Seton Hall Host to Eastern Colleges Science Conference

During April, Seton Hall will be host to the Ninth Annual Eastern Colleges Science Conference, a gathering of science students from Vermont to Kentucky. This conference, called "dignified and worthwhile" by Mgr. McNulty, is designed to stimulate undergraduate research in the natural sciences and their relations to other fields. Also to give the students an opportunity to exchange ideas and to discuss contemporary and traditional scientific problems. Students present original research papers to fellow students and participate in discussions concerning new developments in their respective fields. In this way undergraduates may become better acquainted in their field of interest over and above the normal school curriculum.

Over 600 Attend Galleon Ball Held at Hotel Astor Roof

By MORRIS STRAITMAN

Over 300 couples attended this year's Senior Prom on the Belvedere Roof of the Hotel Astor in New York City last Friday night. The Galleon Ball, always the highlight of Seton Hall's social year, was an outstanding success.

From 9 p. m. to 2 a. m. Setonians and their dates danced to the music of Leo J. Holmes, recorder of the famous tune "The High and Mighty," Eileen Barton, famous recording star, serenaded the dancers with a variety of her well known hit songs.

The selection of Leroy Holmes and Eileen Barton, for the entertainment, carried out the Senior class's tradition of having only the finest of everything at the annual Galleon Ball. In the past, such stars as Les Elgart, Frank Sinatra and Tommy Dorsey have added lustre to the prom.

Charles Gibbs and Joseph Flood, co-chairmen of the Galleon Ball, deserve a great deal of credit for their untiring efforts in behalf of the Prom. Other chairmen included: Tony Brown on tickets, Vincent Leonard in charge of publicity, and Frank Cannatta, who produced the beautiful Prom Booklet. Robert Whitty, favor chairman, thought up the unusual idea of giving each girl a small blue and white teddy bear.

It was a star-studded night, up on the Belvedere Roof, and on the Seniors' and their dates will cherish in their memories for a long time to come.

March of Dimes

Joe Gilchrist, Seton Hall March of Dimes Chairman, announced the successful completion of Seton Hall's participation in the Essex County March of Dimes Campaign. The final total amount collected was $663.94. Of this amount $271.20 was collected in the Seton Hall University College of Newark during the course of the evening classes.

Classes, religion classes, cafeteria classes, and at two Seton Hall home basketball games. Mr. Gilchrist extends his sincere thanks to all those who lent their help to make this campaign the success it was.

Plans for the conference which is to be held April 14, 15, and 16 are rapidly progressing through the efforts of the various committees. Eminent guest speakers from the fields of science education and administration are being contacted and they will be announced in the near future. Fourteen tours of industrial and research organizations and medical institutions are also being planned. Coordinating these operations is the executive committee consisting of Roy Failla, Executive Chairman, Donald James, Vice Chairman, Matthew Rocco, Corresponding Secretary, Peter W. Boarding, Secretary, and Mr. Dan T. St. Rossy, Faculty Advisor.

When first informed of the conference four years ago Seton Hall immediately became an active participant in the organization. It was this Seton Hall's "strong and consistent support of the E. C. S. C. and its strong science program" that led the preceding host, Brooklyn College, to accept Seton Hall's bid for host of the Ninth Annual Eastern Colleges Science Conference.

Miss Debbie Lu Carlin Crowned at Ninth Annual Campus Queen Dance

Queen of the Campus

Miss Debbie Lu Carlin, Seton Hall's 1955 Queen of the Campus flanked by Jack Hansell, editor-in-chief of The Setonian and A. Joseph Parrillo, Dance chairman.

Miss Debbie Lu Carlin, student at Simmons College, was selected as Queen of the Campus from among seven lovely finalists at the annual Queen of the Campus Dance held on Friday night, January 21.

The Queen received such valuable prizes as luggage, clothing, jewelry and other gifts donated for the dance by local business firms. As the Queen of the Campus, she is also guest of honor at all social functions held at Seton Hall during the time of her reign.

In addition, two maids in waiting were also chosen. They were Miss Florence Vesilic and Miss Leonora Vissoli.

The judges included Leo P. Carlin, Mayor of Newark; Carl Reiner, Musical Comedy celebrity from the Sid Caesar Show; Jerry Nussbaum, columnist for the Newark Star Ledger and Bob Wilson, NBC-TV emcee.

