Woody Herman Plays Setonian Changes Expect Large Crowd At Dinner and Dance

On May 2, the Madison Room of the Hotel Biltmore will be the scene of the Junior Prom, one of the prominent events on Seton Hall's annual social calendar. This formal hop, sponsored and supervised by the Class of 1959, will begin at 9 p. m. and dancing will be continuous until 1 a. m. General Chairmanship of the Prom has been given to Peter Pappalardo and under his direction the early sale of tickets has been the largest of any Junior Prom.

The music for the evening will be provided by two outstanding orchestras and their rhythmic tunes will guide the dancers in the Madison Room continuously throughout the evening. The lead band for the Prom is Woody Herman and his Orchestra, which has been one of the most popular college dance bands for the past decade. The second band of the evening will be The Dixielanders, who will play during the interim. Both of these bands have been chosen to fit the tastes of the undergraduates of Seton Hall and the Junior Class feels that they will provide "a well rounded evening of dancing and listening."

Woody Herman

Social events of this weekend will not end when the couples begin to leave the Madison Room at 1 a. m. Saturday evening the Seton Hall Testimonial Dinner will be held in the gym here at Seton Hall and after the meal the underclassmen will again be given a chance to test their dancing prowess. Sunday afternoon the Class of 1959 will sponsor the Junior Class Picnic, which has become an inherent part of the Prom weekend. This picnic will be held at Sokal's Camp in Boonton, N. J. and will provide an opportunity for some outdoor recreation and dancing under the stars.

The Junior Prom Weekend could not be a success without the work of the committees who planned it. At the top of the list is the General Chairman, Peter Pappalardo, and then there are the separate committees which work on special details for the Prom, the Entertainment headed by Jim Alexander, the Publicity spread by Tony Minnefor, Tickets headed by Rod Dunne, the House Committee supervised by Chuck Nicholas, the Booklet composed by Pete Bistany, and the Favors selected by John Kingston.

The bids for the Prom are $12.00 with a $5.00 deposit required. The Picnic charge will be $5.00 but when bought in combination with a Prom Bid the total cost for both will be only $15.00. Who's with Whom, always an important part of the Prom, will cost only $7.50. The tuxedo, with shirt, tie and cummerbund, and shoes, may be rented in the Cafe at the reasonable fee of $7.00. Measurements for the tux will be taken next to the ticket booth on April 21, 23, and 25.

Jim Alexander, speaking for the Junior Class, commented that "This Prom and in fact the entire weekend of May 2-4 should be outstanding and we hope that it proves to be a most enjoyable social event for the students of Seton Hall."

It is with deepest regret that we announce the death of John Maher, watchman and car parking attendant at Seton Hall from 1955 to 1958.

Mr. Maher, who lived at 244 Waverly Place, South Orange, died Saturday, April 12, in St. Mary's Hospital, Orange, of a heart ailment. Services were held on Monday, April 14, in Our Lady of Sorrows Church.

The Setonian staff would like to extend its sympathy to the family and friends of Mr. Maher.

As anyone can see by quickly glancing at the pages of this issue, the Setonian has a new look. We have completely changed the appearance of the entire paper in order to present to you a first-rate newspaper, utilizing all of the latest journalistic techniques.

The stock and the style are different; some of the type styles have been changed; the layout is completely different; a new system is used for all of our photography work; the news and sports coverage has been extended even further; the internal structure of the Setonian staff's operations has been altered; and the urban divisions are being linked closer to the campus by having constant representation in the paper and assurance of delivery of copies of each issue.

These are the changes that have been initiated with the publication of this issue. All changes are designed to make the Setonian a more efficient organization and to publish one of the finest quality college newspapers in the United States.

We hope the new Setonian meets with your approval and we would be delighted to hear your opinion. Just drop a note to the Setonian office, Student Affairs Barrack.

Pictured above at the ticket booth are John McDonald, Dinner Committee Chairman; Larry Gabriel, General Chairman; and Miss Marie Crittenden, who is Miss Paterson. Miss Crittenden will also sing at the dance.

Seton Hall University, under the able direction of Father John F. Davis and Chairman Larry Gabriel, will hold its first annual, Spaghetti and Meatball Dinner and Dance on Saturday, May 3. This affair, the first of its kind, is a testimonial to the great advances Seton Hall has made under Msgr. McNulty.

The Italian Style dinner, catered by V. La Rosa and Sons Inc., will be served from 5 to 8 in the college cafeteria.

Tom Sepc is in charge of entertainment, and he will be assisted from the floor by Manny Milano and Ronny Carl. These men have corralled four fabulous bands, The Acaps, The Ambassadors, Vince Waldrop, and the Dixie Starlighters. As an added attraction the services of three sensational new vocal groups, The Sunny Lads, The Belvedere, and The Empallias, have been engaged. Continuous dancing and entertainment will be supplied by these vocal groups from 8 to 12 in the gym immediately following the banquet.

Jack McKiernan is handling decorations; Dick Pinto and William Tingle are in charge of the affairs; John McDonald heads a dinner committee of 30 members; John Fiorello the tickets; and Paul Pellicani is the Dance Chairman. Marie Hellegers and Hugh Leonard are in charge at Seton Hall in Paterson and John McAuley at Jersey City. The dinner is being publicized through the Newark News by Eileen McLean.

Students, parents, relatives, and all friends of Seton Hall are welcome. $2.50 is the price for a ticket to this gala affair. An information booth will be set up to explain the many varied activities of the universities and guided campus tours will be held.

Junior Class Picnic Offers A Wide Range Of Activities And Merriment

With the third annual Junior Class picnic and weekend only a week away (May 2 to 4) much of the student body has swung into high gear making last minute preparations and bracing itself for the antics of this big weekend, probably the most important social event in the school year. Beginning Friday night with the festive Junior Prom at the Biltmore Hotel, New York City, the scene then shifts Saturday to the campus for the Student Testimonial Dinner, and concludes Sunday afternoon and evening at the Sokal Camp in Denville, N. J., site of the picnic.

Most of the 415 Juniors and a large percentage of the rest of the student body are expected to participate in one, if not all, of the weekend affairs.

The picnic, strictly a drag affair, will begin about noon on Sunday and continue until midnight. The afternoon will be devoted to general fun making with several group activities planned. A buffet dinner will be served and free beer and soft drinks will be on tap all day. During the evening there will be music for dancing with an occasional outburst of dixieland provided by the "Storyville Seven."

The Junior Class picnic had its inception with the class of '57 and proved so popular that it is on its way to becoming an annual event on the social calendar. Jack Castillo, chairman of the affair, is going all out to make this picnic a memorable one and hopes to establish it as a precedent for all future picnics. Although some 250 couples are anticipated, Junior Class officials expect to break out even in the affair, for most of the ticket receipts will be used to provide food and refreshments.

Tickets for the picnic are now on sale in the cafeteria and Rod Dunne, ticket chairman, suggests they be purchased early for they are selling very fast at a special price of $15 for both the prom bid and picnic is offered at a savings of $3. Tickets for the picnic alone are $5 per couple.

Seton Hall Should Campus Have More Frats

A question that has come to the mind of every Seton Hall student at one time or another is, "Why are there only two recognized fraternities?" It would seem logical that a college would have many fraternities, the number depending upon its size, or in the case of some very strict schools, there would be no fraternities at all.

The next likely question would be ask, "Why does the administration only allow two official fraternities at the present time?" To answer these questions one must understand the position and policy of the administration.

The school will only recognize student organizations that will be of some benefit to the school and a good part of the student body. Every club that has been recognized is supposed to fulfill this function. The two fraternities, Phi Beta Sigma and Alpha Kappa Psi, are recognized because the former is a service organization for all students and groups, while the latter is a professional business organization that can benefit all business students.

There are several off-campus fraternities that are, strictly speaking, social fraternities. This is the main reason the administration is reluctant to recognize them. The university feels that these social organizations will not benefit the school, and that since they are social, let them continue to hold their social activities off campus.

We feel, however, that a closer look at the situation will tell a different story. Both Seton Hall University and the student body will benefit with the recognition of more fraternities, even though they be only social fraternities. We shall attempt to point out some of these benefits.

