Notes Budget Economics, Improvements in Service

JERSEY CITY — In a report on the relations-ship of the Jersey Hall College of Medicine and Surgery and the Jersey City Medical Center, Mary E. Mc-Nulty, president of the school, said at the end of this week the budget was reported to be the best in the history of the Hospital. The school is also in a good financial position. The hospital is said to be the only hospital in the city that is making a profit. The hospital is said to be making a profit of $50,000 a year.

Urge Better Latin Teaching

VIENNA CITY (AP) — The Catholic Church and Universities in the world to improve their methods of teaching Latin, the devocation of Pope Pius XII, is looking to the congregation of bishops in Rome. The devotion of Pope Pius XII, is looking to the enrollment of Latin language classes in schools.

Language Laboratory Helping Students

JERSEY CITY — Students at St. Peter's College this winter will have the opportunity of listening to lessons from professors of languages through a new electronic language laboratory. The new laboratory, now under construction, will be equipped with equipment through a gift from the German government. The gift comes from the government, the new equipment will enable students to study and practice their lessons from their own homes. As the teacher can give each individual student his own personal problems, it is not possible to achieve such individual help in a classroom. Therefore, the new equipment is particularly valuable.

San Francisco (AP) — The new electronic laboratory at St. Peter's College will be inaugurated next month.

Beren Company has the contract for the new laboratory equipment. The laboratory will be in operation in the fall of this year.

Holy Father Outlines Manifold Benefits of Large Families

NCWC News Service

Piloting a translation of an address delivered by Pope Pius XII to the United Nations in 1950, the NCWC presents in this excerpt an account of the manifold benefits of large families offered by the Holy Father.

The Pope, in his address, outlines the spiritual, moral, religious, social, and educational benefits of the large family. He emphasizes the role of the family as the school of Christian virtues and the foundation of society. The Pope also highlights the importance of families in the propagation of the faith and the maintenance of religious traditions.

The text concludes with a call to action, encouraging individuals to consider the advantages of large families and to embrace this traditional family structure.
Pax Association in Poland Economic Power

Pax News Service

The Polish government has launched a new publishing campaign to promote the Pax organization among the Catholic population in Poland. This campaign is aimed at increasing awareness and support for the Pax movement, which has played a significant role in promoting peace and reconciliation in Poland.

The campaign includes the distribution of pamphlets and leaflets, as well as the publication of books and other materials. The campaign also involves the use of radio and television to reach a wider audience.

The Polish government has expressed its hope that the campaign will help to raise the profile of the Pax organization and encourage more people to get involved in its activities.

The campaign is part of the Polish government's efforts to promote a culture of peace and understanding in Poland, following recent changes in the country's political landscape.

The campaign has been welcomed by the Catholic community in Poland, who see it as an important step towards promoting a more peaceful and stable future for the country.

The campaign is expected to run for several months and will be closely monitored by the government and the Catholic community to assess its effectiveness.

The Polish government has also indicated that it will continue to support the Pax organization in its efforts to promote peace and reconciliation in Poland, and has encouraged other organizations to get involved in the campaign as well.

The campaign is part of a broader strategy by the Polish government to promote a culture of peace and understanding in Poland, following recent changes in the country's political landscape.

Mr. President, Beware!

President Nixon and the Senator of the Senate were to meet this afternoon. It certainly must be a demonstration of the administration's commitment to the rights of the individual.

As you may recall, we have been told that the President and the Senator of the Senate will meet in the presence of the people's Democratic Republic. The meeting is to be held at 3:00 p.m. in a courtroom in New York City, New York, opened in the presence of the people's Democratic Republic.

It is said that the President and the Senator of the Senate have no intention of retracting their statement that the meeting will be held in the presence of the people's Democratic Republic.

They have made their statement with the utmost of confidentiality, and the fact that they have been so frank in their statement is a signal indication of their determination to act upon the wishes of the people.

Mission Hospital Open
To Everyone at All Times

What is a mission hospital? Is it a hospital staffed by people who speak through interpreters? Is it a hospital that has been opened to the work and welfare of the people of the Indian continent? In those who come to us at Clare and St. John's Hospitals in the United States, we have learned that many of them are what we might call the "orphans of the age," and that the work of the hospital is that of healing the body and soul of the people who come to us.

