Archbishop Says Requiem
Mass for Msgr. Monaghan

JERSEY CITY — Msgr. Thomas F. Monaghan had the church at his side and the bereaved at his feet when nothing else could do. He was there in the church where his parishioners had gone to pray for Msgr. Monaghan when he had gone to pray for anyone else. The hospital was a familiar environment for him — there had been many times there in his 30 years of service. He had been there as a child and, for the last few years, as an adult.
He had always been on call when his parishioners were there in the hospital. He had always been there when they were not. The parishioners had always been there for him. The hospital had always been there for him.

Indonesia Considers New School Bill

JAKARTA, Indonesia (NIC) — A new education bill recently introduced to the Indonesian legislature by a group of seven Catholic members of parliament has raised concerns in religious circles, with many fearing it could lead to increased religious discrimination.

The bill, sponsored by the Indonesian Catholic Education Association, seeks to regulate religious education in schools and universities, imposing restrictions on the content and delivery of religious education. It proposes that religious education should be conducted in a manner that promotes secular values and avoids any religious bias.

“The bill is a direct threat to our freedom of religion and education,” said Father John Doe, a member of the Indonesian Catholic Education Association. “We are concerned that this bill could be used to suppress religious education in schools and universities.”

However, supporters of the bill argue it is necessary to ensure that religious education is integrated into the national curriculum and that it promotes values such as tolerance and pluralism.

“The bill aims to ensure that religious education in schools and universities is conducted in a way that promotes national unity and social harmony,” said Dr. Jane Smith, a member of the Indonesian Government’s Education Council. “We believe that this bill is in the best interests of the country.”

The bill is currently under review by the Indonesian parliament, and the Indonesian Catholic Education Association is hoping to work closely with the government to ensure that the bill is drafted in a way that respects the rights of all religious groups.

by Joan Smith

Bishop Pierre Marie Tartre of

St. Mary’s Archdiocese, London, was con- cerned about the bill’s potential to disrupt religious education. “This bill could have serious implications for the balance of religious freedom in Indonesia,” he said.

The Indonesian Catholic Education Association has called for a dialogue with the government to ensure that the bill is drafted in a way that respects the rights of all religious groups.

The Indonesian government has yet to respond to the bill, and it remains to be seen whether the bill will be passed into law. However, the Indonesian Catholic Education Association is hoping to work closely with the government to ensure that the bill is drafted in a way that respects the rights of all religious groups.

The bill is currently under review by the Indonesian parliament, and the Indonesian Catholic Education Association is hoping to work closely with the government to ensure that the bill is drafted in a way that respects the rights of all religious groups.

To POLL REALTORS ON SUNDAY CLOSING

TRENTON — The views of real estate brokers regarding Sunday closing are to be considered by a commission on the New Jersey Automobile Club.

Several weeks ago, the club's executive committee, headed by the Rev. Robert Hill, expressed its dissatisfaction with the state's Sunday closing laws.

The club then appointed a committee to study the laws and to report its findings to the executive committee.

The committee, which has been meeting recently, submitted its report to the club's executive committee last week.

The committee recommended that the Sunday closing laws be changed to allow sales of real estate on Sunday.

In addition, the committee recommended that the Sunday closing laws be revised to allow sales of real estate on Sundays.

The committee's report was accepted by the club's executive committee.

The committee's recommendations will be considered by the club's executive committee at its next meeting.

Belgian Bishops Hall
1958 World's Fair

BRUSSELS (ENNI) — The Bishops of Belgium issued their final pastoral letter calling the Brussels World's Fair which opens April 17 as a "meeting of the world to further human understanding and the creation of a more peaceful society.

Ordered to read aloud in all the Catholic churches of the country, the pastoral letter states that the "world is full of conflicts and contradictions and needs to be brought back to equilibrium.

The Bishops warned that the time has come in the world to think that it is impossible to solve all problems in theory.

The pastoral letter also expresses the desire of the Bishops to make an appeal to the spiritual needs of the Church.

The letter concludes by asking all Belgians to be on the lookout for the spiritual needs of the Church.

French Cardinal Hits Education Proposals

PARIS (KNS) — Cardinal Joseph of France warned that an educational reform bill shortly to be debated by the French parliament threatens "illiteracy" to the nation's Catholic schools. He called it "a catastrophic project for the de-Christianization of France," which must be "thwarted.

The Cardinal presented at a press conference in the presence of the press, students and parents of Catholic schools that under the proposed law, which is still pending, certain schools are proposed as centers of the majority of teachers, the majority of the teachers, in the case of secondary schools, of the majority of students in the case of primary schools.

The Cardinal said that although the proposal of a school record in Catholic schools, he was still anxious to enter the state school network, who is in favor of a policy of public education, a policy that would be a very stiff challenge to the Catholic school system. He said that the proposal was aimed at the Catholic schools and would be an anathema for some, but changes in the Catholic schools should be a matter of serious concern.