A fraternity is a close-knit organization in which enthusiasm, spirit, and brotherhood abound. That is, attendance at basketball games and all sports events, dances, testimonial banquets, glee club concerts, and the like, would increase greatly when these enthusiastic units participate. The more fraternities there are, the more school spirit and student participation there will be.

But wouldn't this fact hold true if the fraternities would be allowed to exist, but wouldn't be officially recognized? The answer is no. Otherwise would still be some interest, but it would not be as great. When an organization is not part of the school, when it cannot demonstrate its existence (hanging a banner at basketball games, for instance), or openly take part in any school activity, all enthusiasm from that group is doomed.

Most high school students do not select a college to attend merely because of its academic standing, although this does play an important role. These students also take into consideration the sports program and the campus life, meaning school activities. All of us attending the Hall know some friends, including star athletes, who did not come here because they felt there was not enough student activities, primarily fraternities.

It is true that the main reason we are here is to get a college education. But "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." Granted, there are other clubs and organizations besides the two fraternities, but we are talking about fraternities, and just what per cent of the total student body can possibly belong to two fraternities?

Another reason sometimes given for the administration's refusal to recognize more fraternities is that it is against secret organizations. But this statement is ridiculous when one considers the fact that the Knights of Columbus, a Catholic men's organization, is just as secret, if not more so, with its ceremonies and initiations.

To summarize this article we wish to state that the enthusiasm and spirit that will be displayed with official recognition of the off-campus fraternities will result in direct benefits to the university. It will mean a happier student body, increased school spirit, more active student participation, and it will do a great deal to spread the name of Seton Hall.

In short, more fraternities will make Seton Hall University a greater drawing power in attracting high school students and will thrust this university into the foreground as one of the leading Catholic colleges in the East.

Therefore, we strongly urge the administration to reconsider and to recognize the off-campus fraternities.

to Campus

By Bud Husk

After a shaky flight (upside down with no column) through the April Fool's Issue, we hope the reliable "junker" of Maresca-De Croce Airlines is ready for a steady flight from Campus to Campus.

Two items seem to be of paramount issue in the cafeterias and dormitories of Eastern Universities: the essays by the Princeton men entitled the "Unsilent Generation," which appeared in Life; and Student Government organizations. Most students feel that the essays do not typify our rising generation, but only give the opinions of a small section of College men who are in need of help in philosophy. The criticisms of Student Councils etc., are based mainly on the proposition that these bodies do not work effectively, or efficiently for the best interests of their respective schools.

Dave Breen of the Boston College The Heights lowered a blast at the "broadside" of the U.S. Supreme Court. "As a result of the Court's decision regarding Communism, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Committee of Congress, and all the individual states find themselves helpless to curb Communism as the individual states and the communist conspiracy within our borders," says Dave. A number of recent Court rulings have caused this deplorable condition. The Schlocher Case prevented barring Communist lawyers from practice; the Swezy Case said that States can not question Communist associations of professors in state schools or institutions; and the Nelson Case ruled that states can not punish those convicted of sedition. Dave concluded his argument with some choice remarks about why these people (Communists) should not be treated as Americans. Nevertheless they are.

At Gaston Hall on the Georgetown University campus, James Keston, Pulitzer Prize winning New York Times reporter gave the concluding address in this year's Edmund A. Walsh Lecture series. Mr. Keston, in talking of the change of leadership in Russia since the War declared that Stalin was a ruthless "chess player," he thought Khrushchev to be ruthless also, but far more emotional.

Two of the most vivid impressions the Prize winner obtained on his journey were: the terrific progress of Russia since 1945; and the fact that there was no protest or fear in the country. It would appear that Mr. Keston was given the same diplomatic treatment given to all visitors to Russia; and it would also seem that his impressions were not too revealing since production, and therefore progress, is easily attained under a totalitarian government. In addition there is never fear or protest where people have been under a yoke for so long, and have no voice in the affairs of the government.

In the Siena News an interesting article appeared giving the characteristics of "phonies" and leaders.

Characteristics of Phonies:

1. He is easily found in the back-ground.
2. He promises a great deal but rarely delivers.
3. After himself, he loves flattery next, and;

4. His main objective is to see how much good he can avoid.

Characteristics of Leaders:

1. He is willing to encourage the efforts of others because he appreciates them.
2. The office he holds sought him.
3. He tells you of plans for the future, but more often tells you of things done, and;
4. He is a man of few words and many deeds.

Gov. Meyner Salutes Med School In Medical Education Proclamation

Whereas, the past half-century has seen unprecedented progress in medicine, so that life anticipation has been doubled and we live free of the fear of many devastating diseases which plagued earlier generations; and

Whereas, these advances in medical science have their origin in the classrooms, laboratories and teaching hospitals of our great medical schools which train the hands and minds which protect our health and lives; and

Whereas, each year the nation's medical schools continue to make record gains in enrollment, research and community service; and

Whereas, here in New Jersey, the Seton Hall College of Medicine and Dentistry has before it a career rich in opportunities for raising the level of health of our citizens; and

Whereas, the Seton Hall College of Medicine and Dentistry, as an educational institution that will rank with the finest of our nation, offers broad new career vistas for the youth of our State;

NOW, THEREFORE, I ROBERT B. MEYNER, Governor of the State of New Jersey, do hereby proclaim the week of April 20-26, 1958 as MEDICAL EDUCATION WEEK in New Jersey, and I urge that all citizens take part in saluting and supporting New Jersey's first College of Medicine and Dentistry and in helping make this bright promise for a successful future a positive reality; and I further urge all our citizens to observe Medical Education Week in honoring all the great medical institutions of our nation.

Given, under my hand and the Great Seal of the State of New Jersey this third day of April, in the year of Our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifty-eight and in the Independence of the United States the one hundred and eighty-second.

Come to the Dinner and Dance
honoring Greater Seton Hall
Saturday, May 3

Brownson to Host High School Invitational Debate Tournament

The Sixth Annual High School Invitational Debate Tournament, sponsored by the Brownson Society

held at Seton Hall on May 3. The topic for this year's debate will be "Resolved that the United States should discontinue direct economic aid to foreign countries." Over two hundred debaters from forty high schools, and preparatory schools, of New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania, will attend.

Monsignor John J. McNulty will welcome these youthful orators in the library at 9:00 a.m. After this brief ceremony, the debaters will embark on four rounds of debates, which will culminate with the Round of Champions on Saturday afternoon. The participants in the Round of Champions will be the best affirmative, and the best negative five teams, as chosen from the results of the first four rounds of debates. The first round of the debate will be held in the gymnasium, and in the Science building, and the final round of Champions will be held in the Little Theatre in the gymnasium.

Saturday evening will mark the closing ceremonies of the tournament. There will be a banquet in Bishops Hall, and this affair trophies will be awarded to the Best Team, the best affirmative and negative teams, and the best affirmative and negative speakers.

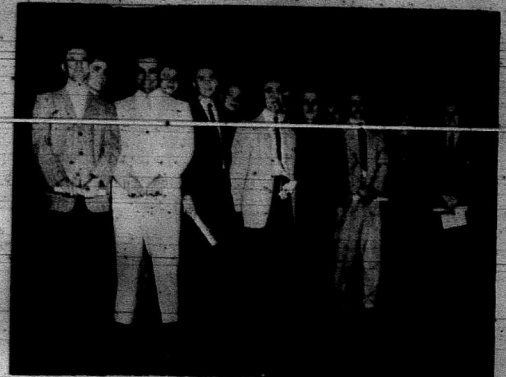

Among the high schools competing in the tournament will be Seton Hall Preparatory School, St. Benedict's Preparatory School, Red Bank Catholic High School, and St. Peter's Preparatory School. Mr. Matthew Farrell, moderator of the Brownson Society, stated, when interviewed, that the purpose of this tournament is to encourage students, while still in high school, to become not only good speakers, but good debaters as well, since debating is one of the best ways of actively participating in society today.

The program of this annual oratorical event is being planned by the members of the Brownson Society of Seton Hall.

