Jesuit Theologian Says U.S. Should Take Greater Risks

NEW YORK (NC) — A prominent Catholic theologian has called for a more aggressive foreign policy and a greater willingness to take risks, particularly in Europe, to counter the growing influence of the Soviet Union.

Father Murray, a professor of theology at Fordham University, said the U.S. must be willing to take greater risks in order to maintain its position as a world power.

He said the U.S. should be more aggressive in its foreign policy, particularly in Europe, in order to stem the influence of the Soviet Union.

"The U.S. must be willing to take greater risks in order to maintain its position as a world power," Father Murray said.

In addition to calling for a more aggressive foreign policy, Father Murray also called for a greater willingness to take risks in order to achieve desirable ends.

"We must be willing to take greater risks in order to achieve desirable ends," he said.

Father Murray's comments were made in a speech to the American Catholic Foreign Policy Conference, which was held in New York City.

The conference brought together religious leaders and political figures from around the world to discuss the future of the U.S. in a world that is becoming increasingly complex and uncertain.

"We must be willing to take greater risks in order to achieve desirable ends," Father Murray said. "We must be willing to take greater risks in order to achieve desirable ends."

Text of Encyclical Asking Prayers for Persecuted Church

It was with heartfelt sympathy that we read the recent demands that the First World Powers have made upon Christian peoples and the Church, ignored by the Six Powers. We, as your predecessors have done in past centuries, now our Grandfathers, saw our contemporaries turned to the Virgin Mary, most kind Mother, and the Holy Family, and through them to the Most Holy Trinity. We ask their help and intercession for all of us.

But while the whole Church was angry against the Six Nations of Powers, a noble peace was not yet attainable, and a noble peace does not mean yet that we have not been turned to good purpose. It is the energetic and patient hope of all nations.

Just Society Based on Christianity

EVERY domineering and not solid and sure foundation of society is destroyed. The noble peace is only as firm as the foundation of society, and it is not the foundation of society, but the noble peace that is the foundation of society, that is inspired by fraternal charity.

The noble peace teaches this full truth, that perfect justice and this divine charity which eliminate hatred, are the foundation of the noble peace, and not the foundation of society, that is inspired by fraternal charity.

Church Oppressed in Many Lands

On the other hand, we who have, with our exclusive praise to Our Father and our beloved Mother and all the Church of all nations, are many countries oppressed by anxious nations.

St. Joseph Villa

In our Church, that is a part of our Church, in the Holy Land, there is a beautiful Church of Our Lady of Fatima, where every year many pilgrims come to invoke the grace of Our Lady of Fatima, and where the same Church of Our Lady of Fatima is celebrated.

Family Life Experts Suggest Better Marriage Preparation

BUFFALO — Adequate preparation and realistic re-evaluation of expectations for marriage were among points suggested here at the Family Life seminar. The suggestions were made by speakers addressing some 1,000 delegates attending the 26th annual convention of the National Catholic Conferences for Family Life.

For as long as divorce has been a recognition of the divorce rate between 1800 and 1850, the consequence of the number of the number of people in the marriage. As of this year, the ratio of divorces to marriages, he said, was 1 in every 100,000, a significant decline over the years. The stress of those years, he explained, was the result of the fact that the trend of family relations by approximately 50% from pre-Christmas to Christmas. A significant trend in recent years.

Review of stated have been divorced to the premise that marriage is selective, with the number of marriages per year having declined, 30% of all marriages in which Catholics are involved are blended marriages.

Christ or Crisis?

July 28, 1938

Last week two events in different parts of the world drew into high relief the problem of the future of Christendom. On Monday, July 16, Pope Pius XI issued an encyclical letter to the Catholic world. In particular, he referred to the subject of the Church in the midst of war. "The war that offers the most difficult question is the question of the Christian spirit in the midst of war," said the Pope. "The Church must therefore be on the watch, for this is the time when the Christian spirit will face the greatest test."

On that same day as war raged in Iran, together with the Greek Protestants and the Prime Minister of Iraq, the British Ambassador to Iran, Sir Godfrey, made an appeal to Iran to avoid intervention in the war. The appeal was rejected by the Iranian government, but it was supported by the Pope. This episode is significant because it shows the importance of the Catholic Church in the world today, and an urgent appeal used in the United States.

"A Streak of Larceny in Us?"

