DR. McNULTY NEW PRESIDENT

AN EDITORIAL

The news of Msgr. Kelley's resignation stunned many, but the effect was strongest among the students, who regarded the Monsignor as more than their president. They regarded him as a friend.

The Monsignor, who in 1946 spent many sleepless nights working on plans to enlarge Seton Hall, to facilitate the great influx of veterans, will never be forgotten by the veterans.

When most colleges closed their doors to the ex-G.I.'s because they were overcrowded, the Monsignor did everything humanly possible to get the veterans started on the road back to normalcy.

No one was refused admittance to Seton Hall who qualified. That was the Monsignor's "slogan". Classes were to be held in the evening so that all accepted veterans could immediately begin their courses.

A school which once had facilities for only 350 students, now had to accommodate 4000.

New classes were to be built, more buildings, more barracks and more professors were needed. Dr. Kelley understood the problem and hastened its solution. This was the beginning of a great friendship between the students and Monsignor Kelley.

During the beginning months, going to night classes was tiring for the students. Attending school, working at part-time jobs and, for some, supporting a family were great tasks.

The problem was not foreign to Dr. Kelley. He knew the obstacles which stood in their paths and the energy needed to overcome them.

On cold night in 1946, an announcement was made over the public address system, that Monsignor Kelley wanted to speak to the students. A crowd gathered around the corner of the old building to listen. Ate a table Monsignor Kelley delivered his message. It was short, concise, and enlightening. He said, new buildings were ready to be constructed, the problem of classroom shortages and long hours would be solved.

His answer was a burst of applause.

Seton Hall has been fortunate in having named as its President The Rev. Dr. John L. McNulty.

An alumnus, faculty member and administrator of the College, Dr. McNulty in his years of association with Seton Hall has come to know the problems of the College. No finer choice as a successor to Monsignor Kelley could be named. The students and faculty are certain he will continue to further the great progress made by Seton Hall under Monsignor Kelley. —J. ### Trenton Alumni Club Formed

The Seton Hall College Club of Trenton, N. J., has been formed recently, with the permission of Bryan Conlan, president of the Alumni Association. The object of the organization is to enable Seton Hall graduates who live in the Trenton Area to keep in contact with college friends, even after they leave school. The club will also provide an opportunity for members to help one another to secure jobs in business and industry.

Among the men in the formation of the organization are Tom Beutel, Walter Pikeelniak, and Mike Cetkowski, undergraduates; and Al Goldenbaum, alumnus. Any past or present Seton Hall students who reside in or near Trenton, and who would be interested in joining the College Club, are cordially invited to contact one of these men for more information.

Plans Not Known

RESIGNATION COMES AS SURPRISE TO STUDENTS AND FACULTY

Monsignor James F. Kelley has resigned from the office of President of Seton Hall College, it was announced last week. Rev. John L. McNulty, Dean of the Urban Division of the College has been named in his place.

Announcement of the change was made by Archbishop Walsh through Msgr. James A. Hughes, chancellor of the Newark Archdiocese. The announcement contained no reason for the Monsignor's resignation, which came as a surprise to the students and faculty of the College alike. Msgr. Hughes stated that Msgr. Kelley's future assignment was still undetermined.

Monsignor Kelley who has been under doctor's care for several months, has been cited as one of the most active college presidents in the country. When he came here in 1933 there were only 350 students; he was then 33, the youngest college head in the country. The institution has since grown to a 7,000 enrollment with divisions in Newark and Jersey City.

An Honor Student

Born in Kearny, N. J., Msgr. Kelley was graduated from Seton Hall Prep. and received a B.A. degree from the college in 1924 when he was graduated with highest honors. He then studied for a year in Immaculate Conception Seminary, then on the South Orange campus.

He was ordained a priest after study at Louvain, Belgium, on July 8, 1928. He then returned to Seton Hall as an instructor in Education and French, and after serving four years in this capacity, he was transferred to the Aquinas House of Studies or a Doctorate degree.

Receive Doctorate

He went to Europe again to study, and in 1935 received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy at Louvain. Upon his return to Seton Hall, he was named the head of the department of Philosophy, and in the next year he replaced the late Most Rev.

Philosophy Circle Hear Dr. Hammond

At the February 25 meeting of the Seton Hall College Philosophy Circle, Dr. Francis M. Hammond, Professor of Philosophy, reviewed Thomas Merton's significant new book, The Seven Storey Mountain.

"This is a story of a critical, restless, sensitive soul in search of God", Dr. Hammond commented. "Born in a modern nomadic Protestant family of artists, his early youth could be termed a perpetual Hegira from Europe to America and, back and forth again. The son of an artist, who though not a wielder of the brush himself, is nonetheless an artist - a poet who draws beautiful pictures with words.

"As a student of philosophy I am interested in the part that the study of Scholastic Philosophy played in Thomas Merton's conversion to the Roman Catholic faith. This book is a work of art and not a philosophical treatise, though many tracts, both theological and philosophical, abound in it. Those who read The Seven Storey Mountain will see displayed before their eyes and minds, and thus inviting their own contemplation, those indescribable beauties in which the love of God paints in the souls of those who seek Him." ### Quinlan To Speak At Hall

On Monday evening, March 14, 1949, at 8:00 P. M. in the Marshall Library, Mr. Joseph Quinlan, president of Local 843, Teamsters union, will speak to the Seton Hall Chapter of the Society for the Advancement of Management. He will speak on "The Union's obligation to the Community".

