Reds Holding 450 Priests In Prison in Czechoslovakia

KOSNITSCHEJ, Germany (NC) — Between 410 and 450 Catholic priests are confined in a concentration camp in a known Czechoslovakian gaol, according to reports received here. The imprisoned clergy were said to be members of religious orders and priests of the Byzantine Rite who have been held in the camp at Kosnitsch since December. 1956. The German Catholic church officials denied the existence of such a camp.

The reports were made by Rev. Martin U. Wiedenfeld, executive director of the National Catholic Communication Corporation, which is a prayerful organization of priests and religious persons.

At least 20 priests are being held at the prison, Wiedenfeld said. There is no way to verify the accuracy of the information, he said.

Two priests are being held at another unknown location. The exact number of priests is unknown, the source said.

It was announced that the Catholic priests will be released on Christmas Day. The source said that the imprisoned priests have been held in separate rooms and are allowed to see each other at intervals.

The camp is located in a remote part of the country, and is said to be surrounded by a thick wire fence.

Reds Ordered To Infiltrate, Split Church

ROCHESTER, NY (NC) — A set of directives, issued by the Catholic Church's National Catholic Communication Board, requiring priests to "infiltrate" the hearts of the Catholic and Protestant parties, is being widely circulated in the country.

The directives call for priests to work with the cooperation of the party with the help of the Catholic Church. The directives appear to be intended for the use of the Catholic Church in the country.

A Change in Venezuela Brings Great Relief

By Rev. Juan Francisco Hernandez

CARACAS, Venezuela (June) — The change in Venezuela’s political situation brings great relief to the Church. Archbishop Alfredo Blanco of Caracas in an interview with Vatican Radio spoke about the current situation in his country.

"This is a time for a great work of moral reconstruction," he said. "Yes, we have passed through difficult times, but we have emerged stronger. The Church and the nation are in a better place today than before." Archbishop Blanco called for the maintenance of unity and cooperation between all political groups and parties.

The Archbishop also addressed the issue of the media’s role in society. He noted that the media have a responsibility to present a balanced view of events and should not be used as a tool for propaganda or manipulation.

The Archbishop’s message was well received by the faithful, who welcomed his words as a sign of hope for a better future.

CARTERET, NEW JERSEY

If you’re a frequent traveler on a limited budget, you may have been wondering about the best way to save money on your next trip. With the rise of budget airlines and budget accommodations, it’s possible to travel more affordably without breaking the bank. Here are some tips for saving money on travel:

1. Book your flights in advance: Booking flights well in advance can save you a significant amount of money. Airlines often offer discounted fares for flights booked months in advance, and prices tend to increase as the departure date approaches.

2. Use a travel rewards credit card: Travel rewards credit cards can earn you points or miles that can be redeemed for future travel. These points can be especially valuable for long trips or flights to international destinations.

3. Choose budget airlines: Budget airlines often offer lower fares than traditional airlines. They may have fewer amenities, but they can still be a great option for travelers on a budget.

4. Opt for budget accommodations: Hostels, Airbnb rentals, and budget hotels can be significantly cheaper than traditional hotels. These options can be especially valuable for travelers on a limited budget.

5. Travel during off-peak season: Traveling during off-peak season can save you money on flights, accommodations, and activities. Off-peak season prices can be up to 50% lower than peak season prices.

6. Be flexible with your travel dates: Flexibility in your travel dates can save you money. If your travel dates are flexible, you may be able to find cheaper flights or accommodations.

7. Use travel comparison websites: Travel comparison websites can help you find the best deals on flights and accommodations. These websites allow you to compare prices from multiple sources, so you can find the best deal for your travel needs.

8. Avoid peak season: Avoid traveling during peak season when possible. Peak season prices can be significantly higher than off-peak season prices.

9. Use public transportation: Using public transportation can be a great way to save money on travel. Many cities offer discounts for travelers who use public transportation.

10. Pack light: Packing light can save you money on luggage fees and reduce the amount of money you need to carry with you.

BY THE WAY

There have been changes to the policy of the Carteret Savings and Loan Association regarding the opening of new accounts. The new policy requires that all new accounts be opened in person, and that a minimum of $100 be deposited at the time of opening. This change was made to ensure the security of the accounts and to prevent fraud.

The new policy is effective immediately, and all existing accounts will continue to be held in accordance with the previous policy. The Carteret Savings and Loan Association reserves the right to change its policies at any time without notice.

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI and the Curia of the Church were at odds again about the nature of a document the Vatican says it drafted for all Irish dioceses but the Irish bishops say they were never consulted about it.

The Holy See informed at least 20 diocesan administrations in Ireland and Britain that it had prepared a document called "Lent's Preparations," which is to be distributed to priests and parochial clergy.

Pontifical Ceremony Prefect Tells Pope How to Dress

"The Pope is going to be a model for all priests who are going to put on the vestments," said the prefect of the papal ceremonial.

The prefect of the papal ceremonial, speaking in French, said that the pope would wear a silk cassock and a silk toga, both of which would be embroidered with gold thread.

The prefect explained that the pope would not wear a golden veil, as is customary, because of the pope's age and the fact that he is not a young man.

