NEW YORK — Eugene V. DeFilippis, M. M., a former Jesuit missionary whose story of the Spanish Civil War was published in the Advocate, has been named Bishop of Porto Alegre, Brazil.

Mr. DeFilippis, who is currently serving as secretary of the Pontifical Mission for Extra-European Missions, will succeed Bishop Giovanni Maria A. Canzio, who has been serving the diocese for 27 years.

Bishop DeFilippis was born in Brooklyn in 1920 and was ordained a priest in 1946. He served as a missionary in Spain during the civil war and later worked in Peru and Brazil before returning to the United States in 1960.

The new Bishop will take possession of his see on November 1.

ARCHBISHOP PETER ITALIAN

In Hometown, in Honor of Pope

ROME — The Pope's recent visit to Italy has sparked a wave of enthusiasm among the faithful of his native land. In the small town of Castelnuovo di Porto A., where the Pope was born and grew up, a special mass was celebrated in honor of the Holy Father.

The mass was attended by thousands of pilgrims who had traveled from all over Italy to pay their respects to the Pontiff. The town itself was decorated with flags and banners, and a special choir sang spiritual songs before the Mass.

The Pope's visit to Castelnuovo di Porto has been described as a sign of the growing popularity of the Pope both within Italy and around the world. The Pope himself has expressed gratitude for the warm welcome he received during his recent trip to the United States.

The Pope will return to Castelnuovo di Porto next month to celebrate the 80th anniversary of his birth.
ABRAM, Jordan (NC) — Jordan, where British paratroopers have arrived to help keep the Middle East from another fratricidal war due to hot inflationary crises under control, is in the Holy Land where Christ was born, was crucified and rose from the dead. Somewhere larger than Malta, Jordan is a modern country with a small Jordanian community about 17,000 square miles in size. The people of Jordan are divided into three major religious groups: Muslims, Christians, and Jews. The Muslims are the majority, comprising about 95% of the population. The Christians, who include the Greeks, the Armenians, and the Maronites, make up about 5%. The Jews, a minority, number about 100,000. Most of the Christians are dispersed throughout the country, with a concentration in the Jordan Valley region. The Jews are primarily concentrated in the Haifa area. Jordan has a rich history, dating back thousands of years. The land has been home to various civilizations, including the Canaanites, the Israelites, the Phoenicians, the Egyptians, the Persians, the Greeks, the Romans, and the Byzantines. The area has been conquered by armies from various nations, including the Romans, the Byzantines, the Turks, and the British. The Jordanian people are known for their hospitality and their strong sense of loyalty to their country and their religion.
Text of Encyclical Asking Prayers for Persecuted Church

In a world where the faith of Christians is being assailed by atheist and communist dictators, the Church of Christ needs encouragement and help. Pope Pius XII has therefore felt it his duty to call upon the faithful to make a special effort to pray for the unity of all believers and for the persecuted Church.

Prayer Requests for Persecuted

We should pray for all those who give witness to Christ's love and ministry not only by the consecration of their lives but also by the sacrifice of their lives. We should pray that their witness may be a stimulus to others to stand up for their faith and for the truth.

Family Life Experts Suggest Better Marriage Preparation

BUFFALO — Adequate preparation and stricter re-quirements for marriage were among proposals suggested here by bishops of the episcopal conference of the United States.

The suggestions were made by Bishop Robert F. McAuliffe of Buffalo, chairman of the committee on marriage and family life, and Bishop Richard J. J_logo of the diocese of Rochester, who are members of the committee.

As for divorce, he said that although there has been a de-crease in the divorce rate between 1910 and 1930, the percentage of divorces to the number of marriages is still very high.

BISHOP McAULIFFE said that he and Bishop J_logo are in agreement with the Vatican's conclusions on this matter.

He also said that the changes in the law of marriage in the United States are needed to help prevent the increase in marriage separations.

The suggestions were made by Bishop Robert F. McAuliffe of Buffalo, chairman of the committee on marriage and family life, and Bishop Richard J. J_logo of the diocese of Rochester, who are members of the committee.

THE ADOVOCATE

Christ or Crisis?

