Sport Management, established in 1996, serves as the center for sport management expertise, nationally and internationally, at the undergraduate, graduate and industry levels. The center offers a cutting-edge approach to sport management education from a business school perspective, offering the B.S.B., the M.B.A., graduate certificates and executive education covering all facets of the sport industry.

In Fall 2006, the center opened the new Seton Hall Sports Poll conducted by the Sharkey Institute. Founded with a major donation from alumnus Tom Sharkey and his wife Ruth, Seton Hall Sports Poll will survey the public on ethical and moral questions regarding current issues in sport and will bring national interest to Seton Hall. The Seton Hall Sports Poll will be a revenue-generating research center, offering marketing research to local sport organizations and a teaching laboratory for both marketing and communication classes.

Located in the heart of the sport industry, the Center for Sport Management at Seton Hall University provides students with unparalleled internship opportunities in the major and minor leagues, major sports facilities, sport marketing firms, league offices and more; the center takes advantage of its unique location by using industry professionals as instructors and guest lecturers in the classroom. Visit the business.shu.edu/sports for more information.

Center for Vocation and Servant Leadership

David R. Foster, Ph.D., Director

God calls each of us, and every call is in some way a call to serve. The Center for Vocation and Servant Leadership promotes openness to God's call in both the academic life and common life of Seton Hall University to support the overall mission of forming students as servant leaders for today's world.

The center began in 2003 supported by a grant from Lilly Endowment to further their goal of preparing the next generation of Church leadership.

The Center for Vocation and Servant Leadership does its work in cooperation with other campus organizations and through sponsorship of a dozen different programs, including curriculum development; scholarships; retreats for students, faculty and alumni; spiritual outreach to students; local community development; service learning opportunities; and the expression of faith through the arts.

Writing Center

Kelly Shea, Ph.D., Director

Part of the Ruth Sharkey Academic Resource Center, the Writing Center serves as a support system available to all students through the Department of English. It provides a range of services, including free consultations and tutorials, to both undergraduate and graduate students. Located in Arts and Sciences Hall, Room 206, the center is open during the academic year Monday through Thursday, 9 a.m. - 8 p.m., and Friday, 9 a.m. - 4 p.m. For appointments, special accommodations, and finals week and Summer Session hours, call (973) 761-9000, ext. 7501 or (973) 275-2183, or visit the Writing Center Web site at www.shu.edu/academics/arts/writing-center

In addition to the onsite Writing Center, Seton Hall's Online Writing Lab (OWL) also is available. This service is a Web-based, virtual tutoring program, designed primarily for upperclassmen and graduate students, as well as faculty and staff, through which individuals can get feedback on their writing from Writing Center tutors via e-mail. As with the onsite Writing Center, the OWL is designed for writers from all academic disciplines and departments. OWL tutors are trained to provide advice, feedback and suggestions on how writers might improve their writing, focusing especially on content, organization, structure and flow, as well as some mechanics. The Web address for the OWL is <http://academic.shu.edu/owl/>

Charles and Joan Alberto Italian Studies Institute

Gabriella Romani, Ph.D., Director

The Charles and Joan Alberto Italian Studies Institute was founded in 2003 to coordinate Seton Hall University's many activities relating to Italian and Italian-American history and culture. The Institute sponsors cultural events, such as lectures and symposia, and promotes curriculum development and community outreach. The institute additionally administers several scholarships that are made available to students in Italian Studies, as well as in other fields of study. The mission of the Institute is to spread the message of the universal relevance and inclusiveness of the Italian contributions to the history of the world and of America, regardless of nationality and ethnic background. For more information call (973) 275-2926 or visit www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/alberto-institute/

Elizabeth Ann Seton Center for Women's Studies

Marta Mestrovic Deyrup, Ph.D., Director

The Elizabeth Ann Seton Center for Women's Studies was established in the spirit of St. Elizabeth Ann Seton, whose life of activism, spirituality and leadership serves as an inspiration to our community. The center offers a minor in Women and Gender Studies and coordinates a series of interdisciplinary seminars featuring the scholarship of our faculty. The center is also actively involved with grant-funded research, particularly on the role of gender in education and career paths, and joins other programs to support a variety of activities aimed at the University's commitment to diversity, gender equity and social justice. For more information, visit www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/womens-studies/index.cfm

Bernard J. Lonergan Institute

Monsignor Richard M. Liddy, S.T.L., Ph.D., Director

Bernard Lonergan, S.J. (1904-1984) was an influential Catholic philosopher and theologian whom Newsweek magazine cited as among "the finest philosophical thinkers of the 20th century." In November 2006 the Center for Catholic Studies at Seton Hall University inaugurated the Bernard J. Lonergan Institute dedicated to the study of the great thinker's ideas and their application in contemporary culture. The founder and director of the institute, Monsignor Richard Liddy, was a student of Lonergan's and has written books and papers about the Jesuit theologian.

The institute's mission includes creating a repository for all Lonergan's published works, copies of his most significant unpublished writings, doctoral dissertations on Lonergan, the most significant secondary literature on the subject and Lonergan "memorabilia" including letters and photos for public display.

Activities of the institute include support for ongoing research and scholarship, the creation of the Bernard J. Lonergan Annual Student Development Awards and faculty and student reading groups to study the philosopher's writings. For more information about the Bernard J.

Lonergan Institute and other Catholic Studies programs, visit academic.shu.edu/ccs/

G.K. Chesterton Institute

Reverend Ian Boyd, C.S.B., Director

Dermot Quinn, D.Phil., Associate Director

The G.K. Chesterton Institute, a nonprofit educational organization incorporated in the United States, Canada and Great Britain, is located at Seton Hall University. Its purpose is to promote the thought of the English writer G.K. Chesterton (1874- 1936) and his circle and, more broadly, to explore the application of Chestertonian ideas in the contemporary world. Poet, novelist, journalist and theologian, Chesterton was one of the most versatile writers of his day. He was able to write on serious matters in a style accessible to the ordinary person, making him one of the most beloved literary figures of the 20th century. His thought has particular importance for scholars of the sacramental tradition, Catholic social teaching and Christian spirituality.

The institute's work consists primarily of organizing conferences and lecture series of research and writing. Under the editorship of its president, Reverend Ian Boyd, it also publishes The Chesterton Review, a widely respected academic journal. Other journals sponsored by the institute are Gilbert and Second Spring. For more information, contact the institute, located in Presidents Hall, Room 9, at (973) 275-2430.

Institute for the Advancement of Teaching, Learning and Leading in International Schools

Charles P. Mitchel, Ed.D., Director

Seton Hall University has been a catalyst for leadership for more than 150 years at all levels and has been recognized for its outstanding academic and humanitarian programs. In following this tradition, the College of Education and Human Services has strengthened its standing commitment to leadership and to school improvement with the creation of The Institute for the Advancement of Teaching, Learning and Leading in International Schools.

The challenge of teaching and leading in the global community has never been greater. Under the leadership of Dr. Charles P. Mitchel, Associate Dean, the institute seeks to share the expertise and diverse experiences of its dedicated faculty to serve the international school community. In this sense, the institute is committed to raising student achievement by providing international schools with research-based, practitioner-validated, quality education services in education capacity building, parent training, and world class professional development and mentoring/coaching for today's leaders, teachers, counselors, and psychologists. Our services are designed to maximize the effectiveness of international schools and enhance the achievement of international students.

The institute has developed a sequence of instructional experiences designed to supplement and enhance the skills and abilities of teachers and administrators in the international education community. Our services provide quality, research-based instruction in the areas of teaching, learning and leading, designed to maximize the effectiveness of international schools and enhance the achievement of international students through our effective program offerings:

Master of Arts in International Leadership and Master of Arts in School Counseling with courses delivered on-line, in-country and an optional on-campus at Seton Hall internship. Note: The internship will be field-based in elementary, middle and high schools in the metropolitan area;

- Professional development and coaching (Tailor-made, state of the art professional development services based on school and regional needs, delivered in-country and on-line);
- World class seminars in leadership, curriculum, supervision, evaluation, assessment, teaching, and education capacity building in relation to international schools. Offered at Seton Hall University;
- School, family, and community relationships - nationally research-based strategies; and
- Research relevant to international schooling upon request.

The institute has most recently engaged in a partnership with the Association of American Schools in South America (AASSA), an organization dedicated to enhancing the quality of American education abroad. A delegation from Seton Hall has represented the institute as AASSA's annual Educator's Conference in Bogota, Colombia, where the institute presented five distinct workshops to conference attendees.

Through ongoing conversations with the College of Staten Island, the institute is developing a program which may provide Chinese educators with on-line Master's degrees in Leadership. A working relationship with educators from Vaal University of Technology and Nelson Mandela Metropolitan University, both located in South Africa, is focusing on the professional development of schools administrators. The institute has also provided the Seton Hall community with an opportunity to participate in a two-week, three credit undergraduate or graduate course in Celtic Studies, held in Sligo, Ireland.

Institute for Christian Spirituality

Rev. Joseph Chapel, S.T.D., Co-Director
Dianne M. Traflet, J.D., S.T.D., Co-Director

The Institute for Christian spirituality was created by Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology to provide a premier center where those already in ministry, or those considering a vocation to ministry may obtain a solid foundation in their faith, learn effective skills in pastoral ministry and leadership and be given tools for discernment and spiritual growth—all in an atmosphere of collaboration and camaraderie.

The institute's mission is grounded in 2 Timothy 1:6: "I remind you to stir into flame the gift of God within you."

The institute began in 2005 supported by a grant from the Lilly Endowment to further its goal of preparing the next generation of Church leadership. With the institute, the School of Theology has expanded the various degree and certificate programs already in place and sponsored research and teaching opportunities for faculty and students. For more information about the Institute for Christian Spirituality and its new Catholic Center for Family Spirituality, visit <http://theology.shu.edu/ICS/>

Institute for Education Leadership, Research and Renewal

Michael J. Osnato, Ed.D., Director

The Institute for Education Leadership, Research and Renewal (IELRR) is built on four pillars, each of which provides unique and essential programs or services. Pillar number one is The School Study Council, which provides learning and networking opportunities for superintendents. Study councils improve the skills and knowledge of district leaders. At Seton Hall University, this is accomplished through a wide range of activities, including conferences, a "Best Practices" Web site, and exposure to state and national education experts. In addition, the Institute now oversees The New Superintendents Initiative and the Practicum for New Superintendents, formerly sponsored by the Citizens for Better Schools, Inc.

The second pillar is an in-house program known as the Grow Your Own Emerging Leaders M.A. This program develops the next generation of school leaders from outstanding teachers who have been identified as potentially talented administrators. Based on an innovative model of emerging prominence, this program will partner Seton Hall with several emerging prominence, this program will partner Seton Hall with several small districts or individual large districts to provide practical and contemporary preparation programs that yield "home grown" administrators.

Pillar three is the IELRR's Continuous Support Services component, which provides practicing administrators with a variety of essential services by noted experts, including consulting services, professional development and career placement. Through this program, novice as well as veteran administrators find relevant and essential services at their doorsteps. Shadowing, mentoring and coaching opportunities aid new leaders and help them explore a variety of critical issues.

Pillar four is The Center for Urban Leadership, which provides resources, training and research services specific to the needs of New Jersey's urban schools and districts. Established in 2001 as the Principals' Leadership Institute, this program now falls under the direction of the IELRR, and has expanded to provide support to superintendents and principals who serve New Jersey's neediest population of students. Urban school leaders have selected the Center as their research arm relating to statewide reform efforts.

Institute for International Business

Larry McCarthy, Ph.D., Director

The Institute for International Business, established in 1964, serves as the center of international business expertise for students, faculty and the business community. It fosters the collaboration of faculty, graduate and undergraduate students, to engage in a wide variety of activities and projects to advance the internationalization of the Stillman School. The Institute is a critical part of the mission of Seton Hall University and of the Stillman School in accepting the challenges of globalization. As a center for academic excellence, the Institute aims at assuring that the academic and business communities work in harmony to create an atmosphere of competence, progress, professionalism, and integrity in the realm of international business.

The Institute sponsors international courses, lectures, internships and scholarly exchange for both students and faculty with several leading academic institutions as part of the mission of the Stillman School. Endowed with a grant from the estate of W. Paul Stillman in 1994 to support its initiatives, the Institute funds internationally focused faculty research.

At the undergraduate level, the institute offers a minor in international business in which the curriculum includes language and cultural components, as well as core business courses. The Certificate in International Business, offered as part of the M.B.A. program consists of courses in the international aspects of accounting, economics, finance, management and marketing. The certificate also is available to qualified individuals from industry on a non-degree basis.

Institute of Judaeo-Christian Studies

Reverend Lawrence Frizzell, D.Phil., Director

The Institute of Judaeo-Christian Studies, founded in 1953, is primarily a center for research and publication. Its area of study is the Church's rootedness in Judaism and the relationship between the Church and the Jewish people through the ages. Its work includes an annual series of lectures, study days and conferences. These are intended to inform the general public about various facets of Christian-Jewish relations. A special lecture in the fall of each year celebrates the memory of Monsignor John M. Oesterreicher, founder of the institute. He was an important collaborator in preparing the statement by the Second Vatican Council on "The Church's Bond with the Jewish People."

The institute began a graduate program in Jewish-Christian studies in the fall of 1975. In 1978, the program was incorporated into the College of Arts and Sciences; in 1979, it became a department within the College. The department and institute are thus independent units, even though origin and goal bespeak an intimate relationship. The requirements for admission to the program and a description of the course offerings may be found at www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/jewish-christian-studies

Institute of Museum Ethics

Janet Marstine, Ph.D., Director

The Institute of Museum Ethics (IME) was founded in 2007 to foreground the consideration of museum ethics as one of the most pivotal issues for museum professionals in the 21st Century. In November 2007, the IME received a three-year Museum Professionals Grant from the Institute of Museum and Library Services.

The IME promotes integrity and competence in museum ethics, and creates a physical and virtual community of emerging and practicing museum professionals and museum studies faculty who use our resources to make informed decisions about ethical issues. It draws upon the strengths of Seton Hall as an institution that prioritizes teaching in ethics to establish innovative collaborations between ethicists and museum professionals that will spark new conversations about museum ethics. The IME serves the needs of our region's small museums but also has national reach. It prepares students in Seton Hall's Master of Arts in Museum Professions Program (MAMP) to become visionary leaders who make important contributions to the discourse on museum ethics. It produces new models of teaching museum ethics for students and museum professionals. Initiatives include a web portal; a national conference and publication of the proceedings; two team taught courses open to museum professionals and MAMP students; workshops and public lectures; and travel stipends for MAMP students. For more information, please visit www.museumethics.org or e-mail museumethics@shu.edu

Institute of NeuroImmune Pharmacology

Sulie L. Chang, Ph.D., Director

The Institute of NeuroImmune Pharmacology (I-NIP) is one of three research-focused institutes and centers that were established at Seton Hall University in 2007. Currently, the I-NIP is fully funded by the National Institute of Health (NIH) grants. The institute is located on the third floor of the Science and Technology Center (McNulty Hall, Rooms 309, 319 and 324). It is the home for all active and pending federal grants of the scientists affiliated with the Institute, and houses and operates the Fluorescence Microscopy Laboratory.

The I-NIP missions are: (1) to promote extramural funding-based research and training; (2) to promote interaction between graduate and undergraduate research and training; (3) to promote collaboration between Seton Hall University and the community; (4) to cultivate interdisciplinary research; and (5) to foster translational research in drug use/abuse from the laboratory bench to the community.

The I-NIP's Scientific Advisory Board includes: Horace H. Loh, Ph.D., Frederick Stark Professor and Head of Pharmacology, University of Minnesota; Howard E. Gendelman, M.D., Larson Professor of Internal Medicine and Infectious Diseases, Chair, Department of Pharmacology and Experimental Neuroscience and Director, University of

Nebraska Medical Center; Linda Chang, M.D., Professor of Medicine, John A. Burns School of Medicine, University of Hawaii; Thomas Rogers, Ph.D., Professor of Pharmacology, Temple University Medical School; Toby Einstein, Ph.D., Professor of Immunology, Temple University Medical School; Kurt F. Hauser, Ph.D., Professor of Pharmacology, Virginia Commonwealth University; Yanhua Tsai, Ph.D., Dean of Pharmacy, China Medical University, Taichung, Taiwan; and Ming Li, Ph.D., Professor of Psychiatry and Neurosciences and Head of Neurology, University of Virginia.

The I-NIP trains all its members in the area of scientific and academic integrity and honesty, and has implemented a new contractual agreement entitled, "The I-NIP Proper Laboratory Conduct Contract" in response to its ongoing mission of scientific excellence.

The I-NIP and its preceding group has sponsored research for both faculty and students and for their national and international traveling for research presentation. It has sponsored various research and academic meetings including the Life Science Symposium (2000-2005), Molecular Bioscience Symposium (2004-2005), Biannual Molecular Bioscience Meeting (2006-2008), Annual Women's Conference (2009), and the Petersheim Academic Exposition (2009) at Seton Hall University and the National and International Meeting of Society on NeuroImmune Pharmacology. The I-NIP has facilitated the international collaboration of the College of Arts and Sciences at Seton Hall including an agreement with China Medical University's College of Pharmacy in Taiwan to coordinate education, training and faculty research while building on each school's areas of expertise.

For more information, visit the office in McNulty Hall, Room 307/309, call (973) 275-2340, or fax (973) 275-2489.

International Institute for Clergy Formation

Monsignor James Choma, M.A., M. Div., Director

The International Institute for Clergy Formation of Seton Hall University is the only formation program designed specifically for priests. The off-campus site of the five-week Summer Institute is San Alfonso Retreat Center, Long Branch, New Jersey. In addition, there is an off-campus, one-week winter institute at San Pedro Catholic Retreat and Conference Center in Winter Park, Florida in January.

The mission of the institute is "to provide for the individual Catholic priest a graduate university teaching and learning environment that addresses his body, soul and spirit, as well as his unique vocation in a way that leads him to a clearer perception and fuller/richer experience of the essential ministerial significance that is his by virtue of his ordination, so as to support his ongoing formation as a person and his sacred mission as a shepherd." The implementation of the objectives and/or goal of this statement follows Pope John Paul II's document "Pastores dabo Vobis: I Will Send You Shepherds."

The institute has been in existence for 19 years, and more than 10,000 priests have attended all or part of the summer and winter institutes. Foundation money assists the institute in financing the best possible international faculty and research efforts to guide the implementation of the Vision Statement. Joseph A. Unanue Latino Institute

Ileana Rodriguez, Ph.D., Director

Seton Hall University is poised to become the premier site for Latino Studies in the tristate area through the creation of the Joseph A. Unanue Latino Institute and the undergraduate major and minor in Latin American and Latino/Latina Studies. Building on a rich legacy of service to the Seton Hall Latino community by the Puerto Rican Institute (founded in the early 1970s) and the Dominican Republic Institute, the Joseph A. Unanue Latino Institute seeks to fulfill two intertwined missions of service and scholarship.

The Institute was created through a generous gift from Joseph A. and Carmen Ana Unanue, and the initiative of Monsignor Robert Sheeran, University Trustees, and the Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences. The Institute aims to provide a space for dialogue, to encourage research and study of the Latino experience, with particular emphasis on literature and the arts, the sciences, and business and finance to further advance intercultural understanding.

The Joseph A. Unanue Latino Institute sponsors co-curricular activities, programs and events with a focus on the Latino experience. The Institute aims to foster academic and cultural enrichment, and further advance intercultural understanding. In connection with the Latin American and Latino/Latina Studies Program, the Latino Institute offers wide-ranging cultural programming.

The interdisciplinary Latin American and Latino/Latina Studies major and minor combine our assets in the areas of modern languages, sociology, anthropology religious studies, history and political science. For more information about the Latin American and Latino/Latina Studies Program, please e-mail Dr. Matthew Escobar at escobama@shu.edu

The Joseph A. Unanue Latino Institute supports the Latino student organizations on campus by collaborating with, advising and publicizing their programs. For information, visit www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/latino-institute/ or call (973) 761-9422, or contact Dr. Ileana Rodriguez at rodrigil@shu.edu

Language Resource Center

Wendy Sue Williams, M.A., Director

The Language Resource Center in the College of Arts and Sciences is committed to facilitating a teaching and learning environment where students, faculty and staff have the opportunity to explore language and culture in a technology-enhanced setting. In 2007, the College of Arts and Sciences, in conjunction with the Department of Modern Languages and the Teaching, Learning and Technology Center, extensively renovated the Language Resource Center. Language learners will find computer workstations with headphones and language learning software, allowing them to type compositions in Arabic, Chinese, Japanese, Russian, French, Spanish, German and Italian. Students can also listen to and record audio for classes. Reference books and publications in various languages are displayed for easy access. The Language Resource Center also maintains a collection of classic and modern foreign language feature films and documentaries. A screening room with surround sound and theatre-style seating allows students to comfortably watch and discuss films in small groups.

The Language Resource Center also provides information on assessment and placement exams, as well as careers for language learners. For information about the Language Resource Center, visit Fahy Hall, Room 202, or e-mail lrc@shu.edu

Micah Institute for Business and Economics

Seton Hall University's Micah Institute for Business and Economics operates under the aegis of the Center for Catholic Studies. Its mission is to introduce faculty, students, and the business community to the Catholic perspective on business and economic life. It seeks to present the multiple ways in which these two interactive and vital engines impact the lives of all individuals personally, communally, and professionally.

Through its programs and projects, namely the Micah Business Leadership Project, the Woodstock Business Conference/Seton Hall Chapter and the Catholic Social Teaching Topics online resource, the Micah program offers a comprehensive understanding of Catholic social teaching, economic justice and the world of work. It addresses key social issues, explores whether there is a more just way for the economy to work, and how well we prepare people, particularly the next generation, to build a more just and equitable society.

Seton Center for Community Health

Anne M. Hewitt, Ph.D., Director

The Seton Center for Community Health (SCCH) was established in 2004 as an academic resource for collaboration, learning and research to enhance the quality of life for individuals and communities in need. The center is located in the Department of Public and Healthcare Administration, and provides technical assistance to community health agencies focused on improving the health status of New Jersey residents. The center follows a partnership approach that facilitates linkages with community stakeholders, healthcare providers and graduate students. Since its inception, the center has collaborated through grants with eight different community agencies and involved graduate students from both the Master of Healthcare Administration (M.H.A.) and the Master of Public Administration (M.P.A.) programs. The SCCH also is collaborating with the New Jersey Office of Faith-Based Initiatives.

Sister Rose Thering Endowment for Jewish-Christian and Holocaust Studies

David M. Bossman, Ph.D., Executive Director
Marilyn Zirl, Administrator

The Sister Rose Thering Endowment for Jewish-Christian and Holocaust Studies, established in 1993 in honor of Sister Rose's work as an educator and advocate for improving relations between Christians and Jews, is part of the Department of Jewish-Christian Studies in the College of Arts and Sciences.

The goals of the endowment are to promote inter-religious understanding and cooperation through education; to provide tuition assistance for teachers in public, private and parochial schools for graduate courses in Jewish-Christian and Holocaust studies at Seton Hall University; and to allow teachers to enroll as nonmatriculated students for up to 12 credits and receive a certificate of completion. Teachers may also enroll in the Department of Jewish-Christian Studies to obtain a Master of Arts degree.

The endowment allows both educators and members of the community to explore lessons of lasting social significance, countering the destructive power of prejudice, anti-Semitism, ethnocentrism and bigotry born of ignorance, through workshops, lectures and travel programs. This program follows the mandate of the state of New Jersey to teach about the Holocaust in all schools, grades K-12.

Sister Rose's Passion, a film about the life and work of Sister Rose Thering, won the award for the short documentary film category at the Tribeca Film Festival in 2004 and was nominated for an Academy Award® in 2005.

Sister Rose passed away on May 6, 2006 at her beloved Siena Center of the Dominican Sisters in Racine, Wisconsin. Her lifetime achievements are being memorialized by continuing her work toward improved dialogue between Christians and Jews. In 2008 a mission to Israel included a street being named in her memory in Jerusalem.

Scholarship applications are available by contacting the endowment office at (973) 761-9006, sending an e-mail to zirlmari@shu.edu, or visiting www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/sister-rose-thering-endowment/

Alumni Relations and the Alumni Association

Matthew Borowick, M.B.A., Associate Vice President

The Department of Alumni Relations, with a constituency of more than 80,000 alumni, serves as the primary resource for all Seton Hall University graduates.

The Alumni Association is advised by a Board of Directors which is composed of members representing different constituent groups. The executive committee has a president, president-elect, several vice presidents, a treasurer, and special committees. The board is responsible for supporting the development of all activities involving University alumni.

The objectives of the association are to communicate the mission and ideals of Seton Hall University. This is accomplished by establishing a dialogue and environment that encourages Seton Hall alumni to be proud proponents of and consistent supporters of their alma mater and fellow alumni. Membership in the Association is open to anyone who has received a degree from Seton Hall University or who has been a student in good standing for a period of two academic semesters, but has withdrawn under honorable conditions. Recognizing the vital importance of building relationships with our many alumni, the Department of Alumni Relations produces both print and electronic communications that contain updates on campus activities and feature stories about alumni, as well as news from the various schools, alumni chapters and constituent groups.

For more information on the Alumni Association and alumni activities, call (973) 378-9822 or 1-800-992-GRAD. You may also write to the Department of Alumni Relations, Seton Hall University, George M. Office of International Programs

Maria José Soares, M.A., Director

Jürgen W. Heinrichs, Ph.D., Faculty Adviser

The Office of International Programs serves to internationalize the Seton Hall community through services in three distinct areas.

1. Education Abroad

Seton Hall faculty members run a number of study abroad programs every year. They are primarily short-term programs run mainly in the summer. These study abroad opportunities are offered in many countries, including Spain, France, Italy, Ireland, England, Russia, Mexico, Japan, China and Korea. The Office of International Programs (OIP) promotes these programs and acts as a central information point. The OIP encourages students to make study abroad part of their college experience, which is why the OIP also provides information, guidance and support to students wishing to study abroad on non-Seton Hall study abroad programs. The office also maintains and develops exchange agreements with many universities abroad.

2. International Student Services

The Office of International Programs assists international students, professors and visiting scholars who wish to study, do research or teach at Seton Hall. This includes issuing the initial documentation required to obtain a student visa or an exchange visitor visa, as well as providing immigration counseling to all international students regarding maintaining visa status, employment, traveling, changing status, etc. Additionally, the OIP strives to assist international students with integration into the Seton Hall community through social and cultural events. The OIP also provides assistance and guidance to the International Student Association (ISA).

3. Cultural Activities and Center

The OIP also aims to promote awareness and understanding of other cultures throughout the campus. In addition to sponsoring cultural events, study abroad and international students on campus, the OIP achieves this by supporting cultural centers and institutes on campus.

For further information, contact the Office of International Programs at (973) 761-9072 or www.shu.edu/offices/oip-index.cfm

Seton Hall Sports Poll Conducted by the Sharkey Institute

Richard Gentile, B.A., Director

The Seton Hall Sports Poll conducted by the Sharkey Institute, a new initiative of the Center for Sport Management within the Stillman School of Business, officially launched in the Fall 2006 semester. The Institute will serve as a source of polling services and survey research dedicated to sport, placing the University in a domain unoccupied by any other university in America.

Founded with a generous donation from Thomas J. Sharkey and his wife Ruth, the Seton Hall Sports Poll serves as a barometer of public opinion on the important issues confronting sports today. The distinction of the Seton Hall Sports Poll is that it will be strictly focused on current sport issues. Since no other polling institute centers itself on sport, the Sharkey Institute will occupy a unique niche with immense traction in the marketplace. The dynamics of the sport industry provide an ideal opportunity for the Institute to present newsworthy findings on a regular basis, on topics such as: the NCAA final four, commercialization of the Olympics, the steroid issue in Major League Baseball, and sports gambling.

The Sharkey Institute will also impact the broader curriculum within the Stillman School and throughout the University. Among the numerous educational opportunities, marketing courses will have the benefit of a live market research center, and students in their core statistics classes can analyze real-time data. Management students can develop planning and organizing competencies required to run a polling center, and students in communication can craft news releases.

Seton Hall University Parents' Association

Parents and family members are an integral part of the Seton Hall community and play an important role in enhancing the student experience. The goal of the Parents' Association is to educate and inform parents and family members about the University's goals and programs, and to engage and involve them in events and activities that demonstrate the value of a Seton Hall University education. Annual activities include the Parents' Association Reception for undergraduate parents and families during University Day in October, the Parents' Association Reception and activities during New Student Orientation in June and August, and the Parents' Association Men's Basketball Pre-Game Dining event at Continental Airlines Arena. The Parents' Association Web site at www.shu.edu/parentsassn.html is a valuable source of information for parents and family members. Visit the Web site to learn more about the association and to subscribe to the new Parents' Association email newsletter.

Cultural and Community Programs

Seton Hall University hosts many cultural programs that are open to the general public as well as the University community.

Seton Hall Arts Council

Susan Kilduff, M.A., M.P.A., Director

The Seton Hall University Arts Council supports the integral role of the arts in higher education and their universally recognized status as a hallmark of an educated and humane culture. The Council contributes to the cultural vitality of the campus and to the University's role in the greater community by fostering and promoting the visual, literary and performing arts, enhancing communication and collaboration among its members.

The Arts Council serves as the umbrella organization for the Arts Council Classical Concert Series, Jazz 'n the Hall, Joseph A. Unanue Latino Institute, Multicultural Film and Lecture Series, Poetry-in-the-Round, Seton Hall Theatre. It also supports the efforts of and works in collaboration with the Walsh Gallery, the Seton Hall Touring Choir and other arts and cultural groups on campus. The Council is committed to increasing the visibility of University arts and cultural events on and off campus. In conjunction with the Center for Vocation and Servant Leadership, the Council oversees the awarding of grants through the "Exploring Faith and Vocation through the Arts" program.

In 2009-2010, the Arts Council continues its unique partnership with the South Orange Performing Arts Center (SOPAC). Classical and jazz concerts and the Seton Hall Theatre productions are performed in SOPAC's intimate performance space. Walsh Gallery exhibitions, Poetry-in-the-Round and the Multicultural Film and Lecture Series are offered on Seton Hall's beautiful 58-acre campus.

Visit <http://www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/arts-council/> or call (973) 313-6338 for event information.

Jazz 'n the Hall

Gloria Thurmond, D.Min., Director

The Jazz 'n the Hall program brings prominent jazz musicians to Seton Hall University several times a year for public performances. Recent performers have included the Count Basie Jazz Orchestra, West Point Jazz Knights U.S. Army Band, and the Dick Hyman and Ray Kennedy Jazz Piano Duo. For more information, call (973) 313-6338 or e-mail artscouncil@shu.edu

Arts Council Classical Concert Series

Dena Levine, D.M.A., Director

For more than 25 years, Seton Hall's Arts Council has sponsored the Arts Council Classical Concert Series, presenting more than 400 compositions of more than 100 composers performed by soloists and large and small ensembles from 25 countries around the world.

Students, faculty and guests from the local community have enjoyed the opportunity to hear and meet world-renowned soloists such as Jorge Bolet, Leonard Pennario, Rudolph Firkusny, Bella Davidovich, Ilana Vered, John O'Connor, Ruth Laredo and Emanuel Ax, pianists; Ransom Wilson, flutist; Ruggiero Ricci, Jaime Laredo, Robert McDuffie and Elmar Olivera, violinists; Kim Kashkashian, violist; Janos Starker and Nina Kotova, cellists; the Romeros, Sharon Isbin and the Assad Brothers, guitarists; Fusako Yoshido, koto player; and many others.

All events are available at a reduced price to students, faculty and staff with valid Seton Hall I.D. To receive information about the series, call (973) 275-2450.

28 University Overview

Seton Hall Theatre

Peter Reader, M.F.A., Director and Designer

The Seton Hall Theatre program runs throughout the academic year. Shows are presented September to May. Three productions take place at the nearby South Orange Performing Arts Center (SOPAC), a state-of-the-art facility that features a new and fully equipped 415 seat proscenium theatre. Student actors in these shows are directed by a department faculty member. Shows vary in style from classical to modern. The program strives to give students a practical and historical approach to the dramatic arts. Performance credit can be earned for participation. All students are eligible to audition.

For more information, call (973) 761-9474, or visit www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/seton-hall-theatre/

Poetry-in-the-Round

John Wargacki, Ph.D., Director

Poetry-in-the-Round invites the world's most compelling and celebrated writers to Seton Hall University each year to read and discuss their works with students and community members. Among the many poets, novelists and critics who have come to Seton Hall are Azar Nafisi, Billy Collins, Thomas Lynch, Amy Tan, George Plimpton, Harold Bloom, Adrienne Rich, Jonathan Franzen, Frank McCourt, John Updike, Arthur Miller, Ted Hughes, Jorie Graham, Nadine Gordimer, Derek Walcott and James Merrill. For more information about the series, call (973) 761-9000 Ext. 5105, or visit www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/arts-council/poetry-in-the-round.cfm

Multicultural Program Film and Lecture Series

Christopher Sharrett, Ph.D., Director

The Multicultural Program, in addition to its academic courses, offers a free film and lecture series open to the general public and the Seton Hall community. Both the film and lecture series explore diversity issues related to ethnicity, race, religion, class and gender. Feature films, domestic and foreign, and riveting documentaries give the film series a focus and a universal perspective. The film series has lively discussions following each viewing — some led by an expert guest host. The lecture series has brought to campus well-known scholars, including two-time Pulitzer Prize winner historian David Levering Lewis, Andrew Hacker and Deborah White, as well as prominent film directors/producers Tami Gold, Sam Pollard, William Miles and Peter Miller.

Through films, lectures and conferences, the Multicultural Program has sought to bridge the racial, religious, class and gender fault lines of the national and global divide through the promotion of increased understanding of our similarities and appreciation of our differences. Church and community groups are welcome. For information, call (973) 275-2792 or (973) 761-9385.

Walsh Gallery

Jeanne Brasile, M.A., Director

The Walsh Gallery is the primary exhibition space on the South Orange campus of Seton Hall University. Since its inception in 1994, the Gallery has presented dynamic exhibitions with a broad range of appeal and subject matter. Serving both the University and surrounding communities, the Walsh Gallery hosts five to eight exhibitions annually that range in topics from fine art to the historical, with an emphasis on interdisciplinary themes. The Walsh Gallery welcomes over 7,000 visitors each year. Students and faculty utilize the gallery as a laboratory for learning, with exhibitions designed to complement the University's curriculum. The Walsh Gallery hosts students in the Museum Professions Graduate Program, allowing them to receive hands-on training in all facets of exhibition production while earning credit toward their degrees. Undergraduate students may earn credit for internships based upon special projects. The Gallery also produces a number of programs each year including artist talks, gallery lectures, hands-on workshops and educational seminars to enhance the learning potential of the exhibitions. All programs are free and open to the public. For further information, please see page 16 of this catalogue, call the director at (973) 275-2033, or visit the Gallery website at library.shu.edu/gallery

Seton Hall University Touring Choir

Jeanette T. Hile, M.A., Director

The Seton Hall University Touring Choir is an auditioned group of students, faculty, alumni and community singers. The choir has toured in Canada, Italy, and Washington, D.C., in addition to performing concerts at Carnegie Hall in New York City, and the New Jersey Performing Arts Center in Newark with the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra. For more information, call (973) 761-9417 or e-mail hilejean@shu.edu

Seton Hall University Gospel Choir

Reverend Forrest Pritchett, M.A., Program Director

The Seton Hall University Gospel Choir started in 1972 as a small group called “Jus Us.” This group initially consisted of six individuals, whose primary purpose was joining in fellowship through the singing of gospel songs. Later the group changed its name to “Voices United.” During the mid-1970s The Center for Black Studies began official sponsorship of the choir, and it became the Seton Hall University Gospel Choir. The center also offered academic credit for participation with the choir. During the late 1970s, a highlight of the choir’s itinerary involved performing with the Dance Theatre of Harlem on Broadway in New York City. During the 1990s, the choir’s emphasis began to focus on ministry.

Today, the choir offers ministry in song, movement arts, spoken word and instrumental renditions. The choir has given weekly performances in the community at homeless shelters, community centers, churches, schools and colleges. The Gospel Choir, approximately 60 students and musicians, offers motivational and spiritual workshops to community churches and organizations. The choir performs a fall and a spring concert on campus each year.

For more information, please contact Reverend Forrest Pritchett, Program Director, at (973) 275-2760, or e-mail pritchfo@shu.edu

Archbishop Peter L. Gerety Lecture Series

Monsignor Robert Wister, D. Eccl. Hist., Director

Through a grant received from Archbishop Emeritus Peter L. Gerety, Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology sponsors a lecture series in Church history, broadly defined. These lectures (usually one per semester) are given by prominent figures from the fields of education, Church, public service and journalism. They address issues of contemporary interest with some attention to the historical roots of these issues.

Information about the Archbishop Peter L. Gerety Lecture Series may be obtained by calling the School of Theology, (973) 761-9575, or by visiting theology.shu.edu/lectures.htm

Monsignor John M. Oesterreicher Lecture

Reverend Lawrence Frizzell, D.Phil., Director

The John M. Oesterreicher Endowment funds an annual lecture in memory of Monsignor Oesterreicher, founder of the Institute of Judaeo-Christian Studies at Seton Hall University.

Additionally, a series of conferences and workshops sponsored by the Institute deal with current and historical perspectives in the relationship between Christians and Jews. These programs are open to the public. More information may be obtained by calling the Institute of Judaeo-Christian Studies at (973) 761-9751.

Admission

Student Classification

Seton Hall University classifies undergraduate students as listed below:

Matriculated Students

Those students who have applied for admission to a degree program and have been accepted by the Committee on Admissions for a prescribed course of study leading to the baccalaureate degree.

Non-matriculated Students

Those who have not made formal application to a degree program but have been approved by the Committee on Admissions to enroll in courses; or those who have made formal application to a degree program but have only been accepted by the Committee on Admissions in a nondegree status as a nonmatriculated student.

Credit Limits

Non-matriculated students may enroll for a maximum of 9 credits per semester and may pursue no more than 18 credits total. If a non-matriculated student wishes to apply for matriculation, that student must apply with the Office of Undergraduate Admissions no later than the term in which the 18-credit maximum will be reached. The University recognizes that some students may legitimately seek to enroll for more than 18 credits. Accordingly, students reaching the 18-credit maximum who do not wish to matriculate must sign a statement indicating non-intent to matriculate.

Visiting Students

Students currently enrolled in another institution who wish to take courses at Seton Hall as nonmatriculated students must present a copy of their college transcript or a letter from their institution giving them permission to enroll in classes at Seton Hall, or sign a statement indicating non-intent to matriculate. Seton Hall does not normally enroll students who have been dismissed from or placed on probation by their previous institution.

Full-time Students

Those in a degree program who take courses for 12 or more credits in any semester, day or evening.

Part-time Students

Those in a degree program who take courses for 11 or fewer credits in any semester, day or evening.

Qualifications for Admission

The University actively seeks qualified persons of varied races, cultures, experiences and national backgrounds. Qualified students are admitted without regard to race, color, religion, age, handicap, sexual orientation, national origin, ancestry or gender. The minimum academic requirement for admission is satisfactory completion of a college-preparatory course of study, indicated below, in an accredited secondary school with credit for 16 acceptable units or a secondary school equivalency diploma. The electives presented should be academic in nature, embracing courses in language arts, mathematics, science, social studies, foreign languages or humanities.

English	4 units
Foreign Language	2 units
Algebra I	1 unit
Plane Geometry	1 unit
Algebra II	1 unit
Science (laboratory)	1 unit
Social Studies	2 units
Approved Electives	4 units

Students wishing to major in the physical or biological sciences are expected to have a more extensive background in the appropriate science areas. Applicants for the College of Nursing must present two units in science (biology and chemistry) in addition to the general University requirements for admission. Students wishing to major in music must audition before being admitted into the major.

Except when waived by the Office of Admissions, scores on either the Scholastic Assessment Test (SAT) or the American College Test (ACT) must be submitted by all applicants. A writing test on either the SAT I or ACT assessment is also required. Waivers of test scores generally are granted only to those students who graduated from high school at least five years prior to applying.

Every application is reviewed individually. The Office of Admissions reserves the right to waive any of the above mentioned requirements in exceptional cases when the quality of the applicant's overall record shows promise of success in college level study.

Application Procedures for First-Year Students

All applicants should submit the following by March 1 for the fall semester and December 1 for the spring semester:

1. Completed application;
2. Counselor report;
3. Teacher recommendation;
4. Application fee, if filing a paper application;
5. Official copy of high school transcript; and SAT or ACT scores.

Decisions are made by the Office of Admissions on a rolling basis as applications become complete. Fall semester notification begins in December; Spring semester notification begins in November. Completed applications submitted by March 1 for the fall semester and December 1 for the spring semester will receive priority. The University requires accepted students to confirm their intention to enroll by May 1.

No applicant is permitted to register for any undergraduate course until a letter of acceptance has been received. Freshman applicants who are denied admission are not permitted to enroll under any status or in any department of Seton Hall for a minimum of one year. Some applicants are placed on a waiting list depending on the size and competitiveness of the applicant pool. All waiting list candidates will be notified of a final decision. The University reserves the right to dismiss students who knowingly mislead or present false information on the application.

Home Schooled Students

Students who have been home schooled are required to submit a completed application, essay, recommendation letter, application fee, SAT or ACT scores. Standardized test scores must be sent directly from the testing agency. All home schooled students are required to meet their home state requirements and must submit supporting documentation demonstrating that they have done so.

32 Enrollment Services

Students must submit one of the following:

1. Transcript from a home school program or primary teacher. If any of the high school education was completed in a conventional public or private school, Seton Hall University requires that the transcript of that academic work be sent directly from the registrar of that school. Additionally, if the student has completed any college-level course work while in high school, or to satisfy graduation requirements, all transcripts must be submitted.
OR
2. Portfolio of academic work completed to include syllabi, list of text books used, academic curriculum outline and any other documentation of academic work completed. The portfolio must also include grade evaluations by the primary teacher.

All students who apply to Seton Hall University must demonstrate that they have completed the following Carnegie units: four units of English, three units of mathematics, two units of foreign languages, two units of social sciences, one unit of laboratory sciences, four units of approved electives.

Transfer Students

Candidates for admission must submit official transcripts of all college-level work taken at other institutions. Additionally, candidates with fewer than 24 credits of college-level work at the time of application are also required to submit:

1. Official high school transcript; and
2. Scores from the Scholastic Assessment Test (SAT) or American College Test (ACT).

All credentials should be submitted by June 1 for the Fall semester and December 1 for the Spring semester. Accelerated Nursing students should have all credentials submitted by April 15 for the Fall semester.

Decisions are made by the Office of Admissions on a rolling basis. Seton Hall normally does not enroll transfer applicants who recently were dismissed or placed on probation by other institutions within the previous year. Transfer applicants who are denied admission are not permitted to enroll under any status or in any department of Seton Hall for a minimum of one year. Transfer applicants from other regionally accredited two and four-year post-secondary institutions who are accepted to Seton Hall University will have their previously earned college credits evaluated for advanced standing at Seton Hall. Seton Hall may, depending upon the area of concentration, accept up to 90 credits of college-level courses completed with a grade of "C" or better at accredited colleges and universities. Remedial and developmental courses are not deemed college-level. In addition, the University may disqualify other courses from transfer eligibility based on course content and other factors.

The Office of the Registrar, in consultation with the deans' offices of each school/college of the University, will perform transfer evaluations of credit earned on a course-by-course basis. Upon completion of this process, the Office of Undergraduate Admissions will notify accepted students of advanced standing granted. In recognizing courses for transfer credit, the schools/colleges of the University must observe the regulations of their accrediting agencies.

The University reserves the right to refuse to accept credits from a previously attended institution that was not listed on the application for admission. The University also reserves the right to dismiss students who knowingly mislead or present false information on the application.

Students who transfer to Seton Hall University with A.A. or A.S. degrees from accredited two-year colleges and who are accepted into the College of Arts and Sciences or the College of Nursing may be considered for a partial waiver of the school or college core curriculum, depending upon the date and sequence in which the associate's degree was earned. To be eligible for this waiver, students must have completed the associate degree prior to their admission to Seton Hall. Students earning an A.A.S. degree are not eligible for a core waiver.

Transfer students who have fewer than 30 credits are responsible for the new University Core Curriculum, including the 120-credit minimum requirement. Depending upon the student's major and other factors, some students will need to complete more than the 120-credit minimum in order to complete the University, school or college, and major requirements.

Students who transfer to Seton Hall and who expect to graduate between Spring 2009 and Spring 2011 will be held to the total graduation credit requirements listed in previous University catalogues, unless they have successfully completed the three University Core Curriculum Signature courses (CORE 1101, CORE 2101 and CORE 3101 or equivalent).

In general, degree requirements are determined by the date of admission, the number of transfer credits and the college/department curriculum as approved by the faculty. Students who have a question about their degree requirements may contact their department chair or their dean.

Transfer students may seek advisement in the Academic Success Center in Mooney Hall. The Academic Success Center advises both transfer students, as well as students who are continuing their studies at Seton Hall, who may have questions about the new University Core Curriculum.

International Students

Seton Hall welcomes applications from international students for either full-time degree programs or the English as a Second Language (ESL) Program. International students interested in applying to Seton Hall University may contact the Office of Undergraduate Admissions, Seton Hall University, 400 South Orange Avenue, South Orange, NJ 07079; (973) 313-6146; fax (973) 275- 2321; or visit the Web site at admissions.shu.edu

International students applying for full-time study in degree programs should take the Scholastic Assessment Test (SAT) and must submit their applications for admission, application fee and all official documents several months in advance of the semester in which they plan to enroll. Students for whom English is a second language and who have been in the United States for fewer than five years may submit results of the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) in place of the SAT.

The University requires that all transcripts be original. Transcripts in languages other than English must be accompanied by a certified English translation. No documents submitted as part of the application process will be returned nor will any requests to duplicate documents be honored. Seton Hall requires international applicants to have all transcripts from institutions not accredited in the United States or Canada evaluated by one of the following agencies:

- Evaluations Service, Inc. www.evaluationservice.net
- Global Credential Evaluators, Inc. www.gceus.com
- Educational Credential Evaluators www.ece.org
- Center for Applied Research, Evaluation and Education, Inc. www.iescaree.com
- World Education Services www.wes.org

All evaluations must be course-by-course evaluations, with confirmation of course level and degree equivalency. Applications submitted without credential evaluations will not be considered for admissions or transfer credit evaluation. Students are responsible for all costs associated with credential evaluations.

F-1 visa students accepted by other institutions are eligible to transfer after they have successfully completed at least one semester of full-time academic work at that institution, demonstrated proficiency in English and submitted adequate evidence of financial support.

If a student is not an American citizen or permanent resident, he or she is not eligible to receive any need-based financial aid.

The University requires that all international students carry basic health and hospitalization insurance. Upon arrival, those international students who do not have current health insurance will be required to purchase health coverage through the University and must maintain this coverage throughout their studies.

English as a Second Language

Applicants for the English as a Second Language (ESL) Program are required to submit the appropriate application. Applicants who need a student visa to attend the ESL Program also must submit certification of financial support.

International students who are applying to study English as a Second Language will be admitted only to the ESL Program. Upon successful completion of the prescribed course of study, students will be awarded a certificate of proficiency by the ESL Program.

Admission to the ESL Program does not constitute admission to a degree program at the University. However, ESL Program students are eligible to apply for admission to the University after successful completion of the program. Certification of the successful completion of the ESL

Program at Seton Hall can be submitted in place of a TOEFL score for admission as a matriculated student.

For further information on the English as a Second Language Program visit education.shu.edu/esl

Visas

Seton Hall University is permitted by United States Citizenship and Immigration Services to admit non-immigrant students. Upon admission to a degree program, the student is issued an I-20 A/B, which is used to pursue a student visa through the American Embassy or Consulate in the student's home country. This must be current at all times. The international student must pursue a full-time course of study (12 or more semester hours) to remain in status, except during the summer.

Before an immigration form is issued, the following must be submitted to the University:

- declaration and certification of finances form, with supporting documentation; and
- request for Certificate of Eligibility (Form I-20).

Readmission

Degree candidates whose work has been interrupted for two or more consecutive semesters and who have not attended another institution in the meantime, are subject to reevaluation upon return and may be held to any change of requirements that may have been instituted in the period of absence.

When students who have been away from Seton Hall for more than one year are readmitted, they must follow the catalogue requirements in effect at the time of readmission. Students may be evaluated on a case-by-case basis, with program modifications made at the dean's discretion.

Students in good academic standing when they leave the University are academically eligible to return to regular student status upon their readmission. Students who are not in good academic standing when they leave the University must meet any restrictions or conditions imposed by their dean.

When a student who has been suspended for academic reasons has been absent from the University for less than one year, the student must meet the criteria established by the academic dean before being allowed to return to studies at Seton Hall. Such a limited absence does not require that the student reapply through admissions; the student should contact the academic dean directly.

When the absence of a suspended student has exceeded one year, the student must file an application for readmission with the Office of Undergraduate Admissions.

In cases where the conditions of the suspension imposed by the academic dean involve completion of studies at a community college with specific grade and credit requirements, the readmission review process will encompass an assessment of those requirements, as well as consultation with the dean's office.

Placement Tests for First-Year Students and Transfer Students

Seton Hall University administers a placement test in English to all first-year and transfer students who have not taken college-level introductory English courses. This test measures a student's reading and writing skills. The Department of Mathematics and Computer Science places students in the appropriate mathematics course based upon the placement test result and the mathematics SAT score.

Placement tests in foreign languages are given to students who plan to enroll in a foreign language to which they have had some prior exposure. Placement tests are given at the beginning of the Fall and Spring semesters. There is no fee for taking the tests. It is recommended that students prepare well before taking any of the placement tests. Satisfactory scores on the English placement test and the mathematics assessments are prerequisites to the college-level sequence of courses in English, mathematics and science.

Students who do not perform satisfactorily on these tests will be required to take developmental coursework. In English, one of the following courses or workshops may be required: ENGL 0150, ENGL 0160, ENGL 0180. In mathematics, MATH 0012 may be required. Final grades for these courses are recorded as satisfactory pass (SP) or required to repeat (RR). Students must maintain a "C" average in these courses and may have to pass a post-test form of the placement test to earn a grade of SP. Institutional credit is granted for these courses. Institutional credit counts toward determining class standing (freshman, sophomore, junior, senior), but does not count toward credit required for graduation. Students who are required to complete developmental courses must do so in the first semester of enrollment.

For more information, contact the academic advising office of Freshman Studies (973) 761-9740.

Credit by Examination

Advanced Placement Examinations

Students with secondary school records indicating superior performance and who attain a score of 4 or 5 on an Advanced Placement Examination of the College Entrance Examination Board receive credit and may be permitted to register for advanced courses in the area(s) in which they qualify. No more than 30 credits may be obtained through examination. Students may contact the Office of Undergraduate Admissions for the list of Advanced Placement Examinations for which Seton Hall awards credit and for the Seton Hall course equivalents of the examinations. The University reserves the right to modify the course equivalents of Advanced Placement examinations based on departmental review.

College-Level Examination Program

General and Subject examinations of the College-Level Examination Program (CLEP), with certain limitations, are recognized for advanced standing credit. General Examination scores must be at or above the 50th percentile for degree credit. No score in mathematics or any language will be considered for credit, and no CLEP credit will be granted in a student's major. To receive credit for subject examinations, scores must be at or above the recommendations of the Commission on Educational Credit of the American Council on Education. Students should consult Enrollment Services before registering for CLEP examinations. The maximum number of credits by examination that may be applied toward a baccalaureate degree is 30. Full-time students may not apply for CLEP credits within their final 60 credits. Part-time students may not apply for CLEP credits within their final 30 credits.

International Baccalaureate

Seton Hall University grants placement and credit for higher-level examinations of the International Baccalaureate (IB). Advanced placement credit will only be considered for higher-level passes above grade 5.

Campus Tours

Campus tours are offered regularly throughout the academic year by the Office of Undergraduate Admissions. Tour appointments may be arranged by visiting the Web site at admissions.shu.edu

Financial Aid

Seton Hall University maintains and administers programs of financial aid funded by the University, federal and state governments, and various industries and foundations. Financial aid may be in the form of a scholarship, grant, loan, employment opportunity or a combination of these. The University believes that, in most cases, the amount of aid granted to a student should be based on financial need, and therefore requires each applicant to file a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) available at www.fafsa.ed.gov. This form is used to determine a student's eligibility for federal, state and institution financial aid. Students completing the FAFSA must include Seton Hall's Title IV School Code: 002632. Students requesting financial aid must complete the FAFSA as soon as possible after January 1 each year. Seton Hall priority financial aid application date is March 1st. Limited financial aid funds require that all applications will be considered on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Federal Programs Administered by Seton Hall University

Federal Pell Grant

A federal grant program of up to $4,731 per academic year.

Federal Perkins Loan

A 6 (six) percent interest loan based on financial need.

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant

A grant to students from low-income families, on a funds available basis.

Academic Competitiveness Grant (ACG)

Encourages students to take challenging courses in high school and to pursue challenging college majors. The award is for first and second year students in the amount of $750 - $1300 per academic year. Complete eligibility requirements can be found at www.federalstudentaid.ed.gov

The National Science and Mathematics Access to Retain Talent

The National Smart Grant is available during the third and fourth years of undergraduate study to full-time students who are eligible for the Federal Pell Grant and who are majoring in physical, life or computer sciences, mathematics, technology or engineering, or in a foreign language determined critical to national security. Students can receive up to $4,000 per academic year.

Federal Work-Study Program

Students who demonstrate need may qualify for part-time jobs at the University (maximum 20 hours per week). The federal government contributes the major portion of the funds; the University contributes the remainder. Information is available at <http://admin.shu.edu/studemp>

Community Service Learning Program

Seton Hall participates in the Community Service Learning Program. Community Service jobs are available to interested students. Information is available at <http://admin.shu.edu/studemp>

Veterans' Benefits

Eligible student veterans may receive monthly payments under the Veterans' Education Program. Children and spouses of veterans whose death or total and permanent disability was service-connected may be eligible for educational benefits under the War Orphans' Educational Act of 1956. Details on these programs are available from the nearest Veterans' Administration Office or Enrollment Services.

ROTC Scholarships

For full-time graduate and undergraduate students who seek a commission in the U.S. Army after receiving their college degrees, scholarships are awarded, in addition to an allocation for books and an annual stipend. Contact ROTC for additional information.

New Jersey State GrantsNew Jersey Tuition Aid Grants (TAG)

Full-time New Jersey residents may qualify for the TAG grant of up to $10,236 (maximum grant for the 2007-2008 academic year) per academic year by completing the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and demonstrating financial need. Eligibility is determined by the New Jersey Higher Education Student Assistance Authority (HESAA).

New Jersey Educational Opportunity Fund (EOF)*

This grant, funded by the state, is limited to New Jersey residents accepted into the University's Educational Opportunity Program (EOP) as educationally and economically disadvantaged. Awards are up to $2,500 per year.

Distinguished Scholars Program

Awards of $1,000 are available to qualified New Jersey residents attending in-state colleges. Students are nominated by their high schools based on scholastic records and SAT/ACT scores. Awards are renewable for four years.

Urban Scholars Programs

Awards of $1,000 are available to qualified New Jersey residents living in New Jersey's urban and economically distressed areas. Students are nominated by their high schools based on scholastic records and SAT scores. Awards are renewable for four years.

Awards are renewable, provided the student maintains satisfactory academic progress and demonstrates need based on the FAFSA each year.*

Student LoansFederal Stafford Loans

Seton Hall participates in the Federal Stafford Student Loan Program (FFELP). The program consists of Federal Stafford Loans (both subsidized and unsubsidized) and Federal PLUS loans. Loan proceeds are delivered to the student through the school and repaid to the loan provider. Before loan proceeds are credited to a student's account, the promissory note must be electronically signed with the lender of the student's choice. Seton Hall University does not endorse any lender. The University's Financial Aid Office will process any loan from all lenders.

Unsubsidized Federal Stafford Loan

Students who do not qualify for a need-based federal loan may borrow via an unsubsidized loan whereby the student is responsible for the in-school interest. Students may contact the Office of Financial Aid for more information.

The following limits apply to subsidized and unsubsidized Stafford loans:

Stafford
Freshman	$3,500
Sophomore	$4,500
Junior	$5,500
Senior	$5,500
Graduate	$8,500

Please note: In addition to the previously stated amounts, independent students may borrow additional amounts under the unsubsidized loan program. The amounts are: freshman and sophomores, $4,000; juniors and seniors, $5,000; and graduate students, $12,000.

Parent Loan for Undergraduate Students (PLUS)

In addition to student loans, parents may borrow up to the cost of education less any financial aid the student receives. Interest is capped at 9 percent and repayment begins 60 days after the second disbursement of the loan. Interest rates for Federal Stafford and PLUS loans are set annually by the United States Department of Education. More information about these loan programs may be obtained from the Office of Financial Aid or from the United States Department of Education at <http://studentaid.ed.gov>

University-Funded Programs

Regent's, Chancellor's, Provost's and University Scholarships

These are academically competitive, full-tuition scholarships offered to outstanding incoming freshmen. Regent's Scholarships are given to the most qualified incoming student and pay for full tuition and fees. The Chancellor's Scholarships are limited to graduates of Catholic high schools. Provost's Scholarships are limited to graduates of non-Catholic high schools and pay full tuition. University Scholarships are partial-tuition scholarships. These scholarships do not have a special application or application process. Applicants for admission automatically will be considered based on high school records and SAT or ACT scores. These scholarships are subject to renewal based on evidence of continued high academic achievement at the University. Graduate and/or summer tuition charges will not be paid for by University funded scholarship programs. University funded scholarship programs only cover undergraduate student tuition and/or fee charges for a maximum of eight semesters. Students who are receiving institutional merit awards will have their merit scholarship prorated based on the other eligible tuition aid programs.

Reverend Martin Luther King Jr. Scholarships

Ten competitive scholarships are offered each year to freshmen minority students who are academic scholars and have volunteered in their community to achieve the dreams exemplified by the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Seton Hall Need-Based Grants

These grants are awarded to students who demonstrate financial need and above-average academic achievement. Renewal is based on continued need, satisfactory academic performance and available funds.

Athletic Scholarships

Scholarships are available for outstanding achievement in a number of men's and women's sports. Contact the Department of Athletics for more information, (973) 761-9497.

Student Employment

In addition to the Federal Work-Study (FWS) Program, the University funds a number of campus jobs that are not based on financial need. Information is available at <http://admin.shu.edu/studemp>

Phi Theta Kappa Scholarship

These scholarships are awarded annually to students who transfer from community colleges and who are members of the Phi Theta Kappa honor society. No scholarship application is required to receive this scholarship, however students must provide proof of Phi Theta Kappa membership.

Transfer Scholarships

These scholarships are awarded annually to qualified transfer candidates. To be considered for a scholarship, the transfer applicant must demonstrate exceptional academic achievement.

Sibling 10 Percent Tuition Discount

Eligible siblings are two or more brothers or sisters who are concurrently enrolled as full-time undergraduate degree students at Seton Hall. The siblings must be dependent students who reside in the same household. Applications are available in the Office of Financial Aid.

Second Degree Students

Second degree-seeking undergraduate students should apply for financial aid by following the same procedures as other undergraduate students. Second degree-seeking undergraduate students must have declared majors different from the major in which they have already earned a degree. Second degree-seeking undecided majors are considered undeclared for financial aid purposes, and are not eligible for aid. Generally, second degree-seeking undergraduate students may be eligible for Federal Work Study, Federal Stafford and Perkins Loans. Second degree-seeking undergraduate students are NOT eligible to receive grants, such as Pell, SEOG, New Jersey TAG, SHU Need and the Seton Hall Grant

Endowed Scholarships

The following established scholarships contribute toward the expenses of eligible students to the extent of income derived from the University's scholarship endowment. For awarding purposes, the interest from many of the scholarships is pooled together (as indicated by the asterisk *), which eliminates the need for a specific application. Generally, the only application needed for these scholarships is the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). For those scholarships that do have restrictions, every effort is made by the University to identify worthy recipients.

Student Eligibility

In order for students to receive federal/state financial aid they must meet certain eligibility requirements listed below:

- have financial need as determined by the information reported on the FAFSA;
- be a high school graduate;
- be enrolled at least half-time at Seton Hall in an eligible degree-granting program;

- be a U.S. citizen or eligible non-citizen;
- be making satisfactory academic progress toward a degree (the following section, Requirements to Maintain Eligibility for Federal Aid, contains details);
- not be in default of a federal loan or owe a repayment of a federal grant;
- comply with terms of the Anti-Drug Abuse Act;
- certify registration with selective service if required; and
- certify that information reported on the Student Aid Report (SAR) is accurate.

Requirements to Maintain Eligibility for Federal Aid

In addition to the requirements above, the Higher Education Amendments require colleges and universities to define and enforce standards of academic progress. In order to be eligible for federal financial aid, students must conform to the standards of academic progress.

Satisfactory academic progress requirements at Seton Hall provide a maximum time frame for completion of a degree, a graduated credit accumulation over time, as well as a quality mechanism. These minimum standards require students to demonstrate that they are actively pursuing their degrees.

Satisfactory Academic Progress Guidelines

General Considerations

- Federal Regulations (General Provision CFR 668.43) require Seton Hall University, Enrollment Services, to review the academic progress of students who apply for and/or receive financial assistance. This regulation applies to every financial aid applicant.
- Annual Satisfactory Academic Progress evaluation cannot take place until final grades have been posted each year. Therefore, any financial assistance awarded prior to the annual academic evaluation is subject to cancellation if the minimum standards are not met.
- New transfer students will be considered for assistance for one academic year prior to the evaluation of Satisfactory Academic Progress. At the end of the first academic year of attendance at Seton Hall University, transfer students will be evaluated based on the standards for their designated academic level.
- Deficiency with the quantitative and qualitative Satisfactory Academic Progress Guidelines will result in the denial of financial assistance. Applicants denied financial assistance because of inadequate Satisfactory Academic Progress will be granted the option of appealing their aid denial. Appeals must be based on "special or unusual circumstances."

42 Enrollment Services

Financial Assistance Programs Affected

Federal Programs: • Pell Grant • Perkins Loan • Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant • Work-Study • Robert Byrd Teacher Scholarship • Federal Stafford Loan • Parent Loan for Undergraduate Students • ACG Grant • SMART Grant

State Programs: • Tuition Assistance Grants • Distinguished Scholars • Urban Scholars • Educational Opportunity Fund

Institutional Programs: • University Scholarships

Academic Requirements

Grade Point Average

- Undergraduate students must have a cumulative GPA of at least 1.75 for Freshmen; 1.90 GPA for Sophomores; and a 2.00 GPA for Juniors and Seniors.
- Students who meet cumulative GPA criterion, but whose GPA for any one semester falls below 1.75 for Freshmen; 1.90 for sophomores or a 2.00 for juniors or seniors will receive a letter or warning from the dean of his or her school/college, reminding the student of the criteria for probation.
- Students whose cumulative GPA does not meet the minimum requirements are automatically placed on probation for the current semester.

Number of Credits Completed - Full-Time

- Undergraduate and post-undergraduate students must complete a minimum of 72 percent of credit hours attempted for each academic year (i.e., Fall 2008; Spring 2009; Summer 2009) at Seton Hall University.
- Students attending the University for a portion of an award year will be evaluated on that portion of the academic year.
- Students who leave the University for an award year will be evaluated on their most recent academic year or attendance at Seton Hall University.

Policies are subject to periodic revision due to federal legislative and regulatory requirements, as well as federal review.

Determination of Award Amounts

To be considered for any federal, state or University financial aid based on need, a student must complete the FAFSA. The federal government will then process the information and send it to the colleges indicated and to the appropriate state agencies. Students should make sure that Seton Hall University is listed on the FAFSA (use Federal ID number 002632).

Students will be awarded aid on a first-come, first-served basis, with priority given to students demonstrating highest need. Need is determined by taking the difference between total college costs (tuition, fees, room and board, books, transportation and personal expenses) and the federally calculated ability of the family to contribute to these costs.

Except for limited scholarship funds, student financial aid at Seton Hall is awarded on the basis of need and academic achievement.

Awards are made without reference to racial or ethnic origin, gender, age or physical disability. Awards are made singly or in a “package” (a combination of grants, scholarships, loans and employment). In “packaging” a student with a variety of funding, the University first estimates grants from federal and state programs not directly administered by the University, such as Pell grants, TAG and EOF grants, and outside scholarships. If eligible, students are then awarded the maximum Stafford Loan. If the student has remaining need, he or she may be awarded an S.E.O.G. (if Pell-eligible), a Perkins Loan or a SHU Need-Based Grant. The amount of these awards depends on the funding level for each program, as well as the total number of eligible applicants in each award year. Federal PLUS and/or alternative loans may be awarded to cover any remaining gaps between financial aid, family resources and the total cost of attendance.

Student Loans: Rights and Responsibilities

Different types of federal student loans are available to assist in financing a student’s education. They are the Perkins Loan, Federal Stafford Loan (both subsidized and unsubsidized), and the Parent Loan (PLUS). (Refer to pages 30 and 31 for a description of each.) Before incurring any loan, students should know the terms and conditions of the loan, as well as their rights and responsibilities as student borrowers. A loan is money that is borrowed and paid back with interest. The specific sum of money borrowed is called the principal. Interest is a percentage of the principal that the student pays as a fee for borrowing. Students usually pay back the loan in monthly installments until the entire amount of the loan (principal and interest) is repaid. In some cases, a student may postpone or defer payment of the loan, but a deferment must be approved by the loan provider. If a student fails to repay the loan (or defaults), the government may penalize the student and may withhold money from paychecks and tax refunds. In addition, the student will be ineligible to receive future federal aid and his or her credit rating will be negatively affected. The exact terms and conditions of a student loan may be obtained from the loan provider. While federal student loan programs differ in some ways, a student’s rights and responsibilities as a borrower are basically the same for all programs. These rights and responsibilities are specified in federally mandated Entrance Counseling at www.mapping-your-future.org

Rights

As borrowers, students have the right to be provided with clear and concise information about the terms and conditions of student loans. The following list describes students’ rights regarding financial aid:

- students must receive a copy of the promissory note that legally binds them to repay the loan;

- students have the right to a “grace period” before the repayment period begins;
- students must be given a list of deferment conditions;
- students must be informed of the full amount of the loan, the interest rate and when repayment begins;
- students must be informed of the effect borrowing will have on eligibility for other aid;
- students must be aware of any charges incurred by the federal government;
- students must know the maximum yearly and total loan amounts as well as the maximum and minimum repayment periods;
- students must be informed of their expected total debt and what their monthly repayments will be;
- students must be aware of what constitutes default and its consequences;
- students must be informed of refinancing and consolidation options; and
- students must be notified if their loan is transferred to a different holder.

Responsibilities

- students must notify the loan provider if they graduate, withdraw from school or drop below part time; transfer to another school; change their names, address or social security numbers.
- students must repay their loans in accordance with the repayment schedule given to them, even if a student does not receive a bill, or does not complete his or her education.
- students must notify the loan provider of anything that affects the ability to repay the loan or changes the students’ eligibility for deferment or cancellation.
- student borrowers must complete both Entrance and Exit Counseling requirements.

Student Employment

Students must meet and maintain certain eligibility requirements to be considered for on-campus employment. A comprehensive explanation of the terms and conditions of employment is listed in the Seton Hall University Student Employment Handbook, available in Financial Aid. Generally, a student must be enrolled and matriculated at Seton Hall and be making progress toward a degree as defined by the University. Students also must be given an official work assignment before any work is performed. Students eligible for a Federal Work-Study Award must:

- file a FAFSA and demonstrate financial need;
- submit proof of citizenship and employment eligibility (I-9 Form); and
- provide documentation of information provided on FAFSA if required.

Disbursement of Financial Aid

Disbursement of financial aid is done in different ways depending on the type of aid.

Student Employment

Student employment, whether federally or institutionally funded, is disbursed in a paycheck that goes directly to the student for the hours worked during a specific pay period. Students are paid once every two weeks.

New Jersey State Grants

New Jersey State Grants are disbursed electronically into the computer system at Seton Hall. After proper certification, the student’s account is credited for the specific award for which he or she is eligible.

Federal and Institutional Aid

The remainder of financial aid programs are disbursed through Seton Hall’s computer system. Reports generated through the system identify students who meet all requirements for disbursement. Requirements include completion of verification if required, certifications on file and promissory note completion (Federal Stafford Student Loans and Perkins). If a student meets the requirements, his or her account is updated from the financial aid records to the student account with credit for each award for which the student is eligible. The disbursement program is run for both the current term and any previous terms in which adjustments need to be made. Contact the Office of Financial Aid in Bayley Hall for more information, (800) 222-7183.

Repayment Policy

Students receiving Title IV federal financial aid, who terminate enrollment or stop attending all classes during a term for which payment has been received before completing more than 60 percent of the enrollment period, are subject to specific federal regulations. The amount of Title IV aid that a student must repay is determined via the Federal Formula for Return of Title IV funds as specified in Section 484B of the Higher Education Act. This law also specified the order of return of the Title IV funds to the programs from which they were awarded.

A repayment may be required when aid has been disbursed to a student from financial aid funds in excess of the amount of aid the student earned during the term. The amount of

44 Enrollment Services

Title IV aid is determined by multiplying the total Title IV aid (other than FWS) for which the student qualified by the percentage of time during the term that the student was enrolled. If less aid was disbursed than was earned, the student may receive a late disbursement for the difference. If more aid was disbursed than was earned, the amount of Title IV aid that must be returned (i.e., that was unearned) is determined by subtracting the earned amount from the amount actually disbursed.

The responsibility for returning unearned aid is allocated between the University and the student according to the portion of disbursed aid that could have been used to cover University charges and the portion that could have been disbursed directly to the student once University charges were covered. Seton Hall University will distribute the unearned aid back to the Title IV programs as specified by law. The student will be billed for the amount the student owes to the Title IV Programs and any amount due to the University resulting from the return of Title IV funds used to cover University charges.

Tuition and Fees

The most recent information on tuition and fees can be found on the Seton Hall University web site. New freshmen and transfer students: <http://admin.shu.edu/enrollmentservices/tuitionandcosts.html> Continuing students: <http://admin.shu.edu/enrollmentservices/tuitionandcosts2.html>

Payment

Semester bills with payment dates indicated are mailed to students who preregister as a courtesy to students. Students are required to monitor their accounts through the on-line self-service access and make on-time payments regardless of receipt of a printed bill. (Pre-registration is required of continuing students.) Charges are assessed for all course reservations, regardless of class attendance. Courses must be officially dropped online or in the Office of the Registrar before the applicable due dates. Details are available online at the Seton Hall Website. All checks, drafts and money orders should be made payable to Seton Hall University. Payments made by mail should be in the envelope enclosed with the bill. MasterCard, American Express and debit card are accepted. Online payments may be made via MasterCard, and American Express through PirateNet.

No student may preregister for a subsequent semester, begin a new semester, reserve a residence hall assignment or make any course changes with an unpaid balance from the preceding semester. In no case will a student receive a degree, diploma, grades, certificate of degree or transcript of credits until charges have been paid in full. The University reserves the right to drop from classes any students who are in default of their payment.

Deferred Payment Plans

Seton Hall University works with TuitionPay to provide students and their families with no-interest payment plans. A nominal fee is charged by TuitionPay. Please contact TuitionPay at 1-800-635-0120 or www.tuitionpay.com for more information. Students cannot use the deferred payment plan for past due balances.

Late Fees and Collection Costs

Any amounts unpaid after the semester's due date are subject to late fees. The late fee is up to $250 each semester. Students are responsible for all collection costs.

Withdrawal from the University

By registering for classes, a student has entered a legal and binding contract to pay all tuition, fees and housing charges with Seton Hall University. Non-attendance of classes does not constitute an automatic withdrawal. A formal withdrawal application must be submitted and approved immediately following the student's decision to cease attendance at the University.

Returned Check Policy

If a bill is paid by personal check in order to pre-register and the check is returned for insufficient funds, the student will be dropped from all classes. The student will not be allowed to reregister for classes until after the account is settled. A registration hold will be placed on the student's record until the balance is resolved through an alternate payment. Alternate payment options are credit card (MasterCard, Visa, American Express or debit card), cash, money order or cashier/bank check. Future personal check payments will be held until funds have cleared through the student's bank. Students who abuse check payments may be barred from paying by personal check in the future. A returned check fee of $35 will be charged for each returned check.

Tuition, Room and Board

The most recent information on tuition and fees can be found on the Seton Hall University Web site, www.shu.edu

Seton Hall utilizes a flat rate tuition plan for full-time undergraduate students. For Fall 2009 and Spring 2010, all full-time students who enroll in more than 18 credits in a term will be charged the applicable basic flat amount for their first 18 credits with an additional $869 for each undergraduate credit above 18. Undergraduates who enroll in fewer than 12 undergraduate credits will be assessed $869 per credit. Undergraduates who enroll in a graduate course will be assessed graduate tuition charges for that course.

Additionally, University and mobile computing fees are charged each semester:

University Fee

Full-time	$325
Part-time	$85
Mobile Computing Fee	$650

Technology Fee

Full-time (non-participant in mobile program)	$200
Part-time	$100

Detailed information on tuition and a complete list of fees with supplementary information is available at the web site cited above.

Estimates of Non-Tuition Costs

Books and Supplies	$1,300
Transportation (resident)	$1,400
Transportation (non-resident)	$1,800

Tuition Discounts

Priests, brothers, and sisters of the Roman Catholic Church are eligible for a 50 percent religious reduction in the above undergraduate tuition rates. Application, accompanied by verification of eligibility, must be submitted to the Office of Student Financial Services in Bayley Hall prior to registration. This office will provide written guidelines upon request. Senior citizens also receive a discount when they register for courses on a space-available basis; they are asked to present proof of age (65 or older) each semester. Tuition waiver forms are available from the Office of the Registrar in Bayley Hall, at the time of registration.

Online courses or those taught under comprehensive fee-based structures are not eligible for tuition discounts.

Withdrawal from the University

General University policy for refund/credit of tuition for registered students who wish to withdraw from the University is based on prorated charges keyed to the date of actual withdrawal after the end of the add-drop period:

1 week	80%
2 weeks	60%
3 weeks	40%
4 weeks	20%
more than 4 weeks	none

These charges apply to students who leave to attend another college or university, who leave because of financial conditions, family or personal reasons, or as the result of University community standards sanctions.

Adjustments will be made only if the official withdrawal forms are properly filed by the student and processed by the University. Fees remain payable.

During Summer Session, no refunds are made after the second class, and no prorated refund/credit for withdrawal is granted.

If a student is dismissed or withdraws because of prolonged illness, the account will be rendered strictly according to the percentage ratio of the total number of days elapsed during the student's attendance to the total calendar days of the semester.

A "prolonged illness" is one that must be attested to by a doctor's certificate to the effect that the illness is or was of such a nature as to require the student's absence for a period of three consecutive weeks.

If a student has made only partial payment of tuition and fees and the prorated charges exceed the partial payment, the additional amount is due and payable at the time of withdrawal. Students will not receive clearance from the University until all financial obligations have been met.

Any refund that is necessary as a result of withdrawal from the University will be made only by mail.

Charges for Course Changes

Course schedules may be modified through the on-line self-service access or with an Adjustment to Schedule Form by the add-drop deadline for the semester or summer term. The payment due date for additional tuition incurred by a student as a result of such a change is immediate; details regarding payment deadlines appear online. If changes are made after the initial registration, payment is due immediately. Students are required to monitor their accounts through the on-line self-service access and make on-time payments regardless of receipt of a printed bill.

Any credit that appears on the student's financial account as a result of a dropped course may be applied toward charges for a subsequent semester or, if requested in writing, refunded directly to the student. No financial adjustment will be made for individual courses dropped after the change in program period.

Withdrawal from Residence Halls

The housing license that all resident students sign is binding for the entire academic year (fall and spring semesters). Once a student "checks in" to a room assignment, the license obligation begins, and no refund of housing charges will be made. The University considers "check in" to be proper when the student accepts the room key.

At the end of the fall semester, a resident student may be released from the housing license and relieved of Spring Semester housing charges.

The student must notify the Department of Housing and Residence Life in writing by November 15. Such requests are granted if the resident student is:

- withdrawing from the University;
- marrying (proof required);
- transferring to another University (proof required);
- graduating;
- or approved by the assistant director of housing and residence life for a special exemption.

Requests not meeting one of the above criteria will be considered, however, there is no guarantee that the student will be released from the housing license and relieved of Spring Semester housing charges.

Please note: Withdrawal from the residence hall is a separate request from withdrawal from the University and as such, a student withdrawing or transferring from Seton Hall University must complete both processes.

Degree Requirements

To assure the attainment of its particular aims, each school and college of the University prescribes a program of basic courses and areas of study. Each student in the school/college must complete the required program. For specific school/college course and credit requirements candidates should consult the individual sections of this catalogue pertaining to the College of Arts and Sciences, College of Education and Human Services, College of Nursing, John C. Whitehead School of Diplomacy and International Relations, the Stillman School of Business, and the Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology.

In addition to individual school/college requirements, each department or division of the University prescribes certain courses to fulfill major field and concentration requirements. All candidates for the bachelor's degree must maintain a GPA of 2.0 overall, in major courses, and in any optional minors, except where departments require a higher minimum average. In the College of Education and Human Services, 2.75 is the minimum GPA for retention in the program and graduation.

Students admitted as freshmen must complete the catalog/degree requirements in effect as of the term of their admission. Students admitted as transfer students are also subject to the catalog/degree requirements in effect as of the term of their admission, but they will qualify for a waiver of University Core courses based on the number of transfer credits awarded. Transfer students with fewer than 30 transfer credits must complete the entire University core; those with 30 to 59 transfer credits will qualify for a waiver of CORE 1001 and CORE 1101; those with more than 60 transfer credits will qualify for a waiver of CORE 1001, CORE 1101 and CORE 2101.

The University reserves the right to close, cancel or modify any academic program and to suspend admission to any program.

Academic Advisement

Academic advising is a process that assists students in gaining the greatest possible benefit from their education at Seton Hall. In addition to helping prepare student schedules, academic advisers help students understand themselves; recognize their educational needs; realize their educational aspirations; and prepare for their future in an appropriate career, profession or graduate study program.

During the freshman year, students work with a Freshman Studies mentor (see Freshman Studies page 66). Thereafter, students consult with departmental advisers assigned by the chair. Students are urged to consult their advisers on a regular basis with regard to program planning, academic policy questions, graduate school options and career information. Advisers can direct students to persons and University offices that offer specialized assistance in areas such as personal counseling, career placement services, tutorial assistance and other student services. Transfer students accepted to Seton Hall will receive, by mail, an advanced standing evaluation. This evaluation indicates how many credits are approved for transfer to Seton Hall, and in which areas. Transfer students then may seek advisement for course selection from their assigned adviser.

Class Attendance

Attendance at each class meeting is expected. Instructors may take class attendance into account when determining grades as long as a clear statement on attendance policy and its impact on grading is given to students within the syllabus at the start of the semester.

Students whose absences, in the judgment of the instructor, are causing performance below reasonable expectations may be referred to their dean for appropriate action. Students who are recipients of federal or state aid for a given term may compromise their eligibility to retain that aid if they fail to attend class and/or do not earn academic credit for their courses.

Transfer Between Schools

Students who wish to transfer from one University school or college to another must file a Curriculum Adjustment Form with the chair of the department and the dean of the school/college to which they wish to transfer. The dean may admit students who meet requirements for admission to the school/college.

Change of Major

Students may change major programs with the permission of the chair of the department into which they wish to transfer. If the major change involves a change in school/college, the permission of the dean of the school/college also is required. In order to effect a change of major, students must secure the required signature(s) on a Curriculum Adjustment Form, which then must be filed with the Office of the Registrar.

Tracking a Major

Students who seek admission to a major for which they are not initially eligible may track that major under advisement until they qualify for admission by completing required courses and earning required grades within the stipulated time frame. In the event that they do not qualify for admission to their preferred program after earning 60 credits, they will need to work with their adviser to evaluate other options. A final major must be officially declared by the point that the student has earned 75 credits.

Students should consult the applicable section of this catalogue for specifics regarding admission standards for various programs. They can also follow the guidelines below:

- Pre-major students who seek admission to the School of Business should follow the guidelines in “Standards for Admission to and Continuance in the Stillman School of Business” within this catalogue (p. 234). These students should seek advisement in the Stillman School’s Student Advisement Office. Students should complete MATH1303 Quantitative Methods for Business before taking any accounting or economics course.

- Pre-science majors who seek admission to a science major must successfully complete the required introductory courses in mathematics and science to be considered for acceptance into biology, chemistry, mathematics and physics majors. Pre-major students who seek admission to a communication major must achieve a minimum GPA of 2.5 after their first semester of study,
- Pre-nursing majors who seek admission to the nursing major must achieve a minimum GPA of 3.0 after their first semester of study,
- Pre-major students seeking admission to the Whitehead School of Diplomacy and International Relations must achieve a minimum GPA of 3.0 both overall and in their diplomacy courses after earning 30 credits.

Freshmen who are tracking majors should work with their Freshman Studies mentors and meet with an academic adviser in their desired major to determine eligibility and to investigate thoroughly the specific requirements for acceptance into that major.

Declaration of Second Major

Students may declare a second major with the permission of the chair of the department offering the second major. Students in the College of Education and Human Services are required to declare a second major.

Students who declare a second major will follow the core curriculum and overall degree requirements of their primary major, as they will earn the degree that is linked to that program. The declaration of the second major does not qualify a student for a second baccalaureate degree.

Declaration of Minor

Students may declare a minor by completing a Curriculum Adjustment Form with signature of the chair of the department of their minor field. Students also may use a Curriculum Adjustment Form to rescind a prior minor declaration. Some majors require the declaration of a minor.

Course Transfer Policies

Students matriculated at the University may not take courses at any other college or university without the prior permission of their chair, the dean of their school/college and the chair of the department offering the equivalent course at Seton Hall. In order to secure this authorization, students must submit an Application to Study at Another Institution with all required signatures. Students with 30 or fewer credits to complete for their degrees are not eligible for this permission. No credit is allowed for courses taken unless an official form granting permission is on file with the Office of the Registrar, to which an official transcript of this work must be sent directly. No credit for work completed at another institution will be accepted in transfer unless the grade received is “C” or better; courses with “Pass” grades will not be accepted in transfer. Grades for transfer courses are not used in computing the major GPA or the overall cumulative GPA.

48 Academic Policies and Procedures

Students who wish to study abroad must complete the Application to Study at Another Institution to secure advance approval of the courses they plan to take. Students studying abroad in fall or spring semesters will be registered for a study abroad course so that their student status remains active.

Continuing Seton Hall students may be granted permission to take a maximum of 12 credits of general electives at another college/university for transfer to their degree program. Students studying abroad may request permission for additional transfer credits. Transfer regulations vary by department/school. Students should consult their own department, as well as the department offering the Seton Hall course equivalent.

The total number of credits a transfer student may accrue via transfer or testing is 90. Once a student reaches this maximum, no further transfer or testing authorizations are accepted.

Residency

The final 30 consecutive credits for a degree must be taken at Seton Hall University. Of these 30 credits, the number to be taken in the major field is determined by each department.

Nursing students in off-campus programs must complete a minimum of 30 credits at Seton Hall University. These students are encouraged to study in residence during their final term at the University.

Students must be matriculated in a degree program and must complete a minimum of 30 credits at Seton Hall in order to be eligible for a degree.

Time Limit

Full-time undergraduate students are expected to complete their degree requirements within seven years. However, financial aid is restricted to a maximum of six years. Part-time undergraduate students are expected to complete their degree requirements in 12 years. Students may petition their dean for an extension if medical problems, family obligations, changes in program or other significant factors make it impossible for them to complete their degrees within the applicable time frame. In this case, the dean must execute a waiver if the student is to be granted additional time to pursue his or her studies. This waiver must include a signed written agreement between the dean and the student outlining a proposed plan of study and a calendar for completion of outstanding degree requirements.

If a student is granted a leave of absence, the time on leave shall not be counted toward degree completion time. Requests for a leave of absence are available in the Office of the Registrar.

