The Great Pope Passes

The world watched anxiously as the Pope lay dying; and when he died the heart of the world leaped in sympathy. Never in history has a man been more beloved by so many.

Among the mourners were the justices of the peace, radio, and television. Twenty minutes after the Holy Father's death was announced, two large television stations carried half-hour memorial programs. Graves were dug with reverence, sanitation and sorrow. In subsequent days press, radio, and television viewed with one anguished eye tribute to Pope Pius XII. Catholics should not forget to voice their appreciation for this man whose life was one of service and sacrifice.

This public manifestation was related to the interest of the people and the perception of the Pope. Communications were supplying a demand, a demand of the world Catholic and non-Catholic, to know more about this solemn figure in white. Was it not because to him they expressed the cause of right, the moral force, the hope of peace? Was it not that through him they felt a little less strain of a world night into two camps staked with nuclear arms? Was it not that his goodness gave them new human dignity enhanced their faith in God inspired them?

Pope Pius XII was a man who achieved much by virtue of his will to work and his passion for justice. Deeply was the meaning of those who lived close to him, of those who lived today, because of his love of war and exile who come to Rome seeking safety and found it, the line and the many days of peace who got the riches who wept for them, the sad and the hungry who have been served and fed by him. They assured because they have lost a loving father, a kindly friend. Children he loved and won over, more than others, those who sought him, his missions or help, love and sacrifice.

The statement and the diplomats mourn him, the spokesmen of the free world and the fighters for human rights. They have lost a great support and a strong moral force for good. They feel their cause greatly impoverished by the loss of Pope Pius XII, God's diplomat and man's friend in the struggle to achieve a better world.

The Church mourns. No more will the tall slender figure in white appear in the high windows so familiar to the people in the square below. No more will he be borne into St. Peter's on the solemn days of sorrow and triumph, fashioning a halo of gold into the golden rays of the sun. No more will he be the figure of the Pope and the Church as much as a saint.

No longer will he move to the altar with the athletic ease and grace that defined the years. No more will those firm-bearing hands be raised in Mass as the beloved voice be heard to tell us:

"The Church mourns.

The voice of her infallible and indefatigable teacher is absent. Thirteen years ago he won the right to be the spiritual leader of the Church in a solemn coronation in St. Peter's Basilica.

The world's first time to be heard the message he addressed to the people of the United Nations, "Let us begin a crusade, a crusade of love.

"Today, June 11th, the Pope, the voice of the Church, ended his lifetime in the service of the world, a lifetime that has been one of the most unselfish and uncomplaining services to God and to man."

The Church, the Mystical Body of Christ, mourns. Something of Christ is lost. It is the official representative of Christ on earth. His loss, his absence, his death, is the death of a man who forever will be known as Montini.

"The Church has lost a saint. "This is the word we must use."

Pope Pius XII will be remembered in Catholic circles as a saint. The efforts of his pontificate will be known throughout the centuries. This is the description given by the New York Times of the late Pope."

Pope Pius XII was a saint. He is one of the few humans who lived in the 20th century who truly believed in the teachings of Christ. He was a man who lived this life with love and fervor. He was a man who lived with all his being. He was a man who lived with all his heart, mind, and soul.

Collection, Vespers to Mark Mission Sunday Observance

NEWARK — Led by Archbishop Boland, Catholics in the Newark Archdiocese will participate in the worldwide observance of Mission Sunday on Oct. 26—-a date set by Pope Pius XII before his death.

The Archdiocese will observe Vespers in Sacred Heart Cathedral at 11 a.m. as a special pastoral letter last week asked for a renewal of observances. The letter included a prayer that will be used up by the end of the year.

“It is hoped,” the letter went on, “that the prayers will be directed to the calling of all the children of God, through the mediation of Christ the Redeemer and the Holy Spirit, to the church and to the mission field, to assist in the work of the church’s mission and to support the missionary activity of the church.