According to Joe Parrillo, general chairman, the dance was a huge success and he wishes to extend his whole hearted appreciation to all those who participated, especially those who headed the various committees.

ANNOUNCEMENT

On Monday February 28, during the 7th period Mr. Robert D. Glynn of the New York Life Insurance Co. will speak to students of Seton Hall who are interested in insurance. The talk will take place during Mr. Gurtz's insurance class, and all interested students may attend.

Duggan and Herbster Pace Seton Hall in Johns Hopkins Debate Tournament

Seton Hall, represented by Buddy Duggan and Gene Herbster, gained fifth place at the Johns Hopkins Debate Tournament on February 4th and 5th.

Forty-eight debaters from twenty-four of the leading eastern colleges and universities were represented at the Baltimore tournament. The debaters were ranked individually and Duggan earned ninth position and Herbster fourth.

The Seton Hall debaters participated in six debates, winning four and losing two. Their most impressive victory was an eight point decision over the University of Pennsylvania.

In the coming weeks the Brownson Debating team will participate in tournaments at William and Mary in Virginia, Kings College in Pennsylvania, Brooklyn College and Amherst College in Massachusetts.

The annual high school debate tournament, conducted by the Brownson Society, will be held this year on April 23. Both public and parochial high schools will compete in this year's tournament. More than forty applications have been received.

Hall Business Conference Scheduled for February 23

By GARY NARDINO

The Savings and Loan Association Conference sponsored by the School of Business Administration in cooperation with the New Jersey Savings and Loan League which is to be held in the amphitheatre of the Science Building February 23 will commence at 9:30 A.M.

Angus S. Murphy, Ph.D., Dean of the School of Business Administration and Presiding Officer of the Conference will open the days program with an introductory address at 9:45 A.M. Emil A. Gallman, Executive Vice President of the New Jersey Savings and Loan League will address the body. Mr. Gallman will outline the functions and policies of Savings and Loan Associations. Following Mr. Gallman's talk, Clarence J. Lewis, A.M., LL.B., Assistant Professor of Banking Finance and Law, Chairman of the Conference Committee will moderate a panel discussion. Participants will be Anthony M. Sura, Vice President of the Carter Savings and Loan Association, and students Paul Meyers and Kenneth Cowap.

Warren Hill, Assistant Executive Vice President of the New Jersey Savings and Loan League will discuss at 10:45 the relationship of Savings and Loan Associations to Government fiscal and credit policy in the housing field and the relationship between Savings and Loan Associations and other financial institutions. Mr. Lewis will then conduct a panel discussion with Robert S. Messersmith, President of the New Jersey Savings and Loan League and student participants Arthur Schaub and Robert Colas.

Gone But Not Forgotten

President Eisenhower recently issued an executive order ending all veteran's benefits for those entering the service after January 31, 1955. This is a very serious problem to all young men who have not as yet fulfilled their military obligation. This order not only effects the educational benefits, but all the other adjustments—benefits including vocational rehabilitation, loan guaranty, unemployment compensation and mustering out payments. All of these are wartime benefits passed under World War II and Korean War grants to veterans.

At the present time we are not at war. Despite this fact every able bodied man must sacrifice two years of his life in active duty and considerable time in the reserves.

Why then, is this interruption in his life not compensated for with continued educational benefits? The so called "wartime" benefits cover many people who served after the shooting stopped and large numbers who were never near the battleground. This being the case, the exposure to bullets does not seem to be the important criteria. Rather the interruption of a man's life work is what we should be concerned with.

American young men must recognize service as an obligation to their country. But, on the other hand the country should also recognize the considerable sacrifice this service represents to the individual. Secondly, the tremendous benefits to the country of the educational grants to veterans cannot be discounted. The thousands of men who received training in the professions, business and varied other fields, invariably contributed much to our growing postwar economy.

The great majority of these men would never have been able to take this training without federal assistance. The huge needs of the post-war economy for college graduates in all fields would not have been met without this assistance. This would have resulted in far-reaching problems for the nation as it entered a vital period in its growth.

Today a man must serve at least two years in the armed service. For this service he does deserve some consideration for readjustment, allowance for education and training. This training is not only a benefit to the individual, but also to the country. —J.E.H.

