Active Lay Participation in Mass Urged by Holy See

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Holy See has issued a directive to the whole Catholic Church to ensure that active participation in Mass is offered to all members of the Church. It does so primarily with principles manumitted in the Pope's encyclical entitled, "By Mandate Divina," and Ministerial Act of Pope Benedict XVI, on Thursday, June 16, 2016.

The urgent call of the directive is for an active role for the faithful in the Mass. It urges the faithful to take an active part in the Mass, particularly in the recitation of the prayers and in the celebration of the Eucharistic Prayer. It asks that the faithful be encouraged to participate in the reading of the scriptures, in the recitation of the prayers, and in the offering of the gifts.

The directive also encourages the faithful to participate in the Mass by reading the scriptures, by reciting the prayers, and by offering the gifts. It asks that the faithful be encouraged to participate in the celebration of the Eucharistic Prayer, and in the offering of the gifts.

The directive states: "The Mass is a celebration of the Eucharist, and it is the central act of the Church's life. It is the summit of the Church's worship. It is the source and summit of the Church's life. It is the center of the Church's life. It is the heart of the Church's life. It is the soul of the Church's life. It is the life of the Church.

Movies Indulge in Senseless Censorship Double-Talk
By William H. Mooring

If the things we see and hear on the screen today are any indication of our thinking and behavior, we may be in for some rough years. The movies, which are handled with such care and sentiment in the '40's, are now being used for purely human artistry. They are not intended as a means of entertainment, but to provide an emotional outlet for the modern man. A movie should be considered as a work of art, and not as a mere form of amusement.

The novel route to a happy life is through the proper channel. A movie is not a substitute for religion, but should be used as a means of providing an emotional outlet. All of them can be used to create a balanced life, but they can also be used to create a negative one. The movies should be used with caution, and only when the proper conditions are met.

The law of motion pictures is that all of them eventually reach a point of death, and that the pictures which are created are not the result of a deliberate attempt to create something, but are the result of chance and accidents. The movies are not meant to be used as a means of escape from the realities of life, but to provide a means of dealing with them.

We are not interested in the movies as a means of entertainment, but in the fact that they are a means of providing an emotional outlet. The movies should be used with caution, and only when the proper conditions are met.

Propagation of the Faith
Now Has 690 Jurisdictions

The Sacred Congregation of the Propagation of the Faith has extended its activities to 690 new dioceses in 136 countries since the Second Vatican Council. This has also been accompanied by a tremendous increase in the number of religious and lay apostolate groups. The Congregation, in charge of the work of the Sacred Penitentiary and of the Propagation of the Faith, is entrusted to the Holy See through the Congregation for the Propagation of the Faith.

The Congregation's efforts are directed to bringing the Gospel message to all parts of the world, especially to those regions which are least touched by the Christian faith. The work of the Congregation is carried out through various means, including the establishment of new dioceses, the promotion of religious orders and apostolic societies, the training of priests and religious, and the support of missionary work.

The Congregation's work is also directed towards the promotion of the family, the education of children, and the improvement of living conditions in the countries where it operates. The Congregation is committed to working towards the establishment of a just and equitable society, where all people have the right to a decent standard of living and freedom of religious belief.

Review of Year

3 Striking Developments Affect Missions—All Bad

ROME (NC) — The three noted striking developments affecting the Catholic Church in the mission countries in the past year were all bad.

In a review of the mission year, the news agency of the Sacred Congregation for the Propagation of the Faith releases its Missionary Year Report.

The three developments mentioned are:

1. The international conflict and the danger of atomic war.
2. The Communist expansion and its threat to religious freedom.
3. The growing moral and spiritual degeneration in the countries of the world.

These developments have caused concern among the leaders of the Church, who are working to overcome the challenges they pose. The Congregation is committed to supporting the efforts of missionaries and religious in their work of evangelization and education.

Holy Father’s Talk to Women of Catholic Action

Father’s Civic Different Well Times, Pointed Preceded

We have our civic duties, our different well times, pointed, and preceded.

The last 50 years show further developments a corresponding increase in the number of Catholic Action works.