CARDINAL NATIONALISM

The Cardinal continued, "The proposed plan for the interior of courses is directed against the Catholic spiritual tradition, and it is a threat to the Christian faith in general. It is a threat to the Christian faith in education, to the Christian faith in the Catholic school system, and to the Christian faith in the world at large.

The Cardinal concluded, "We must fight against this plan, and we must do so with all our strength. We must fight for the Christian faith, for the Catholic faith, for the Christian school system, and for the Christian world at large. We must fight with all our strength, with all our courage, with all our faith, with all our determination, and with all our passion. We must fight for the Christian faith, for the Catholic faith, for the Christian school system, and for the Christian world at large."

"THE PARISHANE"
God Love You

Only Christ Has Scars
By Bishop Fallon J. Sheen

If you are not a Christian, you are not alone. There are millions of people who feel the same Way. I am not an expert on this subject, but I have been around long enough to know that there are some things that can only be explained by God. The Lord has said that He will save the world through the passion of His crucifixion. I believe that this is true, and I hope that one day you will come to understand it too. But for now, I can only say that if you are feeling lost, I hope that you will turn to God for help. He will be there for you.

How Do We Make a Good Confession?

Three questions and answers are taken from Leviticus 15. "We Believers: By This We Live!" the second edition of the Daily Catholic News.

Before entering the confessional, some of us may feel that we do not have a very good confession to make. But this is not true. We can all have a good confession if we are willing to make it. The Lord has said that He will forgive our sins if we are willing to ask for forgiveness. If we are willing, He will be there for us.

But is it not true that we cannot make a good confession if we are not willing to make it? Not necessarily. We can make a good confession if we are willing to make it. The Lord has said that He will forgive our sins if we are willing to ask for forgiveness. If we are willing, He will be there for us.

Saints of The Week

Sunday, April 11 - Easter Sunday, the Church commemorates the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ. Jesus Christ was the Son of God and the Messiah of the Hebrews. He was crucified on the cross and rose from the dead on the third day. He is the only Son of God and is the only way to salvation.

But now shall he bring to them through Jesus the answer of our peace with God? Let us consider the words of the Lord: "But now shall he bring to them through Jesus the answer of our peace with God." We can see that the answer of our peace with God is through Jesus Christ. If we are willing to make a good confession, the Lord will be there for us.

"We believe in the infinite majesty of God, the Father Almighty, Creator of Heaven and Earth. And the Son, Jesus Christ, the Only Begotten Son of God, God of God, Light of Light, True God of True God, Begotten, not Made, Consistent with the Father before all Ages, the Very Life of the Father; through Him all things were made. For by Him all things were made, and without Him nothing was made that was made. Through Him all things were made. In Him was life, and the life was the light of men. And the light shines in the darkness, and the darkness comprehended it not. (John 1:1-4)"

One day we may all be able to say that we have made a good confession. But for now, I can only say that if you are feeling lost, I hope that you will turn to God for help. He will be there for you.

Brussels International Fair. Is Busy Hive of Activity

By Floyd Anderson

BRUSSELS—You see reminders and evidence of the 1958 Universal Exposition everywhere in Brussels. Signals along the street points the way to the exhibitions; workers even brightly colored lights along the main thoroughfares and shopping sections add to the city's festive air.

At the exhibition grounds workers are busy distributing free-for-all eggs, of which there are more than 10,000. The eggs, sold only one cent each, are sold by the half dozen. There are three egg stands, and at the beginning of each egg stand, there is a large sign, "Eggs sold only one cent each." The eggs are sold by the half dozen, but you may only purchase one egg at a time. The eggs are sold in cartons, and each carton contains 30 eggs.

On the day of March 15th, the Brussels Expo opened its doors to the public. As the first day of the fair, it was also the opening day of the free-for-all eggs. The fair was attended by a crowd of people, including many children. The fair was very busy, with many people walking around and enjoying the various attractions.

The fair was held in the Brussels Expo, which is a large exhibition hall located in the city center. The fair had many attractions, including rides, games, and food stands.

They have been distributed free-for-all eggs at the fair for many years, and the eggs are always a big hit with the visitors. People enjoy buying the eggs, and they make a nice souvenir to take home.
Reviewing the New Books

NOSA S. By Harry T. Peters. (Simon & Schuster, Inc. 444 p. $4.95.)

This is the story of a young Englishman, Jonathan Swift, whom the author, Mr. Peters, has identified as the author of "Gulliver's Travels." It is doubtedly the most important Swift biography ever to appear.

The author has lived in England, and knows the land and its people from them. With the aid of his research and observation, he has written a book which is always clever, often amusing, and always interesting. It is a book which will be read by all who are interested

School Baccalaureate Services Proscribed

PORTLAND, Me. — Bishop Daniel J. Feeley of Portland, in forbidding Catholic pupils in Maine public high schools and their parents from attending baccalaureate services, stated this week.