Last week two news in different parts of the state were in high relief the problems of the Church in our community. On Monday, July 17, Pope John Paul II arrived in the Philippines for a visit to the Church.工程机械然晚餐 he is the first Pope to visit the Philippines and the third visit to the country. The visit was a significant event for the Church in the Philippines, as it was a chance for the Pope to meet with the people and to address the challenges facing the Church.

On Tuesday, July 18, the Archdiocese of Newark announced that it would no longer recognize the legitimacy of the Episcopal Church. The Archdiocese had previously recognized the Episcopal Church as a valid religious body, but the announcement indicated a significant break in relation.

These two news reflect the larger issue of the Church's relationship with the wider society. The Church needs to find a balance between its traditional values and the changing realities of the world.

Which the Captive?

A streak of larceny in us?

Everybody has seen those pictures or reality television shows where we see people being scammed or ripped off by others. They are mostly about the bad things in life, but in every other conceivable place in the world, there are also good things happening. And yet, it seems like we are always so afraid of being swindled.

On some days, I think there is much more that the Church is doing than the public realizes. But then I think about the times when I hear about the Church being involved in scandals, and I wonder if the good things are really so good.

The Faith in Focus

Christian Sacraments

By Msgr. George F. Shaw, S.T.D.

In the brevity since of almost any of the sacramentals, one of the great challenges of any Catholic is to understand the significance of each of them. In this article, Msgr. George F. Shaw, S.T.D. will discuss the sacraments in a way that is relevant to all.

Now we have similar plans to call the papacy and put it to work. What is it? We have got as great newspaper editors building a coop. Some of those journals think that the papacy is in a mess, and they should be stopped. Without the papacy, the Catholic Church will be dissolved.

Most of these journals think that the American's only concern is the pope, and they should be stopped. Without the papacy, the Catholic Church will be dissolved.

There shall not be one of a Ten Club.

It applies as an arch-rejector as well as a papal Reform.

Incompatibility is the enemy of marital happiness, and I shall not what do I tell her about it, and what do I think about it, and what do

Some days when I'm sick she is neat with me, but I don't want to know her again. I don't know what I want to know. These are only a few examples. Do you think they're as bad as they are?

When they began to sing, the audience responded, singing "Hallelujah... Heaven #96, Hallelujah... Heaven #96." The music was supplied by the orchestra of the New York World Temple. The members of the congregation, including the minister and his wife, sang as they entered the room. The service lasted about two hours, with singing, Bible reading, and prayer.

The meeting closed with the distribution of literature and the distribution of food to the poor. The congregation then adjourned to the conclusion of the evening's activities.

The spirit of the papal encyclical, "Humani Generis," which is a document that sets forth the papal policies on a variety of topics, including the role of the church in society, the importance of education, and the relationship between the church and the state.

The papal encyclical was issued on April 29, 1965, and was addressed to all the bishops of the world. It was the first papal encyclical to be issued in the modern period, and it marked a new level of openness and accessibility for the papal message.

He urged the faithful to continue to follow the teachings of the church, and he called for a new level of cooperation among nations in order to achieve the goals of peace and justice.

The pope's words were met with a standing ovation from the audience, who were deeply moved by his message.

Each Advocate Can Be the Best Friend in the World

Jeanne Dyer

WHAT world situation of the 1960's do you consider the most important? This is a question on which the votes will be quite divided. There are those who think the Vietnam War is the most important problem of the day. There are others who think that the economic situation of the United States or the ills of the world are the most important. There are those who think that one of the most important problems is the moral collapse of society, or the materialism of our times. No matter what people think, however, there is one thing that everyone agrees on, and that is the importance of a good friend.

In this age of communications, there is a tendency to ignore the importance of true friendship. Many people believe that a good friend is someone who can do what you want and make you happy. But true friendship is far more complex and important than that.

One good friend can make a man whole. He can help you through the darkest of times, give you the strength to face the world, and most importantly, make you feel happy.

The Advocate is the best friend you can have. It gives you the news you need to make informed decisions, tells you about the events happening in the world, and most importantly, it brings you the stories and events that make life interesting.

That's why we encourage you to subscribe to The Advocate today. It's the best friend you can have.