Father’s Civic Different Well Times, Pointed Preceded

This thought of surpassing each other, that time was a very brave thing.

Therefore permit present conditions of the world and human society.

All the Catholic Action works, however, perhaps can be contained in the apostolate of the cards of the woman, of the foundation of the woman.

The world cannot be founded in the woman, and the letter making foundation, for God is with us.

The big instruments, tried by fire, to seek the good and win the world. You must spend yourselves for her glory.

That is the way we help to woman those who have trust, and...
Inheritance

As we look forward to Missionary Month which will begin on October 15th, it is fitting to think of the great heritage our Church has given us. In this issue, we will be featuring the life of Bishop John Vreeland, the founder of Sacred Heart Schools and the first Bishop of Newark. His story is a testament to the power of faith and the importance of education, and we hope it will inspire you to think about how you can help carry on this legacy.

Missionary Inheritance

Holy Name Rally

One of the most important aspects of the Holy Name Rally is the way in which our government is supporting our efforts to spread the Catholic faith. This is especially true for those in the United States, where the government has a vested interest in promoting religious freedom. In recent years, we have seen a growing number of people turning to the Catholic faith, and the government is doing its best to support this movement.

Stick to It, Mr. President

It is not a new thought that it is a good thing to have a good boss. But we must remember that a good boss can do a lot to influence the behavior of his employees. A good boss can make his employees feel as though they are important and valued, and can help them to reach their potential. On the other hand, a bad boss can be a source of frustration and stress, and can make it difficult for employees to do their best work.

Contraceptive Respectability

In the past, the idea of contraception was considered to be morally wrong. However, in recent years, we have seen a growing number of people accepting contraception as a normal part of life. This is especially true in developed countries, where contraception is widely available and is considered to be an important part of reproductive health.

Rosary Month

In the United States, the Rosary has become an important part of the Catholic faith. The Rosary is a prayer that is recited in a series of 15 beads, each of which represents one of the Mysteries of the Rosary. It is a powerful prayer that can help us to connect with God and to deepen our relationship with Him.

The Faith in Focus

Questions have been raised about the role of the Pope in our modern world. Some people believe that the Pope should be more involved in the political process, while others believe that he should stay out of politics. The truth is that the Pope is a spiritual leader, and he is not bound by the same rules as politicians. He is free to speak out on any issue that he believes is important.

In Your Prayers

We should always remember to pray for those in need. Whether it is for our own families, or for people around the world, we should always have compassion for those who are suffering.

The Question Box

Most Rev. Walter C. Imbalino, Immediately Successor S.S. Diocese of Newark, Ramsey 1, is available for questions submitted by the public. Questions may be submitted by letter or by telephone to the Bishop's office. A book on the subject of faith and its relationship to the world will be published next year. The Bishop hopes that this book will be of great help to those who are interested in the subject of faith.

Prayer Is Privilege Of Angels and Men

Three questions and answers are taken from Luke 13:28-29 of the Revised Standard Version of the Bible:

"If you then, being evil, know how to give good gifts, how much more will your Father who is in heaven give good things to those who ask Him!" (Luke 13:28, RSV)

"Whoever would be great among you must be your servant; and whoever would be first among you must be your slave. For even the Son of Man came not to be served but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom for many." (Matthew 20:26-28, RSV)

"But he who is greatest among you shall be your servant. But whoever exalts himself will be humbled, and he who humbles himself will be exalted." (Luke 14:11, RSV)

Sisters Hold 'Advo-Class'

Take Religion Out of Isolation

By Anne Elise Buckley SOUTH ORANGE — Does your religion get in the way of your life? Is it an integral part of your life or a burden that you must carry around? If it is a burden, theighting of an "Advo-Class" for Sister Michael Eucharista of Marylawn is an answer to your problem. The Advocate in the form of a class designed to enable students to understand the meaning of religion in their daily lives.

Pope Examines Moral Aspects of Heredity Problem

The book of Genesis, the opening book of the Old Testament, is examined by an author of "The Medical Genetics," describing the different issues to watch for in the study of defective heredity in humans.