Academic Integrity

Faculty, students, administrators and staff of Seton Hall University both recognize and cherish academic integrity as the cornerstone of our shared academic enterprise. As a Catholic institution we are particularly bound to personal values and self-discipline and seek to combine that reality within the context of a trusting and caring academic community. All individuals in the University community have an obligation to attend to the highest degree of personal integrity while in the pursuit of knowledge and the service of one another. In particular, the pursuit of knowledge requires honesty. Students must do their own work. A student who hands in work that is not his or her own, or who cheats on a test, or who plagiarizes an academic assignment is doing harm to himself or herself and taking advantage of others. Any dishonesty threatens the individual standards of the person committing the act and the other members of the Seton Hall community as well.

As we continue to seek for what is best and authentically human, each member of this University community must commit himself or herself to service of the truth. A student should refer to the Policy on Academic Integrity Policy of his/her major department/school/college. This University Policy of Academic Integrity shall apply to all students. The Procedures for Handling Violations of Standards of Academic and Professional Integrity are contained in the Student Handbook.

Class Standing

These classifications do not excuse the student from meeting the course requirements of a school/college or department.

Freshman - A student who has completed fewer than 30 credits.

Sophomore - A student who has completed at least 30, but fewer than 60, credits.

Junior - A student who has completed at least 60, but fewer than 90, credits.

Senior - A student who has completed 90 or more credits.

Application for Graduation

By December 1 of the year prior to the completion of degree requirements, students are required to file an application for degree with the Office of the Registrar. This form is available at the Seton Hall Web site in the Registrar's forms library and in Bayley Hall. Students should consult their degree audit as a guide to course selection and to assure that they meet degree requirements. Students must declare any curriculum change at least six weeks prior to the end of the semester in which they plan to complete degree requirements.

Graduation Eligibility

In order to be eligible for graduation, a candidate must successfully complete all degree requirements and achieve the required minimum overall GPA, as well as the minimum GPA in his or her major and any second major or minor field he or she may have.

Undergraduate degree candidates must also be formally accepted into their degree program. Transfer students must complete a minimum of 30 credits at Seton Hall in order to be eligible for a degree at Seton Hall.

Participation in the commencement ceremony is restricted to those students whom the Office of the Registrar determines to be eligible for their degree. The University also may allow students who are within 6 credits of degree eligibility, and who have the requisite GPA, both overall and in each degree component, to participate in the ceremony as space permits. Participation in the ceremony does not constitute confirmation of degree eligibility.

The Office of the Registrar determines eligibility for participation in commencement.

Diploma Policy

Diplomas are normally available by late July following the May commencement date. A student's name appears on his or her diploma exactly as it appears on the University's computerized database. Students must file a name change request with the Office of the Registrar by April 1 in order to have their diploma reflect that change. Changes in first or last name require official documentation, e.g., marriage certificate or court order. The addition of a middle name or initial does not require supporting documentation.

Diplomas are released upon determination of academic eligibility and financial clearance. Graduates who have an unresolved financial obligation to the University will not receive their diplomas until that obligation has been fully resolved.

Graduation Rate

Of the students who entered Seton Hall University in Fall 2002 as first-time, full-time freshmen, approximately 61 percent graduated from the University within six years. Students who did not graduate and/or left the University did so for various reasons, including academic difficulties, financial problems, changes in career plans, family and personal circumstances, and medical problems.

Registration Regulations

Preregistration and Registration

To prepare for preregistration for the coming semester, students must consult with their academic advisers, who will assist them in selecting an appropriate schedule of classes. Students can check on-line for important information pertaining to registration, including the schedule of courses, the details of preregistration procedures for the semester, the academic calendar, and information about academic regulations and procedures.

Students who plan to continue their studies in the following semester are required to preregister for courses. This accords continuing students first priority in course selection for the following semester.

Preregistration dates are generally scheduled during November for Spring Semester and late March and early April for Fall Semester and Summer Session. On-line registration is available for all students. Students are encouraged to use this convenient method of registration after consulting their adviser to select their courses and get their PIN number.

Registration periods for new and readmitted students immediately precede the beginning of each term. The University calendar specifies these dates. Continuing students who do not pre-register may register during the registration period, although they may be required to pay tuition at the time of registration.

Academic and Financial Responsibility

The University reserves seats in classes for all students who pre-register. The students then incur academic and financial responsibility for any pre-registered course(s). Accordingly, students who pre-register must pay their tuition bills by the due date. Students who decide not to continue their studies must drop their courses on-line or notify the Office of the Registrar in writing by the payment due date, of their intention not to attend so that their reserved class seats may be made available to other students. Cancellation of course reservations by this deadline removes all semester tuition and fee charges.

Preregistered students who cancel course registrations after the payment due date, but before the end of the add-drop periods, will be liable for registration fees but not tuition charges.

Students who withdraw from all their courses will incur prorated charges according to the Total Withdrawal Schedule. Students who register during the Registration or Late Registration periods incur academic and financial responsibility for their courses and must submit payment by the due date appearing on the bill. These students are liable for tuition charges and fees, unless they officially drop courses by the end of the add/drop period, in which case they are responsible for registration fees only. Withdrawal after the end of the add/drop period will result in the assessment of prorated tuition charges when the student withdraws from all classes within the refund period.

Students who have a prior outstanding balance and/or who have been late in making payments on their deferred payment schedule are subject to a hold on their registration. These students must satisfy their current balance and prepay the tuition/fees for the next term before they can be cleared to register for that term.

Students are required to complete their semester registration prior to the end of the semester add-drop deadline. Students may not attend any class unless they are officially registered for that class section for the semester.

In extraordinary circumstances, students may petition the Office of the Registrar in Bayley Hall for permission to register after the add-drop period. If authorization is granted, the student will be required to pay tuition, fees and a late fee of $250 before being allowed to register.

The University reserves the right to drop from classes any students who are in default of their payment arrangement. The University may also require students with a prior balance to prepay the tuition/fees for the semester prior to being allowed to register.

50 Academic Policies and Procedures

Schedule Changes

Adjustments to the semester schedule are permitted through the end of the add-drop period. For fall and spring semesters, the add drop period ends at midnight on the next occurring day of the week within which classes begin. For example, if the semester begins on Monday, then the add-drop period ends at midnight of the following Monday. This pattern is altered if the end date falls on a University holiday in which case the end of the period would be midnight on the next occurring business day. For summer courses, the add-drop period ends on the day of the second class meeting.

To add or drop a course, the student must login to Student Self Service to make the schedule change or submit a Schedule Adjustment to the Office of the Registrar in Bayley Hall by the add/drop deadline. When a student has properly dropped a course, the course is removed from the student's semester schedule.

Nonattendance does not constitute dropping a course. The only way a schedule may be adjusted is for the student to complete the add/drop procedure on-line or in person by the appropriate deadline.

In no case will a student be allowed to drop or add a course after the end of the add/drop period. No refund or credit is granted for any course that is not officially dropped by the appropriate deadline.

Semester Credit Load

Full-time, matriculated students may enroll for a maximum of 18 credits in any Fall or Spring semester. However, with the permission of the dean of the school/college, a student whose GPA in the preceding semester is 3.0 or higher may be allowed to take additional credits. Non-matriculated students may not register for more than 9 credits in any semester. Part-time student status involves a maximum of 11 credits in any semester. During Summer Session the credit load is one and one-half credits for each week of the particular session. Students may not complete more than 15 credits during Summer Session (inclusive of May, Summer I and Summer II). Students in the College of Arts and Sciences are restricted to a maximum of 3 credits in the May Session.

Undergraduate Grading System

Effective with the Fall 2004 semester, the University modified its grading policy to include minus grades. This change is not retroactive to any prior semester. The University uses the following letter grades on the undergraduate level to indicate the record of achievement in courses taken:

Letter Grade	Quality Point	Weight
A	Superior	4.00
A-		3.67
B+		3.33
B	Good	3.00
B-		2.67
C+		2.33
C	Satisfactory	2.00
C-		1.67
D+		1.33
D	Poor but Passing	1.00
F/Fail	Failure	0.00
P/Pass	Pass	0.00
PR	Pass with reservation (undergraduate field courses)	0.00
I	Incomplete	0.00
IW	Incomplete Withdrawal	0.00
AU	Audit	0.00
NR	No Record/Not Reported	0.00
WD	Withdrawal	0.00
FI	Failure-Unresolved Incomplete	0.00

Institutional Credit Courses Only:

SP	Satisfactory Performance	0.00
RR	Retake Required	0.00

The following are explanations and regulations that apply to certain grades:

I – Incomplete: This grade indicates non-completion of assignment(s) or failure to take the examination for a course. An Incomplete grade cannot be given when a student does not complete any course requirements or fails to attend class meetings. A student who receives an "I" grade may not attend class meetings in a future semester in order to make up outstanding requirements. Students must obtain written permission to receive an Incomplete by submitting a Course Adjustment Form to the professor before the officially scheduled final examination. The professor will indicate on this form the amount of time allowed for completion of this work, up to a maximum of 12 months or by the time the student has graduated (whichever comes first). If the missing course requirements are completed within this time period, the professor must submit a new Course Adjustment Form indicating the changed grade to the dean's office within 10 working days. Effective with Fall 2007 courses, if a grade of "I" is not resolved within the time allotted, this grade will be changed automatically and permanently to “FI” which is a failing grade. In extenuating circumstances a written request for a limited time extension to complete course requirements may be submitted in advance of the one-year deadline by the student to the professor and dean of the school/college in which the course was offered, with a copy to the Office of the Registrar for approval. The grade “I” is not counted in determining class standing, eligibility or grade point average. An unresolved “I” grade will count in the calculation of the grade point average when it changes to “FI” after the one-year period.

An “I” grade disqualifies a student from the Dean’s List. If the “I” grade is changed to a grade of “C” or higher, the student’s record will be reviewed for Dean’s List eligibility. Although a student’s GPA is not affected by an “I” grade, the fact that the student receives no credit for the course may impact academic eligibility and, as a consequence, the student’s eligibility for financial aid. An unresolved “I” grade may also impact the student’s eligibility for financial aid and academic standing when it changes to a failing grade, as an “FI” grade affects both the grade point average and the credit completion ratio.

IW – Incomplete Withdrawal: If, within 12 months or by graduation (whichever comes first), a grade of “NR” has not been resolved, it is automatically changed to “IW.” The grade “IW” indicates that the student has not satisfied, within the permissible time period, all outstanding requirements for the course in which an “NR” was received. An “IW” grade is not reversible; it does not count in determining class standing, eligibility or GPA. For courses taken prior to Fall 2007, a grade of “I” will also change to an “IW” if not resolved within 12 months.

WD – Withdrawal: Withdrawal from a class with written permission incurs no academic penalty. Withdrawal will be allowed up to the end of the fourth week of the semester without faculty or dean signature during Fall and Spring semesters. Students may request a course withdrawal by submitting a Course Adjustment Form to the Office of the Registrar. After the end of this initial period, course withdrawals will require the signature of the faculty member and dean. Under normal circumstances course withdrawal will be allowed only through the Friday of the eighth week of each semester. Withdrawal after that date will be allowed by the respective deans’ offices only under exceptional circumstances. The Summer Session schedule specifies withdrawal deadlines. A “WD” is not reversible; it is not counted in determining class standing, eligibility or GPA. A “WD” grade disqualifies a student from Dean’s List eligibility.

When a student receives a “WD” grade, the student’s grade point average is not affected. However, the fact that the student receives no credit for the course may affect the student’s academic eligibility, and, as a consequence, the student’s eligibility for Title IV financial aid.

P/F – Pass/Fail Option: This option is open to matriculated undergraduate students on a restricted basis. Students may opt for Pass/Fail grading in free electives for a maximum of 12 credits, with no more than 6 pass/fail credits in any 12-month period. To request the Pass/Fail Option on a course, students must file a Course Adjustment Form with the course instructor and the dean of the school/college in which they are matriculated. The deadline for Pass/Fail requests (and for their cancellation) is the end of the fifth week of class for Fall/Spring semesters and for summer, the first third of the course’s class meetings. The academic calendar for each semester specifies these deadline dates. Pass/Fail courses may not be taken in the department in which a student is majoring. A “P” (pass) grade is used in determining class standing and eligibility, but is excluded from the GPA. The “F” grade is factored into the GPA.

F – Failure: When a student receives an “F” grade in a course, no academic credit or quality points are awarded for that course. The student’s grade point average is, accordingly, negatively impacted by a failing grade. When a student fails a course for which the student has elected a pass/fail option, the “F” grade has the same statistical effect as in a regularly graded course.

When a student fails a course required in his or her program of study, the student must successfully repeat that course in order to establish degree eligibility. When a student fails a free elective, he or she is not required to make up the course. When the student successfully repeats the failed course at Seton Hall, the original “F” grade remains on the student’s transcript with the “repeated” designation, but is no longer factored into the student’s grade point average. In the event that a student fails a course for the second time, the most recent “F” grade is excluded from the grade percent average.

In general, students are not granted permission to retake, at another institution, a course failed at Seton Hall. If the student were to retake a failed course at another institution for transfer to Seton Hall, no statistical adjustment would be made. In this case, the “F” would continue to be calculated into the average. The student would earn credits, but no quality points, from the transferred course.

Poor academic performance can affect eligibility for financial aid and eligibility to participate in student activities. In general, it is recommended that students repeat courses that they have initially failed so that they may improve their GPA. Students on probation should consult with their advisers to determine how to improve their academic performance and raise their grade point averages.

An “F” is not counted in determining class standing, but it is counted in the GPA until the course is successfully repeated at Seton Hall. An “F” grade also is factored into determinations regarding academic eligibility.

AU – Audit Options (no credit): Students who register as auditors are expected to attend class regularly but are not obligated to take tests or comply with any other course requirements. The audit option is not allowed in computer, computer-based, laboratory, applied art, applied music, graphics, studio television, writing, physical education activity, independent study, thesis or dissertation, on-line or any off-campus courses. There are two audit options available.

52 Academic Policies and Procedures

Audit Declaration at Registration: Students who declare an audit option at the time of registration by filing an Audit Declaration are assessed tuition of $100 per credit plus fees. Audit Declaration is restricted to open courses at in-person registration sessions immediately prior to the beginning of a semester.

Students who file an Audit Declaration may not rescind that declaration and switch to credit status. Auditors who withdraw from a course for which they have filed an Audit Declaration will not receive any refund. Within the add/drop period, auditors may drop a course for which they have filed an Audit Declaration; they will receive a refund of tuition only, not fees.

Standard Audit Option: Students who wish to audit a class may submit this request on a Course Adjustment Form available from their adviser or from the Office of the Registrar. Auditors may enroll for any course for which they are qualified. They may be dropped from a course by the professor if their presence impedes normal class progress. They may not change from audit to credit or vice-versa after the fifth week of class or the first third of the course meetings in Summer Session. Regular tuition and fees are assessed for the standard audit option.

The designation of “AU” is noted on the transcript. An “AU” is not used in determining class standing, eligibility or GPA.

SP – Satisfactory Performance: Successful completion of an institutional credit course is indicated by an “SP” grade. Courses with “SP” grades are used to determine class standing and eligibility, but are not factored into the GPA and are not counted toward degree requirements since these courses are for institutional credit only.

RR – Retake Required: Student must retake institutional credit course. This grade is not factored into GPA but it does disqualify the student from eligibility for the Dean’s List.

PR – Pass with Reservation: Completion of a field education course with reservation is indicated by the “PR” grade.

Registration for Graduate Courses

Under specified conditions undergraduate students with a 3.0 GPA may take graduate courses in their senior year. Students must secure written permission in advance of their registration. Students may not take a graduate course on a pass/fail basis. Students pay graduate tuition for these courses, and they are graded according to graduate grading rules.

In cases where these courses count toward the undergraduate degree, they cannot later be applied to a graduate program.

Permission to take graduate courses does not constitute admission to a graduate program.

Withdrawal

Students who find it necessary to withdraw from any school/college of the University on a temporary or permanent basis should initiate the withdrawal process by completing the Request for Withdrawal and meeting with the Dean of Students and Community Development. This form, as well as other important information related to the withdrawal process, is available at <http://admin.shu.edu/enrollmentservices/withdrawalinfo.htm> The Office of Community Development will forward the withdrawal form to the Office of the Registrar. It is imperative that this notification be sent in writing as soon as possible after the decision to withdraw has been made.

When students file the Request for Withdrawal within the official withdrawal period, they will automatically receive “WD” grades in all their courses. If the request to withdraw is made after the eighth week of the semester, then the posting of “WD” grades is not automatic. In this case, the student must submit a Course Adjustment Form to each of his professors to request a “WD” grade. The only exception to this deadline is for documented cases of medical/health problems that preclude the student from completing the semester.

Students who withdraw for medical reasons must submit medical documentation with their withdrawal form to the Director of Disability Support Services. Students who are recipients of federal financial aid should consult with Student Financial Services in Bayley Hall prior to withdrawing to confirm what, if any, impact their withdrawal may have on their financial aid eligibility. Non-attendance does not constitute official withdrawal; students who seek to withdraw from their classes must complete the official withdrawal process.

Students who are activated for military service should contact the University Registrar for assistance. If the activation date occurs late in a semester, students may qualify for an Incomplete grade in some or all of their courses. In this case, students should file a Course Adjustment Form on which the faculty member will specify the work that must be completed to resolve the Incomplete. In the event that the military activation date falls early in the semester, the student may be dropped from any course which he/she cannot complete. In this case, tuition charges for any dropped courses will be removed from the student’s account.

Grade Point Average

To calculate weighted averages, quality points assigned to grades are multiplied by the number of credits assigned to the course in which the grade is received. For example, a grade of “B+” in a 2-credit course represents 6.66 quality points; a grade of “A” in a 3-credit course equals 12 quality points and so forth. The sum of the quality points that the student had earned is then divided by the sum of credits attempted, which are graded “A” through “F.” The resulting figure, when truncated to four decimal places, is then rounded by adding .0005 and truncating all but three digits to the right of the decimal.

Grade Reports

Effective Fall 2007, the University does not mail grade reports to students. Students will access their grades on-line through student self-service. Students who need written documentation of their grades should contact the Office of the Registrar for assistance.

Grade Change Policy

A request for a grade change must be made in writing to the instructor no later than four months from the date of the submission of the final grade in the course. Incompletes are not final grades and are governed by stated University policies. If the matter is not resolved in 10 class days from the submission of the request for change, the student has recourse to the University grievance policy.

After clearance for graduation, the student's academic record is finalized, and no grade changes may be authorized. Graduating students who have a pending grade appeal must advise the University Registrar in writing of this fact.

Repeated Courses

A student may repeat a course in order to earn a higher grade. The student must repeat the course at Seton Hall; no statistical adjustment is made when a student repeats a course at another institution. A student may not repeat at another institution a course for which the student has already earned credit at Seton Hall. When a course taken at Seton Hall is repeated at Seton Hall, only the higher grade is used in the calculation of the GPA. In this case, the lower grade will remain on the transcript marked "E" to denote its exclusion from GPA calculation. Credit (if any) attached to the lower grade is rescinded; only the credit attached to the higher grade is applied to the student's record. This statistical adjustment will be made only when the student repeats the exact course with the identical course number.

If a student receives the same grade in the course when it is repeated, the more recent grade will be removed from the student's record. If a student receives a lower grade when the course is repeated, the higher grade will remain applied to the student's record. The lower grade will be reflected on the student's transcript, but will not be calculated into the student's GPA.

Students should inform their advisers if they are repeating a course for a better grade. While there is no limit to the number of times a student may repeat a course, excessive repeated courses may have an impact on satisfactory academic progress requirements.

Students may not repeat a course to improve their GPA after they have graduated.

Honors

Dean's List

After the close of every semester, the deans of the schools/colleges publish on the Dean's List the names of full-time students who have done outstanding work during the semester. Undergraduate students completing all courses with a GPA of 3.4, with no grades lower than "C," qualify for the Dean's List. In order to be eligible for the Dean's List, students must be enrolled for a minimum of 12 undergraduate credits. Students who receive a grade of "I," "WD," "NR," "RR" or "IW" in a semester are disqualified from Dean's List eligibility for that semester. Students who are ungraded in a course are ineligible for Dean's List consideration until such time as they are fully graded.

Graduation Honors

Honors citations are awarded in connection with the granting of the bachelor's degree. Honors awards are computed on the basis of all Seton Hall credits earned by the student through the semester in which the degree is granted. The Office of the Registrar determines eligibility for graduation honors. In computing these honors the grade point system is used. Honors are awarded only to students who meet the following GPA requirements and have a minimum of 60 earned Seton Hall credits:

Cum Laude (with honors)	3.395-3.594
Magna Cum Laude (with high honors)	3.595-3.894
Summa Cum Laude (with highest honors)	3.895-4.000

Transfer Student Honors

Transfer students are awarded honors only on the basis of course work taken at Seton Hall; transfer students must complete a minimum of 60 credits in residence by graduation in order to qualify for graduation honors.

Full-Time Student Probation Policy

Standards

A full-time undergraduate student is one who is registered for a minimum of 12 credits in the Fall or Spring semester. A student enrolled in a department-approved program in which fewer than 12 credits is the recommended full-time credit load is considered a full-time equivalent student.

Full-time undergraduate students are required to:

- complete successfully at least 24 credits in each 12 months of full-time registration; and
- have a cumulative GPA of at least 1.75 for freshmen, 1.90 for sophomores, and 2.00 for juniors and seniors.

Eligibility

Students who were registered for the previous two semesters as full-time students, but have not successfully completed 24 credits in the previous 12 months, are not eligible:

- for student employment;
- to participate in recognized student activities, including varsity athletics; and
- to hold office in recognized student organizations.

The dean of the student's school/college may waive any or all of these ineligibilities if the student's failure to complete the 24 credits in the previous 12 months was due to medical conditions, family emergencies or other similar circumstances beyond the student's control. The dean's waiver is to be accompanied by a signed written agreement between the student and the dean outlining the course of action to be taken by the student to remedy the deficiency.

Warning

A student who meets the cumulative GPA criterion but whose GPA for any one semester falls below 1.75 (if a freshman), 1.90 (if a sophomore) or 2.00 (if a junior or senior) shall receive a letter of warning from the dean of his or her school/college, reminding the student of the criteria for probation.

Probation

Students whose cumulative GPAs do not meet the minimum requirement are automatically placed on probation for the current semester. Probation is a disciplinary period during which the student is afforded the opportunity to raise his or her cumulative GPA to meet the minimum requirement.

As soon as the respective dean is informed of the failure of a student to maintain the minimum GPA, the dean must inform the student by letter that he or she is on probation and remind the student of the minimum requirements. The dean must require the student to meet with the dean and with the student's department chair or representatives.

Students on probation are permitted to enroll on a full or part-time basis. Their course loads may be restricted by the dean.

If a student is placed on probation for a second consecutive semester, the dean must conduct a suspension/dismissal review, and the student is ineligible:

- for student employment;
- to participate in recognized student activities, including varsity athletics; and
- to hold office in recognized student organizations.

The dean may waive any or all of these ineligibilities if the student's failure to maintain the required minimum GPA was due to medical conditions, family emergencies or other similar circumstances beyond the student's control. The dean's waiver is to be accompanied by a signed written agreement between the student and the dean outlining the course of action to be taken by the student to remedy the deficiency.

The dean shall review the student's progress with the student's department chair and with the student, and also may consult with other appropriate persons. The resulting decision must be communicated to the student in writing by the dean. Normally, the review will allow no more than one additional semester for the student to improve his or her performance.

If a student's performance is not satisfactory after the period of extension, suspension or expulsion is automatic unless the dean grants an additional extension in writing.

Dismissal constitutes permanent removal from the University. Suspension constitutes removal from the University for a stipulated period of time. Dismissal and suspension are judgments based on the student's unsatisfactory academic process. Dismissed and suspended students are not in good standing with the University and are not eligible for financial aid.

The Office of the Registrar shall distribute lists of students placed on probation or in default of the 24-credit requirement to the deans, department chairs, faculty representative for athletics and vice president for Student Affairs. The dean shall notify these officials and Enrollment Services of any waivers, extensions, suspensions or dismissals. In areas under their jurisdiction, these officials must assure that students do not participate in activities or organizations or employment for which they are ineligible under this policy.

Part-Time Student Probation Policy

Standards

A part-time undergraduate student is one who is registered for fewer than 12 credits in the Fall or Spring Semester.

Part-time undergraduate students are required to have a cumulative GPA of at least 1.75 for freshmen, 1.90 for sophomores, and 2.00 for juniors and seniors. Part-time students who were enrolled for the previous two semesters must complete a minimum of 6 credits in the previous 12 months.

Eligibility

Part-time students who meet the above standards are eligible to:

- participate in student activities which allow for part-time involvement;
- hold office in student organizations, the constitutions of which specifically provide for such office holding; and
- receive Title IV federal aid for which part-time students may qualify and for which the student may otherwise be eligible.

The dean of the student's school/college may waive the 6-credit per year requirement if the student's failure to complete the required credits within the stipulated time frame was due to medical conditions, family emergencies, employment factors or other similar circumstances beyond the student's control.

Unsatisfactory academic progress by part-time students can affect eligibility for financial aid.

Probation

Part-time undergraduate students whose cumulative GPAs do not meet the minimum requirements are automatically placed on probation.

As soon as the respective dean is informed of the failure of a student to maintain the minimum GPA, the dean must inform the student by letter that he or she is on probation and remind the student of the minimum requirements. The dean must require the student to meet with the dean and the student's department chair or representatives. Part-time students on probation are subject to the rules and procedures outlined above for full-time students.

A part-time student who meets the cumulative GPA criterion, but whose GPA for any one semester falls below the applicable minimum, shall receive a letter of warning from the dean of his or her college, reminding the student of the criteria for probation.

Appeals

A student who believes that a decision made in his or her regard has been procedurally incorrect, or has otherwise violated his or her rights, may appeal the dean's decision to the provost, according to the established University grievance procedures. Details appear in the Student Handbook, which is located on the Student Affairs Web site at studentaffairs.shu.edu

Student Academic Records

Access and Privacy

The University provides all present and former students with the right of access to inspect and review by appointment any and all educational records, files and data that relate directly to them. Students also are afforded the opportunity to challenge these records.

All educational records are considered confidential. Their release is regulated by University policy in keeping with the provisions of Public Law 93-380, Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, as amended. The University policy is fully detailed in the Student Handbook available on the Student Affairs Web site at studentaffairs.shu.edu

Students who wish to inspect information or records may do so by requesting a Right of Access form from the office or department in which a specific record is kept, and filing it with that office. Right of Access forms also are available in the Office of the Registrar. Within 10 days of receipt of the Right of Access form, the office or department will notify the student about the date, time and location where the record will be available for inspection. The Office of the Registrar answers all questions relating to right of access.

Transcripts

Transcript requests should be filed well in advance of any deadline. Normal processing time for transcripts ranges from three days to three weeks during peak demand periods at the end of each semester.

To send a transcript, the student must file a Transcript Request or alternate signed written request with the Transcript Office. Students may also request a transcript on-line via student self-service. Telephone and e-mail requests cannot be honored. The first five copies per year are free; a transcript fee of $3 per copy is assessed thereafter. The mailing address for transcript requests is Seton Hall University, Transcript Office, 400 South Orange Avenue, South Orange, NJ 07079-2689.

Transcripts for active students may be ordered via Student Self Service within PirateNet, the University portal. Information about this option, including the procedure for tracking online transcript requests and applicable charges, is available on the site.

Only student (unofficial) transcripts are released to students. Upon written request of the student, official transcripts may be sent directly to third parties, including colleges, employers, etc.

The University reserves the right to withhold transcript services from students who have an outstanding financial obligation to the University.

Course Information

Course Numbering System

The course identification number includes a four-character subject field and a four-digit course number; for example, ENGL 1201, College English I.

The following guide was used to develop the course numbers:

Significance of first digit

- 0 Noncredit or institutional credit.
- 1 Freshman-level course; no prerequisites, except for the first part of a two-semester course.
- 2 Second-level course, with at least one one-level prerequisite.
- 3 Third-level course, with at least one two-level prerequisite.
- 4 Fourth-level course, with at least one three-level prerequisite.
- 5 Senior seminars and similar capstone undergraduate courses.
- 6 First-level graduate courses.
- 7 Second-level graduate courses, with at least one six-level prerequisite.
- 8 Third-level graduate courses, with at least one seven-level prerequisite.
- 9 Fourth-level graduate courses.

Significance of second digit

May indicate sub-discipline within a subject area.

Significance of third and fourth digits

May indicate course order or corequisite, etc.

Caution: The course number is intended as a guide only.

Prerequisites must still be checked with the University catalogue and faculty advisers.

Course Offerings

Not every course listed in University catalogues is offered each semester. Students can view the course schedule on-line within student self-service. The University reserves the right to cancel any course for which registration is insufficient, change the time and place of any course offered, and change the professor assigned to teach the course.

Each course section for a term is assigned a unique course registration number (CRN) for use in on-line registration. Students should make note of the CRNs of the courses to facilitate on-line registration.

Independent Study

Several schools and departments of the University offer opportunities for independent study. Application forms and regulations for independent study may be obtained from the department chairs. Students may not register for any independent study course without the prior written permission of the department chair.

Name and Address Changes

Changes in personal data, including changes of name, address, next of kin and expected graduation date, should be reported in writing to the Office of the Registrar on a priority basis. Requests for changes in first or last name require accompanying official documentation (e.g., marriage certificate or court order). Graduating students must file name change requests by April 1 preceding the May commencement date. Name changes will not be made after a student has graduated. Similarly, student identification numbers are not changed after graduation.

The University uses official names on all records in compliance with federal guidelines and University identity management policies.

Students may update their personal information, including address, telephone, personal email, emergency contact on-line within student self-service.

Personal Identification Number (PIN)

Each student is assigned a PIN each semester for use in on-line registration. Students should keep their PIN confidential. Students should contact their adviser if they lose or forget their PIN.

Seton Hall Student Identification Number (SHU ID)

Upon admission to the University, every student is assigned an 8-digit student identification number. Students should use this number to access on-line student services and for general identification purposes.

The Department of Housing and Residence Life provides a living, learning environment that fosters the academic and personal experience for residents, and helps them prepare for the rest of their lives.

Seton Hall is "home" to approximately 2,200 students - nearly 50 percent of the undergraduate population. There are six on-campus traditional residence halls for undergraduate students and two apartment buildings, located in South Orange, for upperclassmen.

Seton Hall University and the Department of Housing and Residence Life are dedicated to meeting the needs of all residential students. The residence halls provide a rich variety of lifestyle options, including a Sophomore Discovery Program, Honors and Servant Leader Hall for upperclassmen and academic based living learning clusters within each first year residence hall. In addition, residents are encouraged to be part of the decision-making process by participating in hall council and Resident Student Association (RSA).

All residence hall rooms are smoke-free environments and are furnished with twin beds, dressers, desks and wardrobe/closets. Additionally, each room is technologically ready with high-speed data connections in both wired and wireless connections. All rooms are air conditioned and have cable television service, as well as free on campus phone service with off campus calling through individualized student billing. All resident students have full access to SHUFLY, the campus shuttle service, as part of their room and board fees. Laundry and lounge facilities are available in each hall.

The department employs a diverse and experienced staff of professionals who work together to facilitate the personal growth of each resident student. The staff's goal is to create a strong community that encourages student involvement. The director of housing and residence life is responsible for overall management of all activities, administrative processes and supervision of all staff. One associate director is responsible for residential education, staff supervision and programming. Three assistant directors are responsible for the first-year residential experience, training and development and summer conferences. The assistant director for housing services coordinates student room assignments and other business functions.

In addition, each residence hall and apartment building has its own staff. Six residence hall directors and six residence coordinators are responsible for all the activities and staff in a particular building or area. They are assisted by resident assistants (RAs) and tutors in residence (TIR). RAs are undergraduate students assigned to each wing or floor in the residence halls and apartments. RAs are programmers, mediators, policy enforcers and advisers for residents. TIRs are undergraduate students in designated majors who conduct programs aimed at promoting academic success in the first year residence halls.

GPA Requirement for On-Campus Living

Beginning with the incoming class for Fall 2000, (and subsequent implementation for all returning students) residents will be required to maintain at least a 1.8 overall GPA to reside in campus housing. A student may file an application for an exception to this minimum GPA requirement. If granted, the student can expect conditional residence focused on ensuring academic success and progress.

Priests in the Residence Halls

Priests of the University community live in the residence halls. The role of priests living in the halls is pastoral. They offer opportunities for spiritual growth, counseling, prayer, and Eucharistic Mass, room blessings, individual/prayer group and other celebrations.

Dining on Campus

Bishop Dougherty University Center, (973) 761-9559

Hours: Monday-Sunday, 7 a.m.-1 a.m.

The Galleon Room is located in the lower level of the Bishop Dougherty University Center. It is open from 7 a.m.-1 a.m., seven days a week when the University is in regular session. The Galleon Room is divided into two sections, the Galleon Food Court and the Pirate Dining Room. The Galleon Food Court accepts Pirate Dollars, Pirate's Gold, and cash. This section of the room allows students to purchase food on an "a la carte" basis from different stations in a food court setting (hours are listed below). The Pirate Dining Room is designed for traditional style dining and uses the meal per week portion of the meal plan, cash or Pirate's Gold to access the area. Once inside the student has the choice of several buffet selections with unlimited returns. Below are the hours of operation for both areas.

Pirate Dining Room

Monday - Thursday 8 a.m. – 11 p.m.
Friday 8 a.m. – 3 p.m.

The Pirate's Cove, the University coffeehouse, is located on the first level of the University Center. The Pirate's Cove offers a wide range of Starbucks coffees, teas, smoothies, soda, specialty sandwiches and desserts in a relaxing coffeehouse atmosphere. It is open Monday - Thursday 8 a.m. - 11 p.m., Friday 8 a.m. - 3 p.m., and closed on Saturday and on Sunday when the University is in regular session.

Seton Hall University's Meal Plan Program allows students to select one of six options. Once purchased, the student's ID card will have a set number of meals per week plus Pirate Dollars that can be used to purchase products from the Galleon Food Court and Pirate's Cove, or to enter the Pirate Dining Room. In the Pirate Dining Room portion of the meal program, students will have one meal deducted every time they enter. Once in the Pirate Dining Room, students are allowed to eat whatever they choose with unlimited returns. Each student's number of meals will be reset according to his or her meal plan every Monday morning unless on the Block Plan. A display at the register shows the amount being charged and the balance of meals or points remaining. Additionally, there is a plan specially designed for commuters only which allows them access to the benefits of a meal plan. Plans are active during the entire Fall and Spring semesters, however, they are not active during breaks or summer. Meals remaining at the end of each week throughout the semester are not refundable.

Information concerning current Resident Meal Plans can be found at <http://studentaffairs.shu.edu/housing/mealplans0405.htm> or by calling (973) 761 9559.

Seton Hall University provides 24-hour security services throughout the campus. The Department of Public Safety and Security offers, for the personal safety of the University community, an escort service to anywhere on campus when requested to do so. Call ext. 9300 for this service; or, from a cellular telephone, call (973) 761-9300. Report a crime online at studentaffairs.shu.edu/security. More information about the Department of Public Safety and Security can be obtained by calling (973) 761-9328.

Parking Services

Seton Hall University offers limited parking for commuting students and senior residents. Exceptions are made for other resident students in curriculum-related employment, such as coop programs, internships, student teaching and clinical assignments. A.D.A. approved accessible parking spaces are located throughout the campus in proximity to academic buildings. The use of these spaces is strictly enforced.

Students (including those studying part-time) must obtain a parking decal to park on campus. Detailed information about parking is available through the Parking Services Office, Duffy Hall, (973) 761-9329, 8 a.m. - 5:45 p.m. (Monday-Thursday), 8 a.m. - 4:45 p.m. (Friday), or send an email to parking.shu.edu

SHUFLY

SHUFLY operates seven days a week, and is a safe and convenient way for all Seton Hall University community members to travel in and around the Village of South Orange as well as weekend trips to the Livingston Mall. Those wishing to use SHUFLY pay using Pirate's Gold. The cost to use the SHUFLY is included in the housing fees of all resident students. All other University members will continue to pay for SHUFLY through their Pirate's Gold account. Optional monthly and semester unlimited ride plans are offered for frequent SHUFLY riders who are not resident students.

Campus ID Office

Director: Mary V. Goff, B.A.

Identification Cards/Card Access

The Campus ID Office provides identification cards to University students, faculty and staff. The card is utilized for identification, access, meal plans, Pirate Dollars and Pirate Gold. All members of the University community must present a University identification card upon request to any University official, representative or campus security officer. Identification cards must be presented at residence halls, the Recreation Center, the computer center and Walsh Library. It is also used for access into many academic buildings and labs.

Pirate's Gold

Pirate's Gold acts as a debit card that is part of the ID card program. Seton Hall cardholders can add money to their cards to be used at various locations on and off campus. These locations are the bookstore, dining facilities, convenient printer stations, residence hall laundries and vending, as well as any participating merchant in the Township of South Orange Village.

The uses and locations for the ID card to be utilized are expanding. Town Hall Deli, Cluck U, Village Pizzeria, Pizza Hut, Eden Gourmet and others are some off campus merchants that accept Pirate's Gold. You may visit the Campus ID Office Web site at studentaffairs.shu.edu/campusid/index.html

Campus Ministry

Director: Reverend James F. Spera, M.Div., M.A.

South Boland Hall, (973) 761-9545

Hours: Monday-Friday, 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

E-mail: sperajam@shu.edu

admin.shu.edu/campusmn

Campus Ministry provides a pastoral presence on campus and seeks to evangelize and empower all by the prompting of the Holy Spirit, to become dedicated members of God's family. Campus Ministry seeks to bring to higher education the Church's general mission; namely, to preach the Gospel of Jesus Christ, by creating an environment that allows for spiritual, moral, liturgical, and sacramental development, as well as intellectual, social and physical nurturing. Campus Ministry staff helps guide the maturing Christian conscience, educate for peace and justice, and develop future Christian leaders.

The activities listed below are open to participants of all faiths. The Campus Ministry staff also will direct any member of the University community to local congregations that will foster individual spiritual development. An Interfaith Directory, which includes addresses and telephone numbers of houses of worship in the area, is available through Campus Ministry.

Worship

Sunday Mass is celebrated at 10 a.m., 6 p.m., 8 p.m. and 10 p.m. Daily Mass is offered Monday-Thursday at 8 a.m., noon and 5 p.m., and on Fridays at 8 a.m. and noon in the Immaculate Conception Chapel. Confession is available Monday-Friday at 11:30 a.m. and Wednesday at 11 p.m. and by appointment; Penance Services are celebrated in preparation for Holy Days.

Lay Ministry is an important element of Catholic worship. To enhance the celebration of the Liturgy, anyone interested in serving as a liturgical minister (lector, music minister, Eucharistic minister or greeter) will be trained and mandated.

Morning Prayer is offered Monday-Friday in the Immaculate Conception Chapel at 7:30 a.m.

Additionally, Campus Ministry enriches the academic year by celebrating the University's religious heritage in traditions of:

- Mass of the Holy Spirit in September
- Eucharistic Days
- A Christmas Tree Lighting and blessing of the manger
- Lenten liturgies
- Baccalaureate liturgical celebrations

There also are liturgies specially arranged for student groups. Chapels in Boland and Xavier residence halls complement the Main Chapel and are available for private prayer, evening Mass, and specially scheduled events. All are open daily. Arrangements for Masses, baptisms and weddings may be made through the Campus Ministry office.

Catechetics

The Rite of Christian Initiation for Adults (RCIA) is a process that directs the full formation of students into the Catholic Church. Students learn to understand the teaching, worship, formation and community that comprise the Church. It is also a catechetical program for baptized Catholics who desire full membership in the Catholic Church through the sacraments of Confirmation and the Eucharist. Bible Study groups meet weekly in the Campus Ministry Lounge to promote a Catholic approach to the study of the Old and New Testament.

Spiritual Renewal

Retreat experiences are offered each semester, both on and off campus. Campus Ministry also provides a small-group environment, known as Small Christian Communities, where formation of Christian life is nurtured through friendship, reflection and social action.

Campus Ministry also assists any person who seeks spiritual direction, vocation discernment or crisis counseling. For more information, call (973) 761-9545.

FOCUS (Fellowship of Catholic University Students) is present on Seton Hall University's campus as a resource for students desiring to learn more about their faith and how to apply it to every facet of their lives. Through FOCUS, Bible studies are available on campus for all students, as well as other various activities and opportunities. For more information, e-mail FOCUS@shu.edu

Social Awareness

The Division of Volunteer Efforts (DOVE) responds to an ongoing call for social justice by direct involvement in serving others. This service stems from a desire to affirm the dignity of all people, and to live as Christ taught by putting faith into action. The pro-life student organization Seton Hall United for Life (SHUFL) hosts continuous pro-life awareness activities.

PIRATENET - Click on Career Center Resources in My Organization Memberships

The Career Center supports students in their career development and post-graduation pursuits. All students are assigned a career professional who provides career guidance and assistance in declaring an academic major, preparing for career-based experiential education or full-time professional positions and/or pursuing graduate school.

Experiential Education

Experiential Education at Seton Hall University is an educational strategy that makes active learning relevant for students in and beyond the classroom. Career-based programs include: internships, field experiences, practica, clinicals and student teaching. Service-based experiences involve service learning, service-related research projects and volunteer experiences. Leadership programs such as being a peer mentor, resident assistant or tutor and holding a leadership position within a student club/organization provide invaluable opportunities for students to become part of the Seton Hall community and develop leadership and teamwork skills that are highly sought by hiring employers.

The common element of these programs is that all provide the opportunity to combine classroom learning with “hands-on” learning in either a career, service or leadership experience.

Career-based Experiential Education

The Career Center supports students’ preparation for all career-based Experiential Education programs. All Internship programs are monitored by a Career Center professional in partnership with the academic department.

Internships

Seton Hall’s Internship program integrates substantive work experience with intentional learning and academic goals. All Internships are approved and monitored. Career Center professionals work closely with employers to ensure that students have a meaningful learning and work experience. Students are asked to reflect on what was learned during the Internship.

Internship experiences help students to focus career choices, hone professional skills, clarify work values and gain confidence in their post-graduation pursuits. Students can work 15-40 hours per week and earn money to offset educational expenses. Internships can be paid or non-paid and credit bearing or non-credit bearing. More than fifty percent of those graduating seniors who had participated in an Internship indicated that they received a full-time professional offer from their intern employer.

To be eligible to participate in an Internship, students must have declared an academic major and be in good academic standing at the University. Students who elect to earn academic credit for their Internship experience must obtain approval from a faculty advisor. Faculty advisors approve the work experience for academic credit, help students articulate learning objectives and evaluate and grade the academic component of the experience. Academic departments may have additional requirements for credit-bearing internships.

Students not interested in obtaining academic credit for the experience will work closely with a career professional from The Career Center. A prerequisite of sophomore standing (30 credits) is recommended. Students interested in obtaining an Internship, should make an appointment with a professional at The Career Center and review the Internship Tutorial in their Career Center Resources module in My Organization Memberships in PIRATENET.

Career Counseling and Assessment

National trends indicate that more than seventy percent of college students will change their academic major at least once. The Career Center’s career assessments, such as the Strong Interest Inventory, FOCUS and Myers-Briggs Type Indicator (MBTI), offer students insights into how one’s interests, personality, values and motivations impact academic and lifelong career goals and decisions.

Vocation and Career Workshops

Each year, more than 2500 students and alumni attend The Career Center’s workshops and career events. Career education seminars and hands-on workshops assist students with seeing their lives as a vocation/calling, resume and cover letter writing, interviewing techniques, developing portfolios or preparing personal/career statements, career search and networking strategies, and graduate school preparation.

Employer/Alumni Networking Events

The Career Center has forged strong partnerships with hiring employer organizations that specifically recruit Seton Hall students and alumni. Each year, hundreds of organizations attend on-campus career networking events, and/or recruit students and alumni for internship and full-time professional opportunities. Employers and alumni serve as career mentors and participate in networking events throughout the year to identify talent for their organizations.

Career events target specific industry areas and include: the Communications Networking Forum, Careers in Business Networking Event, the annual Career Fair, the Education and Healthcare Professions Career Fair, a Science Networking Forum, and the Public Service and Nonprofit Career Fair. Through collaboration with colleges/universities of the Big East Conference, an annual Big East Career Fair and eFair are also available to Seton Hall students and alumni.

eCareer Resources

The Career Center’s Navigator system provides access to employment postings (e.g. internships, part-time jobs and full-time professional employment opportunities). Navigator is a web-based job posting board for internship and full-time professional opportunities. Navigator also offers e-Resume books and the opportunity for students to network with alumni through the Pirate Mentoring Program. All students must register and construct a resume online with The Career Center.

Career Center Resources within the My Organization Memberships of PIRATENET offers additional career tools and services such as Optimal Resources which includes a resume writing tool, interview videos and tutorials and a portfolio development system. Additional web based resources include Vault and Internships.com.

Alumni

The Career Center provides career transition guidance to alumni and invites their involvement in professional networking events. As a member of the Seton Hall University community, alumni stay involved by serving as industry experts at various career forums and recruiting students for internships and full-time professional employment opportunities. The Pirate Mentoring Program also offers alumni an opportunity to stay connected to students and fellow alumni by serving as career mentors.

Department of Athletics and Recreational Services

Richie Regan Recreation and Athletic Center, Second Floor
(973) 761-9498

Hours: Monday-Friday, 8:45 a.m.-6 p.m.

E-mail: athletics@shu.edu

athletics.shu.edu or www.shupirates.com

Mission Statement

The mission of the Department of Athletics and Recreational Services is to ensure that the intercollegiate athletics and recreational programs represent and reflect the mission and goals of the University. By providing quality opportunities and programs that reflect high academic, moral and athletic standards, Seton Hall University enables all student-athletes to maximize their personal potential.

The department is committed to ethnic, racial, cultural and gender diversity along with attention to inclusion of the physically challenged. By providing challenging recreational opportunities and quality facilities for all members of the Seton Hall community, the Department of Athletics and Recreational Services seeks to create a sense of community spirit and pride among all constituents: students, faculty, staff, administrators and alumni.

The department believes in providing community experiences and opportunities for the development of leadership and personal life skills and career growth.

Athletics

The Department of Athletics and Recreational Services organizes, manages and promotes all intercollegiate and recreational sports activities at Seton Hall University, with the objective of enriching the educational experience of every involved student. On an intercollegiate level, the University competes in 17 sports, with approximately 250 student-athletes participating. Seton Hall is a charter member of the prestigious BIG EAST Conference, and competes on the NCAA Division I level in all sports.

Pirate athletics has enjoyed a rich tradition. In recent years, the men's basketball team has advanced to the championship game of the NCAA Tournament in 1989, the "Sweet Sixteen" in 2000 and won three BIG EAST titles during the 1990s. The women's basketball team competed in the NCAA Tournament in 1994 and 1995, advancing to the "Sweet Sixteen" in 1994. The baseball, golf, men's and women's track, men's soccer, softball and volleyball teams all have won BIG EAST titles. Student-athletes from the track, swimming and tennis programs have earned BIG EAST individual titles and have excelled at the national level.

Seton Hall student-athletes have been recognized for their athletic and academic achievements by being named to All-America, Academic All-America and All-BIG EAST Academic teams. Several athletes have been awarded post-graduate scholarships for their outstanding academic and athletic accomplishments. Most recently, Seton Hall's first Rhodes Scholarship was awarded to a former student-athlete. Seton Hall also has had a substantial impact in international competition. The University has been well-represented in recent Olympic Games, and coaches and athletes from the University participated in the 1992, 1996 and 2000 Summer Games.

Recreational Services

The University's Recreational Services Program promotes health and wellness and encourages wise use of leisure time. It provides extensive programmed activities developed to complement the many "open-recreation" opportunities provided by the Recreation Center.

The intramural program is open to all students, and offers recreational and leisure sports activities such as leagues, tournaments and special events. Students can participate in flag football, basketball, volleyball, softball, soccer, tennis, hockey, road races and more.

Club sports at Seton Hall are available to students interested in a higher level of competition than intramurals in a sport not offered on the intercollegiate level. Clubs are organized, financed and run by the students with administrative assistance provided by Recreational Services. Current club sports include ice hockey, rugby, and volleyball.

The offices of the Department of Athletics and Recreational Services are located in the Richie Regan Recreation and Athletic Center. Information about athletic programs may be obtained by calling (973) 761-9497. For information concerning intramurals, club sports or Recreation Center memberships, call (973) 761-9722.

Recreation Center Hours (during the Regular Session):

Sunday	10 a.m.-10 p.m.
Monday - Thursday	7 a.m.-10 p.m.
Friday	7 a.m.-9 p.m.
Saturday	10 a.m.-8 p.m.

Department of Community Development

(973) 761-9076

Hours: Monday-Friday, 8:45 a.m.-4:45 p.m.

E-mail: vannorka@shu.edu

studentaffairs.shu.edu/community

The Department of Community Development partners with students to develop and promote opportunities that celebrate unity. The department provides educational, social and leadership opportunities for all members of the Seton Hall University community, and encourages all students to create and take responsibility for the community in which they live. The department motivates and empowers students to succeed today and in the future. For more information, call (973) 761-9076.

Community Standards

Seton Hall seeks to create a community, through community standards, where rights and mutual responsibilities are both recognized and valued, where truth and Christian ideals are sought and lived. The University seeks to foster an environment of mutual respect and dignity for each member of its community of scholars and learners, and expects each person to take seriously his or her role in establishing such an environment.

Human Relations

Seton Hall believes that successful human relations are central to the University mission and identity as a Catholic university. The University views human relations as successful personal and professional interactions that foster respect and understanding for individuals and groups. The department continues to demonstrate leadership by assuring that the University's multicultural community and the interdependent nature of today's global world are reflected in the curriculum, programs and campus environment. These educational and social experiences provide students with appreciation of the present world in the larger context of human history.

Leadership Development

The department provides a student-focused environment that enhances creative expression, motivates students and organizations to achieve in goals for individuals and groups, and enhances interpersonal connections with others. The department fosters collaboration among campus departments and student organizations toward the goal of presenting a comprehensive campus life program that facilitates social, educational, spiritual, cultural, cognitive and ethical development.

Student Government Association (SGA)

The Student Government Association is made up of the legislative (senate) and executive branches. Both branches are responsible for representing students, providing educational programs and allocating monies to clubs. Elected representatives from the schools/colleges and departments of the University make up the Student Senate. Student senators are elected to the University Senate, which addresses all legislative matters pertinent to the University. The executive branch is responsible for managing the student government and its organizations.

Commuter Council

The Commuter Council was established to assist in the development and implementation of a program of social and academic activities to promote the welfare and interests of commuter students. All commuters are urged to become involved in the co-curricular activities sponsored by the council to enhance their academic and personal growth.

Student Activities Board (SAB)

The Student Activities Board is the central programming body that plans all activities on campus. Through its various committees, the board provides a variety of low-cost programs. Events, such as films, lectures, travel, recreation, special events, comedy, concerts and coffeehouses are sponsored by the SAB and organized through committees.

Student Organizations

Over 100 student club and organizations and more than 25 fraternities and sororities are recognized by the University. All of these groups are student-led and determined by student interest and activity. Details on each organization and its leadership are available on the Campus Life section of the University's web site.

Crisis Services

In the event of a personal crisis, students may contact Counseling Services directly; seek assistance from a University official, such as a residence hall director, faculty member or dean; or call the Department of Public Safety and Security at (973) 761-9300 or 911 on campus. After hours, for health emergencies the 911 system activates an immediate response by EMTs, local police, the Department of Public Safety and Security. Counseling professionals can be paged by the Department of Public Safety and Security to assist with urgent psychological crises at any time.

Therapeutic Services

Psychological services are available to all matriculated undergraduate, graduate, seminary and law students. Services offered include but are not limited to the following: Short-Term Individual Counseling, Group Counseling, Crisis Intervention, Psychiatric consultation, Psychological evaluation and assessment, and Sexual assault/trauma survivor support services. Referrals for longer term treatment in the larger community are also provided. The office is open from 8:45 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday; evening hours and early morning hours are available by appointment. To make an appointment, call (973) 761-9500 or come to Counseling Services on the second floor of Mooney Hall. Usually students will have their first appointment within a few days of when they call or come in. Students in crisis are seen immediately. After the initial interview, regular appointments can be conveniently scheduled. All services are free and strictly confidential.

Student Development and Personal Growth Programs

Workshops, educational programs and skill development training are offered on topics such as stress management, coping with loss, test anxiety, procrastination, assertiveness, prevention of relationship violence, multicultural competencies and substance abuse education. Students may participate with other students in a support group with a focus on specific concerns, such as addiction recovery, adult children of alcoholics (ACOA), social skills development, adult incest survivors, and eating and food concerns. On-line mental health screenings are available through our website. Also available through our website is a variety of information and helpful tools and tips about a number of mental health related issues.

The Health Services staff assists students in achieving and maintaining optimal health. The staff of nurses, physicians and Advanced Practice Nurses provides primary medical care emphasizing health education.

The office provides a full range of primary care services, including assessment and treatment of acute illness, laboratory tests, routine gynecological care, allergy injections, confidential HIV testing, treatment for accidents and sports injuries, men's and women's health care, immunizations and care for chronic disease (e.g., asthma). Commonly prescribed medicines are available at low cost. Referrals to off-campus specialists are available as necessary. Health Services collaborates with the College of Nursing to provide training opportunities for Advanced Practice Nurse graduate students.

In the event of a health emergency after-hours, the 911 system activates an immediate emergency response.

Required Health Records and Immunizations

Health Services complies with New Jersey laws, the recommendations of the Centers for Disease Control and University policy by requiring all matriculated students to meet specified health requirements as noted on the appropriate health form. The Health Forms are accessed via the department website. All students must download and return this completed form. Failure to complete the form will result in a registration hold.

Mandatory Health Insurance

In compliance with New Jersey law, all full-time students must carry health insurance. Full-time students who do not submit an electronic waiver form (located on the Health Services website) about alternative coverage will be automatically enrolled in health insurance through the University. For information on the University-sponsored Student Health Insurance Plan, contact Student Health Services at (973) 761-9175 or review information on our website.

WSOU is the No.1 college radio station in the New York metro area. WSOU's signal on 89.5 FM reaches New Jersey's most populous counties of Bergen, Essex, Hudson, Middlesex and Union, the five boroughs of New York City and parts of Westchester, Rockland, Passaic, Morris, Somerset and Monmouth counties. Each week, WSOU reaches tens of thousands of listeners with a mix of modern active rock, Seton Hall athletics, and public affairs and community cultural programming.

WSOU, which is housed in the College of Arts and Sciences, is operated by Seton Hall students, under the supervision of a professional general manager. Although a noncommercial station, WSOU's management and staff structure is modeled on commercial radio, which provides students with enriching career-oriented educational experiences right on campus. Opportunities for student staff members include on-air hosting (DJ), production, promotion, newscasting, sportscasting, programming, sales and marketing, and engineering. WSOU draws students from all university colleges and programs, including communication, business, biology, education, nursing, sports management and diplomacy.

WSOU staff members benefit from working in WSOU's state-of-the-art facilities. The station's studios provide hands-on learning experiences with industry standard equipment. WSOU celebrated 60 years of broadcasting on April 14, 2008.

WSOU has been nationally recognized for its programming by the National Association of College Broadcasters, the Gavin Seminar, the College Music Journal (CMJ), the Album Network, Billboard Magazine and Guitar Magazine, among others. The station has received 50 platinum record awards for its role in the music industry. WSOU is administered by the College of Arts and Sciences, and the general manager reports to the dean of the College. A council consisting of alumni, friends, students and University administrators serves as an advisory body. For more information, visit the WSOU Web site: www.wsou.net

College Seminary Program

Marshall Hall, Suite 14

(973) 761-9420

collegeseminary@shu.edu

Rector: Monsignor Joseph R. Reilly, S.T.L., Ph.D.

Vice Rector: Reverend James F. Spera, M.Div., M.A.

Spiritual Director: Reverend J. Stanley Gomes, M.Div.

Hours: Monday - Friday, 8:45 a.m.-4:45 p.m.

The College Seminary – St. Andrew’s Hall takes seriously the Gospel invitation to “come and see.”

A College Seminary exists to provide students who experience a desire to be priests with an environment conducive for discerning the Lord’s will for their lives. This is done through a program of spiritual formation within community and ongoing guidance and direction.

Jesus Christ is the center of life at St. Andrew’s. Through the power of His Spirit, College Seminary students are formed in the likeness of Him whom they serve. The Seminary community life offers encouragement and fraternal support in living the Christian life. The University setting allows for the development of a strong foundation in various academic areas, which are essential to a well-rounded person.

Designed to prepare students for the diocesan priesthood, the College Seminary functions under its own rector, vice rector and a spiritual director. The program of formation is guided by the 1992 apostolic exhortation of Pope John Paul II, (Pastores Dabo Vobis), and by other documents of the Holy See and United States Catholic Conference of Catholic Bishops, most notably the Fifth Edition of the Program of Priestly Formation (USCCB, 2006).

The College Seminary is affiliated with the Seminary Department of the National Catholic Education Association and with the Eastern Regional Association of Catholic Seminaries. It operates under the auspices of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Newark, but accepts students for the priesthood sponsored by other dioceses and religious orders as well. Students wishing to study for the priesthood of the Archdiocese of Newark at the college level are strongly encouraged to attend the College Seminary.

Students must be accepted for admission to the University before they can be enrolled in the College Seminary. College Seminary students board at St. Andrew’s Hall, a few blocks from the main University campus in South Orange. St. Andrew’s provides a community setting where students and priests live and work closely together in an atmosphere of friendship, study and prayer. All college seminarians are expected to major in Catholic Theology through the University’s School of Theology. Please see page 249 of this catalogue.

Freshman Studies

Every entering student wants to succeed. Success is measured in many ways, but at Seton Hall University we envision a type of success where individuals are at their best socially and academically. The University aims to instill in its students a vision that involves forming students to be servant leaders in a global society.

The Freshman Studies Program, beginning its 23rd year in Fall 2009, is an award-winning academic advising program designed to initiate students into this kind of success. The particular objectives of this crucial first year experience are:

- to help students adjust to life on a college campus;
- to assist in creating a social network; and
- to ensure that each student receives the best academic support available.

Freshman Studies uses three elements to accomplish these objectives: the Mentor, the Peer Adviser and the University Life course.

Mentors

During the University's Pirate Adventure orientation, students meet the mentors in Freshman Studies. The mentors are highly trained professionals whose primary responsibility is to provide a constant resource person throughout a student's first year at Seton Hall University.

Mentors teach the University Life Course that all freshmen take in order to ensure a regular academic contact. Mentors help students take advantage of the many resources available at Seton Hall, including Academic Support Services, The Career Center, Health/Counseling Services, Campus Ministry and the many activities in Student Affairs. Mentors also ensure that students are connected to their chosen departments, and that the particular academic experience within each major happens according to plan. Students who are "undecided" as to their major when they enter Seton Hall are provided additional resources to assist in clarifying career and professional goals. All students are encouraged, through formal programming and informal meetings, to connect to an academic department as soon as they feel comfortable. Every effort is made to place students into a major by the end of their first year.

The primary goal of the mentors is to assist students in making choices regarding an academic program, while simultaneously integrating students into the life and community of the University.

Peer Advisers

Each first-year student is assigned a specially selected and trained peer adviser. The peer adviser, a successful undergraduate student representing the various schools and colleges in the University, works in tandem with mentors to provide "firsthand" insight to the student. It is vital that new students connect to the existing student body. Peer advisers provide an immediate resource in accomplishing this objective. Peer advisers serve as "big-brothers" and "big-sisters," working to ensure personal support and assistance to each person in our entering class.

The University Life Course

Each first-year student is enrolled in a 1-credit academic course that meets during the first semester. This University Life Course, taught by the mentor with assistance from the peer adviser, meets once a week for 50 minutes. The objectives are:

- to provide an academic context for resolving and planning academic and personal success;
- to integrate computer technology into regular classroom instruction;
- to familiarize students with University resources and opportunities;
- to improve reading and writing skills as well as analytical thinking; and

- to help meet the mission at Seton Hall University in "forming students to be servant leaders in a global society."

First Semester of Coursework

The major programs in the University have common requirements for beginning students. This core curriculum, in combination with a declared interest or major, makes up the courses of the first term. Most entering students take five classes and the University Life Course. Because most courses meet three times a week for 50 minutes or twice a week for 75 minutes and the University Life Course meets once a week for 50 minutes, the majority of Seton Hall students have a course load of 16 credits. Students who are admitted on a probationary basis, or who have other time constraints to consider, will take a course load of approximately four courses or 12 credits.

Freshman Studies is located in Mooney Hall on the University Green. Contact the office at (973) 761-9740 or visit the Web site at <http://www.shu.edu/offices/freshman-studies-index.cfm>

The Educational Opportunity Program (EOP) offers academic and financial assistance to disadvantaged New Jersey students whose true abilities and college potential may not be reflected in secondary school achievement. A personal interview is required as part of the application procedure. Supportive services in the form of first-year and upperclass student summer programs, mini-courses, learning center enrichment, tutoring, individualized counseling, information technology, and community service/service-learning initiatives are provided for each student.

Additionally, parents of students are eligible to participate in family counseling and/or information technology certification programs.

Students accepted into the Educational Opportunity Program are full-time matriculated students from New Jersey. Once admitted to EOP, students must abide by policies and procedures outlined in their acceptance agreement. Those students who meet eligibility criteria receive the New Jersey Educational Opportunity Fund (EOF) Grant. Inquiries may be directed to the Educational Opportunity Program.

Army ROTC

The Department of Military Science contributes to Seton Hall University's mission of developing and educating global, adaptable, strategic thinking and flexible servant leaders of tomorrow by administering the Army Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) Program. Through the ROTC Program's coursework and practical experience, students will develop decision-making, team-building, and time-management skills—leadership qualities that are essential to success in any field and are highly valued in the private sector. The program provides an opportunity to examine service in the Army while earning a baccalaureate degree. A student who completes the program may earn a commission in the Regular Army, Army Reserve, or National Guard. Students may participate in the first two years of Army ROTC with no commitment to military service. Completing the program guarantees a student a job upon graduation serving in career fields such as the Nurse Corps, Aviation, Engineer, Infantry, Military Intelligence, and Signal Corps to name a few. Students may choose to major in any academic discipline as long as it leads toward a baccalaureate or graduate degree.

Cross-Enrollment

Students attending one of the 23 affiliated universities in the northern New Jersey area may cross-enroll, participate and complete the ROTC program through Seton Hall University. Classes are held on the campus of Seton Hall University. Cross-enrolled students may take ROTC courses for credit or no credit. However, in order to transfer credits from Seton Hall to their respective academic colleges, students must pay for the credits at Seton Hall.

The Army ROTC program is divided into two parts, the Basic Course and the Advanced Course.

Basic Course

The basic course consists of the first two years of the program, typically completed in the freshman and sophomore years. The first year focuses on the Army profession, basic leadership and officership. The second year concentrates on the experiential examination of managing, decision-making, and group dynamics. Students are placed in a wide variety of group exercises designed to emphasize various professional leadership competencies and insights. These events are held both inside the classroom and in outdoor settings.

The instructor, acting as a facilitator, helps guide student processing, or after-action reviews of the events to derive the leadership, group dynamics, and problem-solving lessons that the exercises offer. Practical "life skills" are emphasized throughout the two years. By the end of the Basic Course, students should possess a basic understanding of the unique aspects of leading, individual physical fitness, and a healthy lifestyle. The lessons are designed to explore leadership principles and theories, inspire intellectual curiosity, and stimulate self-study. Upon completion of the course, students are eligible to enter the advanced course.

The basic course imposes no military obligation on the part of students. Basic course requirements also can be fulfilled through attendance at ROTC Leadership Training Course or LTC (a twenty-eight day training course held each summer) or by having prior military service. LTC can count as an internship awarding a student with credits applicable toward a degree with prior approval by the student's academic advisor. Basic course requirements also can be waived, on a case-by-case basis, by the Professor of Military Science for students who participated in a Junior ROTC High School Program.

Advanced Course

The advanced course is for students in their junior and senior years, or with four semesters of graduate school remaining. Course work includes military history and ethics, leadership development, tactics and national security issues and concerns. The advanced course also includes a requirement to attend a five-week Leadership Development Assessment Course (LDAC), held during the summer between the junior and senior years, in which the student is further trained and evaluated for leadership potential. While at LDAC, students receive pay, travel expenses and benefits. LDAC can count as an internship awarding a student with credits applicable toward a degree with prior approval by the student's academic advisor.

In keeping with the military's demanding challenges, physical fitness is an important part of the ROTC experience. All Cadets participate in supervised physical training designed to gradually bring individuals to a high level of health and fitness.

Four-, Three-, or Two-Year Programs

Graduate or undergraduate students can complete the ROTC requirements through a four-year, three-year, or two-year program. The four-year and three-year programs involve the basic and advanced courses; the two-year program involves only the advanced course. The core coursework includes 16 to 26 credits in topics such as the art and science of leadership, ethics, values, integrity, honor, problem solving skills, military history, physical training, and adventure training. Depending on the student's degree program, a maximum of 26 credits in ROTC courses may be applied to the bachelor's degree, with the approval of the student's academic adviser.

Four-Year Program

The four-year program is divided into two parts, the basic course and the advanced course. The basic course is typically completed in the first two years of college. Unless a student has accepted a scholarship, the basic course is voluntary and all students are eligible. After completing the basic course, students who meet the physical and academic standards, and have demonstrated leadership potential, contract into the advanced course. The advanced course includes four consecutive semesters of coursework and completion of the Leader Development Assessment Course (LDAC). LDAC is a paid six-week leadership course conducted at Fort Lewis, Washington. Typically students attend LDAC during the summer after the first year of the advanced course.

Three-Year Program

The three-year program is designed for students who want to start ROTC as sophomores or graduate students with six semesters remaining required to complete their degree. Students complete the basic course in one year instead of two then complete the advanced course in due course. This method is referred to as compression. Students completing the basic course as compression students go on to contract in the advanced course.

Two-year Program

The two-year program enables eligible students to contract in the advanced course at the time they are academic juniors or seniors, or graduate students with four semesters remaining before graduation. Eligible students are those with one or more of the following:

- Prior service in the military
- Member of the National Guard or Reserve with basic training completed
- Completion of three or more years of Junior ROTC in high school
- Completion of the Army ROTC Leader's Training Course (LTC)
- Qualified, selected, and completed an accelerated commissioning program.

Students who are members of the National Guard or Army Reserve can participate in the Simultaneous Membership Program (SMP), which provides additional income and the opportunity to serve in a leadership position in the student's unit of choice.

Students eligible for the two-year program may complete requirements for their commission in two years. Students in the two-year program are fully eligible for financial assistance and may apply for an Army scholarship.

Benefits

The ROTC Program offers the best leadership course to college students with or without military experience.

Personal Development

The program allows students to gain the confidence to lead and manage while improving self-discipline, physical fitness, and mental and physical endurance. Learning how to lead effectively and efficiently is a marketable asset.

Scholarships

A wide variety of scholarships are available and application can be made at anytime during the year. Scholarships range from two to four years in duration with extensions possible for high demanding majors, such as nursing or engineering. Scholarships provide full coverage of either tuition and mandatory fees or room and board. Scholarship recipients choose to apply their scholarship toward tuition or room/board (not both). It also includes $1200 per year for books and fees. Two-year scholarships are available for members of the National Guard and Army Reserve. These scholarships feature continued reserve duty after commissioning and guaranteed branching in the student's unit. Scholarships for two to four years are also available and include duty in the Active Army after commissioning.

For Students Majoring in Nursing

Students who accept an Army Nurse Scholarship and are pursuing a Nursing degree through Seton Hall University can receive a room and board incentive. Seton Hall University provides this incentive to qualified Army Nurse Scholarship students who are in good standing with the ROTC Program and Nursing Program.

Guaranteed Job after Graduation

Upon commissioning, students have a full time job in the Active Army or part time job in the National Guard or Army Reserve. The military obligation of service is eight years after commissioning (four years Active Army and four years in the reserve component, or eight years in the National Guard or Army Reserve). The type of obligation is determined at the time of contracting in the advanced course and based on the type of scholarships a student selects. Students are selected for a specific branch depending on factors such as their interest, academic achievement, Leader Development Assessment Course (LDAC) performance rating, and the needs of the Army.

Income

All contracted students receive a monthly stipend: $300 for freshmen, $350 for sophomores, $450 for juniors or first year advanced course students, $500 for seniors or second year advanced course students. Contracted students receive a stipend for ten months of the year. Students with prior service, SMP Cadets, and members of the National Guard or Army Reserve may be eligible for the Montgomery GI Bill (MGIB) benefits, financial assistance or reimbursement for tuition, and an additional monthly incentive.

Please contact the Department of Military Science for more information concerning the program or Army scholarships: (973) 761-9446/9455; 313-6256; 699-0325 or on the web at <http://armyrotc.com/edu/setonhall/index.htm>

Course Descriptions

Basic Course

ROTC 1010 or ROTC 0110 Leadership and Personal Development

Introduces students to the personal challenges and competencies that are critical for effective leadership. Instructors explain and illustrate how the personal development of life skills such as critical thinking, goal setting, time management, physical fitness, and stress management relate to leadership (in both the civilian and military environment), officership, the Army profession, and daily life. Leadership principles within the current context of a university are emphasized. Application is also made to leadership in military and civilian settings that include government, corporate, and non-profit organizations. Corequisite: ROTC 5500 or ROTC 0550 Leadership Laboratory and ROTC 1115 or ROTC 0115 Physical Fitness. 2/0 credits

ROTC 1012 or ROTC 0112 Introduction to Tactical Leadership

Overviews leadership fundamentals such as setting direction, problem-solving, listening, presenting briefs, providing feedback, and using effective writing skills. Students explore dimensions of leadership values, attributes, skills, and actions in the context of practical, hands-on, and interactive exercises and scenarios. Students apply learning to their immediate university context as well as to a variety of military, government, corporate, and non-profit situations. Corequisite: ROTC 5501 or ROTC 0551 Leadership Laboratory and ROTC 1125 or ROTC 0125 Physical Fitness. 2/0 credits

ROTC 2020 or ROTC 0220 Innovative Team Leadership

Explores the dimensions of creative and innovative tactical leadership strategies and styles by examining team dynamics and two historical leadership theories that form the basis of much of modern leadership frameworks (trait and behavior theories). Students practice aspects of personal motivation and team building in the context of planning, executing, and assessing team exercises and participating in leadership labs. Students study historical leaders from a variety of backgrounds: from Lincoln, Grant, and Lee to Gandhi, Kennedy, and Mother Theresa. Corequisite: ROTC 5502 or ROTC 0552 Leadership Laboratory and ROTC 1135 or ROTC 0135 Physical Fitness. 3/0 credits

ROTC 2022 or ROTC 0222 Foundations of Tactical Leadership

Examines the challenges of leading teams in complex contemporary operating environments. Instructors highlight course of action development, analysis, the execution of orders, and the achievement of mission success. Students develop greater self awareness as they assess their own leadership styles and practice communication and team building skills while studying the theoretical basis of situational and contingent leadership. Students analyze recent and historical military case studies to gain insight into the importance and practice of teamwork and techniques in real-world scenarios. Parallels are drawn to the competitive and cross-cultural environments of most modern corporations. Corequisite: ROTC 5503 or ROTC 0553 Leadership Laboratory and ROTC 1145 or ROTC 0145 Physical Fitness. 3/0 credits

Advanced Course

ROTC 3030 or ROTC 0330 Adaptive Tactical Leadership

Challenges students to study, practice, and evaluate adaptive leadership skills as they are presented with complex scenarios related to the contemporary operating environment and across the full spectrum of military, corporate, and civic operations. Instructors and fellow students give students systematic and specific feedback on their leadership attributes and actions as they are applied in a variety of situations. Self-evaluations also allow students to develop their leadership skills and critical thinking abilities. Corequisite: ROTC 5504 or ROTC 0554 Leadership Laboratory and ROTC 1155 or ROTC 0155 Physical Fitness. 3/0 credits

ROTC 3032 or ROTC 0332 Leadership in Changing Environments

Presents increasingly intense situational leadership challenges to build student awareness and skills in leading small teams of people. Students explore, evaluate, and develop skills in decision-making, persuading, and motivating team members across a full spectrum of military, corporate, and civic operations. Apply principles and techniques of effective written and oral communication. Instructors review aspects of military operations as a means of preparing students for the ROTC Leader Development and Assessment Course (LDAC). Corequisite: ROTC 5505 or ROTC 0555 Leadership Laboratory and ROTC 1165 or ROTC 0165 Physical Fitness. 3/0 credits

ROTC 4040 or ROTC 0440 Developing Adaptive Leaders

Strengthens student proficiency in planning, executing, and assessing complex operations while functioning as a member of a staff and providing performance feedback to subordinates. Students assess risk, make ethical and moral decisions, identify responsibilities of key staff members, coordinate staff roles, and use situational opportunities to lead, teach, train, and develop junior ROTC Cadets. Apply leadership and problem solving principles to a complex case study and simulation. Lessons on military and civil justice and personnel processes prepare students to make the transition to their initial leadership assignments. Prerequisite: ROTC 3030 or ROTC 0330. Corequisite: ROTC 5506 or ROTC 0556 Leadership Laboratory and ROTC 1175 or ROTC 0175 Physical Fitness. 3/0 credits

ROTC 4042 or ROTC 0442 Leadership in a Complex World

Explores the dynamics of leading in the complicated situations of current operations in the contemporary operating environment (COE) of the global village. Students examine differences in customs and courtesies, culture, military law, principles of war, and rules of engagement in the face of international terrorism. They also explore aspects of interacting with non-government organizations, engaging in civil duties, and host nation support. Instructors place significant emphasis on preparing Cadets for their first unit of assignment. Case studies, scenarios, and exercises prepare Cadets to face the complex ethical and practical demands of leading organizations of varied sizes to succeed in a global and complex world. Prerequisite: ROTC 3030 or ROTC 0330. Corequisite: ROTC 5507 or ROTC 0557 Leadership Laboratory and ROTC 1185 or ROTC 0185 Physical Fitness. 3/0 credits

ROTC 5500-5507 or ROTC 0550-0557 Leadership Laboratory: Applied Leadership and Management

Leadership Laboratory is designed to provide students the environment and scenarios to lead organizations of varied sizes (from team to company size). It offers the opportunity to apply leadership and management principles, theories, and techniques explored in the formal classroom military science courses. By design, the Leadership Labs are progressive and sequential, where students are placed in increasing complex scenarios. This is a 2-hour session. All students accepted as Cadets in the ROTC program are required to enroll in this course. 1/0 credit

ROTC 1115, 1125, 1135, 1145, 1155, 1165, 1175, 1185 or ROTC 0115, 0125, 0135, 0145, 0155, 0165, 0175, 0185 Physical Fitness: Developing Personal and Organizational Physical Fitness Programs

This is a one-hour physical fitness session focused on building the physical and mental strength and endurance of each student. While it uses the Army Physical Fitness Standard to develop fitness goals, the program concentrates on developing, sustaining, and continually improving each student's cardiovascular, upper body, and abdominal strength. The program also provides opportunities for students to lead and manage their own and their assigned organization's fitness program toward fitness excellence. All students accepted as Cadets in the ROTC program are required to enroll in this course. Prerequisite: Medical evaluation and clearance. 1/0 credit

Independent Study and Elective CoursesROTC 1600 or ROTC 0600 Applied Leadership

Independent study of applied leadership through internships and special projects. Offered: Fall. Prerequisite: Department approval. 4/0 credits

ROTC 1620 or ROTC 0620 Leadership in the 21st Century

Independent study of the demands of leadership in today's Army and the Army of the future. Offered: Spring. Prerequisite: Department approval. 4/0 credits

ROTC 5412 Seminar Leadership/Ethics

Designed to explore the legal aspects of moral decision making and ethical leadership. Cadets learn to explore leadership theories that foster an ethical behavior and command climate, develop confidence and leadership competencies, recognize leader responsibility to accommodate subordinate spiritual needs, and apply principles and techniques of effective written and oral communication. Prerequisite: Department approval. 3 credits

For Nursing Majors OnlyNUCL 4210 Nurse Summer Training Program Clinical

This elective course is offered through the College of Nursing. See course description and prerequisites in the College of Nursing section of this catalogue. 3 credits

The Student Support Services Project is funded by the United States Department of Education and is an academic program that increases the retention and graduation rates of eligible students. The intent is to foster an institutional climate supportive of the success of low-income and first generation college students and individuals with disabilities.

The Project provides a variety of services including, but not limited to:

- tutoring;
- academic advice;
- exposure to cultural events and academic programs not usually available to disadvantaged students;

72 Special Programs

- activities designed to secure admission and financial assistance for enrollment in graduate and professional programs;
- grant aid and book awards;
- other activities such as leadership development, and preparation for licensing examinations and financial management designed to meet the purposes of the Student Support Services program.

The Project works in tandem with existing University programs and offices to identify and support low-income, first-generation, and disabled students.

Mission:

“To Challenge, Build, Develop, Expose and Assist.”

The Upward Bound Project at Seton Hall University is a Pre-College program that provides the skills necessary for post secondary success.

The Project assists students with participation in:

- enriching skill proficiency in key component areas (English, reading, writing, mathematics and science);
- enhancing the development of skills needed in studying, writing, critical thinking, research, use of computers, and test preparedness;
- increasing motivation to learn and achieve academic excellence;
- developing career goals and increasing the awareness of career options;
- thinking positively about themselves;
- fostering growth and ability as student leaders; and
- working toward acceptance and completion of a four-year college or university.

The Project combines federal, state, and private funding to offer a variety of academic, counseling, and cultural enrichment activities for low income first generation students in grades 9-12. The academic curriculum is a Competency Based Initiative and conforms to High School Proficiency Assessment, as well as the New Jersey Core Curriculum Content Standards. The Project offers a six-week non-residential summer program and a 22-week (Saturday and after school) academic year program for 120 students from the cities of Elizabeth, Newark, Irvington, Orange and East

Orange, New Jersey. In addition to student programming, the Project promotes parental involvement through its Parents Association. This group is an independent body and operates in an advisory capacity. The Association meets monthly during the academic year.

Funding sources include the U.S. Department of Education, the United States Department of Agriculture (New Jersey Summer Foods Program), and the Mayor's Office of Employment in Newark, NJ.

Seton Summer Scholars

Director: Robin Cunningham, M.A., Ed.S.

Mooney Hall

(973) 761-9740 or (973) 275-2159

Hours: Monday-Friday, 8:45 a.m. - 4:45 p.m.

The Seton Summer Scholars Program is a year-long college success program that is built around a highly structured, intensive five-week summer program. Students invited to join this program are required to attend the summer program, where they spend the weeks after high school graduation honing the skills and work habits of successful college students. Students also receive developmental support, tutoring and one-on-one contact with academic advisors. Students invited to participate in this program do not meet the traditional parameters for admission, but experience has shown that with support and structure these students can flourish. Students who successfully complete the summer program with a minimum 2.75 grade point average are invited to join the incoming freshman class. During the school year, students attend regular study hall and tutoring sessions and meet regularly with the program director to plan and promote their success.

University Core Curriculum

The University's new Core Curriculum is the official curriculum for students admitted since Fall 2008. This Core is composed of unique signature courses and a system of proficiency distributions ensuring that each graduating student has encountered key skill sets (such as numeracy, writing, and critical thinking) in a minimum number of courses. The Core Curriculum requirements are in addition to individual school or college curriculum requirements.

First-time, full-time freshmen entering the University in Fall 2008 and subsequently, expecting to graduate in Spring 2012 and later, will be held to the graduation requirements listed in this catalogue, including the 120-credit minimum requirement. Transfer students entering the University in Fall 2009 will participate in the new University Core Curriculum and will be responsible for the requirements in the 2009-2010 catalogue, including the 120-credit minimum requirement.

Depending upon the student's major and other factors, some students will need to complete more than the 120-credit minimum in order to complete the University, school or college, and major requirements. Transfer students who have fewer than 30 credits are responsible for the entire University Core Curriculum, including all three signature courses.

The first signature course will be waived for transfer students with more than 30 but fewer than 60 credits; these transfer students will be required to take the second and third signature courses. Transfer students with more than 60 credits or an Associates Degree will have the first two signature courses waived. The third-year signature course and the major capstone are required of all students.

Students may seek advisement from the Director of the Core Curriculum or from the Academic Success Center in Mooney Hall. The Academic Success Center advises both transfer students and students who are continuing their studies at Seton Hall, who have opted into the new University Core Curriculum.

74 Core Curriculum

The following courses are required of all entering freshmen starting in Fall 2008:

CORE 1001 University Life

Each first-year student is enrolled in a 1-credit academic course that meets during the first semester. The University Life Course, taught by the mentor with assistance from the peer adviser, meets once a week for 50 minutes. The objectives are:

- to provide an academic context for resolving and planning academic and personal success;
- to integrate computer technology into regular classroom instruction;
- to familiarize students with University resources and opportunities;
- to improve reading and writing skills as well as analytical thinking; and
- to help meet the mission at Seton Hall University in “forming students to be servant leaders in a global society.”

Corequisite: CORE 1101

CORE 1101 Journey of Transformation

This first signature course in the University Core Curriculum seeks to forge a community of conversation inspired to explore perennial questions central but not exclusive to the Catholic intellectual tradition. People throughout the different cultures and traditions of the world strive to understand the transcendent mysteries of the human journey that are addressed by the world’s religions, philosophies, art, music and literature. The first signature course invites students into this conversation via some of the great texts and other cultural artifacts that focus on transformative journeys as they are portrayed in Catholic, Greek, Islamic, Hindu and other traditions. Students are asked to reflect upon their own transformative experiences and envision their personal journeys. Classes meet twice a week for 75 minutes. Corequisite: CORE 1001. 3 credits

CORE 2101 Christianity and Culture in Dialogue

This course is taken by second year students as part of the University Core Curriculum. CORE 2101 considers the relationship between Christianity and culture through an approach based on principles of dialogue, development, and community. Texts from the Christian tradition paired with texts from non-Christian traditions demonstrate direct connections across cultures that influence the development of the Catholic intellectual tradition. The course seeks to foster the development of a community of conversation through a focus on key questions and significant texts that address these questions. Prerequisites: 30 credits, CORE 1101, ENGL 1201, ENGL 1202. 3 credits

CORE 3101 Engaging the World

The third signature courses are discipline-specific and link the general principles of the Catholic intellectual tradition to the various disciplines. In this way, questions emerging from the first two signature courses find applications to the disciplines and professions taught at the University. Prerequisites: 60 credits and CORE 2101. 3 credits

ENGL 1201 Core English I

Structured exercises in writing and revising short essays based on themes suggested by representative readings. Prerequisite: satisfactory score on required placement test or ENGL 0100 or 0150 as appropriate. 3 credits

ENGL 1202 Core English II

Introduction to literature through representative readings in the three major genres of fiction, poetry, and drama. Training in methods of library research and the mechanics of citation, quotation, and paraphrase in the writing of longer research papers. Prerequisite: ENGL 1201. 3 credits

University Honors Program

Fahy Hall, Room 304

(973) 275-2011

www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/honors-program/

Director: Peter G. Ahr, Ph.D.

Administrative Assistant: Mary Mountcastle

The University Honors Program is a unique academic opportunity to develop an understanding of the formative ideas that have shaped the world as we know it, from reading and discussion of primary texts with other highly motivated students and teams of faculty members drawn from a variety of academic disciplines. It is structured around team-taught Honors Colloquia and multidisciplinary Honors Seminars that address perennial human questions posed across global cultures. Students study the great philosophical, religious, literary and visual texts of the past and present, to understand from this contact with primary sources how our world came to be. Going beyond the conventional “western civilization” model, the Program also explores the cultures of eastern and southern Asia and of the Muslim world. It takes as its scope the origins, the development and the interrelationship of ideas, art forms and social organizations from many cultures which together have formed our world. Students with this kind of global understanding are best prepared to be servant leaders in the world of the 21st century.