Franciscans Trade Card For Geiger Counters

WONGA, MAN. (ANSA) — The Franciscan order in Zambia has launched a new project to provide Geiger counters to the local population to combat the spread of nuclear contamination.

The order, which has been active in the region for over 160 years, has already provided Geiger counters to more than 20 countries in Africa. The new initiative is part of their ongoing efforts to combat the threat of nuclear contamination.

The project is being funded by the Franciscan Order in Zambia, with support from the United Nations Atomic Energy Agency (UNAEA).

The Franciscans have also partnered with local schools and community centers to educate the public on the dangers of nuclear contamination and the importance of using Geiger counters.

Commenting on the project, Father John, a Franciscan missionary in Zambia, said: "We are committed to providing Geiger counters to the local population to help protect them from nuclear contamination. This is a small step towards a safer future for our community."

The Geiger counters provided to the local population will be used to monitor the levels of radiation in the environment and to alert people to any potential dangers.

The Franciscans have also launched an educational campaign to teach the public how to use the Geiger counters safely and effectively.

The order has been active in Zambia for over 160 years and has a strong presence in the country's education and healthcare sectors.

Nepotism Pays Off for St. Joseph’s in Mack League

NEWARK — Bell of the decade here new leaders this week, the early pace in the intermediate and junior loops having gone down in their initial defeats. In both instances, the teams which sprang the unexplained results to the intermediate division, St. Joseph’s, Morris, and Morris, were scored out by Leo’s, St. Anthony, and St. Leo, respectively.

The Irish and the Poles up to date have an aggregate of three out of four in the entire division, the only loss being sustained by Leo’s to the Irish, 1-0. Leo’s, with the one point it gained, is not out of a place in the junior division, but its bad showing on this occasion might not be so important as another that occurred on the same day.

Peter’s, Our Lady, and Sacred Heart made up the home season of the Irish, each defeated by 1-0. The Sacred Heart and Our Lady teams were the only ones with points in the junior division, the other three finishing out of range.

Reid’s, the OLSH team, finished the nine-game season with a much anticipated home victory over the visiting Sacred Heart school, 6-0, equaling the school record of four years ago of six straight home victories.

The Sacred Heart, however, is not without its difficulties in the present season, the only points it gained this year coming from two games with New Jersey teams. It is evident that their devoted fans and a few loyalists to their cause have come to the rescue of another team, Montreal’s Catholic high schools.

Peter’s, Our Lady, and Sacred Heart made up the home season of the Irish, each defeated by 1-0. The Sacred Heart and Our Lady teams were the only ones with points in the junior division, the other three finishing out of range.

Reid’s, the OLSH team, finished the nine-game season with a much anticipated home victory over the visiting Sacred Heart school, 6-0, equaling the school record of four years ago of six straight home victories.

The Sacred Heart, however, is not without its difficulties in the present season, the only points it gained this year coming from two games with New Jersey teams. It is evident that their devoted fans and a few loyalists to their cause have come to the rescue of another team, Montreal’s Catholic high schools.

In the junior division, St. Joseph’s, Morris, and Morris, were scored out by Leo’s, St. Anthony, and St. Leo, respectively. The Irish and the Poles up to date have an aggregate of three out of four in the entire division, the only loss being sustained by Leo’s to the Irish, 1-0. Leo’s, with the one point it gained, is not out of a place in the junior division, but its bad showing on this occasion might not be so important as another that occurred on the same day.

Passaic CYO

Alfieri, LoRe Hurl St. Nicholas to Lead

PASSaic — As the Passaic CYO Junior Baseball League nears the end of its first season, it is apparent that the present race is going to settle down to a battle of strength. No one, however, is ready to call St. Nicholas. The team, which has been the present standout all season, is still being challenged by the boys of Maple Shade, whose efforts were recognized by the league recently when they placed in the game played against Vineland.

St. Nicholas confirmed its grip on the top spot July 18 when they defeated the boys of Maple Shade. The game was played July 18, and was decided by a score of 6-4.

The game was played on the Passaic CYO Athletic Field, and was attended by a large audience. The game was a well-played one, and both teams showed good sportsmanship. The St. Nicholas team, however, was the better team, and they were able to keep the Maple Shade team at bay throughout the game.
