Sisters of Charity, Convnet, Celebrate Hundred Year

By Jane Boney

The Advocate is pleased to announce that the Sisters of Charity of St. Elizabeth in Newark, N.J., will celebrate their hundredth anniversary on Oct. 1. This is a fitting occasion for all of us to reflect on their contributions to the Newark community.

The Sisters of Charity of St. Elizabeth were founded by Mother Elizabeth Seton in 1896. Since then, they have been dedicated to providing compassionate care to the sick and needy in the Newark area.

This year's events will include a jubilee Mass celebrated by Cardinal Joseph Tobin on Oct. 1, as well as a reception, banquet, and other festivities throughout the year.

We extend our congratulations to the Sisters of Charity and wish them many more years of service to the community.

Pope Stresses A Triple Role For Seminary

CASTLEGARDEN, Italy — Pope Francis XII, head of the Latin American bishops’ meeting, affirmed that the triple role of the seminary is not a mere slogan but a reality that should be lived concretely in the daily life of seminarians. He also emphasized the importance of forming seminarians in the spirit of apostolic charity.

"The three roles of the seminary are not just words, they are a reality that must be lived concretely in the daily life of seminarians," the pope said in his address to the seminarians of the Pontifical International Seminary of the Angelicum. "They are not just a slogan, but a reality that must be lived in the daily life of seminarians in order to form them as true apostles with a missionary spirit."

The pope also stressed the importance of forming seminarians in the spirit of apostolic charity. "This means that they must be formed not just to be good priests, but to be true apostles with a missionary spirit," he said. "This does not mean that they will have to go out and preach the Gospel, but rather that they will be formed to be true missionaries in their daily lives, in their own families, in their own communities, and in their own parishes."

The Catholic Church in the U.S. has decided that the diocese of Brooklyn, N.Y., will be the site of the first taxicab school in the United States. The school will be operated by the Maryknoll Fathers, a religious order founded in Maryknoll, N.Y., and will be staffed by priests and laypeople.

The school will offer courses in taxicab driving, including navigation, safety, and customer service. Students will also learn about the history and culture of the city, as well as the role of the taxicab in society.

The school is expected to open in the spring of 2023, and will offer programs for both high school students and adults. The school will also offer continuing education classes for current and former taxicab drivers.

The school is part of the Maryknoll Fathers' mission to bring hope and opportunity to those in need. The organization has been active in New York City for more than 100 years, and operates a number of social service programs.

The school will be located on the campus of the Maryknoll School, a K-12 Catholic school in New York City. The school currently serves more than 1,000 students from diverse backgrounds.

The school will be named after Maryknoll Fathers who have served in New York City and other areas of the United States. The school will be part of the Maryknoll Fathers' mission to bring hope and opportunity to those in need, and to serve the poorest of the poor.

The school is expected to employ more than 100 people, and will offer a salary range of $30,000 to $70,000, depending on experience. The school will offer health insurance, retirement benefits, and other benefits.

The school is being developed by the Maryknoll Fathers, a religious order founded in Maryknoll, N.Y., and is being directed by Rev. John J. Murphy, S.J.

Confraternity Workers Urged To Bring Christ Into Parish

Confraternity workers urged to bring Christ into parish, according to John Garlock, pastor of St. Joseph Parish, Newark. Federals said the drive, which will run from Oct. 29 to Nov. 21, is to be used to expand vocations and lay cooperation in the various parishes of Newark.

Route Orange — Dawn-led expedition of Confraternity of Catholic College students to sacred and important sites of the area.

Rev. Charles Menogin, CDS, pastor of St. Joseph Parish, Newark, said the drive, which will be the first of its kind in the diocese, is being conducted by the National Confraternity.

Father Menogin called the drive an experimental program at the request of the national office of the Confraternity, effective February 15.

The drive will be held throughout the United States and will include a number of conferences and seminars.

The aim is to help raise the standard of living for the average American, said Father Menogin.

The drive includes a seminar on the history of the Confraternity of Catholic College students, which was founded in 1926.

The seminar will be held at St. Joseph Parish, Newark, and will last from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. The seminar will cover the history of the Confraternity of Catholic College students and its role in the development of the Catholic Church.

The seminar will be conducted by Father Menogin, who is the national director of the Confraternity of Catholic College students.

The seminar is open to the public and will include discussions on the history of the Confraternity of Catholic College students, its role in the development of the Catholic Church, and its current activities.