Brienza Resigns

Paul Brienza, former purchasing agent and secretary to Msgr. Kelley, has severed his official relations with Seton Hall. This was announced last Friday by the college authorities.

Father John F. Davis, of the administration staff, has assumed the post formerly held by Mr. Brienza.

HITCHELL TO DIRECT C. A. PRODUCTION

"The Importance of Being Earnest", Oscar Wilde's artificial comedy will be the first production of a newly formed Communications Arts Department, it was announced recently. Dates of presentation have been set for May 8, 9, and 10.

After the reading on Thursday, March 3, the following students were cast in major roles: Albert Groves as Algernon; Edward Murray as Earnest; Joan Guthrie as Gwendolyn; Marie Drury as Lady Bracknell. Others in the cast are: Harold McCabe, Paul Irvine and Rhea Sergeant.

Director of the play is Mr. Hitchell, and Richard Cozzolina is the Assistant Director.

Movie of Hall Being Made Soon

A twenty minute educational sound motion picture built around student life at Seton Hall has gone into production. The Public Relations department has announced that the film will contain shots of students in the classrooms, at sports, and at social events.

The picture, which will be handled by the Edward Davis Studios of Jersey City, will feature a well-known radio commentator as narrator, the department announced.

When completed, the film will be used as an advertising device to interest high-school seniors in Seton Hall College.

FORMER VIENNA LAWYER AT HALL

This is the third of a series of articles on the Seton Hall Faculty.

By John Tombler

Seton Hall College has on its faculty a former citizen of the old Austrian Empire and member of the Vienna Bar. Dr. Norbert Lubasz, graduate of the University of Vienna, is now assistant professor of German here.

Born and brought up in bilingual surroundings which gave him the command of two European languages, German and Polish, Dr. Lubasz first attended, in his native town, the Humanistic (so named because of its special emphasis on the languages and civilizations of the ancient Greeks and Romans) and then entered the University of Vienna to study Philosophy and the Laws (Roman, Canon, Austrian and International), as well as Political Economy and Public Administration.

Owing to his Scholastic and academic achievements (summa cum laude results in all grades and examinations, both in the Gymnasium and at the University) Dr. Lubasz qualified as a candidate for the rare distinction of the Imperial Ring, the highest academic honor of the old Austrian Empire for doctoral candidates, which however, was suspended after the outbreak of World War I in 1914 and then completely abolished after the collapse of the Empire and the Imperial House in 1918.

Dr. Lubasz then took up teaching as a private tutor in his early youth. After obtaining his doctorate degree he devoted himself to public teaching in the Austrian capital, where he also conducted a law practice. The ever growing responsibilities in this latter field together with his extensive literary research work compelled him finally to restrict himself to his barristership, in which he remained till 1939, when the anti-democratic course that followed the "Anschluss" caused him to leave Vienna and go to England.

There, in London, Dr. Lubasz spent the 6 years of World War II and experienced all its horrors, especially the unceasing attacks of the "Luftwaffe". This however, did not prevent him from contributing his share to-

SETON INTERRACIAL COUNCIL DEALS BLOW TO PREJUDICE

By Ralph Conte

In observance of Interracial Week, February 27th to March 5th, the Interracial Council of Seton Hall, under the moderatorship of Mr. Anscheles, has carried out various projects, dealing heavy blows to intolerance and prejudice.

A play, "In Henry's Backyard", was transcribed at WSOU for production over a local network. The cast, under the direction of Raymond Lukshis, included Joe Graham, Fred Von Spreckelson, Walter Baden, Rubin Silverman, Leonard Wolf, and Miss Rhea Sergeant of Fordham University.

Radio time was obtained at WVNJ for a ten minute address given by a member of the Interracial Council.

The Speaker's Bureau of the Council, has arranged to send wards, the common weal. He took up teaching again, and 1943 followed a call of the Polish Ministry of the Interior (in exile) in London, joining its staff as writer and translator. In this official position, under the premiership of the well known Polish patriot and statesman, Mr. Mikolajczak, Dr. Lubasz did extensive literary and translation work in 4 modern languages.

Having obtained a visa to the United States Dr. Lubasz left his teaching and governmental positions in London and came to this country shortly after the European V-Day. Here he first joined the teaching staff of a reputed prep school in Connecticut and then the faculty of Seton Hall College.

Asked what he thought of the United States, Dr. Lubasz said, "Ever since I arrived in this country I have been deeply impressed by its beauty, its power and dynamic mode of life". He compares Seton Hall favorably with European Universities and says he is convinced that Seton Hall is doing a splendid job and has a fine future.

Dr. Lubasz, who is now in his fifties, besides his teaching and literary work, has a fine hobby—classical music. He plays the viola and he has a trained bass-baritone voice which has involved him in many musical enterprises. His special love is the string quartet, which he cultivates here as he did in Vienna members of the council to various high and parochial schools to address the students on the subject of racial prejudices. The Speaker's Bureau is under the chairmanship of Joe Graham.