During the first two years, students meet twice a week for three hours and complete the four Honors Colloquia, HONS 1001, 1102, 2003 and 2105. These colloquia are taught in small discussion sections, with two faculty members in each section. These colloquia substitute for core curriculum requirements such as Core English, Oral Communication, religion, philosophy and history. The colloquia also include Honors sections of the University CORE 1101 and 2101 courses, taught by the colloquia faculty. During the third and fourth years, students complete two interdisciplinary Honors Seminars (3 credits each), choosing from a variety of topics that change from year to year. Topics for 3000-level seminars for 2009-10 will include: Feminist Theories, Modern American Poetry, and the Contemporary Search for Meaning. From time to time, the Honors Program also offers a study tour abroad under one or more of its faculty, as one of its Honors Seminars. The Honors Thesis, completed in close collaboration with a member of the faculty, is a work of original research done in the senior year.

In order to continue in the Honors Program, students must maintain a B average in their Honors courses. The courses in the Honors Program are accepted by the several schools and colleges of the University in replacement of many of their core curriculum requirements. For more specific information on how the Honors Program counts in particular cases, please contact the Director of the Program.

76 University Honors Program

The Honors Program provides a coordinated liberal arts concentration for outstanding students of all schools and majors at Seton Hall University. In addition to course work, the Honors Program provides opportunities for students to attend opera, theater, museums, concerts and other cultural events in the metropolitan area. Several of the colloquia include class visits to museums and galleries in the New York area for first-hand study of artifacts from the period they are studying. Honors Program students work together on class assignments, and resident Honors students live together in the residence halls. Honors students and faculty form a cohesive academic community that lasts throughout a student's career at Seton Hall University and beyond.

Course Descriptions

HONS 1001 Special Topics: Colloquium on Classical Civilizations

This course examines the origins of the modern world in the ancient civilizations of Asia, North Africa, and Europe through reading and discussion of their literatures, art, history, philosophy and religions. This team-taught course also examines the origins of Christianity as part of this story. This course is taught from 2007 forward, together with special small Honors sections of the University's CORE 1101 course, by the same professors. Corequisites: CORE 1001, CORE 1101 Honors section. 3 credits

HONS 1101 Colloquium on the Ancient World

The works of the ancient world as well as the growth of Christianity are discussed and debated. Studies include the religion, literature, philosophy, art and politics of the ancient Near East, Greece and Rome, Africa and Asia. 6 credits

HONS 1102 Colloquium on the Middle Ages and the Renaissance

The growth and expansion of Christianity and Islam and their interactions with Judaism and the culture of the Greco-Roman world-religious views predominate in this semester. The course examines the social and political structures that emerge across Europe and Asia from the fourth through the fifteenth centuries, and studies texts which articulate the philosophical, religious, scientific, literary and esthetic expressions of those societies, and discusses how these developments led in turn to the world we live in today. 6 credits

HONS 2003 Special Topics: Colloquium on Early Modern Civilizations

This semester examines the emergence of modern philosophy, literature, politics and sciences through the sixteenth, seventeenth, and eighteenth centuries, and the expansion of European cultures with the growth of global trade, commerce and settlement. This course is taught, from 2008 forward, together with Honors sections of the University's CORE 2101 course, by the same professors. Co-requisite: CORE 2101 Honors section. 3 credits

HONS 2103 Colloquium on the Early Modern World

The great advances of science and geographic expansion continue; during the Age of Reason and the Enlightenment, modern philosophy, literature, politics and the social sciences emerge. Global trade, commerce and settlements grow as European cultures expand their hegemony. 6 credits

HONS 2105 Colloquium on Contemporary Civilizations

This semester-long course focuses on the emergence of global civilization through the worldwide spread of industrialization, urbanization, popular movements, and wars. It examines texts illustrating the development of the social and natural sciences, and the social, philosophical, esthetic and political consequences of these developments. The class also discusses texts illustrating contemporary implications of these developments in our society and globally. 6 credits

The College of Arts and Sciences offers programs of study leading to the degrees Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, Master of Arts, Master of Science, Master of Healthcare Administration, Master of Public Administration and Doctor of Philosophy.

Through its core courses, the College of Arts and Sciences provides students with a foundation in the liberal arts and training in essential skills such as writing and oral communication; through its majors and minors, the College prepares students for professional careers or graduate education. A vibrant and dynamic community of learners, the College of Arts and Sciences has foundational roots in a rich intellectual tradition rooted in the liberal arts, is served by a committed and nationally recognized faculty, and offers courses and programs which provide students with multiple pathways to success.

In the coming year, the College will focus on implementing its Strategic Plan and its five strategic goals. Goal 1 is to enhance and support our students' pursuit of intellectual and academic excellence through an enriched undergraduate education. Goal 2 is to enhance and strategically expand our graduate education programs to meet the needs of our students as they develop and extend their academic or professional qualifications. Goal 3 is to enhance the College's commitment to its faculty's professional growth and academic success to achieve and maintain the highest level of academic quality and integrity. Goal 4 is to strengthen the college's financial base and reinforce its infrastructure to promote and enrich academic endeavors. And Goal 5 is to strengthen the College's identity and activity in the local community as well as enhance the College's international signature in its programs and curricula.

From time to time, the College offers special courses unattached to any particular department. They are by nature occasional, interdisciplinary and experimental, and allow for a variety of interests and initiatives.

The undergraduate program is based on the general requirements to which students, guided by a faculty adviser, add courses required in their major field and free electives.

Academic Advising and Tutoring

Students who have declared majors within the College of Arts and Sciences are advised by experienced faculty in their chosen academic departments within the College. This faculty adviser assists the student in the determination of educational objectives commensurate with his/her interests, talents and abilities. Course selection, particularly the sequencing of courses, is also accomplished in these advising sessions. Appropriate advising is a shared responsibility; both the faculty person and the student are engaged to seek the best possible experience for the student. As adults, it is the responsibility of each student to familiarize themselves with all academic policies and to understand all academic requirements. Included in these discussions is information about academic policies and procedures, curricular and co-curricular programs, and exposure to the full range of services and opportunities available for all Seton Hall students. Students follow the requirements listed in the Undergraduate Catalogue for the year in which they entered Seton Hall University.

Please note: It is the responsibility of each student to know and meet graduation and other requirements, and to make every reasonable effort to obtain adequate academic advising. It is recommended that students declare their majors by the time they complete 60 credits. Any student in the College of Arts and Sciences who has not declared a major and who has completed 75 or more credits prior to October 15 preceding a Spring Semester, or prior to March 1 preceding a Fall Semester, shall not be allowed to register or pre-register for any further courses at Seton Hall University without formally declaring an academic major. A hold will be placed on the student's record, which can only be removed with permission of the dean and by filing a declaration of major.

Ruth Sharkey Academic Resource Center

The Ruth Sharkey Academic Resource Center (ARC) is part of the College of Arts and Sciences and is located in Arts and Sciences Hall. The ARC serves all Seton Hall University students, regardless of their year of study in three ways: it provides tutors who assist students with challenging writing projects and mathematics, science and modern language courses; it offers resources for students interested in national scholarship opportunities; and it aids students who are pursuing inter-departmental and pre-professional majors.

Students interested in applying for nationally competitive scholarships will find resources, online information and guidance on submitting applications in the ARC.

ARC tutors regularly conduct review sessions in disciplines such as mathematics, science, physics, and modern languages. Tutoring schedules are posted on the ARC Web pages and students are encouraged to take advantage of these opportunities for increased and supplementary instruction.

The ARC is a resource for students who wish to participate more fully in their own academic development. Students can supplement their classroom learning or prepare themselves for future opportunities by engaging with a learning community that consists of peers, graduate teaching assistants, faculty, administrators and alumni.

For more information, call (973) 761-9108, e-mail ARC@shu.edu or visit www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/arc

Health Professions/Pre-Medical and Pre-Dental Advisory Committee

Seton Hall graduates have been successful as doctors, dentists, physical therapists, physician assistants, athletic trainers, optometrists, occupational therapists, podiatrists, veterinarians and chiropractors. Admission to medical, dental or other health professional schools is a highly selective matter based generally on scholarship, character and overall fitness. Although the majority of health professional schools prefer applicants with a Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degree, occasionally an exceptional student is admitted after completion of three full years of college work. Traditionally, health profession students have selected a science concentration. However, health professional schools encourage applicants to select major fields of concentration that reflect their interests and require some depth of learning within a given discipline.

While there is some variation of practice, most health professional schools require the following undergraduate studies: two years of chemistry, one year of biology, one year of physics, one year of English and one year of mathematics. Normally medical and dental schools require an aptitude examination (MCAT, DAT). The MCAT is administered January through September of the prospective students' junior year in college. The dental admission test is given year round.

The health professions committee at Seton Hall aids students in selecting appropriate courses. Committee members get to know each student personally and consider all the variables in a student's academic and personality profile in order to advise the student/applicant in his/her choice of a health profession.

The University participates in several dual degree programs (Physical Therapy, Physician Assistant, Athletic Training, Occupational Therapy) and in the early admission program, AccessMed with Robert Wood Johnson Medical School. Interested students should contact the director of health professions for details about these programs. For additional information, visit the health professions' Web site at artsci.shu.edu/healthprofessions

Pre-Medical/Pre-Dental Plus Program

The Pre-Medical/Pre-Dental Plus Program (PMPDPP) is a four-year undergraduate degree program for students pursuing a science major in the College of Arts and Sciences. The program provides a supportive environment for historically underrepresented and economically disadvantaged students to prepare for study in a medical, dental, or other health related field. PMPDPP provides students with the necessary tools and resources required for a smooth transition to medical, dental or graduate study in an allied health field.

Potential candidates must be full-time residents of New Jersey, demonstrate the desire to pursue a career in the sciences and satisfy academic and need-based financial criteria. Financial assistance is offered through New Jersey's Educational Opportunity Fund (EOF). University scholarships are also available to eligible students.

Entering freshmen attend a six-week summer program offering courses in college-level chemistry, mathematics and writing to help them make the transition to studying at the college level. Students earn up to six undergraduate credits during the summer program.

Pre-Med/Pre-Dental Plus students receive academic, career, and personal counseling as well. They work with the university's health adviser to plan course work in preparation for advanced level science courses as well as the student's own academic interests. Tutoring in key science disciplines is offered at least two times a week. A sense of community is fostered through meetings with the PMPDPP student counselor and monthly student meetings.

An additional feature of the program is Access Med. Access Med is a program offered, through an affiliation with Seton Hall University and Robert Wood Johnson Medical School, at the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey. Selected students begin taking first-year medical courses in their senior year and receive credit toward both the Seton Hall University Bachelor of Science degree and the M.D. at Robert Wood Johnson Medical School. Access Med offers a Medical College Admissions Test (MCAT) preparation course for selected junior-level PMPDPP students. This intense preparation class offers diagnostic and review sessions as well as several simulations of the MCAT examination. Students admitted to this phase of the Access Med program can achieve superior results on the MCAT exam.

For additional information visit the program's Website at www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/pmpdpp/index.cfm or call (973) 761-9648.

Pre-Law Advising

Admission to law school is highly competitive. The selection of applicants for admission rests with the admissions committees of the various law schools and is generally based on an acceptable level of performance at the undergraduate level, an acceptable score on the Law School Admissions Test (LSAT) and other criteria that may be set by the individual institutions.

There are no mandatory requirements for specific courses or majors that must be taken in preparation for entrance into law school; students from a wide variety of undergraduate major programs are regularly accepted by the various schools. Prospective law students most commonly major in such disciplines as political science, history, English, philosophy and economics, but admission to law school has often been granted to students who have majored in other areas.

Of far more importance to the prospective law student than the choice of major or of specific courses is attention to the development of skills in the expression and comprehension of the English language, and to the cultivation of the ability to think creatively and critically, with thoroughness and intellectual curiosity. As noted in the Pre-Law Handbook, the official guide to American Bar Association-approved law schools, the development of these capacities “is not the monopoly of any one subject-matter area, department or division.” Students interested in pursuing a career in law should work closely with the University’s pre-law adviser.

The St. Thomas More Pre-Law Society is an organization for students interested in pursuing a career in law.

For additional information, visit www.shu.edu/academics/arts/pre-law/index.cfm or contact Robert Michael Pallitto, Ph.D., J.D., pre-law adviser, at pallitro@shu.edu

Project Acceleration

Project Acceleration affords high school students the opportunity to earn college credit for successfully completing Project Acceleration courses at their local high schools. Courses are offered in the physical and biological sciences, languages, English, mathematics, education, art, music, economics, philosophy, religious studies, and social sciences. Credits earned through completion of these courses are offered at a reduced tuition rate and are entered on a Seton Hall transcript. Project Acceleration credits will apply to a Seton Hall degree, and are accepted by many colleges and universities. For more information call (973) 761-9224, send an e-mail to projectacceleration@shu.edu or visit www.shu.edu/academics/arts/pre-law/index.cfm

Internships

Internships are offered as an optional educational program available to students in the College of Arts and Sciences. Internships integrates classroom study with supervised learning through productive work experiences. Employer partners work closely with The Career Center and the College of Arts and Science internship faculty advisers to provide students with supervised, “hands-on” working and learning experiences that have relevance to their academic major and career goals. All internship positions are carefully screened to insure that they provide a quality work and learning experience.

To be eligible, students must have completed 30 credits and maintain an overall GPA of 2.5. (Some academic departments may have additional requirements.) Transfer students need to complete at least one semester at Seton Hall to be eligible. Internships can be paid or non-paid and credit bearing or non-credit bearing.

All students interested in either a credit-bearing or non-credit internship experience should schedule an appointment with career professional at The Career Center. Upon approval from an internship faculty adviser, internship credits will satisfy general elective requirements. At the discretion of the College and/or the academic department, internship credits may be used to fulfill major elective credits. Students are eligible to earn 3 credits per semester for an internship experience and a maximum of 9 credits. Students pursuing multiple semesters with the same employer must demonstrate increased level of responsibilities in their internship experience. Students who elect a non-credit internship experience are closely monitored by The Career Center.

Courses in the Internship Program include:

Internship I - Pre-professional exploratory experience in a field. Assignments will be made in an entry-level position of employment. Taken only with the written permission of a co-op faculty adviser.

Internship II - Intermediate professional experience in a field. Taken only with the written permission of a coop faculty adviser.

Internship III - Professional experience in the field specifically oriented to the academic major and career objectives. Taken only permission of a co-op faculty adviser.

Course Identification

The course numbering system used throughout the University is described in the Academic Policies and Procedures section of this catalogue. The abbreviations used to designate courses offered within the College of Arts and Sciences are:

Degree Requirements

To attain the degree Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science in the College of Arts and Sciences, students must satisfactorily complete the core curriculum requirements of the College, the requirements of their major fields and a sufficient number of electives. A minimum of 120 credits is required for first time/full time students entering in Fall 2009.

82 College of Arts and Sciences

To qualify for the bachelor's degree, the student must have a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0. A GPA of 2.0 also must be maintained in the major field and in any optional second major or minors unless a higher GPA is required.

All students are assigned a faculty adviser from the department or program in which they are enrolled who will assist in planning a four-year program.

Core Curriculum of the College of Arts and Sciences

The hallmark of a liberal education is that it entices a student to examine the tree of knowledge, to see both the distinction and interdependence of its branches. Through its program, the College of Arts and Sciences offers students the opportunity to examine areas of the humanities and sciences in depth, while exposing them to the breadth of the related disciplines.

The following core curriculum is the basis of the education of all students in the College of Arts and Sciences. This statement of the core curriculum begins with a discussion of the aims of a college education and proceeds to a listing of the various elements of the core requirements.

The College of Arts and Sciences recognizes the value of the distinctive and complementary perspectives of humanities, physical and biological sciences, and the social and behavioral sciences in understanding our world and the human condition. Its core curriculum is designed to enable students to be conversant with the goals, methods, and values of these perspectives and to acquire the habits of mind to appreciate and contribute to the constantly evolving body of knowledge.

1. In order to understand and place in personal perspectives the world in which they live:
2. Students will grasp the relationship between themselves as individuals and their communities, and develop an appreciation for the past's influence on the present and the cultural differences and challenges posed by increased globalism.
3. Students will display the ability to write clearly and effectively, to read texts critically, to articulate ideas, to reason quantitatively and to use appropriate technology.
4. Students will develop the analytical tools required for an appreciation of the strengths and limitations of scientific methodologies and their applications to the natural world as well as human behavior.
5. Students will acquire basic interpretive tools to develop an appreciation of human creativity in its many forms, and understand its central place in people's daily lives and rituals.
6. Students will appreciate and understand diverse human existence including its spiritual dimension and critically assess their values.

In addition to these broad liberal education objectives, students will develop competence in an academic discipline or area of study.

The A&S Core Curriculum

The following are the requirements for the core curriculum of the College of Arts and Sciences and courses and examinations that fulfill these requirements for students required to complete 120 credits to obtain a Bachelor's degree from Seton Hall University. The A&S Core Curriculum focuses on the following seven areas:

- Aesthetics. To acquire the interpretive tools to understand its place in people's daily lives and rituals, students will explore human creativity in its many forms.
- Humanities. To better understand the world in which they live, and how it developed, students will examine the human story through time and place, using history and literature, while equipping themselves with the critical skills to analyze and evaluate evidence, and to understand race, gender, and power.
- Language. To increase awareness of cultural roots and traditions, students will demonstrate understanding and appreciation of classical or modern language.
- Rhetoric. To be prepared to speak in public, and to understand the varieties of speech discourse, students will study and practice presentations and other forms of spoken influence.
- Philosophy and Religion. To examine different ethical or spiritual worldviews, students will use the principles of sound reasoning to critically evaluate fundamental moral or spiritual values in making well-informed decisions about the issues of faith or moral issues.
- Science and Mathematics. To sharpen abilities to use and interpret quantitative information and utilize the power of mathematical reasoning to solve problems, students will study mathematical methodologies, modeling and their applications; and to better understand the natural and physical world around them, including the challenges and impacts of discovery, students will examine the scientific principles and practices.
- Social Science. To provide a sound basis for understanding and appreciating human institutions and behavior and to create the capacity for civic engagement, students will explore the foundations of society, culture, and government.

A course taken to fulfill one core requirement may not be used to fulfill another core requirement.

Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) Core Curriculum

The following are the requirements for the core curriculum of the College of Arts and Sciences and courses and examinations that fulfill these requirements for students required to complete a minimum of 120 credits to obtain a Bachelor of Arts degree from Seton Hall University.

UNIVERSITY CORE (16 credits)

All students must demonstrate college-level competence in the following courses

CORE 1001	University Life (1 credit)
CORE 1101	The Journey of Transformation
CORE 2101	Christianity and Culture in Dialogue
CORE 3101	Engaging the World
ENGL 1201	Core English I
ENGL 1202	Core English II

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES CORE FOR B.A. STUDENTS (38-39 credits)

As of Fall 2009, all incoming freshmen and transfer students with 29 or fewer credits who are candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts in the College of Arts and Sciences must demonstrate college-level competence in the following areas.

A. Aesthetics/Creativity (3 credits)

Students must complete at least one aesthetics/creativity course:

ARTH 1001	Art and Human Needs
ARTH 1101	Art of the Western World
ARTH 2107	American Art
COBF 2212	Introduction to Visual Theory and Technique
MUHI 1102	Music & Civilization
MUHI 1108	Music of America
COTH 2621	Introduction to Theatre
COTH 2626	Acting I

B. Humanities (9 credits)

Students must complete 9 credits, including one two-semester sequence. All 9 credits can not come from the same department.

Department of Africana Studies

Arts and Sciences Hall Room 202
(973) 761-9415

www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/africana-diaspora-studies

Faculty: Alexander (Chair); Sales Jr.

Adjunct Faculty: Irving, Oshin, Pritchett

Faculty Emeriti: Miller

The Department of Africana Studies offers a program leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts and a minor in Africana Studies.

The Africana Studies curriculum critically analyzes the historical and contemporary experiences of people of African descent in the United States, Africa, the Americas, Europe, and wherever communities of African descended people have emerged. The department utilizes multidisciplinary faculty and community-based expertise to prepare students to become servant leaders by fostering a commitment to rigorous intellectual inquiry and the movement for racial justice and equality. The program's commitment to academic excellence and social responsibility is reflected in the balanced emphasis on traditional scholarship as well as experiential and co-curricular activities, such as guest lectures, internships, study abroad trips and community activism.

Depending on their preferences, graduates are prepared to work in social and educational institutions and agencies, government, business or the arts, libraries, museums, communication and other related areas. They are fully prepared to take advantage of graduate training in Black studies, the social and behavioral sciences, the arts, humanities and the professions.

The Department of Africana Studies encourages serious scholarship committed to social change and obtaining human rights. Through the study of the unique history, society and life of Black people, the department encourages active participation in the struggle for social justice and freedom for Black people and thus for all people.

Since 1970, the Department of Africana Studies has been a community of scholars founded on and rooted in the emerging discipline of Africana Studies. It is based on several sources, including the Black Intellectual Tradition, the traditional academic disciplines, and the insights and lessons of the historic struggle against racism and for social justice.

Major Program

To attain the Bachelor of Arts degree, students must complete the core curriculum of the College, the major requirements and free electives to total 120 credits. Upon completion of work for the degree, students must have a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0. Each student will be assigned a faculty adviser who will assist in planning a four-year program.

Dual Degree Program in Museum Professions

The combined B.A./M.A. in Museum Professions allows Seton Hall University undergraduate students to take 12 graduate credits during their junior and senior years. These 12 credits count toward both the B.A. and the M.A. degree. Following graduation, students complete the remaining 27 credits of the M.A. degree.

Students are admitted into the dual degree program at the end of their sophomore year. Admission is based on GPA, application essay and interview. Students must maintain a 3.0 GPA average in the four graduate courses in order to be allowed to continue in the M.A. degree program. Students can have any undergraduate major from within the College of Arts and Sciences as long as they complete four undergraduate courses in art history before they receive their B.A. degree.

A completed application package for the dual degree program consists of:

- completed application
- two (2) letters of recommendation
- GRE scores (the GRE may be waived for admission, but scores must be submitted to the program prior to the completion of the Masters Project)
- transcripts from all previous colleges and universities (including Seton Hall University)
- personal statement
- resume or CV
- application fee
- additionally, all applicants are required to have an interview with a full-time faculty member, either on campus or over the phone. Applicants will be contacted to set up this interview once the application package is complete. Incomplete applications will not be reviewed.

A minimum GPA of 3.0 is required, although under certain circumstances the GPA requirement may be waived.

Course Descriptions

Fine Art, Graphic Design and Advertising Art

AART 1110 Drawing I

Development of foundational drawing skills. Learning basic drawing vocabulary and acquiring a sensitivity to the visual elements: line, shape, value and texture. 3 credits

AART 1217 Painting I

Introduction to the basic language, conventions, and material concerns of oil painting. Emphasis on a personal approach to observational painting. 3 credits

AART 1218 Outdoor Landscape Painting

Introduction to painting outdoors using water-based paints at on-campus and nearby locations. Course will include instruction in color theory, perspective, shading, scale, and balanced composition as applied to landscapes with and without architecture. Effects of natural light and atmosphere on landscapes will be emphasized. No prerequisites. 3 credits

AART 1219 / 1229 Introduction to Sculpture

Exploration of the basic elements of sculpture: space, material, process. 3 credits each

AART 1220 Art Materials and Techniques

Examination of the qualities and nature of the materials and processes by which art is created. 3 credits

AART 1223 2-D Design and Color

Development of visual literacy with regard to the ability to construct, interpret and verbalize the concepts involved in image making. Concepts covered will relate to all fields in the visual arts. Examples of fine and applied art will be analyzed using the principles and elements of two-dimensional design and color theory. 3 credits

AART 1224 Introduction to Printmaking - Intaglio

Introduction through lectures, demonstrations and practical work to intaglio processes: drypoint, etched line, softground and aquatint. Previous drawing experience recommended. 3 credits

AART 1225 Introduction to Printmaking - Relief

Introduction to relief printmaking, book arts and digital/photo processes. Previous drawing experience recommended. 3 credits

AART 1226 Traditional American Crafts

This course combines lectures on traditional American crafts with hands-on instruction in such techniques as paper making, trade sign painting, quilting, rug hooking and bandbox painting. 3 credits

AART 1311 Graphic Design and Advertising Art I

Overview of creative, conceptual and practical aspects of graphic design and advertising art with projects, demonstrations and lectures on design, imagery, typography and new media. 3 credits

AART 2141-2144 Special Topics in Applied Art

Selected topics, designated in advance of the semester, in the area of applied art. May be repeated for credit (under different number as topics change). 3 credits

AART 2210 Drawing II

Individual projects using a variety of drawing media and techniques, resulting in a portfolio presentation. Prerequisite: AART 1110 or permission of instructor. 3 credits

AART 2215 Watercolor I

Introduction to the materials, processes and techniques of transparent water color. 3 credits

AART 2216 Watercolor II

Advanced exploration with the materials, processes and techniques of transparent water color. Prerequisite: AART 2215. 3 credits

AART 2220 Figure Drawing

Introductory course in drawing the human figure, employing the use of male and female models. Comprehensive study of the nude human figure and its relation to drawing and painting. 3 credits

AART 2227 Painting II

AART 2230 Drawing as Design

Introduction to graphic illustration. Beginning course in learning how to develop basic illustrative ideas using a variety of media and conceptual approaches. Focus will be on basic composition, drawing and simple rendering techniques used in client-based illustration. (Formerly called Illustration) 3 credits

AART 2232 Photography in Advertising

A critical exploration of the structure, design and meaning of the photographic image and its uses in advertising. The techniques and aesthetics of photographic image making and its possibilities for graphic design and advertising are analyzed. Practical exercises are designed to stimulate creative seeing and visual thinking. Students will provide 35mm SLR camera, transparency film and processing. 3 credits

AART 2233 Typography I

Course will focus on basic use of letter forms and words as design elements in visual communication projects. Students will gain an understanding of historical roots of modern typography and use this knowledge to design logos, one page and multiple page designs for editorial, advertising, corporate and institutional design projects. 3 credits

AART 3233 Typography II

This course expands the knowledge acquired during Typography Design I. Historical and contemporary viewpoints, print production and layout skills are emphasized. In addition to learning how to develop rough ideas into finished art, the course will explore the fundamentals of creating motion-based, screen typography. Projects involve functional and personal expression through the use of Macintosh design and animation programs. Prerequisite: AART 2233. 3 credits

AART 2311 Graphic Design and Advertising Art II

Instruction in successful union of concept, type and image as they are combined in designing a wide range of print and new media applications in corporate, advertising and institutional areas. Prerequisite: AART 1311. 3 credits

AART 2312 Digital Art and Design I

Introduction to computer graphics using draw and paint software programs. Image and type manipulations for graphic design applications will be taught through projects, lectures, seminars, and hands-on experience. Course focuses on computer based illustration and design techniques which involve industry-standard software packages. 3 credits

AART 2314 Computer Assisted Illustration

Course in generating digital illustrations from sketches, tracings and photographs. Drawing and painting software will be used to create illustrations for diverse graphic design applications with emphasis on creativity and composition. Prerequisite: AART 2230. 3 credits

AART 2315 Web Design I

Utilizing programs such as Macromedia's Flash and Dreamweaver, students will create dynamic Web pages incorporating animation, video, audio and interactivity. Each student will be expected to complete a fully functional site by the end of the course. 3 credits

AART 2316 Web Design II

This Web design course introduces the students to the advanced applications used in Internet web communication. Instruction will include paradigms for developing web content for different uses, outcomes and audiences. Technical design strategies and the use of advanced interactive techniques using software are inclusive of this course. Assignments in class will be structured around the contemporary publishing issues facing the Internet user of today. Upon completion of this course, students will possess knowledge of composing customized Internet content with interactive navigation, motion and sound design. Prerequisite: AART 2315. 3 credits

AART 2317 Digital Painting

Course is designed to introduce the student to the basic use of the digital computer's state-of-the-art Adobe Photoshop and Painter software in creating original paintings and drawings. Emphasis will be placed on the translation and conversion of traditional studio-based artwork brought into a pixel based medium. Prerequisite: AART 2312. 3 credits

AART 2318 Digital Art and Design II

This course provides advanced computer instruction in digital design and concept development in the context of commercial advertising design. This is an applied studio course of technical approaches and computer design strategies used in solving challenges in visual communication and persuasion. Interactive component is part of course plan. Prerequisite: AART 2312. 3 credits

AART 2334 Three Dimensional Packaging and Exhibit Design

Design course will expose the student to solving three dimensional client-directed design problems. Students will learn about point-of-purchase display, product packaging, as well as exhibit design (institutional and corporate). Isometric drawing and orthographic project in the conceiving of environmental interior spaces for display purposes. Prerequisites: AART 1311 and AART 1223 and AART 2312. 3 credits

AART 3161-3166 Individual Studies in Art

Independent work under the guidance of the instructor. Prerequisite: 6 credits in studio art and permission of department chair. Credits to be arranged.

AART 3193-3194 Art Internship

Pass/Fail option only 3-6 credits

AART 3312 Web Advertising and Development

A web authoring course to introduce the advanced student to comprehensive website design and construction. Instruction will include web terminology, information delivery planning, communication strategies, navigations, paradigms, administrative area design and the use of current software in building Websites. 3 credits

AART 3313 Art Direction and Creative Strategy

Course is designed to expose the student to a professional field experience structured through fully art directed project activity, creative strategy and targeted campaign design. Projects are comprehensive, including tactical and communication concepts and audience profiling. On and off-site visitations are part of course. Prerequisite: AART 1311. 3 credits

AART 3410 Children and the Visual Arts

An introductory course for students interested in careers in which children make art: schools, hospitals, recreation centers, camps, day care centers, museums and community organizations. Studio-based with readings in art appreciation and curriculum design. Art and non-art majors. No prerequisite. 3 credits

AART 3894 Art Co-op I

3 credits

AART 3895 Art Co-op II

3 credits

AART 3896 Art Co-op III

3 credits

AART 4312 Practicum Design Seminar

Comprehensive senior capstone course which involves preparation for final portfolio presentations and for developing professional resumes. 3 credits

Art HistoryARTH 1001 Art and Human Needs

Throughout history, and throughout the world, art has served key functions related to home and shelter, religion, magic, propaganda, commemoration (individual and collective), instruction, and societal critique. This course, which fulfills the aesthetic requirement in the new core curriculum of the College of Arts and Sciences, is aimed at informing students about the essential place of the visual arts in human experience across the globe. 3 credits

ARTH 1101 Art of the Western World

General survey of the history of art in the West from pre-classical Greece to the present day. 3 credits

ARTH 2101 Looking at Art and Visual Culture

The course addresses the methodologies of art history and the newer field of visual culture. To be considered are the various ways of looking at art and visual culture, roughly in the order of their development from the late eighteenth through the twenty-first centuries. The course's format - lectures and discussions - is aimed at maximum participation on the part the students as the study of art and visual culture, ideally, is a discursive practice. 3 credits

ARTH 2107 American Art

Overview of art and architecture in America from colonial times to the 20th Century. (Formerly ARTH 1107) 3 credits

ARTH 2109 (AFAM 2529) African American Art

Overview of African American material culture and visual arts from colonial times to the present, including painting, printmaking, photography and sculpture. Close analysis of visual representations will go hand in hand with a discussion of key texts in art history and critical theory. Topics include the effects of patronage, the influence of class, gender and sexual orientation. Special emphasis in exploring how transatlantic travel and dislocation affected continuity and transformation in African American art practice and beyond. (Formerly ARTH 5009) 3 credits

ARTH 2111 (ARCH 2311) Greek and Roman Art

Study of the art and architecture of the ancient Greeks and Romans. (Formerly ARTH 1111) 3 credits

ARTH 2112 Medieval Art

Art in Europe from the beginning of Christianity through the full flowering of medieval culture in the Gothic age. (Formerly ARTH 1112) 3 credits

ARTH 2113 Italian Art of the Renaissance

Evolution of Italian art from the 14th through the 16th centuries. (Formerly ARTH 1113) 3 credits

ARTH 2115 Baroque and Rococo Art

Historical development of painting and architecture in Europe from the post Renaissance period to the late 18th century. (Formerly ARTH 1115) 3 credits

ARTH 2116 19th Century Art from Neoclassicism to Impressionism

Evolution of modern art in Europe from the dawn of Neoclassicism in the later part of the 18th century until the last Impressionist exhibition in 1886. (Formerly ARTH 1116) 3 credits

ARTH 2118 20th Century Art

An overview of the history of art of the 20th century, from Expressionism and Symbolism to the Postmodern trends of the end of the century. (Formerly ARTH 1118) 3 credits

ARTH 2119 Art Since 1945

An overview of contemporary art since the end of World War II in the Americas, Europe and the Pacific Rim. Emphasis on the contextualization of art in the political, social and cultural realm. The blur of traditional boundaries between art forms will be discussed, as well as the erasure of certain canonical properties of art, such as visibility and plasticity, (e.g., the handmade object). (Formerly ARTH 5001) 3 credits

ARTH 2124 History of Graphic Design

An historical overview of graphic design from the early pictograph to the present. The course stresses both the theory and historical development of visual communication. The relationship between word and image is also a major theme. (Formerly ARTH 1124) 3 credits

ARTH 2126 The Arts of China and Japan

Survey of Far Eastern art from prehistoric times to the 19th century. Original works of art from the University's collections used for illustration and examination. (Formerly ARTH 1126) 3 credits

ARTH 3201 Gender and Art

Examines representations of masculinity and femininity in the history of western art. Explores how contemporary artists and theorists are challenging these gendered constructions. Discusses barriers women artists have faced and strategies they have formulated to surmount these obstacles. Introduces diverse methodologies from feminist and gender studies. Prepares students to include a feminist perspective to their evaluation of museum exhibitions. 3 credits

ARTH 3127 The Art of Van Gogh and His Contemporaries

European art of the Post-Impressionist era, with special emphasis on Vincent van Gogh. (Formerly ARTH 1127) 3 credits

ARTH 3141-3144 Special Topics in Art History

Selected topics in art history. May be repeated for credit under a different number as topics change. (Formerly ARTH 2141-2144) 3 credits

ARTH 3151-3156 Individual Studies in Art History

Study and research in individual areas selected by the student in consultation with adviser and department chair. Junior or senior art history majors. 1 - 6 credits

ARTH 3193-3194 Art Internship

Pass/Fail option only. 3 credits

ARTH 4101 Art History Seminar

The seminar is intended for advanced art history majors, preferably seniors, and possibly others (such as students in the University Honors Program, Women's Studies, Catholic Studies, etc.), depending on the subject and with permission of the instructor. Its purpose is to involve students in the intense study of a specific topic, selected by the faculty member teaching the course. In a typical seminar, the faculty member gives a series of introductory lectures on the topic. Students read a group of texts related to the topic and these are discussed in class. Students then present a seminar paper on a specific aspect of that topic. The paper, upon presentation, is also submitted as a final project. 3 credits

Applied Music

MUAP 1011-1012 Beginning Piano I-II

Group piano instruction for beginners, taught in electronic piano lab. Two one-hour classes per week. Prerequisite to private piano lessons. 2 credits each

MUAP 1131 Beginning Voice

Group voice instruction for beginners. One two-hour class per week. Prerequisite to private voice lessons. 2 credits

MUAP 1141-1148 Band

Brass and woodwinds ensemble, which plays a varied repertoire from classical to contemporary music. One or more performances a semester. 1 credit each

MUAP 1151-1158 Chorus

Study and performance of choral music from the Renaissance to the present. Includes development of choral skills such as sight reading, intonation, establishing a good choral tone and vocal color. Audition required. 1 credit each

MUAP 1161-1168 Vocal Chamber Ensemble

Auditioned vocal ensemble for advanced singers. Audition required. Membership in University Chorus is required. 1 credit each

MUAP 1172-1179 Opera/Musical Theater

Preparation of arias and vocal ensembles for the purpose of stage presentation. 1 credit each

MUAP 1182 Conducting Techniques for Vocal Ensembles

Practical training in the conducting of vocal ensembles. 2 credits

MUAP 1183-1190 Instrumental Chamber Ensemble

Instrumental chamber ensemble for auditioned intermediate or advanced instrumentalists. Combinations (duos, trios, quartets, etc.) will be formed on the basis of availability of instruments and students' interest. 1 credit each

MUAP 1211-1218 Chamber Orchestra

The Seton Hall Chamber Orchestra offers students an orchestral performing experience as a credited course offering. Students with intermediate to advanced skill levels on all orchestral instruments (strings, woodwinds, brass, percussion, and harp) are encouraged to participate. A wide range of music is performed including Baroque, Classical, Romantic, 20th century and popular music. Students have the unique opportunity to perform with faculty and professionals within the orchestra. The orchestra meets once weekly for a 90-minute rehearsal and presents a concert performance at the end of each semester. 1 credit each

MUAP 1221-1228 Jazz Ensemble

The Seton Hall Jazz Ensemble offers students the opportunity to rehearse and perform a variety of jazz styles in small combo settings. Performances take place in various venues throughout the term. Students are coached in reading charts and given opportunities for improvisation. Repertoire includes the blues, swing, Latin, modal, and fusion, and always includes material accessible to the beginning improviser. All with basic reading and technical skills are welcome. Rehearsals are run by the instructor, but students are encouraged to contribute ideas for arrangements. 1 credit each

MUAP 1291-1292, 1294 Beginning Instruments

Group instrumental lessons on wind, string or percussion instruments. The courses are designed for beginners, in an ensemble situation. 2 credits each

MUAP 2141-2144 Special Topics in Applied Music

Selected topics, designated in advance of the semester, in the area of applied music. May be repeated for credit (under different number as topics change). 3 credits

MUAP 2211-2219 Private Piano Instruction/Majors

Private lesson, 1 hour per week. Prerequisite: MUAP 1011 Beginning Piano I, or permission of department. 2 credits each

MUAP 2231-2239 Private Voice Instruction/Majors

Private lesson, 1 hour per week. Prerequisite: MUAP 1131 Beginning Voice, or permission of department upon successful audition. 2 credits each

MUAP 3181-3186 Individual Studies in Applied Music

Independent work under the guidance of the instructor. For exceptional students only. Prerequisite: permission of chair. 1-6 credits

MUAP 3193-3194 Music Internship

Course acquaints music majors with the music industry in its different forms, (i.e., concert management, the recording industry, music broadcasting, etc.). Internships in any of these areas are extremely useful for students and may set them on a career path. 3 credits each

MUAP 3291-3299 Private Brass Instruction

Comprehensive study of harmony including harmonic and rhythmic dictation, advanced sight-singing, study of seventh chords, secondary dominants, modulation to closely related and foreign keys plus advanced four-part analysis. Prerequisite: MUTH 1112. 4 credits

MUTH 2141-2144 Special Topics in Music Theory and Analysis

3 credits

MUTH 3111 Theory of Music III

Basic study of the techniques used in instrumental and vocal music composition. Basic form and practical implementation of rules of composition. Prerequisite: MUTH 2112. 3 credits

MUTH 3131-3144 Special Topics in Music Composition

1-6 credits

MUTH 4111 Theory of Music IV

Study of arranging and orchestration skills utilized in choral and instrumental music. Techniques in doubling, orchestration for large and small ensembles as well as copyright laws and how to be published. Prerequisite: MUTH 3111. 3 credits

MUTH 4171-4176 Individual Studies in Music Theory

1-6 credits

MUTH 5171-5176 Individual Studies in Music Composition

1-6 credits

Department of Asian Studies

Fahy Hall
(973) 761-9464

www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/asian-studies/index.cfm

Faculty: Brown; Chen; Leung (Chair); Linderman (Undergraduate Adviser); Osuka (Director of Graduate Studies);

Faculty Emeriti: Blakeley; Kikuoka; Ma; Yang; Young

The Department of Asian Studies offers programs leading to the Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts degrees. The Bachelor of Arts program provides students with training in the languages, histories, politics, religions, and cultures of Asia, leading to careers in government, international services, research, teaching and business, as well as to advanced graduate study. The Master of Arts program prepares students to become Asian specialists in many fields, most especially, government and diplomatic services, business, and secondary and tertiary education.

The languages offered by the department are Arabic, Chinese (Mandarin), Japanese and Filipino. Area courses cover the civilizations and affairs of Asia, with emphasis on China, Japan, India, and Korea.

Major Program

In addition to meeting the standards and requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences, degree candidates must complete a minimum of 48 credits in Asian Studies.

Departmental Requirements

I. Language Courses

24 credits in a single Asian language

II. Area Courses

24 credits in area studies, 12 of which must include the following:

ASIA 3127 History of Traditional China

ASIA 3128 History of Modern China

ASIA 3129 History of Traditional Japan

ASIA 3130 History of Modern Japan

Select 6 credits in social science courses from among the following:

ASIA 2112 Geography of Asia

ASIA 2114 China in World Affairs

ASIA 3114 Asian Politics

ASIA 3115 Asian Social Life

ASIA 3131 Contemporary Chinese Politics

ASIA 3132 Contemporary Japan and other approved courses

Select 6 credits in humanities courses from among the following:

ASIA 1101 World Religions

ASIA 1111 Zen and Yoga

ASIA 2101-2102 Asian Literature in English Translation I-II

ASIA 1403 History of Asian Religious Reflections and other approved courses

Minor Program

In addition to meeting the standards and requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences, students minoring in Asian studies must complete a total of 21 credits in the field.

Track A

Required Courses: 9 credits

ASIA 1601 History of Traditional Asia

ASIA 1602 History of Modern Asia

Plus one additional Asian area studies course

Electives

Completion of 12 credits in one Asian language, or 12 credits in Asian Area Studies.

Track B

Completion of 18 credits in one Asian language and one Asian area studies course (3 credits)

The Language Resource Center

The Language Resource Center in the College of Arts and Sciences is committed to facilitating a teaching and learning environment where students, faculty and staff have the opportunity to explore language and culture in a technology-enhanced setting. Language learners will find computer workstations with headphones and language learning software, as well as reference books, publications and foreign language films for the following languages: Arabic, Chinese, Japanese, Russian, French, Spanish, German and Italian. The Language Resource Center also provides information on assessment and placement exams, as well as careers for language learners. For information, visit Fahy Hall Room 202, e-mail lrc@shu.edu, or call (973) 761-9457.

This course is for first time participants to the exchange program. Prerequisite: 3.0 GPA or consent of Director of Japanese Program. 3 credits

ASIA 2233 June in China

This course offers students a chance to experience firsthand one of the world's most unique and industrious societies. Through lectures, class discussion, field trips and written assignments, students will develop a better understanding of different aspects and the current developments of China, thereby opening up their intellectual horizon. Prerequisite: Consent of the instructor. 3 credits

ASIA 3113 (RELS 2551) Eastern Mysticism

Compares the Western model of "spiritual journey," the intuitive approach of the Upanishads, the devotional orientation of the Bhagavad-Gita, and the Yogic path of spiritual transformation. The early Buddhist notion of "nirvana" and subsequent Zen emphases. The Chinese search for "Tao" and "li." 3 credits

ASIA 3114 (POLS 2611) Asian Politics

Political systems and behavior in modern Japan, China, India, and Southeast Asia. 3 credits

ASIA 3115 Asian Social Life

Asian social institutions and customs, ethnic relations, and family life. 3 credits

ASIA 3119 The Holy Books of India

Vedas, Upanishads, Ramayana, Yoga-Sutras, and the Vedanta Sutra of the Hindu tradition. Selections from the Pali canon of the Buddhist tradition. 3 credits

ASIA 3120 India and Its People

The term "India" that in pre-modern times included the modern nation-states of India, Pakistan, Afghanistan, Bangladesh, Nepal, Bhutan, and Sri Lanka comprises one of the most multiethnic, multi-linguistic, and multi-cultural populations on earth. This course will attempt to trace the diverse histories of the peoples of "India" and their cultural legacies. 3 credits

ASIA 3127 (HIST 3621) History of Traditional China

From the origins to A.D. 1800. Political, social and intellectual characteristics of Chinese civilization. 3 credits

ASIA 3128 (HIST 3651) History of Modern China

Transformation and continuity in China since 1800. Includes the causes and implications of Qing Dynasty encounters with foreign powers, internal rebellions, dynastic collapse, tumult of the Republican period, war against Japan, civil war between the Nationalists and Communists, communist rule and contemporary reforms and ongoing one-party control of power. 3 credits

ASIA 3129 (HIST 3622) History of Traditional Japan

Origins to A.D. 1800. Periods of aristocratic and military dominance, the "Christian century," and the isolation of Japan in the Tokugawa period. 3 credits

ASIA 3130 (HIST 3652) History of Modern Japan

1800 to the present. Rapid Meiji modernization, assertive militarism, World War II defeat, astounding economic revival, and present-day global influences and political and economic challenges. 3 credits

ASIA 3131 (POLS 2616) Contemporary Chinese Politics

The main theme of this course is political development on mainland China in terms of Chinese leaders' effort to build a new nation. The course starts with a survey of modern Chinese history, with its emphasis on the power struggle between the Chinese Nationalists and Communists before 1949. The rest of the course deals with major aspects of organization and mobilization of Chinese people by the Chinese Communist Party, as well as power politics and political movements. 3 credits

ASIA 3132 (HIST 3686) Contemporary Japan

Postwar reform and reconstruction of Japan during the MacArthur era; reasons for Japan's rapid economic development in the 1950s and 1960s; political, trade, and economic development in the 1970s and 1980s; the economic stagnation of the 1990s; issues and questions about democracy in Japan since World War II; challenges Japan faces in its relations with other nations; questions of remilitarization; Japan's struggle to be competitive; and Japan's balancing role in the Asia Pacific Region. 3 credits

ASIA 3133 Contemporary China

With a population of some 1.3 billion, China's open-door policy, begun in the late 1970s, has produced significant and far-reaching changes in its society and economy. This course focuses on contemporary transformations of the world's largest Communist country: changes in social values and structure; lifestyle; people's attitudes; foreign investments; special economic zones; economic transactions; and the emergence of private enterprises. Lecture supplemented by video, Internet, and CD-ROM resources. 3 credits

ASIA 3134 China and Japan: Diplomacy, Politics, and Economy

A survey of Chinese-Japanese political, economic, and cultural relations and comparison of the Chinese and Japanese political systems. Special attention to economic and political developments in contemporary China and Japan, and to major issues and problems in China-Japan political and economic relations during the 1990s and into the 21st century. 3 credits

ASIA 3311 SHU Japan Exchange Program II

Seton Hall University has been exchanging students with a Japanese university to broaden and deepen the understanding between two countries. Students are given the chance to meet Japanese people and learn firsthand about their civilization and culture. The course also includes numerous field trips in Japan. This course is for second time participants to the exchange program. Prerequisite: ASIA 2211 or consent of Director of Japanese Program 3 credits

Chinese

CHIN 1102-1103 Introductory Chinese I - II

Mastery of the basic skills of modern spoken Mandarin Chinese: Pinyin Romanization, pronunciation, basic sentence patterns and vocabulary. Stress on listening comprehension and the ability to communicate in everyday situations. 3 credits

CHIN 1104-1105 Introductory Chinese Reading I-II

Mastery of the 600 most commonly used characters and the vocabulary arising from their combinations. Study of simple colloquial texts as a supplement to the basic sentence patterns of spoken Chinese. Pre- or corequisites: CHIN 1102-1103 3 credits each

CHIN 1106-1107 Introductory Interactive Chinese I-II

A laboratory course designed to supplement CHIN 1104-1105 that focuses on reinforcing development of the four skills through multifaceted interactive programs on the computer. Corequisites: CHIN 1104-1105. 1 credit each

CHIN 2101-2102 Intermediate Chinese I-II

Attainment of the ability to communicate in a variety of social situations. Vocabulary building and mastery of more complex sentence patterns of modern spoken Mandarin through classroom practice and drills. Prerequisites: CHIN 1102-1103. 3 credits each

CHIN 2103-2104 Intermediate Chinese Reading I-II

Mastery of 600 additional Chinese characters and their combinations. Reading of texts in colloquial Chinese, as reinforcement to grammar and syntax. Pre- or corequisites: CHIN 2101-2102. 3 credits each

CHIN 2106-2107 Intermediate Interactive Chinese I-II

A laboratory course designed to supplement CHIN 2103-2104 that focuses on reinforcing development of the four skills through multifaceted interactive programs on the computer. Prerequisites: CHIN 1106 and Corequisites: CHIN 2103-2104. 1 credit each

CHIN 3101-3102 Advanced Chinese I-II (formerly known as CHIN 3101-3102 Advanced I-II)

Continuation of the listening, speaking, reading, writing skills development in Chinese. Emphasis on reading advanced written materials in modern Chinese, with practice leading to a high level of oral expression. Prerequisites: CHIN 2102 and 2104. 3 credits each

CHIN 3211-3212 Readings in Classical Chinese I-II

Introduction to classical Chinese through selected readings, with emphasis on classical grammar and syntax. Prerequisite: CHIN 3102. 3 credits each

CHIN 3213-3214 Readings in Modern Chinese I-II

Selected readings in modern Chinese materials in the social sciences and humanities. Prerequisite: CHIN 3102. 3 credits each

CHIN 3215-3216 Chinese Newspaper Readings I-II

Introduction to journalistic writings, including materials selected from newspapers and magazines. Prerequisite: CHIN 2112 or 2102. 3 credits each

FilipinoFILI 1011-1012 Introductory Filipino I-II

Mastery of the basic features of Filipino and development of the four skills (comprehension, speaking, reading and writing) through classroom practice and drills, reinforced with audiovisual materials and exercises. Special emphasis is placed on mastering the sound system of Filipino. 3 credits each

FILI 2011-2012 Intermediate Filipino I-II

Develops further the speaking and reading skills learned in Introductory Filipino I and II. The courses focus on standard Filipino grammar and the construction of complex sentences.

Readings from periodicals on Philippine culture serve as the springboard for instruction. Prerequisite: FILI 1012. 3 credits each

JapaneseJAPN 1012-1013 Elementary Interactive Japanese I-II

Intensive oral drills and laboratory activities, including computer-assisted instruction. Reinforces the material covered in JAPN 1102-1103. Taken simultaneously with JAPN 1102-1103. 1 credit each

JAPN 1101 Intensive Introductory Japanese

Intensive study of modern Japanese. Accelerated course developing the proficiency-oriented linguistic skills of listening, speaking, reading, and writing (Hiragana, Katakana and Kanji) mainly through computer-aided learning methods. 6 credits

JAPN 1102-1103 Introductory Japanese I-II

Modern Japanese. Mastery of the basic proficiency-oriented linguistic skills of listening, speaking, reading, and writing (Hiragana, Katakana and Kanji) mainly through computer-aided learning methods. 3 credits each

JAPN 2012-2013 Intermediate Interactive Japanese I-II

Intensive oral drills and laboratory activities, including computer-assisted instruction. Reinforces the material covered in JAPN 2101-2102. Taken simultaneously with JAPN 2101-2102. 1 credit each

JAPN 2101-2102 Intermediate Japanese I - II

Review of the essentials of grammar and vocabulary. More advanced study, with emphasis on listening, speaking, reading, and writing. Prerequisite for JAPN 2101: JAPN 1103. Prerequisite for JAPN 2102: JAPN 2101. 3 credits

JAPN 2111 Intensive Intermediate Japanese

More advanced study, with emphasis on speaking, vocabulary building, reading and grammar. Prerequisite: JAPN 1101. 6 credits

JAPN 3111-3112 Third Level Japanese I - II

Continuation of the four skills development in Japanese. Emphasis on reading. Prerequisites for JAPN 3111: JAPN 2111 or 2102. Prerequisite for JAPN 3112: JAPN 3111. 3 credits each

JAPN 3113-3114 Introduction to Readings in Japanese I-II

Intermediate level readings. Emphasis on modern Japanese in the various disciplines. Prerequisite: JAPN 2111 or JAPN 2102. 3 credits each

JAPN 3211-3212 Business Japanese I-II

Emphasis on conversation and reading in business-related materials. Includes basic business correspondence. (For students who have reached the third-year level in Japanese language.) Prerequisite: JAPN 2111 or JAPN 2102. 3 credits each

Department of Biological Sciences

McNulty Hall (Science and Technology Center)

www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/biology

Faculty: Ahmad; Bentivegna (Chair), Blake; Chang; Chu; Glenn; Klaus; Ko; Krause; Moldow (Director of Health Professions); Pumfery; Rawn (Director of Graduate Studies); Xing; Zhou

Faculty Associates: Ruscigno (Director of Dual Degree Programs); Tall

Faculty Emeriti: DeProsopo; Hsu; Katz; Kramer; Orsi

The Department of Biological Sciences offers programs of study leading to the following degrees: Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, Master of Science in Biology, Master of Science in Biology with a Business Administration minor, Master of Science in Microbiology, and Doctor of Philosophy in Molecular Bioscience. The Department of Biological Sciences also offers three dual degree programs: Physical Therapy (B.S./D.P.T.), Physician Assistant (B.S./M.S.P.A.), and Athletic Training (B.S./M.S.A.T.) with the School of Health and Medical Sciences. At the undergraduate level, the Department of Biological Sciences also offers an interdisciplinary minor program in environmental sciences.

Biology Honors Program

The Biology Honors Program offers the opportunity for students to work closely with faculty members on sustained research projects, leading to the presentation of their work at scientific forums and published papers. The Biology Honors Program is open to students with a minimum GPA of 3.0 in science courses. Students must complete at least 8 credits of biology research under the direction of a faculty member (2181*, 3191, 3192, 3193, 3194*, 4186) and present their work at two scientific forums. From these credits in the Honors Program, 4 may be applied as biology electives in completing the 14 elective credits needed for the major, the remaining 4-6 credits will be counted as general electives. Honors students also will receive training in the responsible conduct of research and are encouraged to continue their research over the summer. *optional

Advanced Placement

Students with a score of 4 or higher in the Biology Advanced Placement Exam may waive the natural science requirement of the arts and sciences core curriculum. The credits are assigned to BIOL 1101 or BIOL 1111. These two courses are not part of the requirements for biology majors.

Major Program

The undergraduate major in biology provides a strong background in the biological sciences in preparation for careers in any area of biology, medicine, dentistry and related professions. It is sufficiently flexible and open to ensure the scheduling of arts and humanities courses for a broad cultural education. Through elective courses, the program gives students the opportunity to become familiar with different specialized areas of biology and to engage in independent library or laboratory research.

Each student in the major is assigned a faculty member who serves as adviser throughout the student's undergraduate years. The adviser provides continuity of information and guidance to help plan the student's academic program, evaluate progress, and explore career goals. While all students are required to schedule certain courses (see departmental requirements), each student selects courses and develops a specific program in consultation with the academic adviser.

Successful completion of the New Jersey Basic Skills Computation and Algebra tests, or equivalent tests administered by the Seton Hall University mathematics department, is prerequisite to all courses listed.

Professional Programs

For information on Health Professions see the Health Professions/Pre-Medical and Pre-Dental Advisory Committee section of the catalogue.

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree

The Bachelor of Science degree (B.S.) is intended for those students interested in pursuing careers in science and considering application to graduate programs in science or medicine. In addition to meeting the standards and requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences, degree candidates for the Bachelor of Science in Biology must complete a minimum of 65 credits in biology, chemistry, mathematics and physics. Students majoring in biology with the intent to earn the B.S. degree follow the College of Arts and Sciences B.S. Core Curriculum. This includes all students pursuing dual degree programs in the Department of Biological Sciences.

Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) Degree

The B.A. in Biology (major code BIOA) is a program that provides a solid foundation in laboratory-based life science for students who are interested in integrating their study of biology with other related areas including law, ethics, psychology, history, computer science, writing or journalism. The program is of interest to students majoring in education, for students interested in science writing, and for general understanding of this area of study, that is increasingly important for informed citizenship, intelligent parenting, and life-long learning.

In addition to meeting the standards and requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences, degree candidates for the B.A. in Biology must complete a minimum of 31 credits in biology, chemistry, and mathematics as well as 15 credits from the major elective course list below for a total of 46 credits. At least two major elective courses must be in Biology (BIOL), and no more than 4 credits of Biology electives may be in research, independent study or Co-op courses.

Students pursuing the B.A. in Biology will follow the College of Arts and Sciences Core Curriculum requirements for B.A. students.

 Seniors will take Biology Senior Seminar in the Fall if they expect to graduate in December.*

BIOL 1201, 1202, and 2211 are prerequisites for all biology major elective courses. Individual courses may have additional prerequisites as shown in the course descriptions. Students must check with biology department advisers to make sure courses are acceptable before registering.

Student academic records will be reviewed each year. To continue as a biology major after earning 30 or more credits, a student must have earned a minimum 2.0 GPA in the departmental requirements (biology, chemistry, math, and physics courses). Students whose GPA is less than 2.0 will be counseled about an alternate major. Students may continue to take biology courses for which they have satisfied the prerequisites, and may request reinstatement in the biology major at a later time. Note that the university requires a 2.0 GPA (minimum "C" average) in the major and overall in order to graduate.

Minor Program in Environmental Sciences

The environmental sciences minor is intended primarily for science majors who wish to formally concentrate their studies specifically in the area of environmental science. This 23-credit minor is available to any student who meets the requirements. In order to take the four required science courses offered in the environmental sciences minor, the student must first complete certain prerequisite courses, as follows:

- A. BIOL 1201 General Biology/Organism;
BIOL 1202 General Biology/Cell;
BIOL 2211 Genetics
(as prerequisites for Ecology and Environmental Toxicology)
- B. CHEM 1123/1125-1124/1125 General Chemistry I-II, and CHEM 2313-2314 Organic Chemistry I-II
(as prerequisites for Environmental Chemistry, Environmental Toxicology and Environmental Physics)
- C. PHYS 1701-1702 General Physics I-II
(as prerequisites for Environmental Physics); and
- D. MATH 1401 Calculus I

Required Courses: 14 credits

BIOL 2341	Ecology	4
BIOL 3341	Environmental Toxicology	3
CHEM 3214*	Environmental Chemistry	4
PHYS 3511	Environmental Physics	3

*CHEM 2216 can be substituted for CHEM 3214.

Physical Therapy Dual Degree Program

The Department of Biological Sciences and the School of Health and Medical Sciences (SHMS) offer a 3 + 4 dual degree program leading to a Bachelor of Science in Biology and a Doctor of Physical Therapy (B.S./D.P.T.). This seven-year program offers select students an opportunity to study in a traditional liberal arts environment as well as in various healthcare settings.

Physical therapists have the rewarding opportunity to make a positive difference in the quality of people's lives. Along with the patient and other healthcare practitioners, the physical therapist shares the hard work and commitment needed to accomplish each individual patient's goals.

For people with health problems resulting from aging, injury or disease, the physical therapist assists in the recovery process making them stronger, relieving their pain, helping them to regain use of an affected limb, to improve posture and balance, or to relearn such daily living activities as walking.

Another role of the physical therapist is keeping people well and safe from injury. Physical therapists do this by teaching people the importance of fitness and showing them how to avoid hurting their bodies at work or play. By designing and supervising individualized conditioning programs, physical therapists promote optimal physical performance. Physical therapy practice is centered on patient care and may include education, research and administrative activities.

Admission Criteria

Admission to the (B.S./D.P.T.) program is open to applicants who have successfully completed a high school college preparatory curriculum, including courses in social sciences, biology, mathematics, physics, English, a foreign language and chemistry. The Scholastic Assessment Test (SAT) scores are required of all applicants. International students must submit Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) scores.

Applicants are required to volunteer or work under the supervision of a physical therapist in a local hospital or other healthcare setting to strengthen interpersonal skills as well as to develop an understanding of the needs and capabilities of patients and the role of physical therapists.

The combined B.S./D.P.T. program is unique because it accepts students for enrollment in the entire program. Students who maintain the required GPA as undergraduates are guaranteed admission into the final four years of the professional studies. Due to a limit on the number of physical therapy students in each entering freshman class, admission into the program is extremely selective.

Program Requirements

Students who maintain the required GPA of 3.0 overall and 3.0 in prerequisite courses (A&P I and II, Chemistry I and II, Physics I and II, English I, Oral Communication/Rhetoric, Calculus I, Psychology with no grades less than

110 College of Arts and Sciences

“C” in prerequisite courses) during each academic semester, and complete the course requirements within the Department of Biological Sciences, will enter the professional phase of the program after their junior year. Students enrolled in an undergraduate dual degree program must declare their intent to continue matriculation in their major no later than August 15th prior to their junior year.

 Please note: At the end of each semester, the student's overall GPA will be evaluated. If by the end of the spring semester of the freshman year, or any subsequent semester during the first three undergraduate years of the B.S./D.P.T. program, a student's overall GPA falls below a 2.7, the student will automatically lose his or her guaranteed seat as a B.S./D.P.T. dual degree student, and will become a biology major. In the event the student can bring his or her overall and prerequisite GPA to a 3.0 or higher prior to the start of the junior year, the student can re-enter the B.S./D.P.T. program depending on seat availability.

The students in the B.S./D.P.T. program are required to take a biology elective in their junior year. All biology electives for the B.S./D.P.T. program must be at the 3000 or 4000 level. A 2000 level course will not meet the biology elective requirement. Furthermore, all prerequisite and B.S. degree requirements must be successfully completed no later than August 1 prior to beginning the professional D.P.T. courses.

Eligible students seeking to transfer into the B.S./D.P.T. program will be considered on a space-available basis.

Prior to admission into the fourth year, students must also complete 50 hours of volunteer work under the supervision of a physical therapist. This volunteer experience will allow students to strengthen interpersonal skills and to develop an understanding of the needs and capabilities of patients and the role of physical therapists. The volunteer work can be satisfied at any time prior to admission into the fourth year.

Physician Assistant Dual Degree Program

The Department of Biological Sciences and the School of Health and Medical Sciences (SHMS) offer a dual degree program leading to a Bachelor of Science in Biology and a Master of Science in Physician Assistant (B.S./M.S.P.A.). This six-year program offers the opportunity to study in a traditional liberal arts environment as well as in diverse clinical settings.

The Bachelor of Science in Biology is awarded at the completion of four years of work and the Master of Science in Physician Assistant is awarded at the completion of the sixth year of study.

Physician assistants (PAs) are healthcare professionals licensed to practice medicine with physician supervision. As part of their comprehensive responsibilities, PAs conduct physical exams, diagnose and treat illnesses, order and interpret tests, counsel on preventive health care, assist in surgery, and in virtually all states can write prescriptions. Within the physician-PA relationship, physician assistants exercise autonomy in medical decision making and provide a broad range of diagnostic and therapeutic services. A PA's practice may also include education, research, and administrative services. Physician assistants are found in all areas of medicine. They practice in the areas of primary care medicine (family medicine, internal medicine, pediatrics, and obstetrics and gynecology) as well as in surgery and the surgical subspecialties.

Admission Criteria

Admission to the program is open to applicants who successfully completed a high school college preparatory curriculum, including courses in the social sciences, biology, mathematics, physics, English, a foreign language and chemistry. The Scholastic Assessment Test (SAT) scores are required of all applicants. International students must submit Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) scores.

112 College of Arts and Sciences

Applicants are encouraged to volunteer or work in a local hospital or other healthcare setting to strengthen interpersonal skills and to develop an understanding of the needs and capabilities of patients and the role of physician assistants.

The combined B.S./M.S.P.A. program is unique because it accepts students for enrollment in the entire program. Students who maintain the required GPA as an undergraduate are guaranteed admission into the final three years of professional studies. Due to a limit on the number of PA students in each entering freshman class, admission into the program is extremely selective.

Program Requirements

Students who maintain the required GPA of 3.0 overall and 3.0 in selected courses (A&P I and II, Microbiology, Chemistry I and II, Calculus I, Biology, English I, Psychology, and Foundations in Oral Rhetoric - with no grade less than "C" in prerequisite courses) during each academic semester and complete the course requirements within the Department of Biological Sciences will enter the professional phase of the program after their junior year. Students enrolled in an undergraduate dual degree program must declare their intent to continue matriculation in their major no later than August 15th prior to their junior year. Eligible students seeking to transfer into any SHMS dual degree program will be considered on a space-available basis.

Prior to admission into the fourth year, students must complete 100 hours of volunteer work under the supervision of a clinician in at least one healthcare setting to strengthen interpersonal skills, and to develop an understanding of the needs and capabilities of patients and the role of physician assistants. The volunteer work can be satisfied at any time prior to admission into the fourth year.

 Please note: At the end of each semester, the student's overall GPA will be evaluated. If by the end of the spring semester freshman year and any semester after that in the first three years of the B.S./M.S.P.A. program, a student's overall GPA falls below a 2.7, the student will automatically lose his or her guaranteed seat in the B.S./M.S.P.A. program (that is a biology major following the PA track) and will become a biology major. In the event the student can bring his or her grades up to a 3.0 (overall and prerequisite GPAs), prior to the start of the junior year and depending on seat availability, the student can re-enter the B.S./M.S.P.A. program.

Also, with regard to the B.S./M.S.P.A. program, a student must complete all science courses by the end of the spring semester of their junior year. Core courses that have not been completed by the end of the spring semester of the junior year can be taken in the summer of the student's junior year. Students may not repeat courses in the summer of their junior year; they may take only core courses that they elected to take for the first time that summer.

Athletic Training Dual Degree Program

The Department of Biological Sciences and the School of Health and Medical Sciences (SHMS) offer a dual degree program leading to a Bachelor of Science in Biology (B.S.) and a Master of Science in Athletic Training (M.S.A.T.). This five-year program offers students the opportunity to study in a traditional liberal arts environment as well as in a major healthcare organization.

The Master of Science in Athletic Training (M.S.A.T.) is intended to prepare graduates to critically analyze and convey information to patients, colleagues, and other health professionals. These clinicians will be able to provide a broad range of patient care services, and perform research and administrative responsibilities. This is accomplished through students and faculty building collaborations, participating in professional organizations in athletic training, and administering athletic training services.

The mission of the Master of Science in Athletic Training program is to prepare students to become competent and independent clinicians who will enhance the quality of patient health care and to advance the profession of athletic training. The program teaches and provides practical experiences to enable graduates to assume leadership roles both within the field of athletic training and within the community.

The professional phase of the M.S.A.T. program includes academic courses and clinical practica in athletic training. Students develop the knowledge and skills needed to perform as entry-level athletic training clinicians and to grow and adapt to the rapid changes in the profession and health care. Upon program completion students will be thoroughly prepared for the Board of Certification (BOC) Examination and able to enter the professional as entry-level practitioners. Additionally the curriculum prepares students for the Strength and Conditioning Specialist (CSCS) examination.

Accreditation

The Master of Science in Athletic Training program is fully accredited by the Commission on Accreditation of Athletic Training Education (CAATE), which maintains education standards for accredited athletic training education programs.

Admission Criteria

Admission to the program is open to applicants who successfully completed a high school college preparatory curriculum including courses in the social sciences, biology, mathematics, physics, English, a foreign language and chemistry. The Scholastic Assessment Test (SAT) scores are required of all applicants. International students must submit Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) scores.

Applicants are encouraged to volunteer or work with a Certified Athletic Trainer (ATC) in their high school, local sports medicine clinic, hospital or other healthcare setting. This experience will help strengthen interpersonal skills and to develop an understanding of the needs and capabilities of patients and the role of athletic trainers.

The combined B.S./M.S.A.T. program is unique because it accepts students for enrollment in the entire program. Students who maintain the required GPA as an undergraduate are guaranteed admission into the final three years of professional studies. Due to a limit on the number of athletic training students in each entering freshman class, admission into the program is extremely selective.

Course Descriptions

Equivalent courses taken elsewhere may be accepted as prerequisites. Students should check with advisers to make sure courses are acceptable before registering.

BIOL 1201, 1202, and 2211 are prerequisites for all biology major elective courses. Individual courses may have additional prerequisites as shown in the following course descriptions. Students must check with biology department advisers to make sure courses are acceptable before registering.

From the combined course groups of Biology Honors, Independent Study and Biology Research a maximum of 4 credits may be counted toward biology major credits for the B.S. and B.A. degrees. Any additional credits earned in those three course groups count as general electives.

Core waivers will be considered for incoming students who transfer with an associate degree in biology. Please contact the department for more information.

BIOL 1101 Introduction to Biology

Introduction to concepts that contribute to understanding the distinctive nature and characteristics of life, its cellular, physical and chemical bases. Emphasis on the function of tissues, organs and systems of the human body. Three-hour lecture per week. (For students not majoring in the sciences.) 3 credits

BIOL 1102-1103 Human Anatomy and Physiology I-II

Introduction to the function of organ systems and their integration by the nervous and endocrine systems. Elements of structure as a basis for understanding function. Emphasis on the mechanisms of regulation of body processes that maintain life in the face of environmental change. Three-hour lecture, three-hour laboratory per week. Not for Biology majors. BIOL 1102 is the prerequisite for BIOL 1103. Students must earn a "C" or higher in BIOL 1102 to continue to BIOL 1103. Lab fee $25 for each. 4 credits each

BIOL 1104 Biology in the World Around Us

Introduction to concepts that contribute to understanding the distinctive nature and characteristics of life, its chemical, informational, cellular, and ecological basis, with emphasis on the human and laboratory discovery. Lecture and Lab. (For students not majoring in the sciences). 4 credits.

BIOL 1105-1106 Human Structure and Function I-II

Biology of Homo sapiens, including discussions of human evolution, ecology, genetics and development; mammalian cellular, tissue, and organ structure and function; mammalian physiology emphasizing nervous and hormonal coordination necessary for homeostasis. Three-hour lecture, three-hour laboratory per week. (Primarily for psychology majors). 4 credits each

BIOL 1110 Introduction to Marine Biology

A field and laboratory oriented course covering the biology and characteristics of marine plants and animals. The course is designed to provide the student with instruction and experience in collecting and identifying examples of local marine flora and fauna. Course is held at Sandy Hook, NJ. See instructor for registration materials and information. 4 credits

BIOL 1111 Introduction to Applications of Biology

A discussion of connections between the concepts and information base of biology and their applications in medicine, agriculture, ecology, genetics and other biological fields. Connections to chemistry, physics and math are shown. Students study biological foundation material from text and lectures in order to evaluate biology-related reports in newspapers, magazines and other media of public information. A free elective, for students in Intermediate Algebra who intend to take BIOL 1201/1202, and for those in Pre-Calculus who may want to strengthen their biology background before taking BIOL 1201/1202. Three-hour lecture per week. Corequisite: MATH 1014. 3 credits

BIOL 1115-1116 Human Structure and Function I-II

Same course content as BIOL 1105-1106, but does not include lab. Three-hour lecture per week. (Primarily for psychology majors). 3 credits each

BIOL 1201 General Biology/Organism

Introduction to taxonomy, phylogeny, and evolution of organisms. Structure and function of bodily systems to maintain homeostasis. Three-hour lecture, three-hour laboratory per week. Corequisite or prerequisite: MATH 1015 or higher. 4 credits

BIOL 1202 General Biology/Cell

Introduction to genetics, the cellular basis of life forms, the structures and functions of biologically important molecules. Covers cellular and molecular aspects of operation of bodily systems that are treated more descriptively in BIOL 1201 (e.g., kidney function, nerve cell function, muscle contraction, hormone action and cellular recognition in immunity). Includes microscopy, permeability, molecular modeling, enzyme studies, spectrophotometry, statistics and data analysis. Three-hour lecture and three-hour laboratory per week. Prerequisites: BIOL 1201 and MATH 1015 or higher. 4 credits

BIOL 2111 Introduction to Microbiology

Integrated approach to the principles of bacteriology, mycology, virology and parasitology to provide a better understanding of the problems of health and disease. Three-hour lecture, two hour laboratory per week. (Not for science majors or pre-medical/ pre-dental students) Prerequisites: BIOL 1102, CHEM 1301. 4 credits

BIOL 2122 (ENVL 2122) Introduction to Ecology

Application of basic scientific laws, principles and concepts to environmental and resource problems. Scientific concepts such as resources; soil, water and food; ecosystems, atmosphere and geologic processes; air and water pollution and pesticides will be addressed. Studies also include population and community dynamics. Part of the environmental studies major and minor; not a biology major elective course. Prerequisite: BIOL 1101 and CHEM 1001 or equivalent. 4 credits

BIOL 2181 Biology Honors I

Use of library resources to search the literature of the biological sciences and compile bibliographies. Principles of scientific inquiry and development of scientific theories explored through discussion with faculty. Review of various research areas and topics for laboratory investigation. Class assignments and term papers. One hour per week. Prerequisite: BIOL 2211. 1 credit

BIOL 2211 Genetics

Fundamental principles of classic and molecular genetics. Simple inheritance patterns, cytogenetics, DNA replication, protein synthesis, regulatory mechanisms, genetic engineering and behavioral genetics. Problems of human genetics as related to genetic counseling and genetic engineering. Laboratory experiments illustrate principles of genetics using various organisms. Introduction to statistics and computers as applied to genetics. Three-hour lecture, three-hour laboratory per week. Prerequisites: BIOL 1201-1202. 4 credits

BIOL 2229 Cell Biology

Study of cell morphology and cell physiology, including diversity of cell types resulting from cell specialization, the intracellular and intercellular mechanisms by which cells communicate, reproduce, and develop. Experimental approaches and methodology are emphasized, as well as the cell's fundamental importance in medicine and disease. Laboratory exercises emphasize experimental design and execution, as well as data collection, analysis and presentation. Quantitative problem solving is emphasized throughout the lecture and laboratory components. Three-hour lecture, three hour laboratory per week. Prerequisite: BIOL 2211. 4 credits

BIOL 2331 Histology

Study of normal cells and tissues and how they are organized to form functional organ systems in humans. Laboratory involves analysis of prepared slides as well as some of the current microscopic techniques used to study cells and tissues. Lecture and labs are offered on-line. Face-to-face meetings with instructor each week for review of lecture and lab materials. Prerequisite: BIOL 2211. 4 credits

BIOL 2341 Ecology

Adaptation of organisms to their environment; population dynamics; symbiosis; community and ecosystem structure and function; emphasis on role of microorganisms in biotransformation, element cycling and energy flow; experience in field techniques. Three-hour lecture, three-hour laboratory per week. Offered in alternate years. Prerequisite: BIOL 2211. 4 credits

BIOL 3191-3194 Biology Research I - IV

Methods of original laboratory investigation and research projects. Hours by arrangement. (Limited to juniors and seniors selected by the faculty. Arrangements must be made and permission obtained prior to registration). A maximum of 8 credits is permitted in BIOL 3191-3198. From the combined course groups of Biology Honors, Independent Study, and Biology Research a maximum of four credits may be counted toward the 32 biology credits required in the major. Any additional credits earned in those three course groups count as free electives. Prerequisite: BIOL 2211. 2 credits each

BIOL 3195-3198 Independent Study in Biology

Insight into current biological research and, with direct contact with the staff affords the opportunity to examine the biological sciences as a cultural subject and a professional field. Hours are by arrangement. (Limited to students selected by the faculty. Arrangements must be made and permission obtained prior to registration.) A maximum of 8 credits is permitted in BIOL 3191-3198. From the combined course groups of Biology Honors, Independent Study, and Biology Research a maximum of four credits may be counted toward the 32 biology credits required in the major. Any additional credits earned in those three course groups count as free electives. Prerequisite: BIOL 2211. 1 credit each

BIOL 3210 Human Genetics

Inheritance of various traits from simple inheritance patterns to biochemical traits, to behavioral traits and Complex patterns of inheritance. Methods for detection of human traits will be discussed. Prerequisite: BIOL 2211. 3 credits

BIOL 3212 Evolution

Population genetics; Hardy-Weinberg equilibrium; genetic variation; kinds of selection; speciation mechanism; major phylogenetic patterns; evidence for organic evolution; and modern techniques (such as biochemical, morphometric, behavioral) in population genetics and taxonomy. Three-hour lecture per week. Offered in alternate years. Prerequisite: BIOL 2211. 3 credits

BIOL 3231 Molecular Biology

Study of the chemical and physical structures of DNA molecules. Genetic code, transcription, translation, mutation and the regulatory mechanisms of DNA, RNA and proteins of prokaryotes and eukaryotes. Contemporary biotechnology topics are introduced, and recent scientific articles are also included. Prerequisite: BIOL 2211. 3 credits

BIOL 3232 Molecular Biology Lab

Laboratory component of BIOL 3231. Corequisite BIOL 3231. 1 credit

BIOL 3233 Metabolic Pathways In Living Systems

Synthesis and degradation of organic molecules in living systems, especially Man. Dietary, medical and genetic aspects of metabolism. Integration and regulation of pathways. Includes metabolic activities restricted to plants and microorganisms; representative antibiotics, toxins, drugs. Three-hour lecture per week. Prerequisites: BIOL 2211 and CHEM 2321/2315; Senior status; 3.0 GPA. 3 credits

BIOL 3241 Introduction to Immunology

Discussion of antigenicity, recognition and specificity. Development of the immune system: humoral and cell mediated responses. Cellular interactions, lymphokines and regulations. Structure and function of immunoglobulins, genetic basis of diversity, gammopathy and monoclonal antibody. Complement system, tolerance and immunosuppression. Autoimmunity and immunogenetics. Three-hour lecture and four-hour laboratory per week. Prerequisites: BIOL 2211, CHEM 2321/2315. 4 credits

BIOL 3321 Vertebrate Physiology

A comprehensive coverage of the physiology of cells, organs and organ systems with emphasis on the underlying biophysical and biochemical principles of function. Organ systems, including nerve, muscle, cardiovascular, respiratory and renal, are examined from the standpoint of their regulation and role in maintenance of homeostasis. Three-hour lecture, three-hour laboratory per week. Prerequisite: BIOL 2211. 4 credits

BIOL 3323 Neuroendocrinology

Role of hormones in coordinating homeostasis. Emphasis on neuroendocrinology, including functional neuroanatomy and neuro-chemistry. Study of the mechanism of action of hormones at the cellular and molecular levels. Review and analysis of current literature. Three-hour lecture per week. Prerequisite: BIOL 2211. Recommended: CHEM 2321/2315. 3 credits

BIOL 3333 Embryology

Descriptive and experimental study of the development of vertebrates with emphasis on human development. Topics include gametogenesis, fertilization, cleavage, gastrulation, organogenesis and mechanisms involved in control of shaping, pattern formation and gene expression during development. Three-hour lecture, three-hour laboratory per week. Prerequisite: BIOL 2211. 4 credits

BIOL 3338-3339 Human Anatomy and Physiology I-II

Introduction to the skeletal system and muscular system as well as the study of the various organ systems. The cardiovascular and respiratory system are covered in Part I. The nervous system, endocrine and reproductive system are also covered as well as the gastrointestinal and renal system. Metabolism is studied. Element of structure as a basis of understanding function is a key concept in this course. Two one-hour and 15-minute lectures and a three-hour laboratory per week. This course is designed for BIOT (PT Track), BIOP (PA Track), BIOZ (AT Track) specifically. Biology majors who are not in a PT/PA/AT track need special permission of the instructor. Biology majors may take BIOL 3338 for 4 credits in biology electives. Special permission is still needed by the instructor. For biology majors, BIOL 3339 is equivalent to general electives only. Prerequisite: BIOL 2211. 4 credits each

BIOL 3341 Environmental Toxicology

Introduction to principles of ecotoxicology, including toxicity of petroleum and oil, solvents and pesticides, environmental ionizing radiation, air pollution, plant and animal toxins. Analytical and bioassay methods of detection will be studied as well as risk assessment. Three-hour lecture per week. Prerequisites: BIOL 2211, CHEM 2321/2315. 3 credits

BIOL 3411 Microbiology

Microbiological theories, methods and techniques: comprehensive background in the structure, physiology and nomenclature of bacteria, yeast and fungi. Laboratory techniques used for the isolation, staining, culturing and identification of a variety of microorganisms. Three-hour lecture, four-hour laboratory per week. Prerequisite: BIOL 2211. 4 credits

BIOL 3433 Forensic Biology

This course provides a comprehensive review of biological principles applied to forensic science. Topics that will be discussed include, but are not limited to: crime scene, sample recovery and handling, analytical techniques, drug/alcohol use and abuse, serology, firearms, DNA, and hair and fiber analysis. Prerequisite: BIOL 2211. 3 credits

BIOL 3434 Medical Terminology and Physiological Applications

The course has been divided into two specific sections. The first section has been designed to meet the following objectives: word roots, combining forms, prefixes and suffixes, defining and understanding the specialties of medicine, building surgical and diagnostic terms. The course also covers the study of suffixes that pertain to medical diagnosis, the study of suffixes to understand medical procedures, diagnostic imagery- X-ray, CT, MRI, how, why and when to use them. Selected abbreviations that are standard in the medical community. Building terms about disease and disorder- suffixes and prefixes pertaining to specific pathologies will be studied in the first section of the course. Organization of the body- frames of reference, and the anatomical position. Sections of the body: coronal, frontal and transverse and their application to CT scans and MRI will be studied. General word parts about body fluids will be introduced and used to write medical terms. Classification of type of disease, such as organic diseases as opposed to functional disorders. Three-hour lecture. Prerequisite: BIOL 2211. 3 credits.

BIOL 3894 Biology Co-op I

(See Co-op Adviser.) 3 credits

BIOL 3895 Biology Co-op II

(See Co-op Adviser.) 3 credits

BIOL 3896 Biology Co-op III

(See Co-op Adviser.) 3 credits

BIOL 4186 Biology Honors: Senior Thesis

Laboratory research carried out previously are the basis for an extensive written report. The thesis must be completed in order for any biology honors credits to be included in the 32 biology credits required in the major. Prerequisite: BIOL 2211. 1 credit

BIOL 4199 Senior Biology Seminar

Seminars and discussions designed to integrate readings of the current biology literature with both written and oral presentation. Specific goals include: acquiring skills in gathering and analysis of biological information, developing confidence and expertise in presenting biology through writing and speaking, formulating a critical method of evaluating and discussing biology. In addition this seminar will be coordinated with the department's outcome assessment. For senior biology students only. Prerequisite: BIOL 2211. 3 credits

BIOL 4412 Molecular Virology

The goal of this course is to introduce students to the basic principles of virology including genome organization, virus structure, gene expression and replication strategies, virus-host cell interactions and the molecular basis of pathogenesis. All important human viruses will be discussed, including papilloma, herpes, smallpox, polio, measles, West Nile, HIV, influenza, SARS, and hepatitis viruses. Three-hour lecture. Prerequisite: BIOL2211 and BIOL 2229. 3 credits

BIOL 4431 Microbial Genetics

Fundamental principles. Aspects of production and selection of microbial mutants. Classic mechanisms of microbial recombination including transformation, transduction, and conjugation and recombinant DNA technology as it relates to microorganisms. Three-hour lecture. Prerequisite: BIOL 3411. 3 credits

The Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry offers programs leading to the degrees Bachelor of Science, Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy.

The bachelor's degrees in chemistry and biochemistry prepare students for careers and graduate studies in chemistry, biochemistry, forensic science or the health professions. The curriculum includes a rigorous study of the laws, principles and theories applied in the various branches of chemistry, and develops laboratory skills in methods of analysis, synthesis and instrumentation.

The B.S. (ACS) degree program is approved by the Committee on Professional Training of the American Chemical Society. For further information, visit the department Web site at www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/chemistry

Chemistry and Biochemistry Honors Program

The Honors Program in chemistry and biochemistry is for students of exceptional ability and includes seminars and preparation of a review article in the sophomore and junior years. Each student prepares a senior thesis based on original research and works closely with a faculty member on a tutorial basis.

Major Programs

In addition to meeting the standards and requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences, a degree candidate must complete a minimum of 53 credits in chemistry and allied fields. In general, required courses will be taken in the order listed. However, each student's program is designed in consultation with the student's faculty adviser, who may modify the program in view of the student's background and objectives.

There are three distinct undergraduate programs in chemistry and biochemistry, each leading to the Bachelor of Science (B.S.) degree. The first leads to a B.S. in chemistry degree certified by the American Chemical Society (ACS). The second degree is a general chemistry major that allows the student more flexibility. Since fewer chemistry courses are required, the student in the second program may also concentrate on an additional field, such as biology, computer science or business administration, or may take a greater variety of liberal arts courses. Either program can lead to further study at the graduate level in a variety of chemistry intensive areas, including chemistry, biochemistry, medicine, dentistry and forensic science.

The third degree is a B.S. in biochemistry, which is designed to prepare students for graduate study in biochemistry or related fields, for medical school or for employment in the pharmaceutical and clinical industries. The course requirements include those for the general chemistry major, with advanced biology and biochemistry courses added to the program of study. Students who intend to enter graduate school may select from a variety of advanced electives in order to meet specific admission requirements.