The general chairman of the debate is Robert Fox, Director of Scoring Procedures is Richard Reback, Richard Conroy is in charge of dinner plans; program composition is being handled by Ed Petrus, and Jim Orr's supervising correspondence.

Graduating Athletes Honored At 1st Annual Achievement Presentations

The school gymnasium was the setting on Tuesday, April 15, for the "Varsity Drag," the Setonian dance honoring the outstanding graduating athletes. The dance, which was the first of its kind at Seton Hall, was open to the entire student body, with all the senior athletes being the guests of honor.

A new band at the Hall, The Ramblers, provided the music for this affair and drew many favorable comments for their playing. Beginning at eight o'clock, the dance started slowly and gained momentum as the evening wore on.

About ten o'clock, the presentation of the athletic achievement awards was made. Vince Parrillo, Editor-in-Chief, of the Setonian, acted as master of ceremonies. He stated that the purpose of this dance and awards was to show recognition to the athletes who had given freely of their time and talents.

Father Thomas Fahy, Director of Athletics, was then introduced and he said a few words. Mr. Parrillo then announced the names of the athletes who were to receive the awards and these were presented to them by Father Fahy.

The awards were presented to Ron Berthasavage, basketball; Brian Kelly, golf; Sam Cudello, baseball; Bob Hoffman, track; Rudy Katzenberger, tennis; Brian Kelly, soccer; Jim McKenna, tennis; Julie Nicolai, baseball; Mike Sheppard, baseball; Paul Szczec, basketball; and Bill Zylka, track.

These eleven athletes were selected because of their outstanding contribution to their particular sport, their character and personal integrity, their not being on probation at the present time, and their earning the respect of their coaches, teammates, and classmates.

The awards committee that made the selection consisted of Rev. Thomas Fahy, Rev. Edward Lark, Director of Student Affairs, and Acting Moderator of the Setonian, Vincent Parrillo, James Alexander, and Richard Cudello, Associate Editors, and Robert Zylka, Sports Editor.

Mr. Parrillo stated after the dance that he had great hopes to make this affair a much more elaborate one with the Student Council sponsoring the dance instead of just one organization. In this way it would truly be the student body expressing its appreciation to the athletes, since the council represents the entire student body.

ESSO RESEARCH works wonders with oil

Oil helps create a new world of fashion

A fine wool sweater owes much of its lovely look to a special oil developed by Esso Research. By lubricating the threads during knitting, it helps them mesh together smoothly and evenly. After knitting, the oil is easily removed. Without oils like this, the springy texture and intricate designs of today's fashionable woollens wouldn't be possible. Again ESSO RESEARCH works wonders with oil.

After Hours

By Jim Mc Mann

With the last days of chill and wind finally on the wane, a new organization, the Afternoon Sun Worshipers Association, is conducting its meetings on the lawn outside the Student Affairs Building. Other clubs and organizations are losing some of their most dependable men to this society, which has as its purpose the promotion of a handsome tan.

With most of Setonia's gentlemen succumbing to the incurable disease of spring fever, club activity is experiencing its usual April-May slack period. Pledge periods of both Alpha Kappa Psi and Phi Beta Sigma Fraternities are drawing to a close, and brothers from both groups are putting aspiring members through their final rigors.

Social minded Setonians are beating a path to the booths in the cafeteria to purchase tickets for the worthwhile blasts forthcoming in the near future. Among these are the Freshman Dance, the Junior Prom, Junior Picnic, and Testimonial Dinner.

Setonian Editor Vince Parrillo tells us that the recent affair, "Varsity Drag," sponsored by this newspaper was a success and that the fair will definitely be carried on in subsequent years here. The newly established tradition has as its purpose the honoring of graduating athletes who have contributed greatly to the sports prestige of the University.

The Brownson Debating Society made a fine showing at the recent TKA Tournament at Rutgers and the regional West Point competition at Kings College in Pennsylvania. Moderator Mr. Matthew Farrell tells us that a fine program of debate is planned for next year, with some new talent coming into Seton Hall and the possibility of a major tournament being held here.

CLUB BITS Marketing Club debuts up and coming next week. International Relations Club is making plans to become a member of the Collegiate Council for the United Nations. The Ski Club's good time stuff has melted. Phi Beta Sigma picnic and Alumni Dinner will be coming off in a few weeks. Class and Student Council elections are just around the corner. An impromptu Booster Club has been attending recent baseball games. French Club play will be scheduled for broadcast over WSOU in a few days. Bill Noble, Seton Hall's senior delegate to the NFCCS, traveled to Albany for the recent regional elections. What ever happened to the Labor Relations Society? That's all. Thanx.

Irish Colleens Are Visiting Seton Hall

Seton Hall University is honored this month with the presence of the Misses Lillian, Doris, and Colette Carroll, who are the daughters of Lord Mayor Carroll of Dublin, Ireland. All three are acting as assistant librarians with the Seton Hall University Library. During their stay in the United States they hope to visit the various sections of the country. They also hope to attend a meeting of Congress and other areas of political interest so they can see democracy in action.

There are seven children in the Carroll family and they are attending the National University in Dublin. Lillian, Doris, and Colette have already completed their college work and spent a year of studying at the Paris Alliance Francaise.

The girls journeyed here with their parents on an invitation from the United States government to attend the St. Patrick's Day Parade in New York. Lord Mayor Carroll will return later to the United States on the Aer Lingus. The Atlantic crossing by this airline will be the first Transcontinental Flight between Ireland and the United States. This service will be continued between the two countries.

The girls would like to tour as much of the United States as possible. All three would like to see Florida, California, and also to stop off at Mexico for some sightseeing. They soon will visit Washington, D. C., in time for the beautiful cherry blossoms.

They enjoy television and American sports. Since they arrived here on March 14th the girls think the American people have been very nice and kind to them.

Monsignor McNulty and the entire university extend their warm welcome to the Carroll sisters and hope that their stay here at Seton Hall will leave them with fond memories of our campus.

Setonia's Best

The character of Carmen A. Ferrante appears to be a well mixed combination of happy-go-luckiness, humor, sincerity, intelligence, and above all, friendliness. "Joe Seton" of the Class of '58 is certainly one of Setonia's best.

Carm first thought of obtaining his college education at Seton Hall December 10, 1953, when Mr. and Mrs. A. Ferrante of Paterson, N. J. were blessed with baby Carmen. The local public school provided Carmen his first contact with worldly knowledge and East Side High School then prepared him for the day he would enter Seton Hall. The "best dressed" man of the class of February, '54 at East Side High entered the Hall that same month.

Either Carmen arrived at the following philosophy now, after reaping its fruits, or was cognizant of it when he entered as a freshman, for he aptly summed up the why of his overwhelming participation in extra-curricular activities: "I don't believe in an education on a candy machine basis. Education starts when you begin to participate in student affairs."

As a freshman, Carm joined the American Chemical Society, the Knights of Setonia, the NFCCS, and also began his career on "The Setonian," which eventually led him to "Joe Seton."

Carmen's early efforts were recognized, for in his sophomore year, Carmen pledged Phi Beta Sigma and attributes the service fraternity as having fostered his school spirit and keen interest in all student affairs coupled with a development of leadership.

Carmen was named Sports Editor of "The Setonian" as a sophomore and the following year was chosen as Feature Editor. During his stay on "The Setonian" he served as Student Council Representative.

One of the founders, Carm was elected Secretary of the Labor Relations Society, and was a member of the Education Club, the St. Thomas Moore Pre-Legal Society and also, during his four-year stay, helped reactivate the Italian Club.

Helping place freshmen into school activities by serving on the Student Activities Placement Board gave Carm a good deal of satisfaction as did the job of Chairman of the '57, '58 freshman elections.

Carm undertook the publicity chairmanship for the sophomore and junior dances for the Class of '57, was the celebrity chairman for the '56 "Setonian" Queen of the Campus Dance, and was on the ticket committee for the fall Senior Dance. The biggest job which he was honored with, according to Carm, was the general chairmanship of the past Senior Prom, the Galileo Ball.

Carmen A. Ferrante

The other really "big" job for Carm, as all of his friends know, was pounding out "Joe Seton" for the paper. Carm thought it was loads of work but loads of fun too, and he hopes that everyone took the mucks in the right vein.