Archbishop’s Mass

The Archdiocese will also observe the 26th anniversary of the establishment of the Missionaries of the Sacred Heart, which serve in the overseas missions.

“Let us pray,” the letter concluded, “that God will grant us a renewal of the missionary spirit and a renewed commitment to the mission field. Let us pray also that the church will be strengthened in its mission work and that all who are involved in the mission field will be strengthened in their efforts.”

your bank is still growing!

Federal Trust Company and The National State Bank of Newark are pleased to announce the merger of the two institutions.

The merger, effective immediately, will result in a stronger, more dynamic bank with a broader range of services and products. The new bank, to be known as Federal Trust Company, will have a total of 21 offices in Newark and nearby communities.

With the enlarged financial and physical resources resulting from the merger, each of the bank’s 21 offices is now able to provide its customers with a wider range of services and products. The new bank will be able to offer a broader range of financial services and products to its customers.

We are confident that the new bank will be able to offer even more comprehensive financial services and products to its customers in the future.

Since its establishment in 1812 to encourage the development of commerce and industry here, National State Bank has continued to grow with New Jersey.

With the enlarged financial and physical resources resulting from the merger, each of the bank’s 21 offices is now able to provide its customers with a wider range of services and products. The new bank will be able to offer a broader range of financial services and products to its customers.

Village Church Bells First To Announce Pope's Death

CASTELGANDOLFO (N.C.) - The bells of the village church at Castelgandolfo were the first to announce Pope's death.

Only after the village bells had sounded did the great bells of St. Peter's Basilica in Rome begin to toll. With the fall of night, many people gathered at Castelgandolfo to listen to the bells in St. Peter's Gardens, near the papal summer residence, to join in the traditional ceremony of the Angelus.

Pope Pius XII died at 10:45 p.m. in Vatican City. The bells of the Castelgandolfo church had sounded at 10:50 p.m. and were followed by the bells in St. Peter's Gardens. The sound of the bells was carried throughout the surrounding area, reaching Castelgandolfo and the adjacent village of Canisius.

The bells of St. Peter's had been rung to announce the death of the Pope. The bells were rung in a special ceremony, and the sound was broadcast throughout the city of Rome.

The bells of Castelgandolfo were rung as a sign of respect and as a symbol of the village's connection to the Pope. The ceremony was a traditional one, and was performed by the village bell-ringers.

Pope Pius XII died after a long and fruitful pontificate, leaving a legacy of peace and prosperity. He was succeeded by his successor, Pope John XXIII, who continued his work and Legacy.
Holy Father's Will Asks No Monument

VATICAN CITY (CNS) — Pope Pius XII, whose pontificate marked the end of one of the most intense periods in history, was honored with the warmth of a material heritage that was, in large measure, the work of his faithful cardinals and bishops.

The Latin text of the Pope's last will and testament was signed on Oct. 23, 1958, by Cardinal Consalvi, dean of the College of Cardinals.

The will was the work of the man who left 10,300,000 dollars to support the Pope's missions, a testament to the Pope's charitable impulses.

The will was signed at the Vatican, and the Pope called it "a token of love and gratitude for all of us."

Prayers Asked for Quick Papal Election

VATICAN CITY (CNS) — Cardinal Tissier de Mallerais, Dean of the Sacred College of Cardinals, has asked diplomats to express their "prayers with the faithful of the whole world, that God may guide in granting His Church as soon as possible the supreme pastor it needs."

The cardinal addressed the diplomatic corps at the general audience of St. Peter's Square, and the Holy Father said, "I wish you to know that you are in my thoughts."

The cardinal spoke about the "great expectations of the whole world" and the "need for the Church's unity." He also referred to the "spiritual and moral questions" that have "marked the life of our world."
Life of Pope Pius XII, 1876-1958

Pope Pius XII, whose official title was the Pope of Rome, was a key figure in the Vatican's response to the rise of fascism and the Second World War. His pontificate was marked by his efforts to mediate between the warring parties and to promote peace. Pius XII is known for his efforts to save lives during the Holocaust and his role in the post-war reconstruction of Europe. He also played a significant role in the Church's relations with the modern world, including his advocacy for peace and his support for social justice.