Five-Year Dual Degree Program

This program is conducted jointly with the New Jersey Institute of Technology (NJIT) and leads to a B.S. degree in chemistry from Seton Hall University and a B.S. degree in chemical engineering from NJIT. Students spend three years at Seton Hall and two years at NJIT. See page 226 for additional information.

Minor Program in Chemistry

To insure sufficient breadth and depth in the minor in chemistry, the department recommends completion of freshman and sophomore-level courses plus some advanced courses.

The minor in chemistry requires a minimum of 22 credits, as follows:

	Credits
I. Two semesters of general chemistry:
CHEM 1123-1124 General Chemistry I-II
and
CHEM 1125-1126 General Chemistry Laboratory I-II	8
or
CHEM 1107-1108 Principles of Chemistry I-II	9
II. Two semesters of organic chemistry:
CHEM 2321-2322 Organic Chemistry I-II
and
CHEM 2315-2316 Organic Chemistry Laboratory I-II	8
or
CHEM 2313-2314 Organic Chemistry I-II	10
III. Two additional semester courses with course numbers above CHEM 2000 not mutually exclusive.

Total: 22-25

Course Descriptions

Please note: Laboratory fees are nonrefundable.

Successful completion of the New Jersey Basic Skills Computation and Algebra Tests, or completion of equivalent tests administered by the Seton Hall University mathematics department, is prerequisite to all courses listed below except CHEM 1001, 1005 and 1011. (Successful completion means that the student placed into MATH 1015 or higher).

CHEM 1001 Chemistry and the World Around Us

For students with no science background. Examination of the substances encountered in daily life, including common drugs, food, household chemicals, gasoline, paints, plastics and other consumer products. (For non-science students). 3 credits

CHEM 1011 Preparatory College Chemistry

For students with no previous coursework in chemistry, or an inadequate background for college chemistry. Prepares students for college-level chemistry courses required for nursing and science majors. (For science students). Corequisite: MATH 1014 or higher. 3 credits

CHEM 1107-1108 Principles of Chemistry I-II

Development of the principles of chemistry, principally for chemistry and physics majors. Part I: four-hour lecture, four-hour laboratory per week. Part II: three-hour lecture, four-hour laboratory per week. Laboratory work includes inorganic qualitative analysis. Lab fee $20 for each course. Corequisite: MATH 1015 or higher. 4/5 credits

CHEM 1123-1124 General Chemistry I-II

Introduction to the principles of chemistry, principally for biology and allied health majors. Corequisite: MATH 1015 or higher. 3 credits each

CHEM 1125-1126 General Chemistry Lab I-II

Introduction to the principles of the chemical laboratory. Companion courses to CHEM 1123 and 1124. Lab fee $20 for each course. Corequisites: CHEM 1123/1124. 1 credit each

CHEM 1301 Elements of Organic Chemistry and Biochemistry

Fundamental chemistry. Emphasis on the principles of organic and biochemistry that contribute to health and disease. This course is primarily intended to fulfill the chemistry requirement for students in the College of Nursing. Four-hour lecture, three-hour lab per week. (Not for science majors or allied health science majors) Lab fee $20. Prerequisite: CHEM 1011 or one year of high school chemistry. 5 credits

CHEM 2215 Analytical Chemistry I

A fundamental course for physical science majors on the classical methods of analysis. Topics include titrimetry, gravimetry, spectrophotometry, potentiometry, separations, sampling and statistics. Two-hour lecture, eight-hour laboratory per week. Lab fee $20. Prerequisite: CHEM 1108 or 1124. 4 credits

CHEM 2216 Analytical Chemistry II

Theory and practice of modern instrumental methods. Emphasis on the principles of instrumentation. Three-hour lecture, four-hour laboratory per week. Lab fee $20. Prerequisite: CHEM 2215 or permission of instructor. 4 credits

CHEM 2226 Analytical Chemistry II

Lecture-only portion of CHEM 2216. Prerequisite: CHEM 2215 or permission of instructor. 3 credits

CHEM 2313-2314 Organic Chemistry I-II

Principal classes of aliphatic and aromatic compounds. Emphasis on structural theory, reaction mechanisms, organic syntheses. Experimental work emphasizes basic organic laboratory techniques and includes an introduction to qualitative organic analysis. Three-hour lecture, six-hour laboratory and recitation per week. (For students majoring in chemistry). Prerequisite: CHEM 1108 or CHEM 1124. Lab fee $20 for each course. 5 credits each

CHEM 2315-2316 Organic Chemistry Lab I-II

Experimental organic chemistry. Companion course to CHEM 2321 and 2322. Corequisites: CHEM 2321-2322. Lab fee $20 for each course. 1 credit each

CHEM 2321-2322 Organic Chemistry I-II

Principal classes of aliphatic and aromatic compounds. Reactions, mechanisms and synthesis involving simple organic and biochemical molecules. Prerequisite: CHEM 1108 or CHEM 1124. 3 credits each

CHEM 2781 Chemistry Honors I

Seminars and discussions in biochemistry and organic chemistry under the direction of the sophomore honors faculty moderator. Each honors student must deliver one seminar. Seminars are intended to train the honors student in independent searching of the chemical literature, organization and presentation of a technical talk and leadership in discussion. One hour per week. Requires departmental invitation. 1 credit

CHEM 3411-3412 Physical Chemistry I-II

Kinetic theory of gases. The laws of thermodynamics and their applications to ideal and real gases, liquids, mixtures and solutions. Rates of reactions and their theoretical interpretations. Application of elementary quantum chemistry to atomic and molecular structure. Prerequisites: PHYS 1702 or PHYS 1706; MATH 1411. 3 credits each

CHEM 3418 Physical Chemistry for the Biological Sciences

Quantitative concepts that are applicable to biological systems: thermodynamics; chemical kinetics; intermolecular interactions. Analysis of experimental data. (Not for ACS students). Prerequisites: CHEM 2322 or CHEM 2314; MATH 1411; PHYS 1701 or PHYS 1702. 3 credits

CHEM 3512 Elements of Biochemistry

Emphasizes the structures of the major biomacromolecules (nucleic acids, amino acids and proteins, lipids and carbohydrates) involved in cell architecture and dynamics.

Included will be an overview of the primary functions of these molecules, including membrane structure and transport properties, biological catalysis, and enzyme function and regulation. In addition, the laboratory will provide training in modern biochemical techniques. Lab fee $20. Prerequisite: CHEM 2322 or CHEM 2314. 4 credits

CHEM 3522 Elements of Biochemistry

Lecture portion only of CHEM 3512. Prerequisite: CHEM 2322 or CHEM 2314. 3 credits

CHEM 3611 Inorganic Chemistry

Periodic properties of the elements, their comparative group characteristics and structure of some of their compounds. Introduction to transition metal and organometallic chemistry. Pre- or Corequisite: CHEM 2322 or CHEM 2314. 3 credits

CHEM 3781 Chemistry Honors II

Faculty and student seminars and discussions in analytical, inorganic and physical chemistry under the direction of the junior honors faculty moderator. Each honors student must deliver one seminar. One hour per week. Requires departmental invitation. 1 credit

CHEM 3782 Chemistry Honors III

Independent library research culminating in preparation of a review article. The student works closely with a faculty member on a tutorial basis. Requires departmental invitation. 1 credit

CHEM 3894 Chemistry Co-op I

3 credits

CHEM 3895 Chemistry Co-op II

3 credits

CHEM 3896 Chemistry Co-op III

3 credits

Laboratory includes preparation and study of representative materials by physicochemical methods. Data handling by computer techniques emphasized. CHEM 4413 focuses on physical chemistry studies. CHEM 4414 focuses on inorganic synthesis and characterization. Six-hour laboratory per week. Lab fee $20 for each course. Prerequisite: CHEM 3411, PHYS 2212 or MATH 2512. 4 credits each

CHEM 4423 Computational Chemistry

The course will cover the fundamental theory and application of Molecular Mechanics, Classical Molecular Dynamics, Semiempirical, Ab Initio and Density Functional simulation and modeling techniques to atoms, molecules, and solids. Available application programs will be used by the students to demonstrate the principles and provide hands-on experience with modern computational chemistry tools. Prerequisite: CHEM 3412. 3 credits

CHEM 4512 General Biochemistry II

CHEM 4515 Proteins

CHEM 4516 Enzymes

CHEM 4601 Advanced Inorganic Chemistry

CHEM 4618 Physical Methods in Inorganic Chemistry

CHEM 4801-4802 Advanced Laboratory Project in Chemistry

Advanced laboratory techniques: instrumental methods; synthesis; separations; data analysis and formal reporting. Long-term projects with students forming teams of experts. Project development and reporting in consultation with local industrial scientists. Prerequisites: CHEM 2321-2322 or CHEM 2313-2314; CHEM 2215- 2216 or permission of the instructor. 1 credit

CHEM 4891-4894 Chemistry Research

Introduction to methods of original investigation. Individual laboratory research problems, conferences library research. Enrollment limited. (For students majoring in chemistry). Prerequisites: GPA of 3.0 in chemistry. 2 credits each

Department of Classical Studies

Fahy Hall

(973) 761-9458

www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/classical-studies

Faculty: Booth (Chair); Capra; Huyler; Lake

Adjunct Faculty: Korn

The Department of Classical Studies offers a variety of courses that bring students more fully into contact with the roots of their culture. Students gain an awareness and appreciation of the continuity of Western thought by studying the historical, literary, linguistic and religious elements of Greece and Rome. The department approaches this study through its two concentrations: language and culture.

Courses in the department are designed not only for classics majors but also for majors in English, history, political science and philosophy, as well as for any students seeking a broader background in the most fundamental and influential writings of the Western world.

Courses in Latin and Greek give students a new understanding of the English and European languages, and offer direct access to the original texts of ancient poetry, drama, philosophy, history, the New Testament and the writings of the Christian tradition from its origins until modern times. Classical culture courses in English translation offer a broad survey of these literary masterpieces, emphasizing their significance for the modern world as well as for their original cultural context.

Major Program in Classical Studies

In addition to meeting the standards and requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences, degree candidates for the Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) in Classical Studies must complete a minimum of 36 credits in classical studies; at least 18 credits must be in either Latin or Greek. The program is designed in consultation with a department adviser who may modify the program in view of the student's background and objectives.

Minor Programs

I. Latin (18 credits minimum)	Credits
LATN 1101-1102 Elementary Latin I-II	6
LATN 2101-2102 Intermediate Latin I-II	6
LATN 3111-3395 (Choose two)	6

Students entering college with intermediate or advanced competency in Latin may substitute 6-12 credits of advanced Latin for LATN 1101-1102 and/or LATN 2101-2102, per departmental placement. Students may substitute 12 credits in Classical Culture for 6 credits of Latin.

II. Classical Languages (18 credits minimum)	Credits
LATN 1101-1102 Elementary Latin I-II	6
LATN 2101-2102 Intermediate Latin I-II	6
GREK 1205-3395 (Choose two)	6

Students entering college with intermediate or advanced competency in Latin may substitute 6-12 credits of advanced Latin for LATN 1101-1102, LATN 2101-2102.

III. Classical Culture (18 credits minimum)	Credits
CLAS 2317 (ENGL 3612, ARCH 2317)
Classical Mythology	3
Choose five of the following:	15
CLAS 1311 Archaeology of Greece
CLAS 1312 Archaeology of Rome
CLAS 1313 Roots of English: Word Power
CLAS 2301 Epics and Novels of Greece and Rome
CLAS 2302 Greek and Roman Drama
CLAS 2303 Politicians in Antiquity
CLAS 2304 Historians of Greece and Rome
CLAS 2316 Greek and Latin Poetry

CLAS 2318	Classical Myth, Modern Theater and Film
CLAS 2319	Greek Civilization
CLAS 2320	Roman Civilization
CLAS 2322	Women in Antiquity
CLAS 3290	Archaeology and Christianity

IV. Archaeology (18 credits minimum)

Course of study designed in cooperation with the Departments of Religious Studies and Sociology/Anthropology. For information, please consult the archaeology program section of this catalogue.

Course Descriptions

CLAS 1311 (ARCH 1112) Archaeology of Greece

History and culture of ancient Greece in light of archaeological discoveries. Basic archaeological terminology and principles. Illustrated with color slides. 3 credits

CLAS 1312 (ARCH 1113) Archaeology of Rome

History of Rome and its empire via Spring trip to Italy, Rome's architectural and artistic legacy down to the time of Constantine, including a visit to Peter's tomb, the catacombs, and Church art. 3 credits

CLAS 1313 (ENGL 3611) Roots of English: Word Power

Vocabulary course that examines the dependence of English on Latin and Greek for prefixes, suffixes and roots of words. Exercises in word recognition and in amplifying English vocabulary; extensive use is made of the World Wide Web and interactive email instruction. 3 credits

CLAS 1314 Scientific Terminology

Vocabulary course emphasizing the influence of classical languages in all fields of science; extensive use is made of the World Wide Web, interactive e-mail instruction. 3 credits

CLAS 2301 Epics and Novels of Greece and Rome

Selected works of epic poetry (Homer's Iliad, Odyssey, Vergil's Aeneid, Ovid's Metamorphoses) and the novels of romance and adventure (Petronius' Satyricon, Apuleius' Golden Ass, and the five Greek romances). A comparative study of the two major forms of ancient storytelling, their use of mythology and narrative patterns and their social significance. 3 credits

CLAS 2302 Greek and Roman Drama

Selected works of Greek Tragedy (Aeschylus, Sophocles, Euripides), Greek Comedy (Aristophanes, Menander), Roman Comedy (Plautus, Terence) and Roman Tragedy (Seneca). A study of the development of ancient drama, the significance of staging and performance and the influences on subsequent drama. 3 credits

CLAS 2303 (ARCH 2303, POLS 2411) Politicians in Antiquity

CLAS 2304 (HIST 3183, ARCH 2304) Historians of Greece and Rome

Selected readings and interpretation of Greek and Roman historiography. Social and political character of ancient historiography as well as the historical criticism and viewpoint of each author. 3 credits

CLAS 2316 Greek and Latin Poetry

Reading and interpretation of selected Greek and Roman lyric poets: Sappho, Solon, Theocritus, Catullus, Propertius and others. 3 credits

CLAS 2317 (ENGL 3612, ARCH 2317) Classical Mythology

Study of the gods, heroes and legends of the Greek and Roman peoples. The content, meaning and function of "myths," and their influences upon literature and art. 3 credits

CLAS 2318 Classical Myth, Modern Theater and Film

Study of modern adaptations of classical mythological themes in literature and film. Readings from Ovid, Sophocles, Anouilh, Cocteau and Brecht. 3 credits

CLAS 2319 (HIST 3220, ARCH 2112) Greek Civilization

Rise of Hellenic culture from its genesis in the Aegean Bronze Age, the major interactions of the city-state in the sixth and seventh centuries, the Classical period and its decline. There is extensive use of the World Wide Web, with intensive reliance on the Perseus Greek Civilization Web site as a visual and textual resource. 3 credits

CLAS 2320 (HIST 3221, ARCH 2113) Roman Civilization

Investigation of the tension between individual liberty and the traditional power of state and society and of the political and social institutions that maintain social cohesion in a complex society. 3 credits

CLAS 2322 (HIST 2170, ARCH 2322, WMST 2322)

Women in Antiquity

Inquiry into the social, political and legal status of women in ancient Greece and Rome. 3 credits

CLAS 3291 Special Topics in Classics

A focused study of one theme or genre, to be determined by the professor and posted prior to registration. 3 credits

CLAS 3391-3395 Independent Study

Advanced students in classical studies may, with the permission of the department and under an adviser, continue research in a particular area 1-3 credits

GREK 1205-1206 Elementary Greek I-II

Introduction to the ancient Greek language, using excerpts from classical authors. 3 credits each

GREK 2205-2206 (CAST 2005-2006) Intermediate Greek I-II

Extensive readings and analysis from classical Greek authors. Prerequisite: GREK 1206. 3 credits each

GREK 2207-2208 (CAST 2207-2008) New Testament Greek I-II

Introduction to the grammar and vocabulary of New Testament (Koine) Greek; selected readings: the Gospels, the Acts of the Apostles, the letters of St. Paul and Apostolic Fathers. 3 credits each

GREK 3252 Herodotus

Selected readings from the History of Herodotus. Study of his style, language, composition and historical value. Prerequisite: GREK 2206. 3 credits

GREK 3253 Plato

Extensive readings of the Socratic dialogues as an introduction to Platonic thought and influence. Prerequisite: GREK 2206 or GREK 2208. 3 credits

GREK 3254 Attic Orators

Selected readings from famous Attic orators. Study of their styles, methods of composition, rhetorical forms and political ideas. Prerequisite: GREK 2206 or GREK 2208. 3 credits

GREK 3262 Greek Drama

Faculty: Dool (Director, Graduate Studies); Golan; Hoffman; Kimble; Kuchon; Kraszewski; LaForge; Mahon; McGlone; Nyberg; Plummer; Radwan; Reader (Chair); Rondinella; Sharrett; Yates; Zizik

Faculty Associate: Rennie

Writer-in-Residence: DePalma

Faculty Emeriti: Klose; McBride; McKenna; Rathbun; Rosenblum

The Department of Communication offers four majors that explore the history, aesthetics and critical and production are performative aspects of both mediated and immediate (face-to-face, real-time) communication. Seton Hall University Communication graduates are prepared for careers in a range of fields including television, radio, film, journalism, media studies, public relations, advertising, graphics, theater, politics, business, and the professions.

The department faculty consists of communication scholars and experienced media professionals. Each pre-professional program in the department’s curriculum is fully supported by up-to-date production facilities.

In their junior and senior years, qualified majors are urged to do internships in entry-level positions at professional organizations in their respective fields.

Communication majors also participate in a broad range of media-related co-curricular activities: Seton Hall Theatre; Theatre Council; The Setonian, our weekly student newspaper; the Brownson Speech and Debate Team; the Public Relations Society of America student chapter; workshops in film, television and theater; Lambda Pi Eta, our national honor society chapter; Pirate TV and WSOU-FM, the University’s FCC-licensed radio station.

Major Programs

In addition to meeting the standards and requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences, degree candidates must complete the communication major program as outlined. The department requires a 2.5 GPA in order to be signed into the major. The chair of the department may modify the program in view of a transfer candidate’s academic background.

Some general courses are required of all majors, but, in consultation with an adviser, the student’s elective program is chosen according to interests and needs.

The communication curriculum is divided into four majors: (1) broadcasting, visual, and interactive media; (2) theatre and performance; (3) journalism and public relations; and (4) communication studies. Communication majors are encouraged to take minors in communication or other departments appropriate to their own interests.

In addition to the College core curriculum requirements, students must complete a departmental core and their major concentration. COST 1600 may be substituted for the College core curriculum requirement of COST 1500.

Broadcasting, Visual and Interactive Media Major

A. Interactive Media Track (46 Credits)

I. Desktop Publishing and The Web Concentration

ARTH 1124	History of Graphic Design
AART 2312	Digital Art and Design I
AART 2315	Web Design I
COBF 2212	Introduction to Visual Theory/Technique
COGR 2111	Introduction to HTML (1 credit)
COGR 2321	Typography and Electronic Production
COGR 2324	Desktop Publishing
COGR 3323	Presentation Graphics
COGR 3325	Digital Photography
COGR 3321	Publication Design
COGR 5399	Senior Seminar in Computer Graphics

II. Multimedia and Digital Animation Concentration

ARTH 1124	History of Graphic Design
COBF 2212	Introduction to Visual Theory/Technique
COGR 2111	Introduction to HTML (1 credit)
COGR 2112	Introduction to Multimedia
COGR 2322	Introduction to 3D Computer Graphics
COGR 5399	Senior Seminar in Computer Graphics

Select five of the following courses:

AART 1223	2-D Design and Color
COGR 2114	Game Design
COGR 3112	Multimedia Production
COGR 3322	Computer Animation
COGR 3325	Digital Photography
COGR 3326	Video Animation and Motion Graphics
COGR 3327	Flash Animation Design

B. Broadcasting and Film Track (48 Credits)

Courses required for the track:

- COBF 2212 Introduction to Visual Theory/Technique
- COBF 2222 Television/Film Writing
- COBF 2231 Electronic Age in America
- COBF 2232 Evolution of Film Art

Production Component (Four courses)

- Two course production sequence
- Two additional production courses

Media Studies Component (Two courses)

Two media studies courses in the Broadcasting and Film area

- COBF 5299 Senior Seminar in Radio-TV

or

- COBF 5698 Senior Seminar in Film

I. Media Production Concentrations: Specialization in television, film or radio production.

Students wishing to pursue one of the following concentrations should plan on taking appropriate courses, as listed below, in their sophomore and junior years (along with additional elective courses that are required for completion of the Broadcasting and Film track). Final course choice should be made in consultation with an academic adviser.

A. Film Production Specialization

Production courses:

- COBF 3222 Introduction to Film Production
- COBF 4222 Advanced Film Production
- COGR 2322 Introduction to 3D Computer Graphics
- COTH 3623 Lighting for Television and Film

Plus any two Media Studies courses

B. Television Production Specialization

Production courses:

- COBF 2223 Television Production I
- COBF 3223 Television Production II
- COBF 3224 Television Production III
- COBF 4224 Television Production IV
- COGR 2322 Introduction to 3D Computer Graphics

Plus any two Media Studies courses

C. Radio Specialization

Production courses:

- COBF 3225 Radio Programming and Production
- COBF 2225 Broadcast Program and Management

Any two Broadcasting, Visual or Interactive Media courses

Any two Media Studies courses

II. Media Studies Concentration

Select four of the following courses:

- COBF 2211 Development of Alternative Video
- COBF 2213 Documentary Film
- COBF 3212 Contemporary Cinema
- COBF 3214 Film Criticism
- COBF 3216 Film Genre
- COBF 3218 Television Genres
- COTC 2240 Media Criticism

Plus any two Media Production courses

Total: 46-48

Communication Studies Major

The communication studies major is a comprehensive and flexible program of study that focuses on immediate interaction in face to face real-time contexts. Advanced students start from this basis and examine all aspects of communication. A list of required courses for the communications studies major can be found below. In consultation with a faculty advisor, students must also select the “approved elective” courses from the other three communication majors.

- COMM 1421 Writing for the Media
- COMM 1670 Introduction to Communication Theory
- COMM 2134 Communication Ethics
- COMM 2135 Communication Research
- COMM 2136 Communication Law
- COST 1600 Oral Communication
- COST 1610 Dynamics of Human Communication
- COST 2130 Intercultural Communication
- COST 2616 History of Rhetoric
- COST 2622 Group Discussion
- or COST 2623 Persuasive Speaking
- COST 2625 Public and Presentational Speaking
- COST 2626 Rhetorical Criticism
- COST 5899 Senior Seminar in Communication Studies

Three courses from approved electives from other communication tracks, logic, philosophy, English, or political science as approved by the adviser.

Total: 42 Credits

Minor Programs

Students who wish to enrich their understanding of communication in conjunction with another major program may enroll in one of the department’s minor programs. Minors are in (a) broadcasting, visual and interactive media, (b) communication studies, (c) journalism and public relations, and (d) theatre and performance. A student’s minor program is developed with a department faculty adviser. The communication minors consist of 21 credits, as follows:

128 College of Arts and Sciences

COMM 1670 Introduction to Communication Theory
COMM 2134 Communication Ethics
COMM 2136 Communication Law
Three credits of a relevant communication history course
Three additional communication elective courses (9 credits)

Certificate Programs

Certificate in Computer Graphics

Students who would like to learn more about how computer graphics is used in advertising, publication design, broadcasting, business, art and journalism may enroll in the Certificate in Computer Graphics Program. Students should apply for entry into the program before taking more than 6 credits in computer graphics, and must maintain a minimum 2.5 GPA in the program.

Further information is available from Professor Kenneth Hoffman in the Department of Communication. The Certificate in Computer Graphics will be awarded upon successful completion of 19 credits, as follows:

AART 1223 2-D Design and Color
COGR 1321 Desktop Publishing for Personal Use
(1credit)
COGR 2322 Introduction to 3D Computer Graphics
Four from the following:
AART 2312 Digital Art and Design I
COGR 2112 Introduction to Multimedia
Communication
COGR 3112 Multimedia Production
COGR 3322 Computer Animation
COGR 3323 Presentation Graphics
COGR 3324 Two-Dimensional Computer Design
COGR 3325 Digital Photography

Certificate in Digital Media and Video

This cross-disciplinary certificate will provide training in computer-based media production for students entering the fields of multimedia, Web production, broadcasting and filmmaking. Using the latest techniques and technologies in digital production, students will create presentations combining remote video, three-dimensional computer animation and computer-based special effects (21 credits).

COBF 2212 Introduction to Visual Theory/Technique
COBF 3224 Television Production III*
COBF 4224 Television Production IV
COGR 2112 Introduction to Multimedia
Communication
COGR 2322 Introduction to 3D Computer Graphics
COGR 3112 Multimedia Production
COGR 3322 Computer Animation

COGR 3326 Video Animation and Motion Graphics
*COBF 2223 Television Production I is a prerequisite for COBF 3224.

Additional Requirements:

Students must maintain at least a 3.0 GPA in certificate courses with no grade lower than "C," and submit a final project for review and public performance. The final project will be determined in collaboration with the instructor and will take the form of: (a) remote Television II final project incorporating elements of computer graphics and computer animation; or (b) new media (CD-ROM or Web multimedia) final project incorporating elements of remote video, computer graphics and computer animation.

Internships with Web-based multimedia companies; or corporate or broadcast facilities using time-based digital media are strongly encouraged.

Certificate in Digital Media Production for the Web

Students will learn how to integrate rich media elements such as streaming audio and video, motion graphics and animation into Web presentations. Emphasis will be placed on graphic design principles essential for clear and effective communication in the rapidly evolving Web environment. Areas covered include:

- Typography and design for effective Web communication
- Crafting Web pages for low bandwidth environments
- Designing for rich media in Web presentations
- Preparation and editing of 2-D and 3-D animation, sound and video for the Web
- Authoring with HTML
- Effective use of software such as Dreamweaver, Flash, Photoshop, and 3-D Studio Max.

The Certificate in Digital Media Production for the Web will draw upon the Department of Art, Music and Design's Certificate in Web Design for the artistic, aesthetic and design conceptual framework necessary to properly apply the wide range of digital media required to produce the contemporary Web page. The Department of Communication strongly urges students to complete the Certificate in Web Design as an artistic requisite for the Certificate in Digital Media for the Web; but students can work on both certificates simultaneously.

AART 1223 2-D Design and Color
AART 2312 Digital Art and Design I
or COGR 3324 Two-Dimensional Design
COGR 2111 Introduction to Hypertext Markup
Language (1credit)
COGR 2112 Introduction to Multimedia
COGR 2322 Introduction to 3D Computer Graphics
COGR 3322 Advanced Computer Graphics and Animation
COGR 3325 Digital Photography
COGR 3326 Video Animation and Motion Graphics
COGR 3327 Flash Animation Design

Grading Policy:

Students will be required to maintain at least a “B” GPA in the certificate with no grade below “C.”

Course DescriptionsCOBF 2211 The Development of Alternative Video

This course investigates how the category “alternative” can help us make sense of the politics in television culture. Topics include alternative taste cultures found on tabloid television, alternative modes of audience participation on reality TV and the Internet, alternative political voices in the 1950s and 1960s television industry, and the representation of alternative social movements on 1960s television. 3 credits

COBF 2212 Introduction to Visual Theory and Technique

Lectures, discussions and screenings focus on the development of visual expression in film, video, and computer graphics, with emphasis on the narrative form. There is an opportunity for practical exercises; a photo assignment and an optional digital video final project. 3 credits

COBF 2213 Documentary Film

Survey of the history and critical aspects of the nonfiction film (including newsreel and experimental film) from the Lumieres (1895-97) through the cinema verite documentaries of today. Lecture, discussion, screenings. 3 credits

COBF 2215 Broadcast Programming and Management

Study of organization and management of commercial and public radio and television stations. Components include programming techniques, formats, FCC regulations, business practices, ratings and technical/engineering considerations. 3 credits

COBF 2222 Television-Film Writing

Principles and practices of screenplay writing with emphasis on cinematic values. Each student creates a long step outline for a feature length film screenplay, teleplay, or a completed short script. Prerequisite: COMM 1421. 3 credits

COBF 2223 Television Production I

Instruction in and practice regarding the TV production team, operation of studio, or field and control room equipment, the television script, program formats, production elements and process. Lecture, discussion and program exercises in the studio. Prerequisite: COBF 2212. 3 credits

COBF 2231 The Electronic Age In America

Development of the American system of broadcasting and its relation to political, social and economic conditions. Discussions include technological development, programming, network formation, economic support and the news function. 3 credits

COBF 2232 Evolution of the Film Art

Survey of major contributions to the development of motion pictures. Lectures, screenings and critiques of cinematic works demonstrating the creative impetus given to filmmaking from the early narratives of Melies to the pre-World War II period. 3 credits

COBF 2234 Film Directors

A study of the film director as primary creator of the motion picture. The course also investigates the concept of authorship in film and the role of the director in a collaborative art form usually controlled by economic interests. Each semester two directors will be closely examined for their aesthetics, outlook, and technical accomplishment. 3 credits

COBF 3212 Contemporary Cinema

Survey of international cinema in the post-World War II period. Specific works by individual directors practicing in Europe, Japan, India and the United States studied in-depth to ascertain their contribution to evolving patterns of cinematic expression. 3 credits

COBF 3214 Film Criticism

Screenings of a wide variety of films from 1930 to present serve as the basis for criticism written by students. Writings of various popular contemporary critics are evaluated in class discussions that examine questions of aesthetic criteria and the development of a style appropriate to the film critic’s audience. 3 credits

COBF 3216 Film Genre

Individual film forms, such as the western, the crime film, the horror film, science fiction, the musical, screwball comedy and others. The narrative conventions and grammar of genres are examined, along with each genre film’s historical, political, economic and social context. Each semester an individual genre is selected for study. 3 credits

COBF 3218 Television Genres

A study of the aesthetic, social, and cultural importance of television genres. The course will survey various theories about television genres and then use those theories to examine one or two specific television genre(s) in detail. 3 credits

COBF 3222 Introduction to Film Production

Principles and techniques of motion picture production, including scripting, cinematography, budgeting, non-synchronous sound, and non-linear digital film editing. Students work in groups to create original film projects. Prerequisite: COBF 2212. 3 credits

COBF 3223 Television Production II

Broadening and deepening of students’ knowledge of studio and field techniques and processes, followed by production of an original television program by student groups, from concept to videotape recording. Prerequisite: COBF 2223. 3 credits

COBF 3224 Television Production III

Studio and field digital video production equipment, shooting technique and non-linear digital video editing. Each student, working in a group, progresses through a series of introductory camera and editing exercises related to electronic field production and advanced studio production to create an original television program. Lectures and demonstrations. Prerequisite: COBF 2223. 3 credits

COBF 3225 Radio Programming and Production

Various current programming philosophies as exemplified by local independent AM and FM station operators: problems in the management of local radio stations, and production techniques for studio and remote broadcasts. Prerequisite: COBF 2215. 3 credits

COBF 4222 Advanced Film Production

Students use HDV production techniques and form production groups to produce original 5-10 minute film and/or HDV productions. Prerequisite: COBF 3222. 3 credits

COBF 4224 Television Production IV

Students, working in groups, prepare and produce an original long form video production taped on location and/or in the studio. Prerequisite: COBF 3224. 3 credits

COBF 5299 Senior Seminar Radio/TV

In this course, students use skills learned in other communication courses – the ability to read critically, write persuasively, and research effectively – to pursue a larger research project. As such, Senior Seminar-Radio/TV is both a synthesis (in that it asks students to draw on knowledge from other classes) and introduction (in that it introduces students to ways that scholars craft compelling, original essays). Students will write a major research paper on social, cultural, or institutional aspects of broadcasting. 3 credits

COBF 5698 Senior Seminar in Film

This senior capstone course in film studies for students with basic knowledge of film history, theory, and criticism. The purpose of this course is to investigate the technical, philosophical, and stylistic foundations of film as an art form, and film's social, political, economic, and cultural context. 3 credits

COGR 2111 Introduction to Hypertext Markup Language

Introductory course in the preparation of Hypertext Markup Language (HTML) documents. HTML instructions are embedded in all Web pages and control formatting of page layout, fonts and graphic elements. Students learn HTML codes, conventions and procedures. They create Web pages by typing page content and HTML instructions into a text editor. These pages are posted on the World Wide Web. No experience in graphics or programming is necessary. 1 credit

COGR 2112 Introduction to Multimedia Communication

This survey course examines the social, economic and cultural implications of multimedia use on the Web and in portable handheld devices. It discusses hardware and software tools and generally serves as an introduction to multimedia design and interactive communication. Multimedia can be defined as the delivery of video animation, graphics, sound and text in a non-linear computer based form. Students create personal Web pages using Adobe Dreamweaver software. 3 credits

COGR 2114 Game Design and Digital Storytelling

Introduction to the theory and practice of game creation and design for interactive home entertainment, arcade games, education, and multiplayer online environments. Students will study the history of games, game genres, game technology, organization, psychology, story and structure.

Students will complete design assignments exploring topics discussed in class such as game prototyping, interface design and character creation. 3 credits

COGR 2320 Still Photography

Development of visual expression through the use of the still camera. Fundamentals discussed and practiced include optics, film emulsions, composition, lighting and darkroom technique, including developing, printing and enlarging. Students furnish their own 35mm cameras. 3 credits

COGR 2321 Print Typography and Electronic Publishing

Practical aspects of preparing, planning and producing publications. Includes the fundamentals of typography, type specification, legibility and creative typography, as well as all aspects of electronic publishing, electronic pre-press, color printing, computer graphics software and hardware, input and output devices and post press. 3 credits

COGR 2322 Introduction to 3D Computer Graphics

Introduction to the wide range of three-dimensional computer graphics applications in broadcasting, business, art and journalism. Concentrating on three-dimensional modeling terminology, software and operations from an artist/manager/buyer perspective. No prior skill in computer programming required. 3 credits

COGR 2324 Desktop Publishing

Introduction to desktop publishing design, including typography, application of design principles to the desktop environment, and desktop concepts, systems, hardware and software, with particular emphasis on the dominant desktop publishing applications. Scan in and use of art. Basic electronic pre-press theory. 3 credits

COGR 3112 Multimedia Production

Prepare students to use multimedia authoring software, such as Macromedia Director, for the creation of multimedia presentations used in business, training materials, kiosk displays, computer games and entertainment. Students learn how to prepare and manipulate the basic elements of multimedia, such as digital sound, animation, graphics and text. Prerequisite: COGR 2112. 3 credits

COGR 3320 Advanced Photography

COGR 3321 Publication Design

Fundamentals of publication design, including a review of design theory as it relates to contemporary publication design practices. Projects and portfolio work selected according to students' design goals. Course covers newspaper, magazine, advertising and Web page design, and other design situations depending on student needs, resulting in an individualized, comprehensive publication design portfolio. 3 credits

COGR 3322 Computer Animation

Theory and practice of computer animation. Students create their own 3D animations. Classic examples of short computer animations are screened and discussed. No prior programming skills required. Prerequisite: COGR 2322. 3 credits

COGR 3323 Presentation Graphics

Introduction to communication of information through visual symbols, including charts and graphics. Presentation, business and information graphics are taught within the context of professional and ethical standards using professional computer systems and software. 3 credits

COGR 3325 Digital Photography

Introduction to digital photography and image editing software. Students will learn photographic and computer techniques essential for creating computer mediated imagery. The course will cover digital camera operation, photo editing software, desktop scanners and ink jet printing. Digital images will be edited with Adobe PhotoShop. Completed assignments will be posted on the Web and reproduced as color prints and/or 5mm color slides. 3 credits

COGR 3326 Video Animation and Motion Graphics

Introduction to digital video editing. Students learn fundamentals of nonlinear video editing for the World Wide Web, CDROM, and DVD applications. They gain hands-on experience in digital video capture and learn industry standard software such as Adobe Premier and Adobe After Effects. Prerequisite: COGR 2322. 3 credits

COGR 3327 Flash Animation Design

This course focuses on tools and techniques for creating two-dimensional animation and motion graphics for the Web. Students learn how to create GIF animations and how to incorporate them into Web presentations. Students then study interactive vector animation used in creating animated Web menus and Web sites; Web cartoons; television advertisements and other standalone presentations. Web animation is placed in the larger context of short-form traditional animation. Examples of animation from motion pictures and the Web are studied. (Formerly Animation for the Web) Prerequisite: COGR 2322. 3 credits

COGR 5399 Senior Seminar in Computer Graphics: Design, Animation and Multi Media

Visual theory, aesthetics, the history of graphic design, and visual criticism will be synthesized in an individualized final project incorporating the design background of each student. Seminars will critically evaluate various areas of computer graphics relevant to the students. Design portfolios will be required in addition to the major critical/aesthetic project. 3 credits

Department of English Mission Statement

English at Seton Hall University is one of the liberal arts and, as such, is devoted to the search for wisdom and understanding. The mission of the Department of English is three-fold: 1) to provide all students with the essential linguistic and literary competency upon which other liberal arts disciplines may build; 2) to develop in all students the ability to think analytically, to read closely and to write well; 3) to provide majors with a broad knowledge and critical understanding of British and American literary traditions, with additional emphasis upon comparative literatures and genres.

Major in English

English courses emphasize the close reading of texts, the study of particular authors and genres, questions of critical theory and method, and the relationship of literary works to their historical periods and other disciplines. The department seeks not only to foster analytical reading and lucid writing but also to stimulate thought about the nature of human experience. In order to be servant leaders, students must be articulate, they must be able to think critically and analytically, and they must have a grounding in humane thought and letters in order to understand the historical and philosophical contexts of today's world.

Apart from such global rewards of studying literature, a degree in English-language literature offers intensive training in skills essential to the contemporary job market. Graduates of Seton Hall University's English program have gone on to graduate programs and successful careers in writing and editing, publishing, teaching, law, business and media.

In addition to the English major and the creative writing major, the department also offers an English minor and a writing minor, both 18 credits and available to students of any major. At the graduate level, the Department of English offers a Master of Arts (M.A.) designed for present or prospective teachers of English on the secondary or college level, for students contemplating the Ph.D., and for those already involved in careers in publishing, business, writing or media. English majors who qualify for the Dual Degree B.A./M.A. program in English can complete the M.A. degree in one year beyond their B.A. See description below.

Major Requirements

To declare an English major, students must have a 2.5 minimum GPA in ENGL 1201 Core English I and ENGL 1202 II Core English II, or gain permission of the Chair of the Department of English.

NOTE: ENGL 1201-1202 and either 2101-2102 or 2103-2104 can be used toward the requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences Core Curriculum as well as the requirements of the English major.

- for British pre-1800: ENGL 3312 Shakespeare
- for Thematic/Comparative: ENGL 3115 Literature of Adolescence
- for Writing: ENGL 3620 History of the English Language
- English Education majors are also advised to take 3 more credits in advanced writing as a general elective.

Major in Creative Writing

The creative writing major offers students the opportunity to learn the art and craft of poetry and fiction from a faculty of widely published authors. Seeking a balance between literary scholarship and literary artistic practice, the course of study aims to help students create their own works based on an understanding of the literary tradition. Creative writing majors will complete 36 credits, including Introduction to Literary Studies, 12 credits of creative writing workshops, and four survey courses selected from designated areas. They will also be expected to choose a concentration in either Poetry or Fiction for their advanced writing classes. Creative writing majors will be prepared for careers in writing, editing, teaching, public relations, law and media. They will also be prepared for master's degree programs, Master of Fine Arts programs, and doctoral programs in creative writing.

Major Requirements

To declare a creative writing major, students must have a 2.5 minimum GPA in ENGL 1201 Core English I and ENGL 1202 Core English II, or gain permission of the chair of the Department of English. ENGL 1201 and 1202 are prerequisites for all advanced courses.

NOTE: ENGL 1201-1202 and either 2101-2102 or 2103-2104 can be used toward the requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences Core Curriculum, as well as the requirements of the creative writing major.

English Departmental Honors

English majors and creative writing majors may qualify for departmental honors by fulfilling the following criteria. Majors may declare their candidacy at any time up to and including first-semester senior term:

- Maintain a 3.2 GPA in the major.
- Take an additional 6 credits in advanced electives, for a total of 48 credits to complete the English major with honors.
- Receive a Pass with honors on the English Major Assessment Portfolio.
- Senior thesis (from ENGL 5011) must be included in the Assessment Portfolio (in addition to the three revised papers, see below).

English Major Portfolio Assessment

English majors and creative writing majors should begin keeping an assessment portfolio as soon as they declare their major. The assessment portfolio is to be handed in at the end of the senior year to the chair of the Department of English. Portfolios are reviewed by a rotating committee of Department of English faculty. The grading system is pass/fail and appears on the student's transcript; however, failure on the Assessment Portfolio will not affect student's graduation. Pass with honors is reserved for English Departmental Honors students. The assessment portfolio will be submitted through Blackboard. The assessment portfolio should include:

- three graded research papers reflecting the student's best work in the English major from three of the four required advanced elective categories;
- a comprehensive examination to be given in ENGL 5011 Senior Seminar; an
- a written self-assessment (criteria to be handed out in ENGL 5011).

Minor in English

The English minor gives students of other majors a broad yet thorough introduction to each of the literature areas of the discipline. It is a valuable addition, enabling students to pursue their majors and career goals with greater literacy, sharper analytical skills and more polished writing skills. Prerequisites: ENGL 1201 and 1202.

Introductory	Credits
ENGL 2204 Introduction to Literature Studies	3

Dual Degree B.A./M.A. Program in English

English majors can complete a Master of Arts (M.A.) in one year beyond their B.A. Students who qualify for admission into the dual degree program will take 12 credits of graduate-level English courses during their junior and senior years. These will apply toward the 42 credits required for completion of the undergraduate major and toward the 30 credits required for the M.A. in English. Students can then complete the remaining 18 credits of graduate courses after earning a B.A.

Requirements for Admission

English majors who have completed at least 21 credits in the major with a minimum GPA of 3.2 may apply at any time prior to their senior year. Accepted candidates will normally be expected to enroll in two approved graduate-level English courses each semester of their senior year of study for a total of 12 credits. During the fifth year of study, students will be expected to enroll in a total of three approved graduate-level courses each semester for a total of 18 credits. Applicants are not required to take the GRE, but they must complete the graduate application form, and their application must include a transcript, a writing sample and three letters of recommendation from their undergraduate professors, two of whom must be full-time faculty in the Department of English.

Advanced Electives in the Undergraduate Major and Graduate Course Equivalents

These are the graduate courses that students may choose from to count toward the undergraduate upper-level elective requirement of 12 credits in four out of five of the following categories.

The Writing Center

The Seton Hall University Writing Center is a valuable resource open to all members of the Seton Hall community, providing one-on-one tutoring in pre-writing, drafting and revising essays, research papers, theses, resumes, letters, proposals and reports. It is staffed by undergraduate, graduate and professional tutors to assist with every level of writing competence. Tutoring at the Writing Center provides an excellent opportunity for English majors and minors, writing minors, English/education majors, and M.A. students in English who wish to work on campus in a field directly related to their studies. Interested students should contact the Director of the Writing Center at (973) 275-2183.

Location

The Writing Center is located in Arts and Sciences Hall, Room 206, telephone (973) 761-7501. Walk-ins are welcome, but if possible, call or visit to make an appointment. The Writing Center is virtually located at www.shu.edu/academic/arts/writing-center/

Non-freshman students may visit the Online Writing Lab (OWL) at <http://academic.shu.edu/owl/> The OWL is particularly designed for upper-class and graduate students as well as faculty and staff who need writing assistance but who are unable to visit the Writing Center during its normal hours of operation.

Poetry-in-the-Round

Poetry-in-the-Round provides a unique opportunity for Seton Hall students to see and hear the world's foremost writers, read their works and discuss them informally with students and faculty. Under the direction of Professor John Wargacki, Poetry-in-the-Round has hosted such distinguished artists as George Plimpton, Derek Walcott, Frank McCourt, Wole Soyinka, Nadine Gordimer, Joyce Carol Oates, June Jordan, Oscar Hijuelos and many others.

WRITING AND LANGUAGE

First-Year Writing Program Mission Statement

The First-Year Writing Program provides the initial impulse in a four-year experience with writing and reading at Seton Hall University. Students take on projects that give them the experience of joining a community of writers and thinkers, encouraging them to partake in an extended inquiry - about a topic (or topics) of concern to young adults - which moves from peer-based and familiar to increasingly rigorous, critical and text-based. These projects prepare students not only for academic work but also for participation in the wider community, in each case encouraging them to challenge and interrogate their own and others' texts. Thus, students learn to write for purposes in addition to self-expression and academic analysis and for audiences other than the instructor and other students. In all courses, students are given the tools to develop and reflect on their own writing process, especially by focusing on revision. By the end of Core English I (ENGL 1201), students should possess a common set of key rhetorical concepts and research skills that allow them to approach a wide variety of academic challenges with success. In Core English II (ENGL 1202) they will further develop their research skills and learn to appreciate and analyze the three main literary genres: poetry, drama and fiction. Our ultimate goal is for students to leave the program valuing the reading-writing-thinking connection and experiencing it as empowering to themselves as members of the University and active citizens.

Developmental

Note: 0100-0180 courses do not count toward graduation. They are required for students whose scores on placement examinations indicate the need for additional writing and reading instruction prior to, or linked with, ENGL 1201 Core English I.

The Department of History offers programs of study leading to the degree Bachelor of Arts and minor in history. By presenting the story of human achievements, hopes and frustrations, struggles and triumphs, the department helps the inquiring student to understand this complex world and shape its future.

On the undergraduate level, students majoring in history achieve a background particularly desirable for graduate study and careers in business, law, education and journalism. Students majoring in history acquire an understanding of culture and institutions that prepares them for careers in these fields.

Courses in history are particularly well-suited to broaden students' perspectives and prepare them to live in a diverse, interconnected world. Most activities and careers of modern life involve aspects that extend beyond national borders.

It is essential to understand the past of other peoples to understand their cultures and to work with them.

Under the auspices of the Department of History, the College of Arts and Sciences offers an interdisciplinary undergraduate program that confers a certificate of proficiency in Russian and East European studies in conjunction with a Bachelor of Arts degree in an academic discipline. Majors also have the opportunity as seniors to pursue Honors in History, conducting a program of directed research, the successful completion of which will enable them to graduate with distinction.

Phi Alpha Theta – Lambda-Epsilon Chapter

The national history honors society invites students who have taken 12 or more credits in history and have a GPA of 3.1 in history and 3.0 overall to apply for membership. Having a major in history is not a requirement for induction.

Major in History

The Department of History has recently revised its major. Students who entered the program under the old major (prior to fall 2009) and have earned no more than 18 credits in history have the option of either completing the original requirements in effect when they first declared their major, or fulfilling the new requirements as outlined below. Students who have earned more than 18 credits in history will follow the old requirements.

As of Fall 2009, in addition to meeting the standards and requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences, history degree candidates must complete a minimum of 36 credits in history to be distributed as follows:

1. Six credits of introductory courses from among the following:

- HIST 1101-1102 World History I-II
- HIST 1201-1202 Western Civilization I-II
- HIST 1301-1302 United States History I-II

Note: Students may elect to take courses as a two-semester sequence to fulfill College of Arts and Sciences core requirements, but a sequence is not required for the history major.

2. Twenty-one credits distributed as follows:

Advanced European history (2000 level or above)	3
Advanced United States history (2000 level or above)	3
Introductory or advanced Latin American, African, Asian, Middle Eastern history	3
Pre-1750 History (see list below)	3
Additional history electives*	9

Note: Up to an additional three credits at the 1000 level in Latin American, African, Asian and Middle Eastern history can count toward the additional history electives.

3. The following nine credits of required courses:

- HIST 2180 Introduction to Historical Research
- History Colloquium (Course numbers will vary depending on the topic)

144 College of Arts and Sciences

HIST 5199 Senior Seminar

Note: HIST 5711 Honors Research is pursued in addition to the 36-credit major.

Courses that count toward the pre-1750 distribution requirement include:

HIST 2170 Women in Antiquity

HIST 3341 Colonial America

HIST 3183 Historians of Greece and Rome

HIST 3320 Greek Civilization

HIST 3221 Roman Civilization

HIST 3230 Europe In the Middle Ages

HIST 3233 Dante and His World

HIST 3234 Medieval Italy

HIST 3240 Renaissance and Reformation

HIST 3246 Kievan Rus' and Muscovy

HIST 3254 Early Modern Ireland

HIST 3621 History of Traditional China

HIST 3622 History of Traditional Japan

Students are required to meet with their advisers at least once each semester to plan their program in light of their abilities and special interests, and to evaluate progress toward completion of the history degree requirements.

The department recommends that students acquire competency in at least one foreign language through the third-year level. This is particularly important for those who plan to pursue graduate studies. (The department will not give an unqualified recommendation for graduate studies in history unless the student demonstrates a reading ability in one foreign language equal to that obtained by completion of two years of language study.)

Minor in History

Students majoring in disciplines other than history may elect a minor in history. Students find that a minor in history enhances their opportunities for employment, law school or graduate school chances

The Department of History has recently revised its minor. Students who entered under the old minor prior to fall 2009 and have earned no more than 9 credits have the option of either completing the original requirements in effect when they first declared their minor, or fulfilling the new requirements as outlined below.

Program Requirements as of Fall 2009

1. At least 18 credits in history with at least one course in non-European, non-United States history
2. No more than 6 credits at the HIST 1000 level
3. At least 12 credits at the HIST 2000 level or above

B.A./M.A. in History

History majors with a GPA of 3.4 have the option of completing both the undergraduate (B.A.) and graduate (M.A.) degrees in a total of 10 semesters (five years of study). After having completed 75 credits toward a B.A. with at least 21 credits in history, students may apply for admission to this joint degree program. Accepted candidates will normally be expected to enroll in two approved graduate-level history courses each semester of their senior year of study for a total of 12 credits. During the fifth year of study, students will be expected to enroll in a total of three approved graduate-level courses each semester for a total of 18 credits. The courses students take must include an introductory course called "The Historian's Craft," a minimum of one Program in Directed Readings (PDR) course, and four courses in the chosen area of concentration (either United States, European, global, or Catholic history). To complete the degree students may choose either to conduct two-semesters of thesis research and writing or to complete comprehensive written and oral examinations in the final semester of study. See Graduate Catalogue for admissions requirements. Please contact the Director of Graduate Studies in the Department of History for more information.

Course Descriptions

Note: Many courses may be taken out of sequence; exceptions: HIST 2180 Introduction to Historical Research is the prerequisite for HIST 5199 Senior Seminar; and HIST 5199 Senior Seminar is the prerequisite for HIST 5711 Honors Research.

Introductory

HIST 1101 World History I

This course traces and interprets the evolution of world civilizations from the emergence of early humans up until approximately 1500, and seeks to study and compare diverse historical experiences worldwide. The content of the course is organized both chronologically and thematically. The advancement of human societies through time is reflected in general themes of universal application: human origins and human culture; settling down; empire and imperialism; the rise of world religions; and the movement of goods and people. 3 credits

HIST 1102 World History II

This course will trace the evolution of the modern world from approximately 1300 to the present. The scope of this course is understandably broad as it combines global themes, intercontinental commerce, religious and ethnic strife, mass politics and totalitarian ideologies, with their regional variations. From the 13th century Mongol conquests of Eurasia that expanded dramatically the concept of time and space, to the 20th century information and communication revolution that rendered this same concept relative, this course follows the evolutionary trajectory of the modern world. 3 credits

HIST 1201 Western Civilization I

Development of Western civilization from its origins in the Near East to the Scientific Revolution. 3 credits

HIST 1202 Western Civilization II

Development and expansion of Western civilization from Enlightenment and Industrial Revolution to the present. 3 credits

HIST 1301 American History I

Colonial America through the end of the Civil War. 3 credits

HIST 1302 American History II

Reconstruction to the present. 3 credits

HIST 1401 (LALS 1401) History of Latin America I

Survey of the development of the New World empires of Spain and Portugal from Pre-Columbian times through independence. 3 credits

HIST 1402 (LALS 1402) History of Latin America II

Evolution of societies and nation states from the 1820s to independence. 3 credits

HIST 1501 (AFAM 1201) History of African Civilization I

Independent developments in African Civilization and the impact those developments have had on human progress. 3 credits

HIST 1502 (AFAM 1202) History of African Civilization II

Study of the traditional peoples and cultures of Africa; survey of contacts between Africa and the outside world with emphasis on colonialism, decolonization and the independence era. 3 credits

HIST 1601 (ASIA 1601) History of Traditional Asia

Survey of the historical development of major Asian civilization (ancient Near East, India, China, Japan and Korea), primarily pre-modern. 3 credits

HIST 1602 (ASIA 1601) History of Modern Asia

Asian history and culture from the 19th century to the present. 3 credits

Advanced GeneralHIST 2141 History of the Global Economy

A survey of the impact of ideas, technology, culture, and circumstances on the history of the global economy from 1492 to 1992. 3 credits

HIST 2170 (CLAS 2322, WMST 2322, ARCH 2322)Women in Antiquity

Inquiry into the social, political and legal status of women in ancient Greece and Rome. 3 credits

HIST 2171 (WMST 2171) Women in Modern Times

History of women and significance of gender in American society from colonial times to the present. 3 credits

HIST 2180 Introduction to Historical Research

Required of all history majors. Method and rationale of historical research. 3 credits

HIST 3210 The Contemporary World

Sources and events of this revolutionary century that explain the problems and possibilities of the contemporary scene. (Formerly HIST 2210) 3 credits

HIST 3211 World War I

Surveys the diplomatic, military and geopolitical aspects of the First World War from its preliminaries to its conclusion, giving special consideration to its causes and consequences. (Formerly HIST 2211) 3 credits

HIST 3212 World War II

Surveys the diplomatic, military and geopolitical aspects of the Second World War from its preliminaries to its conclusion, giving special consideration to causes and consequences. (Formerly HIST 2212) 3 credits

HIST 4151-4153 Colloquium in World History

This course is an intensive investigation of the literature in a specific area of global history. The topic for the course will vary from semester to semester. It is a discussion-based course in which students will practice the skills of critical reading and close analysis of historical evidence, research, writing, and argumentation. It is designed to enrich students' understanding of the nature of the historical discipline and introduces them to various ways in which historians have interpreted a specific historical period, event, or theme. 3 credits each

HIST 4180 Topics in Interdisciplinary History

To be set by instructor. (Formerly HIST 2190) 3 credits

HIST 4181 Topics in Comparative History

To be set by instructor. (Formerly HIST 2191) 3 credits

HIST 4191 Supervised Research in History

Individual reading and research projects. (Open only to junior and senior majors by arrangement with specific instructors). (Formerly HIST 3191) 1 credit

HIST 4192 Supervised Research in History

Individual reading and research projects. (Open only to junior and senior majors by arrangement with specific instructors). (Formerly HIST 3192) 2 credits

HIST 4193 Supervised Research in History

Individual reading and research projects. (Open only to junior and senior majors by arrangement with specific instructors). (Formerly HIST 3193) 3 credits

HIST 4194 Independent Research

Advanced independent reading and research projects. Open only to junior and senior history majors by arrangement with specific instructors. (Formerly HIST 3194) 3 credits

HIST 4710 Internships

Instruction and work experience in area historical institutions in the custody, care and management of documents, artifacts, and sites. (Formerly HIST 2710) 3 credits

HIST 5199 Senior Seminar

Capstone course, designed to engage senior history majors in careful study of an historical topic chosen by the instructor. Prerequisite: HIST 2180 Introduction to Historical Research, and a total of 75 credits. 3 credits

HIST 5711 Honors Research

History majors may expand a thesis - typically their Senior Seminar thesis, if they meet the following criteria: maintain a 3.3 GPA in both the History major and overall; complete the Senior Seminar thesis by the Fall semester of the Senior year

(based on Spring graduation), and apply by the middle of the semester before. To earn honors the student must receive at least an A minus on the thesis. HIST 5711 will operate as an Independent Study, in which students will work on an individual basis with their research adviser. Prerequisite: HIST 5199 Senior Seminar. 3 credits

American History

HIST 2319 History of New Jersey

The state of New Jersey from colonial days to the present. Emphasis on factors having heaviest impact on the state today. 3 credits

HIST 2321 (ENVL 2321) Environmental History of the United States

Explores the changing relationship between people and the environment in the United States. As a general survey of the nation's environmental history, the course examines a variety of issues, including our changing understanding of the "natural" world and our place in it; the consequences of human efforts to commodify and control nature; social and ethical responses to environmental problems; and the evolution of environmental policy. 3 credits

HIST 2365 Italian-American History

Historical change over four centuries in distinctive community established by immigrants. 3 credits

HIST 2372 Economic History of the United States

Economic development of the United States from colonial origins to contemporary position as a world power. 3 credits

HIST 2375 (AFAM 1213) African-American History I

Course explores the experience of African-Americans from the medieval West African kingdoms of Ghana, Mali and Songhay through the trans-Atlantic slave trade to enslavement in the colonial era and 19th century and finally emancipation in the Civil War. Topics of gender, class, and black resistance will be explored within that chronological framework. 3 credits

HIST 2376 (AFAM 1214) African-American History II

The interaction between black and white society in the United States and the nature of black society and cultures from 1865 to post World War II. 3 credits

HIST 2381 American Legal History I

Introduction to the development of law in America from the origin of English common law and its reception in the English colonies to the 20th century United States, with emphasis on the political, social, and economic factors influencing this development. 3 credits

HIST 2382 American Legal History II

Introduction to the development of law in the United States in the 20th century. 3 credits

HIST 2386 American Military History

Development of American military institutions, policies, experiences and tradition in peace and war from colonial times to the present. 3 credits

HIST 3341 Colonial America

Survey of the age of exploration and settlement of the English colonies. Includes a discussion of the forms of society, religion and government that developed in the region. Course covers the period from c. 1400 to 1763. (Formerly HIST 2341) 3 credits

HIST 3342 Revolutionary America

Covers the origins, pattern and consequences of the American Revolution from 1763 to 1790. Includes discussion of major documents such as the Declaration of Independence, Articles of Confederation and the Constitution. (Formerly HIST 2342) 3 credits

HIST 3351 The New Nation

Origins and development of the American political and economic system and of a distinctively American literature and culture. (Formerly HIST 2351) 3 credits

HIST 3352 The Jacksonian Era

Politics and thought in the Jacksonian Era, the westward movement, and the development of Manifest Destiny and sectionalism. (Formerly HIST 2352) 3 credits

HIST 3353 Civil War and Reconstruction

Slavery and sectionalism; causes and character of the Civil War; Reconstruction in its varied aspects. (Formerly HIST 2353) 3 credits

HIST 3354 The American Frontier

The westward movement in American life. (Formerly HIST 2354) 3 credits

HIST 3355 The Shaping of Modern America

The rise of industry, agrarian discontent and progressive reform. (Formerly HIST 2355) 3 credits

HIST 3361 From Wilson to FDR

Intellectual, cultural, social and political developments during the transformation of the United States into an urban nation which turns its back on an agrarian past. This course deals with attempts at reform, Progressivism, the economic impact of global war, the new woman, the Black march from the South, the rise of a national media, corruption and gangsterism, the defeat of indigenous radicalism, the New Era in commerce and industry, prosperity, xenophobia, a new realism in the arts, and the Stock Market crash. (Formerly HIST 2361) 3 credits

HIST 3362 America in Depression and War 1929-1945

The Great Depression, New Deal and World War II. (Formerly 2362) 3 credits

HIST 3363 Recent America - Since 1945

Intellectual and social developments, the Cold War, the Black Revolution, Vietnam. (Formerly HIST 2363) 3 credits

HIST 3364 (AFAM 2212, POLS 2312) History of the Civil Rights Movement

Review of major events and campaigns. The decade 1955-65 represents the temporal focus of the course, but the movement's 20th century antecedents and the period between 1965-68 are discussed; the period within which the movement was broadened in international perspective and transformed into a struggle for human rights. Goals and objectives of the struggle and the movement's impact on American society are identified and evaluated. 3 credits

HIST 3370 U.S. Diplomatic History I

American foreign relations from the Declaration of Independence to U.S. entry into World War I. This course deals with the winning of the peace in 1783, the failure of a policy of neutrality resulting in the War of 1812, the Monroe Doctrine, Manifest Destiny and its early results, relations between the United States and various Latin American and European countries during the latter half of the 19th century, American imperialism, the Open Door, Dollar Diplomacy, and U.S. entry into World War I. (Formerly HIST 2370) 3 credits

HIST 3371 U.S. Diplomatic History II

The foreign relations of the United States during a century of conflict and change. This course deals with American diplomacy at the end of World War I, isolation, the Good Neighbor policy, the challenges to the dictators, the response to World War II, atomic diplomacy, the Cold War, détente, American global hegemony and the challenges to it. (Formerly HIST 2371) 3 credits

HIST 3373 Labor in Modern America

American workforce (native-born, immigrant, minority, women, children) from the 1880s to the present, with emphasis on the legal, social and political forces that shaped labor in the United States. (Formerly HIST 2373) 3 credits

HIST 3374 The Immigrant in American Life

Ethnic minorities in the development of American life. (Formerly HIST 2374) 3 credits

HIST 3380 History of Urban America

The role of the city in American life. (Formerly HIST 2380) 3 credits

HIST 3383 Law and Social Change Modern America

The development and impact of legal institutions on U.S. history. (Formerly HIST 2383) 3 credits

HIST 3387 (CAST 2387) The Catholic Church in the U.S.

Role of Catholics and the Church in the United States from colonial beginnings to the recent past, focusing on internal developments and on relations with the wider society. (Formerly HIST 2387) 3 credits

HIST 3388-3389 Film and History I-II

Mass media view of specific historical subjects in the context of the development of American society between 1894 and the present, utilizing historical materials as well as feature films. (Formerly HIST 2388 and 2389) 3 credits each

HIST 4351-4353 Colloquium in United States History

This course is an intensive investigation of the literature in a specific area of United States history. The topic for the course will vary from semester to semester. It is a discussion-based course in which students will practice the skills of critical reading and close analysis of historical evidence, research, writing, and argumentation. It is designed to enrich students' understanding of the nature of the historical discipline and introduces them to various ways in which historians have interpreted a specific historical period, event, or theme. 3 credits each

HIST 4390-4398 Topics in American History

To be set by instructor. (Formerly HIST 2390-2398) 3 credits each

European History

HIST 2236 (CAST 2236) Catholicism, Tradition & Reform Since 1500

This course focuses on how Catholics confronted historical change and interpreted tradition within the context of several significant shifts in the history of the modern West. Major topics include Catholics' relationship to: the Protestant Reformation in the 1500s; the Enlightenment and its scientific and intellectual revolutions in the 1600s and 1700s; the democratic political revolutions of America and Europe in the 1700s and 1800s; the industrial and technological revolutions of the 1800s and 1900s; and the globalization of Christianity in the 20th century. 3 credits

HIST 3183 (CLAS 2304, ARCH 2304) Historians of Greece and Rome

Selected readings and interpretation of Greek and Roman historiography. Social and political character of ancient historiography, as well as the historical criticism and viewpoint of each author. (Formerly HIST 2183) 3 credits

HIST 3220 (CLAS 2319, ARCH 2112) Greek Civilization

Rise of Hellenic culture from its genesis in the Aegean Bronze Age, the major interactions of the city-states in the 6th and 7th Centuries, the Classical Period and its decline. (Formerly HIST 2220) 3 credits

HIST 3221 (CLAS 2320, ARCH 2113) Roman Civilization

Investigation of the tension between individual liberty and the traditional power of state and society, and of the political and social institutions that maintain social cohesion in a complex society. (Formerly HIST 2221) 3 credits

HIST 3230 (CAST 2230) Europe in the Middle Ages

Formation of medieval civilization in the so-called Dark Ages and its transformation between the 11th and 14th Centuries. (Formerly HIST 2230) 3 credits

HIST 3233 (CAST 2233) Dante and His World

The history of the Middle Ages through a reading of Dante Alighieri's Divine Comedy. (Formerly HIST 2233) 3 credits

HIST 3234 (CAST 2234) Medieval Italy

This course treats the history of Italy from the early Middle Ages to the Council of Trent. Emphasis is placed on the dramatic changes in peoples, state institutions, religion, the economy and society that occurred during these centuries. The abiding and sometimes determinant role of geography in Italian history is a subject that receives particular attention. All areas of the peninsula are discussed, with special attention to relations between peripheral or provincial areas and cultural or administrative centers. Major intellectual, religious, social and political developments are explored through primary and secondary readings, and a mixture of lecture and class discussion. (Formerly HIST 2234) 3 credits

HIST 3235 (CAST 2235) Modern Italy

This course treats the history of Italy from the Baroque Age down to contemporary events. Emphasis is placed on the dramatic changes in peoples, state institutions, religion, the economy and society that occurred during these centuries. The abiding and sometimes determinant role of geography in Italian history is a subject that receives particular attention. All areas of the peninsula are discussed, with special attention to relations between peripheral or provincial areas and cultural or administrative centers. Major intellectual, religious, social and political developments are explored through primary and secondary readings, and a mixture of lecture and class discussion. (Formerly HIST 2235) 3 credits

HIST 3240 The Renaissance and Reformation

Beginning of modern Europe as the renewal of trade is followed by rediscovery of the ancient world, discovery of the New World, changes in art, literature and thought and the division of Christianity by the Protestant movement. (Formerly HIST 2240) 3 credits

HIST 3242 The French Revolution and Napoleon

Intellectual ferment of the enlightenment, through the upheaval of the revolution and its despotic aftermath. (Formerly HIST 2242) 3 credits

HIST 3243 History of Britain and Empire I

Restoration of Charles II in 1660 to the Reform Bill in 1832. (Formerly HIST 2243) 3 credits

HIST 3246 Kievan Rus' and Muscovy

From the origins of the Russian nation to Peter the Great. (Formerly HIST 2246) 3 credits

HIST 3250 Western Europe in the 19th Century

Flaws and failures, as well as the accomplishments, between 1815 and 1914, when Europe reached a preeminent place in the world. (Formerly HIST 2250) 3 credits

HIST 3252 History of Modern France

Developments in France from the fall of Napoleon to the present. 3 credits

HIST 3253 History of Britain and Empire II

The Reform Bill of 1832 to the present. (Formerly HIST 2253) 3 credits

HIST 3254 Early Modern Ireland

Political, economic, and social history of Ireland from the Treaty of Limerick in 1691 to the Great Famine of the 1840s. (Formerly HIST 2254) 3 credits

HIST 3256 History of Imperial Russia

Historical legacy of the Russian imperial period from the reign of Peter the Great to Russia's entry into World War I. (Formerly HIST 2256) 3 credits

HIST 3257 East Central Europe

Political evolution and social and economic development of modern Poland and Danubian Europe from 1700 to present. (Formerly HIST 2257) 3 credits

HIST 3258 The Euroasian Frontier in Russian History

This course sets out to explore the ambiguities arising out of Russia's position astride the boundary between Europe and Asia, between East and West. Focusing on a series of regional and historical episodes, the course examines the process of Russian imperial expansion from the 16th century up to the time of the Russian revolution, the peoples caught up in the empire and the ways in which experience of empire was reflected back into Russian culture. 3 credits

HIST 3260 Western Europe in the 20th Century

Since 1914, European civilization has been in a permanent condition of crisis and alarm. Examination of individual tragedies, speculating about their origins and consequences. (Formerly HIST 2260) 3 credits

HIST 3264 (CAST 2264) Modern Ireland

Examination of the forces of Ireland's recent past that account for her present condition. (Formerly HIST 2264) 3 credits

HIST 3265 History of Germany, 1848 to Present

Comprehensive survey of Germany beginning with its political and economic modernization, through the world wars of the 20th century to the present. (Formerly HIST 2265) 3 credits

HIST 3266 History of 20th Century Russia

Russia since 1917. (Formerly HIST 2266) 3 credits
HIST 3276 The Transformation of Russia, 1894-1932
 Russia's development from a traditional agrarian society under the Tsars to a major industrialized power under totalitarian rule. (Formerly HIST 2276) 3 credits

HIST 4251-4253 Colloquium in European History

This course is an intensive investigation of the literature in a specific area of European history. The topic for the course will vary from semester to semester. It is designed to enrich students' understanding of the nature of the historical discipline and introduces them to various ways in which historians have interpreted a specific historical period, event, or theme. 3 credits each

HIST 4280-4283 Trip Abroad to Europe

The specific destination will vary, but all trips will be led by one or more faculty members who will emphasize the history of the area and country visited. Included will be visits to historic sites and museums, with readings and lectures on related topics. Students are required to write a paper for the course and to participate in discussions. 3 credits each

HIST 4290-4293 Topics in European History

Topics to be set by instructor. (Formerly HIST 2290-2293) 3 credits each

African, Asian, Latin American, Middle Eastern HistoryHIST 3268 Middle East in the 20th Century

From the collapse of the Ottoman Empire to the Arab-Israeli conflict. Nationalistic movements and the role of the Great Powers and the U.N. in the area. (Formerly HIST 2268) 3 credits

HIST 3468 (AFAM 3211) Caribbean History

This course is designed to introduce students to the historiography of the Caribbean from the period of European conquest to the present. Focusing on the economic, political and social conditions of the regions, the course will examine the region's common history of slavery, migration, immigration, dependence and independence. Additionally, in the context of the Caribbean as New World, the course will examine the role/presence of the US in the Caribbean and the effects of globalization on/and the world market economy. Further topics that will be explored in this course are gender, race, class, ethnicity and nationality. 3 credits

HIST 3551 (AFAM 2218) History of Southern Africa

Development of African and European societies in Southern Africa. Special emphasis on the beginnings of white settlement and the evolution and institutionalization of apartheid. (Formerly HIST 2551) 3 credits

HIST 3552 (AFAM 2216) History of Western Africa

Primary forces that have shaped the political, cultural and social development of the area. (Formerly HIST 2552) 3 credits

HIST 3553 (AFAM 2217) History of East and Central Africa

Internal and external factors that have helped shape the history of the area. (Formerly HIST 2553) 3 credits

HIST 3554 (AFAM 2219) History of North Africa

Topics in North African history: the pre-Arab era, Arabization and Islamization; Ottoman rule, North Africa since the Napoleonic invasion. (Formerly HIST 2554) 3 credits

HIST 3561 (AFAM 2222) 20th Century Africa

Evolution of Africa from dependent colonial status to sovereign states in the international political arena, and the role and impact of these states on world global politics. (Formerly HIST 2561) 3 credits

HIST 3621 (ASIA 3127) History of Traditional China

Department of Mathematics and Computer Science

McNulty Hall (Science and Technology Center)

(973) 761-9466

mathcs@shu.edu

www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/math-compsci

Faculty: Burke; Costa; Gross; Guerin; Guetti (Chair); Kahl; Kim; Marlowe (Coordinator, Computer Science); Masterson; Minimair; Morazan; Saccoman; Schoppmann; Seth; Wachsmuth

Faculty Associates: McNeill; Minacapelli; Rohrbach; Sethi (Director, Developmental Mathematics)

The Department of Mathematics and Computer Science offers programs of study leading to the degrees Bachelor of Science (B.S.) in Mathematics and Bachelor of Science (B.S.) in Computer Science.

The department aims to develop students' analytical skills and attitudes necessary for the effective understanding and application of mathematics and computer science.

A variety of program options are available for undergraduates majoring in mathematics or computer science. Students' programs are determined in consultation with a faculty adviser from the department and tailored to each undergraduate's career goals. With the proper choice of electives, students will be prepared to enter teaching, industry or graduate study in mathematics, computer science, business, law or medicine.

Programs for undergraduates majoring in secondary education with mathematics as a teaching field are determined in consultation with a faculty adviser from the Department of Educational Studies in the College of Education and Human Services, as well as the Department of Mathematics and Computer Science.

The Center for Developmental Mathematics offers classes to strengthen the mathematical foundation for students, and tutoring in mathematics and statistics in the Mathematics Learning Lab in association with the Ruth Sharkey Academic Resource Center. For further information, please refer to the Mathematics Learning Lab web page at www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/math-compsci/math-learning-lab.cfm

Departmental Honors

The Department of Mathematics and Computer Science offers the opportunity for students to graduate with departmental honors in mathematics and/or computer science. The requirements for departmental honors include a GPA and credit requirement, as well as the completion of a capstone project under supervision of a faculty member. It is recommended that any interested student should meet with the chair of the department or his/her adviser by the end of the sophomore year to discuss options for the senior project.

Students who wish to graduate with departmental honors in mathematics:

- must have 3.3 GPA in major courses numbered 3000 or above, including CSAS courses used to satisfy major requirements, a 3.0 overall average GPA, and must have taken at least 60 credits at Seton Hall;
- must complete three full-year sequences, including both Algebra (MATH 3815-4815) and Analysis (MATH 3515-4515) sequences; and
- must complete a capstone project (ordinarily through a thesis developed for Senior Seminar (MATH 4912)), under supervision of a department faculty member. This requirement may be satisfied in conjunction with the thesis requirement in the Humanities Honors Program and is in addition to the 47- credit mathematics major requirement.

Education/math majors who do their off-campus student teaching internship in the spring of their fourth year and who are on track to graduate after completion of this assignment may have a problem fulfilling the all the sequence requirements for graduating with departmental honors. Since the analysis sequence and algebra sequence are offered only in alternate school years, these students will be unable to take Part II of one of these sequences, both of which are required for honors designation. The department chair may allow these students to substitute Number Theory (MATH 3813) for Algebra II (MATH 4815) for those education majors who cannot take Algebra II in the spring of their senior year, and Complex Analysis (MATH 4512) for Analysis II (MATH 4515) for those students who cannot take Analysis II in the spring of their senior year. This should be the only accommodation for education/math majors to graduate with honors, as they can complete either the algebra or analysis sequence as well as the third sequence of the honors requirement in their junior year.

Students who wish to graduate with departmental honors in computer science:

- must have a 3.3 GPA in major courses numbered 3000 or above, including MATH courses used to satisfy major requirements, a 3.0 overall average GPA, and must have taken at least 60 credits at Seton Hall;
- must complete two additional electives in mathematics or computer science at the 3000 level or above, in addition to the 55-credit computer science major requirement. Only courses that count toward a major in mathematics or computer science or toward a certificate in computer science can be used to satisfy this requirement. Courses taken to satisfy a mathematics minor requirement cannot simultaneously be used to satisfy the Honors requirement; and
- must complete (1) a concentration in a computer science specialization, together with a capstone project related to the concentration, such as a coding or design project with appropriate documentation, or a survey paper, under supervision of a department faculty member; or (2) satisfactorily complete a major software project, including coding, testing and debugging, documentation, and demonstration. This project may originate within a course, and may be part of a team project, or may be a result of a co-op, directed study, or independent study.

Major in Mathematics

In addition to meeting the standards and requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences, degree candidates must complete the requirements listed below. It is strongly recommended that all mathematics majors take CSAS 1114 Design of Programs I. All programs are worked out in consultation with a department adviser who may modify the program in view of the student's background and objectives. All programs must be approved by the department.

	Credits
MATH 1501-1511 Honors Calculus I-II	8
MATH 1611 Introductory Discrete Mathematics	3
MATH 2511 Honors Calculus III	4
MATH 2611 Foundations of Higher Mathematics	3
MATH 2813 Linear Algebra	4
MATH 3515 Analysis I	4
MATH 3815 Algebra I	4
MATH 3912 Junior Seminar	2
Courses at the 3000-level or higher*	15
Total:	47

*Includes two upper-division sequences (courses at the 3000-level or higher) leading to the study of some subjects in depth. At least one of these electives must complete a sequence in algebra (MATH 3815, 4815) or analysis (MATH 3515, 4515). Sequences in discrete mathematics, statistical analysis or others chosen with departmental permission are possible.

Students majoring in mathematical education should see their adviser for specific recommendations on elective courses.

Major in Computer Science

In addition to meeting the standards and requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences, degree candidates must complete the requirements listed below. All programs are worked out in consultation with a department adviser who may modify the program in view of the students' backgrounds and objectives. All programs must be approved by the department.

Course Descriptions

Courses in Computer Science

CSAS 1015 Computer Science Essentials

General overview of the many facets of computer science and information technology: Data, hardware, software, networks. System software including operating systems and programming environments. Software engineering; program development using data structures, algorithms, files, and databases. Exposure to other topics and issues in computer science, such as data compression, security, theory of computation, computational complexity. Prerequisites: MATH 0012 or appropriate placement. 3 credits

CSAS 1111 Introduction to Computer Science I

Problem solving using computers. The design and implementation of computer programs. Major areas and issues in computer science including social and ethical concerns. Problem solving and pseudocode. Formal specification and verification. Basic software engineering techniques and software reuse. Data structures. Structured types: arrays, records, files. Objects and methods. Programming in a high-level language, such as C++ or Java. Corequisite: MATH 1015. 4 credits

CSAS 1112 Introduction to Computer Science II

Major issues, areas, and applications of computer science. Data structures and algorithms. Linked lists, trees and graphs. Stacks, queues, and heaps. Object-oriented programming. Problem solving and software engineering. Algorithm design, induction, recursion, and complexity. Social, economic, and ethical concerns. Programming in a high-level language, such as C++ or Java. Prerequisite: CSAS 1111. Corequisite: MATH 1501/1401. 4 credits

CSAS 1113 Computing for Science Majors

A course in programming in C++ with emphasis on applications to the sciences and to numeric algorithms. Basics of software development (variables, control structures, functions), data structures (records, arrays, lists), dynamic structures (pointers, linked lists) and principles of object-oriented programming (fields and methods, classes, inheritance). The course will focus on creating programs for topics of interest in the natural sciences. Corequisite: MATH 1015 or equivalent. 4 credits

CSAS 1114 Design of Programs I

Programming skills are important to virtually every profession. Professionals must make decisions on how to achieve goals by deciding what steps are necessary. This course is an introduction to computer programming that teaches students how to make plans, to organize their thoughts, to pay attention to detail, and to be self-critical. The main focus of the course is the design process that leads students from a problem statement and a blank page to a well-organized solution. Topics include the processing of simple forms of data, the processing of arbitrarily large data, and the process of abstraction. This course assumes no prior computer programming experience. Corequisite Math 1014 or greater. 3 credits

CSAS 1115 Design of Programs II

This course continues the study of the design and the programming processes started in CSAS 1114. Building on the abstraction skills acquired in CSAS 1114, the course focuses on new programming design techniques such as generative recursion, tail-recursion, and the changing of state variables through the use of assignment. The disciplined introduction to assignment prepares students to study modern object-oriented design and programming. Prerequisite: CSAS 1114, Corequisite: MATH 1015, 1501 or 1401. 3 credits

CSAS 2123 Design of Classes I

This course is an introduction to object-oriented design and programming. Building on the knowledge gained in CSAS 1114-1115 students learn to design a system of classes to represent information. Given a system of classes and a piece of information students will be able to create objects and represent this information with data. Conversely, given an instance of a class in the system, students will be able to interpret this object as information in the real world. Topics include varieties of data, functional methods, and abstraction with classes. Prerequisite: CSAS 1115, MATH 1611. 3 credits

CSAS 2124 Design of Classes II

This continues the investigation of object-oriented design and programming started in CSAS 2123. Topics include circular objects, imperative methods, abstraction over data definitions, and the use of commercial programming environments for object-oriented programs. By the end of this course, students will have a solid grasp on the principles and practice of object-oriented programming. Prerequisite: CSAS 2123. 3 credits

CSAS 2125 Computer Systems and Assembly Programming

This course introduces the basic design of computing systems: CPU, memory, input and output. In addition, it provides a complete introduction to assembly language: the basics of an instruction set plus experience in assembly language programming using a RISC architecture. During the course student will gain experience using system calls and interrupt-driven programming emphasizing the interaction with the operating system. Other topics include: machine representation of integers, characters, floating point numbers, and virtual memory. Prerequisite: CSAS 1115, MATH 1611. 3 credits

CSAS 2126 Data Structures and Algorithms

This course discusses data structures such as arrays, stacks, queues, lists, trees, and graphs and the algorithms that manipulate these structures. Algorithm analysis for the cost of time and space is introduced. Students will learn essential tools for designing efficient software applications, needed in all application areas of computer science, such as industrial and scientific computation and database management. Prerequisite: CSAS 2123, MATH 1611, MATH 2111. 3 credits

CSAS 2213 The UNIX Operating System and the C Language

Using the UNIX environment, shells and customization, UNIX tools. Low-level language features, in C or C++, including I/O and file manipulation, and explicit pointers and structures; compilation. Combining C and UNIX. Introduction to systems programming. The Perl language and systems features. Pipes, sockets and processes. Prerequisite: One year of programming. 3 credits

CSAS 2214 Java and Network Programming

Object-oriented programming principles. Java libraries, including awt and swing. The Graphical User Interface, animation and multithreading. Exceptions and advanced error-handling techniques. Client-server programming, database interfaces, overview of common client/server applications and techniques. Prerequisite: CSAS 2124 or the equivalent. 3 credits

CSAS 3085-3086 Special Topics in Computer Science

Signature III course with substantial computer science or related content, typically interdisciplinary and perhaps team-taught, taught on an experimental basis with topics to be determined by the instructor(s) in cooperation with the University Core Curriculum process. See Co-op Adviser. 3 credits each

CSAS 3094 Computer Science Co-op I

See Co-op Adviser. 3 credits

CSAS 3095 Computer Science Co-op II

See Co-op Adviser. 3 credits

CSAS 3096 Computer Science Co-op III

See Co-op Adviser. 3 credits

CSAS 3111 Operating Systems and Computer Architecture

Interdependence of operating systems and architectures. System structure and system evaluation. Emphasis on memory management: addressing, virtual memory, paging, segmentation and secondary storage; processes management: scheduling, context switching, priority, concurrency and deadlock; and resource management: memory, secondary storage, buses and printers. Prerequisite: CSAS 2124, 2126. 3 credits

CSAS 3113 Organization of Programming Languages

Introduction to principles of programming languages and nonprocedural, non-object-oriented programming. Programming language concepts, including higher-order functions, first-class functions, recursion, tail-recursion and iteration, tree-recursion; issues of pure versus impure languages in relation to performance, implementation and ease of abstraction; environments, parameter passing, and scoping. Structure, the syntax, and implementation of languages, illustrated using interpreters. Emphasis on programming in a language such as Scheme or Prolog; individual programming assignments and team project. Prerequisite: CSAS 2124, 2126, MATH 1611. 3 credits

CSAS 3211 Networks and Networking

Principles of computer and networking. The layered model of a computer network and its implementation. Standard protocols. Applications. Mathematical principles and theory. Team and individual programming projects. Prerequisite: CSAS 2125 or permission of instructor. 3 credits

CSAS 3212 Computer Graphics Programming

Introduction to computer graphics, with emphasis on applications programming. Covers topics which form the basis for computer graphics applications programming, such as graphics computer architectures and software, application programmer's interfaces, interactive programs, geometric objects and their transformations, viewing with a computer, shading of objects, pixel-oriented techniques, implementation of a renderer, curves and surfaces and visualization of scientific data. Graphics programs will be developed using a high-level programming language, such as C++ or Java, and an application programmer's interface, such as OpenGL or Java 3D. Prerequisites: MATH 2813 or MATH 2814 and CSAS 2126. 3 credits

CSAS 4071-4072 Directed Software Development

(See department chair) 1 credit

CSAS 4081-4086 Special Topics in Computer Science

Special topics and problems in various branches of computer science. Prerequisites: At least five CSAS courses, including CSAS 2122, or permission of chair. 1-3 credits

CSAS 4091-4096 Independent Study in Computer Science

Prerequisites: At least five CSAS courses, including CSAS 2122, or permission of chair. 1-3 credits

CSAS 4111 Introduction to Artificial Intelligence

Different definitions of and approaches to artificial intelligence. Problems, problem spaces and search techniques; special emphasis on heuristic search, including hill climbing, best-first search and A*. The role of knowledge and knowledge representation issues. Programming and AI application. Introductory survey paper. Prerequisites: CSAS 2124, 2126, MATH 1611, 2111. 3 credits

CSAS 4112 Design and Analysis of Algorithms

Analysis of the complexity and validity of algorithms for the solution of problems in graph theory, combinatorics, systems programming, artificial intelligence and other fields. Randomized algorithms and amortized analysis. NP-completeness and undecidability. Prerequisite: CSAS 2124, 2126, MATH 1611. 3 credits

CSAS 4113 Automata Computability and Formal Languages

Introduction to the theory of finite state automata and their equivalence to regular expressions and regular grammars; pushdown automata and context-free languages; context-sensitive grammars and Turing machines; determinism and nondeterminism; issues of complexity including P and NP; and issues of computability including Turing computable versus Turing decidable, the Halting problem and other incomputable problems. Prerequisites: CSAS 2124, 2126, MATH 1611. 3 credits

CSAS 4114 Theory of Programming Languages

Advanced topics in programming languages are introduced such as compilation, garbage collection, interfacing compiled and interpreted code, virtual machine design, lexical addressing, lazy evaluation, and code optimization. The interaction of programming languages and the physical machine on which they are implemented. Significant programming project and introductory survey paper. Prerequisite: CSAS 3113. 3 credits

CSAS 4115 Theory of Relational Databases

Modern relational databases. Relational algebra, views and queries, normal forms and normalization, tuning and optimization. The entity-relationship model and database design. Overview of other approaches, especially object-oriented databases, data warehouses and data mining, distributed databases and very large applications. Group project, both design and implementation, in an SQL-based environment, such as Access or Oracle. Prerequisites: CSAS 2124, 2126, MATH 1611 or permission of department chair. 3 credits

CSAS 4116 Software Engineering and Object-Orientated Development

Principles of software engineering; classical and object-oriented approaches. Large-scale application design. UML, use cases, class and sequence diagrams, and related notations. Phases of a project. From OO analysis to OO design and OO development. Libraries, reuse, and reengineering. Management of large-scale projects. Testing, validation, and verification; introduction to formal methods. A large-scale group project, from requirements through implementation and test design. Prerequisite: CSAS 2124, 2126 or permission of the instructor. 4 credits

CSAS 4912 Senior Project

Student completes and presents a major project in computer science. Course is ordinarily taken Spring semester of the student's last year, based on a proposal submitted in the previous two semesters, approved by the department, and supervised by a director and a second reader. The project typically involves programming and/or research, and both written and oral presentations. Prerequisites: Senior standing with a 2.8 average, or permission of department chair. 3 credits

Courses in Mathematics

Placement information: The Department of Mathematics and Computer Science has established placement procedures to place students in mathematics courses commensurate with their skill level and to ensure a level of mathematical proficiency that can be expected from graduates of Seton Hall University.