Everybody has seen those pathetic or cotemporary articles in the newspapers. They are usually about big business, or about the government, or about the rich, or in some other comical place in the right hand corner of the newspapers. And yet, as a rule, they are not very interesting to the man on the street. They are false advertisements of our way of life.

It is true that there are many things that are wrong with our way of life, but there are also many things that are right. Our system of government is certainly not perfect, but it is better than any other system in the world. Our economic system is not perfect, but it is better than any other economic system in the world.

"War on 'Revisionism'"

By Louis Francis Budes

By the standards of the international community, the United States is a peaceful nation. It has never participated in a war since its founding. It has always sought peaceful solutions to international disputes. But in recent years, the United States has become more involved in international affairs. It has sent troops to Iraq and Afghanistan, and it has provided economic aid to other countries.

Christian Sacraments

By Msgr. George W. Shea, S.T.D.

In the broad sense of the word, the word "sacrament" is derived from the Latin word for "secret." In English, it means a "secret" or "private" thing. The word "sacrament" has been used in a variety of ways, but it generally refers to a special act or ceremony that is performed in the church to signify something important.

Most of these journals think that this is a good idea, but it is not so. As a matter of fact, it is just one more attempt to smuggle in the "revisionist" idea of making the church irrelevant or powerless.

The only way to keep this problem from getting out of hand is to put a stop to it now. The only way to do this is to put a limit on the number of journals that can be published. If we do not do this, we will have more and more journals publishing this same idea, and we will have more and more people being influenced by it.

When it comes to the high school loop's bats, the Hudson Catholic League is in good shape. The six high schools entered are Wardlaw-Hammond, East Orange, Roselle, Roselle Park, Essex and Fair Lawn.

The Knights will be featured in Hauplus on July 3 at 7:30 p.m., as they seek to maintain their seventh straight victory. The Knights will be facing the high school loop's top team, the Upper Montclair Catholic club. This team has played some fine ball this season, but the Knights will be too strong for them.

THE ADDITION of the Knights program this season has been a real plus. The team has added two new pitchers, Mike Smith and Frank Rinaldi, who have helped the team maintain its winning position. The Knights have been a real plus for the league, and they will be missed when they move on to the high school loop.

The Knights' first victory of the season came July 17 against the Union Catholic team. It was a close game, but the Knights came out on top with a 9-1 win. The Knights' second victory of the season came July 18 against the same team. It was another close game, but the Knights came out on top with a 2-1 win. Jersey City and Seton Hall Ratify Medical Dental School Agreement

Jersey City—The projected affiliation negotiations between the Seton Hall College of Medicine and Dentistry and the Jersey City Medical Center Faculty finally reached the formation of a satisfactory part of the agreement last week between the Board of Trustees of the School and the Jersey City Civic Improvement Association.

Completion of the agreement will be of utmost importance to the city, as the hospital will open its doors to the community within the next few years. The significance of this agreement is that it will allow the city to have an effective and comprehensive medical care facility. In addition, the hospital will provide educational opportunities for students in the field of medicine and dentistry.

The agreement will be of mutual benefit to both parties, as it will allow the city to have access to high-quality medical care while providing educational opportunities for students. The hospital will also be able to attract additional students and faculty members to the area, which will further enhance the city's reputation as a center for medical education.

The agreement is a significant step forward in the development of the hospital, and it is expected to open the doors to a new era of medical care and education for the residents of Jersey City and the surrounding area.

Nominated Named Provincial of S. M. A. Fathers

Father O'Donnogue, previously procurator, was elected to the top post July 14 at the provincial chapter held in Dedham.

Another Suit Filed Against Medical School

JERSEY CITY — The Jersey City Medical College, under the auspices of Bishop John Hennessey of the Diocese of Newark, today announced the filing of a suit to recover civil damages for certain alleged wrongs done by the medical college.

The suit was filed against the medical college by the United States Bureau of Education, which is a government agency charged with enforcing laws relating to the education of disabled persons.

The bureau alleged that the medical college had violated federal laws by failing to provide adequate accommodations for disabled students. The bureau sought damages for the violation.

The medical college has stated that it is committed to providing equal educational opportunities for all students, including those with disabilities. The college has also stated that it will continue to work with federal authorities to ensure compliance with all applicable laws.

The case is expected to proceed to trial in the near future.
