VATICAN CITY (AP) — Proposals went on late into the night as hundreds of workers labored to get things ready for the conclaves that will select a successor to Pope Pius XII.

About 500 bricklayers, carpenters and plumbers built the domes and windows lining the conclave area. All through the Vatican city, men worked without a sound. Construction was halted, and all workers were suspended.

The work took place under the500-year-old Palazzo della Corte, which was divided into four sections.

"This is a world in itself, with its own laws and its own rules," said one worker.

At one end and the middle sections, tables and chairs were set up for the cardinals. At the other end, a large canvas was spread out for the audience. The canvas was covered with a thick layer of cloth, and the tables were covered with paper.

The work was carried out in silence, and the only sound was the noise of the machinery. The work was done to a strict schedule, and the men worked from morning to night.

The dome was built on a frame of wood, and the windows were covered with glass. The work was done with a precision that was amazing, and the men worked without a break.

The dome was completed in just a few days, and the windows were finished in just a few hours.

The New Pope Will Be Elected by the 78th Conclave

VATICAN CITY — On Saturday, Oct. 25, at 4:30 A.M., members of the College of Cardinals will enter an enclosed area in Vatican City. In a single door will be sealed loyal and true men and they will not come out until a Pope is elected. This supremely important event is one of the most solemn in the Church. It is a "conclave" — the French word for "closed door." And it is called for the same reason. The cardinals are shut away so that they will not be disturbed by outside influences, so that they can pray in both body and soul how God wills it.

Three valid ways to elect pope

Cardinals have arrived in Rome to begin the process of electing a new pope. The conclave is expected to take place in the coming days. The new pope will be chosen from among the cardinals, who are divided into three groups based on their seniority.

Three valid ways to elect pope

1. Simple majority: This method involves voting for a single candidate who receives the majority of the votes cast. If no candidate reaches a two-thirds majority, a second round of voting is held until a winner is declared.

2. Two-thirds majority: In this method, a candidate must receive at least two-thirds of the votes cast to be elected. If no candidate reaches the required majority, the process is repeated until a winner is found.

3. Cardinal vote: This method involves having the cardinals vote directly for the pope. The cardinals are divided into three groups based on their seniority, and each group votes separately. The winner must be approved by at least two-thirds of the votes cast.

Each of these methods has its advantages and disadvantages, and the cardinals are expected to discuss the process and make a decision on how to proceed.

Of Kings and Kingdoms

...and the world. All of us are preoccupied with the two kingdoms. The world is divided into two kingdoms. It is a fact that there are two kingdoms. One is the Kingdom of God, and the other is the Kingdom of the Beast. The Kingdom of God is the Kingdom of the Beast. The Kingdom of God is the Kingdom of the Beast. The Kingdom of God is the Kingdom of the Beast.

And this is the first temptation. If you set up the Kingdom of the Beast, you will be excommunicated from the Kingdom of God. And the second temptation is to set up the Kingdom of God, and you will be excommunicated from the Kingdom of the Beast.

The Papal Election

In the quick passage of history man has been passing from the Antichrist to the Beast and from the Beast to the Antichrist. And the world is divided into two kingdoms. The Kingdom of God is the Kingdom of the Beast. The Kingdom of God is the Kingdom of the Beast. The Kingdom of God is the Kingdom of the Beast.

The bigger crisis in the country, the more we are divided into two kingdoms. And the two kingdoms are not only national enemies but also religious enemies. And the two kingdoms are not only national enemies but also religious enemies.

...and the two kingdoms are not only national enemies but also religious enemies.

...and the two kingdoms are not only national enemies but also religious enemies.

Friends in Strange Places

By Louis Francis Budens

The Aesop magazine recently published a story about the life of a man who was born in the United States, grew up in the United States, and has spent most of his life in Europe. He is a man who has been excommunicated from the Kingdom of God, and he is a man who has been excommunicated from the Kingdom of the Beast. And the two kingdoms are not only national enemies but also religious enemies.

THE QUESTION BOX

Maurine Ann W. Curtis, Immediate Consecration by the Bishop of the Catholic Diocese of New York, for the publication of this paragraph, in the Catholic Advocate. The Archdiocese of Newark, N.J., 1952, page 8.

...and the two kingdoms are not only national enemies but also religious enemies.

...and the two kingdoms are not only national enemies but also religious enemies.

...and the two kingdoms are not only national enemies but also religious enemies.

