Archbishop Says Requiem Mass for Msgr. Monaghan

JERSEY CITY — Msgr. Thomas F. Monaghan had been a capable spiritual father for more than 45 years as priest and pastor here, and after a funeral Mass and a burial at sea in Florida, a Requiem Mass is about to be celebrated in his memory.

His Excellency, Cardinal Edward Egan, archbishop of the New York Archdiocese, said the Requiem Mass on behalf of Msgr. Monaghan, who served as pastor of St. Peter’s Church here. As the archbishop of the diocese of Brooklyn, he is the apostolic administrator of the archdiocese.

The Mass was celebrated by the Msgr. Monaghan’s pastor, Father Joseph A. Maloney, and will be attended by a large number of friends and family members. The Mass will conclude with a eulogy by the archbishop.

Hail Priest Into Court

ROKE (NYN) — Monsignor John J. O’Keefe, 66, of Brooklyn, is accused of stealing $10,000 from a fund for the Catholic Church.

The archdiocese said that the archbishop of New York, Cardinal Edward Egan, had ordered the priest to stand trial in a criminal court.

Referring to the Pope’s apostolic visit to the United States, the archbishop said, “The pontiff is a symbol of the Church’s commitment to social justice and the promotion of human rights.”

On the Inside...

The Brussels worldwide has been much in the news recently. On March 28, the foreign minister urged the European Union to adopt more stringent measures to prevent the spread of the disease.

A DAILY MIRACLE takes place in a small town in Italy. For the story, see Page 15.

BAYONNE — “This fire was not only a disaster for the church, but also a disaster for our community.”

Father Henry F. Hanley, pastor of St. Mary’s Church in Bayonne, said the fire on March 29 was the result of a lightning strike.

The fire started at 2 a.m. and quickly spread throughout the church, damaging the structure and contents.

The church, which was built in 1857 and is the oldest Catholic church in Bayonne, has been in the parish since 1860.

The archbishop of Newark, Cardinal Edward Egan, has expressed his condolences to the parishioners and the community of Bayonne.

The church was built by the Irish immigrants who settled in Bayonne in the 19th century. It has served as a place of worship for generations of families.

At the time of the fire, there were about 400 people gathered for the 8 p.m. Easter Vigil Mass, which was being celebrated by Father John Burke, the pastor of St. Mary’s Church.

At the Easter Vigil, the archbishop of Newark, Cardinal Edward Egan, said, “We are gathered here this evening to celebrate the resurrection of our Lord Jesus Christ.”

The Easter Vigil is a liturgical celebration that marks the beginning of the Easter season in the Catholic Church.

The archbishop said, “This is a time for us to pause and reflect on the meaning of the resurrection of our Lord Jesus Christ.”

The archbishop added, “We are reminded of the power of God’s love and mercy, and the hope that we can find in the resurrection of our Lord Jesus Christ.”

The archbishop concluded, “May our hearts be open to the grace of God and may we be strengthened in our faith.”

At the end of the vigil, the archbishop offered a prayer for peace in the world and for the safety of all who have been affected by the pandemic.
Indonesia Considers New School Bill

Jakarta, Indonesia (NC) — A new education bill was introduced into the supreme legislature's chamber of senators Thursday by President Soekarno seeking to increase the number of higher educational institutions in the country.

The bill, which was presented to the chamber by the minister of national education and culture, would make it easier for local governments and religious bodies to set up private universities. It would also allow private institutions to charge tuition fees.

The bill is expected to be discussed in the chamber next week and is likely to be passed by the full legislative body in the coming months.

Cardinal Lercaro Says Liturgy Must Be Centered on Mass

BREVIAIRY

April 1, 1953

Asks Breviary Reform

REGIONAL, Feb. 27—"The liturgy is the life of the Church. It is the common life of the faithful, without which there is no life of the Church," said Cardinal Luigi Montini, Archbishop of Milan, in a recent address to the priests of the diocese of Milan.

This was the dominant theme of an interview with Cardinal Montini, who has been outspoken in his efforts to promote the liturgical renewal of the Church.

The cardinal is a strong advocate of the liturgical reforms of Pope John XXIII, which have been implemented in many dioceses around the world.

He was asked if the reforms had been successful. "Yes," he replied. "In the past, the liturgy was often neglected, but now it is given the attention it deserves." He said that the reforms have helped to make the liturgy more meaningful and relevant to the needs of the faithful.

CARDINAL MONTINI

The cardinal is scheduled to visit the United States in the near future, and is expected to speak extensively on the liturgical renewal of the Church.

BELGIAN BISHOPS HALL

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 2—The Belgian bishops are planning to meet in St. Louis in the fall of 1954 to discuss the liturgical renewal of the Church.

