SETON HALL COLLEGE.

THIS Institution was founded in 1856, at Madison, N. J., by the Most Rev. J. ROOSEVELT BAYLEY, D. D., the first Bishop of Newark. During the Summer vacation of 1860, it was removed to its present location at South Orange. The Legislature of the State, during the session of 1861, passed an Act of Incorporation, granting it all the rights and privileges enjoyed by other colleges in the State.

It is situated near the village of South Orange, on the line of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Rail Road, fourteen miles distant from New York.

The College buildings are of great architectural beauty, large and commodious, thoroughly ventilated, well heated by steam, and lighted by gas. They are on high ground, overlooking a beautiful country. The Orange Mountains have long been recommended by physicians as a most favorable residence for their patients, and the advantages of the surrounding country have been fully appreciated; hence the villas and mansions on every eligible site for miles around.

The grounds set apart for recreation, about ten acres in extent, contain a gymnasium, ball-alleys and base-ball fields. A safe skating pond affords means of exercise in Winter, and in Summer the College woods prove a pleasant retreat.

The College is under the immediate supervision of the Bishop of Newark. It is conducted by Secular Priests, who are assisted by experienced Lay Professors.

Sisters of Charity have charge of the household affairs.

Great attention is paid at all times to a generous furnishing of the table, and to the neatness and cleanliness of every part of the establishment. In sickness, should it occur, the students receive careful nursing.

The aim of SETON HALL is to impart a good education, in the highest sense of the word—to train the moral, intellectual and physical being. The health, manners and morals of the students, all of whom are required to live in the College, are objects of constant care. The system of government combines strict discipline with kind and gentle treatment. All the students are thoroughly instructed in the Doctrines of the Catholic Church, and trained in its practices.

The better to carry out the design of the Institution, and to devote constant and special attention to each individual student, but a limited number is received.

The Academic year, which consists of two terms of five months each, begins on the first Wednesday of September and ends on the third Wednesday of June. At Christmas there is a vacation of ten days; and in the Spring students are permitted to be absent for a day or two, to procure Summer clothing. At no other time are they allowed to leave the College, except for reasons of great importance.

The visiting-day is Thursday.

Weekly reports of all the classes are read before the professors and students. Monthly reports are sent to the parents or guardians.

Students who do not wish to follow the classical course may devote their time to commercial studies, or may select special branches of each course. In this latter case, they are not allowed to compete for prizes.

General examinations are held at the end of each term. These may be either written, or oral, or both, as the President may direct. In the most important branches of study, both methods are employed.

Candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts are required to follow the studies of the classical course, and pass a satisfactory examination in them.

Graduates of the College may, on application, receive the degree of Master of Arts, two years after they have finished the course of studies.
