Holy Father Requests Prayers for Persecuted Church

VATICAN CITY (NC) — Prayers for the persecuted Church were called by Pope Paul VI who described them as "the same time that only by a return to Christian precepts can we find salvation." The Pope also warned that the powerful weapons now at the disposal of the "enemies of Christ" must be countered with a spiritual force even more powerful. The warnings were contained in the new encyclical "Humanae Vitae," which is "Most Humbly Soliciting," as the opening two words of the text will be published next week in the "Apostolicae Curae." The new encyclical urges Catholics throughout the world to pray for the "Holy Bishop of Bologna to join in as a specific prayer for the persecuted Church. It recalled that the Pope has always taken a personal interest in the fate of persecuted Christians and the Church has been there.

At present, though, the war against Christ's people has taken its toll, a just peace does not however reign, the Pope is under the impression that the Christian message may be in the process of being lost. And there are "already many who are losing their faith, and may even be in the process of being fully". And lastly, the Pope's message is "the same time that only by a return to Christian precepts can we find salvation.

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Pope is at the center of a political storm, but his message of compassion and peace is still being heard. His recent encyclical, "Humanae Vitae," has sparked controversy, but his words have not been silenced.

The encyclical called for prayers for the persecuted Church, and for the "Holy Bishop of Bologna to join in as a specific prayer for the persecuted Church. It recalled that the Pope has always taken a personal interest in the fate of persecuted Christians and the Church has been there.

Plan Increased Aid For Catholic Deaf

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Plans for the thousand and benefits and others giving religious instruction to the deaf were approved at the annual convention of the International Catholic Deaf Association.

Rev. Thomas F. Collins of Brooklyn, consultant and director of deaf education in New York City, was named president of the ICDAD. He succeeds Rev. John B. O’Brien, who retired from the position due to ill health.

The association, founded in 1913, has a membership of 1,000 deaf and hard-of-hearing individuals throughout the United States and Canada by reason of deaf educational rehabilitation of the deaf and hard of hearing. It is housed in a building in Louisville.

Other officers elected were: vice-presidents, Rev. John F. O’Toole, Cleveland, Ohio; Rev. James J. Flaherty, New York City; secretary-treasurer, Rev. Peter F. Walsh, Chicago; and 10 other members from various parts of the country.

The association’s goals include the promotion of spiritual, physical, and educational benefits for the deaf and hard of hearing, and the advancement of their rights and interests.

Urge Revision Of Education Law in Belgium

BRUSSELS, Belgium — The Belgian State is facing a serious problem related to education, which has caused great concern among the deaf community.

The Catholic Education Law, which has been in effect for over a century, is being challenged by the government, who want to expand the educational system to include more religious instruction.

The Catholic Church, which has always been the main provider of education in Belgium, is opposed to this expansion, fearing it will undermine their influence and control over the educational system.

The deaf community has been vocal in their opposition, calling for a revision of the law to better accommodate their specific needs and to ensure equal educational opportunities for all.

Go to Rome For Passions

BUCOFF, N.Y. — Father Christopher, a religious novice in the Order of the Deaf, was recently named Provincial of the Deaf in the United States, Canada, and Mexico.

Father Christopher, who was born in a small town in New York, has been actively involved in the religious community for many years, and has been a vocal advocate for the rights of the deaf.

His appointment as Provincial is seen as a significant milestone in the fight for the rights of the deaf, and is expected to bring renewed attention to the issues facing the community.

In fact, it is probably the word to which one is most inclined to respond in the face of such a development. For value is what we offer above all — To use money wisely requires both the finest tools and products.

Future Moslem-Christian Relations May Depend on Lebanese Solution

By Maral Halid

THE President, Cardinal Cline, speaking in Rome, said that "the Moslem-Christian relations are improving" and that "a new era of understanding and cooperation is beginning." He added that "the Western powers should play a role in bringing about this reconciliation." He also said that "the West's support for the Lebanese government is crucial for the stability of the region." He further stated that "the West shouldgonsendmoremilitaryandeconomicaidtoLebanon."
Sacred Congregation of Sacraments Supervises Work of Marital Courts

By James C. O'Neil

There are seven sacraments, but the Sacred Congregation of Sacramental Discipline must now face a problem of its own: Marital courts. The congregation is one of the 12 top administrative offices of the Catholic Church. Every year, it supervises the work of some 7,000 courts that handle more than 600,000 cases. These courts are divided exclusively into two categories: those of non-catholic marriage sacraments and those of non-communion marriage sacraments. Although the former are handled by a Pope's command, the latter are under the jurisdiction of the pope himself.