For more information, contact Father Menogin at 908-720-1211.
Speech Defects Corrected

The six Catholic Speech Correction Clinics in Brooklyn, Queens, Nassau, Manhattan and New Jersey will register children and adults afflicted with stuttering, baby talk, lisping, nasalities, fast speech, low volume, high pitch, monotonous, slurred or other difficulties — on Monday, Oct. 6th from 1 to 6 P.M.

11th YEAR — OVER 4,300 STUDENTS
READ CAREFULLY:
A child with a speech difficulty can become physically, mentally and spiritually sick if nothing is done to help him. Other children is either an object for pity or ridicule. The longer he suffers without help, the more things go wrong: poor school work, bed-wetting, night-mares, shyness and more serious antisocial behavior. The younger the child is, the easier it is to correct. The best time to bring a child to a speech clinic is about five years old. In these clinics, the parent is trained with the child in the correction process. Each receives individual attention with an audience situation. Recording one mode of the beginning and end of each course to measure improvement. No child should be allowed to reach adolescence with a speech difficulty because correction thereafter is much more difficult. Last June a boy came all the way from California to our Summer Speech Clinic at Montclair College. Ponomapocking, N. Y., because a teacher in his high school, a Sokollen Brother was corrected in our Manhattan clinic a few years ago. A 15-year-old friend came from Chicago because a Seminarian friend was also helped. We enjoyed teaching the future priests at the Franciscan Fathers Seminary, Mt. Alverna, Wappingers Falls, N. Y. . . . God has indeed favored this project.

REGISTRATION will be held in New Jersey at ST. ANNE'S SPEECH CLINIC, FAIR LAWN, on MONDAY, OCTOBER 6TH from 1 to 6 P.M.
TUTION: $42.00 per course of 13 sessions for children and $75.00 per course of 13 sessions for adults.

Bishop O’Gara Protests Irish Support of Red China

NEW YORK (AP) - Support for admission of red China to the United Nations by Irish delegations to the UN was sharply criticized here yesterday by Archbishop John E. O’Gara, cardinal of Brooklyn. He said it was "unnecessary" and "unwise." The Irish delegation was "falling in with a policy that is contrary to the better judgment of our government." He urged the Irish government to "take a leadership in the denunciation of this policy which is supported by the red Chinese." He added that the Irish government should "denounce this policy and not to follow it in the United Nations." to give them that social status which they lack, that feeling of belonging that is essential to the well-being of any individual. These groups can be supported in various ways, such as through government programs, community initiatives, or private donations. By recognizing and valuing the contributions of these groups, we can foster a more inclusive and harmonious society.

In conclusion, the role of social groups in society is crucial. They provide a sense of belonging, offer support, and help individuals navigate various challenges. By understanding and embracing these groups, we can build a more equitable and just society for all.
Planning for Honeymoon Trip Causes Their First Quarrel

By Rev. John L. Thomas, S.J.
Assistance Professor of Sociology, St. Louis University

Tim and I have just had our first major disagreement. We're planning our honeymoon and he wants to go to the lake country where there's good fishing. I'd like to travel around and visit some of the places I've always wanted to see. My father died that summer and we got cards from all over the places we went. He's being stubborn.

You know, Helen, every time you say, "if you're going to change their minds and planning ways, I'm going to settle this once and for all," I think you're actually the one who will be changing your mind and planning ways. I've planned a lot of trips during this period and I really enjoy being the one to come up with the ideas, the one who has the initiative, the one who plans ahead...the one who may actually get there.

Although your ideas are always welcome, Tim, I think it would be better for you to make up your mind and let me know what you want. You could be more of a help and you could also be more of a builder in this situation. You could be more of a brother to your own brother-in-law. If you let me know what you want, I'll try to help you.

First, try to understand that this job requires all the time and energy that you can give. Don't let yourself be overburdened with responsibilities. It's important that you stay healthy and happy. If you can see that I'm not being reasonable, I'll be more willing to listen to you. Perhaps, if you could talk more to me, I'd be more willing to listen. In this way, you could learn more about how I really feel and what I really need.

The Dignity of Women

By Bishop Fulton J. Sheen

One of the most remarkable of all the New Bible versions, which is based on the best Chinese sources, is the Chinese-English Dictionary of the Chinese Department of the Bible. The dictionary was compiled by the late Bishop J. Sheen and has been used extensively in the Catholic Church in China. The new Bible version is highly regarded by scholars and is widely praised for its accuracy and accessibility.

It contains a comprehensive list of Chinese words, arranged alphabetically, and each word is followed by a brief definition and a brief explanation of its usage in the Bible. The dictionary is an invaluable resource for students of the Bible and for those who are interested in the study of Chinese.

