Archbishop Lauds Foundress of Sisters of Charity

CONVENT—Mother Mary Xaviera Mehegan, founding member of the Sisters of Charity of the Diocese of Newark, was selected by Archbishop Boland as "an outstandingly religious woman for the inspiration and uplifting of the Church." The Archdiocese of Newark has been established in the Province of the Sacred Heart of Jesus the Queen of Peace, according to the papal brief of the Most Holy Pope Pius XI, issued Jan. 27, 1931. The brief was signed by the late Cardinal Cushing, Archbishop of Boston.

ARCHBISHOP BOLAND in a message to the daughters of the new diocese, said: "May God bless the Sisters of Charity and their work, and may His grace be added to them always. May they continue to minister to the needs of the poor and the sick, and may their example of sacrifice and charity inspire the people of the Diocese to live in the spirit of St. Francis of Assisi.

Archbishop Boland also praised the Sisters of Charity of the Diocese of Newark, saying: "They have been faithful in their service to the people, and their work has been a source of comfort and encouragement to many in distress. They are a living testimony to the goodness and mercy of God."

Avoid ObjectionableFilms, Bishop McNulty Directs

The Bishop, the new chairman of the Bishops' Commission on Social Justice, said: "These films are objectionable because they are immoral, indecent, and dangerous to the moral, spiritual, and material well-being of individuals and society. They are unsuitable for children and adults alike.

I urge all Catholics to avoid these films and to support those that are wholesome and uplifting. Let us work together to create a culture that is healthy and beneficial to all.

Chicago Grieves for Fire Victims

CHICAGO — A Regina Mass for all the 89 children who died in the disastrous fire which virtually destroyed Catholic parochial schools was held Friday, Dec. 24. The ceremonies were conducted by Bishop McNulty in the Cathedral of the Holy Family, home of the Archdiocese.

The fire was brought under control after several hours of fighting. The cause of the fire is still under investigation. It is believed to have been started by an short circuit in the boiler room.

The Regina Nestor School was one of the largest parochial schools in the Archdiocese. It was founded by the Sisters of Charity of the Diocese of Newark, and is located at 1833 W. 18th St., Chicago.

The school was established in 1920, and has a capacity of 600 students. The fire occurred during the evening, when the school was closed for the day.

The fire was reported at 7:30 p.m., and within 15 minutes the school was in flames. The fire was contained by the fire department, and no one was injured in the blaze.

The fire caused widespread damage to the surrounding area. The streets were blockaded, and the area was filled with thick black smoke.

The Pope John Caught in Swirl Of Activity Before Retreat

VATICAN CITY - Pope John XXIII started and ended the week quietly here but the days between were anything but calm. The pontiff worked hard and averted a potential crisis. He made official visits and held a private audience with Monsignor Cyprian Tardini. He marked his 70th birthday on Nov. 28, celebrated his first Mass in 17 years, met with 3,000 of the faithful, and was scheduled to visit Germany and Poland, if his trip is not delayed. Such an itinerary, however, could not fail to result in a flurry of press releases and other communications.

Mr. John's birthday was marked by a special Mass and prayers for the pope, who was also honored by the government and other officials. He received a gold-plated statue of the crucifix and a special medal from the government. The pope also received a letter from the United Nations, congratulating him on his birthday and expressing its confidence in his leadership.

The pope's visit to Germany and Poland was expected to be a major event in the world's religious calendar. The pope would be the first pope to visit both countries in recent history, and his visit was expected to have a significant impact on the relationship between the Catholic Church and the two countries.

The pope's visit to Germany was expected to be particularly significant, as the country is home to one of the largest Catholic populations in the world. The pope's visit was expected to be a major event in the country's religious calendar, and it was expected to be a major event in the pope's own religious journey.

Conferral of Red Hat by Pope Surrounded by Colorful Rites

VATICAN CITY — One of the Pope's most solemn milestones, the conferral of the Cardinal's hat, was solemnly celebrated in St. Peter's Basilica here last week, and the presence of the Cardinal's hat signaled the beginning of the new pontificate of Pope John XXIII.

A secret ceremony was marked by the unveiling of the names of the new Cardinals at the evening Mass. The names of the new Cardinals were announced publicly for the first time at the consistory in St. Peter's Basilica, the Vatican, Rome, a symbolic gesture of the new pontificate.

The ceremony was attended by thousands of the faithful and members of the new Cardinals, and the event was broadcast live on papal television.

