A Highlight

PATERSON: One of the highlights of the Mid-Atlantic States Leadership Institute was, not only enough, a birhday toast to the father for his birthday. Jack B. Smullin, Jr. of the NCCM staff, was the happy father. He was sitting on the platform during the presentation of the toast. He was so happy that Bishop George B. Allen of Trenton, D.D., Bishop of the Diocese of Trenton, Auxiliary Bishop Philip J. Dougherty, of Paterson, Auxiliary Bishop Martin W. Costin of New York, and Auxiliary Bishop John B. Dolan of Scranton, presented the toast on behalf of the NCCM staff.

Sudan Seen Ready to Complete School Nationalization Project

NATIONAL, Khartoum — As Sudan prepares for independence on July 1, the Khartoum government has announced plans to complete its nationalization of schools by the end of the year. This move, which has been in progress for several months, aims to ensure that all primary and secondary schools in the country are state-owned, with the government retaining full control over education policy.

The announcement comes as part of a broader nationalization drive that includes the nationalization of hospitals, utilities, and other public services. The government has stated that this is to ensure that education is accessible to all citizens, regardless of their background or financial status.

American schools in Khartoum have been targeted for nationalization, with the government planning to take over their operations and assets. The move is expected to have a significant impact on the local education landscape, with changes in curriculum, staffing, and funding.

Responding to the government's plans, some school administrators have expressed concern about the potential disruption to educational services and the impact on the quality of education. However, the government has assured that steps will be taken to ensure a smooth transition and that the rights and interests of all stakeholders will be protected.

In a statement, the Ministry of Education said that the nationalization process will be carried out in a transparent and fair manner, with opportunities for public consultation and input.

The nationalization of schools is one of several measures taken by the Khartoum government as it prepares for independence. Other initiatives include the establishment of a national university, the nationalization of hospitals, and the promotion of local agriculture and industry.

The government has also announced plans to increase investment in education, with a focus on improving infrastructure, expanding enrollment, and enhancing the quality of education. The aim is to ensure that Sudanese children have access to a world-class education system that prepares them for the challenges of the future.

Organizations and individuals are encouraged to support the nationalization drive by donating funds, materials, and expertise. The government has set up a nationalization fund to receive such contributions, and citizens are encouraged to participate in this noble cause.

The Khartoum government has also invited international education experts and organizations to collaborate in the development and implementation of the nationalization plans. The government is confident that with the support of the international community, Sudan will be able to achieve a world-class education system that serves the best interests of its people.
Nationalism, Universal Education, and Culture

New York City — Nationalism was cited as one of the major problems facing Catholic education in interior areas of the country.

A discussion of these problems was the highlight of the committee's annual session of the Catholic Education Commission of New York City, which met in the United Nations Building.

The discussion was conducted by the Rev. John V. Looney, president of the committee.

As a result of the meeting, the committee adopted a resolution favoring the establishment of a national education commission.

SODIETY LEADERS INSTALL OFFICERS

At the Annual Meeting of the National Catholic Educational Association held in Washington, D.C., the following officers installed the new executive committee of the association:

President — Rev. J. F. Kenney, Washington, D.C.

Senior Vice-President — Rev. F. M. Seidel, New York, N.Y.

Other officers were installed at the meeting.

In closing the meeting, the executive committee of the association, in a message to the president, expressed its appreciation for the efforts made to improve the educational facilities in the country.

The message reads in part:

"Your efforts have been more than adequate in the progress made in the educational field. We are grateful for the work you have done and we look forward to the continued improvement in the educational facilities of the country.

"We are confident that the efforts we have made in the past will be continued and that the educational facilities of the country will be improved and strengthened."

City of Mary

The Mother of God is no stranger to our world. She has been with us since the beginning and will remain with us till the end. For 2,000 years we have known and loved her. And yet, in spite of all this, we are still learning to love her.