The meeting will be held at the newly constructed Center for Cultural Activities of the Belgian bishops, located in the heart of the city. The center is a state-of-the-art facility, designed to meet the needs of the bishops and their assistants.

The bishops are expected to discuss a wide range of topics, including the liturgical reforms of Pope John XXIII, the liturgical renewal of the Church, and the role of the laity in the Church.

For the bishops, the meeting will be an important opportunity to discuss the liturgical renewal of the Church and to plan for the future of the Church in the United States.

Met Priest Secretly

Counterspy Missed His Religion Most

By Joseph McElroy

BOSTON (AP) — "If I had gone to church I wouldn't be here today."

With these words, Armando Pensa, 44, of Falmouth, Mass., summed up the worst part of an eight-year-old FBI counterintelligence case that has cost him his freedom.

Pensa, an Italian-born American citizen, was sentenced in a federal court to spend six years in prison after a jury convicted him of conspiring to provide intelligence to the Cuban government.

Pensa, who lived in the South Boston section of Boston, was one of several people accused of leaking classified information to Cuba.

The FBI, which conducted the investigation, said Pensa had been working for the Cuban government since 1976.

Pensa admitted to having had a relationship with Cuba's top intelligence officials.

"I was trying to help the Cuban government," he told the jury in his testimony. "I wanted to help the Cuban people."
French Cardinal Hits Education Proposals

PARIS (REUTERS) — Cardinal Roger Joseph internals warned that an educational reform bill shortly to be debated by the French parliament threatens "nationalism" in the nation's Catholic schools. He called it a "catapulting project for the de-Catholicization of France," which must "be fought back."

The Cardinal provided at a press conference in protest against the measures sponsored by the Ministry of National Education and under the proposed law that under the proposed law, all schools be secular, which was proposed by the majority of government officials. He accused them of "magnifying the importance of several constraints, of the suppression of the religious instruction, at the same time, he considered the proposal to be "a plutocracy at the service of the secularism." He described the proposal as "unlawful and illegal" and as a "moral obscenity." He urged his followers to "fight back with all means at their disposal." He also called for a "national referendum" to "veto the bill." He added that "the Catholic Church will continue to fight for the right to educate its children in Catholic schools."

Pope Pius Sees Humanity Emerging From a Dark Winter of Error

Pope Pius XII in 1950 wrote in his encyclical, Mundus Galisum, that humanity was "emerg[ing] from the dark winter of Error." He saw the spread of communism as a threat to human dignity and the freedom of the human person.

"We are living in a world that is divided into two parts: one that is communist and founded on lies, and the other that is Christian and founded on truth." Pius XII said.

"This winter of Error is not just a period of time, but an era of history that has overwhelmed humanity. It is a time of abject misery, of unbridled licence, of бесконечное [without limit] violence, of pageSize [censored], and of..."

How Do We Make A Good Confession?

Three questions and answers are taken from Lesson 1. "We Believe—By This We Live?"

1. Is the person making a good confession? Yes. It must be the person, with a full understanding of the meaning of what he is doing. It must be made with the intention of receiving the forgiveness of sins, and not as a mere form or a matter of routine.

2. Is the confessor a good confessor? Yes. The confessor must be well versed in the doctrine of the Church, and must be able to explain it clearly and correctly. He must be able to guide the penitent in the proper steps of the Sacrament.

3. Is the person making a good confession? Yes. If the person making the confession is honest and sincere, and if he is willing to do the work of repentance, then he is making a good confession. If he is not willing to do the work of repentance, then he is not making a good confession.

One Way to Squelch Dirty Jokes at Work

Of course there will be complaints. We have to deal with them. The person who is making these complaints is not only interfering with the work of the others, but he is also interfering with the work of the Church. These complaints are not only bad for the Church, but they are also bad for the individual making them. The person who is making these complaints is not only interfering with the work of the others, but he is also interfering with the work of the Church. These complaints are not only bad for the Church, but they are also bad for the individual making them. The person who is making these complaints is not only interfering with the work of the others, but he is also interfering with the work of the Church. These complaints are not only bad for the Church, but they are also bad for the individual making them. The person who is making these complaints is not only interfering with the work of the others, but he is also interfering with the work of the Church. These complaints are not only bad for the Church, but they are also bad for the individual making them. Saying God Loves You

Oh, only Christ Has Scars

By Bishop Fallon J. Sheen

As a matter of fact, God loves us all. If we are not all loved by God, we are not all loved by Him. It is the same with us. We are all loved by God. We are all loved by Him. We are all loved by God. We are all loved by Him.

If we are all loved by God, and by God, then we must all be loved by the same God. We must all be loved by the same God. We must all be loved by the same God. We must all be loved by the same God.