Thursday, March 3rd, Mr. George K. Hutton, Managing Editor of the "Interracial Review", which is published by the Catholic Interracial Council, spoke to a large gathering of Setonians.

STAGE STARS AND SPORTING WORLD AT ALUMNI SHOW

Stars of the stage and sporting world were featured in a variety show, presented by the Seton Hall College Alumni on Thursday evening, February 24. James Pinkham, Class of '48, was general chairman of the presentation, which drew a large attendance of alumni, their families, friends, and undergraduates of the college.

Al Mamaux, former manager and pitcher of the Newark Bears and onetime baseball coach at Seton Hall, was master of ceremonies. Among the notables present were Phil Brito, actor and singer; Gus Lesnevich, former light-heavyweight champion of the world; Charley Fusari, another noted boxer; Hubert Valentine, famed Irish-born singer; Alf Goulet, former six-day racing bicyclist; The Blue Rangers, a six-piece musical combination; Miss Vivian Miller, dancer and musician; Miss Betty Cummings, singer from the Paper Mill Playhouse; Frank Kelleher, tenor; and the Ambassadors of the Seton Hall College Glee Club, who rounded out the evening with a few selected numbers and, as a finale, sang the Alma Mater.

Following the show, refreshments were served in the gymnasium.

and London. He did extensive research work in Romantic music, "the twin sister of Romantic poetry", as he puts it, and since November 1948 has offered a series of lectures on the development of German and Austrian music over our Radio Station, WSOU. He believes that serious music is "a source of purest happiness and a link between God and man". He emphatically recommends that all young people with intellectual interests should learn how to play a musical instrument. "This" would enable our youth first to enjoy this wonderful art much more profoundly than by listening only, and secondly to become an active factor in the startling development of serious music in the United States of the last two or three decades", Dr. Lubasz concluded.

Glee Club Expands; Tours Jersey and Pa.

By George J. Sugar

In preparation for its annual Spring Concert to be held on May 13th in the gymnasium-auditorium, the Seton Hall College Glee Club recently conducted auditions for soloists.

Since invitations were sent out to various women's colleges here in the East, several young ladies participated in the auditions, which took place Sunday evening, February 22, in the Little Theatre. One vocal and one instrumental soloist were selected. Judges were Miss Agnes Murphy, supervisor of musical education of the State of New Jersey; and Father J. Gillhooly of Seton Hall.

The ladies chosen were Miss Jeanette Coscarino, soprano, of Chestnut Hill College, Philadelphia, and Miss Rosalie Severino, pianist, of North Bergen, N. J. and Marywood College, Scranton, Pennsylvania.

February was a busy month for the Seton Hall College Glee Club. On Monday evening, February 21st, the Gentlemen Pirates presented a concert for the Central Parent-Teacher Association of Roselle Park, New Jersey. Under the direction of Mr. Joseph Murphy, the group sang "Alma Mater", "Brothers Sins On", "In the Still of the Night", "This is My Country", "John Peel", "My Heart Stood Still", "All Through the Night", "Siboney", "Battle Hymn of the Republic", and "Praise Ye the Lord". Mr. Louis Gambertoglio rendered "Come Back to Sorrento", "With a Song in My Heart", and "Viemi Sul Mar". Mr. Robert T. Watts sang "Macushla", "Because", and "O Sole Mio". The Ambassadors were so well received that the audience demanded two encores—"No, John No" and "Drums in My Heart". After the concert, dancing followed until 11 P. M.

The Ambassadors' previous engagement was at Chestnut Hill College, Philadelphia, in a dual concert with the ladies of the Chestnut Hill Glee Club. This took place on Friday evening, February 18th.

Under the direction of Sister Regina Dolores, the ladies sang "Castanets and Tambourines" and "It Was a Lover and His Lass". Miss Jeanette Coscarino sang the solo, "Bell Song". As finale, the entire chorus sang "Scene and Prayer from Cavalleria Rusticana".

The Ambassadors' selections were the same as their Roselle Park concert. Paul Eccles played the accompaniment. Robert Watts sang "Vienna, City of Dreams" in addition to "O Sole Mio" and "Macushla"; Watts and John Donachie took solo parts on "Siboney".

KREMZNER GIVES TALK OF A. of S.

By Robert Schwartz

The highlight of the meeting of the Academy of Science, held on February 24, was an absorbing talk by Mr. Leon Kremzner. Mr. Kremzner was graduated from Seton Hall last January, and he gave a most interesting talk on his experiences in getting a job after graduation. Mr. Kremzner discussed job opportunities for Chemistry and Biology majors, recommended certain courses of study which best prepare the student for a job in industry, and gave invaluable hints on how to go about applying for a job. Mr. Kremzner related how he made over fifty job applications with various companies, and the questions he was asked during his interview. A typical question was, "Trace a piece of meat from the time it enters the mouth until the time it leaves the body". Mr. Kremzner strongly suggested that a well-organized alumni association would be a big help for Seton Hall Students applying for jobs. Mr. Kremzner will

Plans for attending many extra curricular events were made by the Academy. These events include: the Eastern Colleges Science Conference to be held at Adelphia College in Long Island during Easter; the 72nd Annual Exhibition of the New York Microscopic Society, to be held at the American Museum of Natural History on March 2nd; and the meeting of the New Jersey Section of the Student Affiliates of the American Chemical Society, to be held at Upsala College on April 9. Plans were also discussed for the annual banquet of the Academy of Science to be held some time in April.

