WASHINGTON (N.C.)—The National Catholic Men's Conference (NCCM) has announced that the annual meetings of the National Catholic Men's Conference will be held at the United Methodist Church in Newark, N.J., on the last weekend of each month. The move was announced by the Rev. John D. Brennan, the executive director of the NCCM.

ONE BIG ISSUE will be concerned with the current national and international political situation. Among the issues that will be addressed are: the role of the NCCM in the emerging political climate; the relationship between the NCCM and other religious organizations; and the role of the NCCM in the emerging political climate.

WILLIAM J. MERRILL, president of the NCCM, said: "The move will allow us to better respond to the needs of our members and to the challenges of our time." The move will also allow the NCCM to better serve its members and to the challenges of our time.

POAU Official Tosses in Towel, Raps Loaded Presidential Queries
WASHINGTON—To the consternation of presidential candidates, a vocal group of POAU (Protestant Association of United States) members has begun to call themselves "Army of One." The group, led by POAU president Rev. James L. Lietz, has been using the slogan "Army of One" for the past 10 years.

Lietz, who is also a Catholic, said the group has been using the slogan to highlight the need for unity in the nation's political process. "We need to show the country that we can work together for the benefit of all," he said. "The slogan is meant to be a call to action for all Americans, regardless of their political beliefs." The slogan has been used by the group in a variety of ways, including in their advertising and at political events. The slogan has also been used by other organizations, including the National Alliance for the United States of America, which uses the slogan as part of its campaign for a "united America." NCCM Leadership Institute Brings 500 Men to Paterson Sessions

By Ford Anderson

Paterson — More than 500 men from 12 archdiocesan parishes and bureaux held 20 sessions of the Mid-Atlantic States Leadership Institute Saturday. They crowded meeting rooms, discussed current problems, and gained a great deal of information from some distinguished leaders of the church.

Dr. John F. Egan, president of Boston College, opened the institute by giving an encouraging talk about the changing roles of the laity in the church.

At the close of the institute, Dr. Egan said: "The leadership institute is an important step in the development of a new leadership in the church. It is important to have a leadership that is representative of the church's needs and that is capable of meeting the demands of the present day.

Sudan Seen Ready to Complete School Nationalization Project

NATIONAL, Khartoum — As Sudan is poised to complete its nationalization project for schools, the government has released new details about the plan, including the number of schools that will be affected and the timeline for implementation.

The nationalization project, which began in 1997, aims to transfer the ownership and management of schools from private to public hands. The government has been working with various stakeholders, including teachers, parents, and community leaders, to ensure a smooth transition.

According to the latest update, the nationalization project is expected to be completed by the end of the year. The government plans to transfer ownership of 2,000 schools, which represent about 70% of the total school population in the country.

The project is expected to bring significant benefits to the education sector, including improved quality of education, increased access to education, and enhanced accountability.

The government has also announced plans to provide additional resources to schools, including textbooks, teaching materials, and infrastructure.

The project is part of the government's broader strategy to strengthen the education sector and improve the living standards of the people of Sudan.

College of Cardinals Meets Modern Needs of Church

By James C. O'Neill

VATICAN CITY, March 22 — The College of Cardinals has met the modern needs of the Church by marking the 50th anniversary of the Second Vatican Council. A new structure has been created to meet the needs of today's Church.

The changes include the appointment of new cardinals, the creation of new functions, and the incorporation of non-Italian cardinals.

The College of Cardinals now includes members from around the world, reflecting the global nature of the Church.

In addition, the College of Cardinals has taken steps to ensure its governance is transparent and accountable, with mechanisms in place for the election of new cardinals and for the management of its resources.

The College of Cardinals is now seen as a more effective body, able to respond to the challenges of the modern world and to address the needs of the faithful.

The changes have been welcomed by the faithful, who see the College of Cardinals as a renewed and vibrant body, ready to serve the Church in the 21st century.

St. Louis Library Near Completion

ST. LOUIS — Construction of the 8,000,000 Pope St. Louis XII Memorial Library on the campus of St. Louis University has reached the halfway mark. The doors, financed by the St. Louis Archdiocese's Joseph Ritter estate, recently opened, and the university will house its encyclopedic collection of rare books only at the St. Louis Library.

Built by the advocacy of Catholic bishops and non-Catholic, the library is designed to be a beacon of knowledge and scholarly pursuits. Banner walls are built largely of granite, and can be changed in future to allow rearrangement of book stacks.

For Vatican Documents

MECCA FOR SCHOLARS: Scale model of the Pope Pius XII Library, St. Louis, shows how building will look on completion. This fall, when it will house encyclopedic collection of rare books, the university will house its encyclopedic collection of rare books only at the St. Louis Library.