If we are all loved by God, and by God, then we must all be loved by the same God. We must all be loved by the same God. We must all be loved by the same God. We must all be loved by the same God.

If we are all loved by God, and by God, then we must all be loved by the same God. We must all be loved by the same God. We must all be loved by the same God. We must all be loved by the same God.

HOOVER ASKS HOLLYWOOD TO TONE DOWN CRIME

South Pacific

By Richard Aldrich

The story is told of the South Pacific island of Puka-Puka. The island is a beautiful, unspoiled place, and the people who live there are simple and friendly. The book is a love story, set in the South Pacific, and it tells of the love between a young man and a young woman. The woman is a native of the island, and the man is a visitor from the mainland. They fall in love, and their love is tested by the challenges of life in the South Pacific.

Unfortunately, the story is a bit too slice of life, and there is not enough action to keep the reader interested. The book is well-written, but it is not a great story.

Despite the shortcomings, the book is still worth reading. It is a beautiful story of love and the challenges of life in the South Pacific. The book is well-written, and it is a great story of love and the challenges of life in the South Pacific.

Feast of Easter Really Means to You

By June Dyer

Lover is Easter. Easter is her time. As the sweet days of spring are again approaching, the question "What is Easter?" becomes ever more pressing. Easter means much to her. It is something of great importance to her. It is a time of joy and gladness, a time of new life and new hope.

Easter is the day when we remember the resurrection of our Lord Jesus Christ. It is the day when we celebrate the victory of life over death, the victory of light over darkness, the victory of love over hate. It is a time of rejoicing and thanksgiving.

Easter is a time to remember the sacrifices of our forefathers who gave their lives for the freedom of their country. It is a time to remember the martyrs who gave their lives for their faith. It is a time to remember the heroes who gave their lives for their country.

Easter is a time to remember the lessons of the past. It is a time to learn from the mistakes of the past. It is a time to avoid the mistakes of the past.

Easter is a time to remember the future. It is a time to look forward to the future. It is a time to plan for the future.

Easter is a time to remember the present. It is a time to live in the present. It is a time to enjoy the present.

Holy Father Discusses Labor Safety, Incentives

Pope PIUS XI (Cardinal of the Congregation of the Holy See) has recently addressed a group of American textile workers in a letter highlighting the importance of labor safety and social conditions.

In his letter, the Pope stressed that the current economic climate, marked by increasing industrialization and automation, requires a reevaluation of the traditional roles of the worker and employer. He emphasized that while productivity is essential, it should not come at the expense of the workers' health and safety.

The Pope called for a partnership between labor and management, where both parties are committed to improving working conditions and ensuring the well-being of workers. He encouraged the establishment of safe working environments and the implementation of health and safety measures to prevent accidents and injuries.

In addition to safety measures, the Pope advocated for fair compensation and adequate rest periods to allow workers to maintain their physical and mental health. He also stressed the importance of ongoing education and training for workers to adapt to the rapidly changing industrial landscape.

The Pope's letter serves as a reminder of the ongoing need for solidarity and cooperation between workers and employers to create a more just and equitable society. It underscores the importance of prioritizing the welfare of workers and fostering a culture of respect and mutual understanding between all parties involved in the production process.

The Pope's message is in line with the principles of Pope PIUS X, who emphasized the importance of social justice and the need for a balanced approach between economic growth and the well-being of workers.

Visiting Beautiful Graymoor

Graymoor, a historic site located in Garrison, New York, is known for its stunning natural beauty and its role as a retreat for religious leaders and scholars. The site is home to the Graymoor Seminary, which has educated generations of priests and religious leaders.

Graymoor also houses the historic Dutchess Arms Hotel, which was once frequented by luminaries such as Abraham Lincoln and Ulysses S. Grant. Today, the site is open to the public, offering visitors a chance to experience its rich history and enjoy its peaceful surroundings.

Says Catholics Fail To Explain Position

MANCHESTER, N. H. (G.O.) — Apathy on the part of Catholic leaders toward explaining Catholic teaching to Protestants has been blamed for a lack of understanding of the doctrines of the Church by the New Hampshire Anti-Defamation League. In response to a recent letter from the League's executive director, the Rev. John F. Kelly of Manchester, the Rev. William J. Breslin, pastor of the Cathedral of St. Joseph Old Cathedral in New Haven, Conn., has pointed out that the doors of the Catholic Church are open to all who wish to learn about the Church's teachings.

The New Hampshire Anti-Defamation League has been working to improve understanding of Catholic beliefs among Protestants. In a recent letter to the Rev. Kelly, the league's executive director, Mr. Breslin, pointed out that the Catholic Church is not a closed club, but rather an open door to all who wish to learn about its teachings. He said that the Catholic Church has a duty to explain its beliefs to those who are interested in learning about them.
