Fraternity Installs Farrell As Brother

At an impressive ceremony held in the Student Affairs Build-ing on Sunday evening November 16, 1958, Mr. Matthew Fairell was awarded an honorary brothership in Phi Beta Sigma, the alistinguished service fraternity on the campus. This is only the second time in that fraternity's history that a faculty member has been so honored. It was first ac-corded to Dr. Charles West in 18:6.

by the judging and the coronation of our new queen. The dance, as in past years, is sponsored by the tonian. Mr. Parrino said,

In the November 20th issue, we printed an editorial entitled "Student Decisions," that dealt with two motions passed by the Student Council concerning the diplomas and the Placement Bureau. This accounts was present in coordance with Article II. Section 2, of the council constitution to provide for the general welfare of the student body, Unfortunately, some people misinterpreted the editorial and believed that the council, or the editorial itself, was criticiting the administration and demanding that certain changes be made. This most certainly was not the case. A careful reading of the editorial will reveal no attack or criticism on any person or department. Instead, it will reveal an expression of student opinion giving recommendations to be considered and then either accepted or rejected.

There was no implication in the editorial that interviews had not been conducted on campus in the past. The statement was that the students wanted more interviews on a regularly scheduled basis. This misinterpretation was caused by eareless

At this time, we would publicly like to express our deep appreciation to Dr. Alfred D. Donovan, Vice-President in charge Student Personnel Services, and Mr. John McLoughlin, Director of the Placement Bureau, who gave so freely and courteously of their time to the student representatives so that the matter could be fully explained.

This is the type situation that The Setonian has always encouraged - having officials from the administration and the student council getting together and settling problems and questions that arise. We are pleased to see that this goal has become a reality. It will definitely help to improve the student-administration relationsh

The outcome of the two motions is printed elsewhere in this paper and there is no need to discuss it here. Let it suffice to say that we feed that the students are receiving careful consideration in these matters.

However we still feel the council was justified in passing motions requesting the situations be investigated so that all doubts could be resolved. Both motions did concern the general welfare of the students and, although the council has no authority to make such demands upon the administration, it has every right to offer suggestions and request information for the benefit of the students. This is what was done.

Once again, it has been proved that student opinion expressed in a student newspaper serves a valuable purpose. Two matters that had long been sore spots were quickly settled once they had been outlined in this publication.

Again, we emphasize the fact that the student newspaper serves as a valuable outlet for the opinions of the faculty, students, and administration since it is a medium common to all three groups. When one group is prevented from presenting its side, then one of the purposes of this newspaper is defeated.

From over a hundred ROTC and AR Unitts, Gen. Bell has selected Col. Menard to attend because of his varied and extensive experices, both in command and theory Infantry. Our current PMST has served in both the European Theatre of operations in War II, and in Korea in the early 1950's, and has thus seen many varied use of Infantry and U.S. Army Battle field tactics and strategy.

The Infantry Conference at Benning, the home of U.S. Army In-fantry, and the biggest Boys' School in the World, will be attended by as many as three hundred Infantry and Supporting Arms Commanders with an amalgamation of the wor'd's most practical battlefield and combat experience. As many as fifty General Officers of the United States Army and Marine Corps will attend the meeting, as well as many retired generals whose advice and council is still sought. However, the cream of attendance will be those Colonels and Lt. Colonels who have had command of smaller units eye-ball to eye-ball with at least two types and races of enemy, in the past two decades, just as our PMST from the Hall has had.

The conference will air for its principle subject matter, such currently difficult subjects as organization of the various sized Infantry units for atomic warfare urgent necessary modification required for supporting arms (artil-lery and tanks) for the new atomic ncept, changes in equipm which have been found essential in recent developments and experimentation, changes in command-set-up, new operational concepts such as helicopter operations, spe-cial warfare techniques and a maze of others.

Col. Menard came here from the first special Forces Group at For Bragg, North Carolina.