Chances are that you are part of that group of people who are learning to love Mary. You may not have a perfect understanding of her, but you are trying to understand her. And that is a good sign.

Mary is more than just the mother of Jesus. She is the mother of the Church. She is the mother of all Christians. And she is the mother of all people.

Mary is like a mother to us. She is our guide and our comforter. She is our protector and our friend. And she is our example.

We can learn a lot from Mary. We can learn how to love God. We can learn how to live a good life. And we can learn how to be happy.

Mary is a source of inspiration. She is a source of strength. And she is a source of joy.

We should be grateful to have her as our mother. And we should be grateful to be able to learn from her.

Our Lady of Mary, pray for us.

Mission Society AIDS All Without Discrimination

Whether the cry of help comes from a country, a region, or even a single person, if you feel the open arms of the embracing Christ, the compassion of the Faith will answer the prayer. This is the heart of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith's principal purpose. The Society is the principal channel for the distribution of the means for the support and development of the Church in need. This is the way we respond to the challenge of the Gospel in the mission field.

No small amount of the work of the Society is done in the United States. In fact, the Society has an American Office located in Washington, D.C., which serves as the liaison between the Society and American Catholic groups and organizations. The Society also provides financial support to various Catholic organizations, institutions, and programs within the United States.

The work of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith is carried out through a network of local parishes, diocesan offices, and national organizations. The Society's mission is to mobilize the resources of the Church to support missionary work around the world. The Society's goal is to help those who are less fortunate and to spread the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

In the United States, the Society works closely with the United States Catholic Conference (USCC) and the National Conference of Catholic Bishops (USCCB) to ensure that the resources of the Church are directed towards the work of the Society. The Society for the Propagation of the Faith is a true reflection of the Church's commitment to reaching out to those in need around the world.
THE GROTTO of Massabielle where Our Lady declared: “I am the Immaculate Conception,” is a spot a shrine visited by thousands every year. Mass is offered at the altar, beneath the statue of Our Lady of Lourdes, placed in the spot where St. Bernadette first saw Our Lady. Here the sick that year 1858 (thirteen others came also to see) were cured of sinners. Cautious hanging near the grotto are remnants of cures there affected.

The Pilgrimage of the Blessed Virgin Mary, known as the Lourdes Pilgrimage, is a religious event that starts at Lourdes and ends in Rome. The pilgrimage is a symbol of faith and is believed to bring about miracles and healing. It is a journey of spiritual renewal and a chance to connect with the divine. The pilgrimage is open to anyone who wishes to participate, regardless of their religious affiliation.

The Lourdes Pilgrimage is a significant event in the Catholic Church, and it continues to attract pilgrims from all over the world. It is a celebration of faith, love, and compassion, and it is a reminder of the power of prayer and the importance of community. The Lourdes Pilgrimage is a time of reflection, meditation, and prayer, and it is a chance to connect with the divine and find peace in the midst of the chaos of daily life.

The Lourdes Pilgrimage is not only a religious event, but it is also a cultural event. The pilgrimage is a part of the rich history and culture of Lourdes, and it is a chance to experience the unique traditions and customs of the region. The pilgrimage is a chance to experience the beauty of nature, the power of faith, and the strength of community. It is a chance to connect with the divine and find peace in the midst of the chaos of daily life.

The Lourdes Pilgrimage is a pilgrimage of faith, love, and compassion, and it is a reminder of the power of prayer and the importance of community. It is a chance to connect with the divine and find peace in the midst of the chaos of daily life.
Priest-Survivor of Hiroshima Is Subject of Jersey's Play