BLUE AND WHITE SPOTLIGHT

By WALTER D. RAMSEY

Emerging from the everyday patterns of Seton Hall life this one of the leading figures of the Department of Modern Languages, Edward J. Henry. The soft-spoken Mr. Henry is a Professor of French and has taught here for ten years. In that time he has not only instructed his students in the subject, but demonstrated to them the qualities of a Christian gentleman of the highest degree.

Mr. Edward J. Henry

He first saw the light of day on the bluffs of the Hudson in Weehawken. After elementary school, St. Michael's High School in Union City was the scene of his secondary education. Upon graduation he matriculated in St. Peter's College. While there he was a participant in that great basketball rivalry between St. Peter's and Seton Hall as he played against the Pirates from 1932-1936, facing Seton Hall's first great star Ed Sadowski along the way.

Mr. Henry then continued in the Jesuit tradition by teaching at Fordham University. While there he also gained his M.A. in 1942. After that he took time out from educational pursuits to enter the service.

Serving in the Navy, he saw his initial action in the Mediterranean Theater, participating in the Sicily invasion. His ship was an attack transport whose job it is to get the men and supplies ashore. Since there were to be more landings in the Pacific he was next shipped there. In that theater of operations he took part in the conquest of the Gilberts, Marshalls, Marianas and the Philippines (Leyte and Luzon). By the time the war ended Mr. Henry had reached the position of the first Lieutenant on the ship he was serving on. This is one of the highest positions on board ship and is one which requires a great deal of skill and responsibility.

In 1946 he came to Seton Hall. Along with him came many of his comrades in arms, only now he was not telling them how to run a ship, but instructing them in the intricacies of the French language. He considers these veterans to be the most earnest students he has ever had.

Mr. Henry has a great knowledge of French History and French Literature. He manages to intertwine facts about these subjects along with the everyday lessons, much to the students' edification.

Joe Seton Says—

By DICK MONAGO

From out of no where comes the tap, tap, tap, of the old Underwood as vacation time is over, lectures begin, and deadlines are here. The ever-buzzing campus was quiet over the free days, but all play and no work also makes Joe College a dull boy, and so, back again!

It looks as if someone thought that "plasterers" were fast workers, but as we sip a cup of "Joe" and munch on a "burger" covered with particles of plaster, we can visualize our dream of a newly decorated cafeteria. . . . During vacation a few of the men from old Seton Hall managed to find time to "plymouth" down South to Florida and sunny, college-like Fort Lauderdale. . . . Don James, Paul Lavin, Larry Leyden, and Norm Lubeck were the guilty ones. . . . incidentally, Norm's grey hair, the one's that come from full hours of wisdom seeking, are quite outstanding. . . . the fellows are all sporting a tan, but not one that comes from the sun. . . . A few more enterprising and adventurous lads who would rather brave the cold wind on a ski slope than the sunny, sand-swept shores of a beach, motored to Lake Placid, N. Y., where they enjoyed a long weekend of skiing and winter sports. . . . V. I. P.; Frank Dondershine, the more quiet and intellectual type really took to the out-of-doors. . . . Jack Crowell finds ski poles and frosted glasses hard to handle. . . . Ned Crowell, John Heyeck, Bill Brennan, Ed Heselton, and the fellows with a chip on his shoulder, John Maye. . . . all had a grand a glorious time on the "fast woods". . . . The sad part of the story is that Bill Gannon, the instigator of the whole weekend was in bed with the virus and unable to attend. . . . all in all, a good time was had by these goodwill ambassadors of SHU. . . . Stan Kowalski took a trip to the middle of Pennsylvania. . . . says there are too many hills. . . . That's God's country, man!

Incidentally, at the Galleon Ball, every one was surprised by the appearance of the ever-popular female vocalist, Eileen Barton. . . . a couple of trackmen, Bruce Goodwin and Ray Troune didn't run fast enough. . . . they were caught, no records were broken and they have become engaged. . . . also, a couple of Phys. Ed. majors, Pete Festa and Tim "Bomber" Farrell. . . . are ready to hit the long lonesome trail to matrimony. . . . accompanied by Mary Lou Maccarillo and Dot Hoffman respectively, we don't think it will be too lonesome. . . . A gentlemen's agreement has been made with Herm Pizzi by "Mac" McTague and Bob Moore. . . . he collects tolls. . . . Bob and Mac do a bit of traveling.

