Msgr. John Lenihan, Pastor at Summit, Dies of Heart Attack

SUMMIT—"He was all priest. All he ever thought about was the spiritual welfare of his parishioners," said Father James Lenihan, pastor of the Church of the Assumption, to sum up the life of his pastor, Msgr. John Lenihan, 68, who died of a heart attack on Sept. 10.

Msgr. Lenihan suffered a heart attack in his home between two Masses on Sept. 22. He died in the hospital Sept. 23. A priest who was a close friend said it was a shock to everyone, remembering his friend who was a native of the town.

He was born in Summit the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lenihan. He was ordained in the Diocese of Paterson and served as pastor of the church for many years. He was a member of the diocese and served as its chaplain for 20 years. He was a member of the National Council of Catholic Men.

Schools Must Adapt to Modern Needs, Says Pope

CASTELGANDOLFO—Pope John Paul II said the modern world, which is so often adverse to the needs of children, is in need of moral, prayerful, and religious education.

"The increase in the number of children who are not prepared for religious life and for moral and spiritual development is a cause of serious concern," the Pope said.

A Note on the News

Planned Parenthood
And the A. M. A.

Newsweek this week reported a letter from the 75-member medical advisory committee of Planned Parenthood of the Southeast to its members. The committee, which represents 13,470 doctors and other health professionals, requested that A. M. A. headquarters stop all efforts to discredit Planned Parenthood. The committee, in a letter to A. M. A. president Gilbert Ryan, stated: "We urge the A. M. A. to adopt a policy of neutrality." The letter was signed by Leonidas G. Davis, president of the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists.

S. African Premier
No Mission Friend

Cape Town, South Africa (UPI)—The archbishop of Cape Town, Cyril V. T. M. Hammond, said of the new Premier of South Africa, Dr. John Vorster, that he was not a "mission friend." The new Premier is one of the country's most vocal and outspoken leaders against the apartheid system. He was consecrated in 1951 and is a member of the Johannesburg Synod of the Presbyterian Church.

PERFECTION is an important word

To meet our standard of perfection, a diamond must be:
- perfect...in clarity, cut and color.
- it has been our policy since our founding to only sell perfect diamons.

Our half-century mark, we are still proud to have founded the practice of combining perfection with value.

We invite you to inspect these gems in a superb collection of diamonds.

Diamonds and Fine Jewelry — Watches and Clocks
Sterlingware, China and Crystal — Gold and Silver
Luggage and Leather Goods — Hand Bags
Bridesmaids and Bachelorette Attire

The building will continue its special treatment of all who choose to visit. For further information, please call 212-555-5555.
III. Live Contemplative Life

The Actuation of the Contemplative Life in Relation to the Knowledge and Love of Contemplation

1. In dealing with the knowledge and love of the contemplative life, we must consider it as comprising a whole series of practical applications of the principles which we quoted above. The devotion which we have called contemplative love is, as we have stated, not only to be practiced in the sanctuary and assisted by spiritual exercises, but also to be practiced outside of the sanctuary, and in every act of the faithful life. The contemplative life necessarily involves the contemplation of God and in the same way involves the knowledge of God. It is a love of God which must be, on the one hand, pure, and, on the other, must participate in our devotion.

As we observed in the first part, the contemplative life is a penetrated life, a life lived with God, and one which is deepened by the daily practice of its obligations. The contemplative life is the life of a heart within a heart, of a soul within a soul, of a love that is always present, a love that is always active. It is this love which is the foundation on which the contemplative life is built, and in its absence, all else is in vain.

The contemplative life is the life of a heart, a heart that is always present, a heart that is always active. It is this love which is the foundation on which the contemplative life is built, and in its absence, all else is in vain.

Conclusion

We conclude that the contemplative life is the life of a heart within a heart, of a soul within a soul, of a love that is always present, a love that is always active. It is this love which is the foundation on which the contemplative life is built, and in its absence, all else is in vain.

The contemplative life is the life of a heart, a heart that is always present, a heart that is always active. It is this love which is the foundation on which the contemplative life is built, and in its absence, all else is in vain.