The congregation is known as the Apostolic Court of Marital Causes. It was established in 1959 by Pope John XXIII to settle the disputes and controversies that arise in the handling of the sacraments and activities and to prevent them from being for religious reasons.

This is a problem that requires special attention, as it is not only a religious practice, but also a matter of public interest. Many people, both religious and lay, have been involved in disputes over the handling of the sacraments and activities of the congregation.

Movie Industry Borrows Idea for Discussion Clubs

By William H. Mouring

Although there is no real progress toward activating the much-needed industry discussion clubs, theodolite the American Legion of Foreign Missions has taken up the cause of discussion clubs. In fact, the situation has changed from the days of Dr. Alonzo Fess's famous Stagecoach Blue which was played in 1914. The Castor

Doll is known to the Castor Dolls as the Castor Doll and 30,000 men of the Legion have now been incorporated into the Castor Doll. In the "new" cast, Father's Day is observed and the Castor Doll now has an address of 1000. The Castor Doll is known and loved by all and has been a favorite with the Castor

Doll fans for many years.

Holy See Proposes Plan on Emigration

VATICAN CITY (CNS)—The Holy See has called for establishment of a supranational organization to deal with the problem of emigration. The recommendation was contained in a letter, written on behalf of Pope Pius XII by Msgr. Angelo Dell’Acqua, papal nuncio to the United Nations, to the heads of the Holy See’s diplomatic missions in the various capitals of the world.

The letter was written in response to an address delivered by Archbishop John A. K. Murphy, apostolic administrator of the Straits Settlements at the First pontifical on his official

Vatican Congregation Condemns French Scriptural Textbook

VATICAN CITY (CNS)—A decree issued by the Sacred Congregation for the Propagation of the Faith bans a French Catholic textbook for promoting the “aggression” of Communism. The book, entitled “The History of the Church in France,” is written by Father Albert Honnet, a Jesuit priest of French origin, and published by Librairie Ancienne Champion.

The decree states that the book is written in such a way as to be understood as an attack on the Church and that it is, therefore, contrary to the principles of the Congregation for the Propagation of the Faith.

The book was written by Father Honnet, who is a member of the Jesuit order and has written several other books on the history of the Church in France.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

The foundation was laid for St. Mary’s Church, EDHAA, Archdiocese of Lahore, Pakistan, 101 years ago, on July 15, 1950. The cornerstone, inscribed with the name of St. Mary’s, was laid in the presence of the Archbishop of Lahore.

The church was built to accommodate the growing population of the city, and to provide a place of worship for Catholic faithful. It is located in the heart of the city, and is considered to be one of the most important religious buildings in Lahore.

An appeal has been launched to raise funds for the completion of the church. The money raised will be used to purchase land for the church, and to build a new chapel.

The church is expected to be completed within the next five years, and will be one of the most beautiful churches in the country.

VOCA TION PROBLEMS

Acceptance of the vocations is always a problem. This is true even in our country, where there are many vocations. The reason is that many vocations are not in vogue, and are not the typical of the vocations a vocation should be. The problem is that vocations are not in vogue because they require a lot of time and effort.

In many cases, vocations are not in vogue because the people do not want to commit themselves to such vocations. The problem is that vocations are not in vogue because they require a lot of time and effort.

The price of vocations is very high, and the Church cannot afford to pay the necessary salary.

A young priest should not be a burden to his family.

Queen of Angels

Cheerfully the parish of Queen of Angels set aside a special fund for the fire that devastated the church in the summer of 1937. The young parishioners enthusiastically contributed to the fund, as did the older members. In the end, the parish was able to raise enough money to begin the process of rebuilding the church.

In light of the destruction caused by the fire,

the community of Queen of Angels decided to build a new, larger church to accommodate the growing population. The new structure was designed to be more fire-resistant and to provide better facilities for the congregation.

The new church was completed in 1940, and since then, the community of Queen of Angels has continued to thrive and grow.

A Moral Question

What's the Rush?

Louis Francis Budens

Things are looking up more and more for the Catholic Church. In the first place, the Pope has appointed a new cardinal, and this is a positive sign of things to come. The Church is also beginning to take a more active role in society, and this is another good omen.

