NEW YORK — Rev. Robert Gannon, S.J., past president of Fordham University, characterized an "unfortunate" statement by three Catholic educators criticizing Catholic higher education.

VATICAN to Broadcast Direct to Americas

VATICAN CITY — Vatican Radio, using newly installed directional antenna, will broadcast Spanish-language programs directly to Latin America for the first time next week. The broadcasts will be experimental and will not be repeated until reports on the tests have been received and studied.

These new programs will be used to test the frequency and transmission equipment and to determine the extent of the program which will be carried. The new installation includes a 70-foot mast and the transmitter, which will be used in the United States when the installation is perfected. An English trans-lation of the Spanish programs will be made, and a new sister station to the Vatican will be transmitting simultaneously.

LOS ANGELES — Right here in California, right here in Los Angeles, in a prominent non-profit private school area of this city, was held last week by the Christian Brothers, re-vehicles, a hearing by the Christian Brothers, representatives of the school system, of private private private schools, and the party itself.

The purpose of the hearing was to determine the best and most efficient way of financing the educational system of the state. The state has a great deal of difficulty in financing the educational system of the state. The state has a great deal of difficulty in financing the educational system of the state.

The Democratic statement was issued by the state and local school districts, and it is more than an observation, it is the fact that the state and local school districts have an absolute right to determine the best and most efficient way of financing the educational system of the state. Communion of Saints

By Fr. George W. Shea, S.T.D.

One of the most challenging and important of Catholic celebrations is the Communion of Saints. This is a festival that is celebrated on November 1st, and it commemorates the lives of all those who have died in the Church. The Communion of Saints is a time for reflection on the lives of those who have gone before us, and for prayer for their eternal reward.

The Commodities

The concept of "the commodity" has been widely debated in recent years. Some economists argue that commodities are a valuable investment, while others believe that they are unstable and risky. In this article, I will examine the meaning of "the commodity," and discuss the various factors that affect its value.

Models for Christians

The models for Christians that are most useful for our time are those who have shown us how to love and serve our neighbors. One such model is St. Francis of Assisi, who devoted his life to the care of the sick and the poor. Another model is St. Clare of Assisi, who founded the Poor Clares and dedicated her life to the preaching of the Gospel. These models remind us that we too can make a difference in the world if we live our faith with passion and dedication.

God Loves You

Make Friends With Money

By Bishop Fallon J. Sheehan

"God loves you. Make friends with money." This advice is offered by Bishop John F. Sheehan of San Francisco in a recent letter to the editor of a local newspaper.

"The first commandment of the Gospel is, 'Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, with all thy mind, with all thy strength, and with all thy soul,'" Bishop Sheehan wrote. "This is the greatest commandment and the sum of the commandments."

A Good Confession Is Humble, Sincere

For the mentally disturbed, counselors are a loyal support system.

How can we make friends with our money? Bishop Sheehan offered some advice:

1. Avoid vanity: Never spend money for the sake of impressing others with your wealth.
2. Live within your means: Save money to ensure a comfortable retirement.
3. Be charitable: Give generously to help others in need.
4. Plan ahead: Save for the future and avoid impulsive purchases.

Lent Provides Opportunity To Assist the Missions

Because we are militant christians, we have Lent. We call this 40 days and nights of prayer and fasting, but what is the purpose of this time? What does it mean to us? In the past, we have often seen Lent as a time of austerity, a time of denying ourselves material pleasures. But is this the true meaning of Lent, or is it something else?

Opportunity

In this period, the Church invites us to reflect on our relationship with God and to renew our commitment to living a life of faith. This is an opportunity to examine our lives and to identify areas where we may be falling short in our faith.

In the next few pages, we will explore the idea of using the Lenten season as a time of spiritual growth and renewal. We will discuss how we can make the most of this time, and how we can use it to strengthen our relationship with God.

Is It a Bird? a Plane? It's Addie!

By June Jones

Up in the sky, a story. Some people think it is real. Some think it is a trick. Others say it is in the movies. But I think it is just as it is described in the daily newspapers.

We know that it has an orange and red tail, but the rest of its body is not known. The wings are spread out, and it is flying very fast. It is a new kind of plane that has been invented in the United States. It is called the 'Addie.'

The Addie is not a cloud or a bird, but it is something that has been created by man. It is a real plane and it flies at a great speed. It can travel across the ocean in a few minutes.

The Addie is a man-made creation, and it is the result of hard work and dedication by engineers and scientists. It is a marvel of modern technology.

Do you think you will ever see an Addie in the sky? I do.

In the meantime, we can enjoy the beauty of the sky and the wonders of flight. Addie shows us that anything is possible if we believe in ourselves and our abilities.

Addie is a symbol of hope and inspiration, reminding us that we can achieve great things if we put our minds to it. So let's celebrate the Addie, and the other wonders of the sky, and remember that anything is possible with hard work and determination.