Please for Pears

The first recorded instance of the English word "pears" was in 1530. It was used as a poetic term for "apples".

Social Reform

Pius XII was a strong supporter of social reform. He believed in the need for a society that was just and equitable, and he worked to promote this vision through his pontificate. He was a strong advocate for the rights of workers, and he supported the establishment of social welfare programs. He also worked to promote the rights of women and children, and he supported the establishment of schools and hospitals.

Native Roman

Rugged, hardy, and passionate, every Roman is a native.

Pius XII was born in Rome in 1876. He was the son of a Roman family and was educated in the Vatican City. He was a key figure in the Vatican's response to the rise of fascism and the Second World War. His pontificate was marked by his efforts to mediate between the warring parties and to promote peace. Pius XII is known for his efforts to save lives during the Holocaust and his role in the post-war reconstruction of Europe. He also played a significant role in the Church's relations with the modern world, including his advocacy for peace and his support for social justice.

Pius Sought Peace From First Day as Pope

(Continued from Page 4) at one time worshiped within a short distance of the Vatican. He was the last Pope to issue a papal bull with a shortwave radio signal and the first to use a transatlantic radio connection. But the Vatican, being a non-military body, was not at war with any other nations except the Holy See itself.

Pope Pius XII's rule was marked by a strong emphasis on international peace. He was a strong advocate of the United Nations and was a firm believer in the principles of non-aggression and disarmament. He was a strong supporter of the idea of a world federation, and he often spoke about the need for a united world community to prevent war.

Pius XII was also a strong supporter of the Catholic Church's role in politics. He believed that the Church had a duty to engage in political activism to promote the moral and spiritual welfare of the world. He was a strong supporter of the Church's involvement in the struggle against totalitarianism, and he was a strong supporter of the Church's involvement in the struggle against Communism.

In conclusion, Pope Pius XII was a strong advocate of peace and international cooperation. He was a strong supporter of the United Nations and was a firm believer in the principles of non-aggression and disarmament. He was a strong supporter of the idea of a world federation, and he often spoke about the need for a united world community to prevent war.

IN THE END, 1950 was the year of the decisive victory of the Allies in the West. The war had ended with the surrender of Germany on May 7, 1945. The Pope had been a strong supporter of the Allies and had made a solemn declaration of the end of the war on May 8, 1945, from the balcony of the Lateran Palace. He had called for a world of peace and brotherhood, and he had urged all nations to work together for the common good.

Pontif Gave Holy Years, Lenient Communution Fast, Many Encyclicals

The Assumption of the Virgin shall be decreed surely on July 18 of this year, a clear indication that the Pope's strenuous polemics will be followed by an act of public atonement. In the last year, there has been a consistent effort to promote the assumption of the Virgin through a series of encyclicals, public proclamations, and other means. The Pope's public statement is in line with this trend, indicating that he will take action to promote the assumption of the Virgin.

The Pope's emphasis on the assumption of the Virgin is part of a broader effort to strengthen the Church's traditional teachings. In recent years, the Church has faced challenges from secular and liberal forces, and the Pope has been active in promoting traditional values and teachings. The assumption of the Virgin is a key teaching of the Church, and the Pope's commitment to promoting it reflects his commitment to the Church's traditional teachings.

In addition to his public statements, the Pope has also been active in promoting the assumption of the Virgin through his personal life and actions. He has often referred to the Virgin in his speeches and public appearances, and he has supported initiatives that promote the assumption of the Virgin. His commitment to the assumption of the Virgin reflects his commitment to strengthening the Church's traditional teachings and values.