Students are placed into categories according to the math portion of their SAT scores. A student can then take any course within that category or any lower category. A student can place into a higher category by taking the (optional) Mathematics Placement Exam. Transfer students should contact the department chair before registering for any mathematics courses.

Category I

Math 0011, Math 0012 and MATH 0013 (Developmental Mathematics, institutional credit only)

Category II

Any math course up to Math 1299 excluding Math 1015

Category III

Any math course up to Math 1399

Category IV

Any math course up to Math 1501 excluding Math 1411

Students with a high level of mathematics preparation may place above Math 1401/1501 or receive credit for Math 1303 or Math 1401/1501 if (a) they passed the AP Calculus Exam with a score of 4 or 5, or (b) they passed a "Project Acceleration High School" Calculus course with an A or B. Please see the department chair if you wish to place higher than Math 1401/1501. For details on the mathematics placement procedures, please call (973) 761-9466.

Please note: The prerequisites listed below are strictly enforced. A student who has not completed the prerequisites will not be permitted to remain in a course or receive course credit. For all courses listed with two numbers, such as MATH 3612-3613, the first course is prerequisite to the second.

Note: MATH 0011, 0012 and 0013 do not count toward graduation.

MATH 0011 Developmental Mathematics I

Topics covered: integers, fractions, decimals, ratio, percentage, polynomials, exponents, and elementary word problems. After completion of this class students will enroll in either MATH 0012 or MATH 0013 to finish their Developmental Math requirements. Prerequisite: appropriate placement. 2 institutional credits

MATH 0012 Developmental Mathematics II

Topics covered: review of arithmetic skills, simplifying algebraic expressions, exponents, equations, polynomials, graphing, factoring, square roots, algebraic fractions and elementary word problems. Successful completion of this class will satisfy the Developmental Math requirements. Prerequisite: MATH 0011 or appropriate placement. 3 institutional credits

MATH 0013 Developmental Mathematics III

Topics covered: polynomials, graphing, factoring, square roots, algebraic fractions and elementary word problems. Successful completion of this class will satisfy the Developmental Math requirements. Prerequisite: MATH 0011 appropriate placement. 2 institutional credits

MATH 1011 Sabermetrics

Introduces students to the rapidly growing field of sabermetrics, the science of statistics applied to baseball. Demonstrates application of statistical measures to the game. Students gain insight into the interpretation and validity of statistical measures. Prerequisite: MATH 0012 or appropriate placement. 1 credit

MATH 1014 Intermediate Algebra

The real number system, algebraic manipulations, solving equations and inequalities, exponents and radicals, functions and graphing. A minimum grade of "C" is required. Prerequisite: MATH 0012 or appropriate placement. 3 credits

MATH 1015 Pre-Calculus Mathematics Algebra and Trigonometry

The real number system, functions, polynomial functions and equations, exponential and logarithmic functions, trigonometric functions (graphs, applications, identities and equations), analytic geometry. Prerequisite: MATH 1014 or appropriate placement. 4 credits

MATH 1101 Statistical Concepts and Methods

Nature of statistics. Descriptive statistics, graphical methods, measures of central tendency and variability. Probability, correlation and regression, sampling distributions. Inferential statistics, estimation and hypothesis testing, tests of independence and nonparametric statistics. Use of computer statistical packages. Prerequisite: MATH 0012 or appropriate placement. 3 credits

MATH 1102 Mathematical Perspectives

Introduction to traditional and contemporary mathematical ideas in logic, number theory, geometry, probability and statistics. Historical and cultural development of these topics, as well as connections to other disciplines and various problem-solving strategies are included. Prerequisite: MATH 0012 or appropriate placement. 3 credits

MATH 1112 Mathematical Perspectives II

Selected topics from set theory and number theory. Algebra, Geometry and right triangle Trigonometry. Counting Methods, Probability and Statistics. Prerequisite: Any 1000-level MATH course or appropriate placement. 3 credits

MATH 1202 Mathematical Models in the Social Sciences

For students in the behavioral sciences. Various elementary mathematical techniques (exclusive of statistics) currently used in the field. Computer terminal facilities aid instruction and acquaint students with the employment of subroutines to solve problems. Topics from linear programming, graph theory, matrix algebra, combinatorics, logic and Boolean algebra. Specific and realistic applications to problems illustrate each topic. Prerequisite: MATH 0012 or appropriate placement. 3 credits

MATH 1203 Statistical Models for the Social Sciences

Applications of statistics in the social sciences. Analysis and interpretation of statistical models. Sampling techniques, common flaws and errors in sampling and in using statistics. Descriptive statistics, levels of measurement, measures of central tendency and dispersion. Contingency tables and measures of association for categorical variables. Correlation and linear regression. Probability and frequency distributions. Parametric and nonparametric inferential statistics. Confidence intervals and hypothesis testing. Prerequisite: MATH 0012 or appropriate placement. 3 credits

MATH 1301 Calculus for Business and Economics Students I

Introduction to real numbers, functions, elements of geometry, limits, derivatives and integrals, including the Fundamental Theorem of Calculus. This course includes elements of the historical developments of calculus as well as connections to other disciplines. This course is not intended for science or mathematics majors. 3 credits

MATH 1303 Quantitative Methods for Business and Economic Students

Functions, limits, continuity, derivatives applications of the derivative, in particular to mathematical economics. Exponential and logarithmic functions. Antiderivatives, area and applications to business models. Probabilities and applications. Matrices and an introduction to linear programming. Prerequisite: MATH 1014 or appropriate placement. 3 credits

MATH 1311 Calculus for Business and Economic Students II

Implicit differentiation, related rates, differential equations, improper integrals and probability density functions, partial derivatives and applications and multiple integrals. Introduction to matrix theory, solution of systems of linear equations and linear programming. Prerequisite: MATH 1303. 3 credits

MATH 1401 Calculus I

Real numbers, functions, elements of plane analytic geometry, limits, continuity, derivatives, differentiation of algebraic functions, applications of the derivative, antiderivatives, definite integral and Fundamental Theorem of Calculus. Applications using computer software packages. Prerequisite: MATH 1015 or appropriate placement. 4 credits

MATH 1411 Calculus II

Applications of integration. Differentiation of trigonometric and exponential functions and their inverses. Techniques of integration. Improper integrals, indeterminate forms, polar coordinates and vectors. Applications using computer software packages. Prerequisite: MATH 1401. 4 credits

MATH 1501 Honors Calculus I

Real numbers, proof by induction, functions, definition by recursion, limits, continuity, derivatives and applications, definite integral, Fundamental Theorem of Calculus and inverse functions. Applications using computer software packages. Emphasis on theory. Prerequisite: MATH 1015 or appropriate placement. 4 credits

MATH 1511 Honors Calculus II

Applications of integration, polar coordinates, techniques of integration, infinite series, conics, two-dimensional vectors and differential equations. Applications using computer software packages. Emphasis on theory. Prerequisite: MATH 1401 or MATH 1501. 4 credits

MATH 1611 Introductory Discrete Mathematics

Basic counting rules, permutations, combinations, Pigeonhole principle, inclusion-exclusion, generating functions, recurrence relations, graphs, digraphs, trees and algorithms. Corequisite: MATH 1511. 3 credits

MATH 2111 Statistics for Science Majors

Oriented toward direct application to research problems in the sciences. Collecting and organizing data, design of experiments, standard distributions, statistical tests and procedures used in hypothesis testing. A discursive treatment of the probability theory necessary to understand statistical tests is included but minimized. Emphasis on statistical inference and developing an awareness of statistical methods in a given situation. Prerequisite: MATH 1401. 4 credits

MATH 2411 Calculus III

Elements of solid analytic geometry, parametric equations, vector-valued functions, partial differentiation, multiple integrals, line integrals and surface integrals. Applications using computer software packages. Prerequisite: MATH 1411. 4 credits

MATH 2511 Honors Calculus III

Vectors in space, vector-valued functions, partial differentiation, multiple integrals, vector analysis, and line and surface integrals. Applications using computer software packages. Emphasis on theory. Prerequisite: MATH 1511. 4 credits

MATH 2611 Foundations of Higher Mathematics

The logical and set-theoretic foundations of mathematics and computer science. Introduction to mathematical logic and proof techniques. Elementary set theory, including numbers, sets, relations, functions, equivalence classes, partial orders, Boolean algebras and cardinality. Prerequisites: MATH 1511 and MATH 1611. 3 credits

MATH 2813 Linear Algebra

Matrix algebra, determinants, solutions of systems of linear equations, R^n , abstract vector spaces, linear transformations, inner product spaces and eigenvectors. Prerequisites: MATH 2611. 4 credits

MATH 2814 Special Topics: Introductory Linear Algebra and Computational Mathematics

Topics essential for computer science selected from traditional linear algebra and Calculus II. The material is presented in a constructive and algorithmic way to increase relevance for computer science students. The students will implement relevant mathematical algorithms in a programming language taught during the freshman or sophomore year. Students will acquire skills that are essential for designing efficient software applications, needed in industrial and scientific applications of computer science. Prerequisites: MATH 1501 or MATH 1611; and CSAS1114. 3 credits

MATH 3085-3086 Special Topics in Mathematics

Signature III course with substantial mathematical or related content, typically interdisciplinary and perhaps team-taught, taught on an experimental basis with topics to be determined by the instructor(s) in cooperation with the University Core Curriculum process. See Co-op Adviser. 3 credits each

MATH 3094 Math Co-op I

See Co-op Adviser. 3 credits

MATH 3095 Math Co-op II

See Co-op Adviser. 3 credits

MATH 3096 Math Co-op III

See Co-op Adviser. 3 credits

MATH 3111 History of Mathematics

The development of mathematical ideas in various cultures, civilizations, and eras including Ancient Greece, Medieval China, the Renaissance, Era of Descartes and Fermat, Era of Newton and Leibniz, as well as the logical foundations and the use of the computer in Modern Mathematics. Prerequisite: MATH 2511 and MATH 2611. 3 credits

MATH 3513 Introduction to Numerical Analysis

Direct and iterative methods for solving equations and systems of equations. Numerical methods, including interpolation, polynomial approximations, numerical differentiation and integration. Numerical solution to differential equations. Knowledge of computer programming helpful. Prerequisite: MATH 2511. 3 credits

MATH 3514 Differential Equations

Existence theorems, graphical methods, phase plane analysis, boundary value problems and selected topics. Prerequisites: MATH 2511, MATH 2813. 3 credits

MATH 3515 Analysis I

Structure of R^1 and R^n ; compactness and connectedness; continuity, differentiability and integrability in R^n . Prerequisites: MATH 2411 or 2511; MATH 2813. 4 credits

MATH 3611 Introduction to Operations Research

Construction and use of mathematical models in operations research. Classical techniques for optimization of functions of one and several variables. Linear programming problem and simplex method for their solutions. Applications to practical problems. Prerequisites: MATH 2511, MATH 2813. 3 credits

MATH 3612-3613 Discrete Mathematics I and II

Explores problem-formulation and solution strategies in widely varying domain. Allows mathematics majors familiarity with area range and techniques in computer science structures and analysis, and modeling in other fields. Underlying construction and models used in various disciplines and the modeling process. Prerequisites: MATH 2511, MATH 2813. 3 credits each

MATH 3711-3712 Statistical Analysis I and II

Probability spaces, random variables, sampling, the law of large numbers, central limit theorem, confidence intervals and tests of hypotheses, regression, statistical decision theory, sampling from a normal population, testing hypotheses, experimental design and analysis of variance. Other sampling methods. Prerequisites: MATH 1611, MATH 2511. 3 credits each

MATH 3813 Number Theory

Unique factorization and its applications, congruency, quadratic reciprocity and diophantine equations. Other topics as time permits. Prerequisite: MATH 2611. 3 credits

MATH 3814 Linear Algebra and Matrix Theory

Vector spaces and algebras, unitary and orthogonal transformations, characteristic equation of a matrix, the Jordan canonical form. Bilinear, quadratic and Hermitian forms. Spectral theorem. Prerequisite: MATH 2813. 3 credits

MATH 3815 Algebra I

Introduction to algebraic structures: monoids, groups, rings and fields. Examples are given, and the elementary theory of these structures is described. Prerequisite: MATH 2813. 4 credits

MATH 3911 Geometry

Possible topics include Euclidean geometry, non-Euclidean geometry, projective geometry, transformation geometry, complex geometry. Prerequisites: MATH 2511, MATH 2611. 3 credits

MATH 3912 Junior Seminar

Seminars and discussions designed to integrate readings of mathematical literature with both oral and written presentations. Prerequisites: MATH 3515 or 3815. 2 credits

MATH 4091-4092 Topics in Applied Mathematics I and II

Topics chosen from among operations research, optimization, including an introduction to the calculus of variations, combinatorics, discrete mathematics, Fourier analysis, integral equations, matrix theory, and partial differential equations. Students acquire some experience at constructing mathematical models. Prerequisites: MATH 2511, MATH 2813. 3 credits each

MATH 4093-4098 Independent Study in Mathematics

Prerequisite: permission of department chair. 2-3 credits

MATH 4511 Introduction to Real Analysis

Sets, equivalence, countability, infinite series, metric spaces; complete, compact, connected spaces, sequences and series of functions and uniform convergence. Prerequisite: MATH 3512. 3 credits

MATH 4512 Introduction to Complex Analysis

Analytic functions, elementary functions and mappings, integrals, Cauchy's integral theorem and formula, power series, residues and poles. Prerequisite: MATH 2511. 3 credits

MATH 4515 Analysis II

Consequences of continuity, differentiability and intergrability in \mathbb{R}^n ; uniform convergence; introduction to metric spaces. Prerequisite: MATH 3515. 3 credits

MATH 4815 Algebra II

This course continues MATH 3815. Further properties of groups and fields, with a section on the applications of finite fields. Concentrates on Galois theory, the theory of the solution of algebraic equations. Prerequisite: MATH 3815. 3 credits

MATH 4911 Introduction to Topology

Topological spaces, subspaces, product spaces, identification spaces. General convergence. Connected and compact spaces. Separation and countability. Compactifications. Prerequisite: MATH 3515. 3 credits

MATH 4912 Senior Project

Individual research project applying skills developed in Junior Seminar (MATH 3912) under the guidance of faculty adviser. Grade is ordinarily based on oral and written presentations. Prerequisites: MATH 3912 and permission of department chair. 3 credits

MATH 5011-5019 Mathematics Seminar

Special topics and problems in various branches of mathematics. Prerequisite: permission of department chair. 3 credits each

Department of Modern Languages

Fahy Hall

(973) 761-9464

www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/modern-languages

Faculty: Alvarez-Amell; Bénéteau (Director, Italian Studies Program); Escobar (Director, Latin American and Latino/Latina Studies Program); Lopez-Cortina; Mullen-Hohl; Pastor; Pennington; Prieto; Rivera-Cordero; Rodriguez; Romani (Director, Alberto Institute); Zalacain (Chair)

Faculty Associate: Kuchta

Faculty Emeriti: Jovicevich; Prisco; Sarkanich; Sys

The Department of Modern Languages offers programs of study in French, German, Italian, Russian and Spanish, leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts. Students are strongly encouraged to attend our summer study abroad programs: For Italian, at the Italiaidea Language School in Rome, Italy; for French, at the Sorbonne, in Paris, France; and for Spanish at the University of Alicante, in Alicante, Spain. Semester and year-long programs can be arranged through the Office of International Programs.

Incoming freshmen will have the opportunity to take an online placement test in the foreign language they wish to study. Other students may take a similar test through the Language Resource Center for a language that they have previously studied.

The department offers primary majors in French, Italian, Spanish, or in modern languages (a combination of two of the following languages: French, German, Italian, Russian, or Spanish). Students in each of the majors are required to complete 42 credits in courses above the elementary level. Students beginning their major at a level higher than intermediate or advanced may waive three or six credits with the permission of the department. Those majoring in modern languages will complete 24 credits in a major language and 18 in a secondary language, all credits above the elementary level. Education majors whose concentration is French, Italian or Spanish are required to complete 42 credits above the elementary level. The department also offers secondary majors. Students who elect to have French, Italian or Spanish as a secondary major will complete 36 credits in courses above the elementary level. Students who elect modern languages as a secondary major have the same requirements as in a primary major, 24 credits in a major language and 18 credits in a secondary language.

Major Program

The sequence of courses for a primary major in French, Italian, or Spanish language is as follows:

	Credits
Intermediate I-II (courses numbered 2001-2002)	6
Advanced I-II (courses numbered 3001-3002)	6

SPAN 3321-3322, 4324-4325 Special Topics in Hispanic Civilization

Issues of current interest to the study of Hispanic civilization. Varying topics focus on regions, periods, and lesser-taught aspects of Spanish (Peninsular), Latin American and USA Latino culture. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisite: SPAN 2002 or permission of the department. (Formerly SPAN 2213-2216) 3 credits each

SPAN 3601 Spanish and Latin American Cinema

Development of proficiency in the Spanish language through the screening and analysis of critically acclaimed and selected Spanish and Latin American films. Focuses on film as a major expression of Spanish and Latin American culture. Readings and discussions relative to their historical, social, political, aesthetic, literary and linguistic contexts. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisite: SPAN 3002 or 3102 or permission of department. (Formerly SPAN 2711) 3 credits

SPAN 4111 Business Spanish: Correspondence

Practice in contemporary business, administrative and personal correspondence in Spanish. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisite: SPAN 3002, 3012 or 3102 or permission of department. 3 credits

Spanish LiteratureSPAN 3324 (LALS 3324) Classics of Latin American Literature in Translation

The study of selected great works of the late 19th and 20th century Latin American literature. Insight of Latin American history as reflected in these texts. Conducted in English. 3 credits

SPAN 3402 Introduction to Hispanic Literary Studies

Study of literary genres, concepts, periods and movements in relation to Spanish Peninsular and Spanish-American literature. Required for majors. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisite: SPAN 3012 or SPAN 3102 or permission of department. (Formerly SPAN 3311) 3 credits

SPAN 3403 Masterpieces of Spanish Literature I

Selected literary works from Spain and Spanish America up to the 18th century. (Formerly SPAN 3301) 3 credits each

SPAN 3404 Masterpieces of Spanish Literature II

Selected literary works from Spain and Spanish America from the 19th century to the present. (Formerly SPAN 3302) 3 credits each

SPAN 3491 (LALS 3401/ENGL 3404) U.S. Latina/Latino Literature

A survey of the literature written by Latina/Latino authors in the United States. Reading materials, class discussions, exams, and term papers will be in English, but Spanish majors and minors, and native Spanish speakers will be encouraged to write in Spanish, and read Spanish translations when available. (Formerly SPAN 3401) 3 credits

SPAN 4401 Medieval and Renaissance Spanish Literature

Outstanding Spanish literature from its beginning to the 16th century. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisite: SPAN 3002 or 3102 or permission of department. (Formerly SPAN 4311) 3 credits

SPAN 4411 Spanish Golden Age Drama and Poetry

Outstanding Spanish playwrights and poets of the 16th and 17th centuries. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisite: SPAN 3002 or 3102 or permission of department. (Formerly SPAN 4312) 3 credits

Outstanding Spanish prose writers of the 16th and 17th centuries, with emphasis on Cervantes and the picaresque. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisite: SPAN 3002 or 3102 or permission of department. (Formerly SPAN 4313) 3 credits

SPAN 4421 Romantic and Realistic Spanish

Major Spanish writers of the 19th century. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisite: SPAN 3002 or 3102 or permission of department. (Formerly SPAN 4317) 3 credits

SPAN 4431 Modern Spanish Literature

Representative Spanish writers of the Generation of 27 and post-Civil War period. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisite: SPAN 3002 or 3102 or permission of department. (Formerly SPAN 4317) 3 credits

SPAN 4433 Generation of 1898 and Modernism

Representative Spanish writers of the 19th and early 20th centuries. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisite: SPAN 3002 or 3102 or permission of department. (Formerly SPAN 4315) 3 credits

SPAN 4461 Spanish-American Narrative I

Development of the Spanish-American novel and short story from the colonial period up to the Boom. Reading and analysis of representative works. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisite: SPAN 3002 or 3102 or permission of department. (Formerly SPAN 4318) 3 credits

SPAN 4462 Spanish-American Narrative II

Study of the Spanish American novel and short story from the Boom to the present. Reading and analysis of representative works. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisite: SPAN 3002 or 3102 or permission of department. (Formerly SPAN 4320) 3 credits

SPAN 4463 Spanish-American Theater

Development of the Spanish-American theater from the colonial period to the present. Reading and analysis of representative works. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisite: SPAN 3002 or 3102 or permission of department. (Formerly SPAN 4319) 3 credits

SPAN 4465 Spanish-American Essay

Study of the Spanish-American essay. Reading and analysis of representative works. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisite: SPAN 3002 or 3102 or permission of department. (Formerly SPAN 4322) 3 credits

SPAN 4466 Spanish-American Poetry

Development of Spanish-American poetry from the colonial period to the present. Study and analysis of representative works. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisite: SPAN 3002 or 3102 or permission of department. (Formerly SPAN 4321) 3 credits

SPAN 4471 Spanish Literature of the Caribbean

Representative authors from Cuba, the Dominican Republic and Puerto Rico. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisite: SPAN 3002 or 3102 or permission of department. (Formerly SPAN 4323) 3 credits

SPAN 4801-4803 Studies in Spanish Literature

(Formerly SPAN 4391-4393) 3 credits each

SPAN 5401-5404 Spanish Seminar

Study of a special topic announced by the department including Study Abroad. Conducted in Spanish. Permission of department. (Formerly SPAN 5391-5394) 1/2/3 credits

Spanish Study AbroadSPAN 2701 Study Abroad in Alicante, Spain

Course designed for Intermediate-Low level students. Held at the University of Alicante. Immersion in Spanish culture and language. Class emphasis on everyday situations. Excursions to major Spanish cities, including Madrid, Granada, and Barcelona. Prerequisite: SPAN 1002 or permission of the Program Director. 3 credits

SPAN 2702 Study Abroad in Alicante, Spain

Course designed for Intermediate-Mid level students as a continuation of SPAN 2701. Held at the University of Alicante. Immersion in Spanish culture and language. Class emphasis on everyday situations. Excursions to major Spanish cities, including Madrid, Granada, and Barcelona. Prerequisite: SPAN 1002 or permission of the Program Director. 3 credits

SPAN 3701 Study Abroad in Alicante, Spain

Course designed for Advanced level students. Course held at the University of Alicante. Immersion in Spanish culture and language. Class emphasis on Spanish Civilization and Literature. Excursions to major Spanish cities, including Madrid, Granada, and Barcelona. Prerequisite: SPAN 2002 or permission of the Program Director. 3 credits

Other Modern Language Courses

MOLG 3321 Special Topics in Modern Languages

Issues of current interest to the comparative study of French, Italian, Spanish, or Latin-American civilizations. Varying topics focus on region, periods and aspects of these cultures. 3 credits.

MOLG 4324 Special Topics in Modern Languages

Issues of current interest to the comparative study of French, Italian, Spanish, or Latin-American civilizations. Varying topics focus on region, periods and aspects of these cultures. 3 credits.

Department of Philosophy

Fahy Hall

(973) 761-9480

www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/philosophy

Faculty: Couch (Director, Liberal Studies Program); Mayhew; Medina; O'Connor; Ranieri; W. Smith; Stark (Director of Environmental Studies Program); Unna (Chair); Zakhem

Faculty Emeriti: Anderson; Barral; Dalcourt; Hakim; Herrera; Murphy; Radtke

The Department of Philosophy provides a program leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts. The program offers the opportunity for examining major philosophers and areas from ancient times to the present. These include issues that are matters of continuing human concern: Is there a God? What is knowledge and how is it acquired? What is the basis of right and wrong? What is the most just form of government? Is my behavior genuinely free or determined by prior causes? The study of philosophy helps students to understand these kinds of fundamental issues and provides the critical skills needed to examine them.

The major provides students with excellent preparation in the field. Students receive strong training in analytical and writing skills and a broad knowledge of the subject. The flexible structure of the program also enables students to focus on their particular area of interest. In addition to courses available in the history of Ancient and Modern Philosophy, there are courses in Ethics, Logic, Philosophy of Religion, Political Philosophy, Theory of Knowledge, Contemporary Philosophy, Philosophy of Science, and Existentialism.

International Honor Society in Philosophy

Phi Sigma Tau, Local Chapter: New Jersey Eta (3107)

Students are eligible to apply for membership if they have completed 12 credits in philosophy with a 3.5 GPA and a 3.0 GPA overall.

Major Program

In conjunction with meeting the standards and requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences, the philosophy major consists of 30 credits. Students work out the details of their course of study in consultation with the chairperson who may modify the program in view of a student's interest and objectives. Majors are required to maintain a minimum GPA of 2.5.

Philosophy Major Requirements (30 credits):

I. Any two of the following courses are required:

- PHIL 1101 Introduction to Philosophy
- PHIL 1104 Logic
- PHIL 1105 Ethics

II. Five courses at the PHIL 2000 level

Note: With the permission of the chairperson a student may substitute one related 3 credit course from another discipline.

III. Three courses at the Phil 3000 level:

Note: Students must complete 6 credits at the Phil-2000 level before taking any 3000 level courses.

IV. Students who intend to do graduate work in Philosophy are directed to take 7 of the following 8 courses in addition to the 3 required 3000 level courses:

- A. Two courses from this section
 - PHIL 1104 Logic or PHIL 1204 Symbolic Logic
 - PHIL 1105 Ethics or PHIL 2250 Moral Theories
- B. Any three of the following four history of philosophy courses:
 - PHIL 2020 Ancient Philosophy
 - PHIL 2030 Medieval Philosophy
 - PHIL 2040 Modern Philosophy
 - PHIL 2050 Contemporary Philosophy
- C. Both of these courses
 - PHIL 2500 Epistemology
 - PHIL 2950 Metaphysics

Minor Programs

The philosophy minor and the philosophy minor in ethics and applied ethics require students to complete a minimum of 18 credits according to the distribution given below. Each student's program is worked out in consultation with the chairperson.

Philosophy Minor Requirements:

- I. Two courses at the 1000 level
- II. Three courses at the 2000 level
Six credits at the 2000 level must be completed before a student may take any course at the 3000 level.
- III. One course at the 3000 level

Philosophy Minor in Ethics and Applied Ethics

The philosophy minor in ethics and applied ethics is for students who are interested in exploring important domestic and/or global ethical issues and problems that affect people's well being in the social, political, legal, or economic realm.

Explores the relationship between faith and reason, theology and philosophy, revelation and natural knowledge. Considers whether faith and reason are similar, separate, opposed or complementary. Prerequisites: 6 credits of philosophy at the 2000 level. 3 credits

Department of Physics

McNulty Hall (Science and Technology Center)
(973) 761-9050

artsci.shu.edu/physics

Faculty: Constantin; Kim; Sahiner (Chair); Seth; Shojania-Feizabadi; Yurko

Faculty Emeriti: Schleifer; Stamer

The Department of Physics offers major programs of study leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science (B.S.) and the degree of Bachelor of Arts (B.A.). The department provides students with a comprehensive grounding in the laws governing the behavior of matter. The intimate relationship between theory and experiment, and the open, dynamic character of physics are stressed. Topics of current interest in fundamental physics and modern technology receive special emphasis.

Students majoring in physics may choose one of the following three options leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science (B.S.):

1. Applied Program for students desiring a conventional program in physics to be followed by graduate work in physics or a related field;
2. Industrial Program for those who intend to seek employment in industry or government, or those considering a career in secondary education;
3. Five-Year Dual Degree (Physics/Engineering) Program This program, ideal for technically oriented students, is conducted jointly with the New Jersey Institute of Technology (NJIT) and leads to a B.S. degree in physics from Seton Hall University and a B.S. degree in biomedical, mechanical, electrical, industrial, computer or civil engineering from NJIT. Students spend three years at Seton Hall and two years at NJIT. Please see the Engineering Degree Program in Collaboration with NJIT on page 226 of this catalogue.

The Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) program is ideal for those who intend to seek employment in secondary education and those who wish to study physics and pursue professional careers in such fields as business, law, and allied health.

The sequence and diversity of courses for all students will be worked out in consultation with a department adviser who may modify the program in view of each student's background and objectives.

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree Program

In addition to meeting the core curriculum requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences, each degree candidate must complete at least 68 hours (30 hours for Five-Year Dual Degree Physics/Engineering Program) of the following coursework for the first three years. Students must complete six credits at the 2000 level before taking any 3000-level courses.

Physics Core Requirements	Credits
PHYS 1705-1706 Principles of Physics I-II	6
PHYS 1815-1816 Physics Laboratory and Data Analysis I-II	3

PHYS 2894 Electronics II	3

Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) Degree Program

In addition to the courses needed to satisfy the College of Arts and Sciences Core Curriculum requirements, each student in the Physics B.A. program is required to satisfy physics requirements as are listed below for a total of at least 53 credits. Additionally, students are recommended to take specialized elective courses depending on their career paths.

B.A. Degree Requirements Credits

PHYS 1705-1706	Principles of Physics I-II	6
PHYS 1815	Data Analysis Physics Laboratory I	2
PHYS 1816	Data Analysis Physics Laboratory II	1
PHYS 2112	Physical Applications of Mathematical Techniques	4
PHYS 2185	Introductory Modern Physics	4
PHYS 2186	Waves and Oscillations	3
PHYS 2883	Electronics I	3
PHYS 3811-3815	Advanced Laboratory I-II	4
MATH 1401-2411	Calculus I-III	12
CHEM 1107	Principles of Chemistry I	4
CHEM 1108	Principles of Chemistry II	5

Plus any two 3000-level physics courses from the following list:

PHYS 3119	Math Methods	4
PHYS 3121	Mechanics I	3
PHYS 3185	Electricity and Magnetism I	3
PHYS 3217	Modern Optics	3

Model program for B.S. (Physics, Physics/Engineering) and for B.A. Physics:

First Year

Fall Semester

PHYS 1705	Principle of Physics I	3
PHYS 1815	Data Analysis Physics Laboratory I	2
MATH 1401	Calculus I	4
ENGL 1201	Core English I	3

Spring Semester

PHYS 1705	Principle of Physics II	3
PHYS 1816	Data Analysis Physics Laboratory II	1
MATH 1411	Calculus II	4
ENGL 1202	Core English II	3

Second Year

Fall Semester

PHYS 2883	Electronics I	3
PHYS 2185	Introductory Modern Physics	4
MATH 2411	Calculus III	4
CHEM 1107*	Principles of Chemistry I	4
or CHEM 1123/1125*	General Chemistry I and Lab	4

*B.A. students take CHEM 1107; B.S. students take CHEM 1123/1125

Spring Semester

PHYS 2186	Waves and Oscillations	3
PHYS 2112	Physical Applications of Mathematical Techniques	4
CHEM 1108 *	Principles of Chemistry II	5
or CHEM 1124/1126 *	General Chemistry II and Lab	4

* B.A. students take CHEM 1108; B.S. students take CHEM 1124/1126.

Third Year

Fall Semester

PHYS 3119	Math Methods	4
PHYS 3121	Mechanics I	3
PHYS 3185	Electricity and Magnetism I	3
PHYS 3815	Advanced Laboratory I	2

Spring Semester

PHYS 3217	Modern Optics	3
PHYS 3122	Mechanics II	3

Elective courses (see below)

Spring Semester

PHYS 4815	Advanced Laboratory IV	2
Elective courses (see below)		3

The following electives are recommended:

BIOL 1201	General Biology I
BIOL 1202	General Biology II
CHEM 2321	Organic Chemistry I
CHEM 2315	Organic Chemistry I Lab
CHEM 2322	Organic Chemistry II
CHEM 2316	Organic Chemistry II Lab
CLAS 1314	Scientific Terminology
CSAS 1113	Introduction to Computer Science I
ENGL 3513	Scientific and Technical Writing

172 College of Arts and Sciences

MATH 2111	Statistics for Science Majors (Prerequisite: MATH 1401)
PHIL 2700	Philosophy of Science
PHYS 2894	Electronics II
PHYS 3186	Electricity and Magnetism II
PHYS 4211	Quantum Mechanics I
PHYS 4212	Quantum Mechanics II
PHYS 4219	Statistical Physics

Physics Minor

The physics minor requires a minimum of 18 credits as follows:

	Credits
1. Basic Principles of Physics
PHYS 1701-1702 or PHYS 1705-1706	6
2. Laboratory Component
PHYS 1811-1812 or PHYS 1815-1816 or PHYS 2883	2-3
3. Principles of Modern Physics
PHYS 2185 Introductory Modern Physics	4
4. Specialized Electives
PHYS 2112, 2186, 2883, 2894, 3121-3122, 3185-3186, 3217, 4219 or 4211	6-8

ERTH 1019 (ENVL 1019) Introduction to Geology

Descriptive survey of the science of the earth; the composition of the earth; weathering and erosion; the formulation and movement of glaciers; the origin of mountains, volcanoes, earthquakes and deserts; and geological history of the earth. Field trips when possible. 3 credits

PHYS 1001 Introduction to Physical Science

For non-science students. Emphasis on concepts and methods of physical sciences. Topics range from gravitation and astronomy to modern scientific frauds. 3 credits

PHYS 1007 Introduction to Astronomy

Survey of the historical development and current status of astronomy. The solar system, stars and galaxies, quasars, pulsars, black holes and models of the universe and its history. Eight-inch and 16-inch telescopes are used for observation on clear nights. 3 credits

PHYS 1701-1702 General Physics I-II

Mechanics, sound and heat, elementary electricity and magnetism, optics and elementary modern physics. Corequisite: MATH 1401-1411 or MATH 1015, and PHYS 1811-1812. 3 credits each

PHYS 1705-1706 Principles of Physics I-II

Vectors, kinematics and dynamics, heat and thermodynamics, electricity and magnetism, introduction to Maxwell's equations, physical and geometrical optics and elementary modern physics. Corequisite: MATH 1401-1411 or permission of instructor, and PHYS 1815-1816. 3 credits each

PHYS 1811-1812 Physics Laboratory I-II

Experiments in mechanics, sound, heat, light, electricity, and magnetism and radiation. Statistical analysis. Corequisite: MATH 1401-1411 or MATH 1015, and PHYS 1701-1702 or PHYS 1705-1706. 1 credit each

PHYS 1815 Physics Laboratory and Data Analysis I

Scientific programming with applications to data analysis in addition to all experiments in PHYS 1811. Additional topics include linear regression and numerical integration. Corequisite: MATH 1401 and PHYS 1705. 2 credits

PHYS 1816 Physics Laboratory and Data Analysis II

See PHYS 1812 Data analysis involves programs discussed in PHYS 1815. Prerequisite: PHYS 1815. Corequisite: MATH 1411 and PHYS 1706. 1 credit

PHYS 2112 Physical Applications of Mathematical Techniques

Selected applications of differential equations, vectors, matrices and determinants, Sturm-Liouville theory and orthogonal functions, numerical analysis, and probability and statistics to the physical sciences. Prerequisite: MATH 2411 and PHYS 1706 or PHYS 1702. 4 credits

PHYS 2185 Introductory Modern Physics

Special relativity, kinetic theory and thermodynamics, early quantum theory, atomic models, particle physics. Prerequisite: a year of general physics. Corequisite: MATH 2411 or permission of instructor. 4 credits

PHYS 2186 Waves Oscillations

Oscillations of particles and rigid bodies; vibrations and waves in one to three dimensions; sound and electromagnetic waves. Prerequisite: MATH 2411, PHYS 2185. 4 credits

PHYS 2883 Electronics I

Circuit analysis; electronic instruments; digital and analog integrated circuits; microcomputer interfacing. One laboratory meeting per week. Prerequisite: a year of general physics. Corequisite: MATH 2411. 3 credits

PHYS 2894 Electronics II

Analog-to-digital and digital-to-analog circuits; assembly/high-level programming and interfacing; resonance; Fourier series. Laboratory included. Prerequisite: PHYS 2883. 3 credits

PHYS 3119-3120 Mathematical Methods of Physics I-II

Vector analysis. Curvilinear coordinate systems. Determinants and matrices. Infinite series. Functions of a complex variable. Second order differential equations and Sturm-Liouville theory. Fourier series. Integral equations. Calculus of variations. Probability. Prerequisite: MATH 2411, PHYS 2112. 4 credits each

PHYS 3121-3122 Mechanics I-II

Newtonian mechanics; particle motion in one, two and three dimensions; systems of particles; rigid body motion; gravity; introductory Lagrangian formalism; small vibrations; special relativity; mechanics of continuous media. Prerequisite: PHYS 2186. 3 credits each

PHYS 3185-3186 Electricity and Magnetism I-II

Boundary value problems in electrostatics and magnetostatics; Maxwell's equations in differential form; time-dependent fields; plasma physics; radiation. Prerequisite: PHYS 2186. 3 credits each

PHYS 3217 Modern Optics

Mathematics of wave motion; physical optics, including polarization, diffraction and interference. Selected topics of current interest; fiber optics, integrated optics, lasers, holography and the principles of spectroscopy. Prerequisite: PHYS 2186. 3 credits

PHYS 3811-3812, 3814-3815 Advanced Laboratory I-II

PHYS 3811 and PHYS 3814 together cover a set of historically important experiments. PHYS 3812 and PHYS 3815 cover these same experiments to greater depth with additional topics. Prerequisites: PHYS 2883. Fall Semester: PHYS 3811 (1 credit), 3812 (2 credits). Spring Semester: PHYS 3814 (1 credit), 3815 (2 credits). 1-4 credits

PHYS 4211-4212 Quantum Mechanics I-II

Wave mechanics in one and three dimensions, hydrogen atom, spin, exclusion principle and multi-electron atoms in external fields. Time-independent and time-dependent perturbation theory with applications, scattering theory. Prerequisites: CHEM 3412 or PHYS 2186; PHYS 3185. 3 credits each

PHYS 4219 Statistical Physics

Kinetic theory; quantum statistics; systems of interacting particles. Applications to solids. Prerequisite: PHYS 2186. 3 credits

PHYS 4289 Research in Physics

1 credit

PHYS 4290-4291 Research in Physics I-II

Introduction to the methods of original investigation in experimental or theoretical physics. (For selected seniors majoring in physics.) 2-3 credits

PHYS 4811-4815 Advanced Laboratory III-IV

Supervised research. Fall semester: PHYS 4811 (1 credit), PHYS 4812 (2 credits). Spring semester: PHYS 4814 (1 credit), PHYS 4815 (2 credits). Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor.

Department of Political Science

Jubilee Hall

(973) 761-9383

www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/political-science

Faculty: Akonor; Fisher; Formicola; Haleem; Marbach; Mirabella; Mott; Pallitto; Taylor; Togman (Chair)

Faculty Emeriti: Adinaro; Boutilier; Connors; Dunham; Manley

The Department of Political Science offers a program of study leading to the degree Bachelor of Arts. The department offers training in the areas of United States government and politics, urban affairs, public and nonprofit administration and public policy, comparative politics and institutions, international organization and relations, political theory, and behavior and public law.

The major program provides students with a basic education in the ideas, institutions and processes of politics and government, and provides preparation for careers in law, government service, the nonprofit sector, public affairs and the private sector of the United States economy. To be aware of the intricacies of government regulations and policies that affect their businesses, most major commercial and industrial firms need personnel who are knowledgeable in public affairs. Public sector employment continues to be a major source of careers for students with a background in political science. In addition, a prime area for students of public affairs is the nonprofit service sector.

The Department of Political Science also offers a minor in Nonprofit Studies, the American Humanities Certificate, and a five-year dual degree (B.A./M.P.A.) with the Department of Public and Healthcare Administration. (See page 225 for five-year programs).

The Washington Center for Internships and Academic Seminars

In partnership with The Washington Center for Internships and Academic Seminars, an educational nonprofit organization, the Department of Political Science offers undergraduate students an opportunity to complete an internship and coursework in Washington, D.C. for academic credit. Students select their internship placement from thousands of organizations in government, business and the non-profit sector. As part of their experience, students attend weekly seminars conducted by highly qualified faculty, providing them with the opportunity to further their understanding of the relationship between theory and practice. Interns also participate in The Leadership Forum, a public policy speaker series with distinguished leaders including cabinet members, members of Congress, journalists, and others.

Major Program

In addition to meeting the standards and requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences, degree candidates must complete a minimum of 36 credits in political science. The sequence and diversity of courses for all students will be worked out in consultation with a department adviser, who may modify the program in view of each student's background and objectives. Students are expected to acquaint themselves with the concepts and methods of related social science disciplines and to develop other skills requisite for the successful pursuit of their particular career objectives.

Fourth-Year Requirements

Fall Semester

POLS 5012 Senior Seminar 3

Spring Semester

POLS Elective at the 3000 level 3

Total: 36

Students should select 18 credits in political science electives. A maximum of six credits in internships or practicum courses may be applied toward the completion of the credit requirement for the major. Students must take at least two courses at the 3000 level.

Note: Internship courses, though listed at the 3000 level to conform to College standards, are considered 2000 level course electives and do not fulfill the 3000 level requirement.

In addition, political science majors must complete MATH 1203 Statistical Models for the Social Sciences, to fulfill the core mathematics requirement for the College of Arts and Sciences.

Minor Program in Political Science

The minor in political science is open to all undergraduate students in the University who have an interest in political studies and wish to complement their own major with courses in government and politics. The minor consists of 18 credits distributed as follows:

	Credits
POLS 1211 United States Politics	3
Four POLS courses at the 1000- or 2000-level	12
One POLS course at the 3000-level	3
Total:	18

Minor Program in Nonprofit Studies

The minor in nonprofit studies is a program designed to prepare students for careers in management in the nonprofit sector, especially with agencies working with youth and social services. The nonprofit sector is growing by leaps and bounds, and the need for highly prepared professionals to lead nonprofits is also soaring. As government funding and programs are cut, there has been increased community dependence on nonprofits, more nonprofit involvement with vulnerable populations, and limited time and resources available to recruit qualified, new employees, particularly African Americans and Latinos.

The minor in nonprofit studies consists of 21 hours of directed study, including one core course, POLS 2120 The Nonprofit Sector, one course in nonprofit financial and fundraising management, POLS 2121, one course in organizational theory, one course in community and social issues, one course in management and one course in leadership from the following list. Students also will be required to complete an internship with a nonprofit organization. Student may apply a maximum of 6 credits from their major to the nonprofit studies minor (exclusive of internship experience).

Internships

POLS 2516 Nonprofit Practicum I

Certificate in American Humanics (24 Credits):

Students can elect to complete additional requirements to gain a certificate from American Humanics, a national alliance of colleges, universities and nonprofits that provides a national certification of nonprofit competencies for graduating students. In addition to Nonprofit Studies Minor requirements, American Humanics students participate in a national student conference and complete the Nonprofit Practicum II course (150 hour internship, 3 credits).

Course Descriptions

POLS 1111 Introduction to Public Policy

Explores the policy process, (i.e., the analytic techniques for setting the agenda, policy formulation, implementation and evaluation). The course emphasizes how to think about government policy. 3 credits

POLS 1211 United States Politics

Introduction to the institutions and processes of United States national government, its development as a constitutional system and the political culture of society in the United States. 3 credits

POLS 1401 Western Political Thought

Introduction to, and analysis of, the major questions that have challenged Western political thinkers. Selected writers will include Plato, Aristotle, Machiavelli, Hobbes, Locke and Rousseau. 3 credits

POLS 1611 Comparative Politics

Comparative approaches to the study of politics. Analysis of functions, experiences and institutions of political systems, Western and non-Western. 3 credits

POLS 1711 International Relations

Analysis of forces affecting relations between nations and other global actors, including world-level and regional-level intergovernmental organizations as well as religious organizations. Emerging nations and their impact on the international political system. 3 credits

POLS 2090-2094 Topics in Public Policy

Selected topics designated before the semester in the area of public policy. Topics vary from semester to semester. May be repeated for credit as the topic changes. 3 credits each

POLS 2110 Contemporary Issues in U.S. Public Policy

Overview of agenda setting, formulation, and implementation of public policies, including budgets, taxation, health, business regulation, civil rights and welfare. Students learn how political factors shape policy as well as learning techniques to analyze and evaluate these policies. 3 credits

POLS 2115 (SOCI 2314) Theories of Organization: The Bureaucratic Phenomenon

Nature of bureaucracy and its affect on personality, social relations, group dynamics and social change. Contemporary theories of public organizations, nonprofit and profit-focused entities and to the role of power in bureaucratic settings and exchanges. Understanding pathologies of organizations and approaches to organizational revitalization. 3 credits

POLS 2120 The Nonprofit Sector

Introduction to the important social, political and economic aspects of organizations and activities in the third or "independent" sector, which is neither government nor business. 3 credits

POLS 2121 Financial and Fundraising Management

Introduction to financial, budgetary and accounting issues in tax-exempt organizations, examines principles, techniques and issues surrounding resource development in nonprofit organizations, with an introduction to annual funds, capital campaigns and endowment support and an overview of grants and contracts including trends in grantmaking, grantwriting, funding source identification and relationship development with funders. 3 credits

POLS 2122 Public Administration

Introduction to the field through an exploration of historical development of public bureaucracies and the contemporary politics affecting their organization and operation. Students learn about the causes of bureaucratic malfunction and the strategies managers use to make bureaucracies function more efficiently and effectively. (Formerly POLS 1113) 3 credits

POLS 2190-2193 Topics in Public Administration

Selected topics designated before the semester in the area of public administration. Topics vary from semester to semester. May be repeated for credit as the topic changes. 3 credits each

POLS 2212 The United States Congress

Composition and political organization of the United States Congress. The committee system and the process of lawmaking and the political actors. Relations with other branches of government. 3 credits

POLS 2213 United States Presidency

Evolution of the office. Nomination and election of a president. Roles and responsibilities. Contemporary institutional critique. 3 credits

POLS 2214 United States Judicial System

Concepts of law and jurisprudence, functions and staffing of United States courts, state and federal. Strengths and weaknesses of the jury system. The Supreme Court, how it decides, impact of its decisions and the role of the court in United States constitutional law. Controversy over judicial review. 3 credits

POLS 2215 United States Parties and Interest Groups

Examines the structure, operation and interaction of the major political parties and their roles in electing local, state and national officials. It analyzes campaigning for public office, and the impact of interest group politics on the process. 3 credits

POLS 2225 State and Local Politics

Institutions and processes of U.S. government at the state, county and local levels. 3 credits

POLS 2226 Government and Politics of New Jersey

Structural study and functional analysis of state, county and local government in New Jersey. 3 credits

POLS 2229 (SOCI 2213, ANTH 2213) Introduction to U.S. Law

Explores the basis for United States law by examining various theories of jurisprudence, or philosophies of law, and the goals and objectives of law. Distinguishes law from other forms of social control, and looks at the impact of law on society. (Formerly POLS 1212) 3 credits

POLS 2290-2293 Topics in United States Politics

Selected topics designated before the semester in the area of United States politics. Topics vary from semester to semester as the department directs. May be repeated for credit as the topic changes. 3 credits each

POLS 2311 (AFAM 2213) Black Nationalism

Examines the philosophy of Black nationalism as it appears in the writings and speeches of major leadership figures in the African-American community in the 19th and 20th Centuries. The nationalism of Martin R. Delany, Alexander Crummell, Edward Wilmot Blyden, Bishop Henry McMeal Turner, Booker T. Washington, W.E.B. Dubois, Marcus Garvey, Honorable Elijah Muhammad and Malcolm X is covered. 3 credits

POLS 2312 (AFAM 2212, HIST 3364) History of the Civil Rights Movement

Review of major events and campaigns. The decade 1955-65 represents the temporal focus of the course, but the movement's 20th century antecedents and the period between 1965-68 are discussed; the period within which the movement was broadened in international perspective and transformed into a struggle for human rights. Goals and objectives of the struggle and the movement's impact on United States society are identified and evaluated. 3 credits

POLS 2313 (AFAM 2313) Black Politics

Analytical study of the impact of black participation in United States political institutions and their responsiveness to the political demands of the Black community. 3 credits

POLS 2326 (AFAM 2326) Development and Democracy in Africa

Materialist analysis of problems associated with underdevelopment in Africa. Origin and evolution of the "anatomy" of underdevelopment through the concept of "structured dependence." Investigation of trade, colonialization, foreign ownership of means of production and dependence on the world market. Examination of alternative development strategies, including socialist planning. 3 credits

POLS 2327 (AFAM 2327, SOWK 2327) Organizing Grassroots Communities

Methods of organizing Black communities to alter the responsiveness of institutions, assume control of them, or replace them. Heavy emphasis on the theories of power, politics and community control along with practical examples. 3 credits

POLS 2333 (AFAM 2333) Africa and the Global Political Economy

This course will entail a critical assessment of the Africa's position internationally, and of the challenges, as well as the opportunities, to African countries from current global economic and political phenomena. The purpose of this course is to analyze the foreign policy relations of African States, in light of their position in the global division of labor and their political, economic and ideological attributes. 3 credits

POLS 2411 (CLAS 2303, ARCH 2303) Politicians in Antiquity

POLS 2412 Modern Ideologies

This course is an evaluation of the various ideologies that have influenced political thought and action in the modern era. The content is introduced by an investigation of modernity itself and the meaning associated with this concept. Following this, the course reviews particular political ideologies (democratic theory, capitalism, anarchism, Marxism, socialism, fascism, religious fundamentalism). 3 credits

POLS 2414 United States Political Ideas

Introduction to major United States political theorists, including representative thinkers such as Madison, Calhoun, Thoreau, Sumner, Dewey, Kirk, Viereck, Marcuse and King. 3 credits

POLS 2420 Modern Political Theory

This course examines what constitutes our modern world and political reality. It is difficult to disassociate modern political theory from social, political and economic movements. Modern ideas and systematic theories are bound tightly to political action. Our work includes investigations of anarchism, democratic theory, fascism and totalitarianism, feminism, human rights and liberalism, libertarianism, communism and socialism, and environmentalism. Issues investigated include the rise of liberal democracy and its critics, the impact of the industrial revolution on modern politics, and how technological change and environmental limitations have affected contemporary political thought. 3 credits

POLS 2490-2491 Topics In Political Theory

Selected topics designated before the semester in the area of political theory. Topics vary from semester to semester. May be repeated for credit as the topic changes. 3 credits

POLS 2512 Washington, D.C. Internship

Opportunity for the student to be an intern in a governmental agency or nonprofit organization in Washington, D.C. Students are placed in legislative, judicial or executive branch agencies, depending on interests/career goals, and work five days per week for one semester. 6 credits

POLS 2513 Washington, D.C. Research

Book critiques and a research paper that integrate information the student gains in the classroom with fieldwork experience. Supervised by the Seton Hall faculty liaison. 6 credits

POLS 2514 Washington, D.C. Seminar

Students attend a weekly seminar led by a professor associated with the Washington Center for Internships and prepare a seminar paper. 3 credits

POLS 2610 (WMST 2610) Women and Politics

The evolving legal, political and governmental positions of women in the world. Cross-cultural implications of the politicalization of women. 3 credits

POLS 2611 (ASIA 3114) Asian Politics

Political systems and behavior in modern Japan, China, India and Southeast Asia. 3 credits

POLS 2612 Western European Politics

The dynamics of politics and analysis of the evolution and present status of the political systems of selected European powers. 3 credits

POLS 2613 Russian Politics

An analysis of the Russian political system created from the disintegration of the Soviet empire. Focus is on the process of transforming Russia from a communist system to a democratic and capitalistic state. 3 credits

POLS 2614 (LALS 2614) Latin American Politics

Basic forces conditioning the politics of the area. The variety of governmental structures and party systems in Mexico, South and Central America. 3 credits

POLS 2615 (AFAM 2312) African Politics

Examination of African political systems. The salient variables economic, social and political involved with discussion of specific experiences. Review of traditional background, colonial experience and post-independence era. 3 credits

POLS 2616 (ASIA 3131) Contemporary Chinese Politics

Analysis of the political system of China, present trends and future prospects. 3 credits

POLS 2690-2699 Topics in Comparative Politics

Selected topics designated before the semester in the area of comparative politics. Topics vary from semester to semester. May be repeated for credit as the topic changes. 3 credits each

POLS 2711 Foreign Policy in Middle East

This course provides an historical assessment and examines the nature and conduct of the United States in its foreign policy toward the Middle East, from 1945 to the present. Particular attention will be paid to development in the Middle East in the 21st Century, including the U.S. and its Middle Eastern allies, America and the war on terror, relations between various region's nation-states, including Israel, and our role in the region post-9/11. 3 credits

POLS 2713 International Law

Evolution and basic concepts of international law. More specifically, cases involving conflict resolution, human rights and legal challenges to space, the sea and sovereignty are explored. 3 credits

POLS 2790-2792 Topics in International Relations

Selected topics designated before the semester in the area of international relations. Topics vary from semester to semester. 3 credits each

POLS 2910 (ENVL 2910) Research Methods

An introduction to social science research. Topics include problem selection and hypothesis formation and testing; research design; sampling; construction and administration of research techniques; elementary data analysis and ethical issues. Some statistical and computer applications. Prerequisite: For POLS majors only, MATH 1101 or MATH 1203, and POLS 1211, 1401, 1611 or 1711. 3 credits

POLS 3014 (ENVL 3014) Ecology and Politics

Explores the relationship between politics and environmental policy in the U.S. Looks at specific problems such as pollution, global warming, species depletion, land management and hazardous waste. Explores attempts by government and other interested parties to rectify these problems. 3 credits

POLS 3210 Constitutional Law

Approaches to Constitutional interpretation: Supreme Court decision making, Supreme Court as a small group. Fundamentals and principles of constitutional law. Illustrative case studies. 3 credits

POLS 3211 Civil Liberties

Casebook analysis of the constitutional rights of the individual. Selected topics from the first, fourth, fifth, sixth, eighth and 14th amendments. Emphasis on contemporary issues and perspectives. 3 credits

POLS 3212 United States Federalism

Examination of the nature of the Federal system, with historical origins, constitutional evolution and contemporary problem areas highlighted. 3 credits

POLS 3213 United States Political Behavior

Examination of topics such as voter turnout, political ideology, political sophistication, among others. Impact of party identification, issues, and candidate characteristics on elections. 3 credits

POLS 3214 Urban Politics

The politics of the cities and urban areas. Contemporary urban governmental forms, processes and problems. 3 credits

POLS 3215 U.S. Political Economy

This course will critically examine the institutional, economic, and political factors that influence the economic decision making process at all levels of government. The student will develop an understanding of the theories, processes, principles, and concepts of public budgeting and governmental management of the economy. This course is divided into two parts. The first segment of the course will examine in detail how the federal government produces a budget and study the consequences of this process. The second part of the course will analyze the role of government in managing the economy. 3 credits

POLS 3290 Advanced Studies in United States Politics
3 credits

POLS 3311 Research Methods II

Advances the student's knowledge of research design issues, statistical and computer applications to the research process. Concentrates more fully on applications of research in organizational settings. 3 credits

POLS 3410 Democracy

Considers various theories and practices of democratic society, including those of liberal, radical participatory and pluralistic democracy. Comparison of democratic theory and practice. 3 credits

POLS 3412 Church, State, Law and Politics in the United States

The dynamic and changing relationship between religion and government in the U.S. Competing and cooperative actions between the institutions. Case studies in First Amendment rights. 3 credits

POLS 3590 Special Topics: Environmental Law

Course surveys the principles of law involved in environmental issues, survey of environmental litigation, legislation and administrative rulings. In addition, the course focuses on the diversity of rationales in support of environmental policy and the unique regulatory characteristics of environmental policy. Environmental topics include natural resources, water pollution, private land use, air pollution, toxic substances, climate change, and biodiversity. 3 credits

POLS 3591 Political Ideas and Movements of the 20th Century

An examination of the twentieth century forces a re-evaluation of what it means to be human. Standard interpretations of truth are challenged and formerly powerless communities find themselves embroiled in political protest and liberation. Through film, art, literature and 'live' accounts, we will investigate and follow several key political ideas that hallmark the twentieth century as a time of radical transformation. 3 credits

POLS 3611 Political Ferment in the Middle East

This course critically examines a wide range of issues and viewpoints regarding the nature of contemporary politics in the Middle East. Included will be a review of the historical, geographic, social and religious development of the Middle East, and the role of each in understanding contemporary problems within the region. Particular attention will be paid to the resulting complexities of daily life in the region and the outlook for the future. 3 credits

POLS 3612 Foreign Policies of Major Powers

This seminar course examines the foreign policies of the major powers, comparing and contrasting the various policy approaches of the US, China, Russia, Japan, etc.. Additionally, it analyzes the formulation, development, and execution of a foreign policy agenda by the major powers and the implications for other countries and international organizations. 3 credits

POLS 3613 United States Foreign Policy

Internal factors and global forces affecting policy and performance. Evolution of U.S. doctrine from isolationism to globalism. Current challenges and prospects. 3 credits

POLS 3710 International Political Economy

This course is designed to provide students with the conventional and critical approaches to the study of global political economy. It will focus on issues of international trade, the international monetary system, and foreign investment and the relationship of each to both international and domestic politics. Among the specific topics to be discussed are: trade and protectionism, the role and performance of global institutions such as the IMF,

World Bank, and WTO, the significance of multinational corporations, the impact of regional economic communities, and the relationship of the world economy to the economic development of poor countries. The complexities and contradictions of globalization serve as the overarching backdrop for this seminar. 3 credits

POLS 3712 Human Rights: Policies and Practices

Articulates notions of human rights and, through case studies, examines repression around the globe. Seeks to develop and critique United States, United Nations, and other bilateral and multilateral approaches to solving human rights abuses. 3 credits

POLS 3713 International Organizations

An extensive theoretical and empirical introduction to international organizations such as the United Nations, The European Union, The Organization of African Unity, The Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries and The Association of South-East Asian Nations. (Formerly POLS 2712) 3 credits

POLS 3891 Political Science Internship I

The goal of the internship/field placement experience is to provide students with the opportunity to "turn theory into practice" by working in an organizational setting in which they can utilize recently-learned management principles and skills as well as observe and gain insight into daily organizational operations and decision-making practices. In augmenting a student's field placement experience, the purpose of the seminar is to help the student evaluate and analyze his or her experience, learn new information about the workplace, and assess his or her current skills and abilities. To these ends, students will read a number of articles on workplace issues and evaluate his or her placement and performance in light of these readings and seminar discussions. Please see Internship Adviser. Note: Internship courses, though listed at the 3000 level to conform to College standards, are considered 2000 level course electives and do not fulfill the 3000 level requirement. 3 credits

POLS 3892 Political Science Internship II

For students completing an extended internship experience. Note: Internship courses, though listed at the 3000 level to conform to College standards, are considered 2000 level course electives and do not fulfill the 3000 level requirement. 3 credits

POLS 3893 Political Science Internship III

For students completing an extended internship experience. Note: Internship courses, though listed at the 3000 level to conform to College standards, are considered 2000 level course electives and do not fulfill the 3000 level requirement. 3 credits

POLS 5012 Political Science Senior Seminar

Small group seminars in selected areas. This seminar is the capstone course and requires that students have completed most of their major courses before they enroll. Prerequisites: POLS 1211, 1401, 1611, 1711, 2910 and one POLS course at the 3000 level. 3 credits

POLS 5013 Independent Study

Reserved for students who are unable to complete the Research Seminar in its normal format. Requires extensive collaboration with a faculty member and a major research report. 3 credits

POLS 5161 Independent Study in Political Science Research

Working independently with a faculty adviser, student undertakes independent research in an area of interest in political science. 1 credit

POLS 5171 Independent Study in Political Science Research

Working independently with a faculty adviser, student undertakes independent research in an area of interest in political science. 2 credits

POLS 5191 Independent Study in Political Science Research

Working independently with a faculty adviser, student undertakes independent research in an area of interest in political science. 3 credits

Department of Psychology

Faculty: Buckner (Director of Graduate Studies); Burton; Goedert; Fisher (Internship Adviser); Hovancik; Hunter; Levy; Lloyd; Nolan (Chair); Simon; Teague; Vigorito

Faculty Emeriti: Kendig; Lennon; Shannon

The Department of Psychology offers a program of study leading to the Bachelor of Arts degree. The department recognizes that the methods of scientific inquiry can be applied meaningfully and fruitfully to the understanding of individual behavior. The curriculum is designed to provide the student with a strong background in the methodology and content of psychology. Majors receive sound preparation for graduate study as well as for entry-level positions in psychology and related disciplines.

Donald N. Lombardi Scholarship

Donald N. Lombardi, Ph.D., was a respected and beloved colleague and teacher who, except for his graduate education, was a member of the South Orange community for nearly fifty years. To honor Dr. Lombardi's memory, the Donald N. Lombardi Scholarship is awarded annually to a student nominated by the faculty of the Department of Psychology.

Major Program

In addition to meeting the standards and requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences, degree candidates must complete a minimum of 45 credits in psychology of which 27 are required. BIOL 1105-1106 and MATH 1202 also are required.

Through the advising process, individual programs are tailored to the students' needs and objectives. The psychology major includes the following:

Required Courses (14 credits):		Credits
PSYC 1101	Introduction to Psychology	3
PSYC 2311	Elementary Psychological Statistics	4
PSYC 3311	Research Methods in Psychology	4
PSYC 5111	Seminar in Psychology	3
Two Social Science courses (6 credits):
PSYC 2211	Personality Concepts	3
PSYC 2212	Developmental Psychology	3
PSYC 2214	Abnormal Psychology	3
PSYC 2216	Social Psychology	3
Two Natural Science courses - one with laboratory (7 credits):
PSYC 3213	Perception	3
PSYC 3215	Learning (with laboratory)	4
PSYC 3216	Motivation and Emotion	3
PSYC 3217/3227	Physiological Psychology (lab optional)	1/3
PSYC 3234	Cognitive Processes (with laboratory)	4

Psychology Electives

18 credits, with at least 6 credits at the 2000-level or higher

Total: 45

Psychology Honors Program

Students with exceptional academic credentials and interest in advanced study in psychology are encouraged to apply to the Psychology Honors Program. This program involves the student in the design, execution, analysis and presentation of his or her original research project. This program also may be coordinated with the College of Arts and Sciences Honors Program.

Students enrolled in the Psychology Honors Program must complete a minimum of 48 credits in psychology. Additionally, modifications to the psychology major requirements are applied as follows:

1. Students must complete:
 - PSYC 3312 Advanced Experimental Psychology
 - PSYC 5112 Honors Research (taken in lieu of PSYC 5111)
2. Two of the following courses must be taken with a lab:
 - PSYC 3215 Learning
 - PSYC 3217/3227 Physiological Psychology/Laboratory
 - PSYC 3234 Cognitive Processes
3. Students must complete 15 credits of electives (not 18), and at least one of these must be a 2000- or 3000-level course or higher.

Information about admission to the Psychology Honors Program and additional details about program requirements may be obtained from the department chair.

Minor Program

The psychology minor is designed to expose students to a range of perspectives, methodologies and content areas. In addition to the introductory course (PSYC 1101), students must select courses from each of the Developmental, Social Science and Natural Science categories. This provides sufficient breadth while permitting the students, with advisement, to obtain depth with the two remaining elective courses.

Required Course (3 credits):		Credits
PSYC 1101	Introduction to Psychology	3
Developmental Course (3 credits):
PSYC 1212	Child Psychology	3
PSYC 1213	Adolescent Psychology	3
PSYC 1214	Adult Development	3
PSYC 2212	Developmental Psychology	3
Social Science Course (3 credits):
PSYC 1211	Psychology of Adjustment	3
PSYC 2211	Personality Concepts	3
PSYC 2214	Abnormal Psychology	3
PSYC 2216	Social Psychology	3
Natural Science Course (3 or 4 credits):
PSYC 3213	Perception	3
PSYC 3215	Learning (with laboratory)	4
PSYC 3216	Motivation and Emotion	3
PSYC 3217	Physiological Psychology	3
PSYC 3234	Cognitive Processes (with laboratory)	4
Psychology Electives (6 credits)
		Total: 18-19

B.A. Psychology/M.S. Experimental Psychology (3+2) Dual Degree Program

The Department of Psychology offers a dual degree program leading to a Bachelor of Arts in Psychology (B.A.) and a Master of Science in Experimental Psychology (M.S.). This five-year program permits undergraduate students to take two required 3-credit courses (Research Design and Analysis I, Independent Research I) and two 3-credit electives from the graduate program in the Experimental Psychology curriculum during their senior year. The 12 graduate credits earned would count toward the completion of the bachelor's degree. Students will take 24 graduate credits in the fifth year and summers, preferably 9 credits during the fall and spring semesters and 3 elective credits in the summers before and after the fifth year. Satisfactory performance in these remaining 24 credits of graduate-level coursework as well as an empirical thesis project completed in the fifth year would earn students the M.S. in Experimental Psychology degree.

As part of the coursework in the M.S. Experimental Psychology program, students have the option of focusing their electives on a Behavioral Neuroscience or a Psychological Science (general) concentration. The Behavioral Neuroscience concentration requires courses and research experiences that are most directly relevant to behavioral studies of brain functioning. Either track would well prepare students for a broad range of career possibilities.

The program is designed to train students in the scientific methods of psychology in preparation for involvement in basic research and teaching, as well as for work in applied settings (e.g. clinical psychology or industrial/organizational psychology). The M.S. degree program is designed specifically for students seeking to gain a solid foundation in empirical research for eventual entry into doctoral programs in scientist/practitioner programs in clinical or counseling psychology, as well as doctoral programs in a number of experimental science fields such as Cognitive, Developmental, Social, or Biological Psychology and Neuroscience. Graduates may also go on to related areas of employment such as laboratory assistants, market researchers, science writers and community college teaching.

Students may apply for the B.A./M.S. option in their junior year (second semester). See the Graduate Catalog for program requirements and course descriptions. For more information please contact the Director of Graduate Studies in the Department of Psychology.

Requirements for Program Admission:

- Have senior status (90 credits) by the time courses begin (apply in the second semester of junior year)
- Submit College of Arts and Sciences graduate application (available online)
- Overall Undergraduate GPA 3.0; Psychology GPA 3.2
- Letter of recommendation from major adviser
- Personal Statement

Note: The GRE is waived for psychology majors applying to this dual degree program.

Dual Degree (3+2) Program in Psychological Studies with the College of Education and Human Services

The Departments of Psychology (College of Arts and Sciences) and Professional Psychology and Family Therapy (College of Education and Human Services) offer a dual degree program leading to a Bachelor of Arts in Psychology (B.A.) and Master of Arts in Education (M.A.E.). This five-year program permits students to take four required courses from the graduate Psychological Studies program during their senior year. Satisfactory completion of the M.A.E. program would enable entry into one of the Professional Psychology and Family Therapy (PPFT) Ed.S. practitioner programs in School Psychology, Mental Health Counseling, or Marriage and Family Therapy. Selection of graduate electives should be done in consultation with the PPFT graduate program adviser.

Requirements for Program Admission:

- Have senior status (90 credits) by the time courses begin (apply in the second semester of junior year)
- Submit College of Arts and Sciences graduate application (available online)
- Overall Undergraduate GPA 3.0; Psychology GPA 3.2

Course Descriptions

PSYC 1101 Introduction to Psychology

Survey of the major content areas of psychology, including physiological, perception, motivation, learning, cognition, personality, developmental, abnormal and social. 3 credits

PSYC 1211 Psychology of Adjustment

Contrasts normal with maladaptive adjustment. Attempts to develop a comprehensive theoretical model of human behavior stressing self-understanding. 3 credits

PSYC 1212 Child Psychology

Child behavior and development with reference to motor abilities, language, intelligence, cognition, emotional and social development. Emphasis on normal human development in the early stages of life. May not be taken for credit if student has completed PSYC 2212. 3 credits

PSYC 1213 Adolescent Psychology

Fundamental biological, cognitive and psychosocial changes during adolescence in the context of family, school and peer group. 3 credits

PSYC 1214 Adult Development

Study of men and women over the life span, beginning with early adulthood and concluding with death. Emphasis on the patterns of change and stability that occur as a function of biological, social and psychological development in life. 3 credits

PSYC 1215 (WMST 1215) Psychology of Gender

Examines biological, cultural and psychosocial differences and similarities between women and men with respect to development and personality. Emphasizes the role of gender in contemporary culture. 3 credits

PSYC 1216 Industrial/Organizational Psychology

Knowledge and methods of behavioral science applied to the structure and problems of industry. 3 credits

PSYC 1217 Psychology of Careers

The psychological and psychosocial factors related to career development and adjustment. Critical analysis of psychological theories relevant to these topics. 3 credits

PSYC 1218 Drug and Alcohol Abuse

Psychosocial factors leading to drug use and abuse. Short and long-term psychological effects, as well as systematic approaches to institutional modification. 3 credits

PSYC 1219 Sport Psychology

Introduction to the psychological aspects of athletic performance. Topics include roles of personality, physiology, motivation and cognition in sport. Training techniques found to improve performance. 3 credits

PSYC 1221 Exceptional Child Psychology

Overview of psychological, biological, sociological and educational aspects of exceptionality. Giftedness, mental retardation, visual and hearing impairments, communication disorders, behavior problems, learning disabilities and physical handicaps. 3 credits

PSYC 1222 International Psychology

Explores the field of psychology around the world, including the ways in which psychologists play a role in major international issues, including mental and physical health, immigration, global poverty, peace and conflict, and terrorism. Differences in the teaching, research, and practice of psychology will be examined, including ways they're influenced by factors such as economic development, religious practices, and culture-based norms. 3 credits

PSYC 2211 Personality Concepts

Individual, social and cultural factors in personality formation and development. Introduction to the concepts underlying the major theories of personality. Prerequisites: PSYC 1101 (minimum grade of C- required for Psychology majors). 3 credits

PSYC 2212 Developmental Psychology

Basic principles, data and methods in the study of human development from conception to death. Prerequisites: PSYC 1101 (minimum grade of C- required for Psychology majors). May not be taken for credit if student has completed PSYC 1212. 3 credits

PSYC 2213 Adult-Child Relations

Specific child-rearing techniques of use with various age groups. Helps teachers and parents develop positive relationships with children that promote physical and emotional health, and establishes a sound foundation for the development of desirable attitudes and socially effective behavior. Prerequisites: PSYC 1101 (minimum grade of C- required for Psychology majors). 3 credits

PSYC 2214 Abnormal Psychology

Introduction to the field of psychopathology and personality disorders. Examination of problems, causes and treatment approaches. Prerequisites: PSYC 1101 (minimum grade of C required for Psychology majors). 3 credits

PSYC 2215 Psychological Testing

Theory, methodology and critique of psychological assessment and testing. Exposure to aptitude, achievement, vocational and personality tests, as well as interview assessment techniques. Prerequisites: PSYC 1101. 3 credits

PSYC 2216 Social Psychology

Introduction to the major theoretical views and research in the field, including examinations of conformity and rejection; the bases of attraction, aggression and violence; the development of attitudes and beliefs; prejudice and discrimination. Relationship of principles and research to daily life is emphasized, including applications to advertising, health and law. Prerequisites: PSYC 1101 (minimum grade of C- required for Psychology majors). 3 credits

PSYC 2217 Consciousness

Modern concepts of consciousness, including the physiological correlates of normal and altered states of awareness: split-brain studies, hypnosis, sleep and dreaming, meditation, biofeedback, parasensory experiences and alternative forms of healing. Synthesis of Western scientific models of consciousness with Eastern philosophical systems of thought. Prerequisites: PSYC 1101 (minimum grade of C- required for Psychology majors). 3 credits

PSYC 2311 Elementary Psychological Statistics

Descriptive and inferential statistics in the design and interpretation of experimental data. Includes computer laboratory. Prerequisites: minimum grade of C- in PSYC 1101 and MATH 1202. 4 credits

PSYC 3212 Advanced Social Psychology

Research in the theoretical and applied areas of the field. Comprehensive examination of the major theories in the areas of contemporary interest. Prerequisite: PSYC 2216. 3 credits

PSYC 3213 Perception

Examination of research literature pertaining to visual, auditory, olfaction, gustation, skin and pain perception. Surveys of psychophysical methods; basic principles of visual acuity, color perception, perception of movement, constancies, development and learning, illusions, form identification, sound localization and perception of speech. Prerequisites: minimum grade of C in PSYC 1101. 3 credits

PSYC 3215 Learning

An evaluation of the historical and contemporary research literature and theoretical issues concerning basic learning principles and processes (includes laboratory). Prerequisites: minimum grade of C- in PSYC 1101. 4 credits

PSYC 3216 Motivation and Emotion

Survey of historical and contemporary theories of motivation and emotion integrating concepts that have emerged from biological, cognitive and social approaches. Prerequisites: minimum grade of C- in PSYC 1101. 3 credits

PSYC 3217 Physiological Psychology

Survey of the physiological basis for sensation and perception, motivation and emotion, altered states of consciousness, and learning and memory. Basic neurophysiological methods and the functions of the nervous system included. Prerequisites: minimum grade of C- in PSYC 1101. 3 credits

PSYC 3227 Physiological Psychology Laboratory

Experimental examination of the role of physiological mechanisms in the mediation and control of behavior. Exercises include current techniques used to manipulate the nervous system and observe changes in behavior. Pre- or Corequisite: PSYC 3217. 1 credit

PSYC 3234 Cognitive Processes

Examination of theory and research on the mental processes that characterize thought, including imagery, language, attention, memory, reasoning and problem solving, with discussion of the simulation of mental behaviors (includes laboratory). Prerequisite: minimum grade of C- in PSYC 1101. 4 credits

PSYC 3311 Research Methods in Psychology (formerly Experimental Psychology)

Examination of the principal methods of empirical psychological research with particular emphasis on experimental design and control procedures. Students develop the ability to assess and critically analyze extant psychological research and report their own research in standardized American Psychological Association (APA) format. Prerequisite: minimum grade of C in PSYC 2311. 4 credits

PSYC 3312 Advanced Experimental Psychology

Practical applications of the principles learned in PSYC 3311 in the laboratory or field environment. The student is involved in the design, execution, analysis and interpretation of an original research project. Students enrolled in the Psychology Honors Program will propose and design their honors project under the direction of a faculty adviser. Prerequisites: PSYC 3311 and approval of the instructor. 4 credits

PSYC 3408-3413 Practicum in Psychology

For students who have sufficient theoretical background to participate in applied fieldwork with a professional agency. Placement settings are based upon student objectives and are chosen in consultation with the instructor. Courses may be taken for a total of 12 credits. Prerequisites: minimum grade of C- in PSYC 1101 and approval of instructor. 3/6 credits

PSYC 3591-3594 Independent Study

Directed study and research in individual areas selected by the student in consultation with department adviser. Courses may be taken for a total of 6 credits. Prerequisites: minimum grade of C- in PSYC 1101 and approval of faculty adviser. 1/2/3 credits

PSYC 3691-3698 Emerging Topics in Psychology

Special topics in emerging and/or specialized areas of psychology. Topics are designated before the semester and vary from semester to semester as the department directs. Can be repeated in instances where topics change to a maximum of 6 credits. Prerequisites: PSYC 1101 and approval of instructor. 1/2/3 credits

PSYC 3894 Psychology Co-op I

See Co-op Adviser 3 credits

PSYC 3895 Psychology Co-op II

See Co-op Adviser 3 credits

PSYC 3896 Psychology Co-op III

See Co-op Adviser 3 credits

PSYC 5111 Seminar in Psychology

An integrative course requiring the student to survey and organize the primary research literature and prepare an American Psychological Association (APA) format term project. Prerequisite: minimum grade of C- in PSYC 3311. For senior psychology majors. 3 credits

PSYC 5112 Honors Research

Students will conduct the research project designed and approved in PSYC 3312. Course includes data collection, statistical analyses and presentation of results in an American Psychological Association (APA) style research paper. Open to students in the Psychology Honors Program. Prerequisites: PSYC 3312 and approval of instructor. 4 credits

Department of Religious Studies

Fahy Hall

(973) 761-9331

www.shu.edu/academics/arts/religious-studies

Faculty: Aburaiya; Ahr (Director, University Honors Program); Burk; Cafone; Carter (Chair); Choi; Conway; Liddy; Mitchell Jr.; Murzaku; Sciglitano; Webb

Faculty Emeriti: Ballweg; Morley; Nardone; Pire

As a vital part of the Catholic mission of Seton Hall University, the Department of Religious Studies offers a program of study leading to the Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) degree. Based on a broad liberal education, the department introduces students to the academic study of religion. In order to give students an understanding of religious beliefs and practices in their various manifestations, Religious Studies applies a variety of methodologies including philosophy of religion, sociology of religion, phenomenology, and history of religions. Courses focus on the Christian and major non-Christian theological, intellectual, and moral traditions. Because religion plays such an important role in the global community, we approach specific traditions such as Judaism, Islam, Buddhism, and Hinduism from a comparative perspective and with an emphasis on ecumenism and inter-religious understanding. Faculty and students investigate the religious quest as it relates to other areas of life, particularly human relationships, issues of race, class, and gender, the impact of religion on social and economic and political institutions, and the arts.

A bachelor's degree in religious studies provides an excellent foundation for graduate school. Opportunities for continued studies include master's and doctoral degree programs in religious studies and theology and graduate programs in religious education and seminary studies. Since religious studies graduates have a broad training in human culture, they are also in demand in many professional fields, including law, conflict resolution, education, social work and various types of ministry.

Major Program

The Religious Studies program offers courses in four areas:

- Biblical Studies and Sacred Texts
- Christian Traditions, Theology and Ecumenical Studies
- Comparative Religion
- Religious and Social Ethics

In addition to meeting the standards and requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences, degree candidates must complete a minimum of 30 credits in religious studies. Students may modify the major program only in consultation with a department adviser.

The Department of Religious Studies has recently revised its major as of Fall 2009. Students who entered the program under the old major have the option of either completing the original requirements in effect when they first declared their major, or fulfilling the new requirements as outlined below.

Degree Requirements

The curriculum for the religious studies program comprises three levels. Courses designated with an asterisk (*) are required for all religious studies majors.

Level I: Introductory Level Courses (6 credits)

Choose two of the following courses:

RELS 1010 Religious Dimension of Life

RELS 1102 Introduction to the Bible

RELS 1103 Introduction to the Old Testament/
Hebrew Bible

RELS 1104 Introduction to the New Testament

RELS 1202 Christian Belief and Thought

RELS 1302 Introduction to Catholic Theology

RELS 1402 Religions of the World

RELS 1502 Contemporary Moral Issues

RELS 1503 Christian Ethics

RELS 1504 Faith and Justice

RELS 2415 Introduction to Islam*

RELS 2418 Buddhist World of Thought and Culture*

RELS 2411 Jewish Beliefs and Practices*

* Prerequisite: CORE 1101

Level II: Advanced Level Courses (21 credits)

RELS 2010 Methods in the Study of Religion and Theology

RELS courses numbered between 2100-3999

In consultation with their departmental advisers, religious studies majors complete the course in method (3 credits), and then choose one advanced course (12 credits) from each of the four major areas of study. At least one of these courses must be at the 3000 level. In order to ensure depth of study, majors complete two additional advanced courses (6 credits) in one of the four major areas of study, at least one of which must be at the 3000 level.

If RELS 2411 (Jewish Belief and Practices), RELS 2415 (Intro to Islam), and/or RELS 2418 (Buddhist World of Thought and Culture) are taken to complete the introductory level requirements, then they may not be applied toward the 21 credits of advanced courses.

Level III: Seminar (3 credits)

Systematic study of the distinctive contribution of Christianity to ethical norms. Comparison of various theories and moral systems with each other and with the ethical systems of non-Christian traditions. 3 credits

RELS 1504 Faith and Justice

Whether in the realm of politics, economics, or everyday life, many of our moral choices and commitments—or visions of the good life—are informed by a particular conception of justice. This course assesses various leading, historical and contemporary theories of justice and considers their implications for the life of religious faith. Accordingly, this course aims to consider two, interrelated sets of questions. First, what is the nature of justice, and what kind of political, economic, and social practices do various theories of justice recommend? Second, what might justice mean from the perspective of religious faith, and does the life of faith necessarily require the pursuit of justice in the world? In considering such questions, this course will pay particular attention to the growing challenges of globalization and poverty and the question of human rights. Special emphasis will be placed on Catholic as well as non-Catholic Christian moral traditions, with some engagement in non-Christian religions. 3 credits

RELS 2010 Methods in the Study of Religion and Theology

Primarily for religious studies majors and minors. Methodologies used in academic study of religion and theology. Emphasizes major figures and theories in each of the various approaches. Prerequisites: three courses at the introductory level. 3 credits

Department of Social Work

Arts and Sciences Hall

973-761-9470

www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/social-work

Faculty: Blake (Chair); Quartaro (Director, Multidisciplinary Certificate in Gerontology)

Faculty Associate: Arancibia (Adviser, Children and Families Certificate)

The Department of Social Work offers a program leading to the Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) degree, regarded in the profession generically as the B.S.W. The Department of Social Work is accredited by The Council on Social Work Education. The curriculum prepares students for entry-level generalist professional practice and qualifies graduates for New Jersey State Certification (C.S.W.) under current licensing requirements. In addition, graduate programs in social work (M.S.W.) typically offer waiver of courses and advanced standing to program graduates whose applications are accepted for M.S.W. education at regional and national graduate schools. Seton Hall University does not offer the M.S.W.; students who wish to pursue this level of education are advised regarding the numerous graduate programs available at other colleges and which offer advanced standing to those who have complete a B.S.W. The major in social work also provides general preparation for graduate study in law, public administration, and other professions.

The profession of social work, and hence the Department of Social Work, is strongly committed to the amelioration, prevention, and elimination of social problems. The department places strong emphasis on human diversity, discrimination, and oppression; within a context of social justice and the values of professional social work. All courses offered by the department emphasize and reinforce these issues. Using a problem solving approach to professional practice, in conjunction with systems strengths, culture competence and evidence-based thinking, the program helps students to further understand and build upon the capacities possessed by individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities. Students will understand, comprehend, competently apply, and internalize the knowledge, skills, and values of the profession.