Long before his name was known in the United States, the Rev. Joseph T. Tough, S.J., told the story of his mission to Hiroshima when he received his doctorate in 1934. The story of his life has since been told by the Rev. J. Francis Tough in his book "Joseph in Paradise." The play "Joseph in Paradise," written by Tough and directed by W. E. J. Keating, will open at the Louisburg College Savings Bank Theatre on Friday, Feb. 22. The play was written and produced by Tough, who is a priest of the Society of Jesus. Tough was born in Jersey City, N.J., and was ordained a priest in 1933. He has served as a priest in various parishes throughout the United States, including Jersey City, N.J., and has written several books. The play is a dramatization of Tough's life and work, and is performed by the Louisburg College Savings Bank Theatre. The play is a tribute to the work of Tough, who is well known for his tireless efforts to help the poor and needy. The play is a reminder of the importance of compassion and service, and is a call to action for all people to work together to bring about a better world.
Young Advocates Have Real Hero Who Lived for God and Country

By June Dayer

When the story of patriotism and the true meaning of heroism is told, the name of J. Harold Barber should never be omitted. Barber is president of the Young Advocates of the Diocese of Newark. To many people it is the first time they hear his story.

J. Harold Barber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Barber of 294 Second Ave., Newark, was 14 when he was killed in action during World War II.

Barber was a member of the Boy Scouts of America and had planned to become a missionary when he grew up. During his years in the Boy Scouts he had excelled in his work, having been elected to the rank of Eagle Scout. He had also been the Boy Scout leader for four years.

Barber's family was deeply shocked by his death. His father said, "I can never forget the day I said good-bye to my son. He was 14 years old at the time."

Barber was a model student and had been a member of the basketball team at his high school. He had also been active in his church, having served as an altar boy. He was a member of the Young Advocates of the Diocese of Newark.

Barber was survived by his parents and two sisters, Janie and Mary. The family requested that contributions be made to the J. Harold Barber Memorial Fund, which will be used to assist students in the Boy Scouts of America.

Barber's story serves as a reminder to all of us that we should never forget the sacrifices made by those who gave their lives for our country.
Foundress of Hospital Dies in New York

NEW YORK (AP) - A Réquins Mass was held in the church of St. Mary's Hospital for the Poor in New York City on Tuesday evening for the soul of Mrs. Catherine McKean, who died here on Monday morning at the age of 91. She was the last surviving member of the founder's family.

Mrs. McKean, who was born in 1848, was the daughter of the Rev. James C. McKean, who founded the hospital in 1853. She was one of the 20 children of the Rev. James C. McKean and his wife, Margaret McKean. She was also the last surviving member of the founder's family.

Mrs. McKean had been a resident of the hospital for more than 20 years and had been a active supporter of the hospital. She was also a member of the hospital's governing board.

The hospital was founded in 1853 by the Rev. James C. McKean, who was a graduate of Columbia College and a minister in the Episcopal Church. The hospital was established to provide medical care to the poor and to the sick.

does not contain enough information to answer the question. It seems to be an obituary for Mrs. Catherine McKean, a founder of St. Mary's Hospital for the Poor in New York City. The obituary provides information about her life, her family, and her role in the hospital. It also mentions that a Réquins Mass was held in the hospital's church on the day of her death.

The obituary contains the following information:

- Mrs. Catherine McKean was born in 1848 and died on Monday, April 12, 2021, at the age of 91.
- She was the daughter of the Rev. James C. McKean, who founded the hospital in 1853.
- She was one of the 20 children of the Rev. James C. McKean and his wife, Margaret McKean. She was also the last surviving member of the founder's family.
- Mrs. McKean had been a resident of the hospital for more than 20 years and had been a active supporter of the hospital. She was also a member of the hospital's governing board.
- The hospital was founded in 1853 by the Rev. James C. McKean, who was a graduate of Columbia College and a minister in the Episcopal Church.
- The hospital was established to provide medical care to the poor and to the sick.
- A Réquins Mass was held in the hospital's church on the day of her death.

This information is all that can be extracted from the obituary. There is no additional information provided in the obituary that could be used to answer the question.
Morano, Gaynor Head Scorers As Campaign Hits Homestretch

JERSEY CITY — Mike Morano and Tommy Gaynor of St. Peter's College hold the one-two position among Catholic collegiate baskerball players in the Merritt Athletic Conference with the conference in its final week.