Mr. Ed Krall, the Academy's new president, a novel series of meetings has been planned by the Education Committee of the Organization. Beginning March 10th, and every other meeting thereafter, the club will have a speaker from the chemical industry or medical profession. On the alternate meetings, a member of the science faculty of the college will be invited to lead an informal group discussion on some aspect of the scientific world. The latter plan suggested by Mr. Joseph Pilato, was applauded unanimously by the members.

cese. Father McNulty is well known on the Seton Hall campus since he was an instructor in French and preceded Dr. Julius S. Lombardi as head of the Department of Modern Languages.

Dr. McNulty and Dr. Lombardi are the co-authors of "La France Catholique", a text widely used in many colleges besides Seton Hall.

He was born in New York City, and later moved to Montclair where he attended Seton Hall Prep, and was graduated from the College in 1921. After studying for a year in the Immaculate Conception Seminary he went to Louvain where he continued his studies and was ordained on July 1, 1925.

When he returned to this country, he served as an assistant in St. Michael's, St. Francis Xavier's and Sacred Heart Churches before he came to teach at the Hall.

Plan To Be Published

An interview with Father McNulty has been impossible up to this because of numerous administrative conferences held by Seton Hall's new president.

How Modern can Jazz get?

Listen to Skitch Henderson's latest waxing of "CRAZY RHYTHM"—a Capitol Recording... and you'll know the answer!

One of the hottest of the oldies, "Crazy Rhythm", comes back with a sock, the way Skitch and his band revive it! Skitch Henderson is great at putting a smooth-modern touch on an old favorite. And when it comes to cigarettes, Skitch has another long-time favorite—Camels! Here's how Skitch plays it: "Camels are mild and full flavored. I've smoked Camels for years."

A CONVERSATION WITH ST. JOSEPH

By John Tombler

"Would you like to meet the chief carpenter of Heaven?"

"Sure thing."

"Then let me introduce you to Saint Joseph."

"Saint Joseph?"

"Sure, isn't he the chief carpenter of Heaven?"

"Well, I never really gave it a thought to tell the truth!"

"Do some quick thinking, then, bud, because here come Saint Joseph now. Hi, Saint Joseph. Will you come over here a minute?"

"Sure", answered Saint Joseph. "What's the matter? Anything I can fix?"

"No, not this very minute. I'd like to introduce you to a friend of mine. He'd like to meet you. Name's Joe, too."

"That so?" asked Saint Joseph. "Hello Joe. How are you?"

"Well", gulped Joe, who was a little startled by being talking to a saint, "pretty well thanks". I guess you must be my patron saint?"

"Hm", said Saint Joseph, "that might be, but I can't seem to recall you in my memory. Did you ever tell me I was your patron saint?"

"Come to think of it", answered Joe, "I never did mention it, I guess. Never thought much about it."

"Great Sam Hill!" I whispered poking Joe in the ribs, "do you want to insult him?"

"Don't get up in the air, don't get up in the air!" said Saint Joseph, having overheard my remark. "I'm sort of used to that. A lot of fellows nowadays never think to tell me that I'm their patron saint. Never think to talk over their troubles, man to man. Too bad!"

"Yeah, I'm sorry," answered Joe. "I shoulda told you."

"Well, when next you say a prayer, send one up to me. I can do great things for you."

"I guess so. Say, do you mind answering a couple of questions?"

"Go ahead son. I'm used to questions."

"Well," Joe hemmed and hawed, "I don't know how to put it exactly but..."

"I know", interrupted Saint Joseph, "you'd like to know what life is like back when my foster Son lived in my home in Nazareth?"

"That's about it, said Joe."

"Well", said Saint Joseph, let's see, where to start. We use to have lots of fun working together, the Boy and I. We used to make some of the finest furniture in the land. Quick to learn, that Boy. It was a pleasure to teach Him. He'd handle each tool as though it was alive. I'd tell Him what to do and how to set it straight.

God was good to me, alright; letting me watch over His Son; letting me have Him in my home. Those were the happy days for the Boy, Mary, and myself. Used to give us a little worry now and then. Now you take that time He went to the Temple when He was twelve. Gave us quite a turn, that did. Yes, those were the happy days. I still have the same job, too."

"How's that?" asked Joe.

"Why sure. God made me The Universal Patron of the Church, the Mystical Body of Christ; I used to watch out for the Boy's Body, now I watch out for His Mystical Body."

I poked Joe in the ribs again, "tell him he's the patron saint of our college, too."

"Say, Saint Joseph", said Joe (pointing at me) "he says you're the patron saint of our college, too. That so?"

"Depends on what college you are going to," said Saint Joseph.

"Seton Hall", answered Joe.

"Why, sure", cried Saint Joseph, "Seton Hall has a great time on my day. They have a holiday and celebrate a High Mass for the whole school."

"Do they?" said Joe in amazement.

"Why sure", laughed St. Joseph, "Seton Hall has a great time on my day. They have a holiday and celebrate a High Mass for the whole school."