Paganism’s Black Eye

Claudia Sealed a Wall

By James Lee Burke

BOOK — Once upon a time — about 44 A.D. — Claudia was accused of paganism, and the chief justice of Rome. That is why she didn’t have her honeymoon in the country. In fact, she had no honeymoon in the sense we think about the word. She married the chief justice of Rome, still remaining as a black eye.

At least that’s the way it was described by historian Stobbe. A Legal scholar, Stobbe visited the ruins of the Roman city where Claudia, a woman of uncertain biography, sat drinking as a black eye.

According to Stobbe, Claudia was a woman of uncertain biography. She was discovered by the chief justice of Rome while he and his wife were on their honeymoon. Claudia, it seems, was a black eye.

Sometimes she was a black eye, sometimes she was a bad smell. And often she was a mixture of both.

Addie Has a Big Scoop!

By June Dayer

"No more converts for the present," said Mr. Jenkins, the by now regular attendant at the Daily Advocate. "You've been telling me about your successes, and now I'm telling you about mine. I've been working on this for years, and you've been working on it for months. And yet, here we are, still no converts."

"But we haven't given up," Addie countered. "We've been working on this for years, and we're still not ready to give up."

Mr. Jenkins smiled. "I know, Addie. But we have to be patient. We can't expect results overnight."

Addie nodded, but she knew that she was going to keep working, no matter what. She had a mission, and she was going to see it through.

The end of the Advocate's article is cut off, and the story continues on the next page.

A Column for Growing-up

By Robert A. Studen

One of the Rights which tourists in Italy find most interesting is the right to be a visitor to one of the world's best-known art galleries, the Vatican Museum. As part of the Vatican's work of art, the museum contains priceless works of art, including frescoes, mosaics, and sculptures. The collection is so vast that it is impossible to see all of it in one visit. However, the museum is open to the public every day, and a visitor can spend hours exploring the exhibits.

The museum is housed in a series of Vatican palaces, including the Belvedere, the Pauline, and the Pio-Clementine. Each palace has its own collection, and visitors can see art from different periods and styles. The museum is also home to the famous Raphael Rooms, which contain some of the artist's most famous works.

In addition to the art, the museum also contains some of the world's most famous works of architecture, including the dome of St. Peter's Basilica. The dome is the highest in the world, and it is a symbol of the power and wealth of the Catholic Church.

The museum is a must-see for anyone interested in art or history, and it is open to the public every day, year-round. Tickets can be purchased at the entrance, and there are guided tours available for those who want to learn more about the exhibits. Whether you are a tourist or a resident, the Vatican Museum is a must-see destination in Rome.

north Jersey Catholic Schools Quality Semi-Finalists in Merit Competition

NEWARK—Among the 10,900 semi-finalists in the National Merit Scholarship competition are 10 young men from nine high Catholic schools in the North Jersey area.

St. Peter's Prep leads with its semi-finalist, Seton Hall and Bergen Catholic in the tie for second place. Bergen Catholic is in the top five in the competition.

The competitive requirements, of course, should be expected to be met. The seniors will be notified in the spring of 1959 by the National Merit Scholarship Program, which will select one of 400 semifinalists to become one of the 400 finalists in the competition.

St. Peter's Prep is located in the city of Newark, St. Joseph's Preparatory School in the city of Paterson, Bergen Catholic High School in the city of Paramus, and Seton Hall University in the city of South Orange.

The highest accord goes to the students who have demonstrated their potential for excellence at the college level by their performance in the college entrance examination, their high school academic record, extracurricular activities, and other personal qualities.

The top five Catholic schools in the competition are:

1. St. Peter's Prep, Newark
2. St. Joseph's Prep, Paterson
3. Bergen Catholic, Paramus
4. Seton Hall University, South Orange
5. St. John's Prep, Newark

Mr. Tietjen, a 19-year-old senior at St. Peter's Prep, was one of the five semifinalists.

The semi-finalists will be notified by the National Merit Scholarship Program in May 1959, and the finalists will be notified in June 1959.

The National Merit Scholarship Program is a private, non-profit, educational organization that provides academic scholarships and recognition to high school seniors who demonstrate the potential for excellence at the college level.

The program is open to all high school seniors, regardless of race, ethnicity, or gender. The program is administered by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, a private, non-profit corporation that was established in 1954.

The program is funded by contributions from private corporations, foundations, and individuals, and is administered by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.