Pope Pius XII—A Jersey Memoir

Northern New Jersey is about 400 miles from Rome. The Pontiff has not been for a long time. He is 87 and 30 years have passed since he became Pope in 1939, and while he is not infirm it is not likely that he will travel to Northern New Jersey for years to come. The Holy Father ventured to his Hotel at 9 a.m. last Monday. "I have never been more pleased with my flight to the United States, a journey which will be a new experience for me," he said. The Holy Father left for the United States on Monday morning and returned to Italy on Wednesday night. The Pope’s plane took off from the Vatican at 8 a.m. on Monday and landed at JFK International Airport in New York City at 10:30 a.m. The Pope spent the day touring New York City and visiting various sites of religious and cultural interest. He was received by President John F. Kennedy at the White House and a special Mass was held in his honor at the Basilica of the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception in Washington, D.C.

The Holy Father greeted expressively with his right hand as he made his way to the Bishop McNulty at a private audience.

Officials, People Mourn

Continued from Page 1: the death has not occurred of the Bishop of Trenton, the Rev. Joseph A. McNulty, D.D., who served the diocese for 37 years. The diocese was saddened by the news of his death.

Bishop McNulty, 82, was born in Trenton, New Jersey, on March 26, 1915, the son of James McNulty and Ellen (Doherty) McNulty. He was ordained to the priesthood on May 28, 1941, and served as a priest in the Trenton Diocese for 37 years. In 1982, he was appointed Bishop of Trenton. He was known for his dedication to the Catholic Church and his commitment to social justice. He was a leader in the diocese and was well-respected by his colleagues and parishioners. He passed away on September 25, 2014, in Trenton, New Jersey, after a long illness.

Bishop McNulty's funeral mass was held in St. Peter's Cathedral in Trenton on September 29, 2014. The funeral was attended by hundreds of dignitaries, religious leaders, and friends of the late Bishop. The funeral was also broadcast live on several television networks.

To Receive Holy Intra-Human Awards

Bishop McNulty was remembered for his tireless work in the causes of peace and justice. He was a strong advocate for the rights of all people, and his efforts were recognized through various awards. He was awarded the highest honor in the Catholic Church, the Papal Order of the Holy Spirit, in recognition of his contributions to the advancement of the Church's mission.

Bishop McNulty was a man of great faith, and his legacy continues to inspire people around the world. His dedication to the Church and his commitment to social justice will be remembered for generations to come.

The warmth of Pope Pius prayer is shown in this photograph with Archbishops Boland taken at a private audience.

World Owes Eternal Debt to Pope Pius

Editor: The late and wonderful Pope Pius XII leaves an everlasting example of what it is to be a great leader. His life and achievements were on a plane unmatched by any other Pope. His dedication to the Church was unparalleled, and his love for his fellow man was without comparison.

Soviet Poses Threat To American Steel

By Mag. George G. Higgins

The steel constitutional crisis of the United States, America, held in Atlantic City last Friday night, marks a new phase in the steel crisis. The crisis is most exclusively in the steel industry, in the steel industry's ability to maintain its price and value.

East Germans Flee In Record Numbers

BERLIN — Communist rule is driving more and more people out of East Germany. In August alone, 16,000 people fled the country, including the police, as a result of the mass arrests of civilians and agents on whom the Red refers to heavily on its entire ideology. Since 1962 more than 3,000,000 people, children and adults, have passed into West Germany from East Germany, resulting in a record number of refugees continuing to escape. In 1960 the border was closed and it was 1968 when the Red opened the door, allowing millions of people to leave the country.

Some people have lost their lives as a result of the mass arrests, and some of them have been blown up along with their families.

WILLIAM W. McGUIRE, Archdeacon of New York, is in the center of the scene. The Archdeacon is surrounded by a group of people, including a man in a military uniform and several clergy members. The room is well-lit, with natural light streaming in through the windows. The walls are decorated with framed photographs and religious artwork. The atmosphere is solemn and respectful. William W. McGuire appears to be addressing the group, possibly giving a sermon or delivering a speech. His expression is serious and focused. The people around him appear to be listening intently.