"Do they?" said Joe in amazement.

HOT OUTTA HOLLYWOOD

If you haven't seen "Snake Pit" yet, then, brother, beg, borrow or steal the price of admission and gaze on the finest picture that has graced the silver screen in many a moon. Olivia de Havilland is headed for another Academy Award for her portrayal of a mental-hospital inmate. This picture pokes a tremendous punch. It kept us awake thinking about the conditions which it illustrates, for half a week after we saw it. "Yellow Sky" is another example of Hollywood's newly developed ability to the intelligence of the Average American. It's merely another bang-bang-shoot-'em-up hoss opera, only with big-name stars. Gregory Peck gives his all as a Bad Guy with a streak of goodness in him, but Gregg's all isn't enough. Anne Baxter is the kind of heroine who makes us want to be a hero. In spite of her, this picture receives a Hash Can Rating of "phooey".

New-Fangled Television and Old-Fashioned Radio Department:

The best thing that could've happened to television is Milton Berle's return to the Texaco Star Theatre. His four-week absence made Tuesday night the loneliest night of the week. Our prediction that Arthur Godfrey, the Hasbrouck Heights foghorn, was headed for the breakdown trail, has been borne out. Doctors ordered Art to Florida, this year's replacement for California. His emcee spot on the Wednesday night TV show was filled by Robert Q. Lewis, who did a top-notch job. First Madison Sq. Garden wrestling show since 1935 was a big flop - maybe 'cause it wasn't videoed???

The soap operas have finally invaded television

NBC's "These Are My Children" is tearing many a housewife away from her hot stove

Our advice is to buy yourself a good can opener, mister

Heard that a man in Brooklyn was straightjacketed and carted away last week...he ran about screaming, "My neighbor sold his television set! I've got no place to go!"

Over on radio, the good news is that Al Helfer will handle the Giants' baseball broadcasts with Russ Hodges this spring. Al was the pre-

Red Barber Dodgers sportscaster...now the Jints have their play by players liped up - all they need is a team.

Best mystery show in our book is still "Sam Spade, Detective"

Howard Duff, as Spade, is superb (10c word)...don't miss this hard-tailed Sunday night show.

Hash can rating: "bravo" Television sales, like all others, beginning to slacken. radio sales just aren't.

Seton Haulings:

Still time to get those pictures in for the "Queen of the Campus" contest. remember, your queen can be the campus queen...just bring the tintypes to the Setonian Office, where each staff member present at the time will give you his own personal opinion of your heart-throb's chances just disregard them, though, they're happy little things.

Reports on the Galleon Ball are still trickling in...We have one question to ask: Where did they get all the tables to fit the seniors under?..nuff said. What happened to spring?..Ask any Seton Hall student and then

File and Forget:

Nine out of every nine Seton Hall students are males...So far this semester, slugs in the Bailey Hall Coke machines have proved highly ineffective...If you happen to see green men running around the campus, don't bother your psychiatrist...they work at WSOU...No students at the Hall have succeeded in climbing the radio tower. None have ever tried...The Seton Hall Gym seats roughly four thousand people...If you've had a bleacher seat, you know just how rough...If a man stops you on your way to class and asks for a dime, humor him - he's selling Setonians.

OUR LITTLE SON

By Peter Greene

Our little son, God's answer to The patient yearning of our hearts.
That was too deep for words!
Dear little boy with eyes as blue
As skies when nature starts
To bloom, you're like the birds
Whose tender notes welcome spring.

Just as the smile of berrytime.
You're sweet and warm. To us you bring
Such peace, the music of a chime.
O, you're an angel sent to share
The love that's fashioned you so fair.
From out Our Father's Hands
you've come,
Such part of us, our baby son.

Talk With St. Joseph

eph, "Don't you think they should?"

"Well, sure", said Joe hastily. "It was just that I never knew that."

"Oh, yes", said St. Joseph, "a great place, Seton Hall. Well I must go now. Mary's over in Russia converting another name-sake of mine, old Joe Stalin. I just go along and try to help Mary and the Boy."

"So long, St. Joseph", we chorused, "we'll remember you to the boys."

"Sure thing", said St. Joseph. Tell them to talk over their troubles with me, man to man. After all, I have great power with God, and tell them to pray to God's family of my home in Nazareth, too, Mary and the Boy."

INTERCOLLEGIATE

By RONALD SOMMER

Finally, with the aid of THE SEAWANHAKA, newspaper of Long Island University, we obtained the inside story of the happenings on the fateful night of February 13th. According to that publication, eighteen LIU "avengers", armed with paint brushes, white wash, posters and balloons, were out to retaliate for decorations applied to the walls of the Brooklyn Law School Building last year. Three LIU cars cruised around the campus about midnight looking for a favorable site to start "Operation Retaliation". When approached by our ever-vigilant So. Orange Police, they shamefacedly replied: "We're lost, and don't know what town we're in."

"You know darn well, what town this is, what school is across the street, and what you intended to do with that bucket of paint tied to the rear bumper of that car", the officer shouted.

"Five minutes, and many words later, the paintless wonders were told to return to 'Long Island' before they were booked". But, undaunted to the last, the brave crusaders of LIU could be heard muttering as they sheepishly withdrew, "We shall return."