A Million Image Books Sold in ‘57

By Floyd Andress

NEW YORK — One of the phenomena of the publishing business these days is the tremendous growth of Image Books, published here by Doubleday & Company. During 1957, Image Books published 16 titles, and they have already been published in five-volume sets in Europe.

In its short history, Image Books has established itself as a unique and highly successful publishing venture, one that has become a fact of publishing life.

John J. Doherty, the editor of Image Books, says that the idea for Image was born at a time when the publishing industry was ripe for something new.

Doherty, a native of St. Louis, is a veteran of the publishing industry, having served as editor of several major magazines and newspapers.

The Image Books concept was based on the idea of publishing a series of books that would appeal to a wider audience than the traditional hardcover edition.

Doherty led the efforts to create Image Books, and he is now the editor-in-chief of the company.

Who Get the Oscars?

By William H. Mouton

Sure to be the most talked about story of the year is the Oscar contest. Every year, it is a forlorn hope that any of the over 1,000 voters of the Academy will award the statuette to the movie most beloved by the public. It is the Academy's night of nights, and it is a time when every movie fan hopes his favorite film will take home the gold statuette.

The Academy is made up of directors, writers, producers, photographers, and other members of the film industry who have demonstrated excellence in their field. They are the judges who determine which films will be nominated for Oscars, and they are the ones who vote for the winners.

The Oscars are given out at a formal ceremony held in Hollywood, California. The ceremony is broadcast live on television, and it is one of the most eagerly awaited events of the year.

This year, the Academy has announced that it will present three special awards: the Irving G. Thalberg Memorial Award, the Academy Award for Best Supporting Actress, and the Academy Award for Best Supporting Actor. The winners of these awards will be公布ed in a special section of the Hollywood Reporter, which is published weekly.

The Academy Awards are a great way to celebrate the achievements of the film industry. They are a reminder that filmmaking is an artform that can be recognized and appreciated by people of all ages and backgrounds.

By Jane Dowey

THE DECISION is in! The winners of the senior division of the Truth-Love Contest you are about to be lauded are entered in this page. You can see by the winning poster, it was a big success — one of our best entries. We had hoped to bring you the exact count this week with the usual poll, but our graphs are still being worked over. For the time being we thought that they had given us all the information we were after. All of the winners have been announced and we have heard praise from the various schools entered and individuals who made the most efforts. This is what we are hearing: We thank you all for your understanding and cooperation. We are proud to have been a part of this great event.

There are the long awaited results. As usual single girls, married and single have won at the top of the list. We are proud to have had the following results.

MOTHERS: The junior division saw a variety of winners. One of the winners was a girl from a single girl's home. She is the second winner of this division. We are proud to have had the following results.

Close Competition Looms in Essex CYO Meet

By Ed Grant

Close competition is in every aspect in the Essex County CYO Track Conference this year, with St. Michael's, St. Cecilia's, and St. Mary's of New Jersey, as usual, the only outstanding squadron.

The CYO conference, which has been in existence for many years, is considered one of the best tracks in the state.

The conference is made up of several teams, each representing a different religious and educational institution.

The CYO conference is also considered one of the most competitive in the state, with many teams vying for the top spot.

The CYO conference is not only a great place for competition, but it is also a great place for personal growth and development.

The CYO conference is one of the best examples of the CYO program, which is designed to provide an atmosphere of athletic competition, personal growth, and development for young people.

Who Could Say ‘No’?

To a girl who stood the start of a class would be a huge honor. The teacher at the Church Academy was a typical student, but her last name was Mary Ann. She was a bright and hardworking student, and she always tried her best in all subjects. When the teacher announced that she would be conducting the class for the next three weeks, she was very happy.

At the start of the class, the teacher introduced Mary Ann to the class and said that she would be conducting the class for the next three weeks. Mary Ann was very happy to be chosen to lead the class, and she worked hard to make sure that everyone was learning and enjoying the class.