Rating high on the personal side of Carm's life are golf, the ponies and trotters, the classics with a touch of jazz (thumbs down on rock 'n' roll), Italian food, and Carmel Orsini of Bayonne, N. J.

Carmen is a sociology major and will go on to law school after graduation.

The annual Spring Dance sponsored by the Vet's Club will be held this Friday at the Kenilworth Veterans Center, 33 South 21st Street, Kenilworth, N. J.

The "Rhythm Aires" will furnish music for dining and dancing from nine in the evening until one in the morning. The buffet and beverages are included in the price of the ticket.

If you are attending with a group of two or more couples, be sure to request table groupings from the chairmen, for your convenience.

In the past three years, this event has been the highlight of the veterans social calendar and always drew huge crowds. Last year the tickets were sold out days before the dance. This year, the general chairman and his arrangements committee looked long and far to find a suitable location to hold the growing list of veterans in this, one of the peak years of attendance. Accessibility, decor, and internal facilities for dancing and buffet were the considerations the committee had to contend with before choosing the magic spot.

The location, the Kenilworth Vet's Center, just off the Parkway, was finally chosen to fill the needs of a discriminating group of guests. We've had a chance during these recent weeks to observe and admire the hard work, interest in veterans affairs, and courageous undertaking of President Bob McCutcheon and general chairman Frank Elsner.

Elsner said that he extends the appreciation of McCutcheon and himself to everyone who worked to make this Spring Dance a pleasant evening for the veterans and guests at Seton Hall. Their wisdom and dates.

Rev. Keller Given State Dept. Grant

Reverend William Keller, S.T.L., assistant professor of social studies at the university since 1966, has been named to a Fulbright Grant for the coming summer by the Department of State. The grant will permit Fr. Keller to be one of a group of twenty professors from all parts of the United States to take part in a graduate seminar in modern European history in Turin, Italy. The group will also be taken to view the important historical sites in Italy.

Fr. Keller, who is now concluding work on his doctorate at Fordham University, was named to his present post after serving five years as Dean of Discipline at Seton Hall Prep. Previously he had been assistant pastor of St. Patrick's Church, Jersey City.

Q— I am going to school under the Korean GI Bill. Is there any limit on the number of times I can change schools, without changing my course?

A— No. There is no limit on the number of times you may change schools. You are limited, however, to only one change of course under the Korean GI Bill.

Q— I've seen a lot of real estate advertisements stating that the GI loan program comes to an end July 25, 1968. I am a Korean veteran. Is that my deadline, too?

A— No. Korean veterans have until January 31, 1968, to obtain GI loans. World War II veterans, however, must apply for GI loans before July 25, 1968, under existing law.

Q— I am considering paying GI insurance premiums once a year in advance. What if I were to die shortly after making my yearly advance payment? Would that money be lost?

A— No. VA would refund to you beneficiaries any money which hasn't been applied to premium payments actually due.

Q— How do I change the beneficiary on my GI insurance?

A— You must make your request in writing over your signature, and send it to the VA office serving your policy.

Q— If I get married, does my wife automatically become the beneficiary of my insurance?

A— No. The person or persons change the beneficiary on a GI you originally listed with the VA policy?

A— No. To be valid under the remains the beneficiary, unless you submit in writing the name of your wife as the new beneficiary.

Q— Can a last will or testament change the beneficiary on a GI you originally listed with the VA policy?

A— No. To be valid under the remains the beneficiary, unless you submit in writing the name of your wife as the new beneficiary.

Williams Elected New Prexy of AK Psi Frat

Joe Walsh presided over his last meeting as President of Alpha Kappa Psi on April 14th. As a graduating senior he stepped down from the post and Joe Williams, a Junior, became the new fraternity President. The positions for other administrative posts were filled by the following: Vice-president, Ralph Vargas; Secretary, Kenneth Benjamin; Treasurer, Gregory Peltz; Student Council Representative, Phil Shannon; Chaplain, John Hall; Alumni Secretary, Peter Bistany;

Convention Delegate; John Rayder; Historian, Emil Sopoliga; and Warden, Charles Bauman.

Alpha Kappa Psi is the business fraternity on campus and is one of 95 chapters located in colleges and universities throughout the U. S. In a recent efficiency poll, the Seton Hall Chapter was rated 10th, this being attributed to the fine educational projects, and activities they engaged in during the school year.

Phi Beta Planning 1st Alumni Dinner For 57 Graduates

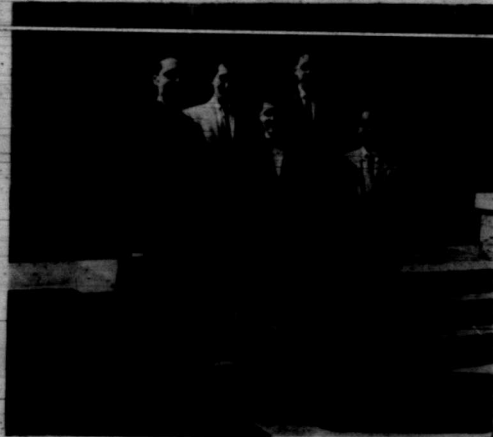

Phi Beta Sigma, under the able leadership of its President, Jim Alexander, is planning to hold its first alumni dinner at the Rock Spring Corral in West Orange on May 25, 1958.

This event is another step in the building of the fraternity's royal tradition and heritage. It is being run by a committee of three, namely: Philip Doehner, past President of the senior class of '56; Jack Cooley, former President of Phi Beta Sigma; and Dave Newton, an active brother. All three have put in many hours working on the affair.

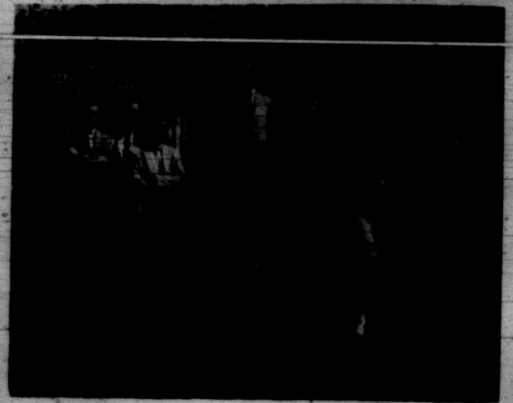

The festivities will begin at five o'clock with a cocktail hour which is to be followed by a sumptuous dinner and dance.

This occasion is the first social event in which this semester's pledges will be able to attend. It will also mark the first time that all the fraternity brothers, 57 graduates and 40 active brothers, meet socially since the founding of Seton's only honorary service fraternity by Mr. Vincent Hanlon in 1953.

The Seton Hall Chess Club has hitched a ride on the road to success in what may well be an undefeated year. In their three matches, which were played away, the Chessmasters defeated St. Peter's 3-2, Georgetown 7-1, and upset Annapolis 6½-1½. (The scoring system is one point for a win and a half point for a draw.) The latter game proved the real mettle of the Hall's team, for, prior to the Seton Hall match, Annapolis had played to a draw the Marshall Chess Club of New York, one of the leading clubs in the nation. Two return matches to be played here are scheduled with St. Peter's and Georgetown, and added contests with Fordham, West Point, and Holy Cross are being planned.

Last semester, Leo Blanzarovich, New Jersey's most renowned chess player, gave an exhibition of his prowess on Campus, by playing twenty-two games simultaneously, of which he won twenty, and halved the other two. His opponents at that time numbered faculty, alumni, and students alike. For this semester, the Chess Club is planning to invite a champion on the national level to appear.

During the week-end of April 25-27, 1958, the Chessmen will sponsor an intramural tournament open to the student body of the entire University. This tourney will be held at the Log Cabin in West Orange, N. J. Students interested should get in touch with any of the officers or members of the club for further details. There is a fee of $1.00 for registration. Trophies will be awarded.

The club, recognized by the University in September, 1957, is under the moderatorship of the Rev. Hubert Funk, of the Math and Physics Dept., and has at the present time some twenty-odd members. The actual playing team however, consists only of eight men, with Dick Pittner, team captain. The other officers are: Bert Clune, president; Fong Wu, vice-president; Steve Galluzzo, secretary-treasurer; Joe Verone, corresponding secretary; and Frank Lyons, Student Council representative. The need for new members will soon be apparent when four of the officers and a like number of team players graduate in June.

