Cardinal’s Condition Good; May Be Able to Say Mass

ROME—Cardinal Spell who had his right arm amputated above the elbow in February after war injuries was making a rapid recovery and had returned to the Vatican recently.

With a resilience that defies the years, which are 70, Msgr. Spell worked through the war and is now returning to his duties.

The day before the arm was amputated, he had attended the solemn Mass for the end of the Lenten season in the Paul VI Audience Hall. He was expected to return to his duties in the near future.

The surgery was performed by Dr. Pius XII, who is well known for his medical skills.

Msgr. Spell is expected to be able to participate in the solemn Mass for the end of the Lenten season in the Paul VI Audience Hall. He is expected to return to his duties in the near future.
The Sisters of St. Dominic of Caldwell will dedicate their new home overlooking the Delaware River on Monday. The building includes living quarters for 35 nuns and a parlor, chapel and library for ten members of the 75-year-old community. The building was designed by architect Ralph Wilson, and is located near the old convent on Broad Street. The sisters have been living in the old convent for 50 years.

The dedication will be held at 10 a.m. in the presence of Gov. Woodrow Wilson and Mrs. Wilson. The dedication will be followed by a 12 noon luncheon in the convent's parlor, and a 3 p.m. mass in the convent chapel. The sisters will then return to their old convent on Broad Street.

The new building is designed in the style of a Bermuda cottage and is made of brick and white stone. The building will house 35 nuns, and will be leased by the University of Delaware for the next 25 years.

The dedication will also include the presentation of a new convent to the sisters by the University of Delaware. The convent will be the property of the University of Delaware, and the sisters will be able to use it as their home for the next 25 years.

Honesty, Integrity Have No Dollar Sign

MOURNING—"Honesty, integrity and patriotism have no dollar sign attached to them." This is the stablility of the address given by Rev. Thomas R. Reardon, regent of St. Thomas and St. Marcus Guild, at the Catholic College of St. Thomas the Apostle in Retract.

More than 200 students and guests attended the first annual St. Thomas Guild Mass, held to be held at St. Thomas Hall on April 17. Mr. Reardon, president of the St. Thomas and St. Marcus Guild, and other members of the Catholic College of St. Thomas the Apostle, in Retract, were on hand to witness the mass.

The Mass, attended by students, faculty and guests, was held to give the students an opportunity to reflect on the meaning of honesty, integrity and patriotism, and to emphasize the importance of these values in their daily lives.

The theme of the mass was "Honesty, Integrity Have No Dollar Sign," and the students were reminded of the importance of these values in their personal and professional lives.

The mass was led by Rev. Thomas R. Reardon, regent of St. Thomas and St. Marcus Guild, and included a reading of the first chapter of the New Testament, which includes the words of Jesus: "Whosoever therefore shall confess me before men, him will I confess also before my Father who is in heaven. But whosoever shall deny me before men, him will I also deny before my Father who is in heaven."
Hospitals Are Also Squeezed in Current Cost-Price Vise

SAN FRANCISCO (CNS)—Hospitals, just like other businesses, are searching the recession for new ways to cut costs and maintain their quality service to their patients. This is the view of the Archdiocese of San Francisco, which announced the latest round of price increases at the hospitals under its jurisdiction.

"A hospital is in no position to control its costs," the archdiocese said in a news release. "It has to adjust to declining hospital rates and rising prices for supplies, services and labor. The only way to control costs is to cut services, which is not acceptable to the archdiocese."

The archdiocese said it has no choice but to increase its prices, which will go into effect on May 1. The increase will affect all services, including those provided by the hospitals' own staff.

Great Results Are Credited to Drive

By Rev. Mr. John J. Callahan

During the recent Alzheimer's Disease Drive in all the diocese and in aid to assist him in organizing the Drive, the Diocese of Newark and the Archdiocese of Newark have agreed to cooperate in the Drive.