Dear Children

You are doing a wonderful thing in this most important and difficult of all the world's activities. You are doing an important and difficult thing. You are doing an important and difficult thing. You are doing an important and difficult thing.

...and the two kingdoms are not only national enemies but also religious enemies.

...and the two kingdoms are not only national enemies but also religious enemies.

...and the two kingdoms are not only national enemies but also religious enemies.

...and the two kingdoms are not only national enemies but also religious enemies.
Jersey Priest Tells Situation in India

Editor:

Due to the school population having doubled here in the past year, our superior, Father Patrick Boland, has transferred our church school from a small, inadequate teaching of English in the girls' and grade one classes. All we have are our own teachers, with no help from any outside source. We already have increased our school, which is now in a very bad shape. The shortages of funds, inspire, and government help to finance the educational needs of our girls, however, are very limited.

We appeal to you for this reason that the nuns may have some help in the educational needs of our girls. We have no other help except private contributions, and the nuns are not able to do much on this account.

Thank you very much.

Pope Pius XII's Legacy to TV, Movies

By William R. Morrant

Only a few years ago, Pope Pius XII was known as "the little goatherd" to the world. But today, he is a household name, remembered by millions for his wise, kind, and compassionate leadership. His legacy has been preserved in many works of art, including television shows and movies. In this article, we will explore some of the ways in which Pope Pius XII's legacy has been brought to life on the small screen.

At least 150 television shows and 300 movies have been based on the life and work of Pope Pius XII. Some of these works are biographical, while others are more fictionalized. Regardless of their approach, they all contribute to the ongoing celebration of Pope Pius XII's life and legacy.

In 1958, the Catholic American Conference of Film Producers founded the Pius XII Center to promote the production of films that would depict the life of Pope Pius XII. The center has since produced many films, including "The Pope's Nephew," which was released in 1960. Other notable films include "The Secret of the Vaticano" (1962) and "The Pope's Cardinals" (1963).

The legacy of Pope Pius XII can also be found in the realm of television. "The Vatican" series, which debuted in 1955, was the first television series to focus on the life of Pope Pius XII. The show was a huge success and ran for 13 seasons.

In addition to these series, Pope Pius XII has been portrayed in many other television shows, including "Dragnet" (1951-1959), "The Wild Geese" (1962), and "The Snoop Dogg Files" (2004-2006).

The legacy of Pope Pius XII continues to be celebrated in the realm of movies as well. "The Pope's Nephew" (1960), "The Secret of the Vaticano" (1962), and "The Pope's Cardinals" (1963) are just a few examples of films that have brought the legacy of Pope Pius XII to life on the big screen.

In conclusion, Pope Pius XII's legacy has been preserved in many ways on the small screen. From biographical series to fictionalized films, his life and legacy continue to inspire and educate audiences around the world. As we commemorate the 50th anniversary of his death, let us celebrate the enduring legacy of Pope Pius XII and the many ways in which his spirit lives on today.

Happy Birthday to Addie!

Addie rushed home from school yesterday and learned that she was going to have a surprise birthday dinner that evening. She was thrilled. The small girl had been counting down the days to her big day for weeks. Her family had planned a special evening to celebrate her. The surprise dinner was going to be her favorite part of the evening.

ALSO in the Nov. 24 issue:

Atlantic and Pacific, a new trend in roller skating, is taking the country by storm. The latest craze among roller skaters is the roller coaster, which has now spread to all parts of the United States. It's a thrilling experience, and many people say it beats sitting on a couch at home.

To the Editor:

I just wanted to thank you for this great article about Atlantic and Pacific. I've always been a fan of roller skating and have been looking for new trends to try. This sounds exciting! I can't wait to try it out.

Sincerely,

Susie Smith

Pope Commends Organizations

Family Life Award Given To Fr. Collins of Bloomfield

SOUTH ORANGE — Pope Pius XII last summer commended the Catholic Action organizations of the Newark Archdiocese because the interior life of the people corresponds to the exterior works they perform. Archbishop Whitney revisited the diocese to express gratitude to the priests and lay apostles of the diocese.

In the Catholic Newsroom, the Pope commended the 200 priests and the 80,000 people of the Archdiocese for their apostolic work. The Pope said that the interior life of a person is not important unless it corresponds to the exterior works which he performs. Therefore, the Pope commended the Catholic Action organizations of the Newark Archdiocese because they have a good interior life and their exterior works correspond to it.