Court in Bombay Declares Church Funds Are Public

ROSSLY, India (CNS) — The Bombay High Court ruled in favor of the Catholic Church in a case that sought to prevent the public sale of church property

The court overturned a lower court's ruling that found the church's trust funds to be public property and ordered an accounting of church funds.

The case stems from a 1999 dispute between the church and a local government body that sought to seize church property to pay off a debt.

The court noted that the church is a legal entity and is therefore entitled to have its property accounted for in accordance with its own rules and procedures.

The court also ruled that the church has the right to hold and manage its own property in accordance with its own bylaws and that the government cannot interfere with those rights.

The ruling is expected to set a precedent for other cases involving church property in India.

Nationalism and Education

New York (CNS) — Nationalism was cited as one of the major problems facing Catholic education in the United States.

A discussion of the problems was the highlight of a recent conference on education sponsored by the National Catholic Educational Association.

In his keynote address, Father Joseph F. Connolly, S.J., president of Boston College, said that nationalism is a major threat to the vitality of Catholic education.

He noted that the growth of nationalism has led to an increase in anti-Catholic sentiment and has made it more difficult to attract students to Catholic schools.

The conference also featured discussions on the role of religion in education, the relationship between faith and reason, and the challenges of teaching in a pluralistic society.

The conference was held at Boston College and was attended by educators, administrators, and professionals from across the United States.

The issues raised during the conference are expected to have a significant impact on the future of Catholic education in the United States.

GOD blesses Father Connolly and all who are involved in the work of Catholic education. May God grant them wisdom, courage, and perseverance as they continue to serve the Church and the community.

Love in the Time of Corona

With the world in the midst of a pandemic, love and compassion are more important than ever.

In his recent speech, Pope Francis emphasized the importance of love in these challenging times.

He said that love is the gift that allows us to overcome fear and despair and that it is through love that we can build a world of solidarity and peace.

The pope's words are an inspiration to all of us as we navigate through this difficult time.

Let us remember the words of Pope Francis and strive to show love and compassion to all people, especially those who are most vulnerable.

Let us be a source of hope and support to those who are suffering.

Let us be an example of love and goodness in a world that often seems to lack these qualities.

Let us be a beacon of grace and mercy in a world that is often harsh and无情.

Let us be a reminder that love is the most powerful force in the universe.

Let us be a witness to the power of love and its ability to transform lives and societies.

Let us be a source of joy and hope in a world that often seems to be in darkness.

Let us be a reminder that love is the essence of the human experience.

Let us be a reminder that love is the foundation of all that is good and beautiful.

Let us be a reminder that love is the source of all human fulfillment.

Let us be a reminder that love is the most important gift that we can give to each other.

Let us be a reminder that love is the most powerful force in the universe.

Let us be a reminder that love is the essence of the human experience.

Let us be a reminder that love is the foundation of all that is good and beautiful.

City of Mary

The Mother of God is as strange in our world as she was in 1864. The day was the same, but the month was not. Two months before she was born, the Virgin Mary was born in the year 8 B.C. in the city of Nazareth. The mother was a young girl, and the father, Joseph, was an old carpenter. The child was named Jesus, and he was to be the savior of the world.

Catholic Press Month

Bid for a "New Munich"

By Louis Francis Beduna

Led Marziani's historical idea that our children should be able to live with as much freedom as a child can live with. Our greatest enemy is the idea of sacrificing freedom for the sake of some supposed benefit. Our great example in this respect is the story of Jesus and his disciples. He said to them, "If you love me, keep my commandments." The disciples replied, "We love you, Lord." And Jesus replied, "Then do your best to love me, and you will keep my commandments."

State Scholarships

The Community of Jesus and Mary has a number of scholarships available to its members. The list is as follows:

1. A scholarship of $1,000 is available for any member who wishes to pursue further education.
2. A scholarship of $2,000 is available for any member who wishes to pursue a career in the ministry.
3. A scholarship of $3,000 is available for any member who wishes to pursue a career in the arts.

The Faith in Focus

Christ's Mystical Body

ByMgr. George W. Shew, S.T.D.

What was said and done last week for their children? And how did it all begin? It was a perfect beginning, but it was not a perfect ending. But who does any one want to hear about those things? No one wants to hear about that.

The Question Box

The Advocate, 81 Clinton St., Newark, N. J., or to the address above.

How do we answer the question of the day? We must begin by asking the question of the day. We must begin by asking the question, "What is the greatest need of the Church today?"