The Pershing Rifles' pledge Ball will be held this Friday night. . . . a good time is expected to be had by all. . . . the formal occasion will mark the final initiation of Pledges. . . . Roy Haysen is in charge of the affair. . . . a queen will be picked and the lucky "Miss" will reign for the evening. . . . The Sophomore Dance has been postponed until May. . . . it will probably be the last social affair of the year.

If you are wondering what happened to the end of in the last issue, it was cut. . . . but at the wrong place. . . . The Queen of the Campus Dance was almost a complete success. . . . Thanks to everyone that attended. . . . it was a bad date, just before exams. . . . Carm Ferrenti's girl, Debbie Lu Carlin is our queen for this year. . . . Well men, before we fill the paper with small talk of this sort. . . . study hard. . . . this semester. . . . Be good. . . . Take care.

The day's program will be concluded at 2:10 P.M. with the showing of a film entitled "Where the Heart Is." This film will portray the role of a savings and loan association in the financing of a home for the average family.

Setonia's Best

By WALTER D. RAMSAY

This issue one of the "behind the scenes" men of Seton Hall emerges into justified prominence. Frank tor of the Setonian, is the type of individual whose true value is not appreciated by the general mass. The positions he holds in many organizations are ones which do not get much publicity, but are essential to the well-being of the group.

Frank serves as Parliamentarian for the Student Council. In this important position he must decide the validity of any points of order, make sure parliamentary procedure is strictly adhered to, and determine the constitutionality of any motions before the Council. In addition he serves on the Constitutional Aid Committee which examines the constitutions of any organizations wishing to come on campus for laws. Prior to this year he served as a class representative to the Council and while in this position he was elected treasurer of the group.

Despite the great honor accruing to him from these positions, Frank's greatest accomplishment in student government has been the authoring of the amendment to give clubs the power to vote. This radical change has made the Seton Hall Student Council one of the most democratic college bodies in America.

Frank has also been very active in the Academy of Science, as a member and as Vice-President. He served as Junior Delegate to the Seventh Annual Eastern Science College Conference and the following year he was selected to be Senior Delegate to the same conference.

He was one of the founding brothers of the Phi Beta Sigma Service Fraternity. The Fraternity teaches Frank's school spirit, in that it is devoted to helping other organizations on campus.

Besides all these co-curricular activities, he is majoring in Biology Pre-Med. In addition he finds some time to work at Marjorie Medical Center where he is a blood analyzer.

What young people are doing at General Electric

Young specialist in community relations makes friends in 101 plant cities

General Electric now has 131 plants in 101 cities, and one problem is common to all: How can the company show people in every community that it is a good neighbor?

This responsibility is shared by many and stimulated by 32-year-old John T. McCarty. His job: Consultant, Program Services in Plant Community Relations.

McCarty's work is varied, exciting

McCarty's assignment is to help each of the General Electric plants tell its neighbors what it is doing, what it hopes to do, and how it fits into the community.

He must be ready to travel to 26 states. He prepares community-relations manuals for use in all 101 plant cities. He supervises surveys of community sentiment, and tests the local effects of the company's advertising. And he helps plant management maintain friendly contacts with civic, religious, educational and other community leaders.

23,000 college graduates at General Electric

This is a sensitive and important job. McCarty was readied for it in a careful step-by-step program of development. Like McCarty, each of the 23,000 college-graduate employees is given his chance to grow, to find the work he does best, and to realize his full potential. For General Electric has long believed this: When fresh young minds are given freedom to make progress, everybody benefits — the individual, the company, and the country.

JOHN MCCARTY joined G. E.'s Advertising Department as a copywriter after army service and graduation from U. of Michigan in 1947. He has held his present job since June 1952.

Seton Hall Chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi Visits Stock Exchange in New York City

By GARY NARDINO

Gamma Pi Chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi Fraternity, under the direction of Mr. Clarence L. Lewis, Assistant Professor of Banking, Finance and Law, and a member of the chapter, was conducted on a tour of the New York Stock Exchange and the Federal Reserve Bank of New York Thursday, February 3.

Alpha Kappa Psi and three members of the faculty of the school of Business Administration, Mr. William Doeflinger, also a member of Alpha Kappa Psi and head of the Department of Economics, Mr. Stanley Stroud, professor of Marketing, and Mr. Lewis made the tour which began at the Federal Reserve Bank.