We know from experience that a group united for a definite and prominent end, succeeds. Therefore, the efforts of a single effort may result in a successful result.

The featured item this year, a flax scots in the students' hands and a large address by Principal Msgr. John J. Callahan, was followed by Father Callahan's own address. The Drive Committee had an opportunity to visit the schools of the Orange River, Sister Mary Magdalene, and Father Callahan's school of St. Vincent's Academy.

Safe Way to the Summit

It has been difficult, these past several weeks, to escape the idea of another summit conference. At least that is true of the Russians. And since they are the ones who have the power to take either way, it seems as though the only way out of the mess is for them to take the road that leads through the summit conference. It is clear that they cannot be expected to take the road that leads through the summit conference, for they have no power to take either way. But it is clear that they cannot be expected to take the road that leads through the summit conference, for they have no power to take either way. It is clear that they cannot be expected to take the road that leads through the summit conference, for they have no power to take either way. God Love You

Recession Effects Felt

By Bishop Fulton J. Sheen

In his message of April 3, 1938, His Excellency, the Bishop of Rochester, referred to the recession as a "fear of the unknown": "It is the fear of the unknown that makes us lose our nerve, that makes us turn back, that makes us hide under the covers of our common sense..."

The same message also pointed out that the recession was causing widespread uncertainty and fear, which were being exacerbated by all sorts of people and institutions, including the government, the railroad companies, the banks, and the insurance companies. The message also noted that the recession was causing a great deal of suffering and hardship, and that the Church was called upon to provide comfort and support to those who were affected by it.

How Do We Gain Partial Indulgence

By Joseph Burgan

An indulgence is a plenary indulgence or a partial indulgence. Plenary indulgences are generally granted for special occasions, such as the Beatification of a saint, and are obtained by performing the required acts, such as saying a prayer or attending a Mass.

Partial indulgences are obtained for a variety of acts, such as hearing Mass, saying a rosary, or participating in a penitential act. They are granted for a specific number of days, and are generally associated with the celebration of a feast day or the dedication of a church.

The value of an indulgence is determined by the number of days it covers, and is based on the amount of suffering and sacrifice that is required to obtain it. Partial indulgences are often granted for a fixed number of days, and are obtained by performing a specified act, such as saying a rosary or attending a Mass.

In order to obtain an indulgence, it is necessary to perform the required act, and to meet the conditions associated with it. These conditions may include the requirement of a certain number of prayers, or the requirement of a certain amount of money to be donated to charity.

What to Do When Wife Resents Your 'Night Out With the Boys'

By Father John L. Thomas, S.J.

My wife raises a great fuss every time I want a night out with the boys. She says I am just out to get away from her. I am not doing that. I am just out to play cards in a smoky room and drink beer for fun, while she sits home with the kids. Women enjoy their parties, too, though they generally have them in the afternoon. However, there are times when they seem to be thinking of something and feeling in want of going out in style at all. If you can't afford to or simply don't want to, you may reverse your rating with the boys.

According to the comic strips, she is always the one who wants to stay in and to cover up. This is why I am making a point of leaving the room early and getting home before she gets into her night clothes. I have found that this is the most effective way to keep her from being upset.

I have found that the following tips can help:

1. Make sure your wife understands that you are not trying to get away from her, but rather that you are having a good time with your friends.
2. Make sure your wife knows that you are not trying to get away from her, but rather that you are having a good time with your friends.
3. Make sure your wife knows that you are not trying to get away from her, but rather that you are having a good time with your friends.
4. Make sure your wife knows that you are not trying to get away from her, but rather that you are having a good time with your friends.
5. Make sure your wife knows that you are not trying to get away from her, but rather that you are having a good time with your friends.

In conclusion, I have found that these tips can help to reverse your rating with the boys and keep your wife from being upset. If you follow them, you will be able to enjoy your night out with the boys without worrying about your wife's feelings.