Plans Being Made For Military Ball

The 8th Annual Military Ball, with all its splendor and color, will be held in the gymnasium on May 17th, from 9 p. m. till 1 a. m. The dance is sponsored by the Cadet Officers Club, whose moderator is Major Lucier, and is the social highlight of the year for the men of the R.O.T.C. unit. General chairman of the dance, Jim Cadigan, opened the sale of tickets in the cafeteria booth on Tuesday, April 15th. They are priced at $4.25 each, and $7.50 for who's with whom. All army faculty members and their wives will be honored guests, and the senior R.O.T.C. members will wear their sun tan uniforms while the rest of the R.O.T.C. unit will be attired in their regular uniforms. All other students are welcome to attend, but since this is a formal dance they will be required to wear a white dinner jacket or tuxedo. Continuous dancing will be pro-

Divinity Doings

By Walt Kulay and Jim Murray

The late Daniel A. Lord, S. J., once wrote a pamphlet entitled The Chance of a Lifetime. In this he told youth that many of them were being offered the honor and privilege of having a call from Christ, a call to work for Christ Himself, the Church and their companions. However, surveys indicate that 99 out of every 100 of these offers are rejected. This is, then, a truly shocking situation since the offers come directly from Almighty God, but many will now ask what they can do about this, especially those who are convinced that they do not have such a calling. Here is the answer: We must all pray.

It is terribly important that all of us pray, since the matter of knowing more of Jesus to be a bit greater, and somehow he thinks that all this could be accomplished in and through the priesthood, he should at least think more seriously about it and consider giving it a try. One good way of doing this incidentally, would be to drop in at the gymnasium today or tomorrow where members of various religious communities have set up exhibits to advertise their wares. As it were. Certainly no one can lose anything by this and someone can gain an awful lot. In conclusion, words found in a recent Graill publication, Follow Me, here seem appropriate:

To put it plainly, if every young man in the world waited until God hit him with a thunderbolt or expectantly watched the sky for St. Michael to appear and call him to the altar of God there would be very few priests today and Holy Mother Church would have "gone out of business" long before she had gotten a good start.

Now, we have mentioned those who are convinced that they do not have a religious vocation, but we would also like to mention that if one feels he should be doing more for his fellow men or he desires to do more for God, and

Harry W. Pascoe To Act In The Play "Born Yesterday"

Harry W. Pascoe, Assistant Professor in the Communication Arts Department, will have a featured part in the production of "Born Yesterday" to be presented at the Maplewood Women's Club April 24th, 25th and 26th.

The Strollers is the oldest and largest dramatic group in the United States, now in its twenty-sixth year, and numbers among its members many who have had professional-theatrical experience, including Mr. Pascoe.

"Born Yesterday" will be the last and final Strollers production this season. In November they presented "The Devil's Disciple" by George Bernard Shaw, which also featured Mr. Pascoe in the role of General Burgoyne, and in February, The Strollers presented "Desperate Hours".

Echoes of Science

By Peter S. Pappalardo

Our modern civilization is one that has witnessed strife, harmony, and a great deal of depression. In the scientific world of today we have witnessed all the wonderful things that science has given us but yet we take all these contributions for granted. Opportunities are made only through the efforts of the consistent scientists who wish to make this a better world to live in.

The future land we live in is going to be so science conscious that doubt has it if any other phenomena will hold up. We are going to witness many new findings and also many goals we doubted we could be obtained. In our own time we have seen the discovery of what we call the "wonder drugs." These so-called drugs are properly labeled because they are perfected to an extreme, we believe, because we see it in action. Antibiotics are said to be the most effective drugs in many disease cases, but fatal reactions occur at their distribution. Even penicillin, which we often take as a source of safe relief, can leave a person with a lasting allergy. This is seen as a form of hives or possibly even instantaneous death. The patient undergoing such symptoms as headaches, facial flushings, rashes, nausea, and vomiting is in an after state of this drug. These are the few things that are taken for granted without realizing just what science has to go through to help mankind. The average person only knows that he can go to the pharmacist and on doctor's prescription will have what is necessary for his ailment. Research is a wonderful thing and without the help of the research chemist we definitely would be far behind in all the achievements we have today.

POINTS OF ENLIGHTENMENT
Polio is now in a decreasing state even without the benefit of the fabulous Salk Vaccine. Do you know that medical quacks take up about 50 million dollars of the U.S. citizen's money a year on their falsely advertised remedies. Television has produced five plays in the past months to enlighten the average person who contributes to this mass slaughter of the pocket-book and of health.

culture. The blues originated with the Negro as did the gospel song. The Negro church meetings were also very emotional and the response of the minister and the congregation with its building climax has been honored by the jazzman Horace Silver in his composition, "The Preacher." Dixie Gillespie, recalling his early childhood, said he couldn't help growing up with a sense of rhythm when he was constantly exposed to music in his family and culture. He also mentioned the influence of the prayer meetings on "preaching" solos of jazzmen like Lucky Thompson.

If we accept the maxim "all men are created equal," we must conclude that Negroes have had such an important part in the development of jazz because of their culture. But can we reasonably be complete empiricists? It is a fact that Germans make good scientists and the success of Jews in business cannot be denied. Why shouldn't the Negro be naturally gifted with a talent for rhythm and emotional music that would make him a better jazzman?

During the last ten years, many white musicians have come to the forefront in jazz. But they have, for the most part, been developing the writing and technical side of jazz. The next great improviser who changes the course of jazz may not be a Negro, but if he isn't it will be the first time.

The Jazz Scene

By George Hamaker

Jazz is a purely American product. It originated from the Negro race in America and was developed by them. This statement is one which poses some interesting questions. Why has the Negro played such an important part in the history of what is called by many the only purely American art form? Are there qualities in the Negro race which make them naturally better jazzmen?

Jazz was originally a Negro music. During the 1930's many non-Negro musicians took up jazz but all of the important advancements in jazz have, with few exceptions, been made by Negroes. The Negro seems to find in jazz a means of expressing his freedom and individuality. A creative artist is always better when he has something to express emotionally and the protest of the American Negro against a hostile society has never been more eloquently expressed than in the jazz of a figure such as Charlie Parker. Intolerance and prejudice often give the Negro jazzman an impetus for protest in the form of music such as that of Charlie Mingus.

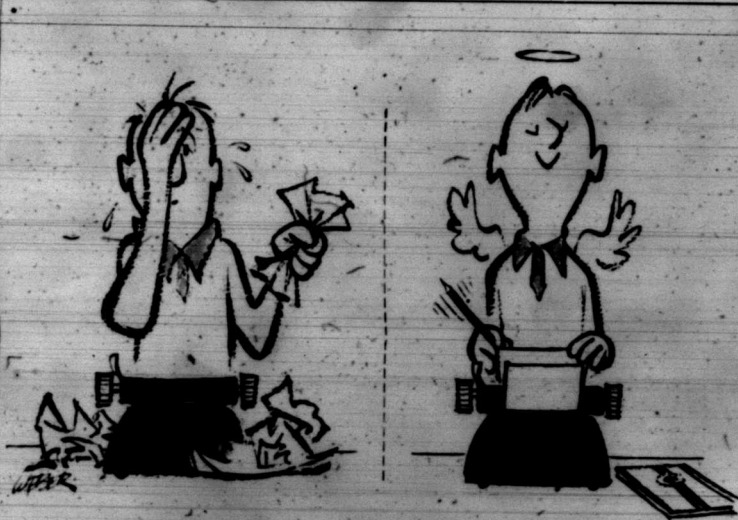

The life of the Negro in America has also been less stifled by conformity, less inhibited. It is this uninhibited spirit that has enabled the Negro musician to experiment and develop new styles of improvisation. This same spirit has also made most of the Negro jazzmen more emotional in their soloing as opposed to their white followers who tend to stress the technical side of jazz more.

