Hate Proves Importance Of Schools

VATICAN CITY—The importance of Catholic schools can be judged "by the hatred displayed for them by the Church's enemies," Pope Paul VI told the audience yesterday in the Paul VI Hall.

Speaking at the opening of the Fifth Congress of Catholic Social Action Organizations, which is sponsored by the Pontifical Council for Justice and Peace, the Pontiff said: "The enemy's hatred for our schools is a proof of the importance of Catholic education."

The remarks were made in the presence of several hundred Catholic educators, prominent lay leaders and government officials, who gathered in the Vatican to discuss the Congress theme: "The Role of Catholic Social Action in a Changing World."

1957 in Archdiocese of Newark and Diocese of Paterson

Newark — The year 1887 was a blazing one in the life of the Church in both the Archdiocese of Newark and the Diocese of Paterson. For the first time in its history, the Diocese had an episcopal representative, the Most Rev. Francis BishoP Caldwell, Archbishop of Newark; and the Archdiocese had a bishop, the Most Rev. Michael J. McNulty, appointed as Bishop of Paterson.

February

The 1957 academic year began in the Archdiocese of Newark with the opening of classes on Sept. 10. In the three diocesan seminaries, 119 students were enrolled, 107 in the对学生 Seminary and 12 in the Maryknoll Seminary, of which 40 were seminarians and 79 were students.

March

The Pope's visit to the United States, which was celebrated with great enthusiasm throughout the nation, was particularly significant to the Archdiocese of Newark and the Diocese of Paterson. The papal visit was a validation of the Church's role in American society.

April

The opening of the new Bergen Catholic High School was a major event in the Archdiocese of Newark. The school, which was built on a 25-acre site in Hackensack, was dedicated by Archbishop McNulty.

May

The 1957 Archdiocesan and Diocesan Congress of Catholic Laymen was held in Newark. The Congress was attended by thousands of laymen from throughout the Archdiocese and Diocese.

June

The 1957 Archdiocesan and Diocesan Congress of Catholic Laymen was held in Newark. The Congress was attended by thousands of laymen from throughout the Archdiocese and Diocese.

July

The 1957 Archdiocesan and Diocesan Congress of Catholic Laymen was held in Newark. The Congress was attended by thousands of laymen from throughout the Archdiocese and Diocese.

August

THE "PITFALLS," INTERIOR-ONLY HANDS-HELD. NO EXCUSES

* When you call Duffys, you call a friend! Duffys is always nearby, always ready to serve you. A friend for all seasons! Duffys is always nearby, always ready to serve you. A friend for all seasons!

† THE "PITFALLS," INTERIOR-ONLY HANDS-HELD.
The time is now. Church, State, and Society must work together to ensure that the future generation is prepared for the complexities of the world. This includes a strong education in the liberal arts, including the study of history, science, mathematics, and the humanities. It also includes an understanding of the role of the family and the importance of traditional values. However, we must also recognize that society is changing rapidly, and new challenges are emerging. We must be open to new ways of thinking and new approaches to education, while still maintaining a commitment to the timeless truths of the faith. We must also be vigilant in our protection of the family, and work to ensure that children are given the support and guidance they need to succeed in life. The Church can play a vital role in this, through its schools, its parishes, and its social programs. We must be willing to engage in dialogue with those who hold different views, while still maintaining our commitment to the truth. This is not an easy task, and it requires courage and perseverance. But it is essential, if we are to build a society that is just, free, and free from the scourge of evil. We must be the Church at the moment of history, the Church of the present moment, the Church of the future. We must be ready to face the challenges of the world, and to work together to create a society that is just, free, and free from the scourge of evil.
The Crisis
In Labor

I believe every friend of labor is aware of the fact that the members of the National Catholic Worker movement have recently been expelled from the International Congress on Labor Law and Legislation, held at Brussels last-month. As such a position is clearly not only a departure from the interpretation of the spirit of the social principle but is also a denial of the views of the confessing churches, this matter needs to be given serious consideration by those who believe that our social institutions can be reflected in the life of our community.

How Long Should She Wait For a Marriage Proposal?

By Father John L. Thomas, S.J.

Ask a Professor of Sociology at St. Louis University and you'll get a proposal to marry. I realize this sounds as if I were desperate. Well, I'm not. I am, however, totally out of anyone. We've been dating for about the past six months. Every time the subject comes up, he has some excuse. Should I keep him?

If you're really close, then the decision to keep him is yours. If your boyfriend beans on you, you should probably break up with him. However, if your boyfriend is a good man, you should probably keep him. The decision is yours.

A letter to the Editor:

Aren't men sometimes envious of a woman who's not long enough for their mother's parents that they might think you're not worth it from the start? Then this is for the man who's been in love for about the past six months. You're doing fine. You've been seeing this guy for about six months, but he has some excuse. Should I keep him?

Anniversaries Point Up Mary's Role in Church Unity Campaign

GARDINER, N. Y. (AP) — By inviting the monks of the Carthusian monastery of St. Bruno in Maredolce, Italy, to spend the month of April at the Mount St. Joseph Monastery here, the Rev. Francis M. Murphy, parish priest of St. Joseph's Church in Gardiner, has paid tribute to a woman who lived in both Italy and New York.

For four years Mary Magdalene lived in our New York area, now known as the Italian Village, in the days of St. Peter the Martyr and St. Dominick, who were in residence at St. Peter's Church and St. Dominic's University, respectively.

The Rev. Murphy, who is the new pastor of St. Joseph's Church, has invited the monks of the Carthusian monastery of St. Bruno to spend the month of April at his parish church, which is named after St. Joseph.

The Carthusian monastery of St. Bruno is one of the oldest monasteries in Italy, and is located in the province of Salerno.