Beaupre Shrine Is 300 Years Old

By Anne Mac Berkley

At St. Anne de Beaupre, Q.C., it is May 3, 1958, and the 300th anniversary of the shrine is being celebrated with a week-long program of events.

This year, the shrine is open to the public from May 3 to May 10, with special Masses and devotions scheduled throughout the week.

The shrine was founded in 1658 by the Jesuit Father Louis Hurald, who built a small chapel dedicated to St. Anne, the mother of the Virgin Mary. The chapel quickly became a place of pilgrimage, drawing thousands of people from all over the region.

In 1856, the shrine was elevated to the rank of basilica minor, and it has continued to grow in popularity ever since.

Today, the shrine is one of the most important Marian pilgrimage sites in Canada, attracting millions of visitors each year.

During the week-long celebration, visitors can participate in a variety of events, including Masses, concerts, workshops, and prayer sessions.

The highlight of the week will be the celebration of Mass on May 10, marking the 300th anniversary of the shrine's foundation.

The celebration will be attended by hundreds of people from all over the region, and will include special Masses, prayers, and offerings.

The shrine is open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. each day, and admission is free.

Sodalities were first organized in the 19th century and have continued to grow in popularity ever since.

The first sodalities were organized to support the poor and the sick, but over the years they have taken on a variety of functions, including prayer, education, and social work.

Sodalities are now found in most countries around the world, and they continue to play an important role in the life of the Catholic Church.

Flourishing

The Women's Auxiliary of St. Vincent's annual dinner will soon be held. This year's event will take place on October 15th at the Commodore Hotel in New York City. The Auxiliary is a group of dedicated women who support the hospital's mission of providing compassionate care to all.

At the event, several awards will be presented, including the prestigious "Volunteer of the Year" award. The recipient of this year's award will be Mrs. Jane Smith, a long-time member of the Auxiliary who has made significant contributions to the organization.

The Auxiliary's efforts are essential to the hospital's ability to provide high-quality care to all, regardless of their ability to pay. Contributions from events like this help support important programs such as patient care, research, and education.

The Auxiliary's annual dinner is a wonderful opportunity to honor these dedicated women and to support the hospital's mission. We encourage everyone to attend and support this important event.

JERSEY CITY — Just in time for the baseball season at St. Peter's College was the emergence of one long suffering team, the Peacocks, from the losing column at the hands of the Pirates today at St. Peter's College.

The Peacocks, however, have shown a marked improvement in their play in recent games, and against the Pirates they held their own for most of the game, before being outscored in the last innings.

Kennedy Declines St. Louis Offer

JERSEY CITY — An attractive offer from St. Louis University was declined by St. Peter's College's baseball team today.

The offer was made to the team in the course of a meeting between the school's athletic director and the team's manager. The offer was for a large sum of money, which the team refused, citing moral reasons.

The team was also offered the opportunity to play in the College World Series, but they declined, stating that they would rather compete in the college league.

The team's morale has improved greatly since the last time they played, and they are now confident of their ability to compete with the best teams in the country.

Says Carnegie Fund Fostered Disdain for Religious Schools

Hey. The wide-awake Tage-Paige newspaper, famous among students and teachers, has run an article recently which is open to criticism. The article claims that the Carnegie Foundation has fostered a disdain for religious schools and made it difficult for students to become involved in religious activities.

The article points out that the Carnegie Foundation has provided funding for secular education, which has led to a decrease in the funding for religious schools. This has made it difficult for students to become involved in religious activities, as they are often forced to choose between religious and secular education.

The article also points out that the Carnegie Foundation has provided funding for the construction of secular schools, which has led to a decrease in the number of religious schools. This has made it difficult for students to become involved in religious activities, as they are often forced to choose between religious and secular education.

The article concludes that the Carnegie Foundation has fostered a disdain for religious schools and made it difficult for students to become involved in religious activities. It calls for a reevaluation of the funding policies of the Carnegie Foundation and for a greater emphasis on funding religious schools.