Another reason for the Negroes' success in jazz is the important part emotional music plays in their

Class Elections

From Tuesday, May 6th to Friday, May 9th the Student Council will conduct the elections of the officers of next year's Senior, Junior and Sophomore class. The elections are the 6th and 7th for the Senior Class, the 7th and 8th for the Junior class and 8th and 9th for the Sophomores.

Petitions can be obtained on April 21st at the Phi Beta Sigma office in the Student lounge building. All petitions must be in by April 25th. Petitions must have fifty signatures each and a budget not to exceed $70.00 must accompany the petition. After the petitions are in, a general meeting will be held for the candidates where they will be addressed by Father Larkin. The campaign will run from April 28th to the last election day. Additional information will be posted by the doorway of the student lounge.

Frosh to Hold Dance April 26th in the Gym

To the Class of '61 goes the honor of holding the first semi-formal dance of the new spring season, for on the evening of April 26, the freshmen will present their annual dance, this year, to be known as "April fu Paris." The Setonia gym will be the location of the affair, and between the hours of 9 and 1, couples will dance and romance spurred on by the refreshing breath of springtime.

Music for this happy occasion will be furnished by Seton Hall's own Carmen Errico, who will supply two bands to enliven the occasion with continuous music. In addition, the "Empallas," a freshman singing group, will also be on hand to help entertain everyone.

The committee for the dance has been making preparations to assure a worthwhile and enjoyable evening for all in attendance. Chairman James Orr, along with co-chairmen Mike Walsh and Ray DeCroce, hold promise of making this one of the best freshman dances ever. Other committee heads are: George Brisco, booklet; Don Cross, tickets; Walt Robin and Marty Zittel, entertainment; George Kobut, and Tom Dooly, decorations; and Paul Shine and Vince Nuzzo, publicity.

Tickets for the dance, which will take place in just two days, are on sale in the cafe and can be purchased up to and including Friday, April 25. The nominal price of only $2.50 will bring to each and every couple a pleasant and entertaining experience.

Track And Soccer Stars Have Dinner

The Seton Hall track and soccer teams held their second annual dinner at the Friar Tuck Inn on March 19. The affair was a huge success thanks to the hard work put into it by chairman Bill Zyka.

The highlights of the affair were the speech by Mr. Bob Carter, one of Seton Hall's great athletes of the past, and the awarding of trophies and letters to the members of both teams.

Bob Carter spoke most enthusiastically on the worth of participation in college athletics in later life. Bob, back in 1951, brought to Seton Hall many great memories, among which were victories in the 600 yard run in both the ICA and K of C meets. In addition, he was on the championship one mile relay team.

Trophies were awarded to two members of each team, who were voted their awards by their teammates. The soccer team awarded its captain, Mike Sheppard, the Most Improved Player Trophy while Bob Dalhauser was given the Most Valuable Player Award. Bob Wherry and Bob Carter were awarded the Most Improved and Most Valuable Trophies from the track team respectively.

Throughout the speeches given at the dinner, especially the one given by Father Fahy, Seton Hall's athletic director, two thoughts prevailed: the congratulations of the two coaches for their winning seasons, and hope that other Seton Hall teams will some day join these two teams in holding this dinner.

As thanks for his attending the dinner and as an ex-track star of Seton Hall, Mr. Bob Carter was awarded a varsity letter by track captain Bill Zyka in the name of the team. The enjoyable evening was ended with the awarding of letters to the two teams by their respective coaches.

Both the soccer and track teams wish to extend thanks to Father Fahy for his participation in the acquiring of the new letters and trophies awarded at their dinner.

ROTC Cadets On Field Trip

On April 19 and 20, seventy-five ROTC cadets from Seton Hall University took a field trip to Fort Dix, New Jersey. The field trip was broken down into two operations. The first was practice firing of the M-1 rifle on the firing range, and the second phase, for a smaller group of cadets, involved an overnight bivouac in the Fort Dix woods.

During the bivouac the cadets set up their own living quarters. At night they worked night problems involving directions, etc. All cadets wore army fatigues and carried M-1 rifles. The final group returned to Seton Hall at 12 noon by bus convoy.

Purpose of S. A. M. Is Stated In Name

By Andy Wasowski

The purpose of the Society for the Advancement of Management is just what the name implies. Under its moderator, Prof. Alfred Schmidt, the club strives to promote interest and study of the principles governing organized effort in industrial and economic life. This is accomplished through many various activities that are held throughout the year.

Films, guest speakers, and field trips are all utilized to fulfill the club's aims. Under the direction of activities chairman H. R. Smith, the club plans to visit such places of interest as the Budweiser plant and Kings-Super Market in South Orange.

There are forty active members in the Seton Hall branch of this national society and, although the club is open to any and all business majors, the membership for this term is primarily made up of Management majors.

One of the club's functions is to handle publicity for the Spring Convention of the New England and Empire State Student Chapters of S.A.M. The convention will be held at Rider College at Trenton. The club recently held elections for officers and those elected are as follows: President, Bob Bannon; Secretary, Phil McGonigal; and Treasurer, Chris Fatta.

This is the first year that the elections have been held in February. Since the club's origination in 1948 elections have been at the end of the school year so that the officers could take over in the Fall. It was decided, however, that the new officers should have a "break-in" period, while the former officers were still in office to help out and give the benefit of their experience to their successors.

Business chairman Bob Purcell and President Dalhauser will represent the Seton Hall chapter of S.A.M. at the society's convention in New York City. Among the club's plans are an Awards Dinner in May, which will honor graduating members of the club, and a club social. This year's social chairman Ed Shell, plans to join with the Accounting, Marketing, Finance, and Economics Clubs for one large combined social.

The club welcomes anyone who may be interested in joining, and extends an invitation to attend its meetings. The meetings are held every other Monday at 2:30 in room 79 and are announced in the University today.

Concert On Friday By The Glee Club

This month the Seton Hall University Glee Club will conduct three concerts under the direction of Father Joseph Flusk. On Sunday, April 20, 1958 the Glee Club performed at De Paul High School in Wayne Township. Monday, April 21, the Glee Club gave a concert at Caldwell College. Then on Friday, April 25, the Glee Club again will give a concert at Chestnut College in Philadelphia.

Solos will be sung by Charles Mahoney and Father Flusk, director of Seton Hall's Glee Club.

Although the members of this year's Glee Club do not constitute as many as those of last year, it continues to progress in order that it may bring enjoyable entertainment to the other colleges in the area.

During the month of May the Annual Spring Concert will again be given by the Glee Club. However, more information concerning the Spring Concert will be available at a later date.

George Seelinger, President of the Glee Club, is hoping to make this concert season one of the best in history.

In the NBA has been rough. Thus the 26-year-old former Newark resident has turned to coaching in order to manifest his ambitions in basketball.

His career started in the Newark playgrounds at the age of nine. When he graduated from West Side High, he was one of the most outstanding players in Essex County. He was selected to the Newark News All-City team, All-County and All-State teams in 1948. Regan reached the summit of his college career in the 1952-53 season as he and Walt Dukas combined to make Seton Hall the Number 1 team in the country and the winners of the National Invitation Tournament. To add to his achievements were a place on the all-N.I.T. team, most valuable player in the East-West game and to top this off, a berth on the All-Star team that traveled with the Globetrotters.

Numerous Records

The records he set at the Hall were numerous, but most outstanding of all were those of 1,267 points in his career, this being the third highest in the history of the school. Richie shares the record for most field goals in a game (14) with Dukas and Marty Farrell of last year's team. Another mark set by the "Cat" was 174 assists, 12 of which he got in one game to establish another record that was tied by Ed Petrie.

The Marine lieutenant, who spent two years in service at Parris Island and Quantico, also participated on post teams. Upon leaving the Marines, he was to embark upon a very successful professional "tour of duty." The first two seasons were spent at Rochester before the shift to Cincy. He was rewarded for his fine play, being elected to the all-star team last year.

Now a resident of West Orange with his wife and children, Richie Regan has found a home near home, and in the words of Mgr. McNulty, "will be greeted with affection by the sturdiest body." With everybody rooting for his success, no doubt remains in the minds of Seton Hall followers that he will undoubtedly become as successful a coach as he was a player.