MEANWHILE IN ANOTHER PART OF THE FOREST

On the Saturday before Lent, the young priest from rural Wisconsin returned home for a brief visit with his family. He had been away for several months, and they were excited to see him and hear about his transformation. The priest was wearing a red and gold Cassock, which signified his newly earned Monastic习惯, and his white Cassock, which indicated his status as a Subdeacon. His family was thrilled to see him looking so handsome and well-mannered, a far cry from the awkward teenager they had once known.

Holy Angels Parish, Singac, To Celebrate 75th Year

LITTLE FALLS — Formal celebration of the 75th anniversary of Holy Angels Parish will be observed Sept. 28, 1969.

This date marks the time when Bishop McManus consecrated the first Holy Angels church. In a gesture of kindness, Bishop McManus conducted a ceremony to consecrate the church the night before the parish's dedication. All the clergy present at Holy Angels later agreed that it was a fitting way to begin a new parish.

Holy Angels' dedication ceremony was attended by more than 2,000 people, who came from the area. The church was built by the parishioners themselves.

A weekend of special events is planned to commemorate this significant event. The weekend will include a Mass celebrated by Bishop McManus, a children's picnic, and a parish-wide open house.

Father Gallagher

The pastor of Holy Angels Parish is Father Gallagher, O.F.M., who has been in charge of the parish for the past 10 years. He is well-known for his dedication to the parish and its people.

The weekend events will provide an opportunity for the community to come together and celebrate this important milestone in Holy Angels' history.

Mission Priests Labor
That All May Be One

More than 400,000 people across the country, many of whom have never heard of Jesuit Priests and their work, will celebrate this weekend the 25th anniversary of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith, an organization that aids missionary work around the world.

The society was founded in 1821 by the Jesuits, who had been expelled from France by the revolution of 1815. Since then, it has supported hundreds of missionary projects in more than 100 countries, including the construction of schools and hospitals, the establishment of social programs, and the training of local priests.

Among the projects supported by the society are those in India, Africa, and Latin America. In India, for example, the society has supported the education of more than 50,000 children, and in Africa, it has helped to build schools and clinics for children and adults.

The society also provides financial support to local priests and religious orders, and it has helped to train thousands of religious workers.

The society is composed of 35,000 members, of whom 25,000 are in the United States. The society's headquarters is in Rome, Italy, and it has an office in Washington, D.C.

The society's annual donations to missionary work are estimated to be around $10 million.
New Schools Easing Crowding

By Emma Mac Buckley

PARIS — Construction of new schools andширь new preschools is proceeding quickly in New Jersey, particularly in the northeastern corner of the state, along the Mid-Atlantic coast and in the northern part of the state. New buildings and facilities are being constructed, and in some cases, expansions of existing schools are being planned.

The Newark Architectural Council, a group of architects and designers, is overseeing the design and construction of these new schools. Their work is focused on creating educational environments that are safe, functional, and aesthetically pleasing.

The new schools are being designed with the input of parents, students, and teachers, ensuring that their needs and expectations are met. The buildings are being constructed with materials that are environmentally friendly, and energy-efficient systems are being installed to reduce energy consumption.

The new schools are expected to provide much-needed relief to overcrowded classrooms and facilities. They will accommodate an increased number of students, allowing for smaller class sizes and improved learning conditions.

COLLEENS THREE; Dorey, Lillians and Collette Carew, daughters of the former Lord Mayor of Boston, look over a magazine article about their native land as they relax in their Orange apartment. During their stay in this country, Dorey and Collette are working in the library of Seton Hall University at South Orange, and Lillians in the library of University of Denver.

Breadth of Eire for Setonlia

By Edward J. Finn

NEWARK — A most beautiful of Setonlia's hands in the form of the Irish Bishops' daughter, Dorey Dail, is in residence at Seton Hall University. She is attending the College of Business Administration.

The two girls are from the same family that produced the late Bishop Dail, who was a great supporter of Seton Hall University. The family has a strong tradition of service to the university, and Dorey is carrying on that legacy.

She is taking classes and participating in university activities, and she is expected to complete her studies in the near future.

3 Parishes in Essex Join on Instructions

NEWARK — Parishes in Essex, East Orange and Nutley are working together to provide a year-end fundraising campaign to support their parishes. The campaign involves a series of events and activities designed to raise funds.

The campaign includes a concert, a dinner-dance, and a silent auction. The proceeds from these events will be used to support the parishes and their various programs.