Attempts to Solve the Heredity Problem

The book of Genesis is the subject of the present study, and the focus is on the "Thesauri Road" bio-situations. The problem of who begot whom in the New Testament is also examined. For example, in the case of the apostle Paul, his father was a Roman. This is because he became a Roman citizen by Naturalization. However, he was also a Greek. In the case of the apostle Peter, his father was a Greek. Peter is often referred to as "The Greek Master." The study of the heredity problem is also related to the activities in the book of Genesis. For example, the story of Joseph and his brethren is also related to the study of the heredity problem.

Artificial Insemination

A reasonable proposal, stated by the author, is that the term "artificial insemination" is a misnomer. It should be replaced with the term "spermatozoa donation." The author argues that this term is more accurate and better describes the process.

Temporary Sterility

It is also noted that the temporary sterility of coitus normally involves the act of ejaculation, and this act is necessary for the effective production of sperm. However, situations may arise in which the act of ejaculation cannot occur. In such cases, the use of spermatozoa donation may be necessary to achieve fertilization.

Possibility of Adoption

It is also possible that adoption may be necessary in some cases. Adoption involves the transfer of legal custody of a child from one person to another. In some cases, adoption may be necessary to ensure the well-being of a child. The author notes that adoption is a complex process and that it requires careful consideration.

Sterilization

With regard to sterilization, the author notes that it is a permanent procedure that involves the surgical prevention of the ability to reproduce. The decision to undergo sterilization should be a carefully considered one, as it is a significant and irreversible decision.

Pope Asks Research On Non-Toxic Gas

VATICAN CITY (NC)—The development of non-toxic breathing gas is crucial to help prevent accidental deaths and injuries was proposed by Pope Pius XII.

In preliminary remarks to officials attending the Congress of International Union of Industrial Gas, the Pope said that the development of the right breathing gas for use in emergencies is an important step in preventing accidents and injuries. The gas should be non-poisonous and non-flammable, he said.

Gomulka Says Church Works Against Government in Poland

WARSAW — Communist party chief Wladyslaw Gomulka publicly denounced the Church for its part in the uprising that forced the government to yield to popular demands.

In a speech today, Gomulka accused the Church of seeking the overthrow of the government and of working against progress and economic development. He said the Church had been involved in a conspiracy with the West to undermine the gains of the revolution.

The Church has strongly denied the allegations, saying they were baseless and aimed at weakening the Church's influence in the country.

Pius Outlaws Vanity As Surgery Reason

VATICAN CITY — It would be unlawful under Church canon law to undergo plastic surgery for vanity reasons, according to Pius XII.

The Pope made this point in an address to the Italian Medical Association on Oct. 3, prior to his death.

The pontiff said that the motive for undergoing plastic surgery should be to improve one's health and well-being, not to enhance one's appearance.

Don't Shop For Eye Care

Take Your Advice, Consult Your Doctor

Take care of your eyes as you would your body. But don't shop for eye care. Your doctor can refer you to the best eye care specialist. Ask him to recommend an eye care professional.

A Guide to the Best Eye Care Professionals

If you are looking for the best eye care professional, consider these tips:

1. Check with your insurance company to see what eye care professionals are covered.
2. Ask your doctor for recommendations.
3. Look for eye care professionals who have a good reputation in your community.

Was Addie With Columbus...?

By John Dryer

Addie is a 15-year-old girl from Westfield who has been missing since July 19, 1985. She disappeared while walking with her mother in the Columbus Day parade in Westfield. Addie is described as a white girl, 5 feet 2 inches tall, with long brown hair and brown eyes. She was last seen wearing a blue top and white pants.

Addie was last seen at around 11 a.m., when she and her mother were walking in the parade route. Her mother said she got distracted by the crowd and lost sight of Addie. The police were notified and began searching for her, but no trace of Addie has been found since.

Addie has been missing for almost 30 years, and her family and friends have not given up hope. They have organized search parties and have used social media to spread awareness about Addie's disappearance. The Westfield Police Department and the FBI have also been involved in the investigation.

If you have any information about Addie's whereabouts, please contact the Westfield Police Department at 908-235-7100.