Turning to Page Two of the same issue of THE SEAWANHAKA, there is an editorial decrying Setonia because the LIU invaders met the South Orange Police instead of by the students themselves.

"Certainly the students of this University (LIU) would meet any 'invasions' by themselves, without the aid of police protection. It is expected that Seton Hall could do the same. Good sports play pranks, but they also defend themselves."

It is a sad commentary on the school spirit of LIU that only three cars, took the trouble to pay a visit to our campus that evening. We were prepared for a much larger force, and were quite disappointed at the feeble turnout of "invading Turks from the nether world." There were over one-hundred students living on the campus who were ready and waiting to defend Setonia; it was precisely because of our sense of good sportsmanship, that police were used instead of our large defensive force. The police were undoubtedly far more gentle than the students would have been had the alarm been sounded.

She was only the optician's daughter - two glasses, and she made a spectacle of herself.

SAILING
PIRATES

By BOB BRESKY

Only one game remains to be played on this year's basketball schedule before the curtain is finally rung down on Sturday night in Scranton. Although the Pirates did not have a sensational record this season, they did compile a good record.

The close of cage activities also brings with it the sad and inevitable fact that graduation will have a costly effect on future varsity strength.

Coach Jack Reitemeier will have an exceptionally hard problem in replacing such stalwart basketballers as the "Big Six" he will lose. An array such as "Pep" Saul, "Dick" Hammock, "Howie" Janotta, "Tom" Leverte, "Harry" Renner and "John" Reilly is one that any coach would want to keep forever on his squad, but life's eternal plan does not allow this to happen.

The "Big Six" have written many proud pages in Setonia's historical sport pages. Their spirit and all-around good sportsmanship has left an indelible mark and will inspire many future Blue and White athletes to exemplify their conduct.

Seton Hall played one of the finest first-half games ever seen in Madison Square Garden, but were unable to stem a last-half rally staged by the Blackbirds. Before 15,000 fans, including several thousand loyal and spirited Setonians, the Pirates ran the Beemen into the boards during the first twenty-minute stanza, and held a commanding 32-24 lead at the halfway mark.

After the intermission, the story was almost completely reversed. "B" set his altitudinous 6'8" man, Sherman White, in the bucket, and had his teammates continually feeding him. White scored repeatedly from this position and could not be stopped by Setonia's big men.

The Buccaneers battled valiantly down to the final second of the contest, but were unable to hit as consistently as in the first half. Saul, Janotta and Leverte played stellar roles in a final desperate drive, but their efforts fell short by four points.

A few evenings later the Pirates scored a decisive victory over Illinois Wesleyan, who brought with them an impressive record of 16 victories in 20 attempts. However, Coach Reitemeier's juggled starting five, consisting of "Pep" Saul, "Howie" Janotta, "Harry" Renner, (Continued Page 8, col. 4) classes and members of the German Dramatic Society wrote the script for the two plays: "Die Probe" and "Morgengymnastik", which were presented on these days. Added to this double feature were a number of German classical music compositions, played and sung by the members of the Society. Besides the two plays, the famous poem of Goethe, "Heidenroslein" was read.

Professor Elston gave his interpretation of the mathematical aspects of the witches' arithmetic in Goethe's "Faust", and thereby added still another feature to the program.

"BIG SIX" MAKE FINAL CAGE BOWS SATURDAY

"All good things must come to an end" as the saying goes, and so it is with the collegiate cage careers of six of the finest men ever to don the Blue and White.

Probably no other college basketball team in the nation will lose more talent from its present team through graduation than Seton Hall. The entire first string will make its final appearance carrying the Blue and White banner against Scranton on Saturday night.

Co-captains Frank "Pep" Saul and Richard "Dick" Hammock have led their mates well during the past three seasons, and their all-around ability and good-sportsmanship will never be forgotten by their loyal fans. Their names will be revered in Seton's valhalla along side of such Pirate immortals as Bob Davies, Ed Sadowski, Bobby Wanzer and Tommy Byrne as long as basketball is played.

"Pep" has served honorably as floor leader for the Pirates for the past three seasons and it will be an exceedingly difficult task to find his equal in all around ability. Thousands of fans have watched with amazement at his keen shooting eye, deceptive change of pace and "behind-the-back" dribble. Although he has scored better than 1000 points in his career at the Hall, he has been strictly a team man, and has always been in there battling off the boards and setting up plays.

All Setonians feel sure that "Pep" will be a most welcomed addition to whatever professional team he may join, and their wishes go with him for the best of luck in his future career.

"Dick" Hammock has been a first string man for the past three years and his aggressiveness and defensive finesse has captured the hearts of all who have seen him in action. His ability to snag rebounds off the backboards right out of the grasp of much taller opponents and feed them to his teammates, has been an important factor in the Seton Hall won and lost record. Dick is at his best when playing in the clutch as evidenced by his awe-inspiring performances against L.I.U. in the Garden the past two seasons.

"Howie" Janotta's timely baskets will long be remembered here at the Hall. On many occasions when the team bogged down, he added life to the club and helped salvage many tight contests. Howie has seen much action during the past three seasons, but it was only until this year that he captured a steady starting assignment and has proven his outstanding all-around ability. His greatest performance came in the recent Garden battle against the Blackbirds, when he scored twenty-one points, which was the high for the evening.