The parishes are working closely to ensure that the campaign is successful and that the funds raised will go towards their respective causes.

To Bess Assumption Convent, Elizabeth

ELIZABETH — The new convent in St. Mary of the Assumption parish will be named and dedicated by Archbishop-Patriarch of All Newark and Vicar of the Diocese of Newark, Bishop Joseph A. Roddy. The dedication ceremony will take place on Sunday, September 18, at 2:00 PM.

The new convent is located on a beautiful, wooded site near the historic city of Elizabeth. It will provide a peaceful and serene environment for the nuns to live and work.

The dedication ceremony will include a blessing of the new convent and a prayer for the nuns and their work.

Dr. Martin knew it to be a dot in the darkness around St. Patrick’s, the school of his boyhood. He knew it was there, but the darkness was so great.

On the run to the school, the drizzle turned into a steady rain.

The first raindrops had just begun to hit the pavement when he saw the school:

"How do you think I'll get there?" he asked himself.

He turned around and walked back to his car.

"I don't think I can do it," he thought.

He knew he couldn't do it.

Press Box Paragraphs

This Is a Sport?

The death of a beloved cat outside Peter Pan Park is a tragedy to one of the boys in our squad, and our coach, who may make another appeal to our students. We have been informed of this sad event by the principal. The cause of death is unknown, but we are told by one who saw a creature similar to a small dog lying on the ground that it was probably run over by a car. The principal, who saw the body, said it was a small cat and that it had been hit by a car. The cat was found in the street near the school, and it is believed that it was hit by a car while crossing the street.

An automobile accident is always tragic, and we can only hope that this incident will serve as a reminder to all of us to be more careful when crossing the street. We should always look both ways before crossing, and we should also be aware of our surroundings and the possibility of accidents. This is a small reminder of the dangers that we face every day, and we should all be more careful to avoid such incidents in the future.

Hudson Holy Name President Installed

JERSEY CITY — More than 150 delegates representing 70 parishes throughout the Diocese of Newark were present in St. Peter's Church auditorium on Sept. 14 when P. Joseph M. Mulvey was installed as president of the Holy Name Fraternity of Jersey City. The installation ceremony was held in the CYO Center here.

Mr. Mulvey, a native of Paterson, N.J., was installed the new president by Bishop James H. Carabba, Diocesan Bishop of Newark. The installation was attended by priests representing the parishes in attendance, the Knights of Columbus, the Fraternity of Christian Sisters, the Council of Catholic Women, and the Catholic Women's Federation. A large group of high school students, many of whom were recent graduates, also attended the installation.

Mr. Mulvey, a ordained priest of the Diocese of Newark, has been a member of the Holy Name Fraternity for 20 years. He is a parish priest of St. Peter's Church and has been a leader in many of the parishes in the Diocese.

The installation ceremony was a very significant event in the life of the Holy Name Fraternity. It is a reminder of the importance of parishes in the life of the church. The installation ceremony was a fitting way to honor the contributions of the parishes and their leaders.

"Don't be a Part-time Citizen...

If you want to vote, you must be registered!

While we don't know the rest of this indurian candidate's platform, he does bring out an important point for American citizens: the strength of our form of government is in public officials who represent the opinions of the people they serve — and the only way you can be represented is by exercising your right to vote. So remember — if you are not registered by September 25, you can't vote on Election Day, November 4.

Registration Information — Passaic County

If you have not voted in Passaic County from your present address within the past four years, you must register — unless one of the following circumstances applies to you:

...By November 4, you will be 75 years of age...

...By November 4, you have been a resident of this state for six months, and in Passaic County for the past 30 days...

...You have changed your name...

...You have moved from an voting district to another, but must register in the new district...

The registration office is located at the Office of the Minority Clerk of the Census and at the Census and Registration, 12th and Franklin streets.

Succasana Church To Be Dedicated

Succasana — The Church of St. Theoren will be formally dedicated this weekend, Bishop Michael McGivney will preside.

The ceremonies will be concluded with solemn benediction on Sunday at 6 p.m. in the presence of Bishop McGivney.

With this dedication ceremony, the building has its own place of worship. The church will be a landmark in the community and a center of religious activity.

The church is located on the corner of Broadway and Main Street. It was built and dedicated by the Succasana Building Fund.