The prefect also said that the pope would wear a golden crown, which would be placed on his head by the pope himself.

Archbishop Montini's Talk to Layity on Catholic Action

The Orthodoxy of Church's Mission

In this time, it is in the opinion of many, and we have put it in our title, that the Church is in its distress. It is a distressed Church in a world that has no respect for God and His Church. What are the reasons of this distress? The Church's mission is a mission of unity, truth and beauty. It is a mission of the visible and the invisible. It is a mission of the spiritual and the temporal. It is a mission of the human soul and the human body. It is a mission of the Church and the State.

The mission of the Church is to reflect its beauty on man's character, to make him to be a true man, to make him to live in purity, to make him to live in obedience, to make him to live in justice, to make him to live in love, to make him to live in truth, to make him to live in the beauty of the Church and the State. It is a mission of the Church to make man to be a true man, to make him to be a good man, to make him to be a Christian man.

The mission of the Church is to make man to be a true man, to make him to be a good man, to make him to be a Christian man. It is a mission of the Church to make man to be a true man, to make him to be a good man, to make him to be a Christian man. The Church is a mission of the Church to make man to be a true man, to make him to be a good man, to make him to be a Christian man. The Church is a mission of the Church to make man to be a true man, to make him to be a good man, to make him to be a Christian man. The Church is a mission of the Church to make man to be a true man, to make him to be a good man, to make him to be a Christian man.

The Church is a mission of the Church to make man to be a true man, to make him to be a good man, to make him to be a Christian man. The Church is a mission of the Church to make man to be a true man, to make him to be a good man, to make him to be a Christian man. The Church is a mission of the Church to make man to be a true man, to make him to be a good man, to make him to be a Christian man. The Church is a mission of the Church to make man to be a true man, to make him to be a good man, to make him to be a Christian man. The Church is a mission of the Church to make man to be a true man, to make him to be a good man, to make him to be a Christian man.

The Church is a mission of the Church to make man to be a true man, to make him to be a good man, to make him to be a Christian man. The Church is a mission of the Church to make man to be a true man, to make him to be a good man, to make him to be a Christian man. The Church is a mission of the Church to make man to be a true man, to make him to be a good man, to make him to be a Christian man. The Church is a mission of the Church to make man to be a true man, to make him to be a good man, to make him to be a Christian man. The Church is a mission of the Church to make man to be a true man, to make him to be a good man, to make him to be a Christian man.

The Church is a mission of the Church to make man to be a true man, to make him to be a good man, to make him to be a Christian man. The Church is a mission of the Church to make man to be a true man, to make him to be a good man, to make him to be a Christian man. The Church is a mission of the Church to make man to be a true man, to make him to be a good man, to make him to be a Christian man. The Church is a mission of the Church to make man to be a true man, to make him to be a good man, to make him to be a Christian man.

The Church is a mission of the Church to make man to be a true man, to make him to be a good man, to make him to be a Christian man. The Church is a mission of the Church to make man to be a true man, to make him to be a good man, to make him to be a Christian man. The Church is a mission of the Church to make man to be a true man, to make him to be a good man, to make him to be a Christian man. The Church is a mission of the Church to make man to be a true man, to make him to be a good man, to make him to be a Christian man.

The Church is a mission of the Church to make man to be a true man, to make him to be a good man, to make him to be a Christian man. The Church is a mission of the Church to make man to be a true man, to make him to be a good man, to make him to be a Christian man. The Church is a mission of the Church to make man to be a true man, to make him to be a good man, to make him to be a Christian man. The Church is a mission of the Church to make man to be a true man, to make him to be a good man, to make him to be a Christian man. The Church is a mission of the Church to make man to be a true man, to make him to be a good man, to make him to be a Christian man.
The Prime Mission of the Church

This first consequence is that the Church finds herself the custodian of this treasure of the world. If it is true, as the School of Thomas taught, that the light of the Church is contained in her infallibility, whether in respect to the title or of other elements, the Church is in the eye of the world, as of Jesus himself, this treasury. She is the depository of this treasure from the moment, and this treasure contains the secret of heaven, the secret of the man which is in the affirmation of the God which is in the Church. There is no other criterion for the Church, nor is there another for its criterion, unless it is the one that is in the Church.

The conception of the Church mission is the basis of her indissolubility, whether in respect to the title or of other elements, of other elements. The Church is in the eye of the world, as of Jesus himself, this treasury. She is the depository of this treasure from the moment, and this treasure contains the secret of heaven, the secret of the man which is in the affirmation of the God which is in the Church. There is no other criterion for the Church, nor is there another for its criterion, unless it is the one that is in the Church.

THE WORK OF SAINTLY, crowned by God, in nature and grace, extends to the center of God’s creative design; yet, in reality, it is only a faint hint of what is to come. The Church is not an end in itself, but a means to an end, the means by which Christ will bring salvation to the world. The Church’s mission is not to be found in the Church’s existence, but in her mission. The Church is not an end in itself, but a means to an end, the means by which Christ will bring salvation to the world. The Church’s mission is not to be found in the Church’s existence, but in her mission.