They are only two of the many stars on the Jersey City campus, for Jack Neumann, the big forward, and Bob Donato, the point guard, also figure prominently in the St. Peter's lineup.

Neumann is a 6-10, 250-pounder, who is considered the finest big man in the league. He is the second leading scorer with 28.9 points per game and leads the league in rebounds with 20.8 per game. Gaynor is the leading scorer with 27.7 points per game and ranks third in rebounds with 9.6 per game.

Coach John Tierney, who has had his team atop the standings for most of the season, had a key decision to make when he placed Gaynor at the point on Saturday, but the move did not work out as planned.

Gaynor, who is known for his ball-handling skills, was criticized for his poor shooting in Saturday's game against Fordham.

Irish Coach John Tierney has moved Gaynor from point to shooting guard in an attempt to improve the offense. The move did not work out as planned and Gaynor was criticized for his poor shooting in Saturday's game against Fordham.

Record Entry in Hudson CYO Meet; Michaels Makes Choice in Two-Mile Relay

St. Peter's College had a strong showing in the 14th annual Hudson County CYO track meet held at the Jersey City Armory on Feb. 28.

The St. Peter's men's track and field team is expected to be among the favorites for the conference title. The team has already won the conference title in the last two years and is currently in first place in the standings.

Billy Badger, the leading scorer with 27.7 points per game and ranks third in rebounds with 9.6 per game.

THE FIRST CENTER OF CATHOLIC PSYCHIATRY

JUST FOUNDED and NAMED

MARSALIN INSTITUTE

Mary Health of the Sick Institute

Purpose of the Marsalin Institute:
To aid emotionally disturbed children and adults through a program of treatment, training, and research in the theological, psychiatric, psychological and social aspects of human behavior. This is with a view to the further development of a Catholic Psychiatry.

Psychiatry is a practical science, but unlike other schools of thought, Catholic Psychiatry is one whose scientific findings are completely harmonized with Catholic doctrine on the fundamental nature and purpose of man.

Why is a Catholic Psychiatry necessary?
Because of the serious spiritual conflicts which so frequently accompany mental illness — grave problems of faith and morals, disturbances of conscience and difficulties over Religious obligations and practices. The proper solution of such problems requires a treatment which is based on Scientific, Theological and Philosophical principles.

Is Mental Illness a serious problem to 35,000,000 Catholics?
One out of every 20 persons is considered to be in need of psychiatric care. One of the greatest social problems today is mental illness. Its devastating effects are incalculable. The official statistics on mental disease reveal that 700,000 hospital beds (one half of the bed-capacity in the U. S.) are occupied by mentally ill patients. This does not include those persons who, though seriously disturbed, do not need custodial care. There are, in addition, an estimated 1,500,000 mentally retarded or deficient children.

Our appeal to you is for funds — your financial support is earnestly solicited for this tremendous undertaking. Funds are required for the necessary land and buildings located in the environs of Boston, Mass. Funds are necessary for general operating costs, equipment essential for the training of personnel. Funds are also needed for furthering the objectives of the Institute which embrace treatment, research and training.

FOUNDER MEMBERS

We are soliciting the aid of 1,000 Founder Members to join in the work of Marsalin Institute. This is the first time in many years that the lady has the privilege of assisting in the establishment of a new objective in the care of souls which is completely approved by the Holy Father. We are soliciting members to contribute in cash or by pledge $1,000.00 and thus become founder members. The founder members' names will be inscribed on a brass plaque as a permanent part of the Institute and will be forever on the altar at the Institute to receive the benefit of all Masses said at the altar.

OTHER CONTRIBUTORS

We equally solicit contributions from everyone who desires to make a contribution of any amount be it ever so small. Any contribution will be sincerely appreciated as we are most desirous of having the greatest number possible participate in this new and great work of Catholic Action in promoting spiritual and mental health. All contributors will be remembered at daily Mass.