The monks of the monastery have been invited to stay at St. Joseph's Church to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the establishment of the monastery of St. Bruno.

The Rev. Murphy said that the invitation to the monks of St. Bruno was made in recognition of the role that Mary Magdalene played in the development of the Church in New York.

He said that Mary Magdalene was a patroness of the Church in New York, and that her influence can still be felt today.

The Rev. Murphy also said that the invitation to the monks of St. Bruno was a way of showing his appreciation for the work of the Carthusian monastery of St. Bruno.

The monks of St. Bruno have accepted the invitation, and will arrive at St. Joseph's Church on April 1.

The Rev. Murphy said that the monks of St. Bruno will be welcomed by the congregation of St. Joseph's Church, and that a special service will be held in their honor.

The Rev. Murphy also said that the monks of St. Bruno will be given a tour of the city, and will be able to see some of the beautiful sites of New York.

The Rev. Murphy said that the monks of St. Bruno will be a great asset to the community of St. Joseph's Church, and that they will be a source of inspiration for the congregation.

The Rev. Murphy also said that the monks of St. Bruno will be a source of inspiration for the community of Gardiner, and that they will be a source of inspiration for the whole world.

The Rev. Murphy said that the monks of St. Bruno will be a great addition to the community of St. Joseph's Church, and that they will be a great asset to the community of Gardiner.

The Rev. Murphy also said that the monks of St. Bruno will be a great asset to the community of Gardiner, and that they will be a source of inspiration for the whole world.

One is not surprised that the NBC television version of "The Unbearable Lightness of Being" received an R rating. The story, which deals with moral dilemmas and the complexities of existentialism, is not suitable for children.

The film, directed by Michael Apted, stars John Malkovich, Juliette Binoche, and Jeremy Irons. Malkovich portrays Janek, a professor who becomes involved in a morality debate with his students. Binoche plays Tereza, a nurse who falls in love with another character.

The film's rating, which has caused controversy among some viewers, is based on its depiction of sexual content and adult themes.

Television Film Ratings

"The Unbearable Lightness of Being" is rated R for strong sexual content, some nudity, and violence. The film is not suitable for children.

Catholic Radio and Television

Television

Theologians and ethicists have been divided over the film's portrayal of moral issues. Some believe that it accurately reflects the complexities of human existence, while others argue that it is a depiction of moral failure.

"The Unbearable Lightness of Being" is a thought-provoking film that challenges the viewer to consider the moral implications of existentialism. It is a must-watch for those interested in philosophy and moral dilemmas.

For Further Reading

Barbara Ehrenreich, "Culture of Fear: What We Fear and Why We Wake Up at Night," is a compelling exploration of the psychology of fear.

Gail Sheehy, "Passion and Politics: A History of Sexual Attitudes," provides a

"The Unbearable Lightness of Being" is a film
that challenges viewers to consider the moral implications of

Two Swiss Priests Established U. S. Capuchins 100 Years Ago

NORTH:EPA--The simultaneous efforts of two men named Brother Maximilian Kolbe and Brother Joseph Mazzella to establish the Society of the Capuchin Friars in the United States were made the same day in 1868.

The Rev. Max, Fray, pastor of St. Anthony's Church, Jersey City, and Rev. Joseph Mazzella, pastor of St. Anthony's Church, Newark, N. J., in separate announcements, made the same day in 1868, the decision to establish the Capuchin Friars in the United States.

The Capuchin Friars, founded in the 13th Century, are a religious order of the Roman Catholic Church dedicated to the spiritual care of the sick and the poor. They are also known for their philanthropic work and their dedication to the care of the elderly.

PRAYERS AMID POVERTY!

We who are rich are no more the possessors of wealth, for the poor have a store of wealth that is ours. In the midst of poverty there is beauty, delight, and joy. The stillness of poverty is a mirror that reflects the splendor of other things. To see the beauty of poverty is to see the beauty of God. The poor are the true poets, for they know how to make a song of their lives. They are the true philosophers, for they understand the meaning of existence. They are the true mystics, for they see the face of God in every living thing. They are the true apostles, for they bring the good news of the kingdom of heaven to all men. They are the true saints, for they have a love for God that is pure and simple.

This is the sixth in the series of "Lives of the Saints" for you and your class. We are using the Lives of the saints as the basis of our studies of the Patrons of the Catholic Church. We hope you will enjoy the articles, which are based on the lives of the saints and their stories of devotion, faith, and charity. We hope you will find them interesting and informative.

In this issue, we present the story of St. Francis de Sales. St. Francis de Sales was a great spiritual writer and a great leader in the Catholic Church. He was born in France in 1568 and died in 1622. He was known as the "Apostle of the Poor" and was one of the most important figures in the history of the Catholic Church.

RUTHERFORD Parish Plans Fund Drive

RUTHERFORD — In preparation for the 50th anniversary of the founding of St. Mary's parish here, a major fundraising campaign has been inaugurated by Msgr. Charles Byrnes, pastor.

It is hoped that the campaign will raise $2,000,000, enough to buy and equip a cottage or build a school building at the high grade of $40,000 to $45,000 a year or a month.

Graymoor Nun's Servo on Radio

NEW YORK — The story of Graymoor, the home of the New York Province of Poor Clares, is now being heard by radio listeners in large parts of the country. The monks and nuns of Graymoor, the oldest religious community in the United States, have been broadcasting on a regular basis via WNYC and WOR-FM for a year or more.

Celebrating Cardinal Bea in Japan

TOKYO — The visit to Japan of Pope Paul VI in 1961 is now a matter of history. But the memory of the visit is still fresh in the minds of the Japanese, who have been Yamashita's close friend and follower.