We shall pursue an understanding of this nature of the Church’s mission in such a way that we may understand better the Church’s mission, the means by which Christ will bring salvation to the world, and the process by which the Church will fulfill this mission.

Church’s Mission Is Diffusive

Another consequence is, while the Church finds herself like a magnet, she is a field, she drives and is driven. The Church, when it is on the move, is a living area, a living area, and so is also the world. The Church is a field, a living area, and so is also the world.

We shall pursue an understanding of this nature of the Church’s mission in such a way that we may understand better the Church’s mission, the means by which Christ will bring salvation to the world, and the process by which the Church will fulfill this mission.

The Universe Its Beat

By Louis Francis Budens

If some newspaper editors fancy themselves as the directing influence of public opinion, let them look to the Church as the body which has been given the power of public opinion by Christ. "You are the light of the world. A city set on a hill cannot be hid, neither do people light a candle and put it under a bushel, but upon a candlestick and it giveth light unto all that are in the house. Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven," (Matt. 5:14,16). Catholic Biblical Scholarship

Catholic Biblical scholars are engaged in a continuing search for the meaning of the Bible. The New Testament has been translated into more languages than any other book of which the author is not known. The Old Testament has been translated into modern languages of the Bible in the second to sixth centuries, and into Roman languages beginning with the fourth century. THE QUESTION BOX

Rev. Msgr. Walter F. Costello, Immaculate Conception Parish, 39-132, Flatbush, Brooklyn, N.Y., is author of The Question Box. Questions may be submitted to him for answer in this column.

My son, I used to work in a textile mill, but now I am disabled. I am trying to make a living by selling Samsons. My neighbor has complained to the police that I have been selling bibles at night and on Sundays. I have not sold any bibles on Sundays. What should I do?

Rev. Msgr. W. F. Costello, Immaculate Conception Parish, 39-132, Flatbush, Brooklyn, N.Y.

In answer to your neighbor, you must stop selling Samsons. They are good for you, but they do not have any connection with religion.

My son, I would like to become a member of the Church. I have been going to Mass every Sunday for several years. I have also been going to confession every month. I have been going to the Church since I was a child, and I have always been a member of the Church.

Rev. Msgr. W. F. Costello, Immaculate Conception Parish, 39-132, Flatbush, Brooklyn, N.Y.

In answer to your son, you cannot become a member of the Church unless you are baptised. You have been going to Mass and confession, but you have not been baptised. You must be baptised before you can become a member of the Church.

On Automation

Labor-Management Committees Urged

By Mark G. Wigg, assistant director, Department, N.C.W.C.

Industrial relations have been developed in the industry. But automation brings a new problem.

The organizing of automation is a new type of situation. It would be important for any industry to develop a new type of labor-management committee.

SUGGEST IT to any or all of the men who have been concerned with it. We have a good example of this in the United States of America.

The establishment of a new type of industry would be both a challenge for the industry to develop and the atmosphere for the industry to develop. There is no doubt about it.

WHAT INTERESTS us most is the trend of the industry today. It is a question of the situation of the industry.

To that effect, the new type of industry would have to be a challenge for the industry to develop and the industry to develop the same type of trend.

As for example, we have a good example of the industry today. It is a question of the situation of the industry.

The establishment of a new type of industry would have to be a challenge for the industry and the atmosphere for the establishment of the new type.

There is no doubt about it.

Sisters and lay teachers work side by side in modern Catholic schools. Above, Mrs. Joseph Paleinik, retired public school teacher now on the staff of St. Catherine’s School, Hillside, New Jersey, who, with her husband, was among the leaders of the movement to replace lay teachers with Catholic sisters in the schools. The teaching of the Faith, ethics, literature, and modern principles which have been taught by lay teachers in the Catholic schools.

With the rapid building program underway, the Sisters of St. Joseph, who will fill the new classrooms, have received over 500 applications from men and over 1,000 from women, who, because of its increased growth and increased number of students, have expanded and expanded. Whether vocations are carved in wood or in steel, whether women are chosen in the order or in the parishes, the students are being trained for vocations.

The question is not new to the Church. A letter which the late Bishop of Newark, the Most Rev. John J. Burke of St. Louis, wrote in 1925, is quoted in order to enunciate the fact that the Church has always been careful to select the best people for its schools.

February Is Fun for Children

By Jane Drayre

Children will find something new to do with all these varied events. All of them will be received with enthusiasm in the kindergartens, and no parent will go back to work to find that her child has become bored.

As the calendar started to fill with children's days, the children at the West Side School in New York were excited. They were looking forward to the upcoming events.

One event that they were especially excited about was the American Student Union meeting to be held on February 12. This meeting
School were looking forward to attending this meeting.

Another event that the children were excited about was the school's annual talent show. This show was scheduled for February 14, and the children were looking forward to seeing all of their classmates perform.

In addition to these events, the children were also looking forward to the various field trips scheduled for February. One such trip was to the American Museum of Natural History, which the children were looking forward to seeing.

The children at the West Side School were looking forward to a full and exciting February. They were sure to have a lot of fun with all of the events planned for the month.