The Department of Social Work has expert adjunct faculty who come from diverse backgrounds and have a rich variety of practice experiences.

The Department of Social Work, operating under philosophies of best practices and continuous self-evaluation, prepares students to be competent, generalist professionals at the entry level of practice. Specifically, the program emphasizes and requires for completion of the course of study in social work, the following competencies:

- Identify and assess situations where relationships between people and their social and physical environments need to be initiated, enhanced, restored, protected, or terminated;
- Develop and implement plans for improving the well-being of people;

190 College of Arts and Sciences

- Enhance the problem solving, coping, and developmental capacities of people;
- Link people with systems that provide them with resources, services, and opportunities;
- Comprehend how human needs are systematically met in The United States and other countries;
- Evaluate the extent to which the objectives of intervention plans are achieved;
- Promote the effective and humane operation of the systems that provide people with services, resources, and opportunities;
- Participate with others in creating new, modified, or improved service systems;
- Display appropriate professional behaviors regarding people who are vulnerable and/or oppressed;
- Understand and appreciate human diversity;
- Consider religion and different worldviews as factors in bio/psycho/social/spiritual functioning; and
- Evaluate and pursue their professional growth and development.

Social work is practiced in many different types of organizations and agencies and the generalist curriculum is designed to facilitate professional practice in this broad array. In further preparation for this, students complete professionally supervised internships, described further below. The internship experience, also referred to as “field” and/or “practicum”, is an integral part of the total education program and provides significant opportunity to apply and gain further competency. There is never any credit awarded by the department for social service activities conducted outside of the formal internship curriculum.

Internship sites include, but are not limited to: healthcare facilities, mental health centers; schools, corrections and other criminal justice programs; child welfare agencies; poverty programs; senior citizen programs; community action programs; multi-service centers; family service agencies; child guidance programs; legal services; substance abuse treatment and prevention programs, and others. The department constantly strives to expand opportunities with regard to internships. Efforts are strongly made to link students with internships that are compatible with their career interests.

Program advisers assist students by means of consultation and guidance in developing individualized study plans within the overall curriculum design. These full-time faculty members also help students explore the appropriateness of social work as a career choice. Prospective social work students should seek advisement with department faculty as early as possible.

All social work courses presented below reinforce knowledge, understanding, and competency with regard to respecting and encouraging diversity; and eliminating social injustice, particularly with regard to discrimination and oppression. The theoretical framework assures competence in: the problem solving method; a systems approach to practice; building upon strengths of the client/client system; critical thinking; evaluation; and within and incorporating the values of professional social work.

Second of a two-semester sequence. Under professional supervision, students function in a social work agency to gain beginning-level generalist social work abilities. Includes various student reports and weekly class/group meetings. Total number of practicum hours for the SOWK 4811-4812 sequence is 400. Prerequisites: SOWK 4811, 4911. Corequisites: SOWK 4912, 5111. 6 credits

SOWK 4911 Theory and Practice I

First of two theory and practice methodology course designed to help students develop the competencies required for ethical, effective and compassionate generalist professional practice. Prepares students for micro/mezzo practice with individuals, families, small groups, organizations and communities. Emphasizes problem solving, strengths, and evidence-based practice. Prerequisite (formal admission into the social work program): SOWK 3611, 3811. Corequisite: SOWK 4811. 3 credits

SOWK 4912 Theory and Practice II

The second theory and practice (methods) course designed to help students develop the competencies required for ethical, effective and compassionate generalist professional practice. Prepares students for professional mezzo and macro practice to serve individuals, families and large groups, organizations, communities, and society at large. Emphasizes problem solving, strengths, and evidenced based practice.

Prerequisites: SOWK 4911. Corequisites: SOWK 4812, 5111. 3 credits

SOWK 5111 Senior Research Seminar

A capstone learning experience designed to help social work students integrate their beginning preparation for professional practice and/or graduate school and to explore major issues confronting the profession and society today. The course focuses on specific areas of interest identified by participants with the guidance of the instructor. Corequisites: 4812, 4912. 3 credits

Department of Sociology and Anthropology

Jubilee Hall 5th floor

Faculty: Bunnage; Haynor (Chair); Kayal (Social and Behavioral Sciences Adviser); Carr (Sociology Adviser); Kavanagh; Quizon; Savastano (Anthropology Adviser);

Faculty Emeriti: Abalos; San Giovanni; Zielyk

The Department of Sociology and Anthropology offers two major programs leading to a Bachelor of Arts degree. The Department also offers a minor in each of these two fields. Our Sociology and Anthropology programs are designed to provide students with the tools to analyze, critically evaluate, and understand pressing global and domestic concerns and then to use that knowledge for the betterment of society.

Both Sociology and Anthropology make connections between how we understand ourselves and behave towards others. Sociology cultivates the sociological imagination in students, enabling them to see the links between social structures and personal problems. Anthropology gives students the global perspective to examine our world with a critical and understanding eye as they learn of the different ways people around the world devise solutions to the problems that are common to us all. With an eye towards affecting change, both disciplines look behind the scenes to identify social forces that shape behavior and perceptions.

Whether in regard to urban social issues, inter-group relations, social institutions, health, gender, sexual, racial, organizational, environmental and indigenous cultural concerns, our goal is to provide students with the ability to both understand and to act on their knowledge.

Why Study Sociology and Anthropology?

There are both intellectual benefits and practical applications gained by studying sociology and anthropology. Many of our graduates find employment as educators, researchers, demographers, urban planners, sales or customer service representatives, counselors, public relations specialists, journalists, diversity trainers, event planners, market researchers, personnel and business managers, and media specialists. Others work in the applied fields of government, diplomacy, and medicine. In addition, a number of growth professions look to students with special training in these disciplines. Sociology majors work in many areas of legal studies, law and law enforcement while anthropology majors engage in historical preservation, archaeology, museum work and other fields of cultural resource management. While our sociology program is oriented toward topics and issues within the social context of American society, the anthropology program emphasizes a more comparative global cultural perspective on what are similar central concerns. The goals of the undergraduate degree programs are threefold: to provide a core of courses for students who may pursue graduate study in their respective disciplines; to prepare students to employ the sociological imagination and the lens of cross-cultural knowledge in a globalizing world; and to enable students to recognize, develop and use the humanistic dimension of these two disciplines for their personal development and on behalf of the human family. For more information on the benefits of these broad-based, flexible majors, please visit the department website at www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/sociology-anthropology

Making Connections

Both Sociology and Anthropology have integrated relations with other departments and programs. For example, Social and Behavioral Science majors and students from the College of Education and Human Services can pick either Sociology or Anthropology as minor concentrations. Both Sociology and Anthropology offer courses in Women and Gender Studies, Environmental Studies, Africana Studies and the Honors programs.

More specifically, Sociology offers a dual degree program with the Department of Public and Healthcare Administration that leads to two degrees completed in a 5-year span: a Bachelor of Arts degree in Sociology and a Master of Public Administration. For more information see the Five-Year Dual Degree Programs section of this catalogue.

The Anthropology program has broad offerings emerging from college-wide initiatives in Latin American and Latino/Latina Studies, the Anthropology of Religion, Ethnography and Museum Studies, Environmental Studies and Urban Anthropology. These courses dovetail with the active research programs and expertise of the faculty that encompass the above mentioned areas along with the study of gender and sexuality; immigration, the Diaspora of ethnic groups, transnationalism and cultural citizenship; indigenism, ethnic identity, nationalism and the anthropology of art/material culture; visual and symbolic anthropology and postmodernism.

194 College of Arts and Sciences

Anthropology students also have formal and informal opportunities to benefit from the rich cultural offerings in the New York/New Jersey metropolitan area, including the American Museum of Natural History, El Museo del Barrio, the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the National Museum of the American Indian, the Jewish Museum, the New York Academy of Sciences, the New York Public Library, Asia Society, the Calandra Institute of Italian and Italian-American Studies, the Newark Museum, and the Jersey City Museum, among others.

Alpha Kappa Delta, International Sociology Honor Society

Bi-annually eligible students are inducted into Alpha Kappa Delta (AKD) the international sociology student honor society of the American Sociological Association. The installation ceremony invites the relatives and friends of distinguished majors to join with the faculty in honoring outstanding student achievement. When appropriate, the faculty also presents a Distinguished Graduate Award at this event to an alumnus who best illustrates the principles of a humanistic sociology in his or her professional and community life.

Lambda Alpha Delta, National Collegiate Honors Society for Anthropology

Students who have completed at least 12 credits in anthropology with an average of 3.0 are encouraged to apply for membership in Lambda Alpha Delta (LAD), the Seton Hall University chapter of the National Collegiate Honors Society for Anthropology. The newly established chapter, a student-led initiative, seeks to promote excellence and increased awareness of anthropology as a humanistic social science. The LAD holds joint bi-annual induction ceremonies with the sociology honor society.

Major Program in Sociology

In addition to meeting the standards and requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences, degree candidates must complete department requirements in sociology and related fields for a total of 36 credits. With good reason, students may modify the major program in consultation with a department adviser. Introduction to Sociology (SOC 1101) is normally the first course taken by majors, but late transfers can substitute Social Problems and Solutions (SOC 2601) or Sociology of the Family (SOC 2211) in its place.

Program Requirements

Required Courses (12 credits):		Credits
SOCI 1101	Introduction to Sociology	3
SOCI 2910	Research Methods	3
SOCI 3310	Sociological Theories	3
SOCI 5988	Senior Seminar in Sociology	3

Electives (15 credits):

Four sociology 2000 level courses (limit one special topics course)	12
One sociology 3000/4000 level course	3

Social Science Electives (9 credits):

Nine (9) credits, selected in consultation with adviser, from any of the following disciplines: anthropology, Africana and studies, criminal justice, political science, economics, psychology and social work. No more than three (3) credits may be taken in each discipline.

Total: 36

Minor in Sociology

The minor program in sociology offers experience for students interested in careers such as law, business, marketing, communications and social services. It is comprised of 18 credits.

Required Course (3 credits):

B.A. in Sociology/Master of Public Administration

The Departments of Sociology and Anthropology offer a dual degree program with the Department of Public and Healthcare Administration that leads to two degrees completed in a five-year span: a Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) degree in sociology and a Master of Public Administration (M.P.A.) degree. The program has a two-fold purpose: to provide a broad-based undergraduate education with a comprehensive grasp of one's major in sociology; and to permit students to earn a M.P.A. degree within the timeframe of five years. For more information, please see page 225 of this catalogue.

Major Program in Anthropology

In addition to meeting the standards and requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences, degree candidates must complete department requirements in anthropology and related fields for a total of 36 credits. Each student's program of study should be planned in consultation with the anthropology faculty. The program may be tailored to a student's needs depending on specialization. In recent years, a significant number of students have pursued double majors in anthropology alongside degrees in education, diplomacy and international relations, and environmental studies. Recent graduates include students from the University's prestigious Honors Program. Our alumni have pursued post baccalaureate studies in forensic anthropology, law, journalism, dentistry, museum studies, and international arts management, among others. Introduction to Cultural Anthropology (ANTH 1202) is normally the first course taken by majors but other required major courses such as Culture and Communication: Introduction to Linguistic Anthropology (ANTH 1210) or Physical Anthropology (ANTH 1201) may also be taken in the first semester.

Program Requirements

Six Required Courses from the following (18 credits):

ANTH 1201	Introduction to Physical Anthropology
ANTH 1202	Introduction to Cultural Anthropology
ANTH 1210	Culture and Communication: Introduction to Linguistic Anthropology
ANTH 2912	Qualitative Field Research Methods
ANTH 3212	History of Anthropological Theory
ANTH 3296	Independent Study
or ANTH 5988	Senior Seminar

Six Elective Anthropology Courses (18 credits):

The student should take three courses (9 credits) in anthropology electives at the 2000-4000 level other than those required. In consultation with the department adviser, the remaining three courses (9 credits) may be taken from the courses listed below:

AFAM 2331/ANTH 2331	People and Cultures of Africa
ASIA 3115	Asian Social Life
ASIA 3132	Contemporary Japan
BIOL 1102/1103	Anatomy and Physiology I-II
CRIM 2616	Criminology
COBF 2213	Documentary Film
COGR 3320	Advanced Photography
HIST 3354	The American Frontier
RELS 1402/ASIA 1101	Religions of the World
SOCI 1101	Introduction to Sociology
SOCI 2416	Religion and American Society

Total: 36

Anthropology Minor

The anthropology minor enhances a number of major programs by offering a unique cross-cultural perspective that enables students to apply their skills in their personal as well as their professional lives in an increasingly globalized world. In recent years, most students with a minor in anthropology pursue degrees in education, diplomacy and international relations, political science, biology, environmental studies, history, business, communication, and art history. Students are required to take at least six courses in the discipline, three of which are upper-division electives. In the independent study or its equivalent (normally in the senior year), students write a research paper, integrating anthropological perspectives with their major field of study. Students completing a minor in anthropology must earn 18 credits that include:

Three Required Anthropology Courses (9 credits)

ANTH 1201	Introduction to Physical Anthropology
ANTH 1202	Introduction to Cultural Anthropology
ANTH 1210	Culture and Communication: Introduction to Linguistic Anthropology

or

ANTH 2912	Qualitative Field Research Methods

ANTH 2233 (SOCI 2233, WMST 2233) Understanding Human Sexuality

This course examines human sexuality and gender relationships from an anthropological and cross cultural perspective. It examines the culturally constructed roles of women and men in evolutionary perspective and within specific cultural and social contexts both past and present. The course also focuses on the economic, political and domestic roles, social statuses; and adaptive and maladaptive features of sociosexual patterns. 3 credits

ANTH 2241 (ARCH 2346) Native People of North America

The Indians of North America in the centuries before European conquest, subjugation and displacement. Archaeological, archival and traditional evidence for the Indians' successful adaptations to diverse environments; their interpersonal, material, artistic and spiritual ways of life. Culture shock and aftermath of European contact. 3 credits

ANTH 2242 Peoples & Cultures of Southeast Asia

The course emphasizes new approaches to the ethnography of Southeast Asia that introduces students to the contemporary culture and social organization of the peoples of the region. Students will read classic works as well as contemporary monographs that address characteristic social formations: upland-lowland dynamics; maritime vs. agricultural states; indigenous responses to early modern, colonial and post-colonial European/American expansion, and organized around three themes: the gendered self, the imagined nation, and the paradox of world-systems. 3 credits

ANTH 2243 Peoples and Cultures of Latin America

This course focuses on recent approaches to the ethnography of the Americas, specifically those countries which were formerly Iberian (Spanish and Portuguese) colonies. Addresses Pre-Columbian social formations, the impact of the arrival of Europeans, and the contemporary postcolonial social landscape. Some of the themes of our inquiry are: Conquest and colonialism, post-colonial nationalism, indigenous cultures, hierarchies of class and caste, social movements, religions, migration, the impact of international monetary policy on cultural formations, globalization and transnationalism, and race and ethnicity. While the course spans more than five centuries in our conceptualizations, it primarily focuses upon the present. 3 credits

ANTH 2311 (SOCI 2311, ENVL 2311) Population, Ecology and the Environment

Examines diverse socio-cultural strategies used by human societies throughout the world. Addresses a broad range of social formations such as those used by tropical hunters and foragers, small scale agriculturists & pastoralists, peasant farmers, and agro-industrial corporations, as they respond to and transform the natural environment. Students will learn to apply an anthropological perspective towards the understanding of topics of great global import such as population, pollution, industrialization, sustainable development, and ecosystems. 3 credits

ANTH 2331 (AFAM 2331) People and Cultures of Africa
Social and material cultures of Africa through time, emphasizing the unity and diversity of the continent and its people. 3 credits

ANTH 2401 Fieldwork/Urban Ethnography

Students will have an opportunity to participate in a semester-long team research project conducted under supervision of the instructor and focusing on the application of appropriate qualitative field research methods in an urban setting. Students will learn about the mechanics and ethics of research with emphasis not only on collecting, analyzing and evaluating ethnographic data within a hands-on team research context but also the very process of building relations between researchers, their communities of study and other stakeholders. 3 credits

ANTH 2412 Anthropology of Religion

Introduces students to the study of the Anthropology of Religion from a historical and theoretical perspective. Provides a framework for understanding the diverse ways in which "religion" manifests in different cultural settings and historical contexts. The course explores the human capacity to "make meaning" through the use of symbol, myth and ritual. It also explores transpersonal states of consciousness, many of which are induced through various public and private rituals and other devotional, ascetic and ecstatic practices. The category of "the religious" or "the sacred" as defined according to the western worldview is interrogated and explored. The course content is also relevant to students in Religious Studies, Catholic Studies, Sociology, Psychology and Italian Studies. 3 credits

ANTH 2716 (SOCI 2716) Understanding Americans: Anthropology of American Culture

This course examines the totality of the American experience through the unifying concept of culture. In particular we will be concerned with the origin, development and influences of ideas and assumptions that have shaped fundamental American values and character. (Formerly ANTH 2234) 3 credits

ANTH 2912 (SOCI 2912) Qualitative Field Research Methods

This course is designed for social scientists who wish to learn how to conduct field research, whether in foreign cultures or with different groups within the United States. Students develop, refine and carry out qualitative field research projects using methods and techniques including participant observation, and structured and unstructured interviewing techniques and non-probability sampling. The course will also address ethical issues in social science research including privacy, institutional oversight, rights of the state, and common strategies and solutions. Final research paper is based on original fieldwork. 3 credits

ANTH 3212 The History of Anthropological Thought

Examines the history of the discipline of anthropological thought and the theoretical corpus as it developed from the 19th century to the present. Students are exposed to the major theories and theorists in the field and to some of the contemporary debates within the discipline. This course challenges students to critically assess the validity of various analytical approaches to the concept of culture, society and the person. 3 credits

ANTH 3215 Human Rights and Social Justice

Through an examination of the ways in which people in different societies of the world identify and define ethical and social standards, this course will examine the concept of universal human rights. Also examines the development of international efforts to apply such rights. The course will focus on ethnographic case studies from a wide variety of societies. 3 credits

ANTH 3218 Immigration to the United States

This course examines the history of immigration to the United States from the 17th Century to the present. Explores distinct waves or moments of immigration; presents theoretical explanations for these population movements; and assesses the cultural, political, and economic consequences of immigration to the United States. 3 credits

ANTH 3219 (SOCI 3219) Urban Anthropology

This course uses an anthropological perspective to examine the rise of urbanization in human history. Also analyzes the role of the modern city in both the developed and developing world. Examines issues such as rural-urban dynamics, poverty, crime, economic development, globalization, kinship, race/ethnicity and modernity. 3 credits

ANTH 3294 Independent Study 1 credit

ANTH 3295 Independent Study 2 credits

ANTH 3296 Independent Study 3 credits

ANTH 3297 Independent Study 3 credits

ANTH 3301-04; 3307-08; 3331 Special Topics in Anthropology

Topics to be announced. Check semester course offerings for specific themes 3 credits

ANTH 3305-06, Special Issues In Anthropology

Issues pertinent to the discipline. Check semester course offerings for specific themes. 3 credits

ANTH 3330 Visual Anthropology

Visual Anthropology is two-fold. First, it seeks to document culture through the creation and refinement of photographic and cinematographic techniques, including documentary film. It also means the analysis of the visual productions of different groups of people. Some topics addressed by visual anthropologists examined in this class include Indian soap operas, Brazilian Kayapo photojournalists and indigenous Australian documentaries, and the role of media in cultural revolution. A running theme throughout the course will be the implications of the reversal of the camera lens, such that the anthropologist him/herself becomes subject to scrutiny and investigation. 3 credits

ANTH 3514 (SOCI 3514/WMST 3514) The Anthropology of Gender

This course examines the history of a gendered approach to anthropology in light of second-wave feminism's theoretical contributions and to the new questions that gender analysis brings to traditional anthropological issues such as work, kinship, immigration, race and nationalism. 3 credits

ANTH 4000 The Anthropology of Art

An anthropological approach to the study of the arts. The biological roots of art, evidence in the archeological record, art and artists and their relationship to religious, political, and economic organization and the arts as an expression of cultural identity. Course focuses on art both as observable phenomena (human-made objects, spaces, images, narratives) but also as a universal conceptual category approached through the lens of material culture and symbolic behavior. 3 credits

ANTH 5988 Senior Seminar in Anthropology

A capstone course for majors, which integrates knowledge and skills acquired in the sociology anthropology program. Original research paper required that demonstrates mastery of program goals. Topics and approach to be announced by the department and instructor. 3 credits

Interdisciplinary Majors

Catholic Studies Program

Fahy Hall, Room 318

(973) 275-2175

www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/catholic-studies/

Director: Monsignor Richard Liddy, S.T.L., Ph.D.

The program in Catholic Studies aims at reflection on the relation of Catholicism to all areas of culture. It is open to all students of all tradition and is essentially interdisciplinary. While rooted in historical religious studies, it is also theological and seeks to link Catholic self-understanding to all areas of the curriculum and the professions. It is the perfect complement to and a deepening of the new University Core Curriculum. The program's interdisciplinary approach and opportunities for sustained reflection on current issues invite students to enter into a deeper understanding of the Catholic intellectual tradition in history.

Students may choose a major, minor or a certificate in the program. Note: Students declaring Catholic studies as a second major at the end of their first year must have sophomore status and a GPA of 2.5.

The Catholic Studies Program has recently revised its major that leads to a Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) degree as of fall 2009. Students who entered the program under the old major have the option of either completing the original requirements in effect when they first declared their major, or fulfilling the new requirements as outlined below.

Total:	18

Certificate in Catholic Studies

A certificate in Catholic studies consists of four courses:

	Credits
CAST 1302 Introduction to the Catholic Vision	3
Three electives at the intermediate or advanced level (CAST 2000-4000)	9
Total:	12

Enrichment

The Interdisciplinary Program in Catholic studies appeals to students, Catholic or not, who seek to deepen their knowledge of the riches of the Catholic intellectual tradition. Its interdisciplinary nature allows students to encounter the beauty and vitality of Catholicism as it is expressed across the disciplines.

By examining the role Catholicism has played in various cultures, students are challenged to take seriously its influence in every aspect of intellectual, spiritual and social life.

Because of its emphasis on close interaction between faculty members, students and alumni, those who choose to participate in the program enter into a unique type of intellectual community. Such community can be instrumental in forming character and good intellectual and spiritual habits.

The program is flexible. Most courses are cross-listed with other departments. Students who major or minor in other disciplines are invited to take an occasional course in the program. Such courses can shed light on the religious and humanistic dimensions of the various disciplines.

Course Descriptions

See cross-listed courses for additional course descriptions.

CAST 2011 Catholicism and Art

This course considers the relationship between the Catholic faith and artistic expression and why art is an inextricable aspect of Catholicism. Particular attention is paid to the various forms and ages of Catholic art, and the rich theological/spiritual messages conveyed through nearly two millennia of painting, sculpture and architecture. 3 credits

CAST 2291 Special Topics: The Roots of Catholic Ireland

This course explores the distinctive experience of Christianity in Ireland from its beginnings in the 4th/5th centuries to the coming of the Reformation. It examines those one thousand years as a vibrant period that was characterized by monastic spirituality, ascetic practices, delight in the wonder of creation, love for the life of the mind as well as the spirit and a compelling missionary zeal that eventually re-energized the European Church and Western civilization. This course is part of the Catholic Studies foreign study tour program. 3 credits

CAST 2292 Special Topics: Literature of Christian Conversion

The experience of conversion is central to Christianity, and throughout the millennia writers have recounted their paths to faith in Christ. The course examines a number of these accounts and authors from the Catholic and broader Christian tradition, including such figures as Saint Augustine, Saint Edith Stein and C.S. Lewis. 3 credits

CAST 3193 Seminar in Catholic Studies

This course represents an integrating experience of the student's participation in the Catholic Studies program, whereby theological understanding and lived experience of Catholicism become intertwined. Particular attention is paid to how Catholicism's incarnational theology necessarily applies to and acts within the specific setting of the student's life, parish and community. 3 credits

CAST 3293 Special Topics: Catholic Faith/Resurrection of Poland 1795-1990

Few countries exhibit as strong a connection of its history, culture and identity with the Catholic Faith as does Poland, a factor which proved decisive in its return to freedom. The course examines how the Polish people and Church endured through the periods of partition and Nazi/Soviet tyranny until their resurgence in the epochal pontificate of Pope John Paul II and the collapse of Communism. This course is part of the Catholic Studies foreign study program. 3 credits

CAST 3320 Chesterton, Lewis and the Sacramental Tradition

This course examines the works of two of the most prominent 20th century British Christian writers. Although both authors are renowned as apologists, the course focuses upon their imaginative writings and how these served as invaluable expressions of their thought and spiritual vision. Works considered include Chesterton’s novel The Man Who Was Thursday and Lewis’ novel Out of the Silent Planet and Till We Have Faces. 3 credits

CAST 3940 The Catholic Classics and Interiority

This course flows from the new Seton Hall University core curriculum and endeavors to flesh out the meaning of “the Catholic intellectual tradition.” Its aim is to analyze the Catholic classics in the light of human interiority, particularly the human passion for meaning, for the good and for God. 3 credits

CAST 3994 Foundations of Christian Culture

Drawing from a variety of sources - historical, literary, philosophical and theological - this course examines the origins and nature of Christian culture, exploring in particular the value of culture itself as an aspect of revelation and incarnation. Looking at figures such as the historian Christopher Dawson, the poet-philosopher-playwright G.K. Chesterton, the novelist-philologist J.R.R. Tolkein, the theologian Bernard Lonergan and the novelist-Christian apologist C.S. Lewis, it offers some answers from the contemporary Christian tradition to the ancient questions: How am I meant to understand the world? How am I meant to understand myself? This course is part of the Catholic Studies foreign study tour program. 3 credits

CAST 3997 Special Topics: Latin American Catholicism

Catholicism is not only an inextricable part of Latin America history and identity, but the region’s experience of the Faith has a profound influence on the universal and future life of the Church. The course examines in particular Catholicism in Mexico, which embraces a rich ensemble of the humble and the heroic, the struggles for human dignity and the miraculous. The course culminates in an intensive immersion experience. This course is part of the Catholic Studies foreign study program. 3 credits

CAST 3998 (HONS 4195, RELS 3998) Special Topics: Italy in the Footsteps of the Saints

Italy enjoys a pre-eminence as a spiritual center for the Christian world alongside its importance in the development of Western civilization’s art, music, architecture and political thought. The course will examine the interplay between Italy’s profound spiritual heritage and cultural achievements, focusing on the contributions of such key figures as the Apostles Peter and Paul, Saints Francis and Clare of Assisi, Saint Catherine of Siena and Saint Ignatius of Loyola. This course is part of the Catholic Studies foreign study tour program. 3 credits

CAST 3999 Emergence of Christianity in Rome

The Church in Rome has manifested the greatest durability, adaptability and influence of all the early Christian communities mentioned in the New Testament. The course begins with the Roman Church’s Jewish roots, the Apostles Peter and Paul and the age of persecutions and continues through its increasingly central role in shaping Western Christianity from the time of Constantine to the early Middle Ages. Special focus is given to the developing office of the papacy and the self expression of this vibrant community through its art and architecture. This course is part of the Catholic Studies foreign study tour program. 3 credits

Criminal Justice Program

Arts and Sciences Hall
(973) 761-9170

www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/criminal-justice

Director: Joel B. Sperber, Ed.D.

Faculty: Athens; Launer; Palenski

Leading to a Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) degree, the Criminal Justice program of study can lead to professional careers in law enforcement, courts, corrections, police, and other areas relating to crime and justice. The major in criminal justice is designed to give students a broad understanding of the operation of the criminal justice system. Graduates from the program may pursue careers in criminal justice, law enforcement, courts, and corrections or undertake graduate professional degrees in areas such as criminology and criminal justice. A series of internships are offered in federal, state, and municipal agencies.

Transfer Students

All transfer students are interviewed before being accepted into the program. Transfer students have one semester to reach the minimum required GPA. Transfer students are required to take at least 18 credits from the Seton Hall University criminal justice program.

Selected topics in criminal justice. 3 credits

CRIM 3120 Qualitative Methods of Criminal Justice Research

Qualitative methods of criminological research, including criminological "field methods" and "ethnography." Four principle areas: (1) the distinctive logic or philosophy underlying the use of qualitative methods, (2) the different qualitative methods for collecting data, (3) the principal means for qualitatively analyzing data, and (4) criteria for evaluating qualitative research. Prerequisites: Two of the following courses: SOCI 1101, PSYC 1101, ANTH 1202 and MATH 1101 or permission of instructor. 3 credits

CRIM 3310 Violent Crime

Explorations of the topic of violence from a number of social science perspectives. Particular attention to the "process" of becoming violent, and the policy implications of violent behavior in the United States. 3 credits

CRIM 3550 Criminological Theory

Major sociological, psychological, psychiatric, biological, as well as interpretative theories of criminal behavior. The assumptions underlying the explanations that these theories offer, the empirical evidence supporting and contradicting them, and the attendant solutions that each implies. The different "images" of the "criminal" and "criminal action" upon which they operate are contrasted with each other, and the criminal law. 3 credits

CRIM 3894, 3895, 3896 Criminal Justice Co-op I, II, III
Internships or work experience in local, state, or federal criminal justice institutions. 3 credits each

CRIM 4400 Homicide

The nature of criminal homicide and its investigation are examined from both a legalistic and social scientific perspective. In part I of the course, criminal homicide is legally distinguished from non-criminal homicide, and five different types of criminal homicide are legally distinguished from each other: capital murder, first and second degree murder, and voluntary and involuntary manslaughter. In addition, the main legal defenses to criminal homicide (immaturity, insanity, intoxication, self defense, prevention of dangerous felony, and duress) are reviewed. In part II, various social scientific schemes for classifying and investigating homicide offenses and offenders, including the FBI's standardized system, are critically compared. In comparing these different classification systems, actual death investigation reports, autopsies, toxicological and ballistic reports, crime scene stills and sketches, and trial court transcripts are utilized. Students will be required to classify homicide offenses and offenders on the bases of the different schemes and methods reviewed. Prerequisite: CRIM 2612. 3 credits

CRIM 5980-5983 Independent Study in Criminal Justice

Selected topics are explored in conjunction with the guidance and direction of the instructor. In instances where the topics change, additional independent study may be taken for a maximum of 6 credits. 1/2/3 credits

CRIM 5986-5987 Special Theoretical Issues in Criminal Justice

Instruction in important emerging areas in the field of crime and justice study. Course content and techniques draw on the expertise of researchers and writers across a wide spectrum of interests. Prerequisite: Completion of 30 program credits or permission of the instructor. 3-6 credits

CRIM 5988 Senior Seminar

A capstone course that consolidates the theoretical and methodological knowledge and skills acquired as a major. Major research report and oral presentation required. 3 credits

Police Program Course DescriptionsEDST 1415 Physical Education I

Physical conditioning and defensive tactics and how they apply to the student's experience. Various forms of running, freehand exercises, weight training, organized athletics, tumbling and gymnastics. A boxing program reflects students' reactions under the stress of physical confrontation. Training extends into hand-to-hand combat and self-defense against various weapons. Examinations and critiques included. 3 credits

EDST 1416 Physical Education II

Crash injury management and physiology, water self-survival and lifesaving. Learning the structure and functions of the human body to enable the student to better perform physical functions of present-day law enforcement. Emergency care work is emphasized. 3 credits

ENGL 1025 Communication for State Police

Communications and speech with practical exercises performed in front of a television camera with critiques of the tapes. Interviewing and courtroom testimony. Hostage recovery, public information and police discretion. 2 credits

ENGL 1027 Language and Communication for Law Enforcement Officers

Grammatical aspects of language and the mechanics of composition of primary importance covering police reporting systems, unity and coherence, and sentence and paragraph structure. Semantics and word content, within the parameters of a meaningful and pragmatic vocabulary. Compositions and assigned readings. 3 credits

B.A. in Economics

Jubilee Hall Room 674

Administrator: John J. Dall Jr., Ph.D.

The Department of Economics in the Stillman School of Business provides students with a solid foundation in the discipline of economics. For undergraduate students majoring in economics, the objectives of the program are threefold: to help develop a thorough understanding of the economic relationships between business, households and government, and of the principles governing these relationships; to help develop proper analytical methods and modes of inquiry that will prepare students for careers in business administration, government and education; to lay the groundwork necessary for graduate studies in economics, law and related fields. Scholarly instruction and continuing personal guidance provide students with a high degree of flexibility in the development of their careers and educational plans.

The course offerings of the department enable undergraduate students to major in economics either through the College of Arts and Sciences or the Stillman School of Business, leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science in Business Administration, respectively.

In addition to meeting the standards and requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences, degree candidates must complete a minimum of 36 credits in the economics and quantitative courses specified below. In general, required courses will be taken in the order listed. However, all programs are worked out in consultation with an economics department adviser who may modify the program in view of each student's background and objectives.

Economics Minor

Students from the College of Arts and Sciences also may choose economics as a minor. The economics minor consists of three core courses plus three additional courses (ECON 2420 or 2421, and two economics electives) for the total of 18 credits. See Index to locate course descriptions.

Environmental Studies Program

Fahy Hall 3rd Floor

(973) 761-9473

www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/ba-environmental-studies

Director: Judith C. Stark, Ph.D.

The environment protects and sustains life, yet the unrestrained use of the earth's resources causes problems that affect all humankind. The broad-based acceptance of this statement is producing profound economic and political changes in society at large. This is a topic that transcends several disciplines.

Environmental Studies provides a multidisciplinary medium for the study of the scientific and humanistic aspects of environmental problems. The Bachelor of Arts in Environmental Studies includes two tracks, one in education and one in public policy. This program, along with the minors in Environmental Studies and Environmental Science, includes courses that are rigorous within their traditional disciplines, from natural science (biology, chemistry, physics and geology) to political science, philosophy, economics, management and sociology.

Major in Environmental Studies

The major in Environmental Studies prepares students to become leaders with expertise in sustaining and conserving our environment and natural resources while balancing the needs of a changing economy. Students prepare to take on service and leadership roles in an area of increasing global and local importance. Seton Hall's location in northern New Jersey, at the borders of old industrial cities and new and old suburban communities places students at the growing edge of many environmental problems and their solutions: pollution, toxic wastes, land use, Brownfield remediation, development pressures on open space, and habitat loss. New Jersey is home to a number of unique and fragile ecosystems, e.g. the Palisades, the Great Swamp, extensive salt marsh estuaries, and the Pine Barrens and these places provide venues for research and fieldwork. As the Catholic university in the state, Seton Hall brings issues of environmental justice, sustainability and new understandings of stewardship to regional conversations on the environment.

The major in Environmental Studies offers a systematic, interdisciplinary approach to education, insuring the rigorous and integrated use of the natural and social sciences and humanities to understand the profound impacts of human activity upon the interrelations of all components of the natural environment and the critical importance of restoring and maintaining environmental quality. The Environmental Studies major builds upon a foundational interdisciplinary team-taught course in Environmental Studies and culminates in a capstone course that involves the writing of a Senior Thesis under the guidance of a faculty mentor. Global and local in focus, the major involves students in experiential learning through community outreach activities and internships. The major prepares students to be servant leaders who build an environmentally, economically, and socially sustainable society, one that balances the needs of people today with those of future generations.

Minor in Environmental Sciences

The interdisciplinary minor in environmental sciences is described in the Biological Sciences section of this catalogue.

Course Descriptions

ENVL 1011 Introduction to Environmental Studies

This course introduces students to the interdisciplinary field of environmental studies, through lectures and discussion led by environmental studies program faculty from the social sciences, natural sciences and humanities. 3 credits

ENVL 1019 (ERTH 1019) Introduction to Geology

Descriptive survey of the science of the earth; the composition of the earth; weathering and erosion; the formulation and movement of glaciers; the origin of mountains, volcanoes, earthquakes and deserts; and geological history of the earth. Field trips when possible. 3 credits

ENVL 1111 (GEOG 1111) Fundamentals of Geography

Geography as a periodic relationship between the physical environment and life. Elements of the natural environment and their influences on human cultural activities. 3 credits

ENVL 2115 (PHIL 2115) Environmental Ethics

Examination of current theoretical and practical issues in the field of environmental ethics, among them, obligations to future generations, human relationships to nature and pollution. 3 credits

ENVL 2122 (BIOL 2122) Introduction to Ecology

Application of basic scientific laws, principles and concepts to environmental and resource problems. Scientific concepts such as matter and energy resources; soil, water and food resources; ecosystems, atmosphere and geologic processes; air and water pollution and pesticides will be studied. Problems such as deforestation, loss of biodiversity, global warming and ozone loss will be examined. Three-hour lecture, three-hour laboratory per week. (Part of the Environmental Studies program; not a biology major elective course.) Prerequisites: BIOL 1101 and CHEM 1001 or equivalent. 4 credits

ENVL 2311 (ANTH 2311/SOCI 2311) Ecology, Demography and Environment

Examines diverse cultural strategies with which human societies throughout the world, ranging from tropical hunting and gathering groups to Euro-American and Asian industrialized nations, have responded to the natural environment. Students will learn to apply an anthropological perspective towards the understanding of topics of great global import such as population, pollution, industrialization, sustainable development, and ecosystems. 3 credits

ENVL 2321 (HIST 2321) Environmental History of the United States

Explores the changing relationship between people and the environment in the United States. As a general survey of the nation's environmental history, the course examines a variety of issues, including our changing understanding of the "natural" world and our place in it; the consequences of human efforts to commodify and control nature; social and ethical responses to environmental problems; and the evolution of environmental policy. 3 credits

ENVL 2910 (POLS 2910) Research Methods for Social Sciences

An introduction to social science research. Topics include problem selection and hypothesis formation and testing; research design; sampling; construction and administration of research techniques; elementary data analysis and ethical issues. Some statistical and computer applications. Prerequisite: Math 1203 or MATH 1101. 3 credits

ENVL 3014 (POLS 3014) Ecology and Politics

Explores the relationship between politics and environmental policy in the U.S. Looks at specific problems such as pollution, global warming, species depletion, land management and hazardous waste. Explores attempts by government and other interested parties to rectify these problems. 3 credits

ENVL 3050-3052 Selected Topics in Environmental Studies

Topics are chosen by the environmental studies faculty. Through lectures, discussion of readings, written assignments and other means, students explore a special topic in the field of environmental studies. 3 credits

ENVL 4111, 4112, 4113 Reading and Writing Tutorial in Environmental Studies

The tutorial courses provide opportunities for a senior student to pursue an in-depth reading and writing project in close consultation with a member of the environmental studies faculty. 1-3 credits

ENVL 4511 Practicum

This course provides a field experience under the supervision of a member of the environmental studies faculty. The specific form and requirements of the practicum, e.g. internship, service learning, etc., is developed in close consultation with the instructor. Students share their reflections on the experience during the semester and make a formal presentation of the results. 3 credits

ENVL 5050 Senior Capstone

This course is the senior capstone for all students majoring in Environmental Studies. A broad topic of pivotal importance to the field is selected annually. Each student prepares an independent research project on a specific aspect of the topic, closely mentored by faculty of the Environmental Studies program. The course is taught in the fall semester, but students begin preparation through required summer reading. The fall semester is a structured research/writing seminar that culminates in a formal written and oral presentation of the student's findings. 3 credits

Latin American and Latino/Latina Studies Program

Fahy Hall
(973) 275-2764

Director: Matthew Escobar, Ph.D.

Faculty and Committee Members: Alexander (Africana Studies); Alvarez-Amell (Modern Languages); Liddy (Center for Catholic Studies); Medina (Philosophy); Pennington (Modern Languages); Prieto (Modern Languages); C. Rodríguez (Modern Languages); I. Rodríguez (Joseph A. Unanue Latino Institute); Zalacaín (Modern Languages)

Leading to a Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) degree the major in Latin American and Latino/Latina Studies at Seton Hall University provides students an interdisciplinary path to study the diversity of Latin American and Latino culture from several angles while mastering essential skills needed in the business world. Students study the Spanish language as well as take courses that explore the breadth and depth of a rich cultural heritage and history of a population whose presence is increasingly being felt throughout the United States. This major is designed to offer students both the analytical and writing skills they need to perform in the business world and the cultural knowledge to better understand our society and be an asset to any business whose focus is Latino or Latin American culture. Our majors are well prepared to compete in private and public sector professions in which a deep understanding of cultural diversity is an asset in our increasingly multicultural society.

The program in Latin American and Latino/Latina Studies (LALS) builds from a core of Spanish language, Latin American history and politics, as well as courses that focus on different aspects of Latin American and Latino culture. All LALS majors may take relevant electives in Africana Studies, philosophy, anthropology, history, Catholic studies, religion, political science and sociology that have been designed to explore both Latin American cultural paradigms and Latino immigration and culture in the United States. Students may also take courses designed specifically for bilingual/heritage speakers as well as business Spanish and English/Spanish translation.

Course Descriptions

LALS 1001 Introduction to Latin American Studies

This course is divided into three periods: the Pre-Columbian and the Encounter, the Colonial period and the post-independence period historical. Its focus is on the political, cultural and social formations, the impact of the encounter between Europeans and the indigenous peoples, the colonial, post independence and contemporary periods. Some of the themes of our inquiry are: indigenous culture, conquest and colonialism, nationalism, cultural expressions, hierarchies of class and caste, social movements, religions, migration, cultural formations, globalization and transnationalism, and race and ethnicity. 3 credits

LALS 1002 Introduction to Latino/Latina Studies

The course explores the personal, political, historical and sacred being of Latinas/Latinos in the United States from the perspective of a theory of transformation. Particular attention is given to the struggle of Latinas and Latinos with the inherited stories of their cultural past and present and the conflict between their heritage and the dominant stories of our wider society. It intends to provide an understanding of the Latino people in our midst creating cultures and communities in the United States. 3 credits

LALS 1401 (HIST 1401) History of Latin America I

Survey of the development of the New World empires of Spain and Portugal from Pre-Columbian times through independence. 3 credits

LALS 1402 (HIST 1402) History of Latin America II

Evolution of societies and nation states from the 1820s to independence. 3 credits

LALS 2517 (SOCI 2517) Latinas and Latinos in the United States

The issues facing Latinas/Latinas in the United States and an exploration of the reasons for powerlessness in this large, diversified population. Students come to understand the process of communalization and how it relates to politicalization. 3 credits

LALS 2614 (POLS 2614) Latin American Politics

Basic forces conditioning the politics of the area. The variety of governmental structures and party systems in Mexico, South and Central America. 3 credits

LALS 3101 Special Topics in Latin American and Latino/Latina Studies

Topics are chosen by the Latin American and Latino/Latina Studies faculty. Through lectures, discussion of readings, written assignments and other means, students explore a special topic in the field of Latin American and Latino/Latina Studies. 3 credits

LALS 3102 Special Topics in Latin American and Latino/Latina Studies

Topics are chosen by the Latin American and Latino/Latina Studies faculty. Through lectures, discussion of readings, written assignments and other means, students explore a special topic in the field of Latin American and Latino/Latina Studies. 3 credits

LALS 3319 (SPAN 3319) Traditions and Cultures - Issues in Latin American Popular Culture

The course is focused on the intersections of gender, race and class in the context of Latin American popular cultural production. The colloquium incorporates a number of different disciplines, including film, fiction, dance, music and art. Popular culture may be said to encompass any cultural form that impinges on a daily basis on the lives of individuals, including, but not limited to newspapers, radio, television, music, sports matches, theater and film, and advertisements. These particular elements tend to tap into collective concerns of any "imagined community" that is, in fact, a nation. Popular culture will generally reflect common interest it informs and at the same time is informed by collective consciousness. 3 credits

LALS 3324 (SPAN 3324) Classics of Latin American Literature in Translation

This course allows students from many different disciplines to study some of the great works of late 19th and 20th century Latin American literature, thus enhancing their familiarity with Latin American culture and broadening their literary horizons. 3 credits

LALS 3401 (SPAN 3491/ENGL 3404) U.S. Latina/Latino Literature

A survey of the literature written by Latina/Latino authors in the United States. Reading materials, class discussions, exams, and term papers will be in English, but Spanish majors and minors, and native Spanish speakers will be encouraged to write in Spanish, and read Spanish translations when available. 3 credits

LALS 4101 Special Topics in Latin American and Latino/Latina Studies

Topics are chosen by the Latin American and Latino/Latina Studies faculty. Through lectures, discussion of readings, written assignments and other means, students explore a special topic in the field of Latin American and Latino/Latina Studies. 3 credits

214 College of Arts and Sciences

LALS 4102 Special Topics in Latin American and Latino/Latina Studies

Topics are chosen by the Latin American and Latino/Latina Studies faculty. Through lectures, discussion of readings, written assignments and other means, students explore a special topic in the field of Latin American and Latino/Latina Studies. 3 credits

LALS 5011 Individualized Guided Research

Directed study and research in individual areas selected by the student in consultation with program adviser. 3 credits

LALS 5012 Internship

Students are placed in employment settings where they apply their theoretical knowledge and research skills to the practical demands of the workplace. Supervision is provided both by the employing agency and by a faculty adviser. 3 credits

LALS 5013 Study Abroad

A language or culture course in a Spanish-speaking country. The student studies an academic course while living in a country where he or she is using the language in everyday circumstances. 3 credits

LALS 5020 Capstone Seminar

This course provides the capstone experience for Latin American and Latino/Latina Studies majors. In this course, students will critically engage the history of area studies, in particular the interdisciplinary field of Latin American and Latino/Latina Studies and contextualize this history in our contemporary globalized present. This course will merge the humanities and social sciences tracks of the major under the rubric of critical theory. 3 credits

Liberal Studies Program

Fahy Hall Room 314

(973) 761-9000 Ext. 5183

www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/ba-liberal-studies

Director: Mark B. Couch, Ph.D.

Leading to a Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) degree, the Liberal Studies program provides a broader-oriented education than might be gained from a concentration in one of the usual majors of the College of Arts and Sciences. The program offers a two-track curriculum each of which can set a foundation for a teaching career or any profession in which skills are needed in reading, analysis, and oral and written communication. Because of the extensive choices of minors and electives, students can also tailor their courses with a view toward graduate studies.

Program Requirements

Requirements for a Bachelor of Arts degree in Liberal Studies include:

Track I

- A. Completion of the core curriculum of the College of Arts and Sciences;
- B. Completion of a minor (minimum 18 credits) in one of the following disciplines:
 - Graphic, Interactive and Advertising Design
 - Africana Studies
 - Anthropology
 - Archaeology
 - Art History
 - Asian Studies
 - Classical Studies
 - Communication
 - English
 - Fine Arts
 - French
 - German
 - History
 - Italian
 - Latin
 - Music Performance
 - Philosophy
 - Religious Studies
 - Russian

Social and Behavioral Sciences Program

Jubilee Hall Room 509
(973) 275-5814

www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/ba-social-behavioral-sciences

Director: Philip M. Kayal, Ph.D.

Leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) in Social and Behavioral Sciences, this interdisciplinary major provides the basis for a general education in the social and behavioral sciences. Students seeking a broad based liberal arts education and/or seeking careers in law, government, education, human resources, management, or business are encouraged to enter this program; there is a strong emphasis on human relations.

B.A. in Social and Behavioral Sciences

Program Requirements

- Requirements for a Bachelor of Arts in Social and Behavioral Sciences include:
- A. Completion of the core curriculum of the College of Arts and Sciences, including either MATH 1101 or MATH 1203;
 - B. Completion of a minor (minimum 18 credits) in one of the following disciplines: anthropology, criminal justice, economics, political science, psychology, social work or sociology;
 - C. Completion of four additional courses (12 credits) from the disciplines listed above. May include those required for the Social Science section of the College of Arts and Sciences Core Curriculum.
 - D. Completion of a research methods course approved by the selected minor department;
 - E. Completion of IDIS 5002 Senior Seminar (3 credits), resulting in a significant research project and paper. Prerequisites for this course include: senior standing and satisfactory completion of the statistics and research methods courses;
 - F. Completion of additional elective credits sufficient to meet the 120-credit minimum graduation requirement of the College; and
 - G. A minimum GPA of 2.0.

Joint Programs in Occupational Therapy or Athletic Training

Social and Behavioral Science (SOBS) majors may also choose to enter a dual degree program in either Occupational Therapy (OT) or Athletic Training (AT) with Seton Hall's School of Health and Medical Sciences. Students would receive both a B.A. in Social and Behavioral Sciences and Master of Science (M.S.) in OT or AT.

SOBS students who elect the dual degree programs must pick a minor in sociology, psychology or anthropology. SOBS/OT students can also minor in social work or anthropology that focuses on culture, communication, rituals and language usage. A minor concentration in sociology gives insights into behavioral and social relations in families, communities, social groups and organizations. It attempts to provide an awareness of social influences on behavior and the requirements for living with others. Psychology, on the other hand, concentrates on the understanding of individual behavior, laying the foundation for understanding emotional and psychosocial functioning. The special concerns of social work are poverty, illness, racism, sexism, homophobia, ageism, and indifference to human suffering. Social work is committed to the prevention of social problems and the provision of social services. Anthropology focuses on culture, communication, rituals, and language usage.

216 College of Arts and Sciences

The following Social and Behavioral Science dual degree programs are offered in conjunction with the School of Health and Medical Sciences (SHMS).

Occupational Therapy

Program Overview

The College of Arts and Sciences and the School of Health and Medical Sciences offer a dual degree program leading to a Bachelor of Arts in Social and Behavioral Sciences, and a Master of Science in Occupational Therapy. This six-year program offers the opportunity to study in a traditional liberal arts environment as well as pursue a professional degree in one of the health professions.

The Bachelor of Arts in Social and Behavioral Sciences is awarded at the completion of four years of work and the Master of Science in Occupational Therapy is awarded at the completion of the sixth year of study.

The Occupational Therapy Program at Seton Hall University views the role of the occupational therapist as a clinician, educator, administrator and researcher. As clinicians, occupational therapists are able to identify the health needs of individual clients and to design, implement and evaluate care plans to meet those needs. In the area of education, Seton Hall graduates are prepared to teach in healthcare community environments. As supervisors and managers, occupational therapists are able to plan, establish and evaluate occupational therapy services in a variety of settings. And in the area of research, graduates of the Bachelor of Arts/Master of Science in Occupational Therapy program will be able to critically analyze new concepts and findings, integrating changes in occupational therapy practice that occur within the dynamic healthcare delivery system.

Admission Criteria

The Occupational Therapy Program at Seton Hall University is unique because it accepts students for enrollment in the entire program. Admission to the program is both competitive and extremely selective.

Applicants should have successfully completed a high school college preparatory curriculum, including courses in social sciences, biology, mathematics, English and a foreign language. Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) scores are required of all applicants. International students must submit Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) scores. Transfer students will be considered for the first three years of the program and should have a minimum 3.0 overall GPA, a C or higher in each prerequisite course, and a cumulative GPA of at least 3.0 in prerequisite courses. It is recommended that transfer credits into dual degree programs be limited to 70.

Before entering the graduate program, applicants are required to complete 50 hours of volunteer/observation work under the supervision of a licensed occupational therapist in a hospital or other health care setting to strengthen interpersonal skills and to develop an understanding of the needs and capabilities of clients and the role of the occupational therapist. A supportive letter of reference from a supervising occupational therapist is required of all students entering the graduate program.

Program Requirements:

Students who maintain the required 3.0 grade point average as an undergraduate and complete the requirements of the social and behavioral sciences program by the end of their junior year are guaranteed admission into the final three years of professional studies. Students enrolled in an undergraduate dual degree program must declare their intent to continue matriculation in their major no later than October 15th of their junior year. Eligible students seeking to transfer into any SHMS dual degree program will be considered on a space-available basis.

In order to move into the professional stage of this 3+3 program, students must also have a minimum overall GPA of 3.0 in the prerequisite courses indicated below (*) with no grade being less than a C in a prerequisite course.

Students in Social and Behavioral Science-Occupational Therapy (SOBT) can choose from one of four concentrations in their undergraduate program: sociology, anthropology, social work or psychology. Regardless of minor selected, all students must take Introduction to Psychology (PSYC 1101) before taking the required prerequisite courses in Developmental Psychology (PSYC 2212) and Abnormal Psychology (PSYC 2214). Introduction to Sociology (SOCI 1101) is a pre-requisite for all sociology courses and Cultural Anthropology (ANTH 1202) for all Anthropology courses. The director of social and behavioral sciences assists students in planning their undergraduate course of study in order to complete that part of the 3+3 program by the end of junior year. Total number of credits by end of junior year is 89-90.

Curriculum: Pre-Professional Phase

Social and Behavioral Science - Sociology, Anthropology, Social Work or Psychology (SOBT)

SOBT majors declare a minor in either of the social sciences listed above. Though the program sequence below is only a model, students are encouraged to take their biology requirement in the summer between sophomore and junior year. **

Regardless of the minor selected, all SOBT students must successfully take the following courses and achieve a minimal grade of C.

BIOL 1102	Anatomy and Physiology I	4
BIOL 1103	Anatomy and Physiology II	4
ENGL 1201	English I	3
MATH 1101

SOCI 1101	Introduction to Sociology	3

*Part I (BIOL 1102) and Part II (BIOL 1103) of Anatomy and Physiology are required and should be taken in the summer sessions I & II before the junior year. Each course is four credits, including a laboratory. If taken in the summer semester prior to the junior year, a student will have completed 74 credits; if not, a student will have completed only 66 credits and must take these two courses in the junior year.

Athletic Training Program

The College of Arts and Sciences and the School of Health and Medical Sciences offer a dual degree program leading to a Bachelor of Arts in Social and Behavioral Science (B.A.) and a Master of Science in Athletic Training (M.S.A.T.). This five year program offers students the opportunity to study in a liberal arts environment as well as the opportunity to study the art and science of athletic training.

The M.S.A.T. dual degree program is intended to prepare graduates to critically analyze and convey information to patients, colleagues and other health professionals. These clinicians will be able to provide a broad range of patient care services and perform research and administrative responsibilities. This is accomplished through students and faculty building collaborations, participating on professional organizations in athletic training, and administering athletic training services.

The mission of the Master of Science in Athletic Training program is to prepare students to become competent and independent clinicians who will enhance the quality of patient health care and to advance the profession of athletic training. The program teaches and provides practical experiences to enable graduates to assume leadership roles both within the field of athletic training, and within the community.

The professional phase of the M.S.A.T. program includes academic courses and clinical practica in athletic training. Students develop the knowledge and skills needed to perform as entry-level athletic training clinicians and to grow and adapt to the rapid changes in the profession and health care. Upon program completion, students will be thoroughly prepared for the Board of Certification (BOC) Examination and prepared to enter the profession as entry-level athletic training clinicians. Additionally, the curriculum prepares students for the Strength and Conditioning Specialist (CSCS) examination.

Accreditation

The Master of Science in Athletic Training is a fully CAATE accredited entry-level graduate program. The Commission on Accreditation of Athletic Training Education (CAATE) maintains educational standards for accredited athletic training education programs.

Admission Criteria

Applicants should have successfully completed a high school college preparatory curriculum, including courses in social sciences, biology, mathematics, English and a foreign language. The Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) scores are required of all applicants. International students must submit Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) scores. Transfer students will be considered for the first three years of the program and should have an acceptable overall average.

Applicants are encouraged to volunteer or work with a Certified Athletic Trainer (ATC) in their high school, local sports medicine clinic, hospital or other healthcare setting. This experience will help strengthen interpersonal skills and to develop an understanding of the needs and capabilities of patients and the role of athletic trainers.

The combined B.A./M.S.A.T. program is unique because it accepts students for enrollment in the entire program. Students who maintain a preferred overall 3.0 GPA as an undergraduate are guaranteed admission into the final two years of professional studies. Due to a limit on the number of athletic training students in each entering freshman class, admission into the program is extremely selective.

Program Requirements

Athletic training students who complete the requirements of the social and behavioral sciences program, and who maintain a preferred overall 3.0 average with successful completion of selected prerequisite courses (8 credits of A&P I and II, 3 credits of pre-calculus or calculus or statistics, 3 credits of biology, 4 credits of physics, as well as English, psychology, sociology – with no grade less than a C in prerequisite courses) will enter the professional phase of the program after their junior year. Students are required to observe 50 hours under supervision of a Certified Athletic Trainer (ATC) in any healthcare setting to develop an understanding of the needs of clients and the role of athletic trainers. The observational experience can be completed anytime before they begin the professional phase of the program in their fourth year and require a letter of reference from the supervising ATC. Students can choose psychology, sociology, or anthropology as their concentration in their undergraduate program. The director of social and behavioral sciences assists students in planning their course of study in order to complete the program within the six-year time frame. Students must complete at least 94 credits before they begin the graduate courses in athletic training. Students enrolled in an undergraduate dual degree program just declare their intent to continue matriculation in their major no later than October 15th prior to their junior year. Eligible students seeking to transfer into any SMHS dual degree program will be considered on a space-available basis.

Interdisciplinary Minor, Certificate and Other Special Programs

The College of Arts and Sciences offers several interdisciplinary minor programs: the minor in Archaeology, the minor in Italian Studies, and the minor in Russian and East European Studies. The College also offers two interdisciplinary certificate programs: the multidisciplinary certificate in gerontology and the certificate in Russian and East European Studies.

Archaeology Program

Co-sponsored by the Departments of Religious Studies, Classical Studies and Sociology/Anthropology.

Participating faculty bring a broad range of academic experience from disciplines of arts and humanities, behavioral and exact sciences.

The Minor in Archaeology is a program designed to lead the student to ancient foundations of human intellectual, social and material achievement through guided applications of academic disciplines.

A liberal arts education is intended to provide students with knowledge about a variety of academic areas and some experience in several of its disciplines. Archaeology as discourse about ancient things is a discipline that integrates into its own operations a variety of academic disciplines.

Students who minor in archaeology can achieve more than knowledge of the deepest foundations of our civilization. Because of its practical and experimental nature, archaeology facilitates the integration of academic disciplines into a more coherent vision of what a broad liberal arts education is all about.

Students are encouraged to integrate their majors and/or minors with the study of archaeology where possible. Projects chosen range from studies in art, artifacts or architecture of antiquity to chemistry, computer applications and photography. Museum internships are usually available and strongly encouraged. Co-op programs for summer and year-round work also are available.

Archaeology Minor

The Italian Studies program offers all Seton Hall University students an integrated, interdisciplinary approach to the language, history and culture of Italy. Defined as a nation in cultural terms long before it achieved political definition as a state, Italy has created with its literary and cultural achievements an exciting history that has spanned more than 2,500 years and several continents. The Italian Studies program offers an excellent opportunity to study the effects of this history on a people whose experiences were crucial in shaping European culture, while also creating new communities and local cultures for themselves in America and around the world.

The Italian Studies program capitalizes on Seton Hall's unique resources. The Charles and Joan Alberto Italian Studies Institute coordinates initiatives throughout the university, organizes conferences and oversees the awarding of scholarships to students working in Italian Studies. A vibrant Italian Language and Literature program, housed in the Department of Modern Languages, offers an array of courses in Italian (on-campus and in Rome). The Joseph M. and Geraldine C. La Motta Chair in Italian Studies sponsors a lecture series; the Valente Family Italian Studies Library has an important book collection on the third floor of the Walsh Library; and the University Archives house detailed records from the historically important Italian American communities of New Jersey.

Italian Studies Minor

The Italian Studies Minor (18 credits) offers outstanding preparation for graduate school, or a career in international business, diplomacy, teaching, social work and the law. Recent graduates of the Italian Studies Minor have established careers in finance, tourism and the fashion industry, and some have gone on to the best law schools in the United States. Students majoring in any field are encouraged to consider the advantages of a minor program that provides focused attention on the history, language and culture of a country and people whose experiences continue to be fundamental in shaping the modern world.

Requirements

The Italian Studies Minor requires 18 credits of study distributed among at least three of the participating departments and programs. Students must complete at least 6 credits in Italian language and literature at any level.

Multidisciplinary Certificate in Gerontology

www.shu.edu/academics/arts/certificate-gerontology.cfm

Director: Emma Quartaro, D.S.W., A.C.S.W., L.C.S.W. (Social Work)

Advisers: Boozang (Law); Boroff (Business); Scura (Nursing); Kayal (Sociology/Social and Behavioral Sciences); Levy (Psychology); Mirabella (Political Science); Pritchett (Africana Studies); Smith (Philosophy)

The multidisciplinary certificate program in gerontology is a concentration of studies designed for those who wish to understand and advance the quality of life of older persons. The concentration may be taken in addition to an appropriate major: nursing, social work, sociology, social and behavioral sciences/occupational therapy, business, psychology, biology, political science, Africana studies, education or religious studies. Students wishing admission into the concentration should contact the program director and/or the gerontology adviser in their discipline, as indicated above.

Russian and East European Studies Program

Fahy Hall

(973) 761-9386

www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/russian-east-european-studies/index.cfm

Director: Maxim Matushevich, Ph.D.

The Russian and East European Studies Program brings together students and faculty from a range of different disciplines around a common interest in the cultures, languages, history and political institutions of Eastern Europe and the territories of the former USSR. Students pursuing a minor or certificate in the program receive a comprehensive interdisciplinary training preparing them for a life-long engagement with this intriguing and important region. In addition to the academic offerings students in the program will have the opportunity to take part in a wide variety of cultural activities including lectures, forums, films, field trips and our study abroad program in St. Petersburg.

Minor in Russian and East European Studies

Requirements:

To complete the Minor in Russian and East European Studies student must receive 23 credits consisting of eight credits of intermediate level Russian and 15 credits of area studies courses drawn from the list below. The language requirement may be waived for students passing an advanced level proficiency exam in a major Slavic or East European language.

Courses:

Additional area studies electives may be accepted for credit toward the minor at the discretion of the Russian and East European Studies Program Director. No more than 9 credits of area studies electives may be taken within a single department.

Students wishing to receive a certificate in Russian and East European Studies must complete all the requirements for the minor plus a certificate essay, a substantial work of original research produced in the course of a three credit research seminar or directed reading.

Certificate in Russian and East European Studies

The College of Arts and Sciences offers an undergraduate certificate program on Russia and East Europe, a broad multidisciplinary course of study leading to a certificate of proficiency in Russian and East European studies.

With a broad liberal arts background, students will gain a well-planned, comprehensive introduction to Russia and Eastern Europe, including the fundamentals of the Russian language and the history, literature, politics and economies of the region.

The program includes a minimum of 30 credits in language and area studies courses.

Program Requirements

The basic program consists of 12 credits in Russian language (or a proficiency examination in another language of Eastern Europe), 15 credits in area courses, and a 3-credit program essay.

The Elizabeth Ann Seton Center for Women's Studies was established in the spirit of St. Elizabeth Ann Seton, whose life of activism, spirituality and leadership serves as an inspiration to our community. The center offers an interdisciplinary minor in Women and Gender Studies.

Minor in Women and Gender Studies

As an 18 credit minor, Women and Gender Studies is an excellent complement to virtually any major. It will strengthen students' academic preparation and better prepare them for a competitive and rapidly changing job market. Students' preparation for the professions (law, medicine, education) and the corporate world will be greatly enhanced by a rigorous analysis of gender and its importance in the wider culture. Students who have explored the disciplines through the gender lens will be better prepared to understand the complexities of the work world.

The Women and Gender Studies minor at Seton Hall University is an interdisciplinary exploration of the experiences of women and the diverse perspectives on women and gender. Courses will investigate the roles of gender in society and culture.

Multicultural Program

Fahy Hall

(973) 275-2792

Director: Christopher Sharrett, Ph.D.

The Multicultural Program is an academic program that is part of the core curriculum of the College of Arts and Sciences. Students who enroll in IDIS 1501-1502 Peoples and Cultures of America I and II receive 6 credits in the Humanities section of College of Arts and Sciences Core Curriculum. Students who take these courses are better prepared to deal with the diverse cultures they encounter domestically and globally in the fields of business, teaching, and government service. In addition to its academic program, the Multicultural Program sponsors a film and lecture series open to the general public.

IDIS 1501 Peoples and Cultures of America I

Introduces the various racial, ethnic, and religious groups who comprise the current American mosaic, from its earliest Native American inhabitants to the most recent immigrants. An overview of their cultural contributions and the manner in which gender and class influences their experiences constitute an important focus. Readings are drawn from original sources as well as monographs. Guest speakers and films will be used in this interdisciplinary multicultural course. 3 credits

IDIS 1502 Peoples and Cultures of America II

Presents a comparative overview of those foreign cultures that have sent and are sending America immigrants from Asian, African, European, Caribbean, and Latin American nations. Readings are obtained from original sources and monographs. A multicultural course exploring cultural diversity in a global context. Guest speakers and films will be used in this interdisciplinary course. 3 credits

Additional Interdisciplinary Courses

In addition to departmental courses the College of Arts and Sciences offers several interdisciplinary courses that may fulfill core curriculum and certain major requirements. Interdisciplinary courses are taught, both individually and in teams, by faculty from various arts and sciences departments.

Students interested in taking any of the following courses should refer to the core curriculum on pages 83-87, or consult with an adviser in the appropriate department.

IDIS 1201 (ARCH 1001) Archaeology for Liberal Arts

Multifaceted presentation draws on humanities and sciences in theory and practice. Students handle ancient artifacts, become acquainted with processing data scientifically and learn about ways scientific knowledge is integrated into an understanding of human life. They study ancient archaeological sites together with literature of art, history, politics and religion derived from them and provide a liberal arts framework within which to place a career-oriented major. 3 credits

IDIS 5002 Senior Seminar in Social and Behavioral Science

Interdisciplinary senior seminar for social science majors which fulfills the graduation requirements for the SOBS or the SOBT major. Topics for the participants are decided upon in consultation with the faculty members directing the seminars and vary by the student's minor field. 3 credits

Dual Degree Programs

The College of Arts and Sciences offers a variety of dual degree programs. In most cases, an incoming first-year student can be admitted to the entire program conditionally on performing above a defined level during the first phase of the program. Students may be admitted to the second phase of a program based on outstanding performance and available space.

For further details regarding any of these programs, contact the department or Enrollment Services.

Department of Biological Sciences Dual Degree Programs

The following dual degree programs are administered through the Department of Biological Sciences and the School of Health and Medical Sciences (SHMS). Please see the Department of Biological Sciences section of this catalogue on pages 109-115 for admission and curriculum information.

Optometry

An agreement with the Pennsylvania College of Optometry permits outstanding students to spend three years at Seton Hall University and be admitted to their optometry program. The B.S. from Seton Hall University is granted on successful completion of the first year of the optometry program.

Physical Therapy

The Department of Biological Sciences offers a 3+4 dual degree program leading to a Bachelor of Science in Biology and a Doctor of Physical Therapy with the School of Health and Medical Sciences. This seven-year program offers select students an opportunity to study in a traditional liberal arts environment as well as in a major healthcare organization. For a complete description of this program, see the Department of Biological Sciences.

Physician Assistant

The Department of Biological Sciences offers a 3+3 dual degree program leading to a Bachelor of Science in Biology and a Master of Science in Physician Assistant with the School of Health and Medical Sciences. This six-year program offers select students the opportunity to study in a traditional liberal arts environment as well as in a major healthcare organization. For a complete description of this program, see the Department of Biological Sciences.

Athletic Training

There are two options for this six-year program. The Department of Biological Sciences offers a 3+2 dual degree program leading to a Bachelor of Science in Biology and Master of Science in Athletic Training with the School of Health and Medical Sciences. The second option involves completion of the Bachelor of Arts in Social and Behavioral Sciences program. Both programs offer select students the opportunity to study in a liberal arts environment as well as in a major healthcare organization. For a complete description of the Biology program, see the Department of Biological Sciences. The description of the Social and Behavioral Sciences program follows.

Social and Behavioral Sciences Dual Degree Programs

The following Social and Behavioral Science dual degree programs are offered in conjunction with the School of Health and Medical Sciences (SHMS). Please see the Social and Behavioral Sciences Program information on page 215 for admission and curriculum information.

Occupational Therapy

The College of Arts and Sciences and the School of Health and Medical Sciences offer a dual degree program leading to a Bachelor of Arts in Social and Behavioral Sciences, and a Master of Science in Occupational Therapy. This six-year program offers the opportunity to study in a traditional liberal arts environment as well as pursue a professional degree in one of the health professions.

Athletic Training Program

The College of Arts and Sciences and the School of Health and Medical Sciences offer a dual degree program leading to a Bachelor of Arts in Social and Behavioral Science (B.A.) and a Master of Science in Athletic Training (M.S.A.T.). This five year program offers students the opportunity to study in a liberal arts environment as well as the opportunity to study the art and science of athletic training.

Five-Year Dual Degree Programs

The College of Arts and Sciences offers eight five-year programs: the B.A. or B.S. degree and Master of Business Administration program, the B.A. Political Science or Sociology/Master of Public Administration program, the B.A./M.A. in Museum Professions program, the B.A./M.A. in English program, the B.A./M.A. in History program, the B.A./M.A.E. in Psychological Studies, the B.A. in Psychology/M.S. in Experimental Psychology, and, in cooperation with New Jersey Institute of Technology, the Physics/Chemistry and Engineering degree program.

B.A. or B.S./M.B.A.

The College of Arts and Sciences and the Stillman School of Business at Seton Hall University offer joint programs that lead to:

- a Bachelor of Arts or Science degree offered by the College of Arts and Sciences; and
- a Master of Business Administration degree from the Stillman School of Business, whose programs are fully accredited by the AACSB (Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business - International).

Both degrees can be earned in five years. The program has a two-fold purpose: to provide a broad-based undergraduate education with a comprehensive grasp of one arts and sciences major; and to permit students to earn a Master of Business Administration within a time frame of five years.

Students in the program take arts and sciences courses during the first three years. After taking the Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT) and, at the end of the third year, students apply for the Master of Business Administration program. Applicants who are accepted take a combination of arts and sciences and business courses during the fourth year. They must earn a minimum of 99 liberal arts credits and satisfy applicable core and major requirements.

At the end of the fourth year and upon completion of a minimum of 120 credits, students in the program receive a Bachelor of Arts or a Bachelor of Science degree. The fifth year is devoted to business courses, and a Master of Business Administration degree is awarded upon completion of all requirements and a minimum total of 140 credits. Courses are selected with the assistance of each student's faculty adviser. More information about this program is available through Enrollment Services.

B.A. in Political Science / M.P.A. B.A. in Sociology / M.P.A.

The Department of Political Science and the Department of Sociology and Anthropology offer a dual degree program with the Department of Public and Healthcare Administration that leads to two degrees completed in a five-year span: a Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) degree in Political Science or Sociology and a Master of Public Administration (M.P.A.) degree.

The program has a two-fold purpose: to provide a broad-based undergraduate education with a comprehensive grasp of one's major in either Sociology or Political Science; and to permit students to earn a Master of Public Administration degree within the timeframe of five years.

Students may apply for admission to the joint degree program when first making application to the University or after they begin their studies. Students who are accepted into the University and declare Sociology or Political Science as their majors also may be provisionally accepted for work toward the M.P.A. degree. Final acceptance into the M.P.A.

degree program, however, will only occur upon successful completion of no fewer than 89 credits of the undergraduate degree program with a grade point average of no less than 3.2 and the successful completion of the M.P.A. application process.

In applying to the M.P.A. degree program, which is fully accredited by the National Association of Schools of Public Affairs and Administration (NASPAA), the student must follow the regular application procedures for admission to the M.P.A. program, except that he/she must:

- achieve a cumulative GPA that is 3.2 or above by the end of his/ her third year;
- have transferred no more than 18 credits to the University, and
- submit three letters of recommendation from his/her undergraduate instructors, two of which must be from full-time political science or sociology faculty.

Full matriculation in the M.P.A. degree program is completed only upon the recommendation of the Graduate Admissions Committee of the M.P.A. program.

Students accepted into this program follow the academic program prescribed by their majors in consultation with their advisers (including the core requirements in Arts and Sciences and the requirements of their majors) during the first three years. If accepted into this program, students may take a maximum of four M.P.A. courses (12 credits) during their senior years, which count toward the completion of the bachelor's degree.

At the end of the fourth year and upon completion of a minimum of 120 credits, students in the program receive a Bachelor of Arts degree. If the student wants to complete the five-year B.A./M.P.A. degree, twelve of those credits must come from the core courses of the graduate public administration program. During the fifth year, 27 additional M.P.A. credits, which include a 3-credit internship, must be completed.

For further information, contact the departments of Sociology and Anthropology, Political Science, or Public and Healthcare Administration.

Dual Degree Programs in Psychological Studies

The Departments of Psychology (College of Arts and Sciences) and Professional Psychology and Family Therapy (College of Education and Human Services) offer a dual degree program leading to a Bachelor of Arts in Psychology (B.A.) and Master of Arts in Education (M.A.E.). This five-year program permits students to take four classes (12 credits) from the Psychological Studies core curriculum during their senior year. Satisfactory completion of the M.A.E. program would enable entry into one of the PPFT Ed.S. practitioner programs in School Psychology, Mental Health Counseling, or Marriage & Family Therapy. For more information, please contact the Director of Graduate Studies in the Department of Psychology.

B.A. Psychology/M.S. Experimental Psychology (3+2) Dual Degree Program

The Department of Psychology offers a dual degree program leading to a Bachelor of Arts in Psychology (B.A.) and a Master of Science in Experimental Psychology (M.S.). This five-year program permits undergraduate students to take 12 graduate credits in their senior year, which would count toward the completion of the bachelor's degree. Satisfactory performance in these remaining 24 credits of graduate-level coursework as well as an empirical thesis project completed in the fifth year would earn students an M.S. degree in Experimental Psychology.

As part of the coursework in the M.S. Experimental Psychology program, students have the option of focusing their electives on a Behavioral Neuroscience or a Psychological Science (general) concentration. Both areas would well prepare students for a broad range of career possibilities, or would enable students to more successfully compete for admission into a Ph.D. program in a number of experimental psychology fields such as cognitive, developmental, social, and biological psychology, or neuroscience.

Students may apply for the B.A./M.S. option in their junior year (second semester). For more information please contact the Director of Graduate Studies in the Department of Psychology.

Engineering Degree Program in Collaboration with NJIT

Seton Hall University and the New Jersey Institute of Technology in Newark together offer a five-year joint degree program that allows students interested in biomedical, civil, computer, industrial, electrical, mechanical and chemical engineering to earn both the B.S. degree from Seton Hall in physics or chemistry and the B.Eng. from NJIT in five years. Students in this program take the first three years of coursework at Seton Hall, and the fourth and fifth years at NJIT. The B.S. is awarded at the completion of four years of work and the B.Eng. after the fifth. Students interested in this program should contact the chairperson of the Department of Physics (for biomedical, civil, computer, industrial, mechanical and electrical engineering) or the chairperson of the Department of Chemistry (for chemical engineering) for details regarding this program.

The principal advantage of such a five-year program is that it affords students a broader education in the humanities and the social sciences than the typical four-year engineering program allows, and thus better prepares them for careers in engineering, which require interaction with persons not trained in engineering. Such careers are found both in the corporate world and in the public sector and often include high-level managerial responsibility and communication with the non-technical public.

Mission Statement

The mission of the Stillman School of Business is to enrich the life of each student through a nationally recognized educational experience that is inspired by innovative teaching, supported by applied research, and guided by a values-centric curriculum.

Programs of Study

The Stillman School of Business offers programs leading to the degrees of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration, Bachelor of Arts in Business Administration, and Master of Business Administration, as well as Master of Science degrees in Accounting and Professional Accounting. The Graduate Catalogue contains information about the M.B.A. and M.S. programs.

The program leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration is built on a foundation of liberal arts courses. Studies in the first two years provide the economic, quantitative, behavioral, regulatory, scientific and philosophical foundations of business and society in general. In addition, students' competency in change management, communication, critical thinking, teamwork and technology will be developed. For all concentrations, the program culminates with Business Policy, a course that seeks to integrate skills developed in previous courses.

As part of the graduation requirement for either the B.S. or B.A. in Business Administration, students are required to take both pre-assessment and post-assessment tests. Furthermore, during either their sophomore or senior year, as decided by the School, students are required to participate in an undergraduate assessment panel.

Students pursuing the B.S. in Business Administration concentrate in accounting, economics, finance, information technology management, management, marketing or sport management. These students also may use general elective credits to pursue a second concentration or a minor in business. The concentrations in finance, economics and marketing are offered during the day only, on a full- or part-time basis. Evening students wishing to concentrate in information technology management must first contact the chair to discuss availability. Students pursuing the B.A. in Business Administration concentrate in arts and sciences, international studies, diplomacy and international relations or general studies.

Students pursuing the B.A. or B.S. in Business Administration may apply for admission to the Stillman School's Master of Business Administration program through a dual-degree study option. In addition, the School offers a minor in international business to business majors (only). This minor is designed to enhance a business major's marketability in today's global business environment.

For students majoring in areas other than business administration, the Stillman School also offers several programs. These programs include a five-year B.A. or B.S./M.B.A. (a liberal arts bachelor's degree and Master of Business Administration) and a minor in business administration. Business and non-business majors may pursue a certificate in information technology management, the minor in accounting, the minor in economics and the minor in legal studies in business, which is designed for students interested in the study of law.

Programs of the Stillman School are fully accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business - International (AACSB), a distinction shared by less than one-half of business schools nationwide. Seton Hall was the first private university in the state of New Jersey to earn this distinction. This is a professional accreditation above the regional accreditation held by most business schools. Accredited since 1978, the Stillman School meets the highest standards in business education.

Honor Society and Business Fraternity

Beta Gamma Sigma is the national honor society in business and management. Membership in Beta Gamma Sigma is the highest recognition an undergraduate or graduate business student can receive. Founded as a national organization in 1913, Beta Gamma Sigma encourages scholarship, promotes the advancement of business education and fosters integrity in the conduct of business.

Founded in 1904, Alpha Kappa Psi is the nation's oldest professional business fraternity. Its purpose is to educate the public, the business community and its members on the role of the free enterprise system and the ethical responsibilities in business. More than 200 Alpha Kappa Psi chapters across the country welcome aspiring men and women to membership.

Experiential Education-Cooperative Education/Internship

Experiential Education at Seton Hall University is an educational strategy in which students apply factual, practical and theoretical knowledge in a real-world work experience. Programs include cooperative education/internships, community service, service learning, volunteer work and field experiences. The common element of these programs is that all provide the opportunity to combine classroom learning with "hands on" work and learning experiences. Students' participation in a variety of experiential programs enhances the academic experience and contributes to their career and lifelong success.

Internships/cooperative education can be paid or non-paid and credit bearing or non-credit bearing. All students interested in either a credit-bearing or non-credit internship/co-op experience should schedule an appointment with a career professional at The Career Center.

Internships/co-ops are available to business majors for academic credit in the Stillman School. An internship/co-op integrates substantive supervised work experience with intentional learning/academic goals involving the student in a career-related activity. Before taking the first co-op course, students must complete 30 credits, maintain a 3.0 GPA and receive the approval of the co-op faculty adviser in a major area of study. Undergraduate students with a GPA between 2.5 and 2.99 will be eligible with the recommendation and signature of a faculty member with whom they have completed a course. Students pursuing a non-credit co-op/internship must have at least a 2.5 GPA. Transfer students must have completed a semester to be eligible. Students are not required to take all 9 co-op credits. While credits earned through internship/co-op courses are normally considered to be general elective credits, 6 credits of co-op coursework are required for students concentrating in Sport Management.

Courses in the Internship/Cooperative Education program within the Stillman School of Business all require sophomore standing. Courses include:

Cooperative Education/Internship I - 3 credits

Preprofessional introductory/exploratory experience in a field. Assignments are made in an entry-level position of employment. Taken only with the permission of an intern/co-op faculty adviser.

Cooperative Education/Internship II - 3 credits

Intermediate introductory professional experience in a field. Taken only with the permission of an intern/co-op faculty adviser.

Cooperative Education/Internship III - 3 credits

Professional experience in the field specifically oriented to the academic major and career objectives. Taken only with the permission of an intern/co-op faculty adviser.

Please note: One-credit courses are offered for accounting majors.

Center for Entrepreneurial Studies

Director: Susan Scherreik, M.B.A.

The Center for Entrepreneurial Studies was created in 2003 to raise student awareness of self-employment as a career option. The Center fosters the collaboration of faculty, students, alumni and entrepreneurs in a variety of activities and projects to advance hands-on entrepreneurial learning at the Stillman School. The Center is integral to the Stillman School's mandate to prepare students for careers in the 21st century by acknowledging the growing importance of entrepreneurship in the global economy.

Center for Leadership Development

Director: Michael M. Reuter, M.B.A.

Since its inception in 1994, the mission of the program has been to develop great leaders of the future, enabling its members to successfully achieve their fullest potential in both their personal and professional lives. The program enhances its members' core values, competencies and skills that will enable them to be effective leaders, corporate citizens, and community servants. The essential skills include proficiency in strategic thinking, critical analysis, logical reasoning and effective oral and written communications.

Practical business experiences are an integral part of the program and are emphasized in the program's lecture series. During their junior year, students are paired with mentors from the Leadership Council – the advisory body to the Leadership Development program, which is comprised of senior corporate executives, entrepreneurs and community leaders – and work with them on a project related to the individual executive's company or organization. The project and personal mentoring experience provide students with insights into leadership perspectives and thinking as well as important networking opportunities.

The Leadership Development Program consists of a specialized curriculum that combines traditional course work with practical experiential learning. These courses, which are outlined later in this section of the Catalogue, have been recommended by the Leadership Council.

In addition to the academic requirements, students must complete 40 hours of community service, hold leadership positions both on and off campus to complement their studies, attend leadership functions, and maintain a GPA of 3.2 or higher.

Center for Securities Trading and Analysis

Director: Elven Riley, B.A.

The Center for Securities Trading and Analysis is designed to mimic the actual trading room activity that occurs in investment banking: up-to-the-second market-clearing quotes, dynamic information flow, and domestic and international data on all frequently traded securities, including stocks, bonds, options, commodities, and currencies. Partnering with the Reuters Group and Bloomberg, both renowned for financial news and market data, the Center provides students with an unprecedented opportunity to enhance the realism and relevance of accounting, finance, economics, and international business. The Stillman School is building on its leadership in wireless technology and its innovative academic programs to provide students with real-time, cutting-edge technology that inventively integrates the theory and practice of business disciplines.

The Center is the home for the Stillman Exchange, an undergraduate student newspaper that covers local, domestic and international business news, featuring articles on investments, macroeconomic policy, business ethics, and international political economy.

Institute for International Business

Director: Larry McCarthy, Ph.D.

The Institute for International Business, established in 1964, serves as the center of international business expertise for students, faculty and the business community. It fosters the collaboration of faculty, graduate and undergraduate students, to engage in a wide variety of activities and projects to advance the internationalization of the Stillman School. The Institute is a critical part of the mission of Seton Hall University and of the Stillman School in accepting the challenges of globalization. As a center for academic excellence, the Institute aims to assure that the academic and business communities work in harmony to create an atmosphere of competence, progress, professionalism, and integrity in the realm of international business.

The Institute sponsors international courses, lectures, internships and scholarly exchange for both students and faculty with several leading academic institutions as part of the mission of the Stillman School. Endowed with a grant from the estate of W. Paul Stillman in 1994 to support its initiatives, the Institute funds internationally focused faculty research.

At the undergraduate level, the institute offers a minor in international business in which the curriculum includes language and cultural components, as well as core business courses. The Certificate in International Business, offered as part of the M.B.A. program consists of courses in the international aspects of accounting, economics, finance, management and marketing. The certificate also is available to qualified individuals from industry on a non-degree basis.

B.S. in Business Administration

To attain the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration, all students must satisfactorily complete liberal arts courses, both required and elective, business core courses, the requirements of their concentration and sufficient free electives to total 120 credits (121 credits for students concentrating in accounting and economics). The last 30 credits of the B.S. in Business Administration degree must be taken at the University.

To complete degree requirements satisfactorily, the student must have a cumulative GPA of at least 2.0. Each concentration specifies the average required in concentration courses as well as any minimum grade requirements for specific courses. Each student is advised by a faculty member in the area of major concentration. The ultimate responsibility for complying with curriculum requirements rests with the student. Choice of a program of study must be made before completion of 75 credits, but normally occurs by the end of the sophomore year.

B.A. in Business Administration

Adviser: Ann M. Mayo, Ph.D.