Hats off to the school-spirited members of Seton Hall for their tremendous showing at a week ago Tuesday's rally. It definitely indicates a rebirth of spirit in the student body that has been lacking in the past. Congratulations to all the clubs who entered the parade, since each entry was a masterpiece of ingenuity and labor. This school has not seen such a demonstration of spirit in many years. The basketball team was given a big boost by the turnout and felt the students can do much toward making the season a success by coming out to the games and CHEERING. The faculty was as impressed as anyone at the rejuvenation of the students and expressed the hope it will continue.

CROSS COUNTRY

The past season has been a disappointment to all, not because of a lack of effort, but because we are constantly outclassed, meet after

Not to slight the members of this year's squad, much praise goes out to them from this department for their courage in running against such insurmountable odds. They did some good work on occasions, such as against Fairleigh Dickinson and New York University. Obviously: they were of a class that can be compared to S.H.U. at this time. Otherwise the past season spelt nothing but one-sided defeats for our harries, which as anyone can see is not necessary in order to retain a cross-country team. The immediate future can't be overly optimistic cither, as only four or five Freshmen have showed enough to indicate an improvement in the years to come.

MERMEN ON THE SPOT

On November 21st, Mr. Harry McGarrigel resigned as swimming coach after three seasons at the Hall. There have been many applications for the position, but in the meantime the team practices without supervision. Their first swimming meet is on December 13th, against a strong Lafayette crew, and our squad will be at a decided dis-advantage. Because of this unexpected turn of events, the squad mem-bers cannot adopt any other patitude but one of pessimism. What then can the members look for? Usually it would be in the form of varsity can the members look for? Usually it would be in the form of varsity letters, but this is not the case, just as it is not the case for the base-ball-team. This then could very well be a reason, no matter how small, why there are team members who do not go all out for their Alma Mater. A remedy for this that might ease the situation is a new club, seeking recognition of the administration, a Varsity Club, being initiated by such athletes as Ed Ridolfi, Jack Kushher, Bob Dalfauser, and Jerry Lanzotti. Its aims are to promote school spirit and provide an incentive for students to participate on athletic teams here at the Hall. Also back-ing this proposed organization is Mr. Boccia and Mr. Gibson, two very prominent men on campus.

IN MY OWN DEFENSE

I would like to state on my own behalf, the reasons I had in fore-casting a possible defeat for our Buccaneers in the opener last Monday casting a possible defeat for our Buccancers in the opener last Monday. I have been assailed by some students, close to the basketball team, who say that my untimely statement has caused have to their morale. This is a possible consequence, but it was not meant to turn out this way. Just the opposite, it was suppose to let the team know that the student body knew the game with Rider might be a suffer endounter and if they did go down in defeat it wasn't because they are a poor ball club, but that they were facing tough opposition. If, on the other hand, it was not taken this way by the baske(ball players then it should have gotten them mad enough at us for doubting their ability to go out December 1st and whip Rider. Cross, a Modern Language major, is better suited for spurts of 10 minutes when his soft touch and ability to block shots make him extremely dangerous. If Coach Ruissell can find a replacement for Tom, he will definitely prove more effective. Cross averaged 10.6 points last year.

Phil Samuels, the Clifford Scott is a two-year regular stands 6-4. Samuels is tough off the boards and has a fine one-hander. Samuels' main drawback in the past has been his failure to shoot often a rough.

Samuels, a Physicial Ed major, averaged 4.7 points a game last year. Phil possesses a deadly jump shot and can hit it consistently m around the key which we can turn. First, is a schedule that is not made up of pre-dominantly powerhouses as they now have to run against. But this brings up the fact that a majority of our opphents invite us to par-ticipate in their meets. Now who are we to turn down the invitation of schools such as Army, St. Jóhn's, Manhattan, Princeton and the like? Yet, what's the gense of running in order to come in next to last? Then the other alternative is of course, to attract to Seton Hall he type of runners that can put us in the class of the above mentioned schools, where we once ranked. The "Spike 'n Shoe" dinner, that was held on November 10th, was a step in the right direction, but this must be followed up by the vast sea of alumni that has passed from these portals, in recent years. Bowlers Roll For The Birds