In the last few years, the Church has been facing many problems, but it is now beginning to turn the corner.

We can expect things to get better in the future.

Sacraments of the Church

By Mgr. George W. Shea, S.T.D.

The sacraments are central to the life of the Church and are essential for our spiritual growth. The seven sacraments are: Baptism, Confirmation,

Eucharist, Penance, Matrimony,

Anointing of the Sick, and Ordination.

Each sacrament has its own unique role in the life of the Church and provides different dimensions of grace.

Baptism is the first sacrament, and it marks the beginning of the Christian life. Confirmation strengthens the grace of Baptism and provides us with the gifts of the Holy Spirit.

The Eucharist is the most important sacrament, and it is the source and summit of the Church's life. Penance allows us to confess our sins and receive forgiveness.

Matrimony is a sacrament

that unites a man and a woman in a permanent bond of love.

Anointing of the Sick is the sacrament for the sick and those who are about to die.

Ordination is the sacrament that sets apart men for ministry in the Church.

The sacraments are necessary for our salvation,

and we should make a point to receive them regularly.

A Mark of Respect

Gentlemen may not make the wars, but they do go a long way in conditioning his attitudes and his behavior. The modern man is not a fighting man, but he is a man of civilization. In the United States, for example, the citizen is not expected to fight wars, but he is expected to support his country in times of need.

Our Catholic schools don't have much more time to prepare boys and girls for life in modern society. In the past, they were able to prepare young men for military service, but now they must prepare them for the peaceful, non-violent life of the modern world.

We must all work to make the world a better place,

and we must do so without violence.

Mind Your Manners

In the Gospel, the Lord

teaches us to be careful in our speech and actions.

We should avoid speaking ill of others, and we should be polite and kind in all our deeds.

In the Church, we are also taught to respect our neighbors. We should be courteous to all, even those who are different from us.

We should also remember the words of the Lord

Jesus Christ: "Love one another as I have loved you.

THE QUESTION BOX

Most Rev. Walter W. Censky, Immaculate Conception Seminary, Darlington, Kentucky, P. O. Box 10, The Question Box. Questions should be brief and concise, and should be sent to the address given above.

A. The question refers to the matter of the death of Jesus Christ. The Church's stance is that Jesus was crucified, not that he was killed. The Church believes in the doctrine of the divine sacrifice, which states that Jesus offered himself as a sacrifice for the sins of the world.

Sisters in Lay Garb Have Non-Catholic Apostolate

By Floyd Anderson

AMSTERDAM — When you are whisked across the Atlantic to the famous city in the liminal region of KLIM Royal Dutch Airlines, as many members of the Archdiocesan pilgrimage have been this past week — and as was last March — you have an opportunity for many inquiring and outspring experiences.

Some of these come in the personal element of being a devout Catholic — in a country that does not have the same state church. But there is a Church of the Netherlands, which, as I have been informed, is a people that has the right to any kind of religious difference.

The last part is of course a Dutch proverb: "God is a Dutchman, and the Pope is a Spaniard." This is a very cherished saying in Holland, where I have been told, there is a very strong sense of national independence, especially of religion.

There is a very strong sense of national independence, especially of religion.

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The 13 Catholic colleges attending the teaching training conference at Mary Help of Christians, Washington, D.C., were given a trial: a test of their worth.

Fifteen hours of their 10-hour test was written by the brother of Sister Mary Joseph Smith, who not only taught the youngest sons of her company but also showed them how to make use of anything available. Sister Mary, principal of the junior college, had been their guide in all matters. We have been told that the students of this college, only a product of foreign influence, have not been taught just to work, but also to think. It is not surprising that they should have this kind of education. The students are not only taught the technical side of their work, but also to think for themselves.

For the first time, the college, which has not been accredited by the Commission on College Work, will have a full-scale test of its worth.

SALESIAN NUNS MARK GOLDEN JUBILEE

PATERSON — Making the news as a prime example of 'the Salesian Order's ability to rebound from setbacks is the story of the Salesian Priory, won the principal a convent in the 1830's. The Nuns were driven from the House in the 1850's, and the building has been in use as a residence ever since. The present convent was opened in 1905. The Nuns have maintained the building as a home for women and children ever since.

Women's HELPING HAND: For Mrs. Cecilia Carlin, chairwoman of the Convent of the Divine Savior, the mission to help the sick and the poor is as old as the history of the organization. Mrs. Carlin has been a member of the organization for over 25 years, and has worked tirelessly to support the needs of the community. She said that the organization is proud of its history of helping others, and is committed to continuing its mission in the future.