"Let it be kept in mind that separation of church and state is not a lighter charge against '行政机关' than "Organizations" and "Churches" for the last remnants of the ancient tradition in New England.

After Bishop Feeley had read through a lengthy letter from a parent in favor of the baccalaureate, the school committee analyzed a number of points of view and agreed to the Bishop's decision. The committee also agreed that the services should be held in the church, and a new schedule was made for the baccalaureate.

"THE PROTEST. — In New En-land our tradition of baccalaureate services is as strong as anywhere else in the country. The tradition continues to be observed in the various schools and colleges, where it serves as a reminder of the importance of religion in the lives of our students.

The baccalaureate is a unique service that is held to honor the students who have graduated from the high school. It is a time of celebration and reflection, and it provides an opportunity for the students to express their gratitude for the education they have received.

The baccalaureate is also a time for the parents and the community to come together to support the students and to express their congratulations.

The baccalaureate is a symbol of the importance of religion in our lives. It is a time for us to reflect on our faith and to reaffirm our commitment to living a life of faith.

The baccalaureate is a time for the students to come together and to celebrate their achievement.
It is a time for them to express their gratitude for all that they have learned and for all that they have experienced.

Following is a translation of an address delivered in Brussels to a group of delegates of chemical, petroleum, and coal unions and industrial federations of Europe and North America by Pope Pius XII on Jan. 28, 1950. The Pope emphasized the need for closer collaboration among the unions to meet the challenges of new economic conditions.

His address was published in the Vatican's official newspaper, L'Osservatore Romano, and is scheduled to be translated in full at the spring session of the NCPC.

Outline Ways of Adding To First Communion Day

Track and Field — Mrs. Betty Johnson, a social worker in New York, said today at the Roman Catholic Women's Benefit Association annual meeting that the idea of adding a First Communion day to the schedule of the school year in the dioceses of New York would serve to increase the number of first communicants in the archdiocese.

Mrs. Johnson, who is a member of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women, said that her organization was interested in the idea of a First Communion day and that it would be a good way to increase the number of first communicants.

Soloists for Choir — A group of soloists, including Miss Mary J. Stewart of the Choir of St. Mary's Church, will perform in a solo recital at the Church on Sunday afternoon.

The recital, which is sponsored by the Church, will feature works by various composers, including Bach, Handel, and Mozart.

Franciscan Academy in Italy Mixes Culture With Charity

Bologna, Italy (NC) — The Franciscans have a way of melding the spiritual and the worldly that might well be inspired by a city known for its art and culture.

Bologna, one of Italy's cultural capitals, is a place where art, architecture and history coexist. The Franciscans, who have a long history in the city, have found a way to integrate their religious mission with a respect for the local tradition and heritage.

In the Franciscan community, which you will find in the heart of the city, and in a school that dates back to the 13th century, the Franciscans have created a unique environment where the traditions of the past and the values of the present are brought together.

The Franciscans' commitment to education is evident in the way they run their school. They believe in a holistic approach to teaching that includes not only academic instruction but also a focus on character development and social responsibility.

The school, which is located in one of Bologna's historic neighborhoods, offers a curriculum that reflects the city's rich cultural heritage. Students are encouraged to explore the city's art and history, and they are taught to value the importance of understanding the past in order to shape the future.

Moreover, the Franciscans believe in the importance of giving back to the community. They work closely with local organizations to address the needs of the people, and they are committed to using their resources to make a positive impact.

This commitment to education and community service is reflected in the school's motto: "Pray for Us." The Franciscans believe that prayer is essential to their work, and they encourage students to pray for those they serve and for the community as a whole.

The Franciscans in Bologna are just one example of how the order's commitment to culture and education can be seen in the world. Throughout their history, the Franciscans have played a significant role in shaping the cultural landscape of many places, and their influence can still be felt today.

The Franciscans' approach to blending spirituality with culture and education is a model for others to follow. By integrating their religious mission with a respect for the local tradition and heritage, they are able to create a unique environment that is both spiritually enriching and educationally enriching.

The Franciscans in Bologna are a testament to the power of education to transform lives and communities. Their work is an inspiration to us all, and their commitment to culture and education is a reminder of the importance of these values in our world today.

Says Catholics Fail To Explain Position

MANCHESTER, N. H. (AP) — Apathy on the part of Catholic system toward explaining Catholic teaching to Protestant world has been blamed by a panel of Protestant World Conference officials for some of the "silence" between Catholics and Protestants.

The chairmen of the panel, in statements released here, blamed the "Church" and "Protestant" alike for failing to explain their beliefs to one another.

"We have come to the point where we are not willing to explain our beliefs to each other," said the panel chairman. "We are afraid of what we might find out.

Catholics, he said, are "too afraid of what they might learn from the study of Protestant beliefs.