Assuring Freedom To Union Member
By Mag. George G. Higgins
Chancellor, Social Action Department, RFCF

Dr. Clark R. Smith, President of the University of California, and a brother who was granted his degree from the same institution in 1909, was the speaker who addressed the gathering of 5,000 members of the American Federation of Labor who gathered at the Los Angeles Forum. Mr. Jenks, the President of the American Federation of Labor, was also present, and other prominent leaders of the labor movement, including the President of the United States, were also in attendance. The meeting was held to discuss the question of freedom to union members, which is one of the most important questions of the day.

In the course of his address, Dr. Smith made the following statement: "The right of union members to keep their money for themselves and to use it as they please is a fundamental principle of our Constitution, and it must be respected by all." He went on to say that the members of the American Federation of Labor were pledged to uphold this right and to see that it was carried out in practice.

In conclusion, Mr. Smith said: "We believe that the right of union members to keep their money is a basic principle of our Constitution, and we shall not rest until it is made a reality."
Lourdes Is City Of Mary's Smile

By Anna Max Buckley

One Hundred Years ago the Mother of God stood here—first to some in Lourdes and later to a French peasant girl.

As Lourdes Our Lady smiled upon the people of Lourds, geography and climate, nature and altitude, she went higher. But she was not higher, or nearer to God, when Our Lady appeared, than when she smiled upon the people of France. Yet there is in Lourdes, in that green pastoral land, in that village of the Pyrenees, a spiritual atmosphere, a presence of the sacred, which makes Lourdes what it is.

It was this which made the Sanatorium possible. It was this which made the Lourdes Hospital possible. It was this which made the Lourdes Pilgrimage possible.

The Sanatorium, the Hospital, the Pilgrimage have all been built to meet the spiritual needs of the people of the world who are seeking an occasion to commune with God. The Lourdes Pilgrimage is the most significant piece of the work which has been done to meet these needs.

And now, on this Lourdes Day, 1958, we have the privilege of watching the spirit of Lourdes being carried into the world, of seeing the work of Lourdes being done again.

The Pilgrimage of Lourdes has been going on for a century. It is a spiritual pilgrimage. It is a pilgrimage of love, of faith, of hope, of service. It is a pilgrimage of the spirit. It is a pilgrimage of the heart.

It is a pilgrimage of love, for the love of God, the love of the Church, the love of the people. It is a pilgrimage of faith, for faith is the foundation of all Christian virtue.

It is a pilgrimage of hope, for hope is the fruit of faith. It is a pilgrimage of service, for service is the crown of all Christian virtue.

And now, on this Lourdes Day, 1958, we have the privilege of watching the spirit of Lourdes being carried into the world, of seeing the work of Lourdes being done again. We have the privilege of watching the work of Lourdes being done again, of seeing the work of Lourdes being done again.

Priest-Survivor of Hiroshima Is Subject of Jersey's Play

LONG ISLAND — "Hiroshima," a play about the world's first atomic bomb, which was successfully tested by the Japanese, has been performed by Mary-J. Schiffer, a priest-surgeon of the St. Joseph's Hospital Medical Center, and is being staged at the Actor's Temple in New York City.

Schiffer, who was born in Japan and is a priest, has been attending Hiroshima: the bomb test site, where he was stationed as a medical student and later as a surgeon. He has been working with the Atomic Bomb Casualty Commission in Japan, where he is now stationed.

The play, which was written by Schiffer and directed by Robert E. O'Hara, is based on actual experiences of medical personnel who were involved in the bomb test. It tells the story of a doctor and his wife, who were both killed by the bomb, and their children, who were left to fend for themselves.

Schiffer, who has been working with the Atomic Bomb Casualty Commission in Japan, said that the play is a tribute to the brave men and women who were involved in the bomb test and who have since been working to help those affected by the bomb.

Young Advocates Have Real Hero

Who Lived for God and Country

By Julia Dayer

This story of a valiant young woman is one of the most inspiring stories of the year. It is the story of a young woman who lived for God and country.

The story begins in the small town of St. Benedict, where a young woman named Barbara, was born. She was the daughter of a prosperous farmer, and from an early age showed a strong desire to serve her country and her faith.

When she was fifteen, Barbara joined the local chapter of the National Society of St. Joseph, and from that time on, her life was dedicated to serving her country and her faith.

Barbara was a member of the local chapter of the National Society of St. Joseph, and from that time on, her life was dedicated to serving her country and her faith.

Barbara's father, a man of great faith, instilled in her a deep love for God and country. He taught her to be proud of her country, and to always stand up for what was right.