Mrs. Kathleen Guadaro, of the Public Relations Department of the Federal Reserve Bank, addressed the Seton Hall contingent. She outlined and explained the duties and functions of the Federal Reserve System in the United States.

This was followed by a tour of the facilities of the "Bankers Bank." The check clearing room, the currency counting and assorting department, the receiving department and the gold bullion vaults which contained some $9,000,000,000 in gold metal were among the points of interest visited by the entourage from South Orange. This tour was climaxed with a visit to the offices of William F. Treiber, First Vice President of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. Mr. Treiber greeted and welcomed the representatives from Seton Hall in his private office and in an informal discussion period, he described some of the influences of the Federal Reserve upon the nation's economy and the relationship between the Federal Reserve System and the government.

The group then proceeded to the New York Stock Exchange. From the visitors' gallery located above the floor of the exchange they witnessed the transfer of ownership of some of the largest business organizations in the nation. At the stock exchange they were greeted by Miss Helen Whitworth who explained the basic operational procedures of the exchange.

Members of Alpha Kappa Psi who made the tour all expressed the same feeling; they stated that the experience proved both interesting and entertaining as well as educational.

Blue and White

and interest. A student in his class thus gets a fine understanding of the French people in addition to learning their language.

Mr. Henry would like to see the humanities stressed more in college. He feels that too much specialization drowns out individuality and regiments students. Because of this, many students do not have a true sense of values.

At present Mr. Henry makes South Orange his home. Despite teaching at both the Urban and Campus divisions of Seton Hall, and the cares of raising a family, he has found time to complete his thesis for his doctorate at N. Y. U.

Despite this obviously tremendous schedule, Mr. Henry still finds time to moderate the French Club. Ed Henry is certainly a professor of whom Seton Hall is justifiably proud.

After Hours

By JOHN MAYE

The Weight Lifting Club, youngest organization on campus, is off to a flying start this semester under the capable leadership of its President, Vic Gerardi. The members have been using the squash courts in the Gym for workouts and now have over 600 lbs. of weights, including an Olympic Bar and other miscellaneous equipment. According to Vic, the club may be seen in some A.A.U. meets in the future. Other officers include vice-president, Frank Delmotte; Treasurer, Charlie Lyons; and Recording Secretary, Ed Kienzinski. The next business meeting of the organization will be held this Friday at 3:30 P.M. in the Student Lounge. Anyone interested in joining is invited to attend. No experience is necessary. Why not give it a try?

Hats off to the fourteen new brothers of Phi Beta Sigma who have been accepted after their three-month pledge period. The pledge project which they began will continue in the next pledge class. The names for the new class were submitted at last Tuesday's meeting and the pledge period will begin in the last week of February, according to Jack Cooley, pledge instructor.

Any organization that needs help with any problem should feel free to leave a notice at the Fraternity office in Student Affairs and the Service Fraternity will try to aid in any way they can.

The new officers of the I.R.C. were elected at a special meeting on January 18. They include Tom Brennan, President; Pete Murray, Vice President; Bryon Morority, Secretary; S. C. Representative, Drew Decourcy; with "yours truly" as Treasurer. The club is sending four delegates to the Foreign Policy Symposium to be held at St. Peter's on the 28th of February. A field trip to the U.N. in the near future is also planned.

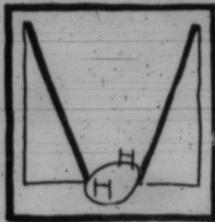

Congrats are extended to Steve Schwarmann for winning the Freshman Chemistry Award by maintaining the highest average in chemistry. This award is given annually by the Chemical Rubber Company of Cleveland, Ohio.

The brass will shine and the shoes will glitter this Friday night when the Pershing Rifles step out to their first annual Military Ball at the Roosevelt Armory in Newark. Honorary Guests include Colonel Bartlett and Father Larkin. New members will be sworn in by Captain Schatzman and an Honorary Company Commander will be chosen from among the many beautiful and charming ladies attending. The strength of the organization is at the present time the largest in the history of the P.R.'s at Seton Hall. A new pledge period will begin in a few weeks under the guidance of Nick Cerullo, Pledge Officer.

to taste better!