The Stillman School provides education geared toward the complex practical needs of business leaders. Consistent with that objective, the School offers the Bachelor of Arts in Business Administration program to enable Seton Hall students to obtain competencies of the business core and a breadth of knowledge in liberal arts and other fields.

The B.A. in Business Administration (B.A.B.A.) requires a minimum of 120 credits, including 81 core credits and 41 credits of selected concentration and elective coursework. Electives may be taken at any undergraduate college or school of Seton Hall, but may not exceed the maximum number of business credits noted within each concentration. Students may choose a concentration in arts and sciences, international studies, diplomacy and international relations or general studies.

Concentration in Arts and Sciences

Students may select a concentration from any one of the arts and sciences fields. The number of credits required is the equivalent of a minor program in the chosen area; this number generally ranges from 18-30 credits. In addition, students will be required to elect an appropriate course in history perspective through consultation with their advisers. The remaining electives shall be taken in the College of Arts and Sciences. It is recommended that these elective credits be taken from any arts and sciences courses that are NOT part of a student's chosen concentration. Elective courses may be selected only from the arts and sciences curricula.

Concentration in International Studies

Students who declare a concentration in international studies are required to take 27 credits, which consists of 12 credits in a specific language sequence, 6 credits in the cultural and geopolitical component, and 9 credits in the international business component (see Minor in International Business). They also must complete the core credits. The remaining elective credits may be taken in any college or school of Seton Hall.

Concentration in Diplomacy and International Relations

Students may elect to declare a concentration in diplomacy and international relations. Students who declare this concentration will complete the requirements of the minor in diplomacy and international relations offered by the Whitehead School of Diplomacy and International Relations. Remaining elective credits must be selected from courses offered by the College of Arts and Sciences.

Concentration in General Studies

In addition to the core, students may accumulate their elective credits from any college or school of Seton Hall. Business electives may not exceed 9 credits. Students in the

B.A.B.A. program also are allowed (and encouraged) to take a maximum of 9 credits through the co-op program. They must meet the criteria for participation in this program (see "Experiential Education/Cooperative Education/ Internship" in this catalogue).

Dual Degree Programs

B.S.B. or B.A.B.A./M.B.A. Program

(For Business Majors)

Adviser: Karen A. Passaro, M.B.A., J.D.

Students pursuing either the B.S. or B.A. in Business Administration have the option to apply to a dual degree program in which they can earn both their bachelor's degree and a Master of Business Administration within a five-year period. Two options are available. Students may: (1) apply for dual admission to both degrees at the time of their initial application to the School or (2) apply for admission to the M.B.A. portion of the program during their junior year.

To be offered admission to both programs at the time of initial application, prospective students must have an SAT score of 1300 or higher (math and critical reading components). To be eligible to begin graduate coursework (generally after the completion of 90 credits), dual-admissions applicants must have attained a GPA of 3.5 or higher.

Stillman students who do not apply for dual admission may apply after completing between 75 and 90 undergraduate credit hours. Applicants must meet all requirements for admission to the M.B.A. program, including earning a GMAT score of 500 or higher and attaining an overall GPA of 3.5 or above.

If accepted, the student takes a mixture of undergraduate and graduate business courses in the fourth year. The fifth year is reserved exclusively for graduate business courses. When the student has completed all undergraduate degree requirements and at least 120 credit hours, the student receives a bachelor's degree. After completing the M.B.A. requirements and a minimum of 150 total credit hours, the student also receives an M.B.A.

The breakdown of the minimum 150 credit hours is as follows:

1. Students complete all requirements of the B.S.B. or B.A.B.A. program; 2 credits of general elective coursework will be waived for all concentrations other than accounting and economics.
2. Students will receive waivers for the following M.B.A. Pre-Qualification courses: Legal Studies, Accounting, Economics, and Finance.
3. Students will receive waivers for the following M.B.A. core courses:

	Credits
BMBA 9202 International Perspective (Waiver is available only to those students who complete the BINT 3001 course as part of their undergraduate program.)	2
BMBA 9112 Accounting and Legal Considerations	4
BMBA 9114 Organizational and Market Dynamics	4

4. Remaining M.B.A. curriculum requirements, including 12-15 credits in the selected concentration area, are fulfilled by taking graduate business courses.*

As part of their program, students must take at least one 3-credit BMKT course. In addition, students concentrating in areas other than sport management must take at least one 3-credit BACC course.*

The total credit hours consist of 118-121 undergraduate credits and 32-35 graduate business credits. Students must consult their concentration advisers in the Stillman School for specific information. Graduate course information is available through the Stillman School's Student Information Office, Jubilee Hall, Room 526, (973) 761-9222.

B.A. or B.S./M.B.A. Program

(For Non-Business Majors)

Adviser: Karen A. Passaro, M.B.A., J.D.

The College of Arts and Sciences and the Stillman School offer a joint program that leads to two degrees: a bachelor's degree in a liberal arts or science and a Master of Business Administration.

The unique feature of this program is that both degrees can be earned in five years. By carefully selecting courses, the student can complete the requirements for both degrees in as few as 150 credit hours. The student spends the first three years taking arts and sciences courses. After the completion of 75 credit hours, the student applies for the M.B.A. program. Students must meet all requirements for admission to the M.B.A. program, including earning a GMAT score of 500 or higher and attaining an undergraduate GPA of 3.5 or above. If accepted, the student takes a mixture of arts and sciences and business courses in the fourth year. The fifth year is reserved exclusively for graduate business courses. When the student has completed all undergraduate degree requirements and 120 credit hours, the student receives a bachelor's degree. After completing the M.B.A. requirements and a minimum of 150 total credit hours, the student also receives an M.B.A.

Purpose

The purpose of the program is twofold:

1. Students receive a broad-based undergraduate education. Students major in an arts and sciences discipline to gain a broad perspective in the humanities and social and physical sciences and a comprehensive grasp of one arts and sciences major;

2. Students begin graduate coursework while completing a bachelor's degree. This enables the arts and sciences student to obtain an M.B.A. with one additional year of study.

Basic Principles and Requirements

In offering this program, Seton Hall operates on three basic principles:

1. Students must complete their undergraduate arts and sciences courses and fulfill the requirements for an undergraduate major;
2. Students must apply for and gain admission to the M.B.A. program after the completion of a minimum of 75 credit hours in arts and sciences; and
3. The joint program requires a minimum of 150 credit hours; within this number, a student completes specified arts and sciences requirements, an undergraduate arts and sciences major field, and the specified M.B.A. curriculum.

The breakdown of the minimum 150 credit hours is as follows:

1. Students complete the core curriculum of the College of Arts and Sciences and major field requirements. The total credits vary depending upon the requirements of the major field.
2. Students complete the following undergraduate and graduate business courses:

	Credits
BLAW 2301 Legal Foundations of Business	3
BACC 2103 Financial Accounting	3
BMBA 9112 Accounting and Legal Considerations	4
BMBA 9114 Organizational and Market Dynamics	4
BMBA 9201 Corporate Social Responsibility	2
BMBA 9202 International Perspective	2

3. Remaining M.B.A. curriculum requirements, including 12-15 credits in the selected concentration area, are fulfilled by taking graduate business courses.

The total credit hours consist of a minimum of 108 undergraduate credits and 42-45 graduate business credits. Students must consult their major advisers in the College of Arts and Sciences for specific information. Graduate course information is available through the Stillman School's Student Information Office, Jubilee Hall, Room 526, (973) 761-9222.

B.A./M.B.A. Curriculum

1. Arts and Sciences Core Requirements.
2. Arts and Sciences Major Field Requirements.
3. M.B.A. Pre-Qualification Sequence.
4. M.B.A. curriculum credit-bearing courses: Foundation Sequence, Essential Knowledge Sequence, Breadth Sequence, Concentration Courses and the Business Policy Capstone.

Consult course descriptions for more details. If these requirements can be met in fewer than 150 credit hours, students may take elective courses to complete the 150 credit-hour minimum.

Standards for Admission to and Continuance in the Stillman School of Business

Requirements for Regularly Admitted Business Students

To be eligible to continue in the Stillman School, students regularly admitted as first-semester freshmen must:

1. Successfully complete the following course sequence by the end of their sophomore year or completion of 75 credits, whichever comes later:

BACC 2103	Financial Accounting
BACC 2104	Managerial Accounting
BITM 2701	Management Information Systems
BQUA 2811	Business Statistics
ECON 1402-1403	Principles of Economics I-II
MATH 1303	Quantitative Methods for Business
2. Declare a concentration upon completion of 75 credits.

Changing to a Business Major from a Non-Business Discipline

Students transferring from other colleges within the University to the Stillman School must meet the following requirements:

1. The student earn at least 45 credits, of which 12 credits must have been earned at Seton Hall University.
2. The student must successfully complete MATH 1303, ECON 1402 and BACC 2103, where successful completion is defined as a grade of at least "C+" in MATH 1303 and at least "C" in ECON 1402 and BACC 2103.
3. The student must successfully complete (with a grade of at least "C+") MATH 1303 before taking either ECON 1402 or BACC 2103.
4. The student must achieve an average GPA of at least 2.67 (equivalent to "B-") across all three courses.
5. The student must maintain an average GPA of at least 2.67 in the required 45 credits.

Finally, for the purpose of admission to the Stillman School, a student may take each of the courses (MATH 1303, ECON 1402 and BACC 2103) no more than three times.

Students who desire to transfer to the Stillman School from other schools and colleges within the University are advised to do so before the completion of 60 credit hours. Students who are designated as BART or PART pre-majors should seek academic advising in the Stillman School's Student Information Office (Jubilee Hall, Room 526).

Department of Accounting and Taxation

Jubilee Hall, Room 624

(973) 761-9249

Faculty: Abdallah; Easton (Chair, Adviser); Fried; Gelb; Henry; Holtzman; Mest; Murtuza; Shapiro; Strawser

Mission Statement

The mission of the Department of Accounting and Taxation is to prepare students to assume roles as accounting professionals in a global society and to advance the body of knowledge in the discipline. Our curricula, delivered in an environment characterized by small classes and extensive faculty-student engagement, provide innovative and high-quality educational experiences that emphasize technical knowledge, analytical and communication skills, proficiency in information technology, and ethics. Our programs are strengthened both by the contributions made by our industry partners and the ethical philosophy of the University.

Concentration in Accounting

The concentration in accounting is designed to give training in the fundamentals of accounting as a necessary skill for the understanding of business. It provides a sequence of specialized instruction in accounting theory, financial reporting requirements, cost measurement issues, budgetary control, auditing, taxes and systems that helps the student to prepare for the Certified Public Accountant, Certified Management Accountant and the Certified Internal Auditor examinations and prepare for managerial positions in internal accounting, auditing and controllership, or for graduate study.

Individuals who wish to become licensed as a Certified Public Accountant in the state of New Jersey must complete 150 college credit hours. Those concentrating in accounting can obtain the necessary requirements by enrolling in the combined Bachelor of Science in Business Administration/Master of Science in Professional Accounting Program. Students who wish to sit for the Certified Public Accountant exam in the state of New York should take one additional 3-credit accounting elective course. Students with questions are encouraged to see the Accounting Department Chair.

B.S.B./Master of Science in Professional Accounting (M.S.P.A.) Combined Program

Students pursuing the B.S. in Business Administration with a concentration in accounting have the option to apply to a dual degree program in which they can earn both their bachelor's degree and a Master of Science in Professional Accounting within a five-year period. Two options are available. Students may: (1) apply for dual admission to both degrees at the time of their initial application to the School or (2) apply for admission to the M.S.P.A. portion of the program during their junior year.

To be offered admission to both programs at the time of initial application, prospective students must have an

SAT score of 1300 or higher (math and critical reading components). To be eligible to begin graduate coursework (generally after the completion of 90 credits and BACC 3111), dual-admissions applicants must have attained a GPA of 3.5 or higher.

Stillman students who do not apply for dual admission may apply for admission to the M.S.P.A. program after completing between 75 and 90 undergraduate credit hours. Applicants must meet all requirements for admission to the M.S.P.A. program, including earning a GMAT score of 500 or higher and attaining an overall GPA of 3.5 or above.

Students are eligible to enroll in the combined B.S.B./M.S.P.A. program once they have earned 90 credits and have completed BACC 3111 (Intermediate Accounting II). Students enrolled in the combined program take a mixture of undergraduate and graduate courses during their senior year followed by all graduate work thereafter. After earning 120 undergraduate credits, completing the required accounting concentration courses with an average GPA of 2.0 or higher, and fulfilling all other specific B.S.B. degree requirements, students have the option of receiving their B.S.B. degree. Students in the combined program will satisfy the required courses in Auditing (BACC 3119), Enterprise-Wide Accounting Information Systems II (BACC 4102), and Advanced Accounting (BACC 4113) by taking similar graduate courses. Courses taken at the graduate level cannot be used to satisfy the 120 undergraduate credit hour requirement. After completing all M.S.P.A. requirements and earning 150 credits (120 undergraduate credits and 30 graduate credits), students receive their M.S.P.A. degree.

Certified Public Accountant (CPA) Examination

Applicants for examination for a New Jersey Certificate as a CPA should contact CPA Examination Services at 1-800-CPAEXAM or refer to information posted at www.nasba.org/nasbaweb.nsf/exam

Information on requirements for admission to practice in New York state as a CPA may be obtained from the New York State Education Department, Albany, New York or at www.op.nysed.gov/cpa.htm

Certified Internal Auditor (CIA) Examination

The CIA designation acknowledges a professional level of competence in internal auditing. Information on the CIA Examination and the additional requirements for the CIA designation is available from The Institute of Internal Auditors, 249 Maitland Avenue, Altamonte Springs, Florida 32701-4201, (407) 937-1100 or at www.theiia.org

Certified Management Accountant (CMA) Examination

The CMA Examination is a four-part examination in the areas of: (1) Business Analysis, (2) Management Accounting and Reporting, (3) Strategic Management and (4) Business Applications. Successful completion of the examination requires mastery of a comprehensive body of knowledge in management accounting and financial management.

Information on the CMA Examination and the additional requirements for the CMA designation can be found at www.imanet.org/certification.asp

Beta Alpha Psi

Beta Alpha Psi is the international honors organization for financial information professionals. Its rich history dates to 1919 with chapters installed at colleges and universities where accounting programs are of a high level of academic and professional achievement. Since that time, Beta Alpha Psi has expanded its membership to include top students with concentrations in either finance or management information systems, along with those students concentrating in accounting. Of the more than 200 chapters in the United States, Seton Hall University's Zeta Xi chapter was the first in the state of New Jersey.

The Accounting Club

The Accounting Club is a student organization open to all business students. Members gain an opportunity to network with professionals, learn about various career options and gain important information on professional certification such as the CPA exam.

Accounting Concentration Requirements

A student concentrating in the area of accounting must earn a grade of C- or better in both BACC 2103 and BACC 2104 and must complete the following courses with an average GPA of 2.0 or higher:

		Credits
BACC 3110-3111	Intermediate Accounting I-II	6
BACC 3115	Cost Accounting	3
BACC 3117	Federal Income Tax Accounting	3
BACC 3119	Auditing	3
BACC 4101	Enterprise-Wide Accounting Information Systems I	3
BACC 4102	Enterprise-Wide Accounting Information Systems II	3
BACC 4113	Advanced Accounting	3

Total: 24

Please note: Students who wish to qualify to take the Uniform CPA Examination in either New Jersey or New York must: (1) meet specific course requirements determined by the state and (2) earn a baccalaureate degree. The specific course requirements set by the State of New Jersey are met by fulfilling the requirements of the Accounting concentration. Students who wish to satisfy the specific course requirements set by the State of New York must take three additional credits from courses offered by the Department of Accounting and Taxation. Regardless of whether they wish to qualify under New Jersey or New York requirements, all students must complete a total of 150 credit hours in order to become licensed as a CPA.

Department of Computing and Decision Sciences

Concentration in Information Technology Management (ITM)

The concentration in information technology management is designed to achieve the following objectives: to provide a thorough understanding of the strategic importance of information systems to organizations; to enable students to identify information systems necessary for effective and efficient operations of an organization; to empower students to effectively link business managers with information technology professionals in the process of information systems development; to communicate the principles of computerized information systems, including computer programming concepts, techniques and languages; to develop skills necessary for the evaluation, development and implementation of information systems; and to increase the students' appreciation of the economic, social, legal and technological considerations present in information processing activity. Students concentrating in information technology management have the flexibility to choose elective courses that explore either the managerial or technical aspects of information systems.

For students from other concentrations, several elective courses provide a general introduction to computers and their applications in business.

Note: Evening students wishing to concentrate in ITM must first contact the chair to discuss course availability.

Beta Alpha Psi

Beta Alpha Psi is the international honors organization for financial information professionals. Its rich history dates to 1919 with chapters installed at colleges and universities where accounting programs are of a high level of academic and professional achievement. Since that time, Beta Alpha Psi has expanded its membership to include top students with concentrations in either finance or management information systems (information technology management), along with those students concentrating in accounting. Of the more than 200 chapters in the United States, Seton Hall University's Zeta Xi chapter was the first in the state of New Jersey.

Information Technology Management Concentration Requirements

Students concentrating in information technology management must maintain a 2.5 GPA in concentration courses. In addition, all students must complete the following requirements:

		Credits
I. Required Courses:
BITM 3724	Business Information Modeling	3
BITM 3727	Advanced Business Software Tools	3
BITM 3740	IT Project Management	3
II. BITM Electives:
BITM	three 3000-level or 4000-level elective courses	9
		Total: 18

Quantitative Analysis

Courses offered in quantitative analysis are designed to give students an understanding of quantitative methods used to solve business problems. Knowledge of these methods is imperative to master successfully the quantitative aspects of accounting, economics, finance, management and marketing. Although there is not a concentration in quantitative analysis, courses in management science, supply chain management and business statistics are offered.

Department of Economics

Jubilee Hall, Room 674
(973) 761-9356

Faculty: Dall Jr. (Chair, Adviser); Ikpoh (Co-op Adviser); Kant; Young

Concentration in Economics

The Department of Economics provides students with a solid foundation in the discipline of economics. For undergraduate students majoring in economics, the objectives of the program are threefold: to help develop a thorough understanding of the economic relationships between business, households and government, and the principles governing these relationships; to help develop proper analytical methods and modes of inquiry that will prepare students for careers in business, government and education; and to prepare the groundwork necessary for graduate studies in economics and related fields.

The course offerings of the department enable students to major in economics either through the College of Arts and Sciences or the Stillman School, leading to the degrees of Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science in Business Administration, respectively. Students concentrating in economics should plan to take at least one elective per semester during junior and senior year. The department will offer two electives each semester on a rotating basis.

Note: A concentration in economics is not offered in the evening.

Omicron Delta Epsilon

Omicron Delta Epsilon, the only international honor society in economics, granted a chapter to the Economics Department in 1964. Economics majors with a 3.0 GPA overall and in economics are eligible to apply for membership in their junior year or after completing 21 credits in economics.

Economics Concentration Requirements

To concentrate in economics, students must complete the core courses with a 3.0 GPA.

Economics Core Courses		Credits
ECON 1402	Principles of Economics I	3
ECON 1403	Principles of Economics II	3
ECON 2408	Money and Banking	3
Subtotal: 9

Total: 33

Economics Minor

Both business and non-business majors also may choose economics as a minor. The economics minor consists of the three core courses plus one required course (ECON 2420 or 2421) and two economics electives for a total of 18 credits.

Department of Finance

Jubilee Hall, Room 609
(973) 761-9209

Faculty: Harrington Jr.; Itzkowitz; Jacoby; Kinslow (Adviser, Co-op Adviser); Lee; Loviscek; Riley; Rothbort; Rotthoff; Tang; Xu (Chair); Yoon

Concentration in Finance

The concentration in finance develops the skills necessary for understanding how to create wealth through the art and science of money management. The study of finance will help the student answer three fundamental questions. First, how much should any individual or firm invest? Second, what assets should the individual or firm invest in? Third, how should the cash required for the investment be raised? The finance concentration provides students with an understanding of how to answer these questions at the individual investor level and at the business/corporate level. Topics covered include financial analysis, asset pricing, investments, fixed income, security trading and analysis, portfolio analysis and international finance.

Through an understanding of these topics, the concentration in finance seeks to integrate the fields of accounting, economics, law and quantitative analysis. In turn, it is designed to prepare students for careers in corporate finance, investments, financial institutions, insurance and real estate.

Finance Club

The department promotes student activities through this organization, which is a chapter under the Financial Management Association International.

Honor Society

Students of high academic standing who maintain active membership in the Finance Club are eligible for induction into the Finance Honors Society. For details, please check with the department chair.

Finance Concentration Requirements

Students must earn at least a "C" in each individual BFIN course and earn a 2.5 average for all BFIN courses.

		Credits
BFIN 3211	Financial Strategy	3
BFIN 4227	Investment Analysis	3
BFIN 4225-4999	Finance electives	9

Concentration in Management

Managers make a difference in determining organizational outcomes through planning, organizing, leading, and controlling human and material resources. The concentration in management is designed to present to students the theories and practices of management and to encourage flexible learning, practice in managerial skills and ethical business dealings.

Management concentration students should pursue a co-op or intern placement as part of their preparation. These credits will count as general electives.

Alpha Sigma Omega

Alpha Sigma Omega, the Stillman School's Management Honor Society, invites qualified management majors to join during their junior or senior years. The members will have completed 60 credits, have an average GPA of at least 3.25, with a 3.5 in their concentration courses. Transfer students will have completed 60 credits and are required to complete one full semester at the Stillman School before admittance.

Concentration in Marketing

A concentration in marketing prepares students for marketing jobs in product development, brand management, services marketing, advertising, international marketing, retailing, sales and marketing research. Because of the increased emphasis on marketing strategy throughout American business, the marketing field offers excellent employment and advancement opportunities. There has been a continuous increase in the demand for marketing professionals, and the average starting salaries of marketing graduates are higher than those in many other fields. Because of the knowledge of products, services and consumers gained in these jobs, marketing positions provide an excellent basis to reach the highest levels in the organization. A marketing education also provides entrepreneurial skills that enable students to start and operate their own companies or enter an existing family business.

The marketing curriculum consists of required core and elective courses. The core courses provide students with insights into consumer behavior and marketing research and the skills required to analyze, plan, implement and control marketing programs. The elective courses provide the opportunity to learn how to manage products and services and develop pricing, distribution and promotional strategies, both in the United States and international markets.

Note: A concentration in marketing is not offered in the evening.

The Stillman School Marketing Honor Society

The objective of this group is the pursuit of excellence in undergraduate marketing studies at Seton Hall University and the productive involvement of the best marketing students in the life and activities of the Stillman School of Business. This society is open to marketing majors who have completed a substantial portion of their marketing courses, demonstrated excellence by obtaining high overall and marketing GPAs, and have been active members of the Marketing Club. Students who fulfill these criteria, according to standards set annually by the marketing faculty, are invited to join the society each Spring.

Marketing Concentration Requirements

In total, marketing majors must complete between 15 and 21 credits in marketing (in addition to BMKT 2601, which is part of the Business Core), with a minimum GPA of 2.5 in all marketing courses.

Specific course requirements are as follows:

	Credits
I. Two of the three following core courses:
BMKT 3611 Marketing Research	3
BMKT 3615 Consumer Behavior	3
BMKT 4631 Advertising Management	3
II. BMKT Electives*	9-12
Total: 15-21

*At least 6 credits must be BMKT 4000-level courses.

Center for Sport Management

Jubilee Hall, Room 543
(973) 761-9707

Faculty: Gentile; Mayo (Director, Adviser); McCarthy (Co-op Adviser); Rotthoff

Concentration in Sport Management

This interdisciplinary program includes courses in sport law, management, marketing, economics and finance, and prepares students for positions in professional and intercollegiate athletics and the industries that serve them. Students gain exposure to all facets of the business of sport, including sport sponsorship relationships, team and league equity issues, player-management labor relations, and a wide variety of ethical dilemmas facing business professionals in both professional and amateur athletics. The program prepares students for internal positions in sport management organizations; sport marketing firms; licensing and apparel marketing; radio and television programming; and events and facilities management. As sales is an important part of the curriculum, the Seton Hall Sports Poll provides opportunities for working the phones and a call center for Sport Marketing experiences.

Alpha Chi Lambda

Alpha Chi Lambda is the Sport Management Honor Society. In Spring 2001, the Center for Sport Management in the Stillman School of Business at Seton Hall University, and the Sport Management Student Association (SMSA), having discovered no honor society in sport management programs nationally, founded Alpha Chi Lambda, the first Sport Management Honor Society. Requirements for nomination, which is awarded in either the junior or senior year, include a 3.4 GPA in 60 or more earned credits. Initiation occurs in the spring of each academic year and members wear a royal blue cord at graduation.

The Sport Management Student Association (SMSA)

The Sport Management Student Association (SMSA) is one of the largest and most active student organizations in the Stillman School of Business. Comprising both graduate and undergraduate students, the organization provides an outlet for students to engage in the interactive learning of the business of sport through off-campus visits to sporting events and facilities, internships, guest speakers and more. The SMSA also holds community service in the highest regard and works diligently to be a leader and facilitator of charitable activities at Seton Hall University and in the surrounding communities. Annual field trips to the sports Halls of Fame are a favorite activity.

Minor in Business Administration

(For College of Arts and Sciences and John C. Whitehead School of Diplomacy and International Relations majors)

Available to Seton Hall students majoring in disciplines other than business, the minor in business administration supplements the liberal arts or sciences preparation and facilitates a transition to a business career. Arts and sciences economics majors may also elect this minor.

Three categories totaling 24 credits are required, along with a minimum GPA of 2.25 in the minor program. The categories are:

1. Environment of Business, including one course each in economics and law;
2. Tools of Business, including one course each in accounting, statistics and information technology management; and
3. Functional Areas of Business, including one course each in finance, management and marketing.

*Note: Prerequisites are strictly enforced.

Transfer Courses

With the approval of the associate dean of the Stillman School, a maximum of 6 credits may be transferred from other institutions and applied toward the minor in business administration.

Changing to a Business Major from the Minor

The minor in business administration is specifically not available to students majoring in business. The economics course designated for the minor does not count toward the core requirements for a degree in business administration. If a student completes the economics course and then changes to a major in business, the student must still meet all core economics course requirements (ECON 1402, 1403 and 2408).

Minor in Economics

(For both Business and Non-Business Majors)

Both business and non-business majors may elect to complete a minor in economics. This 18-credit minor consists of the three core courses in economics (ECON 1402, 1403 and 2408) plus one required course (either ECON 2420 or 2421) and two economics electives.

Minor in International Business

(For Business Majors Only)

Adviser: Larry McCarthy, Ph.D.

Restricted to business majors, the minor in international business provides the global and cross-cultural knowledge required for success in today's rapidly changing international business environment. The program incorporates an interdisciplinary curriculum from the Stillman School and the College of Arts and Sciences. A special emphasis is placed on languages as well as cultural and geopolitical dimensions of the current international business environment.

The opportunity to study abroad may also become a component of this program. The credits earned abroad will count toward but are not restricted to the language and cultural component of the minor. Upon declaration of the minor, students must choose from among the following international studies tracks:

Eastern European Track: Russian or Polish languages and related cultural and geopolitical courses;

Western European Track: French, German, Italian or Spanish languages and related cultural and geopolitical courses;

Pacific Rim Track: Japanese or Chinese languages and related cultural and geopolitical courses; or Latin American Track: Spanish language and related cultural and geopolitical courses.

Qualifications

Enrollment is restricted to business majors in good academic standing with a GPA of at least 2.25.

Requirements

The program includes 27 credit hours:

- 12 credits in a specific language sequence (listed as “Language Electives”);
- 6 credits in the cultural and geopolitical component (listed as “Other Electives” and “Additional Nonbusiness Electives”); and
- 9 credits in the international business component (listed as “Business Electives”).

Students who demonstrate an intermediate level of proficiency on the language department’s proficiency exam may take no more than 6 credits in advanced language. The remaining 6 credits may be taken in a combination of cultural, geopolitical and international business courses. These students also may elect to take all 12 credits in non-language preapproved electives.

Students are encouraged to study abroad, and up to 12 credits for the minor may be transferred from preapproved studies abroad.

Certificate Programs

Certificate in Business

(For Non-Business Majors)

The Certificate Program in Business is designed for non-business majors at Seton Hall University and other regionally accredited colleges.

Students are exposed to the language of business. Major concepts in accounting, marketing, finance and management provide a head start in the business world. These courses provide solid preparation for entering the job market and starting a career after graduation.

Qualifications

To qualify for the Certificate Program in Business, applicants must:

- major in an area other than business at a college or university with regional accreditation;
- have completed at least 60 credit hours of college-level courses.

Application

To apply for the program, applicants should complete the appropriate form in Room 526 of Jubilee Hall. This can be arranged by mail or by calling the Student Information Office, (973) 761-9222.

Certification of Credits

Students successfully completing the 12-credit program will receive a Certificate in Business from the Stillman School of Business at Seton Hall University. In addition, Seton Hall will verify completion of the overall program to potential employers or other parties, if requested by the student.

Requirements

To qualify for the Certificate in Business, students must complete the following:

BACC 2103	Financial Accounting	Prerequisite 30 credits
BMGT 2501	Principles of Management	45 credits and ECON 1411 or equivalent
BMKT 2601	Principles of Marketing	45 credits and ECON 1411 or equivalent
ECON 1411	Introduction to Economics (or equivalent)	none

Note: Prerequisites are strictly enforced.

Students must earn a GPA of at least 2.5 for the four courses and earn no more than one grade of “D” or “D+” in the above courses to be eligible for the business certificate.

Some institutions require the last 30 credit hours to be taken in residence. Other colleges may have specific requirements for advance permission before courses may be taken at another college. Applicants should investigate the regulations of the home institution prior to applying for the certificate program.

Certificate in Entrepreneurial Studies

(For Business Majors)

This Certificate in Entrepreneurship is composed of four 3-credit courses (12 credits). The program consists of three required courses: BMGT 4640, BMGT 4566, BMGT 4565 and one elective course selected from BMGT 4562, BMGT 4599, BACC 3116, BFIN 3211, and BMKT 4629 (cross listed as BMGT 4629). These courses will focus on providing theory and practical knowledge and skills through class instruction and will employ experiential learning to help students start a new business or become a major contributor to their family’s business upon graduation. These skills are just as relevant to students who desire a career in corporate world. These four complementary courses have been structured so that each addresses skills that are necessary to be a successful entrepreneur. The certificate requires three courses that address important fundamental skills (e.g., analyzing the feasibility of a business opportunity, developing a business plan, and product and business innovation) that are necessary in starting a business and one elective course that provides specific skills that entrepreneurs need in starting and running a business (e.g., sales, negotiating, conducting financial statement analysis, and creating financial strategies). A student who wishes to earn the certificate should consult with the faculty in the Center for Entrepreneurial Studies.

Certificate in Information Technology Management (ITM)

(For both Business and Non-Business Majors)

The Certificate in Information Technology Management is a four-course (12-credit) sequence that consists of BITM 2701, BITM 3727 and two BITM elective courses. A student who wishes to earn the Certificate in ITM should consult with the Department Chair or Adviser for the Department of Computing and Decision Sciences to ensure that the two BITM elective courses selected are in line with the student's academic/career objectives.

Certificate in Supply Chain Management (SCM)

(For both Business and Non-Business Majors)

The Certificate in Supply Chain Management is a four-course (12-credit) sequence that consists of BQUA 2812, BITM 3740, BITM 3741 (or any of the equivalent cross-listed classes), and BITM 3742. Supply Chain Management (SCM) is a process used by companies to ensure that their supply chain is efficient and cost-effective. A supply chain is defined as the collection of steps that a company takes to transform raw components into the final product. Supply Chain Management integrates supply and demand management functions within and across companies. Over the past few decades, supply chains have risen in prominence within most companies. This has created a growing need for employers to find people who have knowledge of this area.

Leadership Development Program

Leadership Development is the undergraduate honors program for the Stillman School of Business. Students in the Leadership Program must be admitted to the Stillman School. In addition to the academic requirements, students must complete 40 hours of community service, participate in the mentor program during their junior year, hold leadership positions both on and off campus to complement their studies, attend leadership functions and maintain an overall GPA of 3.2.

In addition to the Stillman School and liberal arts cores and the courses needed for a concentration, students must take the courses listed below. Some of the courses are either completely or largely restricted to leadership students; these are designated with a LS suffix. Students may enter both the Leadership Development program and the University's Honors program. Students enrolled in both Leadership and the University Honors Program are not required to take COST 1600, SOCI 1101, RELS 1102/1502, and ANTH 2912.

Computing and Decision Sciences Information Technology Management (ITM)

Evening students wishing to concentrate in ITM must first contact the department adviser to discuss course availability.

BITM 2701 Management Information Systems

Role of technology in the management process. Introduction to the basic concepts of computer hardware and software. A significant part of the course deals with the use of Windows applications, spreadsheets, database, word processing and Internet-related tools. Emerging ethical issues in technology are treated. Offered: Fall, Spring. 3 credits

BITM 3724 Business Information Modeling

Management of information in the business environment. The course uses a combination of the technical and non-technical end-user approach to database management using the relational approach and other ways of modeling business information. Prerequisite: BITM 3727 or permission of the instructor. Offered: Fall. 3 credits

BITM 3727 Advanced Business Software Tools

This course will teach advanced topics in spreadsheet (Excel) design/programming. The course will show students how to use Visual Basic for Applications (VBA) to build functionally rich spreadsheets. In addition, the course will show how VBA can also be used with a database tool (Access) for building user-friendly applications. Prerequisite: BITM 2701 or permission of the instructor. Offered: Fall, Spring. 3 credits

BITM 3730 Developing Web Applications

The course will focus on the development of Web pages enhanced with live data from databases, adding interactivity, user preferences, and storage. The course will start out with a simple example and end with a "sophisticated" project that uses all the techniques and technology examined in the course. Prerequisite: BITM 2701. 3 credits

BITM 3734 Integrated Enterprise Systems

This course will instill in students an appreciation of the importance of and the issues involved in enterprise integration. It does this in the context of a business game played using the SAP system. In playing the game, student teams manage a business in a competitive environment and experience first-hand the complexities of business decision-making and also the challenges of integrating various functions in a business. Mastery of certain aspects of SAP is a side benefit. Prerequisite: BITM 2701. 3 credits

BITM 3740 IT Project Management

With the pervasive use of IT in organizations for mission critical applications, successfully envisioning and implementing these applications is critical to the success of modern organizations. With the rise of outsourcing, this is becoming even more critical. Managing IT projects is very complex and requires not only general project management techniques and skills, but also the mastery of some IT specific project management issues. This course will sensitize participants to various IT project management skills and techniques relevant to current practice. Prerequisites: BITM 3727 and BITM 3724. 3 credits

BITM 3741 (BMGT 3641, BMKT 4627) Supply Chain Management

The function of supply chain management is to design and manage the processes, assets, and flows of material and information required to satisfy customers' demands. Globalization of the economy and electronic commerce has heightened the strategic importance of supply chain management and created new opportunities for using supply chain strategy and planning as a competitive tool. The purpose of this course is to explore the basic dynamics of supply chains and to study quantitative methods currently applied to supply chain management (SCM). The course will provide an introduction to the theory of supply chain management together with examples of how businesses implement these theories in practice. Prerequisite: BQUA 2812. 3 credits

BITM 3742 Using Information Technology to Support the Supply Chain

This course will explore how different components of IS (ERP, Web) are used to facilitate the management of the Supply Chain. The course will use SAP, the leading Enterprise Resource Planning software package for large companies, extensively. Students will obtain actual hands-on experience of how the supply chain works by creating and tracing supply chain oriented transactions in SAP. In addition to acquiring in-depth knowledge of the supply chain, students will be gaining experience with SAP, which could be used to attain SAP certification. Prerequisite: BITM 3741. 3 credits

BITM 3743 Enterprise Systems Deployment

This course will cover the functional, managerial and technical issues involved in the successful deployment of an Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) software system. Configuring an ERP system to meet the needs of an organization is a complex and involved process requiring analysts to understand business processes and organizational realities. In this hands-on course, students will be required to go through a simulated implementation scenario and configure a real SAP system. Prerequisite: BITM 2701. 3 credits

BITM 3750 Managing Computer Networks

This course examines the principles of computer networks. This includes communications mediums (wired and wireless), protocols and equipment. The course will look also at the architecture of networks, which will include local area networks (LAN) and the Internet. Students will get hands-on experience by configuring routers and the components of an operating system that deal with networks. Prerequisite: BITM 2701. Offered: Spring. 3 credits

BITM 3752 (BACC 4101) Enterprise-Wide Accounting Information Systems I

Course is designed to provide an understanding of the roles of accounting information and information technology in the decision-making and operational support of the firm. Relational databases and data modeling are covered in significant detail. Students will become familiar with the revenue, expenditure, conversion and general ledger transaction processing subsystems. Students will develop an awareness of the impact of accounting information systems on managerial decisions as well as organizational competitiveness. Prerequisite: BACC 3111. Offered: Fall. 3 credits

BITM 3753 (BACC 4102) Enterprise-Wide Accounting Information Systems II

This course will provide participants with a clear understanding of various enterprise applications like accounting, contracts, work orders, materials requirement planning and process manufacturing. Each application will be studied through an extensive REA model. In addition, the course will cover important issues including information systems security and auditing, evaluation and implementation of information systems. Prerequisite: BITM 3752 or knowledge of ER and REA modeling. Offered: Spring. 3 credits

BITM 4730 (BSPM 4730) Application of Information Technology in Sport Management

This course will examine the use and impact of Information Technology (IT) on different aspects of the sport industry. As video and audio media are an important part of the revenues generated by sport companies, they are also included. The course will provide foundation knowledge in key IT topics such as networking, WWW, hardware, CRM (customer relationship management) and data mining. Included in the course will be material on building and evaluating Web sites. The goal of the course is to show how and where IT has been an "enabler" in the Sport Industry. Prerequisite: BITM 2701. 3 credits

BITM 4794, 4795, 4796 ITM Co-op I, II, III

See Co-op Adviser. Cooperative Education courses are counted as general electives. Offered: Fall, Spring. 3 credits each

BITM 4799 Directed Research/ITM

Application for Independent Study must be completed and approved prior to registration. Forms are available from the faculty member chosen for the supervision of the project. Emphasis on research and field work appropriate to the students' backgrounds and career objectives. Prerequisite: Departmental approval. Offered: Fall, Spring. 3 credits

Quantitative AnalysisBQUA 2811 Business Statistics

This course provides students with an understanding of statistical techniques for analyzing business problems. Concepts are developed using calculations for simple problems with small amounts of data. Larger and more realistic problems are handled using Microsoft Excel. Topics include descriptive statistics, elements of probability, sampling, interval estimation, hypothesis testing and regression analysis. Prerequisite: MATH 1303. Offered: Fall, Spring, Summer. 3 credits

BQUA 2812 Quantitative Decision Making

This course introduces quantitative models of management science and their applications to decision making in a business environment. It will build on the mathematical and statistical tools developed in MATH 1303 and BQUA 2811. Topics may include decision analysis, forecasting, linear programming, inventory, queuing and simulation. Prerequisite: BQUA 2811 and 45 credits. Offered: Fall, Spring, Summer. 3 credits

Economics

At least two economics electives will be offered each semester on a rotating basis.

Note: A concentration in economics is not offered in the evening.

ECON 1402 Principles of Economics I

Introductory approach to the development of microeconomic analysis. Principles governing economic behavior in a market-oriented system: exchange, market pricing, production and costs, market structures and their effects on product and factor markets. Emphasis on developing techniques for rational micro decision making and evaluating contemporary policies and trends both nationally and internationally. Offered: Fall, Spring. 3 credits

Role of international financial and money markets evaluated for impact on the U.S. economy. Prerequisite: ECON 1403. Offered: Fall, Spring, Summer. 3 credits

ECON 2410 Consumer Economics

Even though we live in a more complex and ever-widening world, the basic task of consumer decisions remains unchanged. This course assembles a series of major consumer decision alternatives whereby students must apply economic analysis to arrive at optimal solutions. Prerequisite: ECON 1403. 3 credits

ECON 2420 Intermediate Microeconomic Analysis

Systematic development of microeconomic theory. Consumer behavior, market demand and supply functions for output and resources, decision rules for the efficient allocation of resources, production costs and pricing for benefit maximization. Development of modeling techniques applicable to a variety of functional areas of management, finance and operations. Develops skills for private and public management. Prerequisite: ECON 1402. Offered: Fall. 3 credits

ECON 2421 Intermediate Macroeconomic Analysis

Systematic development of macroeconomic theory. Neoclassical, Keynesian, post-Keynesian, and contemporary models for income, output, employment and interest rate determination. National and international problems in relation to the applicable models and the practices of fiscal and monetary authorities. Develops analytical skills for fiscal and monetary management, forecasting and public policy. Prerequisite: ECON 1403. Offered: Spring. 3 credits

ECON 3410 Environmental Economics

Major environmental problems delineated. Economic definitions and aspects of environmental quality. Reasons for environmental quality reductions in market economy, including externalities, private vs. common property resource use, public goods and irreversible change. Survey of alternative public policy options. Prerequisite: ECON 1403. 3 credits

ECON 3425 Economic Development and Cultural Change

Surveys global economic interrelationships and current issues in the underdeveloped and developing regions of the world. Measurement and sectoral analyses to assess the roles played by agriculture, human and capital resources and the foreign sector. Prerequisite: ECON 1403. 3 credits

ECON 3427 The Economics of Health Care

Theoretical and empirical analysis. The growth of the health industry; the supply of and demand for health practitioners; the hospital as an economic organization; models of pricing in selected sectors of the health market; the financing of health services; cost-benefit analysis; and spatial analysis of delivery systems. Prerequisite: ECON 1403. 3 credits

ECON 3450 (BSPM 3450) Economics of the Sport Industry

An economic analysis of the sport industry, with special emphasis on the market structure and conduct of baseball, football and hockey as played in the United States. Topics include: an analysis of the work-leisure decisions of sport fans; trends in the market for sport franchises; player salaries and their distribution; the competitive balance in sport leagues; and the cost and impact of sport stadiums. Prerequisites: ECON 1402, ECON 1403. Offered: Every third semester. 3 credits

ECON 3462 Government and Business

Examines the regulatory interactions of government with enterprise. Survey of the institutional and legal structure in which business functions in the United States. The theoretical and empirical implications of regulation evaluated through the case method. Prerequisite: ECON 1403. 3 credits

ECON 3470 History of Economic Thought

Survey of the evolutionary development of contemporary economic analysis. Major economic schools, classical, socialist, neoclassical, Keynesian and others, as well as key economists. Prerequisite: ECON 1403. Offered: Every third semester. 3 credits

ECON 4420 Econometrics

Application of mathematics and statistics to economic theory for solving economic problems. Econometric models, both static and dynamic, developed assuming conditions of uncertainty. Open to upper-level students only. Prerequisites: ECON 1403, BQUA 2811. 3 credits

ECON 4435 The Theory of Economic Growth

Examination of various theories and models of economic growth. Analysis of problems of economic underdevelopment. Private and government development policies interpreted. Prerequisite: ECON 1403. 3 credits

ECON 4441 (BMGT 4951) Labor Economics

See Co-op Adviser. Cooperative Education courses are counted as general electives. Prerequisite: Departmental approval prior to registration. Offered: Fall, Spring, Summer. 3 credits each

BMGT 4597, 4598, 4599 Directed Research

Independent research in the area of management. Project is developed in consultation with faculty and must be approved by chair prior to registration. Offered: Fall, Spring, Summer. 1/2/3 credits

BMGT 4640 Entrepreneurship

A study of small businesses and owner management with a practical orientation toward understanding the process of creating and managing one's own business. This includes but is not limited to strategic and operational planning, organizational controls, marketing management and techniques, financial analysis and accounting, risk management, and securing growth capital for small businesses. Prerequisite: BMGT 2501. 3 credits

BMGT 4645 Writing A Business Plan

Students will learn about the creation of new ventures in a very hands-on manner. Students will be exposed to concepts, skills, information, and tools that are relevant for the creation of a new venture, the management of an early-stage venture, and the harvest of a venture. Students will have opportunities to apply knowledge through class discussions, projects, individual reflections, and the creation of an actual business plan. The creation of the business plan will provide students with an opportunity to appreciate the challenging and ambiguous environment that entrepreneurs face. Experimental. Prerequisite: BMGT 2501. 3 credits

BMGT 4951 (ECON 4441) Labor Economics

Labor markets in their sectoral and national settings. Labor force analyzed by use of the human resource/capital approach. Labor compensation determination and structure. Labor costs, productivity and their impact on the price level and employment. Prerequisites: ECON 1403. 3 credits

BMGT 4993 Foreign Business Operations

Circumstances under which American firms operate abroad: social customs, political environment, and linguistic and cultural problems. Economic, financial, legal and management issues peculiar to foreign operations. Problems in foreign exchange, international finance and marketing, and human resources management. Management of foreign investment, joint ventures and foreign subsidiaries. Technology transfer, foreign trade operations and the protection of intellectual property abroad. International economic policy and international corporate financial management. Prerequisite: BMGT 2501. 3 credits

Marketing

Note: A concentration in marketing is not offered in the evening. BMKT 2601 Principles of Marketing is a prerequisite for ALL marketing courses.

BMKT 2601 Principles of Marketing

The constitutional aspects of athletics with special attention toward procedural and substantive due process. The formation and conditions of contracts from both the management and individual's perspectives. The rights of athletes, coaches and management according to the ability of each to participate in the prospective sports' leagues and organizations. Strong emphasis on ethical concerns in the sport industry. Prerequisite: BLAW 2301. Offered: Fall, Spring. 3 credits

BSPM 4535 (BMGT 4535) The Management of Sport Organizations

This course examines the application of general principles of management to the sport industry and to the management of sport organizations in particular. The course provides the student with an overview of the sport industry, as well as the issues encountered by managers of sport organizations and how management techniques can be applied to effectively address these issues. Students will also consider the ethical and moral dilemmas facing sport managers and the sport industry as a whole. Prerequisite: BMGT 2501. Offered Fall, Spring. 3 credits

BSPM 4537 (BMGT 4537) Global Sport Facilities Management

This course examines the real-time history and operations of sport facilities in the U.S. and throughout the world, largely through the use of the World Wide Web. Course content includes the study of: planning and design, services management, marketing and public relations, concessions, event and operations management, maintenance, funding, administration and franchise interaction. Prerequisite: BMGT 2501. Offered: Summer. 3 credits

BSPM 4538 (BMGT 4538) International Sport Management

This course examines the management of sport in the emerging global village. Examination of sport as a cultural phenomenon and a management challenge in differing political, social and economic systems will be undertaken. Prerequisite: BMGT 2501. Offered: Spring. 3 credits

BSPM 4594, 4595, 4596 Sport Management Co-op I, II, III

An introduction to sales as an element of marketing. A view of the international sport business and ethical issues in sport marketing. Prerequisite: BMKT 2601. Offered: Fall, Spring. 3 credits

BSPM 4730 (BITM 4730) Application of Information Technology in Sport Management

This course will examine the use and impact of Information Technology (IT) on different aspects of the sport industry. As video and audio media are an important part of the revenues generated by sport companies, they are also included. The course will provide foundation knowledge in key IT topics such as networking, WWW, hardware, CRM (customer relationship management) and data mining. Included in the course will be material on building and evaluating Web sites. The goal of the course is to show how and where IT has been an “enabler” in the Sport Industry. Prerequisite: BITM 2701. 3 credits

Integrated Courses

BPOL 5000 Business Policy

Students are organized as a top management team to run a computer simulated business enterprise in a competitive environment. Employing business strategies and models, they integrate the functional knowledge from prior courses and exercise their business skills. Prerequisite: ALL BUSINESS CORE courses. Offered: Fall, Spring, Summer. 3 credits

BINT 3001 Global Business

The thrust of this course is to develop “global business literacy” in students. The focus is on trends and forces that shape international commercial activity and their impacts on business decisions. The topics covered stem from the broad viewpoint of international trade, economics, finance, political and economic geography, risk management, marketing, ethics and international law. These topics are presented from the perspective of a generalist. (The faculty strongly recommends that students complete this course before taking other international business courses in the Stillman School curriculum.) Prerequisite: Junior standing or above and completion of BACC 2103-2104, BITM 2701, BLAW 2301, ECON 1402-1403. Offered: Fall, Spring. 3 credits

The John C. Whitehead School of Diplomacy and International Relations, established in alliance with the United Nations Association of the United States of America, prepares students from around the world to become the next generation of global leaders. The Whitehead School's academic programs provide students with critical knowledge and concrete skills essential to international careers in public service, business, law and the nonprofit sector.

Students participate in an innovative curriculum that educates students from a global perspective, with an emphasis on global studies, multilateral diplomacy, conflict resolution, international management, economics and leadership training. A distinguished faculty of scholars and professionals bring cutting-edge theory and practical perspectives to the classroom. A unique link with the United Nations exposes students to the policymakers and practitioners addressing today's worldwide concerns.

A degree from the Whitehead School of Diplomacy enables graduates to be effective and ethical leaders in their professional careers and to engage dynamically in the complexities of a global society.

Bachelor of Science in Diplomacy and International Relations

The undergraduate program is based on an interdisciplinary global studies curriculum with strong components of cultural understanding, international economics and leadership. A comprehensive world languages program enables students to attain professional proficiency in multiple languages. All students complete a professional internship in order to gain an understanding of career opportunities available to them upon graduation. The Whitehead School of Diplomacy sponsors a study abroad program and regional study trips. Opportunities to participate in Model U.N. and other activities related to the United Nations also are available.

To attain the degree of Bachelor of Science in Diplomacy and International Relations, students must complete the program for a total of 120 credits. While each student is guided by a faculty adviser of the School, the ultimate responsibility for complying with curriculum requirements rests with the student. To complete degree requirements satisfactorily, students must have a cumulative GPA of at least 2.0. Transfer students should obtain academic advisement from the Assistant Dean of Students and Academic Programs.

Course Descriptions

DIPL 1002 Interdisciplinary Seminar in Diplomacy and International Relations

Focuses on a few current international challenges or issues while applying several advanced international relations perspectives simultaneously. The course will expose students to a variety of tools and perspectives in the field of Diplomacy and International Relations, and help students to see the complementarity of the various theoretical perspectives. Team taught. 3 credits

DIPL 1101 Emergence of the Contemporary World

Surveys development of major cultures and societies, focusing on these traditions in the context of interaction among European, Asian and African peoples and the encounter of European and American peoples in the 15th century. 3 credits

DIPL 1711 International Relations

Analyzes the dynamics of the relations between and across the different countries of the world. Examines the role that countries, international organizations, nongovernmental organizations, businesses, and individual people play in addressing pressing global problems such as peace, war, security, arms control, trade, development, human rights and the environment. 3 credits

DIPL 2101 Ethnopolitical Landscapes of the Contemporary World

Surveys political, economic, cultural and socio-demographic trends shaping the contemporary world and their impact on international, regional and global relations. Focuses on nationalism and ethnicity. Topics include: rise of nation-states; impact of nationalism; nation-building and empire building; Western imperialism in the Third World; ethnicity and nationalism; ethnic relations in the U.S. and other parts of the world; and post-Cold War development. 3 credits

DIPL 2103 History of Diplomacy

Surveys the evolution of diplomacy from ancient civilizations to the present. Examines the actors and processes associated with classic diplomacy, and considers the new challenges facing diplomats as a result of recent changes in international affairs. 3 credits

DIPL 2109 Institutions of Global Governance

Examines the process through which states, intergovernmental organizations, nongovernmental organizations, and multinational corporations seek to address pressing problems of global governance. The challenges associated with international cooperation are explored, including the changing nature of sovereignty and the difficulties with promoting compliance. A variety of transsovereign issues are covered and the course concludes with a diplomatic simulation of a global issues conference. 3 credits

DIPL 2110 Comparative Foreign Policy

Explores the different processes through which countries design their foreign policy. A variety of countries are examined encompassing various regions of the world, levels of development, and types of political regimes. Of special concern is the manner in which both domestic and international pressures influence the foreign policy making process. 3 credits

DIPL 2111 European Union Trip

Students learn about diplomacy and international relations as well as European culture and history first-hand, by visiting some of the major institutions involved in European Union governance and in Europe's trans-Atlantic relations. The Whitehead School's other intensive study seminars (DIPL 2112, 2113, and 4197) will also fulfill this practicum requirement. 3 credits

DIPL 2112 Cyprus-East Mediterranean Study

This course will assess the economic, political and social impact of EU membership on Cyprus. Students will gain insights based on the perceptions of different actors, namely public sector, private sector, and civil society. After serious preparation, students will visit Cyprus and interact with the main players. Based on this visit, the class will prepare a report, for which every member will contribute. 3 credits

DIPL 2113 China's Rise: Opportunities and Challenges

This course explores the opportunities and challenges posed by the rise of China. It culminates in a 10 day field trip to China. 3 credits

DIPL 2114 African Union Seminar

This course examines conflicts in Africa and the AU's role in conflict resolution. Included in the study seminar are the nature and sources of conflicts in Africa; the structure and organization of the AU and its predecessor, the Organization of African Unity (OAU); agenda-setting at the AU; and the role the AU plays in conflict resolution, especially its relationship with the UN regarding peace operations in Africa. Through a study trip to the AU Headquarters in Addis Ababa (Ethiopia), students will explore and interrogate the theories and practice of conflict resolution by international organizations, with particular reference to the AU. 3 credits

DIPL 2120 International Conflict and Security

Provides an overview of the classical issues in the study of war and peace, and examines the nature and functions of the use of force, macro- and micro-theories of conflict, arms races and control, nuclear proliferation, and deterrence.

260 Whitehead School of Diplomacy and International Relations

Recent developments in the management of weapons of mass destruction are also explored. 3 credits

DIPL 3101 Concepts in Leadership

Analyzes historical and contemporary concepts of leadership and explores traits, strategies and techniques that define leadership. 3 credits

DIPL 3104 Public International Law

Deals with the nature, history and domains of international law. Through case studies, this course provides understanding of the international legal system with regard to such basic goals as curbing resort to war, peaceful settlement of disputes, fostering peaceful use of the oceans, Antarctica and outer space, enhancing respect for human rights, preserving the environment and strengthening the capability of the United Nations and the U.N. system as a primary instrument of world order. 3 credits

DIPL 3111 Practicum III: Internship

Offers an opportunity to learn and develop management and leadership skills in an internship under the guidance of a mentor. The instructor for the course serves as liaison with the mentors. 3 credits

DIPL 3150 New Dimensions of Human Security

This course transcends traditional interstate conflict by examining new security threats such as infectious diseases, environmental change, growth of human populations, energy security, and water and food scarcities. Special attention will be given to their effects on development, stability, and security. 3 credits

DIPL 3201 Sustainable Development

Explores the concept of sustainable development. Examines sustainability issues related to both industrial countries and developing countries, for example aging of populations, sustainable consumption, institutional adjustments, managing growth, and pressures of population change. 3 credits

DIPL 3800 Investigating International Relations

This course introduces the basic tools of scientific investigation. Students learn about the scientific method, data gathering, research design, quantitative and qualitative analyses, and computer applications for international relations research. The course aims to equip students with the facts, intuition, and experience necessary for conducting research projects in subsequent diplomacy courses. 3 credits

DIPL 4101 Research Project

Culminating research project of the international relations program. Enables students to apply qualitative and quantitative methodologies as needed in the development of interdisciplinary research projects related to their own area studies. Course runs as a research seminar. Students work with a faculty mentor to write their research thesis. 3 credits

DIPL 4104 Independent Study

Students pursue a course of specialized reading and discussion supervised by a member of the faculty. 3 credits

DIPL 4106 Human Rights

Combines skill development in research, writing and oral communication with development of an understanding of the sources and nature of those rights of individuals and groups that are, or have been, identified as "Human Rights" under various international conventions, state constitutions and bills of rights, United Nations resolutions and other sources. Specific human rights violations in areas of health, nutrition, labor, the environment, educational systems, political torture and genocide are explored. 3 credits

DIPL 4108 International Political Economy

This course examines the interaction between politics and economics in the international system, i.e. how international economic activity is affected by the political decisions rendered by states and how states are in turn affected by the international financial and trading systems. 3 credits

DIPL 4111 Senior Leadership Internship

Provides students with hands on experience in the international environment. Students are placed in a selected unit of the United Nations system or a similar organization or international business under the guidance of a mentor and supervision of the instructor of this course. 3 credits

This 1-credit course offers intensive preparation and individualized review for entry to the U.S. Foreign Service. 1 credit

DIPL 4114 International Financial Institutions

Analyzes the dynamics of international trade and finance through the structure and work of the international financial institutions. Covers the basics of the international finance system and explores the potential for international cooperation in the field of development. 3 credits

DIPL 4115 Cross Cultural Negotiation and Conflict Management

The ability to negotiate and manage conflicts across cultures is no longer an optional skill set in the worlds of international business, diplomacy and advocacy. This course, built on cases, interactive exercises and theoretical frameworks, develops the skills and knowledge for managing the most challenging political, organizational and interpersonal relationships. 3 credits

DIPL 4116 Palestinian-Israeli Peace Process

This course delves into the significant history of attempts to transform the Palestinian-Israeli conflict into coexistence. The instructor builds on significant field research into the open and secret negotiations that have taken place between Israel and the PLO. Students simultaneously conduct actual negotiations joining one of four delegations and negotiating either interim or permanent issues. 3 credits

DIPL 4117 International Mediation

Third parties, including governments, prestigious individuals, IOs and NGOs often attempt to mediate international conflicts and wars. Some succeed brilliantly. Others fail miserably. This course offers perspective on the political, behavioral and strategic dimensions of international mediation. Participants learn about the methods, tactics and strategies of international mediation, the causes of failures and success, the dynamics of mediation in crises, internal wars and other conflicts. Participants also develop skills by practicing on large and small international mediation exercises. 3 credits

DIPL 4170 Topics in Economic Development for International Affairs

This course is an in depth analysis of current aspects of development. We consider recent development dilemmas such as delivery of services for poor people, building institutions for markets, the role of knowledge in advancing economic and social well being, the role and effectiveness of the state in the changing world, and infrastructure and development. We analyze experiences of different countries in Latin America, Africa, East Asia, Eastern Europe, the Former Soviet Union, and the Middle East. 3 credits

DIPL 4180 The Modern Middle East

Commences with an overview of the historical events of the Middle East that are crucial to understanding the emergence of the modern period in 1832, and concluding with current issues and opportunities. 3 credits

DIPL 4183 Art and Science of International Negotiation
States, NGOs and international organizations all negotiate with each other in the context of international conflicts. In this course, students practice and improve their negotiation skills in interactive exercises, learn theories and dynamics of conflict, and apply this knowledge to practical cases. 3 credits

DIPL 4185 Foreign Policy of Post-Soviet States

Detailed analysis of the global role of states within the former Soviet sphere, both among themselves and in relation to the European Union, China and the United States. 3 credits

DIPL 4187 Modern Middle East: U.S. Involvement

This course examines U.S. involvement in the Middle East in the 20th century, exploring how the U.S. has emerged as the principal foreign actor in the Middle East. 3 credits

DIPL 4193 Eastern European and Post-Soviet Politics
Comprehensive introduction to the politics of the former Soviet Union, Eastern Europe, and post-Soviet Russia, including the development of the Soviet Union as a multi-national, planned economy empire and the causes of collapse. The course also explores the challenges faced by the states that emerged, with special attention to the economic and political problems of these states' transformations as affected by the different legacies of the Soviet period in each of the countries involved. 3 credits

DIPL 4196 International Relations in Southeast Asia

Examines the Southeast Asian states as autonomous actors, the regionalization of Southeast Asian foreign policies, and the states' and regions' relations in the environment external to Southeast Asia. 3 credits

DIPL 4197 U.N. Insiders' View

Bridges the gap between students and practitioners by complementing an academic understanding of the United Nations with an appreciation of the day-to-day concerns and realities of the organization. Structured around a series of guest lectures offered by U.N. officials and representatives of governments, civil society, and the private sector on a broad range of issues of current concern to the United Nations. 3 credits

DIPL 4198 International Criminal Law

Explores the historical, political and diplomatic evolution of international criminal law in this century, including war crimes, crimes against humanity and the International Criminal Court. 3 credits

DIPL 4277 Global Health, Bioterrorism, and International Security

This interdisciplinary course covers the issues of global health, biological weapons and international security. It has four main objectives: 1) to introduce students to the concept of health security; 2) to elucidate the linkages between health and security, with special attention paid to bioterrorism; 3) to examine the global health challenges and their conflict and security implications; and 4) to explore the policy options addressing such challenges. 3 credits

DIPL 4280 Politics of Terrorism in the Middle East

Investigates the use of terrorism for political purposes. Areas covered include the debate about who/what constitutes a terrorist movement or organization; the financing of terrorism; exploitation of/by the media; connections between fundamentalism, religion and terrorism; and the abilities of security services and intelligence organizations to effectively monitor and combat terrorism. 3 credits

DIPL 4555 Economic Aspects of International Relations

Reviews the current economic issues generated by globalization by emphasizing facts as well as theories. 3 credits

DIPL 4556 Financial Aspects of International Relations

This course focuses on issues such as proposed changes in the international financial architecture, the single currency in Europe, the Asian financial crisis, and government intervention in the foreign exchange market. 3 credits

DIPL 4601 Chinese Politics and US-China Relations

Based on historical events and the latest developments of the bilateral relationship between the United States and China, this course will explore how the relationship between Washington and Beijing evolved in the past three centuries with the interactions between the U.S. and "new China" - the People's Republic of China as the focus. Moreover, in probing the current affairs in the Sino-U.S. relationship, specific areas such as the Taiwan issue, security and economic cooperation, and human rights will be discussed. 3 credits

DIPL 4803 Politics and Society in Latin America and the Caribbean

This course provides an overview of major approaches to the study of Latin American politics and society. It emphasizes both a historical perspective and an analysis of current trends and issues. Using various analytical lenses, including cultural, structural, institutional, and rational-choice perspectives, the course focuses on the different kinds of political regimes and the patterns of political change that have characterized Latin America. 3 credits

Accreditation

The College of Education and Human Services is accredited by the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education.

Programs of Study

The mission of the College of Education and Human Services is to promote professional practice. We strive to do that by developing competent, socially conscious, reflective professionals. What does this mean for a candidate in the college? The faculty and the professionals we work with in the community are committed to: (i) the development of a broad, deep knowledge base that can be translated into practice; (ii) a respect and valuing for difference in our society; (iii) and the ability to practice introspection regarding self-development and pedagogy. An integral step toward achieving these goals is the alignment of our programs with national professional standards and those of the New Jersey State Department of Education. When a candidate graduates from the College of Education and Human Services at Seton Hall University, he/she will be recognized for these qualities and future potential.

Undergraduate programs are accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education and approved by the New Jersey State Department of Education. The college has been awarded NCATE (National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education) accreditation.

The Bachelor of Science in Education is offered with major programs in elementary, early childhood, and special education and secondary education content fields. Candidates complete a broad scope of liberal arts studies, a major in an academic field and a component of professional education courses with integrated internship experiences. After completing the appropriate course of study, candidates are eligible for the baccalaureate degree and for recommendation to the State of New Jersey for the appropriate teaching certificate. A passing score on the appropriate Praxis Examinations also is required for certification.

Although reciprocal certification agreements exist among many states, the agreements are subject to change. Candidates from states other than New Jersey are advised to consult with Manina Urgolo Huckvale, Ed.D., Seton Hall's certification officer, and/or the appropriate state's Department of Teacher Education, for information about specific requirements.

General School Requirements

To qualify for the degree Bachelor of Science in Education, candidates must complete a minimum of 120 credits with required coursework in the three degree components: the general education sequence of liberal arts courses; the academic major; and the professional education sequence. In all cases, general education requirements and content area majors include a minimum of 60 credits of study in the College of Arts and Sciences. All candidates interested in education when they enter the University, as first semester freshmen, are welcome to take the introductory course in their area of interest (elementary, secondary education or special education). Maintaining a minimum GPA of 2.75 is required for admission and retention in the program after the first semester of the freshman year and for admission as a transfer applicant. Candidates may continue in their chosen field of education after completing nine credits of EDST courses if:

- a GPA of 2.75 is maintained;
- all field visits and internships have been completed with appropriate evaluation forms completed and returned;
- a meeting with a program faculty adviser has occurred;
- the student has demonstrated adherence to the Professional Code within course and field work.

The University reserves the right to make additional adjustments as required by the New Jersey Department of Education.

Senior Clinical Practice

Undergraduate senior candidates who are matriculated in the College of Education and Human Services and others seeking New Jersey state certification must complete senior clinical practice. Candidates who enroll for this experience must pay a nonrefundable placement fee of $100.00. Freshmen beginning in Fall 2008 must pass the Praxis II content exam in order to begin their senior clinical experience.

Application Procedure for Senior Clinical Practice

Applicants must secure an official application from the Office of Field Placement and Supervision. The application procedure includes a comprehensive review of the candidate's academic record and internships. Completed applications must be received in the Office of Field Placement and Supervision before April 1 for assignment during the following Spring Semester, and by December 1 for assignment during the following Fall Semester.

Applicants must meet the following requirements:

- a cumulative GPA of 2.75;
- completion of all required Professional Education courses with a grade of C or higher;
- successful completion of all program field experiences
- entering students beginning in Fall 2008 are required to pass the appropriate Praxis Exam prior to student teaching;

- approval and recommendation by the department chair/program director; and
- a physician's certificate indicating freedom from any infirmity that would make the applicant unfit for teaching.

Senior Clinical Practice Requirements

Senior clinical practice requires full-time daily participation in the activities of an approved school for one semester. Each candidate is assigned to an accredited school and is guided by a cooperating teacher. The experience includes observation, teaching in the classroom, and participation in other activities and conferences. Senior teacher candidates are required to participate in faculty meetings, parent-teacher meetings, and other experiences. Each candidate's performance is assessed collaboratively by the College supervisor and the cooperating teacher. All education courses, as well as grades of Incomplete in education courses, must be finished in order to begin the clinical practice.

Applicants are required to enroll for the Senior Internship Seminar, which meets throughout the semester.

Transfer candidates must complete a minimum of 24 credits at Seton Hall University before they may apply for senior clinical practice.

English as a Second Language (ESL) Program

Designed as a support system for the international candidate, the ESL Program offers classes at levels ranging from advanced beginner to pre-college. Small classes, created to meet the needs of individual candidates, are offered in communication skills such as listening, speaking and American culture, as well as in academic skills such as reading and writing. ESL courses and activities are planned to help candidates bridge the language and cultural gaps between their home countries and the United States, and between the ESL program and the University academic courses.

Course Identification

The abbreviations used to designate courses offered by the departments and special areas of undergraduate instruction within the College of Education and Human Services are as follows:

- Applied Computing (BMIE)
- Professional Psychology and Family Therapy (CPSY)
- Educational Studies (EDST)
- English as a Second Language (ESLP)
- Health Education, Physical Education and Recreation (HPER)

Faculty: Burroughs; Carr; Cobarrubias; Daly; Devlin-Scherer; Fedora; Hindin; Katz; Martinelli; May; McCartan (Chair); McFadden; Mitchel; Mueller; Peskin; Russo; Ruzicka; Skeelee; Zacone; Zinicola

Field Director: Sanchez

The Department of Educational Studies offers courses leading to the degrees Bachelor of Science in Education and Master of Arts in Education. Graduates of certification programs are eligible for recommendation to the State of New Jersey for certification in accordance with state guidelines and codes. Under current rules, candidates must pass the Praxis Exam to qualify for certification and must pursue an academic major in conjunction with their professional major. A cumulative GPA of 2.75 must be maintained in order to take any course in a certification program (EDST and CPSY) and participate in a field placement. The College of Education and Human Services will adhere to state regulations as they change in regard to minimum standards.

All certification programs require a sequence of field experiences and senior clinical practice in the surrounding communities. Transportation to these sites is the responsibility of the candidate.

The Department of Educational Studies is dedicated to the preparation of highly competent, socially conscious, reflective professionals. All the programs within the department, both on the undergraduate and graduate level, reflect this goal. Our emphasis is on outcomes meaning our candidates have not just heard what was taught, but we can see evidence of their learning. The dispositional qualities a candidate brings to the university classroom, fieldwork, and community involvement are an essential component to their overall development and performance. Listed below are the dispositions we expect of all our candidates in Educational Studies.

Professional Code:

Candidates enrolled in the teacher preparation programs in the College of Education and Human Services operate under the following professional code:

- (1) Dependability: candidates are reliable, timely, and consistent in their presence and preparation for courses at the university as well as their field settings.
- (2) Respect & Empathy: candidates are respectful in their address, writing, language, and physical space toward faculty, university staff, school personnel, peers, and students in the field.

- (3) Open-mindedness: candidates respect the context and experience of others; developing the skills to use that information in classroom conversation, writing, and lesson planning.
- (4) Integrity: candidates submit original work, fully cite all sources associated with the development of their work (including information from the internet), and recognize that the university fully supports the use of anti-plagiarism software in support of academic integrity.
- (5) Dress code: candidates recognize that they are considered representatives of the university, college, and program when they are in their field placements. They are expected to adhere to the dress code of the field placement where they are working, recalling that their professional appearance and behavior reflects Seton Hall. (See the College of Education & Human Services field guide for more information.)
- (6) Passion for the profession: candidates display in action, word, and commitment their passion for the profession of teaching, the right for all children to have access to positive and productive learning environments, and a recognition that life as a teacher means dedication to life-long learning.

Failure to adhere to the professional code in either coursework or field experiences may result in referral to the CEHS Retention Committee for consideration of consequences up to and including dismissal from the college.

In addition to general University admission criteria and processes, entering candidates must formally declare their interest in an education program by applying to the College of Education and Human Services. Seton Hall University's average pass rate on the Praxis exams is 93 percent. The New Jersey statewide average pass rate is 98 percent. These figures represent the cohort year 2006-2007.

Elementary Education, Early Childhood and Special Education Programs

Faculty: Fedora; Hindin; May (Co-Director); McFadden; Mitchel; Mueller; Peskin; Zinicola (Co-Director)

There are two programs of study to choose from within this area.

- (1) Integrated Elementary, Early Childhood and Special Education
- (2) Integrated Elementary and Special Education with a concentration in speech and language pathology. (4+2 program) This is a combined undergraduate/graduate program. The undergraduate program consists of a major from the College of Arts and Sciences, a dual certification in elementary and special education, and a concentration in 18 credits of speech-pathology courses. If candidates maintain a GPA of 3.0 each semester, and a GPA of 3.0 in their GMSL courses, they will receive automatic admission into the Seton Hall M.S. in Speech-Language Pathology program.

*Note, this is not an undergraduate speech-pathology program. No certificate in speech is awarded at the end of the undergraduate degree.

Both programs of study require candidates to: (i) select a full major from the College of Arts and Sciences; (ii) complete a general education sequence consisting of courses outside of professional education; and (iii) complete an education major. Candidates must maintain a cumulative GPA of 2.75 or higher to remain in a teacher preparation program; coursework and fieldwork in education cannot occur if the GPA falls below 2.75. Candidates in the combined 4+2 program must maintain a GPA of 3.0 or higher each semester. The College of Education and Human Services will adhere to state regulations as they change in regard to minimum standards.

The minimum number of credits to graduate, for either program listed above, is 120. Credit requirements of the full major from the College of Arts and Sciences may require the candidate to exceed this minimum.

The professional education sequence for these programs leads to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Education and eligibility for endorsement as a teacher, in specified areas, in the State of New Jersey. The sequence of the curriculum of this program is based upon the standards of several national professional associations: (i) the Association for Childhood Education International; (ii) the Council for Exceptional Children; and (iii) the Interstate New Teacher Assessment and Support Consortium (INTASC). As such, the programs offer a high-quality education that reflects best teaching practices as defined by the leading practitioners and researchers in the fields.

Field experience is required for sophomores, juniors, and seniors. Candidates are required to complete four field internships, connected to specific professional education courses, prior to their senior clinical experience. The internships cover an eight week period and consist of 72 hours of contact time in a field setting. Each internship is supervised by a trained representative from the college. The senior clinical experience requires an entire semester of full-time teaching. Supervision at this level occurs at a minimum of eight times throughout the semester. Candidates are responsible for their own transportation to the field internships and senior clinical experience. Please review the general school requirements for the college on the prior page to see procedures and deadlines for applying for the senior experience.

Field Experience and Its Connection to Certification

The mixture of field placements and Praxis exams in the Integrated Elementary and Special Education program can lead to three possible certificates:

Elementary Certification, Special Education Certification, + Early Childhood Certification. Candidates must complete the following range of placements to achieve all three certificates: (i) general education classroom; (ii) inclusive classroom; (iii) one special education classroom (such as a resource room or a private school classroom); and (iv) one preschool - 3rd grade classroom.

Eligibility for Endorsement

Upon completion of the undergraduate education program, candidates are eligible for recommendation to the State of New Jersey for the Certificate of Eligibility with Advanced Standing (CEAS) within their field of study. A passing score on the appropriate Praxis examination is also required for the CEAS. Under current New Jersey regulations, the candidate must then successfully serve as a provisionally-endorsed teacher for one year before the state will grant a permanent certificate.

Although there are reciprocal certification agreements among many states, these are subject to change. Candidates from states other than New Jersey should check with their state’s Department of Education for specific requirements.

Liberal Arts Major: Every education major must complete a full major from Arts and Sciences. Teaching majors, as defined by the New Jersey Department of Education are English, math, history, science (biology and environmental studies), world languages, and fine arts. Other majors such as psychology, social and behavioral sciences, sociology, communications, and others may be taken. However, these types of majors are not considered to be teaching majors, and elementary teachers who have chosen these majors may not teach beyond 5th grade.

Note: Social Work is NOT an option for a co-major with education.*

The minimum number of credits to graduate, for any of the options listed, is 120. Credit requirements of the content area major may require the candidate to exceed the 120 credit minimum.

Candidates must maintain a 2.75 GPA in order to remain in a teacher preparation program; coursework and fieldwork in education can not occur if the GPA drops below 2.75. This GPA must be maintained through the entire academic program and is not limited to a single semester. The College of Education and Human Services will adhere to state regulations as they change in regard to minimum standards.

Secondary Education

Faculty: Burroughs; Daly; Devlin-Scherer (Program Director); Katz; McCartan.

The program in secondary education consists of strong field-oriented and sequenced professional studies and a diverse selection of fields of specialization. Candidates must complete a liberal arts core and an academic major in one of the listed fields, in addition to the sequence of professional education courses in secondary education. Candidates must maintain an overall GPA of 2.75 in order to remain in the program. The College of Education and Human Services will adhere to state regulations as they change in regard to minimum standards. Continuation in the program requires demonstration of competencies.

Supervised internships in sophomore, junior and senior years are varied and are connected to specific professional education courses. The senior clinical experience involves a semester of full-time teaching. Candidates apply for internships with the Office of Field Placement and Supervision: Fall (January 1) and Spring (September 1). For student teaching, applications are due a year in advance: December 1 for the following fall semester and April 1 for the following spring semester. Candidates provide their own transportation to the field internships and senior clinical experience.

After completing the degree program, candidates are eligible for the baccalaureate degree and for recommendation to the State of New Jersey for the certificate of eligibility with advanced standing to teach specific subject areas, K-12. Passing score(s) on the appropriate Praxis Exams also are required for this certificate of eligibility with advanced standing.

Reciprocal certification agreements exist among many states; occasionally, they are subject to change. Candidates from states other than New Jersey should check with the Seton Hall Certification Officer and the individual state's Department of Education for specific requirements.

Candidates elect a certification field that must be taken as an academic major in the College of Arts and Sciences. Fields of certification include:

- Art
- English*
- Mathematics
- Music
- Science (Biology, Chemistry, Physics)
- Social Studies
- World Languages (Chinese, French, German, Latin, Italian, Japanese, Russian, Spanish)

Candidates must complete the academic major in their field of certification and are required to have an adviser in that field. Credit requirements vary for each major.

English Education majors' course work includes World Literature, History of the English Language, Adolescent Literature, Shakespeare and Grammar (1 credit).*

Social studies coursework in economics, geography, political science and sociology.*

Consult the modern languages and Asian studies sections of this catalogue for information about language options and credit requirements. See advisers for details.

Major Program

In addition to the departmental core requirements for the degree, candidates must satisfactorily complete the required courses in professional education, their academic major and related areas and liberal arts electives.

Course and credit requirements are subject to change in accordance with changing New Jersey teacher certification requirements. Candidates are responsible for meeting with their assigned advisers in teacher education and the College of Arts and Sciences each semester to schedule courses and assess progress. Course registration is done with the secondary education program faculty. Individual courses of study will vary according to selected major field(s).

The minimum number of credits required to graduate is 120. Credit requirements of the academic major may require the candidate to exceed the 120 minimum. If the candidate has a total of fewer than 120 credits after completing the liberal arts core, the professional core and the academic major, then additional liberal arts electives must be taken to reach the minimum of 120. It is the responsibility of the candidates to be aware of requirements of their academic major. The maximum number of professional education credits allowed as part of the degree program is 30. The minimum number of liberal arts credits required is 60, including the liberal arts core and the academic major.

268 College of Education and Human Services

Liberal Arts Core

All teacher education candidates take a minimum of 60 hours of liberal arts credits in their program which can be drawn from core courses listed below, their academic major and/or minor programs, and electives. Currently, academic major requirements in different disciplines approved by the State of New Jersey for teaching in public schools range from 42-57 credits. For their remaining liberal arts course requirements, candidates may choose to prepare extensively in their chosen academic field, pursue minor programs that expand or supplement their content area knowledge, or explore related fields.

Certificate in Information Technologies

Director: Rosemary W. Skeele, Ed.D.

Preparing for Your Future

From modems to satellites, from distance education to virtual reality, information technologies are creating exciting and far-reaching changes in our lives. How will you respond to the opportunities and dilemmas they present today and in the future?

A Certificate in Information Technologies will help you establish a base of knowledge that will enable you to live and work effectively in today's knowledge-oriented society.

In this program, you will discover the basic concepts behind a wide range of information technologies and the powerful impact they have on our lives. You will become actively involved in the intelligent utilization of a variety of information systems and the use of computer software to improve productivity, make decisions, pursue research interests, produce multimedia presentations and enhance learning.

The Certificate in Information Technologies

The certificate program acknowledges students who achieve a level of experience and knowledge with information technologies. The certificate program is open to any undergraduate students enrolled at the University.

Certificate Requirements

The College will award the Certificate in Information Technologies to students who successfully complete five, 3-credit information technology courses (15 credits). The certificate award will also be noted on the student's transcript. A maximum of 6 credits will be accepted for equivalent experience in other divisions of the University, or for courses taken at other colleges.

The Undergraduate Information Technologies Program

The following courses may be applied toward the IT certificate.

Certificate in Online Course Development and Management

Director: Rosemary W. Skeeel, Ed.D.

Develop and Teach Online Courses

As we move into the 21st Century, universities and colleges around the world are experiencing the changes created by technology and looking for ways to implement new modes of teaching and training students. Faculty and students are no longer bound to a classroom. There is a shift from the traditional mode of teaching and learning to online education.

Seton Hall University, a leader in Web-based education, is offering an Online Course Development and Management Certificate to help educators and trainers acquire the teaching and technical skills desirable for online teaching. This certificate provides the expertise educators need to teach courses in an online learning environment. As a leader in online education, Seton Hall University offers this program to prepare students for future success in a high tech world. A Certificate in Online Course Development and management will enable you to communicate and instruct effectively in today's cyber environment.

The Certificate in Online Course Development

The certificate program acknowledges students who achieve a level of experience and knowledge with information technologies. The certificate program is open to any undergraduate student enrolled at the University, as well as students who are not enrolled in a full University program.

Certificate Requirements

The College will award the Certificate in Online Course Development and Management to students who successfully complete five 3-credit information technology courses (15 credits).

A maximum of 6 credits may be accepted for equivalent experience in other divisions of the University, or for courses taken at other colleges.

Undergraduate Program

The following courses may be applied toward the Online Course Development and Management Program Certificate.

Course DescriptionsBMIE 1001 Computer Fundamentals

Introduction to computers and computing, problem solving, and the impact of computers in our lives. Course provides a working knowledge of computers and Windows environment with an emphasis on word processing, desktop publishing, spreadsheets, presentation, and Web editing software. Course designed to focus on student computing needs. 3 credits

BMIE 1002 Intermediate Microcomputing

Introduces and develops expertise in database, and semantic networking software. Presents advanced concepts in word processing, spreadsheet, desktop publishing and presentation graphics. Emphasis is placed on using these programs to their full advantage by use of advanced integration. The terminal goal is to develop computing skills as they apply in appropriate organizational settings. 3 credits

270 College of Education and Human Services

BMIE 3705 Web Page Technologies

Learn how to use the Internet and related tools, Microsoft FrontPage, information utilities, and other aspects of information technology. Prepares the non-technical student to survive the electronic information explosion and succeed in the 21st century. 3 credits

BMIE 3710 Electronic Research Technologies

Advanced electronic research using computer-based and Internet accessible tools. Find, evaluate and assemble the best information for individual research interests and workplace needs. Develop research skills and information discrimination techniques using electronic resources. Includes research methodology, bibliography development, search strategies, electronic reference materials, online newspapers and periodicals, email, listservs, and newsgroups. 3 credits

BMIE 3714 Multimedia Technologies

The use of a computer to present and combine text, graphics, audio and video with links and tools to create learning packages, assessment tools, presentations, and stand-alone training. Focus is on good multimedia design, scripting, use of audio and video tools, the Internet as a delivery tool and computer-based training using Director and Premier. 3 credits

BMIE 3716 Access Database Application Development

Learn to manage information using a relational database. Gain the knowledge and expertise to develop simple to complex queries, data entry forms and reports. Database design and the importance of referential integrity are stressed. 3 credits

BMIE 4304 Production I: Visual Communication Design

Introduction to a basic model of communication and the visual production skills required to design information. Text, graphics, visual literacy, visual design, digital photography, and video recording will be explored in relationship to constructing clear communications for maximizing learning. Presenter and presentation techniques using these various communication modes will also be examined. 3 credits

BMIE 4305 Production II: Technology Enhanced Learning Strategies

Learn to design and develop technology-based strategies that support the instructional needs of learners in any content area. Advanced techniques for concept mapping, WebQuests, Excel, PowerPoint, and more will be employed to visualize the thought process, design games, create simulations, encourage collaboration, stimulate active learner participation, and spur learners to engage in both independent and group activities that encourage higher order thinking skills. 3 credits

BMIE 4343 Computer Graphics

Create, plan, design, draw and create Macromedia Flash movies for stand alone and Internet based dissemination. Learn and apply design principles based on visual communication practices. 3 credits

BMIE 4344 Seminar: Social, Ethical and Legal Issues in Computing

Social, ethical, and legal problems associated with computer-based technologies will be explored, debated and researched, along with the means for reducing problems and coping with their effects. 3 credits

BMIE 4345 Online Course Management and Delivery

Learn to design and build online course instruction for delivery via the Internet. Develop the tools to provide online instruction including creating an online environment, learning research techniques, examining plagiarism and copyright issues, and planning overall online course management. 3 credits

BMIE 4346 Computer Networking Fundamentals

This course provides a general introduction to a wide variety of networking concepts, which can be applied to a broad selection of telecommunication related job segments. This course will cover the history and fundamentals of network design and cabling infrastructure; technologies, protocols, communications and the tools necessary to troubleshoot and design. 3 credits

BMIE 4347 Special Projects in Technology

Students develop technology-based projects using new and emerging technologies. The instructional design process is employed throughout the development of the project. Project content is related to student's field of study. 3 credits

BMIE 4348 Online Course Design and Implementation

Design and develop a complete plan for building an online course for Internet delivery. Learn to create course modules, use facilitation and moderating techniques, design assessment and develop a student-centered online environment that encourages positive learning outcomes. 3 credits

BMIE 4349 Internship in Information Technologies I

A field-based opportunity to gain professional experience in a work situation appropriate to career goals. Development of critical thinking and leadership skills while performing authentic tasks. 3 credits

BMIE 4350 Internship in Information Technologies II

Students may take a second semester of a field-based opportunity to gain professional experience in a work situation appropriate to career goals. Development of critical thinking and leadership skills while performing authentic tasks. 3 credits

CPSY 1000 Grammar Workshop

This course is designed as a workshop where candidates actively engage with each other about the appropriate use of grammar in everyday life. Whether applied to preparation as a teacher, use in the business world, or for personal development, the course provides useful information that immediately translates to the student's work. 1 credit

CPSY 1001 Diverse Learners and Their Families, Part I

Introduction to special education law, the referral and evaluation process, definitions for federal and state disability classifications as well as the associated behavioral and learning characteristics for students within the areas.