Barbara's life was marked by a series of remarkable events. She was a part of the struggle against the tyrant, and her courage and determination were an inspiration to all who knew her.

Barbara's story is one of courage, faith, and devotion. It is a story of a woman who lived for God and country, and whose legacy will live on forever.

The story of Barbara is one of inspiration and hope. It is a story of a woman who lived for God and country, and whose legacy will live on forever.

The Advocate Performs a Service
For President of St. John's PTA

LEARNING LADY: Mother Mary Urban of the Order of the Sisters of the Holy Child, who does not have an academic education, is a student at the University of Dayton and has been attending classes since 1961. Mrs. Urban has been a member of the St. John's PTA since she joined the school, which the second grade student attended. Under her management, the PTA has been able to purchase a new set of textbooks for the school's library and help to fund the construction of a new, state-of-the-art classroom for the school.

The PTA, under Mrs. Urban's leadership, has been able to raise funds for various school projects, including the purchase of new playground equipment and the renovation of the school's gymnasium. Mrs. Urban has been a strong advocate for the improvement of the school's facilities and has worked tirelessly to ensure that the children receive the best education possible.

Mrs. Urban's dedication to education and her commitment to the welfare of the students have earned her the respect and admiration of her colleagues and the community. She has served on various committees and task forces and has been a valuable asset to the school and the PTA.

The Advocate is proud to recognize Mrs. Urban for her contributions to the school and the community and to honor her as the President of St. John's PTA.
Morano, Gaynor Head Scoring As Campaign Hits Homestretch

JERSEY CITY — The 13th annual and tryout games of St. Peter's College hold the one-two position among Catholic high school track teams in the country as far as scoring is concerned with 950 points heading the field.

There's still a great rivalry among the teams, particularly with St. Peter's in the lead, and the teams have been working hard this season to bring home another victory. Gaynor and Morano are expected to be among the top scorers for the college.

After a 69-67 victory over a field that included 12 teams, Morano scored 16 points for his school, and Gaynor scored 15 points, bringing the total to 31 points for the pair. The team scored a total of 66 points, which is a great accomplishment for the college.

THE FIRST CENTER
OF CATHOLIC PSYCHIATRY

JUST FOUNDED and NAMED
MARSALIN INSTITUTE
Mary Health of the Sick Institute

Purpose of the Marsalin Institute:
To aid emotionally disturbed children and adults through a program of treatment, training, and research in the theological, psychiatric, psychological and social aspects of human behavior. This is with a view to the further development of a Catholic Psychiatry.

Psychiatry is a practical science, but unlike other schools of thought, Catholic Psychiatry is one whose scientific findings are completely harmonized with Catholic doctrine on the fundamental nature and purpose of man.

Why is a Catholic Psychiatry necessary?
Because of the serious spiritual conflicts which so frequently accompany mental illness — grave problems of faith and morals, disturbances of conscience and difficulties over Religious obligations and practices. The proper solution of such problems requires a treatment which is based on Scientific, Theological and Philosophical principles.

Is Mental Illness a serious problem to 35,000,000 Catholics?
One out of every 20 persons is considered to be in need of psychiatric care. One of the greatest social problems today is mental illness. Its devastating effects are incalculable. The official statistics on mental diseases reveal that 700,000 hospital beds (one half of the bed-capacity in the U.S.) are occupied by mentally ill patients. This does not include those persons who, though seriously disturbed, do not need custodial care. There are, in addition, an estimated 1,500,000 mentally retarded or deficient children.

Our appeal to you is for funds — your financial support is earnestly solicited for this tremendous undertaking. Funds are required for the necessary land and buildings located in the environs of Boston, Mass. Funds are necessary for general operating costs, equipment essential for the training of personnel. Funds are also needed for furthering the objectives of the Institute which embrace treatment, research and training.

FOUNDER MEMBERS
We are soliciting the aid of 1,000 Founder Members to join in the work of Marsalin Institute. This is the first time in many years that the laity has the privilege of assisting in the establishment of a new objective in the care of souls which is completely approved by the Holy Father. We are soliciting members to contribute in cash or by pledge $1,000.00 and thus become founder members. The founder members’ names will be inscribed on a brass plaque as a permanent part of the Institute and will be forever on the altar at the Institute to receive the benefit of all Masses said at the altar.

OTHER CONTRIBUTORS
We equally solicit contributions from everyone who desires to make a contribution of any amount be it ever so small. Any contribution will be sincerely appreciated as we are most desirous of having the greatest number possible participate in this new and great work of Catholic Action in promoting spiritual and mental health. All contributors will be remembered at daily Mass.