THEY'RE CLAMORING FOR THEM! Who? Students. What? Luckies. Coast to coast, dormitory to dormitory, college smokers prefer Luckies to all other brands, according to the greatest up-to-date college survey. Again, the No. 1 reason for Luckies' wide lead: Luckies taste better. They taste better, first of all, because Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then, that tobacco is toasted to taste better. "It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—tones up Luckies' mild, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better. So enjoy the better-tasting cigarette... Lucky Strike. By JIM KISSANE, Setonian Sports Editor

To go to the NIT in March or not to go to the NIT is the question. There is little question but that Seton Hall will be responsive to the tourney bid if it is offered. Hence, the only question seems to be—will Seton Hall be extended an invitation to compete at MSG against the nation's best basketball teams in the annual post-season NIT classic? There is an answer to every question and the answer here seems to be that the Pirates will be accorded a NIT invite if they sweep all but one of the remaining games on this season's schedule. Conceding the possibility of a defeat by Dayton out in the badlands March 3rd, Seton seems almost certain to represent the Metropolitan area in the NIT if it wins all the other games. It's no secret that there is a dearth of top cage teams within the Metropolitan confines and this definitely shall work to the Hall's advantage. Manhattan and Fordham seem to be the only others in the area on an equal par (both by virtue of comparative records and comparative individual talent) with Seton Hall. From what we have observed by watching Manhattan in five games this year (with St. Joseph's, Siena, St. John's, Brigham Young and Connecticut), the Jaspers appear no stronger than the Pirates! As for Fordham, the Rams have made known repeatedly in the past their adversity to playing in the Garden. If Fordham receives tourney invites and decides upon acceptance of one, you may assured the choice will favor the NCAA.

Admittedly, the Seton Hall record has been fattened by victories over inferior opposition (for the most part). However, by the same token it must be conceded even by the most cynical observer that the losses, with the exception of those to Fordham and Wake Forest, were not by landslide proportions. In fact, Stanford, Villanova and Cincinnati might have been taken into camp had Seton received a few breaks.

Only time will tell the story, fate holds the key to whether the basketball season for the Pirates will be finished as of March 3rd with the conclusion of the Dayton contest or will be lengthened by invitation to and participation in Mr. Irish's National Invitation Tourney. Within a fortnight the answer should be made known.

SCUTTLEBUTT:

John Kennelley WSOU Director of Sports, and Jim Reardon, catcher on the SHU varsity baseball team, were recently honored by selection to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. . . . Ex-Hall-court star Hank Cooper and Seton baseball All-American Bill Nolan left during January for Camp Gordon, Georgia where the two 2nd Lieutenants will take their schooling. . . . Bob Davies, collegiate cage great in his undergraduate playing days at Seton Hall and pro star with Rochester of the NBA for the past several years will retire from the playing ranks at season's end. He's getting the head basketball coaching assignment at Gettysburg College. Bob's had previous coaching experience. In 1946-47 his Seton Hall squad compiled a modest 24-3 record. . . . Honey Russell's career as an amateur and professional baseball, basketball and football player as well as court coach is being traced in a Sport magazine feature story. . . . Walt Dukes and Father Ockay were interviewed over WPIX at Garden sporting events. . . . Wasn't that some fuss over the Santee and Dwyer episode at the Millrose Games in the Garden? We never heard more conflicting stories of the stretch extra-curriculars than reports on the incident given by Bill Stern on his ABC radio sports show and Jesse Abrahamson in his New York Herald Tribune track article of Feb. 6th. Stern said the blame lay with Santee and that the lean Kansan should also have been disqualified for the pushing and shoving in which he had been the aggressor. Abrahamson, scolded Dwyer and claimed Wes was innocent of the blame and undeserving of the boos accorded him by the Garden crowd. Who do you think was right, Dwyer or Santee, Stern or Abrahamson? . . . The latest rumor, and it appears to be just that, has it that Seton Hall will meet Notre Dame in basketball next season. . . . Who read Willie Klein's column in the Sunday Newark Star-Ledger about a week ago? His "On Second Thought" column was an interview with former basketball referee and I. L. baseball umpire Bill (Chuck) Solodare. Here is what the respected Mr. Solodare who knows sports thoroughly had to say about Honey Russell. "Honey was a peach of a player. I watched him when he played for Albany in the New York State League. No one could match him defensively," so spoke Chuck Solodare, who revealed to Klein his thoughts on the all-time cage greats. Russell, according to Solodare, rates just behind Johnny Beckman (who he calls the greatest all-around player of all-time), Nat Holman and Dutch Dehnert. All four were teammates on the Original Celtics. It was no accident, therefore, that two others of Honey's Original Celts teammates echoed the sentiments of Solodare. Messrs. Cunnaty and McDonald who played with Russell spoke of Russell as one of the all-time court greats with no equal defensively. The latter two gentlemen gave their thoughts over WSOU at halftime of the John Carroll game.