All classifications will be discussed with extra focus on learning disabilities, mental retardation, ADHD, autism, and emotional and behavioral disorders. Exploration of concepts such as the social construction of disability, the development of a sense of self, stereotypes, prejudice and stigma. The overarching goal for the course is that candidates understand the terminology and general learning needs associated with disability areas while always keeping the person-first in their perceptions and actions. 3 credits

CPSY 1002 Diverse Learners and Their Families, Part II

This course builds upon the foundational knowledge related to special education law and classifications in CPSY 1001. Specifically, areas of service for individuals with disabilities and their families will be examined in this course such as IEPs, IFSPs, and community agencies. Family structure and functioning will be discussed as a means of understanding the interconnection between home, school, and community. In addition, the role of stigma and disability will be discussed with a focus on why it develops and how to counter it. The end of the course translates theory to practice with methods and materials associated with serving students with special needs in the classroom. 3 credits

CPSY 1003 Special Topic: Child Health and Welfare

This workshop focuses on issues of nutrition and child safety. Community and state agencies involved with child and family protection are central to the workshop goals. 1 credit

CPSY 2101 (Formerly EDST 2101) Learning Disabilities

Theoretic constructs underlying learning disabilities and behavioral manifestations of the learning disabled in the home and academic environments. Support systems, pertinent legislation and recent issues. 3 credits

CPSY 2102 Autism and Developmental Disabilities

This course will focus on three types of developmental disabilities: autism, mental retardation, and cerebral palsy. Two themes provide the framework for the course across all three disability categories: (i) speech and communication challenges and (ii) educational program options and supportive interventions. Assistive technology will be discussed as a tool in both areas. 3 credits

CPSY 2200 Health Promotion for Children

To effectively deal with health-related issues of youth, this course combines the study of the nature and nurture of children. It addresses the skills, information, and behavior relevant to the promotion of wellness and resiliency of children. HIV/AIDS, sexuality, violence, chemical substances, safe environment, illness and disease prevention are issues that bring public attention to schools and community agencies. This course attends to the current findings in the area of prevention education to enable learners to make informed decisions. Information and resources, professional responsibilities, procedures, policies and laws, and resources are integrated with multiple approaches to be taken with children. 3 credits

CPSY 3103 (Formerly EDST 3103) Psycho-Educational Diagnosis and Assessment in Special Education

Basic principles of psychological, developmental and educational testing, diagnosis and assessment. Consideration and evaluation of the types of tests commonly used in special education Introduction to diagnostic and assessment processes and report writing. Discussion of controversial issues. Lab fee. 3 credits

CPSY 3105 Leadership in Service Learning

In this course, service learning is viewed as a method for instruction, as an approach to learning, and as social action remedy for schools/community problems. Students discuss and experience service as a social action designed to improve a situation in a setting or community by identifying, discussing, analyzing and acting on needs at a local site. Readings, discussions and group exercises in class are designed to help participants better understand the concept of service as it applies to them. 3 credits

CPSY 4103 (Formerly EDST 4103) Sign Language I

This course provides an introduction to those with no experience with sign language. A focus on vocabulary development for everyday activities and visual recognition of finger spelling and signing is emphasized. 3 credits

CPSY 4104 (Formerly EDST 4104) Sign Language II

This course is for candidates who have taken Sign Language I or have had practical use of sign language in other contexts. Development of conversational ability and applied use is emphasized. 3 credits

EDST 1001 Introduction to Teaching: The Profession

This course is an introduction to the many facets of education. The course will explore the profession of education, the structure and organization of schools, the legal and historical aspects of education, educational theory and philosophy, and schools for the next century. Candidates will understand how to establish healthy, positive relationships with children, parents, colleagues and community members. They will reflect on attitudes, aptitudes, skills and dispositions of successful teachers. 3 credits

EDST 1301 Educational Psychology and Classroom Practice

The components of the learning process and the contributions of psychology to education. Student characteristics, the process of human growth and the role of intelligence in the context of family and schooling. Environmental factors, social class, and cultural and racial differences on the development and measurement of teaching. Leading learning theories and their applications to teaching. Personal and social factors impacting on motivation and learning. Theories of the cognitive process. Methods for effective instruction, measurement and evaluation. Presenting classroom materials in a healthy school environment that accommodates individual, linguistic and cultural differences. 3 credits

EDST 1415 Physical Education I

Physical conditioning and defensive tactics and how they apply to the student's experience. Various forms of running, freehand exercises, weight training, organized athletics, tumbling and gymnastics. A boxing program reflects students' reactions under the stress of physical confrontation. Training extends into hand-to-hand combat and self-defense against various weapons. Examinations and critiques included. 3 credits

EDST 1416 Physical Education II

Crash injury management and physiology, water self-survival and lifesaving. Learning the structure and functions of the human body to enable the student to better perform physical functions of present-day law enforcement. Emergency care work is emphasized. 3 credits

EDST 1501 Education in the United States: Past and Present

A study of the public education system (K-12) in America, the goals of education and the institutions that have evolved to meet those goals. The political, social, economic and intellectual developments that historically influence educational theory and practice. Recent educational changes resulting from contemporary reform efforts. 3 credits

EDST 2001 Life in the Diverse Classroom

Life in the Classroom is designed to assist pre-service teachers in developing the skills, competencies and attitudes needed for teaching and managing a classroom of diverse learners. Candidates will examine learners and their diverse needs and gain knowledge of how to address these needs in an inclusive classroom. Candidates will examine the nature of teaching, overview of the elementary curriculum, strategies for working with diverse learners, planning for effective instruction, and instructional theory into practice. They will be introduced to various materials for use with children with disabilities, such as, assistive technology and functional academic guides. 3 credits

EDST 2003 Instructional Theory and Practice

Readings and discussions focus on models of teaching and enriching student learning. Practice in improving communication skills and lesson delivery through microteaching and structured exercises. Meeting student needs with appropriate strategies is an essential part of this course. 3 credits

EDST 2004 Early Literacy for All Children

Focuses on the teaching and acquisition of literacy in the early elementary years; develops knowledge of specific literacy skills such as phonics, sight words, oral reading fluency, reading comprehension, spelling and composition; presents techniques for teaching reading, writing, listening and speaking; develops knowledge of special corrective techniques; stresses an integrated skills approach, emphasizes motivation, the development of positive attitudes towards the language arts, and a love of literature. Field experience involvement. 3 credits

EDST 2005 Teaching Math in the Diverse Classroom

This course is designed for those who will be elementary teachers of mathematics. It is designed to help pre-service teachers facilitate children learning mathematical concepts and skills, as well as important problem solving techniques. In the process it will challenge thinking and further stimulate interest in mathematics. It will increase knowledge of the NCTM Standards. The National Council of Teachers of Math Standards have identified communication as an important part of mathematics learning and this class is designed to encourage and facilitate communication. Field experience involvement. 3 credits

EDST 2006 Teaching Science in the Diverse Classroom

Elementary Science content areas, process skills, teaching styles, strategies and techniques are explored through class lectures, discussions, assigned readings, lesson planning and teaching, cooperative group work, research, projects, experiments, demonstrations, use of technology and presentations. The process of learning by doing science with a constructivist emphasis is demonstrated and practiced in class as well as the integration of science with other subject areas. Field experience involvement. 3 credits

EDST 2501 Philosophy of Education and Curriculum Development

Ideological, philosophical, psychological and sociological influences on curriculum. Examination of major philosophies that affect education and curriculum development. Curriculum design and the factors that impact on its effectiveness and evaluation. How goals and objectives reflect educational purpose and the curriculum. Alternative models in curriculum design and implementation. Specific curriculum design issues in various content areas of secondary education. 3 credits

EDST 3003 Teaching Social Studies in the Diverse Classroom

Preparing productive and responsible citizens requires education directed at that goal. Such education imparts knowledge about our history, and our political and economic systems. It develops the skills, attitudes, and values that support motivated citizen movement. It shows candidates that accurately informed and directly involved citizens are important to our national well being. Develops strategies for teaching the social studies. Field experience involvement. 3 credits

EDST 3005 Literacy Across the Curriculum

Focuses on the teaching and acquisition of literacy in the upper elementary years; stresses techniques for improving vocabulary, comprehension and writing skills; develops knowledge of process writing and methods of assessing language arts performance; investigates the application of reading and writing to content area learning; develops knowledge of children's literature; underscores the importance of modeling, motivation and positive attitudes. Field experience involvement. 3 credits

EDST 3301 Educational Evaluation

Theory and practice of educational testing, and the development and use of tests and other forms of assessment. Analysis and interpretation of test results. Practice in test construction and application in candidates' major areas of specialization. Emphasis on alternative and authentic forms of assessment. Candidates examine the assets and limitations of various assessment instruments and strategies as well as develop a variety of assessment tools in their subject fields. 3 credits

EDST 3510 Culture, Community and Schools

Implications of race, ethnic background, religion, language and gender on schooling of children. Community organizations that impact on the school. Analysis of various cultures that influence American education. Special attention to recognition and integration of multicultural education. 3 credits

Also studied are: the influence of the bureaucratic, hierarchical nature of schooling on social education; existing and proposed alternatives; the making of teaching decisions and the influences that shape them; and identifying individual differences. 3 credits

EDST 3605 Teaching Methods for World Languages

Presents candidates with a current picture of modern language teaching and its place in our society. Candidates learn a variety of approaches to communicative language instruction, create lessons using these methods, and practice presenting their lessons as they learn to become reflective practitioners of their craft. Candidates are responsible for readings in the texts, professional journals and other materials. 3 credits

EDST 3700 Integrating Curriculum and Technology

Learn how to integrate "best practice" and technology standards with a technology-based curriculum. A broad range of computer-supported learning tools, projects, and emerging technologies explored, created, and evaluated through an interactive approach. 3 credits

EDST 4000 Child Development and Curriculum

This course is designed for freshmen to enable them to understand the emotional, physical, cognitive, social and moral development of the child prior to working with children in schools. The course offers instruction on development from birth through adolescence with a special focus on the early childhood developmental stages and developmentally appropriate practice. Understanding how children grow and develop enables candidates to make appropriate decisions in their work with children relating to subject matter, methods, curriculum goals, and materials. In addition to field visits to Pre-K settings, candidates will complete projects that connect child development knowledge to curriculum. 3 credits

EDST 4001 Senior Internship

The seminar is organized to support senior candidates engaged in their culminating field experience and to deepen beginning teachers' understanding of three main topics: the classroom and the school, student development and learning, and curriculum. Selected topics will include current curriculum, analysis of teaching effectiveness, human relations in the school, classroom management and discipline, teaching strategies, learning across the curriculum, evaluation, employment and professional growth. 6 credits

274 College of Education and Human Services

EDST 4120 Seminar in Special Education & Speech & Language Pathology

This course is for seniors in the 4+2 special education/speech and language pathology program, and is taken in conjunction with their clinical practice. Candidates are provided with a forum to work through their full-time teaching experience (e.g. strategies, behavioral interventions and supports) and reflect upon their practice over the program and in preparation for their future in schools and speech therapy. A culminating professional standards portfolio is completed in this course that allows candidates to provide their own evidence to indicate their competence, social consciousness and reflective skills. 3 credits

EDST 4500 Senior Internship

A 15-week placement in an approved school setting (under the supervision of a cooperating teacher and College of Education personnel) that enables candidates to develop and refine their competencies as teachers. Complementing this full-time practical experience is a weekly seminar that relates theoretical principles and content to practice through case studies, class discussion, and the development of lesson plans, modules and curriculum units. Requires full-time student teaching for a full semester. Prerequisites: EDST 1501, 3510, 1301, 2003, 3700, 3301, 2501 and appropriate methods course or program recommendation. 6 credits

HPER 1407 Beginner Tennis

Fundamentals of the rules, regulations, basic strokes and a general knowledge of how the game should be played. 3 credits

HPER 1417 Basic Concepts in Health

Application of health science to everyday living. Consideration of current aspects of health: social, mental, emotional, personal and physical. 3 credits

HPER 2404 Athletic Conditioning and First Aid

First aid treatment for common injuries occurring in various branches of physical activities and prevention of injuries in athletic activities. Care of athletic injuries – bandaging, taping, conditioning, massage, physical therapy. American Red Cross Standard First Aid and First Responder certification is available to qualified students. 3 credits

HPER 2405 Aquatics

Provides training in teaching Red Cross swimming skills, water safety and conditioning. Offers students the opportunity to receive certification in Advanced Senior Lifesaving and/or Water Safety Instruction. 3 credits

HPER 3401 Physiology of Exercise

Changes in body function resulting from physical effort. Functional reaction which follows exercise. Study of applied anatomy and kinesiology as it relates to sports medicine. Prerequisites BIOL 1102 and 1103. 3 credits

HPER 3409 Topics in Family Life Education

Prepares educators for teaching health education topics in the affective domain. Resources and strategies for teaching abuse prevention and intervention, mental health family dynamics, and issues of sexuality are covered. Course also includes opportunity for community health education projects. Field trip required. Prerequisite HPER 1417. 3 credits

HPER 3444 Scuba Diving

Practice in the techniques of scuba diving skills, safety procedures and equipment management. Students may opt for certification. Lab fee additional. 3 credits

HPER 3560 Biomechanics

Combines the study of physiology, physics and biology as they apply to motor conditioning. Prerequisites BIOL 1102-1103, HPER 2404. 3 credits

HPER 3570 Principles and Practice of Community Health

Study of the roles of the community health educator and information regarding resources for community health education. Course includes practical experience in addition to classroom instruction. Prerequisite 9 credits in health education and a 2.5 GPA. 3 credits

HPER 4402 Nutrition and Physical Fitness

Personal nutrition and its role in the athletic conditioning program; nutritive value of foods; basic food needs of different age groups; the chemistry of nutrition; relationship of nutrition to physical fitness; diseases, optimum health and sports participation. 3 credits

HPER 4410 Elementary Folk Dance, Games and Rhythm

Instruction in various forms of folk, social, rhythmic and aerobic dances. Theory and practice of all types of simple, individual and group games suitable for different age groups. 3 credits

The School of Health and Medical Sciences offers three distinct educational programs for healthcare professionals: residency and fellowship training for physicians, dentists and pharmacists; continuing medical education for primary care providers and practicing specialists; and graduate programs in health sciences. By design, the programs are intended to prepare healthcare practitioners to competently, competitively and creatively function in a dynamic healthcare environment.

276 School of Health and Medical Sciences

General Information

The School of Health and Medical Sciences, established in 1987, is a professional school within the University structure. The School's mission is to prepare healthcare professionals to assume leadership roles in the healthcare arena. To achieve this goal, a variety of unique and innovative educational programs are offered utilizing a multi-institutional/integrated approach to graduate education. The School comprises three distinct educational programs: residency and fellowship training, continuing professional development and graduate programs in health sciences.

Residency programs offer training for physicians and dentists in specialty areas such as internal medicine, surgery, orthopedics, dentistry, oral and maxillofacial surgery, podiatry, AOA internship, internal medicine and emergency medicine. There also is subspecialty training available for qualified candidates who have completed the appropriate prerequisite training. All residency and fellowship programs are ACGME, AOA, APMA, ADA accredited. Residency training is also available in pharmacy. The training occurs at participating institutions: Saint Michael's Medical Center in Newark; St. Joseph's Regional Medical Center in Paterson; Trinitas Hospital in Elizabeth; St. Francis Medical Center in Trenton and John F. Kennedy Medical Center in Edison. The hospitals and the University jointly attest to the successful completion of the residency training through issuance of a certificate.

Continuing professional development is a program designed to provide updating of the most useful recent advances in the diagnosis and management of medical and physical disorders as they are encountered by primary healthcare providers and practicing specialists. The University and the participating hospitals offer these updates in the form of conferences, seminars, courses, workshops and mini-residency experiences.

The School offers dual degree (undergraduate-to-graduate) programs in athletic training, occupational therapy, physical therapy, physician assistant, and speech-language pathology in collaboration with the College of Arts and Science (Department of Biological Sciences/Department of Social and Behavioral Sciences) and the College of Education and Human Services (Program in Special Education/Elementary Education). Students enrolled in an undergraduate dual degree program must declare their intent to continue matriculation in their major no later than August 15th prior to their junior year. Eligible students seeking to transfer into any of the SHMS dual degree programs will be considered on a space-available basis. For detailed information about these programs, please consult the pages that follow in this section of the catalogue as well as the sections pertaining to the departments noted above.

At the graduate level, the School offers several innovative graduate programs in the health sciences. These programs are designed to provide individuals with an enhanced knowledge base through a flexible and diverse curriculum. Two post-professional graduate programs in the health sciences are offered: M.S. and Ph.D. in Health Sciences. The School offers programs leading to the degrees Doctor of Philosophy in Health Sciences with specializations in health professions leadership, movement science and speech-language pathology; Master of Science in Health Sciences with specializations in movement science, health professions leadership and athletic training. Graduate courses may be offered at off-campus sites.

The School of Health and Medical Sciences offers a Master of Science in Occupational Therapy program designed to prepare knowledgeable, caring healthcare practitioners who can provide a broad range of patient care services, conduct clinical research and carry out administrative responsibilities in all occupational therapy practice areas.

The Master of Science in Physician Assistant program prepares post-baccalaureate students to perform as entry-level physician assistants in the broad healthcare arena. The School offers a Master of Science in Speech-Language Pathology. The program prepares practitioners with comprehensive knowledge and the clinical skills to work in all health care and school-based settings where speech-language pathologists practice.

The School offers the only Master of Science in Athletic Training in New Jersey, and is one of less than two dozen entry-level master's programs in the country. The program prepares students to practice as entry-level athletic training practitioners who provide a wide range of patient care services.

The School offers a Doctor of Physical Therapy program. The program is intended to prepare physical therapists to assume leadership roles in rehabilitation services, prevention and health maintenance programs, and professional and community organizations.

Class Attendance and Academic Integrity

Attendance at each class meeting is expected. Instructors may take class attendance into account when determining grades. All forms of dishonesty, whether by act or omission, including, but not limited to, cheating, plagiarism and knowingly furnishing false information to the University, are prohibited. Intentional disruption or obstruction of teaching, research or administrative proceedings is prohibited. University sanctions may extend to suspension and dismissal. Work submitted in courses must be the product of the efforts of the student presenting it, and contributions of others to the finished work must be appropriately acknowledged. The presentation of another's work as one's own is a serious violation of the academic process, and it is penalized accordingly. The decision on the appropriate penalty is in the first instance the professor's, and it may extend to a failing grade for the course.

Preparatory Undergraduate Course Sequence in Speech-Language Pathology

The Department of Speech-Language Pathology offers six undergraduate preparatory courses in speech-language pathology to individuals who hold a baccalaureate degree in a field other than speech-language pathology, communication disorders, or speech and hearing science. It is not a degree granting program. Successful completion of these courses in speech-language pathology does not, in any way, guarantee admission to the Master of Science in Speech-Language Pathology program at Seton Hall University. Students interested in taking their preparatory course work at Seton Hall University must complete a separate graduate admission application. Undergraduate preparatory courses in speech-language pathology are offered once per year and include:

GMSL 5000	Introduction to Speech and Hearing Science (3 credits)
GMSL 5001	Phonetics (3 credits)
GMSL 5002	Anatomy and Physiology of the Speech and Hearing Mechanism (3 credits)
GMSL 5003	Introduction to Language Development (3 credits)
GMSL 5004	Introduction to Audiology (3 credits)
GMSL 5007	Introduction to Communication Disorders (3 credits)

Dual Degree Programs

Dual degree programs offer students acceptance into a course of study beginning in the freshman year as an undergraduate and culminating with a graduate degree. In fact, dual degree students receive a baccalaureate degree at the end of three or four years (depending on the health sciences program) and a graduate degree is granted two, three or four years later. If the required GPA is maintained as an undergraduate, students are guaranteed admission into the final years of professional study.

The School of Health and Medical Sciences, in collaboration with other schools and colleges at the University, offer the following dual degree programs:

Department of Occupational Therapy

3+3 Dual Degree Programs

- Bachelor of Arts in Social and Behavioral Sciences and Master of Science in Occupational Therapy

For Social and Behavioral Sciences/Occupational Therapy Program description, see page 216.

Department of Athletic Training

3+2 Dual Degree Program

- Bachelor of Science in Biology and Master of Science in Athletic Training
- Bachelor of Arts in Social and Behavioral Sciences and Master of Science in Athletic Training

For Biology/Athletic Training Program description, see page 113.

For Social and Behavioral Science/Athletic Training Program description, see page 217.

Department of Physical Therapy

3+4 Dual Degree Program

- Bachelor of Science in Biology and Doctor of Physical Therapy

See page 109 for program description.

Department of Physician Assistant

3+3 Dual Degree Program

- Bachelor of Science in Biology and Master of Science in Physician Assistant

See page 111 for program description.

Department of Speech-Language Pathology

4+2 Dual Degree Program

- Bachelor of Science in Special Education/Elementary Education and Master of Science in Speech-Language Pathology

See page 266 for program description.

Course Descriptions

ATFY 4007 (GMAT 7007) Research Project I

Students develop a clinically focused research proposal for submission to the University Institutional Review Board. Students work in small classroom groups with a faculty adviser. Prerequisite: ATFY 4907 (GMAT 6907). 1 credit

ATFY 4010 (GMAT 6010) Athletic Training Principles I

This is an introductory course orienting the entry-level athletic training student to the profession of athletic training and discusses the various responsibilities of a certified athletic trainer. Other topics discussed include the recognition of environmental illnesses and emergency situations including the evaluation and management of acute cervical spine-related injuries. This course includes a lab component in which students learn and practice different taping and wrapping techniques, and fabricating protective padding. Students also learn to properly apply different sports equipment. 3 credits

ATFY 4011 (GMAT 6011) Athletic Training Principles II

This is a continuation of GMAT 6010 and includes discussion of common and acute pathologies of the upper and lower extremity. Mechanism of injury, signs, and symptoms, and on-field injury management is discussed in lecture and practiced in lab. Students demonstrate the appropriate care for these acute conditions as well as demonstrate preventative and protective methods. Prerequisite: ATFY 6010 (GMAT 6010). 3 credits

ATFY 4107 (GMAT 7107) Research Project II

In this course the student finalizes and implements the research proposal designed in Research Project I. Emphasis is on statistical procedures, data collection, data analysis and interpretation. Students work in small classroom groups with a faculty adviser. Prerequisite: ATFY 4007 (GMAT 7007). 1 credit

ATFY 4400 (GMAT 7400) Clinical Practicum I

This is the first of four clinical and seminar experiences. The students continue to develop clinical proficiency through the performance of selected clinical skills. With the clinical instructor's direct supervision and instruction, the students begin to integrate the examination, evaluation, assessment, and intervention skills learned thus far in the curriculum. The seminar component will engage students in clinical problem-centered discussion providing integration of concepts of evaluation and management of musculoskeletal problems of the extremities and proper medical documentation. Prerequisite: ATFY 4011 (GMAT 6011). 2 credits

ATFY 4907 (GMAT 6907) Research Methods

Introduces and provides students a working knowledge of the research process with an emphasis on formulating a research question and research design. The goal is to help students prepare a research proposal for a research topic. 3 credits

GMED 4001 (GMED 6001) Functional Human Anatomy

A clinically oriented human gross anatomy course in which the structure and function of the human body is presented. All systems of the body are studied with special emphasis given to skeletal, muscular, and nervous systems as it relates to clinical practice. 3 credits

GMED 4004 (GMED 6004) Biomedical Ethics

A study of the application of human and professional values, judgment, and choices to selected ethical dilemmas that arise in practice. Emphasis on various traditional and contemporary approaches to normative ethics within decision-making models applicable to resolving professional dilemmas in the delivery of health care. 2 credits

GMED 4009 (GMED 6009) Surface Anatomy and Palpation

This course introduces the student to the application of physical examination. Emphasis is placed on the study of superficial anatomical landmarks and tissues. Attention is paid to manual identification of selected musculoskeletal structures in the human mechanical system. 1 credit

GMED 4012 (GMED 6012) Kinesiology

This course presents the application of physics, anatomy, and physiology to the understanding of human movement. Emphasis is on the study of the development and function of bone, muscle, and ligaments in contributing to normal motion. Attention is paid to synovial joints as key linkage in the human mechanical system. 3 credits

GMED 4013 (GMED 6013) Therapeutic Modalities

This course emphasizes the use of heat, cold, compression, traction and electrotherapeutic techniques in the management of patients with impairments and functional limitations due to a variety of orthopedic, neurological and medical conditions. This course will stress a problem solving approach for the selection and application of appropriate procedures to manage pain, edema, and limitations in motion, muscle weakness and wound healing. 3 credits

GMED 4022 (GMED 6022) Basic Rehabilitation Procedures

Provides the student with an introduction to the principles of patient care. Topics include: Patient interviewing, documentation, monitoring of vital signs, positioning, transfers and the use of assistive equipment for ADL activities. Students will also be introduced to physical examination skills including: goniometry, range of motion, manual muscle testing, reflex testing and sensory testing. 3 credits

GMED 4101 (GMED 6101) Human Physiology

Analysis of the patterns of deviation from normal function and adaptive/restorative function available in the presence of disease or trauma primarily affecting the skeletal, connective tissue, muscular, integumentary and nervous systems. Information will be presented at the tissue, organ and system level. Discussion will address changes in response to disease or trauma over the entire lifespan. 3 credits

GMED 4102 (GMED 6102) Neuroscience

This course will cover the basic structure, organization, and function of the central nervous system (CNS). Lectures and laboratories focus on understanding localization of function within specific structures and pathways of the brain and spinal cord. The major sensory, motor, and cognitive systems are also covered. Introduction to the major syndromes associated with vascular accidents, trauma or diseases of the CNS. 3 credits

GMED 4104 (GMED 6104) Exercise Physiology and Nutrition

This course integrates principles of nutrition and application to exercise. It examines the dietary practices used in pursuit of weight maintenance, health, and fitness. Also, presents the responses of the human body to normal and pathological processes. Emphasis is placed on the study of muscle physiology, metabolism, cardiovascular and respiratory adaptation, aging, thermoregulation, strength training, and exercise prescription. Application of evaluation procedures is provided thru the use of selected human performance instruments. 4 credits

GMED 4108 (GMED 6108) Motor Control Principles

Analysis of current theories of motor control and motor learning in the areas of neuroscience, kinesiology and psychology with application to resolution of problems related to neuromuscular development and dysfunction. 2 credits

GMSL 5000 Introduction to Speech and Hearing Science

Basic foundation in the anatomy and physiology of the auditory mechanism, basic acoustic principles, physics of sound and speech perception. 3 credits

GMSL 5001 Phonetics

Introduction to the field of phonetics, including general phonetics, acoustic phonetics and phonetic transcription (International Phonetic Alphabet). Provides basic understanding of the production and acoustic characteristics of the consonants and vowels of American English. Addresses segmental and suprasegmental properties of spoken language. 3 credits

GMSL 5002 Anatomy and Physiology of the Speech and Hearing Mechanism

Basic foundation of anatomy and physiology of the speech, swallowing and hearing mechanisms and related systems in the context of application to clinical practice. 3 credits

GMSL 5003 Introduction to Language Development

Basic foundation of language development, the processes underlying language development and related theoretical foundations. Language development is presented within the broader context of child development, with an emphasis on the early years. 3 credits

GMSL 5004 Introduction to Audiology

Overview of the important concepts and principle tests used in clinical audiology. Common pathologies of the auditory system and associated audiometric data are also emphasized. 3 credits

GMSL 5007 Introduction to Communication Disorders

This course provides the student with an introduction to the various disorders of the speech and language mechanisms that speech-language pathologists assess and treat. 3 credits

OTFY 4110 (GMOT 6110) Functional Human Anatomy

Basic functional human anatomy course with emphasis on skeletal, muscular, connective tissue and nervous systems. Information presented at the tissue, organ and system levels. Visualization of the human body is presented using both models and interactive computer software that present gross dissection, tissue samples and clinical imaging. Discussion of normal structure changes over the entire life span. 3 credits

OTFY 4111 (GMOT 7111) Clinical Integration Seminar I

Clinical Integration supports the concurrent fieldwork experience in psychosocial rehabilitation. The seminar employs the use of Problem Based Learning (PBL) to develop skills in problem identification, critical thinking and clinical reasoning using clinical experiences and case studies. The Occupational Therapy Practice Framework is used as a tool to assist students in assembling case information. 1 credit each

OTFY 4120 (GMOT 6120) Human Physiology

This course is designed to provide the occupational therapy graduate student with a thorough understanding of basic human physiology. The student should be able to understand and explain, concisely and thoroughly, major physiological processes within the human body, as well as apply their learned knowledge of physiology to case analysis. For OT students. 4 credits

OTFY 4130 (GMOT 6130) Kinesiology

This course presents the application of physics, anatomy, and physiology to the understanding of human movement. Emphasis on the study of development and function of bone, muscle and ligaments in contributing to normal motion. Attention is paid to synovial joints as key linkage in the human mechanical system and how their movements are created and governed. The laboratory component of this course reviews the theory and application of goniometry, manual muscle testing and physical evaluation. Activity analysis, documentation and goal setting are included. 3 credits

OTFY 4140 (GMOT 6140) Neuroscience

This course will cover the basic structure, organization and function of the central nervous system (CNS). Lectures and laboratories focus on understanding localization of function within specific structures and pathways of the brain and spinal cord, and typical syndromes associated with vascular accidents, trauma or disease of the various parts of the CNS. 3 credits

OTFY 4210 (GMOT 6210) Clinical Medicine in Occupational Therapy I

This is the first of a two-course sequence that explores alterations in body function and system or organ failure that can occur as the result of disease or illness. This course will address dysfunctions, illnesses or injuries that impact occupational performance. Medications used in the treatment of these illnesses or dysfunctions will be incorporated throughout the semester. The language of medicine will be integrated throughout the course using both oral and written communication. Cultural differences and gender, ethnic, and economic disparities in health care will be identified. 3 credits

OTFY 4320 (GMOT 6320) Development Across the Life Span I

This is the first of two courses that explore development and change across the lifespan. Major theories of developmental psychology are reviewed with application to student observations of infants, children, adolescents, adults, and the elderly. Consideration is given to the balance of constitutional/biological and contextual influences on the emergence of milestones and occupational choices. 2 credits

OTFY 4330 (GMOT 6330) Development Across the Life Span II

This is the second in a sequence of two courses (OTFY 4320, 4330 and GMOT 6320, 6330) which explore human development throughout the lifespan. The class begins with a discussion of the demographics of theories about aging, and psychosocial development of the adolescent, adult, and older adult. Culture, gender, ethnicity, generation and personality are discussed as they influence development over time. Following this, four major time periods are explored in depth including adolescence, transition to adulthood, middle age, and the older adult. Dementia, death, dying and the bereavement process are discussed. For each time period, roles, occupations, challenges, and changes in physical, sensory and cognitive factors are studied. Students explore typical contexts for living, working, and leisure for the adolescent, adult and aging adult. Students gain further insight into each stage of development through projects including a personal interview and contextual visit, cinema, or book review. Each student prepares a paper on a topical issue of choice for one of the major time periods. Each class is conducted with a review of relevant reading, student experiences and reflections, and relevance to occupational therapy practice. 2 credits

OTFY 4412 (GMOT 6412) Intro to Theory and Practice I/Level I Fieldwork

Introduces the profession of OT including history, philosophy, theoretical foundations and principles of occupation. Explores the scope of practice including the range of disabilities served and assessment and treatment strategies. Explores professional issues of patient care, code of ethics, professional relationships and professional organizations. 3 credits

OTFY 4415 (GMOT 6415) Seminar in Activity Analysis in Occupational Therapy

This lab introduces students to activities and the use of occupations. Students are expected to use the language of the Occupational Therapy Practice Framework and the principles of activity analysis during lab activities. All activities are analyzed as a part of lab tasks. Students are expected to actively participate in all lab activities, and able to articulate how these skills relate not only to adaptation but also to the tasks in clients' everyday lives. 1 credit

OTFY 4417 (GMOT 6417) Seminar in Occupational Therapy Practice Skills

The content lab introduces students to basic healthcare tasks as well as tasks that occupational therapists perform as part of service delivery. Activities include but are not limited to taking vital signs, basic wheelchair parts adjustment, infection control, and use of adaptive equipment in ADLs. Students are required to demonstrate competence in assigned activities. 1 credit

OTFY 4510 (GMOT 6510) Psychosocial Studies and Group Process in Occupational Therapy

This course is designed to explore occupation-based practice for persons requiring psychosocial rehabilitation across a variety of occupational therapy settings. Mental illness or dysfunction is associated with diminishment or loss of ability to perform valued occupations, fulfill valued socio-cultural roles, and participate meaningfully in life contexts. Students develop theoretical knowledge and practical skills in approaches to client-centered practice that focus on the person from childhood through old age, his or her occupations, and access to participation in life context. Individual and group approaches to evaluation, intervention are included. Students exercise skills in observation, evaluation, intervention, and documentation of needs and services. They also develop their knowledge of mental health promotion and illness prevention for people with psychosocial dysfunction and for the well community. The development of clinical reasoning is fostered through a variety of academic and clinical experiences, including Level I fieldwork in a mental health setting. Identification of clients' needs for living and working successfully in their local communities leads students to investigate community resources that address those needs and may suggest new arenas and avenues of support for occupational therapy practice to address needs that remain unmet. 4 credits

PAFY 4001 (GMPA 6001) Human Anatomy

The course provides instruction to significant aspects of human anatomy with respect to physician assistant practice. Lecture instruction as well as prosected dissection in cadaver lab are methods used to convey material. Clinical application of anatomic structure and function are emphasized. 4 credits

PAFY 4104 (GMPA 6104) Psychiatry

An overview of psychiatric concepts and an introductory approach to the evaluation of patients with emotional problems, in preparation for clinical rotations. Includes the various psychiatric syndromes, in terms of causal factors, clinical presentation, diagnosis, treatment and outcome. The impact that psychological problems have on the total health care of the patient will be emphasized. 2 credits

PAFY 4107 (GMPA 6107) Pathophysiology

The fundamentals of the morphopathological changes found in the different organs of the body in order to interpret the various disease states affecting the human body. Gross and microscopic specimens are used to provide a clear understanding of the disease processes. 3 credits

PAFY 4108 (GMPA 6108) Health Maintenance and Education

Prepares students to provide preventive health care through the understanding of human development as it relates to illness and health maintenance. Students will receive in-depth instruction in the principles of health maintenance from the Physician Assistant perspective. 2 credits

PAFY 4109 (GMPA 6109) Pharmacology

An introduction to the therapeutic agents most commonly used in the practice of medicine. Emphasis will be placed on drug interaction, adverse reactions, therapeutic effects and dosage schedules. Physical manifestations of drug abuse and accidental poisoning also will be discussed. 2 credits

PAFY 4110 (GMPA 6110) Clinical Therapeutics

Demonstrates the practical application of the pharmaceutical science as utilized for the formulation of drug therapy decisions. The course will assist the physician assistant student to develop management plans for initiating routine drug therapy, writing prescriptions, monitoring drug therapy, and providing emergency drug therapy. 2 credits

PAFY 4111 (GMPA 6111) Human Physiology

This course provides an in-depth exploration of the physiologic aspects of homeostasis. Topics include the cell, musculoskeletal, cardiorespiratory, digestive, renal, endocrine, and reproductive systems. Correlation to the clinical aspect of disease is emphasized. Open to physician assistant majors only. 3 credits

PAFY 4203 (GMPA 6203) Introduction to Clinical Medicine I

Introduction to interviewing techniques and principles, psychosocial development and behavior, and the effective relationship between the physician assistant, other health professionals and the patient. Techniques of physical examination and use of examining equipment are introduced. Students are assigned to preceptors for the purpose of taking complete histories and performing complete physical examination on patients. 4 credits

PAFY 4204 (GMPA 6204) Clinical and Diagnostic Methods

The required didactic component in radiology, electrocardiogram (ECG), and clinical laboratory testing. Basic principles of radiology, ECG interpretation, laboratory studies and their correlations between disease process are discussed. Students are exposed to essential clinical procedures during lab sessions such as phlebotomy, injections, intravenous catheter placement, 12-lead ECG, and other procedures pertinent to PA practice. 4 credits

PAFY 4205 (GMPA 6205) Introduction to Clinical Medicine II

The problem-oriented medical record format, techniques of physical diagnosis and use of examining equipment. Systems-based approach to signs and symptoms of diseases commonly seen in primary care are discussed. Students are assigned to preceptors for the purpose of further understanding of the patient-health care provider relationship and communication with other health care providers. Narrative case presentation, using the problem-oriented medical record format. 4 credits

PTFY 4030 (GDPT 6030) Clinical Skills I

This course will promote skills acquisition in basic elements of patient services. Emphasis is placed on basic physical handling skills, health care record information collection and documentation, general screening for all systems, and essential of patient-practitioner interaction. 2 credits

PTFY 4031 (GDPT 6031) Clinical Skills II

The course promotes skills acquisition in basic elements of patient services. Emphasis is placed on basic handling skills, health care record information collection and documentation, general screening for all systems, and essentials of patient-practitioner interaction. The course will prepare the student to integrate elements from examination procedures into basic treatment approaches. 3 credits

PTFY 4123 (GDPT 6123) Physical Therapy Roles in Health Care

Introduction to knowledge, skills and values underlying physical therapist roles within the healthcare system of the United States. Discussion of professional roles in relationship to clients and other providers, sources of information supporting clinical practice in physical therapy, and relationship of therapists to professional organizations. Introduction to regulatory mechanisms involving healthcare institutions and the practice of physical therapy. Introduction to mechanisms of communication and information documentation within the healthcare system. 2 credits

Programs of Study

The College of Nursing offers programs of study leading to the degree Bachelor of Science in Nursing and is accredited by the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education, and is approved by the New Jersey Board of Nursing. Seton Hall University also is accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education. The programs combine a liberal arts education with basic preparation in professional nursing. Registered nurse baccalaureate graduates are prepared to practice nursing in a variety of settings, which may include ambulatory care, acute care hospitals, long-term care facilities, hospices and schools, among others. In addition, the baccalaureate degree in nursing prepares graduates to continue education on a graduate level.

College of Nursing Mission Statement

The College of Nursing's mission is to educate generalists and specialists in nursing at the undergraduate and graduate levels. Undergraduate and graduate curricula exist within a university community that embraces a student body enriched by cultural, ethnic, and racial diversity where religious and ethical commitment and academic freedom are valued. The College of Nursing aims to cultivate values in its students and graduates that enable a commitment to lifelong learning, service and leadership for the greater good of the global society.

Undergraduate Philosophy

Education is a dynamic process that directs and facilitates learning. Learning is the active, continuous process of acquiring knowledge and skill that brings about actual or potential changes in behavior. Acquired through lifelong endeavor, new learning builds on previous levels of knowledge and experience and is a function of motivation and readiness. Learning is facilitated when activities are goal-directed, purposeful, and meaningful for the learner. The faculty guide, direct, facilitate, and evaluate learning while encouraging self-direction and development of intellectual curiosity, creativity, and independent thinking. Learning is best achieved in an atmosphere where individual dignity is respected and a commitment to excellence exists. The development of cognitive skills that include critical thinking, analysis, and synthesis is a vital process necessary for professional nursing practice. The curriculum builds upon a liberal education and incorporates creative teaching strategies.

Adapted from University of Southern Indiana School of Nursing & Health Professions. (1995). Evansville, IN: Author.

Undergraduate Program Outcomes

At the conclusion of the program, the student will:

1. communicate actively and clearly;
2. think critically and creatively in solving problems and making decisions;
3. design and provide care based on "best evidence"; and
4. act as a servant leader in a global society.

Admission Requirements

In addition to the general University requirements for admission, the College of Nursing requires that applicants complete one unit in biology and one unit in chemistry. Students who do not meet the nursing requirement but meet the University admission requirement will be assigned to pre-nursing status. Students must attain a minimum of a 3.0 cumulative GPA before requesting a change in major to nursing. Pre-nursing students cannot enroll in any clinical nursing course (NUTC). This policy pertains to traditionally admitted students as well as transfer students.

Transfer Requirement

Students must have a 3.2 GPA or higher to be accepted into the College of Nursing.

Licensure

The State Board of Nursing has the responsibility to determine who is eligible to take the registered nurse licensure examination (NCLEX-RN). Graduation from the nursing program satisfies one of the eligibility requirements. There are other eligibility criteria as well. Since eligibility criteria may vary, applicants should check with the Board of Nursing of the state in which they plan to take the examination to determine the eligibility criteria.

Clinical Requirements

Prior to enrollment, accepted students need to complete JCAHO and OSHA requirements for immunization, medical history, and competencies including the American Heart Association Certification course for CPR (BLS for Healthcare Professionals). This also includes a criminal background check through the agency required by the College of Nursing. Clinical agencies vary in their requirements for participation and these may be in addition to the regular requirements. All requirements must be submitted by the established due date. For clarification, please see the Blackboard undergraduate Website. Requirements are also included in the student handbook.

Health Examination

Students are not eligible to participate in clinical nursing experiences unless the annual Clinical Nursing Student Health Form is completed. This form, giving specific requirements, is available from the Blackboard organization site for undergraduate majors

Liability Insurance

Students taking clinical nursing courses must obtain professional liability and malpractice insurance in the amounts of $2,000,000 per claim/$4,000,000 aggregate is required for all students. Application forms and additional information can be obtained from the Blackboard organization site for undergraduate majors.

Uniform and Equipment Policy

A uniform and equipment policy for clinical practice is in effect in the College of Nursing. Appropriate attire is included in this policy, which must be adhered to by students of professional nursing. Please refer to the Undergraduate Nursing Student Handbook for details.

Honor Society

Gamma Nu Chapter of the international nursing honor society Sigma Theta Tau International, Inc. inducts members annually. Students who achieve an overall cumulative GPA of at least 3.0 and rank within the upper third in their respective programs upon completion of half of the nursing courses are eligible for membership.

Fees

Fees are associated with certain courses for ATI testing, PDA, Lab equipment, and criminal background check.

Cooperating Community Agencies

Students obtain their clinical experience in a variety of settings. There are more than 40 hospitals, nursing homes and community health agencies that cooperate with the College of Nursing.

Requirements for Progression

To enroll in the first clinical nursing course, NUTC 2011 Health Assessment, students must be a nursing major, meet curricular prerequisites and have a minimum GPA of a 2.0 and at least a “C” in the following courses: BIOL 1102, BIOL 1103, and CHEM 1301. BIOL 2111 is a prerequisite or corequisite for NUTC 2011. Additionally, students must complete all nursing courses in one semester with grades of at least “C” in each course in order to proceed to the next semester.

Any student who achieves less than a “C” grade in nursing or science courses must repeat the course. Students also are expected to exhibit personality values and emotional characteristics consistent with a developing professional nurse role. If, after consultation and work with approved counselors, students do not meet these criteria to the satisfaction of their professors, they will not be permitted to continue in the nursing program.

Retention and progression in the nursing program also is determined by the student’s ability to meet successfully the requirements identified in the policy statements titled “Academic Standards for the College of Nursing” in the Undergraduate Student Handbook.

Students are placed on Risk of Probation, or College Dismissal for failing to meet the academic standards of the College of Nursing. A first letter grade of below a “C” in Nursing courses or Anatomy and Physiology 1 or 2 or Microbiology, results in Risk of Probation. A second grade of below a “C” in Nursing courses, Anatomy and Physiology or Microbiology in the same or subsequent semesters results in College Dismissal.

When a student attains the status of College Dismissal, the status may be appealed to the Nursing Appeals Committee at nursing.shu.edu/appeal_form.htm or from the College of Nursing home page (click on Student Academic Forms) if extenuating circumstances are present. Please see the College of Nursing home page for details on requirements for the appeal.

In order to take any clinical nursing course (NUTC), the student must be a nursing major.

If a nursing student withdraws from the same science course or nursing course more than once, the student will lose his or her matriculation status for the degree in nursing.

Traditional Program

Nursing courses are introduced in the freshman year along with the liberal arts and sciences. This approach is used to enhance the students’ exposure to the profession of nursing. This future-oriented curriculum highlights wellness and health promotion as well as disease management. Student experiences include caring for clients in a variety of settings, including acute care, hospice care, community-based agencies and day care. These exciting experiences all begin in the sophomore year.

B.S.N. Degree Requirements

The curriculum requires 122 credits for graduation and the successful completion of a comprehensive nursing exam. Professional requirements include 71 nursing credits.

Second Degree Students

Admission to the program is limited to students holding a baccalaureate or higher degree. All prerequisites must be completed with a grade of "C" or higher for acceptance. A minimum GPA of 3.0 is required.

Students must complete courses in Anatomy and Physiology I and II, Bio/Organic Chemistry, Microbiology, Statistics, Developmental Psychology and Ethics prior to starting this program. The program requires the completion of 61 nursing credits. The accelerated program requires 14 months to complete while the traditional second degree program takes 2 full academic years.

The R.N. to B.S.N. Program offers students an incentive to continue their studies in the college's graduate programs by allowing them to take graduate courses (6 credits) while completing the baccalaureate degree.

Bachelor of Science in Nursing for R.N.s (R.N. to B.S.N.) - Online

Academic Director: Catherine Cassidy, Ph.D., A.P.N.-C

The online R.N. to B.S.N. Program is designed for registered nurses, graduates of an associate degree or diploma nursing program, who are seeking to obtain a baccalaureate degree in nursing (B.S.N.). The program requires 123 credit-hours for graduation. All nursing courses are offered online.

The online R.N. to B.S.N. Program has both theory and clinical components. Theory course work is completed in the online format and the clinical component is completed within the student's geographical location. Clinical placements are individualized and congruent with course objectives, student interests and career goals.

For information about this program, visit the Division of Continuing Education and Professional Studies Web site at ceps.shu.edu or contact Felella K. Millman, M.S.N., R.N., assistant academic director, at (973) 275-2118 or e-mail felella.millman@shu.edu, or contact Susan Bolton, assistant program director, at (973) 275-2359 or e-mail susan.bolton@shu.edu

Accreditation

The online R.N. to B.S.N. Program is administered through the Seton Hall University College of Nursing. The College is accredited by the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education (CCNE). The undergraduate programs are also accredited by the New Jersey Board of Nursing.

Strategies that Support Learning

The online R.N. to B.S.N. Program is identical to the on-campus program and the other distant learning sites throughout New Jersey. While the online R.N. to B.S.N. and the on-campus course objectives are the same, the instructional delivery methodologies in the online degree program differ.

Instructional delivery is primarily Web-based in password-protected environment. Coursework is supplemented through a learning package that may include audio, video or other media.

Admission Requirements

- Completed application with the non-refundable application fee
- Proof of successful completion of an associate degree or diploma nursing program
- All official college transcripts
- High school transcript
- GPA of 2.5 or equivalent
- Two letters of recommendation from academic and professional supervisors
- Resume or curriculum vitae

Program Design and Curriculum

The entire program requires 123 credits for graduation.

- 32 credits for nursing courses
- 56 credits for liberal arts and science courses
- 32 credits granted towards the R.N. licensure;
- 3 credits for Health Assessment

Transfer credits can be applied to all college level course work with a grade of "C" or better. Some liberal arts and science courses required in the program are offered online through the College of Arts and Sciences.

Students are required to attend two on campus residencies. Prior to the start of the first course, students come to the Seton Hall University campus in South Orange, New Jersey for an orientation. Students meet with the program director, faculty, staff and student colleagues. Orientation includes a tour of the campus, a library orientation, and hands-on experience with multimedia technology that will be utilized in coursework. The second residency is scheduled mid-way through the program.

Students will be responsible for locating clinical placement sites and preceptors. Preceptors must at least have a baccalaureate degree in nursing. Students' faculty mentor will review and approve clinical sites and preceptors that are compatible with students' learning needs. The following are required prior to starting clinical: proof of current RN licensure, proof of current malpractice liability insurance, proof of current CPR (AHA), completed College of Nursing certification of physical health forms with the required titers, and proof of current PPD. A background check is required upon admission to the program.

Course Descriptions

NUCL 4210 Nurse Summer Training Program Clinical Elective

The Nurse Summer Training Program (NSTP) Clinical Elective provides Army ROTC nurse cadets with clinical experience in a hospital setting while introducing them to the duties, roles, responsibilities and expectations of an Army Nurse Corps Officer. The nurse cadet will exercise leadership skills in a hospital environment by planning, organizing, decision making, implementing and being accountable for the outcome of nursing care. Prerequisites: ROTC Basic Course; Advanced Camp; completion of all junior level nursing courses. 3 credits

NURN 3001 Professional Nursing I

This course introduces the registered nurse student to the philosophy of nursing and the baccalaureate curriculum. The interrelationships between nursing theory, practice, education and research are discussed as foundations for understanding nursing theorists, the nursing process, and the impact of nursing research on practice. The major focus is on the use of the nursing process with individuals and families. Current and emerging roles and responsibilities of the professional nurse are compared and contrasted with other nursing roles as well as with other health professionals. 6 credits

NURN 4017 Community Health Perspectives

Basic concepts of community health and public health are applied to identify actual and potential health problems of individuals, groups and communities. The focus will be on community-based health care, roles and functions of the community and public health nurse, developing partnerships with community organizations, healthcare delivery systems, levels of prevention and health promotion and risk models. 5 credits

NURN 4020 Professional Nursing II

This course focuses on knowledge and skills derived from leadership and management as they are translated and integrated into professional nursing practice within the contemporary healthcare delivery system. Specific issues and trends in healthcare delivery, in general, and nursing, in particular, are analyzed. 6 credits

NUTC 2011 Health Assessment

This course will introduce the student to the theoretical bases necessary in order to perform a comprehensive health assessment which involves obtaining and analyzing data describing a person's state of wellness, strengths relative to health promotion, and responses to actual and/or potential health deviations or clinical problems. The relationship of health assessment to the role and responsibilities of the professional nurse in the application of the nursing process will be explored. This course will focus on the theory and practice of health assessment skills, identification of deviations from the norm, and accurate documentation of findings. Emphasis is placed on the integration and application of these skills through the use of critical thinking. Prerequisite: anatomy and physiology, and chemistry completion. Prerequisite or corequisite: NUTH 1002. 3 credits

NUTC 3113 Adult Nursing I

This course will provide the student with the knowledge base to assess a client's ability to function independently, intervene to maximize function, help the client to identify coping patterns and establish realistic outcomes. Clients with chronic disease states are examined. The nursing process is viewed as the framework to guide the students to think critically when interacting with clients in need of assistance to maintain or improve their level of health. The beginning student will be provided with a method for learning how to apply nursing theory. Clinical experiences will be provided in a variety of settings which provide opportunities for the beginning student to initiate specific nursing skills and interventions for health promotion, risk reduction, disease prevention and illness and disease management. Pre or corequisite: NUTH 3010; prerequisite NUTH 2003, NUTC 2011, NUTH 2012. 5 credits

NUTC 3914 Maternal Newborn Nursing

This course focuses on providing the student with the theoretical knowledge and clinical experiences needed to provide care to the childbearing family. Concepts learned in previous courses will be built upon as the students design plans of care based upon theoretical and empirical knowledge of normal and selected abnormal patterns of biophysical and psychosocial growth and development of the pregnant woman, fetus, newborn and family. Political, cultural, economic and ethical issues related to the childbearing family will be explored. Clinical experiences take place in a variety of settings. Prerequisites: NUTC 3113. 5 credits

NUTC 3915 Dimensions of Psychosocial Nursing

The major focus of this course is the development of an effective theoretical basis for nursing practice with clients with psychosocial alterations in the clinical setting. The major concepts of person, society, culture, nursing and health are amplified by way of specific emphasis upon psychosocial considerations. Prerequisites: NUTC 3113. 5 credits

NUTC 3916 Child and Family Nursing

This course provides students with a didactic framework and clinical experiences for evaluating developmental health care needs unique to children from birth through young adulthood with emphasis on the family context. The student will acquire the knowledge and clinical skills necessary to assess and provide safe and effective nursing care for children and adolescents experiencing episodic, acute or chronic illness. Clinical experiences are in a variety of settings and focus on the principles of family-centered care. Prerequisites: NUTC 3113. 5 credits

NUTC 3917 Acute Adult Nursing

This course will provide the student with the knowledge base to assess the client's ability to function independently, intervene to maximize function, to help the client identify realistic outcomes and coping with altered function with acute disease states. The nursing process is viewed as the framework to guide the students to think critically when interacting with acute care clients. Clinical experiences will be provided in a variety of settings which will enhance opportunities for the student to initiate acute nursing skills and interventions for health promotion, risk reduction, disease prevention and illness and disease management. Prerequisites: NUTC 3113. 5 credits

NUTC 4118 Community Health Perspectives

Basic concepts of community health and public health are applied to identify actual and potential health problems of individuals, groups and communities. The focus will be on community-based health care, roles and functions of the community and public health nurse, developing partnerships with community organizations, healthcare delivery systems, levels of prevention and health promotion and risk models. Prerequisites: NUTC 3914, NUTC 3915 NUTC 3916, NUTC 3917. 5 credits

NUTC 4019 Synthesis Practicum

This is a capstone clinical course for students in the traditional, accelerated, and second degree programs and serves as a transition between the role of nursing student and the role of the professional nurse. The major purpose is to increase independence in providing nursing care to groups of individuals in an acute care setting under the direct supervision of a faculty member. Students continue to implement the nursing process while caring for groups of individuals; however, the focus in this course is on the organization, delegation and supervision of care given as well as evaluation of the outcomes of care. Prerequisites: NUTC 3914, NUTC 3915 NUTC 3916, NUTC 3917. 3 credits

NUTH 1001 Group Dynamics

This course is designed to assist students to apply psychological, cultural and behavioral concepts to the study of group interaction. Principles of dealing with small groups in a variety of sociocultural settings are examined in order to maximize students' ability to comprehend the interactive factors that influence group behaviors and to become effective group participants. 2 credits

NUTH 1002 Individual and Family Development Across the Lifespan

This course focuses on the theoretical perspectives of growth and development, family theories and family adaptation at different stages, as well as usual patterns of aging. Students will make assessments of individuals in various stages of life to identify developmental issues and their impact on health phenomena of interest to nursing. 3 credits

NUTH 1003 Culture and Health

This course will focus on some of the major cultures of the world that are represented within our regional healthcare systems. Discussions and readings will include patterns of beliefs, values, behaviors and religious practices across cultures as well as examining health practices and healing behaviors of specific cultures. Culture specific strategies will be reviewed for teachings and interventions for health promotion and disease management and healthcare systems will be examined in light of meeting culture-specific needs. This course aims to increase cultural awareness, cultural sensitivity and cultural competency among healthcare students. 3 credits

NUTH 1004 Dying with Dignity

Nurses spend more time with patients and families facing the end of life than any other health professional. Nurses are intimately involved in all aspects of end of life care and they address the myriad of needs facing individuals at this time of life. Expert nursing care has the potential to greatly reduce the burden and distress of those facing life's end and the ability to offer support for the many physical, psychological, social and spiritual needs of patients and their families. End of life care is not confined only to specific illnesses (i.e., cancer or AIDS), but rather it is essential across all life-threatening illnesses and in cases of sudden death. 2 credits

NUTH 1112 Spirituality: Living Our Connectedness

This course is designed to present spirituality as a concept that lies beyond religious boundaries. As caregivers, nurses share both the privilege, and responsibility of awakening within themselves, the ability to be compassionate and competent caregivers. As the learning journey progresses, students will have the opportunity to explore cultural sensitivity, and the ways our differing belief systems, both religious, and otherwise, impact patient care. The importance of not only faith, but of forgiveness and hope, will be incorporated. 1 credit

290 College of Nursing

NUTH 1992-1994 Independent Study in Nursing

Opportunity to study an area or problem in nursing in greater depth and to develop the ability for self-directed learning.

Departmental permission required.

NUTH 1992 - 1 credit

NUTH 1993 - 2 credits

NUTH 1994 - 3 credits

NUTH 2001 Introduction to Professional Nursing

This course is designed to introduce the student to the art and science of nursing, as well as, the philosophy of the College of Nursing. The historical development of nursing and nursing education is discussed. Person, environment and health are examined as central concepts in nursing theories as well as the interrelationships between nursing theory, practice, research and education. Students are introduced to the nursing process as a means for designing and delivering nursing care. Selected ethical issues and trends will be discussed as they relate to current nursing practice. 2 credits

NUTH 2002 Legal Aspects of Nursing

This course reviews the rights, privileges and obligations of nurses in their relationship to each other, their employers, their patients, and all providers of health care. Emphasis is placed on developing the ability of the nurse to recognize and apply relevant legal concepts to insure his/her legal safety while providing optimal patient care. 1 credit

NUTH 2003 Pathophysiology

This course focuses on human response patterns, common to all ages, to internal and external stresses that result in physiological alterations. Subsequent nursing courses will focus upon nursing care component, integrating the student's knowledge of these physiological alterations. This theory course is based upon physiological alterations and thus permits intensive study of concepts that will act as advanced organizers to change generalizations into usable scientific knowledge applicable to nursing. Prerequisites; anatomy and physiology, and chemistry completion. Pre or corequisite: microbiology. 3 credits

NUTH 2012 Health Promotion

The focus of this course is health promotion and wellness for individuals across the life span. Students will acquire knowledge of strategies to promote healthy lifestyles and prevent injury and disease in individuals at all stages of life. Content focuses on health needs throughout the lifespan, risk assessment and screening, and health promotion resources. 2 credits

NUTH 3002 Gerontological Nursing

This course will focus on the aging process from both biological and social perspectives. Discussions will include patterns of normal aging as well as common pathological conditions and health problems faced by the elderly. Health promotion, health maintenance, and restorative nursing are emphasized as well as adaptations in self-care required as a result of age-related changes and chronic illness. 2 credits

NUTH 3003 Research In Nursing

This course introduces the undergraduate nursing student to the research process and ethical issues related to nursing research. The student will acquire skills necessary to read, interpret, evaluate and critically analyze nursing research studies in view of their use in nursing practice. Prerequisite: MATH 1203 and NUTC 3113. 3 credits

NUTH 3004 The Business of Healthcare

This course will introduce basic concepts of business, financial management and economics. Emphasis is on the interactions between management, financing, regulation, competition and organizational innovations of healthcare. 3 credits

NUTH 3010 Pharmacological Therapies

Focus on pharmacological therapy and the role of the nurse in drug management with consideration to social, economic and the technological changes in administering medications safely. Categories of drugs, including prototypes, related to each body system/drug function are studied. Emphasis is on developing the knowledge base and critical thinking abilities necessary to care for clients receiving medication therapy. Prerequisite: NUTH 2003. 3 credits

NUTH 3020 (CORE 3101) Engaging the World: Catholicism Intellectual Thought and Contemporary Health care Issues

This course focuses on a discussion of major themes and precepts in Catholic and other intellectual and religious traditions and their application to contemporary health care issues. Emphasis is on how Catholic and other religious and cultural traditions affect and influence people facing various transformative health care issues in their lives. 3 credits

NUTH 4001 Leadership, Management and Trends in Nursing

This course focuses on knowledge and skills derived from leadership and management as they are translated and integrated into professional nursing practice and in nursing are analyzed within the contemporary healthcare delivery system. Specific issues and trends in healthcare delivery, in general. Prerequisites: NUTC 3914, NUTC 3915, NUTC 3916, NUTC 3917, and NUTH 3020 or CORE 3101. 3 credits

Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology (ICSST) was founded in 1861 at Seton Hall and remained part of the University until 1926 when it moved to separate facilities in Darlington, near Mahwah, N.J. In 1984, ICSST re-affiliated with the University. In 2007, the School launched a new Bachelor of Arts degree in Catholic Theology, available to the University's entire undergraduate population.

The Bachelor of Arts in Catholic Theology enables a student to engage his or her world from a rich theological and spiritual perspective that enhances any career or vocational path. Students participating in the program experience the profound intellectual heritage of Catholicism as a living faith that has laid the foundations for much of world civilization and which provides compelling spiritual and moral perspectives and guidelines for the modern age.

The program addresses the interests and needs of a wide range of students, following two basic directions of study. The first of these program options is designed to satisfy all undergraduate education requirements for religious order and college seminarians preparing for priesthood formation at the major seminary level following graduation. The content of this course of study explores intensely the interaction of

292 Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology

Faith and Reason at the root of Catholic thought, and follows the academic requirements stipulated by the Program for Priestly Formation, 5th ed. mandated by the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops in June, 2005. This option is open to any student; however, it is mandatory for all undergraduate seminarians.

The second program option allows a student to pursue a more focused study of one of four particular fields of Theology: Sacred Scripture, Moral Theology, Spiritual Theology and Systematic Theology.

With this Bachelor of Arts in Catholic Theology, Seton Hall offers its students a unique opportunity to understand better Catholicism's traditions and place in contemporary thought and society, as has been called for by the Second Vatican Council and articulated throughout the pontificates of Popes John Paul II and Benedict XVI.

Accreditation

ICSST is accredited by the following organizations: Association of Theological Schools in the United States and Canada; Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools.

Bachelor of Arts in Catholic Theology (B.A.)

Students pursuing the bachelor's degree program choose one of two program options: (1) an intense exploration of the interaction of Faith and Reason that is at the root of Catholic thought, following the academic requirements set out in the Program for Priestly Formation, 5th ed. or (2) a particular concentration in a specific field of Theology.

All students must also fulfill the University Core Curriculum requirements, fulfill the Core Curriculum requirements of the School of Theology, maintain at least a 2.0 GPA, and complete 120 total credits along with the particular program option requirements of the bachelor's degree.

Course Descriptions

Introductory

PLTL 1111 History of Philosophy I

An initiation into philosophical thinking focusing on ancient and medieval philosophy. Special attention to the influences of Greek philosophy and the Gospel on each other. Includes: pre-Socratics; Socrates; Plato; Aristotle; Stoicism; Epicureanism; Neoplatonism; Augustine; Boethius; Bonaventure; and Aquinas. 3 credits

PLTL 1112 History of Philosophy II

An examination of four themes in modern and contemporary philosophy, starting with Ockham and Bacon through Descartes, Locke, the Empiricists, Enlightenment and contemporaries: the body-mind problem; success of the natural sciences; expansion of liberty and equality; the question of God. 3 credits

PLTL 1113 History of Philosophy III

Beginning with the end of the 19th century through the end of the 20th century, an analysis of the development of three major schools of contemporary philosophy – phenomenology, existentialism, and analytic philosophy – and the last philosophical developments, such as postmodernism. Special emphasis will be given to Christian philosophers and the revival of Thomism. 3 credits

PLTL 1242 Philosophical Logic

A study of the ens rationis including: the nature of concept, judgment and inductive-deductive argument, basic notions of theory of language, theory of definitions, informal fallacies, syllogistic (Aristotelian) logic, propositional and predicate logic. The major emphasis will be given to the use of logic in philosophy and theology. 3 credits

294 Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology

PLTL 2218 Philosophy of Being

A classical description of being in terms of essence of being; substance and accidents; transcendental characteristics of being; the laws of being such as the four causes. Alternative metaphysical systems as related to theology. (Formerly PLTL 1218) 3 credits

PLTL 2223 Philosophy of Nature

A study of ens mobile including the analysis of movement and nature, the first division of being into substance and accidents, and the second division of being into matter and form in the Aristotelian-Thomistic tradition. Special analysis will be given to Aristotle's physics and Aquinas' commentaries on Aristotle's books on nature. (Formerly PLTL 1223) 3 credits

PLTL 2241 Philosophical Ethics

A study of ens qua bonum. The question of the moral nature of human action, what makes actions good and bad, and how this is knowable. Different ethical systems are examined along with the metaphysics they presuppose. Representative authors studied include Aristotle, Aquinas, Kant and Mill. Four areas will be covered: the analysis of human action, natural law, moral conscience and theory of virtue. (Formerly PLTL 1241) 3 credits

PLTL 2243 Theory of Knowledge

A study of ens qua verum, including a consideration of the ontological nature of human knowledge as knowledge, followed by an historical survey of epistemological theory with special emphasis on the rise of critical philosophy in the modern period. Special emphasis will be given to topics such as the notion of truth, certainty, evidence, the problem of skepticism, idealism, and realism. (Formerly PLTL 1243) 3 credits

PLTL 3214 Philosophy of Person

Basic issues of human reality and philosophical anthropology, including: fact of being; relation of body and soul; cognition; spirituality; relation of self to society; religion; and death. St. Thomas' realist metaphysics, contemporary existentialism and phenomenological methodology are employed to discuss the spirituality of the soul. The role of imagination and subconsciousness, the meaning of male and female and the role of the person in society. (Formerly PLTL 1214) 3 credits

PLTL 3416 Philosophy of God

That part of metaphysics dealing with Being that is first absolutely. First principles and natural knowledge; arguments for the existence of God; ways to God, including the Thomistic approach; pantheism; Divine attributes. (Formerly PLTL 1416) 3 credits

THEO 1102 The Bible: Word of God and Book of the Church

The course introduces students to the many ways Catholics have read and interpreted Sacred Scripture. Focusing on key Old Testament and New Testament passages, the course surveys historical-critical, narrative and canonical approaches as well as methods grounded in liturgy and lectio divina, highlighting the advantages and challenges of each. 3 credits

THEO 1203 New Life in Christ: Introduction to Roman Catholic Moral Theology

The course examines the basic themes in Roman Catholic moral theology in light of the renewal of the discipline by the Second Vatican Council, The Catechism of the Catholic Church, the legacy of teachings from Pope John Paul II and the integrating work of major Catholic theologians. 3 credits

THEO 1404 Life of the Soul: Introduction to Catholic Prayer and Spiritual Traditions

The course considers the centrality in the Catholic tradition of: a spiritual life rooted in personal prayer; the Church's various traditions of prayer and spirituality (e.g. Benedictine, Dominican, Franciscan, Carmelite, and Jesuit); and prayer as a basis of both radical personal transformation and modes of communal Christian life, e.g. monasticism, religious life and ecclesial movements. 3 credits

THEO 1501 To Know God: Introduction to Roman Catholic Doctrine

The course explores the primary ways Catholicism believes God in Jesus Christ reveals Himself to humanity: through Sacred Scripture, Tradition and Magisterium; communal life and worship; personal prayer, moral development and spiritual growth; and the on-going engagement of all these elements with human learning, reason and history. 3 credits

THEO 1502 The Church's Saving Mysteries: Introduction to Roman Catholic Liturgy and Sacraments

The course considers the worship and sacraments of the Catholic Church as necessary expressions and celebrations of the presence of Jesus Christ's Incarnation and Paschal Mystery, how these encounters with Christ have shaped Catholic doctrine, and the role of liturgy and sacraments in human transformation to fulfillment in God. 3 credits

Advanced Sacred Scripture

THEO 2111 Theology of the Old Testament

The course aims to clarify how and why the Hebrew Scriptures became the Old Testament of the Catholic Church. The course will examine the various ways these Scriptures constitute the Word of God that is still normative for Catholic theology, worship, and living. Required for Sacred Scripture concentration. 3 credits

THEO 2112 Theology of the New Testament

The course examines how the experience of Jesus Christ, especially in His death and resurrection, forced His followers to interpret Him and the heritage of the Old Testament in a new light, how these insights opened new directions for Jesus' disciples beyond Judaism while also preserving the Old Testament as indispensable for comprehending God's revelation through the Paschal Mystery. Required for Sacred Scripture concentration. 3 credits

THEO 2113 The Apocryphal Bible

The course explores those texts from the wide range of Jewish and Christian writings that appeared c.100B.C. – 400A.D. making claims to Scriptural status but ultimately rejected by each religious community. The origins and theology of these writings as well as their impact on Christian thought and culture will be considered. 3 credits

Advanced Moral TheologyTHEO 2211 Jesus Christ and Moral Life

The course examines how the revelation of perfect human nature in Jesus Christ leads the Catholic moral tradition to consider authentic human living as necessarily a harmonization of body and spirit, freedom and choice, natural and supernatural virtues, and personal subjectivity fulfilled in love and social relationship. Required for Moral Theology concentration. 3 credits

THEO 2212 The Culture of Life

The course examines how human personal life is fulfilled in social relationship; how the particular settings of family, nation and culture all receive a deeper understanding through the revelation of Jesus Christ; and how this reflection has led the Church to articulate a comprehensive body of teachings concerning social, legal, medical, political and economic institutions. Required for Moral Theology concentration. 3 credits

THEO 2213 Theology of Service

The theological underpinnings of social justice are explored through active service in the field, classroom discussion and personal reflection, leading to a personal engagement of the work of justice and solidarity with the disadvantaged in the light of Gospel and the Church's tradition. The course involves a weekly classroom meeting and a weekly 2-hour field assignment. 3 credits

Advanced Spiritual TheologyTHEO 2411 Vocation and Christian Living

The idea of vocation is explored as a fundamental direction God gives each human person, born of their creation in the divine image and likeness and the universal call to holiness and union with God. Specific attention is given to what it means to live a "holy life", to mirror the love of God and how particular vocations – marriage, single life, priesthood, religious life – aspire to achieve this. Required for Spiritual Theology concentration. 3 credits

THEO 2412 The Cross, Suffering and Discipleship

The course examines the role of Christ's Paschal Mystery in someone's progress to holiness and union with God; how the Cross offers a redemptive value to suffering and death; how the Cross also affirms the value of life and draws one more deeply into a life of love. Based on a wide range of sources, focus will be placed on such pre-eminent teachers as Saints Teresa of Avila, John of the Cross, Therese of Lisieux, and Edith Stein. Required for Spiritual Theology concentration. 3 credits

THEO 2413 Monasticism

The course investigates Eastern and Western Christian monasticism from its origins in fourth-century Egypt to the medieval mendicant orders. Particular attention is given to examining the various forms of monastic life, its rules and ideals, devotions and ways to sanctity, and how the monastic movement has both challenged and sustained the Church and society. 3 credits

Advanced Systematic TheologyTHEO 2511 Jesus Christ and the Triune God

An exploration of how the experience of Jesus Christ led to a radical reconsideration of the Monotheistic belief of His followers, resulting in Christianity's unique understanding of God – Trinitarian Monotheism; how Christians struggled with this articulation through the first five centuries; and how this still shapes the contemporary Christian world. Required for Systematic Theology concentration. 3 credits

THEO 2512 Jesus Christ and the Mystery of the Church

An exploration of how Christian reflection on the person and mission of Jesus Christ led to an understanding of His community of followers, whereby the Church becomes an object of faith; and how this Christological reflection is the basis of the Church's self-understanding even in its concrete historical, cultural and institutional manifestations. Required for Systematic Theology concentration. 3 credits

THEO 2513 Apologetics

How Christians have defended and proposed their faith from New Testament times to today is examined. Emphasis is given to the various methods of apologetics that have developed as part of the Church's engagement of the modern world's profoundly religious questions about humanity and society. 3 credits

THEO 2514 The Fathers of the Church

The course introduces students to the writers and theologians of the Church's first seven centuries who laid the common foundations for Christianity's understanding of God, Jesus Christ, the Church, the Bible and the essentials of Christian living. Special attention will be paid to the most pre-eminent of the Fathers and samples of their writings. 3 credits

THEO 2515 The Teachings of John Paul II

The extensive legacy of teachings from Pope John Paul II is examined, especially his emphasis on Jesus Christ as the basis for personal fulfillment, social responsibility and human culture. His contributions to a renewed sense of Christian mission following Vatican II and for the III Millennium are also examined. 3 credits

THEO 2516 The Theology of Benedict XVI

The rich theological enquiries of Joseph Ratzinger/Pope Benedict XVI as both a theologian and pontiff of the Vatican II Church form the basis of this course, in particular how his earlier academic contributions have related to his magisterial, papal teachings and responsibilities. 3 credits

Division of Continuing Education and Professional Studies

Acting Dean: Philip S. DiSalvio, Ed.D.

Jubilee Hall

1-888-227-2782

Website: ceps.shu.edu E-mail: CEPS@shu.edu

The Division of Continuing Education and Professional Studies serves the personal and professional needs of a diverse community of learners through credit and non-credit courses, professional development programs, workshops, seminars, symposia, lecture series, and professional certification.

Uniquely positioned to respond to the needs of the adult learner, the Division of Continuing Education and Professional Studies provides the leadership in coordinating campus-wide academic partnerships to carry out the University's mission of educational outreach by offering a wide range of educational options through a full range of delivery methods and formats.

The Division of Continuing Education and Professional Studies also collaborates with academic departments to offer credit courses during summer and weekend semesters and works with faculty and administrative units to develop short-term travel-study programs supporting the development of traditional and non-traditional student populations.

Committed to maximizing the capacity to learn, whether it is on-campus, off-campus, or "anytime-anyplace," the Division of Continuing Education and Professional Studies facilitates access to the outstanding academic and enrichment programs available through Seton Hall University.

The Division of Continuing Education and Professional Studies works with the colleges and schools to offer online degree and certificate programs as well as other online learning offerings that are designed for professionals who have the ability, desire and dedication to accept the rigors of a fast-paced, challenging curriculum.

Utilizing a web-based online delivery system, these programs provide a rich educational experience. Completing learning offerings online, students are able to earn the credential while continuing to meet professional and personal commitments.

The Division of Continuing Education and Professional Studies serves the educational aspirations and professional needs of students from across the nation and around the world. Committed to utilizing the technological advantages that web-based delivery affords and the Seton Hall University high level of academic quality that students deserve, students can pursue their education "any time - any place."

Online Degree Programs

A vital component of the Division of Continuing Education and Professional Studies is its support of the wide range of online degree programs that have been designed for working professionals who can most benefit from “anytime, anywhere” course work. Acknowledging that these students are particularly able to integrate what has already been learned in their careers and demonstrate to others these enhanced capabilities, the University recognizes that as learning team members, they, along with the faculty and members of the instructional teams, are interrelated and interdependent. These relationships are key to a rich and dynamic online learning experience and each student is a vital link in the overall success of that experience.

Online degree programs are offered through the College of Arts and Sciences, the College of Education and Human Services, and the College of Nursing. Please refer to the page references below for curriculum information regarding these programs.

The following programs are offered through the College of Arts and Sciences:

- Master of Arts in Strategic Communication and Leadership (2009-2010 Graduate Catalogue, page 76)
- Master of Healthcare Administration (2009-2010 Graduate Catalogue, page 97)

The following programs are offered through the College of Education and Human Services:

- Bachelor of Science in Nursing for Registered Nurses (Please see page 287 in this catalogue.)

Tuition

Tuition for the online degree programs includes all fees (except for the application fee), and room and board for the three residency weekends (note the residency period for the Counseling program). Travel expenses, books and materials, computer equipment, software and student ISP costs are not included. A deposit of $500 is required on admission to the program. This NONREFUNDABLE deposit guarantees space in the program, and is credited towards the total cost of the program. Reduced tuition cost per student can be offered to organizations sponsoring a full learning team of students as part of a customized curriculum. Please contact the program director for tuition information.

Financial Aid

Financial aid payment plans are available for students interested in paying their tuition on a monthly basis or those interested in a loan program. Students must file the FAFSA on the Web as a first step in applying for a Stafford Loan. Complete tuition and financial aid information can be found on the Division of Continuing Education and Professional Studies Website, ceps.shu.edu

Online Degree Program Application

The application for online degree programs offered through the Division of Continuing Education and Professional Studies may be found on the Division’s Website, ceps.shu.edu. Click on the name of the degree program for more information and to access the application.

University Buildings

Alfieri Hall. Alfieri Hall, completed in 1984, contains classrooms for the School of Theology, offices of the Educational Opportunity Program, and the Computer Training Center. The Department of Graduate Programs in Health Sciences is located on the lower level.

Alumni Hall. Alumni Hall was planned as a 25th anniversary gift to commemorate the opening of Seton Hall College in Madison in 1856. The needed funds were not raised in 1881, but the fund drive continued, and the building was dedicated in 1886 to commemorate the opening and first graduation in South Orange in 1861. Alumni Hall houses the chapel for Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology as well as the School's administrative offices.

Art Center. Originally a carriage house, built between 1890 and 1895, and now a registered national landmark, this red brick Victorian building has been preserved and renovated and was officially dedicated in May 1974 as the University's Art Center. It houses an art gallery, studios, classrooms and offices of the Department of Art, Music and Design.

Arts and Sciences Hall. Opened in 1973, the building houses the Ruth Sharkey Academic Resource Center, lecture halls, seminar rooms, conference rooms, classrooms, and offices for College of Arts and Sciences faculty and administrative personnel.

Bayley Hall. Erected in 1913 and named for Bishop James Roosevelt Bayley, first Bishop of Newark and nephew of Elizabeth Seton, Bayley Hall is used for business and administrative purposes, and houses Enrollment Services.

Bishop Dougherty University Center. Named for Bishop John J. Dougherty, president of Seton Hall from 1960-70, the University Center contains meeting rooms, dining areas, lounges, an art gallery and Theatre-in-the-Round. It houses the offices of student publications and student government, as well as the Department of Community Development and the office of the vice president for Student Affairs.

Chapel of the Immaculate Conception. The Chapel of the Immaculate Conception has been the center of campus religious life since 1863 and was renovated and restored in 2008. Open every day, the chapel serves as a place of meditation and prayer for all members of the University community. Several Masses are offered on weekdays and on Sundays.

Corrigan Hall. Named after Bishop Michael A. Corrigan and Reverend James H. Corrigan, brothers who served as second and third presidents of Seton Hall, this building contains offices, the facilities for Computing Services, classrooms, music studios, and labs.

Duffy Hall. Classrooms, offices, the Bookstore, Parking, Campus ID, Disability Support Services, and the Department of Housing and Residence Life, are located in this building.

Fahy Hall. Opened in 1968, this building houses many departments of the College of Arts and Sciences, as well as the dean of this College. In addition to classrooms and faculty offices, it contains communication laboratories, the language resource center, and a television studio.

Jubilee Hall. With six stories and more than 126,000 square feet of academic space, this structure provides a home for the Stillman School of Business, the College of Education and Human Services, the New Jersey Center for Civic and Law-Related Education and the Departments of Political Science, Psychology, Public and Healthcare Administration, and Sociology and Anthropology. It contains 156 faculty and administrative offices and 30 teaching spaces, from seminar rooms that seat eight people to an auditorium seating 390. It also features a central, three-story skylit atrium where students and faculty can congregate informally. A major feature of the building is the technological capabilities it brings to the teaching and learning processes. These include fixed and flexible seating classrooms with the most contemporary information and distance-learning technologies that facilitate the transmission of lectures all over the world; laboratories with one-way observation mirrors; and classrooms with terminals for portable computers.

Lewis Hall/Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology. Lewis Hall/Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology was completed in 1984. Faculty and student residences, classrooms, a dining hall, lounges and the Seminary Library are housed in this building.

Marshall Hall. Built in the 1890s under the direction of Reverend William Marshall, this three-story building is situated to the east side of Presidents Hall. The building's main level contains a newly restored Regents Suite and Regents Board Room. Marshall Hall connects via a gallery passage and a stair tower with marble treads and wrought-iron railing serves the second floor level. The upper level links to Mooney Hall by means of a flying bridge.

Martin House. The location of the Department of Human Resources, a private home for many years, was dedicated on November 3, 2006, the feast day of Saint Martin de Porres (1579-1639). The building, located at 366 South Orange Avenue, was named Martin House in honor of the Dominican brother, known for his many good works among the poor of Lima, Peru, and a model of servant leadership.

McNulty Hall (Science and Technology Center). Named in honor of Monsignor John Laurence McNulty, president during the University's post-World War II expansion years, this building contains newly updated classrooms, teaching and research laboratories, faculty offices, conference rooms and a 230 seat amphitheater. This building has undergone an extensive redesign and was reopened in August 2007. The Departments of Biological Sciences, Chemistry and Biochemistry, Mathematics and Computer Science, and Physics are located in this newly renovated Science and Technology Center.

McQuaid Hall. Named after Bishop Bernard McQuaid, first president of Seton Hall, this building was constructed in the early 1900s. The Whitehead School of Diplomacy and International Relations is located on a major section of the first floor of this building. The School of Health and Medical Sciences is located on the second floor and part of the first floor.

310 University Buildings

Mooney Hall. Named for Monsignor James Mooney, president of Seton Hall from 1907-22, the building houses Freshman Studies, the Academic Success Center, Seton Summer Scholars, ROTC/Military Science, Special Academic Services, Counseling Services, the Print Shop, classrooms and offices.

Presidents Hall. Visually the “centerpiece” of campus, Presidents Hall dates back to 1867. It houses administrative offices, including those of the president, provost, executive vice president, general counsel, and planning.

Residence Halls. Seton Hall has housing capacity for approximately 2,100 students. The residence halls include Cabrini, Neumann, Serra, Xavier, Aquinas, and North and South Boland halls. Ora Manor Apartments, Turrell Manor and St. Andrew’s Hall provide University housing off campus.

Ring Building. Located at 457 Centre Street, this building houses the Division of University Advancement, including the vice president’s office and the departments of Alumni Relations, Public Relations and Marketing, Development, and Government and Community Relations.

Schwartz College of Nursing Building. This facility was opened in 1973 and named for the first dean of the College of Nursing, Caroline Di Donato Schwartz, whose husband, Henry Schwartz, was the major benefactor who supplemented a U.S. Public Health Service Building grant for its completion. This building includes a state-of-the-art computer laboratory, patient care simulation laboratories, classrooms, an amphitheater, and offices for faculty and administration.

Seton Hall Law School Building. Seton Hall Law School opened its doors to its first class on the old site of John Marshall Law School, located at 40 Journal Square, Jersey City, in 1951. Twenty years later, in 1971, the School relocated to 1111 Raymond Boulevard, Newark. Outgrowing its space, the Law School moved to its current location at One Newark Center, Newark, in 1992. The Law School entrance leads to a striking, five-story, glass-encased atrium. Offices, classrooms, a moot courtroom and library are interconnected by balconies overlooking the atrium. The School’s location, just one block from Newark Penn Station, allows easy access to Manhattan and other destinations.

Stafford Hall. Located behind Presidents Hall, Stafford Hall was originally called the College Building and was home to many classes in the late 1800’s. It was designed by Jeremiah O’Rourke, who also designed Presidents Hall and the Chapel. Currently, the building is used as a classroom for studio art courses.

Richie Regan Recreation and Athletic Center and Walsh Gymnasium. A student-oriented, multipurpose facility that serves the recreation, physical education and intercollegiate needs of the University community, the Richie Regan Recreation and Athletic Center contains the Richard and Sheila Regan Field House, an eight-lane, 25-yard pool, a fitness/weight training room, a dance studio, racquetball courts, saunas and locker rooms. Adjacent to the Richie Regan Recreation and Athletic Center, is Walsh Gymnasium, a 2,000-seat arena built in 1939 and named for Newark Arch-bishop Thomas Walsh. Walsh Gymnasium is the site of practice and competition for many intercollegiate teams. The state-of-the-art WSOU-FM facility also is located here. Outdoor facilities include Owen T. Carroll Field and Ivy Hill Park, 19 acres of practice and intramural fields adjacent to the campus.

Walsh Library. Seton Hall’s Walsh Library was completed in spring 1994. Located opposite the Richie Regan Recreation and Athletic Center, the four-story, 155,000 square-foot structure is nearly three times the size of its predecessor, McLaughlin Library, and accommodates twice as many users at any given time. The library is named in honor of Board of Regents chairman and University benefactor Frank E. Walsh and his wife, Mary D. Walsh.

Walsh Library facilities include quiet, convenient reading rooms, group study rooms, study carrels and scholar’s studies; compact shelving and a flexible floor plan; state-of-the-art systems to protect, preserve and provide access to valuable resources; an exhibit and art gallery; the Valente Italian Studies Library; the Alberto Italian Studies Institute; and a central location for all library services, including Information Commons, the Special Collections Center, The Teaching, Learning and Technology Center, Walsh Library Gallery, and University Archives.