Richie Regan Returns As New Frosh Coach

Richie Regan, former Seton Hall great who went on to the pro ranks to become the captain of the Cincinnati Royals, of the National Basketball Association, has come back to his alma mater as Freshman coach. Mgr. John L. McNulty has announced that "The Cat," as he was known in his hey day, will become Honey Russell's aide when the next cage season opens.

Richie ended his career this past closed, was that "The traveling

Buccaneers 2-1 After Three Tennis Matches

By Rod Dunne

The tennis season has officially opened and the Pirates suffered their first loss to the Quantico Marines by a score of 3-1. The Marines, up to this game had played five games, including Miami U., which is nationally ranked, and were in good condition. The Seton Hall team, who hadn't opened their season yet, had only three practice sessions.

due to inclement weather and Co-Captains Rudy Katzenberger weren't even sure of their starting lineups until the last match.

The next engagement with N.C.E. was a shadow of last year's contest, for the score was 5-3, who, though a little shaky in the beginning of the season, is now playing his usual good game. Paul Choi played very well in all the games and expects to have a fine season. Jack Colhane, who has just gotten over a recent illness, made it to the Hofstra match where he teamed with Jim McKenna and won the match.

The third match of the season was against Hofstra at the Long Island court. Here the Pirates eked out a 3-4 victory, and the win was a column to its doubles present 2-1 status.

The consensus of opinion seems to be that everyone on the team is coming along fine and the rest of the season should prove highly successful.

This year's team is composed of two returning lettermen including son with a respectable 10-3 record.

Freshman Baseball Squad Cops Its First Two Games

By Al Langenus

The Freshman baseball team started its season with a bang by defeating Hofstra, 4-1, at Setonia Field on April 14th. For Seton Hall, the kingpin of the game was Hank Fischer, brilliant right-hander from Yonkers, who gave up a mere two hits and struck out 15. Seton Hall got its first run in the second inning on back to back singles by Jim Cerra and Hank Fischer. This was followed by Ed Balzarotti's double which drove Cerra home for a brief 1-0 lead. Hofstra stormed back in the third inning and scored their first run on a double by their shortstop. Fischer proceeded to strike out the next two batters, but the next hitter sent a fly to right which Jim Cerra bobbled, thus allowing the man from second to score, tying the game at 1-1.

In the fifth inning the Pirates took a 2-1 lead on Hank Fischer's single, which was followed by Ed Balzarotti, who reached first as the result of an error by the pitcher. Bill Gallagher then singled to fill the bases. Harry Ford walked, forcing a run home.

In the sixth inning the Frosh scored two runs as a result of a hit batsman, two stolen bases and a throwing error. This proved to be enough for the young Pirates.

Bally Against Upsala

On April 15th, the Frosh journeyed to Viking Field in East Orange to play the Upsala yearlings. Seton Hall won, 9-8.

Donn Grady started on the mound for the Pirates but departed in the sixth inning after giving up four runs on three hits. He was relieved by Paul Cuccolo, who in the seventh inning gave up four runs on four hits before retiring the side. These events led "Casey" Coppola to bring in Hank Fischer, the hero of the Hofstra game, to pitch the eighth and ninth.

The big star for the Frosh was Joe Kelly, the hard-hitting third sacker from Point Pleasant, who took matters into his own hands, driving in six runs. Joe cleared the sacks twice, during bases loaded situations, with a double and a triple.

Break Deadlock

The game was deadlocked at 8-8 until the ninth inning when two outs Al Sawicki reached first on a throwing error followed by Jim Cerra's walk. This was followed by another base on balls to Ed Balzarotti, filling the bases. Bill Gallagher then proceeded to walk forcing Sawicki home from third with the winning run.

Mural Bowling Season Closes With Doubleheader; Banquet On May 30

By John DeAngelo

The Seton Hall Intramural Bowling League is approaching the end of its season, with only 18 games left to be played. The second half has proven to be much more exciting than the first, as only three games separate the first nine teams in the present standings. The Bowling Banquet will be held at the Friar Tuck Inn in Cedar Grove on Friday, May 30, 1958, starting at 7:30 p. m.

Tickets for all league members may be obtained from Vincent Blazovic of the Tornadoes for $1.50. A roast chicken dinner will be served, and following the dinner will be the awards of prize money and trophies. A very lively evening is planned, so it is hoped that the whole league will attend.

The three games that were postponed because of the recent snow, will be played on the last scheduled Sunday, which is May 18. Therefore, the league will roll a doubleheader on that date.

Two bowlers in the league, John Dear and Jerry Lipt, are being entered by the school in the Eastern Collegiate Bowling Championships. The two will compete with other collegians on Saturday, April 26.

The five top men in the league thus far are: Jahara, 176; Dear, 175; Berger, 174; Lind, 171; and Reiff, 168.

Hall. Besides hitting .380 and belting five home runs for the freshman team, three in one game against Columbia, he also holds some individual records, which he accumulated in his sophomore year. These include 27 walks, 7 triples, 1 stolen base and participation in 33 double plays, while batting a respectable .337.

After graduation Joe intends to enter med school and hopes to play pro ball.

Phil Samuels is a 6'3" 210 lbs. Junior Phys. Ed. major from Clifford Scott H. S. in East Orange. Currently he is a Seton Sport Star in both basketball and baseball and one of the most popular and versatile athletes on campus.

In high school Phil was a four letter man in both of these sports and received state wide recognition. In his first year at the Hall, Phil starred on the Pirate yearling basketball and baseball teams and while on the latter compiled a .375

PIRATE NINE COPS FIRST FOUR

Cage Title Excellent Hitting Plus To Wrecks Top Pitching Evident

DIAMOND SUCCESS

Winter's swan song, which forced the postponement of four of the baseball team's first seven games, has finally given way to the balmy breezes of springtime. With the revival of good weather has also come a revival of intercollegiate competition after the lag which preceded the Easter recess.

The baseball team dominates the sports scene this spring and there's little wonder why. Although the early season going usually is the toughest until the players get their eyes on the ball and get a few games under their belts, the Pirate Nine has started out like a ball of fire, getting good pitching, but what is even more outstanding, getting plenty of hitting. Through their first five games the Pirates pushed 42 runs across the plate and racked up the impressive total of 62 hits. Such a display of muscle power so soon in the campaign leads one to expect even better results in the future. No doubt the team will continue to score impressively and will continue on its winning ways. If this sounds optimistic, it's meant to be that way. In no way is it a display of overconfidence, for anyone who has witnessed any of the games so far cannot help but feel that this is a solid club with a wealth of talent on the field and some very fine reserves on the bench just biding their time till they can get a chance to show their wares.

Topping the squad in the hit department is Joe Ritter, the slugging shortstop. Joe, who doesn't appear to pack much power, has been belting the tar out of the horseshoe and leads the club in hitting, slugging, total hits and total bases. Last year Joe was tops in stolen bases and walks, so this year he is turning to the he-man statistics.

Joe's partner in the keystone combination is Ray Newman, the only soph able to break into the starting lineup. With Mike Sheppard and Sam Calelio alternating behind the bat, and "Sunshine" Szezech snagging flies in center, the Pirates look very good up the middle.

Kev Bartlik, who made a successful switch from second to right, has also come through with some timely hitting. Actually, the whole team is working well as a unit and to single out any one member as the main contributor would be over-simplifying the situation. The thing about this club is that with such an abundance of top playing personnel, there will always be one man to take up any slack which may develop in the lineup.

As far as pitching goes, the Hall has the material. The only question is how it will stand up when the going gets tougher. The ace of the staff, Julie Nicolai, will probably draw most of the big opposition, but "Nick" is capable of coming through. Two surprises thus far, Junior Ed Szerensits and Soph Joe Tosies, will prove of considerable help. If the two Johns, Allen and Green, can produce, and Ronnie Berthasavage can continue his winning ways from last year, the mound corps will be one of the best in collegiate ranks.

INTRAMURAL ATHLETICS

Intramural athletics do not receive much publicity in the normal run of collegiate activity. They usually take back seat to the exploits of the university teams on the intercollegiate level. However their importance should not be underestimated. They provide an excellent opportunity for each and every student to participate in any sport he prefers, besides developing the same qualities of sportsmanship as varsity play.