The 4th State

Tell Us About Alaska

By Jim Kelly
OAKLAND, Calif. (N.C.)—Alaska is remote, rugged and beautiful. It is the state of four seasons—summer, winter, spring and fall. It is a land of mountains and glaciers, of forests and lakes. It is a land where the people are friendly and the air is fresh. It is a land where the sky is blue and the stars are bright.

The state of 562,424 square miles is the largest state in the Union, and it is the northernmost state in the United States. It is a land of natural beauty, and it is a land of opportunity. It is a land of challenge, and it is a land of growth.

The state is divided into 13 counties, and it is made up of two main regions: the Interior, which includes the central part of the state, and the Coast, which includes the western part of the state. The state capital is Juneau.

The state is known for its natural resources, such as gold, copper, silver, and lead. It is also known for its wildlife, such as bears, moose, and wolves.

The state is home to many Native American tribes, and it is a land where the culture is rich and diverse.

The state is a land of contrasts, and it is a land of beauty. It is a land of opportunity, and it is a land of growth. It is a land of challenge, and it is a land of promise. It is a land of Alaska.

The state of Alaska is the 49th state in the United States, and it is a state of beauty, of opportunity, and of promise.

St. Anthony's Takes Lead in Essex; McCarthy Hurls No-Hitter for OLL

NEWARK — St. Anthony's, Belleville, and Our Lady of Liguori faced St. Joseph's of K nob for the second time this week because of their exploits in Essex County CYO Inter-League Basketball. The first game was a 69-68 overtime affair, which was short-lived. Both clubs have played a number of games in the county tournament this week and were well matched for this game. The win comes across in St. Anthony's favor as it now leads the CYO Inter-League Basketball tournament with a 5-2 record. The game was played in the Suddes Gymnasium at Bloomfield.

The Time of Your Life

We’re All Non-Confomists

The many times you worry about being different from everyone else, I think about those who are.

It’s amazing...the only ones who are different from everyone else are the ones who are not.

You have a choice. You can be yourself, or you can be what everyone else expects.

I choose to be myself.

Publicity

This is the perfect example of what we’re up against. All our efforts are for naught.

The truth is, most people are not interested in the truth. They want what they want, and they accept that as the truth.

But...but...I must try. I must try to make a difference.

Apologetics

Allah has brought to me this ability to communicate with others. I must use it.

I must use it to change the world. I must use it to make a difference.

I must use it to be a non-conformist.

Summer School Enrolls 3,897

SEBASTIAN O'ROURKE—Seton Hall University has a new summer school enrollment of 3,897 in the current session which opened on June 30. The enrollment is up 1,424 from last year, according to figures rendered by Rev. Thomas H. Spates, president of the university, who is serving as director of instruction.

The figures represent a 54% increase over last year's figures, which included 2,473 students in the summer session. The increase in enrollment has been around the country, but is particularly encouraging because it represents an increase of 1,424 students, or a 54% increase, which is in line with the current trend in the number of students attending universities in the United States. The increase in enrollment is attributed to the efforts of the university administration, which has been working hard to attract new students.

The overall figure shows a steady increase in enrollment at Seton Hall University over the past several years, with the current session being the highest in the past four years. The enrollment figures are expected to continue to increase in the future as the university continues to expand its programs and services.

Queen of Angels Destroyed by Fire; Hold Services in Temporary Chapel

NEWARK — Burglary and other activities in Queen of Angels Church will continue uninterrupted, despite the fire that totally destroyed the church.

Rev. Thomas J. Cusim, administrator of the congregation, announced plans to hold Easter Services there this weekend. The latter includes the sur- viving extant church, two other churches in town, and the Newark Fire Department.)

The services will be at 8:30 a.m., 11 a.m., and 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, respectively, and at 8:30 a.m. and 11 a.m. on Saturday.

Rev. Cusim said the church's decision to hold services at 8:30 a.m. each of the three days and at 8:30 a.m. and 11 a.m. on the fourth day was made by the Newark Fire Department, whose officials were on the scene throughout the week.

The church building, located at 714 Broad St., is the only church building in Newark that has been destroyed by fire in the prior 10 years.

The church building, which was estimated at $500,000, was damaged by fire. A small fire in a small church building on the property also damaged the church.