"Tom" Leverte with his individual style of play has been a great favorite with the fans. On many occasions he galloped up the middle of the court, bore right through the ranks of the opposition and sank a great percentage of his shots. As a matter of fact, Tom has remained one of the ten best scoring leaders in the nation, and has maintained an average field goal percentage of better than .475 this season. Tom is strong, tall and very fast and deceptive, and has successfully developed a one-hander and a pivot toss that gave many of his opponents plenty of trouble. Although he did not join the team until mid-season last year because of the IC4A rule on transfer students, he has become a familiar and well-liked figure on the ball club.

"Harry" Renner, commonly known as "Stretch", has proven that his six-feet eight inches can be an asset to any ball club. Combining his height with very fine shooting ability, Harry has run up high scores in many contests and more than once transformed imminent defeat into a glorious victory. In addition, "Stretch" was very effective off the boards and on many occasions turned in some very neat defensive jobs against some very dangerous opponents.

"John" Reilly has been an ever-helming favorite with the crowds who have watched him in action. His spirit and super-abundant aggressiveness has al-

"Dave" Latimer and "Bo" Hartman, clicked with marked precision and had matters under control during the entire game. Final Score: 70-51. (The $64 question of the evening was "Which Anderson had the Toni?")

Many things have already been written and voiced about the Villanova contest which took place on February 26th. To comment at length would be rather repetitious. However, the "Lack-aye Incident" will not easily be forgotten and there is no doubt that our relations with the Wildcats have been strained considerably. Congratulations are in order for Ed Cooper who did a fine job of airing the matter on his sports broadcast over station WVNJ. Ed, who does not generally editorialize on his broadcasts, felt the duty to give ways made him a standout. John although not a heavy scorer, set up his teammates on innumerable instances, and in several games tossed the decisive points when they were most needed. He was an invaluable spark plug and was able to ignite the team to great heights in many tight spots.

Coach Jack Reitemeier is dealt a tremendous blow by the loss of the above six men, but all is not dark in Seton Hall's basketball heavens. Nine varsity men will return for next season, and will be supplemented by some excellent talent from this year's freshmen squad, who have compiled a most enviable record.

the unadulterated facts on the matter. The writer was very much impressed at the manner which he beamed his remarks, and hopes that his words were brought to the attention of Villanova ears, which incidentally should be very red by now.

According to the official statistics issued February 26th by The National Collegiate Athletic Bureau, Seton Hall held the following honors:

No. 24 in Free Throw Percentage, making 316 out of 478 field goals attempted for a 66.1% average.

No. 4 in Field Goal Percentages, with 495 baskets in 1329 attempts for a 37.2% average.

Tom Leverte ranked No. 8 in the nation in individual scoring, hitting for 89 field goals in 189 attempts. A twenty games, for a 47.1% average.

The sport pages of the next issue of the Setonian will reflect the coming of spring and the activities it ushers in. Baseball, tennis and golf schedules will be released and a complete picture of each sport will be featured. Already Coach Robert Ansheles has issued his initial call for tennis candidates to represent varsity competition. Coach Owenie Carroll met with pitcher and catcher hopefuls on Monday and Coach Jack Reitemeier will resume golf team activities in the near future.

Tracksters Prepare For Midwestern Swing; Stanfield, Thigpen And Fox Win IC4A Titles

PREPARE FOR MIDWEST TOUR

Western track fans will have a wonderful opportunity to see the high-flying Seton Hall track team in action on March 18th and 19th. The Helliers will compete in the Cleveland Knights of Columbus Meet on the 18th and in the Chicago Daily News Meet on the following day. Both of these meets will prove a real test for the Setonians, but if the results of the IC4A Meet are to be used as a criterion of their success, there is no doubt that the Blue and White will add more coveted awards to their ever-increasing collection of track laurels.

Coach John Gibson has not released the names of those who will participate in these meets, however, Phil Thigpen, Frank Fox and Andy Stanfield will most assuredly be there, and judging from their recent performances, will give all opponents plenty of top-notch competition.

The present track aggregation is one of the finest that has ever represented Seton Hall. In fact, it is one of the best that any college in the nation can boast. One of the reasons for its greatness is the fact that it is well-rounded and is potentially strong in every department. Under Coach Gibson's careful eye and keen track tutelage, the Pirates have come a long way since their early meets in January. New faces have been added as several more valuable runners became eligible for intercollegiate competition at the start of this semester.

Results of the Midwestern swing are anxiously awaited not only on the campus, but in all track circles throughout the country. There is every indication that Seton Hall will continue to pound the boards in true championship style, and there should be a great opportunity for the trackmen to grow in prowess and national prestige.

Captain PHIL THIGPEN

Seton Swimmers Vie For Championship

Climaxing a highly successful swimming season, the Setonia mermen will compete in the Eastern Collegiate Meet this Saturday at the Rutgers University pool. The Blue and White have been victorious in six of eight meets already staged, their latest victory being a 49-26 win over Brooklyn Poly.

The Eastern Collegiate Championships have annually brought together the most outstanding swimmers in this section of the country. Among the participants this year will be such powerful teams as Rutgers, Temple, C.C.N.Y., Fordham and Penn State.