PATERSON — In an effort to increase circulation of the 1956 edition of the National Catholic Almanac, production and distribution of a full page ad has been contracted to Daddooly & Co.

Rev. Father G.F. O.P., editor of the American edition of the National Catholic Almanac, wrote to St. Francis of Assisi College, Kansas, that the Franciscans are revising their almanac for the coming year.

The whole of the volume has been distributed mostly as a religious work. The editors of the almanac believe that the emphasis on their work is one of the most important aspects of the publication.

Brothers Edmund and Nicholas, both members of the Franciscan Province of the Province of the Province, are the authors of the book. The book will be published in 1958.

The brothers have taught in Catholic schools and are also the authors of the books "Theologian of the Holy Franciscan Franciscan Province" and "The Franciscan Franciscan Province." They have also written articles on the history of the Province.

New Prior Named
Newark Benedictines
Given Added Duties

NEWARK—Rev. Martin J. Burns, O.S.B., and Rev. Mark W. Conroy, O.S.B., have been named prior and sub-prior, respectively, of St. Peter's Institute here. The appointments were announced this week by St. Peter's Abbey, which has its headquarters in St. John's, Rome, in the Holy Land. St. Peter's Institute here was assigned to St. John's, Rome, in 1955, and two years ago the position of subprior was created in order to facilitate the work of the seminary.

project financially. Their name is the third of three titles that have been recorded in the Academy.

St. Paul's Labors Church, with a stained glass window as its feature, is the title that has been given to the Academy.

The other title is St. Mary's Church, which has a banner with the name of the school and the year it was built.

The Academy was founded in 1885 and has been in operation ever since.

For the Record

By Bertha W. Salcman

The Academy is a co-educational school located on Ninth Avenue and E Street in Jersey City.

Its pupils are of various races and nationalities.

The school is under the direction of the Sisters of St. Joseph, a religious order that was established in 1863.

The school offers a complete course of studies for both boys and girls, including preparatory work for college.

The Academy has a fine reputation for excellence in both academic and extracurricular activities. It has won numerous awards and prizes at state and national competitions.

The Academy is also well-known for its community service projects, including volunteering at local hospitals and food banks.

The Academy has a strong tradition of giving back to the community, and its students are encouraged to participate in service projects.

The Academy is located in a historical area of Jersey City, and its buildings and grounds are well-maintained.

The Academy has a rich history and a bright future, and it continues to provide an excellent education for students.

Fisher Leads Garrubbo By One Point
In Individual Griddiron Scoring Race
NEWARK — Danny Fisher of Pups and Marty Garrubbo of St. Joseph's eclipsed the individual scoring race among North Jersey Catholic high school football players into a townsfolk affair over the weekend. Fisher tallied 27 points against Ferris, while Garrubbo hied in against the 83rd, 37th, 68th, 70th, 73rd, 77th, 79th, 81st, 83rd, 84th, 85th, 86th, 87th, and 88th. Garrubbo, who finished tied for third place in the state with two points, scored his first points on a field goal against Ferris. Since Garrubbo has scored his final points on a field goal against Ferris, he has an average of 29 points per game. Fisher has an average of 31 points per game. The present hour, with great serious and solemnity, I take you in the form of a rite, as a public and solemn act.

ENCOURAGE THEM! We must carry our minds to those things which are like to happen, that they may be prepared for them. Let us remember in this our prayers, that God will give us courage and strength in faith and patience to bear our troubles.

To THE YOUTH. In the end of their education, there is a necessity of reforming the manners of the youth, so that they may be disposed to be useful members of society. The state must be provided with citizens, and the young must be filled with those principles of virtue which they must carry into life.

LET THEM know, then, that from the beginning of time there has been a necessity of reforms and changes in the manners of the youth, so that they may be disposed to be useful members of society.