Seton Hall has one of the finest intramural programs of its kind. What truly makes it outstanding is that it is run almost entirely by the students. Even more outstanding is the amount of interest shown by the students in the program. There are never less than twelve teams entered in any of the programs, and the rosters of these teams are usually packed to the limit.

Such a program of intramural athletics did not always exist at Seton Hall, until recent years. Since that time it has come a long way, helped in no small degree by the vision and work of such men as Jim Penders, Phil McGonegal, Lou Morrell and Dave Shablieski. The mural football, basketball and softball programs are the special field of McGonegal. His work seems to come off like clock with barely a snag in any of the sports.

The Intramural Bowling League also is enjoying huge success. The boys look forward to their Sunday afternoon competition with much enthusiasm. The officers of the league Tom McMahon and John De Angelo, are doing a swell job to keep things running smoothly.

The mural program at this university belongs to the students and they are to be congratulated on the fine job they are doing.

The three time cage kings of the intramural league succeeded in gaining their fourth crown at the expense of The Galleons, finishing this year's intramural basketball competition.

The Wrecks were pitted in the finals against the team who had previously beaten the champs during the regular season competition. The Wrecks took an early 11-2 lead, but the Galleons fought back and climbed ahead by one, 18-17. Here the Wrecks put on the pressure and by half time led 29-18. Throughout the rest of the game the Wrecks were never threatened, and the game ended with the Wrecks on the big end of the 65-52 score. The high scorers for the game were Harry Cooney of the Galleons, and Tom Shannon, who led the Wrecks.

The members of the Rambler Wrecks are Brian Kelley, Kevin Bertlik, Tom Shannon, Gerry Smith, Lou Murray, Leo Leroux, Pat O'Connor, Harry Middleton and Don Knopf.

The Galleon squad includes Frank Baier, Harry Cooney, Gerry Egan, Phil McGonegal, Jim Whaler, Tom Gilligan, Danny Roy, Tom Porter and Jack Brennan.

This game ended a highly successful season of intramural basketball. The charge of the league was had by Phil McGonegal, who was ably assisted by Dave Shablieski. The efforts of these two men went far to insure the success of the campaign.

Linksmen Divide Opening Matches

Seton Hall University opened the golf season on a dismal note, losing to a powerful Fordham team 5 to 3, at Leeway Country Club in New York City. Jim Cunningham, co-captain, defeated the defending Metropolitan golf champ, Larry White of Fordham, one up.

Cunningham sparked a fine Pirate showing, firing a low score of 77 to become the low match scorer.

Tuesday, April 15, Seton Hall evened its record at 1 and 1, with a victory over such rival St. Peter's. Matches were won for the Pirates by Jim Cunningham, 3-2; Bruce Byrne, 3-1; George Koeh, 3-2; and Larry Parker, 2-1.

Working under the handicap of only limited drill and virtually no hitting practice, Seton Hall University's young and confident baseball team opened its season on April 2nd against its traditional rival, New York University. The opener with Hunter College slated for the day before, was washed out. The Pirates muscled their way to a 5-4 victory at the expense of the Violets at Ohio field. Extra base hits were the order of the day as the two teams combined for eight long hits of all varieties, including a home run.

Ray Newman, freshman sensation, continued his lusty hitting with a homerun his first time at bat. The smooth fielding second basemen also collected two other base knocks, a walk, and was credited with one run batted in. The shortstopping was done by Joe Ritter, who also did well with the bat, as he finished up the day with a triple, double and two walks. Sam Calelio had two doubles.

Nicolai scattered nine hits with two runs being earned. The senior righthander left 2 on base, while his opponent left 10 Pirates stranded. John Fasciano yielded eight base hits, five of which were for extra bases, besides giving up eight walks. The third inning afforded the Pirates their first scoring opportunity, which they capitalized on, with two runs via doubles by Ritter and Calelio. If the fifth inning the Seton Hall defense faltered and events, wrapped around a timely single by Fattel, made the scoreboard read 2-1. The Vikings went ahead in the next inning by virtue of a single, a double and a two-run double by Lettieri.

Win in Ninth

The seventh was the frame in which the Hall tied the score, 3-3, on Newman's single, Ritter's walk and a throwing error on Bartlik's tap to the mound. The eighth saw the Hall go ahead as Newman's single drove in Calelio, who had walked. The deciding run came in the top of the ninth with one out. Ritter had his thrice bagger and then Bartlik extended his consecutive hitting streak to 12, as a single pushed across the final marker.

Push Past Terries

April 10th found Seton Hall playing host to a St. Francis team at Memorial Park in Maplewood. Seton Hall combined solid hitting with clutch pitching to chalk up its second victory, 8-1. The pitching performance was done by Ed Szerensits, a junior southpaw, who gave up five hits, struck out seven and had flawless control.

Joe Ritter continued his hitting tear with three doubles and a sacrifice fly to drive in three runs. The second inning Ritter's double, three errors and Shepherd's single accounted for three runs. The next inning was started by Paul Szezech's walk, and Richie Mark's base on the error. Ritter's second double sent two runs home and Bartlik singled him home to extend his hit streak to 13.

Hofstra Falls

Hitting, which was considered a Pirate weakness seemed to be Seton Hall's strong point as they pounded out 14 hits to defeat Hofstra 11-3 behind the sophomore, Joe Tosies. The Hall's third winning effort in as many games, displayed a well balanced attack of hitting and pitching. Joe Ritter and Kev Bartlik each collected three hits and young Tosies fanned seven and scattered seven harmless hits to chalk up his first win with the varsity. The heavy hitting started early, as the Hall put Tosies ahead by a 8-0 lead. With two out in the first, Richie Marks walked, Ritter singled and both scored, when a wild throw sailed into right field.

The next frame started with walks to Franciosi and Ray Newman, singles by Paul Szezech and Marks, and a double by Ritter, adding four more runs to the Seton Hall score. In the third, a walk to Franciosi, two errors and Ray Newman's double provided an eighth run cushion for Tosies to work with.

Montclair Thriller

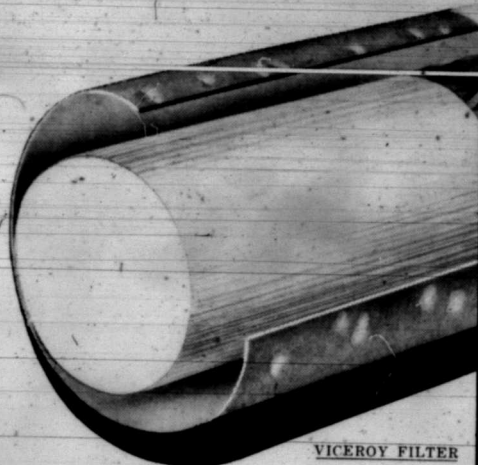

Julie Nicolai went the distance for the second time in two starts, April 16th to extend Seton Hall's winning streak to four games, by virtue of a single, a double and a two-run double by Lettieri, came the hero in the last of the ninth batting rally, by smacking a solid single up the middle to score the tying and winning runs. Only one inning before, with the Hall trailing 2-0, they were able to fill the bases only to be throttled by Ennis, the Montclair pitcher, to the extent of one run.

It was a pitching duel from the start as Ennis and Nicolai matched serves for the first four frames. The spell was broken in the fifth when Ennis singled home the leading run in the game. The next two innings were again without a score, but the eighth saw Montclair score again as Porcena drove in a second run. Seton Hall finally broke into the scoring column in the bottom half of the inning when Szezech and Marks singled and Kev Bartlik and Phil Samiely walked to force in the run. This then set the stage for the bottom of the ninth.

There was one out in the ninth when Joe DeTrois batted for Nicolai and walked, Ralph Franciosi popped out for the second out, but the third baseman Porcena then booted Paul Szezech's shot down the third base line. After the runners advanced, a ball pitched by Mark's rified his single through the infield for the winning run.

Ennis struck out nine and allowed seven hits, the same amount given up by the Seton Hall hurler. This made Nicolai's record 2-0.