"John Hancock" is needed in the Coordinator's office. It means money in your pocket, so if you've been remiss, get with it!

Now that the word has been passed to those who have been with us, perhaps some instructions should be given to the neophytes.

First of all, if you have not yet received your Certificate of Eligibility from the Veterans Administration, you are not (for the records) officially classified as a veteran on Campus. But, when you do receive the Certificate, report immediately to Mr. Ryliko's office in order to start your Korean GI Bill rolling. If you filed for these benefits prior to the first day of class, your payments will be made retroactive, despite the lapse of time before you receive your authorization.

Secondly, there is a certain small amount of paper work that must be done by you at the end of each month. You must have an attendance report filled out by each of your instructors and then returned to the Coordinator's office, then your signature, etc., is required on two 1956 forms and bingo, you're in the money for the following 20th. These attendance blanks should be obtained from the Coordinator's office during the last week of each month.

Finally, registration should be the keynote throughout your stay here at school. Remember you must register with Mr. Ryliko every time that you register for classes. You can be assured of prompt action on finances as long as you comply with the few necessary regulations. It is not difficult to get that $110.00, but by simple neglect, it is easy to lose it.

One more blast to all veterans. P L 550, 894, 346 and 164. If you have made any schedule changes (and who hasn't) don't forget to make the necessary changes on your forms in the Coordinator's office. Enough preaching Jay 'tis time to close, best of luck in the new semester.

Seton's Sport Stars

By ED CRYER

Marty Farrell

The 6'7", 220 pound sophomore was a main reason for the hoopsters getting off to a good start this year. Splitting the rebound chores with Richie Lane, he has been first or second in that department throughout the season and is currently averaging 8.4 per game.

Outstanding, however, is his field goal percentage of 42.1, second only to Ed Petrie. Not to be overlooked is the Physical Education Major's foul shooting percentage of 71.5, also near the top on the squad.

The Old Forge, Pennsylvania player uses his weight and height to good advantage and is a rough man to deal with under the boards. With seventeen games already in the bag, Farrell is averaging 2.2 points per game.

John Keller

Unheralded at the beginning of the season, the Grange, N. J. star, from Valley Forge, came into his own after several games were played as he rose from third string to a starting position. "Blazer," as he is sometimes called, excels with a one-handed jump shot, which Coach Hunsell calls "unbelievable." He was hitting the courts with close to 30% of his shots but recently slumped to a respectable 39%.

Although only 6'7", 175 pounds, Keller comes through with some key rebounds on many occasions. A victim of being on a squad with two of the best small men around, Keller could probably start every game with most other schools.

Veteran J. A. Sports Scribe at Hall

On the afternoon of January 17, Mr. Mike Gavin of the New York Journal American spoke to a combined meeting of the Press Club and The Setonian. Mr. Gavin spoke informally, answering the questions presented to him by the members attending. This was the second in a series of talks given by prominent personalities in the field of journalism. The first guest was Mr. Joe McLaughlin of the Newark Evening News.

Dodgers Baseball Club for the next fifteen years.

Mr. Gavin concentrated his discussion on baseball, his "first love." Mr. Gavin added many interesting sketches about such famous personalities as Leo Duocher, Charlie Dressen, Branch Rickey, and many others. The Jackie Robinson story was one of the questions put to Mr. Gavin, the veteran reporter then added some interesting facts about Jackie's early career which will never get into the Look articles.

Larry Keefe, moderate, of the Press Club and head of the Public Relations Department here at Seton Hall.

Mr. Gavin started his reporting career doing the public relations work for the then famous Iron-bound Baseball League. He then began reporting sports for the Newark Star Eagle, and later became its sports editor. Following his stay at the Newark paper, Mr. Gavin then went to the Journal American, covering the Brooklyn