Seton Hall has high hopes of carrying off team honors in the meet and expects to show its greatest strength in the free style events.

Among those who will participate in the meet will be:

Free Stylers—Alfred Stein, 440 yard favorite,
Gene Kozlow, 50 yard favorite,
Louis Benza
John Wilson
John Cuneo

Backstrokers—Louis Benza 150 yard favorite.

Breaststroke—Aaron Kurtzman, 200 yard favorite.

Pictured above is Captain Phil Thigpen who captured the IC4A 1000 yard run in the championship time of 2:14.2, and Frank Fox, below, who blazed ahead of Jack Hammack of Army in the final straightaway to take the "600" title in 1:11.5, establishing a season record for the distance.

HALL TAKES THIRD PLACE

Casting all pre-meet form charts to the wind, the Pirates of Seton Hall, led by Andy Stanfield, placed third in the recent IC4A Championships.

To Eastern track fans, the Hall wasn't given a chance among such powerful teams as Army, Cornell and Penn State. But Coach John Gibson had other ideas. Holding an "ace up his sleeve", he put Andy Stanfield in the 60 yard dash along with Basil McKersie. The latter favored to place among the leaders - which he did - capturing fifth place, but to Stanfield went the honor of "upsetting the apple cart". Twice he equalled the eleven-year old meet record of 6.2, winning the 60-yard event in a photo finish. To Andy went the honor of being the first individual title winner for the Hall in their brief history of IC4A Championship competition.

Immediately following the 60 yard dash, Captain Phil Thigpen made amends for his "A.A.U. Episode" by winning the 1000 yard championship in the fast time of 2:14.2. Rating himself off the pace, Thigpen bolted to the front on the bell lap and won going away.

Not to be denied after running great races in the past three years was Frank Fox in the 600 yard run. Staying behind pacesetter Jack Hammack of Army, Fox blazed through on the final straightaway to win his first championship title. His time of 1:11.5 is the fastest "600" of the season.

By this time Garden fans were beginning to realize that Seton Hall was well up among the leaders in team scoring. Going into the Broad Jump the Hall had sixteen points. Once again Stanfield proved his ability by jumping 23 feet 7 inches to earn a second place for himself and clinch third place for the Hall in team scoring. As a reward for their brilliant performance, the Seton Hall team won a coveted bronze trophy.

Track Notes: The Thigpen-Marcel Hansenne "elbow episode" is not as bad as it sounded in some press releases. Hansenne used his elbows on Fred Wilt in the IC4A "Special Mile event and hence track fans now realize all the blame should not have been placed on Thigpen for his A.A.U. Championship 1000-yard performance.

Straight From The Scapula

By Cai C. M. Boanz

Leave us face it. The former scribe of this column, that rugged creature, Yoehan Brovaco (known in Spanish as Yoehando, in Russian as Yoehansky, and in Greek as Yoehandopolous) has flown the coop. Contrary to what you might suspect, he wasn't konked with a Trommer's bottle by any of the characters he insulted in this column; nor did that stomach-corroding devil's brew, cafeteria coffee, finally dump him into an early grave. Nope Yoehan found he just couldn't juggle 22 credits, a job as assistant baseball coach at West Side High, and "Straight from the Scapula". "Stop your crying", soothed he, in his letter of resignation. "You would think you lost the world's funniest columnist...or have you?" Maybe we have. Anyway we weep.

Constitution. Kevin Fitzpatrick has a reputation for being the safest driver in Plainfield. Judging from the number of horseless carriages he's smashed all to blazes, we bet he's working for the junk yard on a commission basis. Does anybody know what in heck happened to the Seton Hall Jazz Club? The man who puts glee in the Glee Club, Russ Tusson, claims he's giving up studying for Lent. Walter Baden currently counselling teen-agers at a Newark Y. Tell 'em all about the birds and the bees, Walt! After much mental tortions, some mastermind discovered that if you twist the end of a paper drinking-straw, aim it up in the air, and blow like crazy, the straw sticks to the ceiling of the cafeteria and dangles there. Ahhh-h-h, the advantages of higher education.

Why Seton Hall Students Get Gray Department:

If you spot anybody walking around the campus wearing a football helmet, you can bet your last Confederate half-dollar that the poor gink is a student in one of Dr. "Steel Skull" Hertz's language classes. When you don't know the past tense of a verb, the Doc grabs hold of you and bongs his metal-plated noggins against your tender cranium. Anybody got an aspirin? ...A few nights ago, Fred Von Sprechelsen bounced into bed and suddenly bounced out again. Several hundred hunks of sodium chloride were flugging him in the lumbar region. Seems a bunch of sadists had snuck into the barracks and loaded his bunk full of rock salt. After the Brownson Debating Society shelled out a sizeable sheaf of shekels to fly Don Myers and Dick Kruschka up to the Providence College tournament, as representatives of the Hall (and they went via American Airlines yet!) - - you guessed it - - the lads lost both debates. The Bronx has acquired a rosey glow to Bill Meyer ever since he feasted his peepers on Adele... Versatile feller, this guy Ken De Milt. Not only is he a soda-jockey at Grunning's in Plainfield, he's a disc jockey for station WVNJ.