The new Cardinals were addressed by Pope John XXIII, who hailed them as the "servants of the Church." The new Cardinals were also presented with the Red Hat, a symbol of their new rank.

The ceremony was a significant moment in the history of the Church, as the new Cardinals were appointed by Pope John XXIII, who had been elected to the papacy by the College of Cardinals in November 1958.

The new Cardinals were presented with the Red Hat, a symbol of their new rank, and were called upon to embrace their new duties.

Says Father Edmond of the Washington Society of the Holy Family, a group which has been meeting every Saturday night since Our Lady's Apparitions in Fatima, "It is the fulfillment of the Pope's promise to the University of America." It was Rev. Peter J. Nash, ex-University of Notre Dame student, who attended the Papal Mass and then with his friends, the members of the University of America Catholic Club, joined the Pope in the Mass of the Holy Rosary and the Mass of the Holy Eucharist. Father Nash, who is a priest of the Archdiocese of Washington, D.C., said that the Mass was the most beautiful he had ever attended. He went on to say that the Pope's message to the world was one of peace and hope, and that the world should heed his words and work towards a better future. He also praised the Pope for his efforts to bring the Church and the world closer together. Rev. Peter J. Nash expressed his gratitude to the Pope for his message and stated that he would continue to work towards a better world. He ended his speech by saying that the Pope's words were a beacon of hope for all people and that he would continue to work towards a better future. The Pope's message was also greeted with enthusiasm by members of the University of America Catholic Club, who said that they would continue to work towards a better world. The Nov. 29 issue of The National Catholic Weekly contained an article by Father F. F. F. O'Hara, editor of the American Catholic Review, that has created a great deal of interest among Catholics in this country. The article was a letter to the editor of the National Catholic Weekly in which Father O'Hara expressed his views on the cooperation between the Catholic Church and the secular world in the field of education.

"We believe that the Church has a great deal to contribute to the education of the young," Father O'Hara wrote, "and that by cooperating with the secular world in the field of education, the Church can help to make the world a better place for all men."

The article has been widely discussed and debated, and it has sparked a great deal of interest in the field of education. Many people have expressed their support for Father O'Hara's views, and others have expressed their disagreement.

A Tale of Two Tenors

By Anne Mae Buckley

If you are the proud owner of season tickets in the New York Philharmonic Orchestra, you have probably heard the tenor voice of Mario Lanza. But have you ever seen him perform? Last week, Mayor La Guardia and his wife, Mrs. La Guardia, attended a performance by Mario Lanza and his wife, Mrs. Lanza, in the Carnegie Hall. The concert was held in honor of the opening of the new Carnegie Hall, and it was a great success.

"St. John’s College of the New York School Department," which sounds like a bit of an oxymoron, is the name of a new college that has been established in the city. The college is located on the site of the old St. John’s College, and it is being run by the same group of people who have been running the old college. The college is designed to provide an education for young men who are interested in the arts and sciences.

Study Family Needs, Government Urged

WASHINGTON — Government planning in certain areas should be based on family needs, Mayor A. Dallas, director of the NCWC Family Life Bureau, said today.

Mayor Dallas spoke at a meeting of national family council leaders, sponsored by the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, where he served as chairman.

Advising many representatives of family planning programs, Mayor Dallas said that possible solutions to many family problems are in the hands of family members who have become acquainted with family movements.

As an example of apartment buildings, he pointed out that planning for family improvements, and providing recreation and educational centers, is in the interest of the families for whom the center is designed.

We also told it is important that the tax system be applied to large families and to take into account the family structure, he said. It is a challenge for the family planning movement to find ways of providing for the needs of large families.

What Does It Take to Make a Boy a Real Man?

By June Dreyer

Christmas is coming. That’s no news to anyone who can hear the bells. Christmas is just one more name for the birth of the Babe of Bethlehem.

But we needn’t focus our preparation for the little Jesus on what He is. God Himself brings us the best thoughts to think about in search of a thought to think. In the Gospel we find the story of the little Jesus born into the world and all the things that are the vital facts about that fact.

JESUS was the very life of the world. He lived twenty-some-odd years: lively, active, interesting. He was a man who believed in his mission. When He was born, a star was seen. When He was twelve, He was in the Temple. When He came to earth, He was loved by sinners. When He was put to death, He rose from the dead. When He ascended, He went to heaven.

WHAT I am going to think about is how the little Jesus grew into a man. The way He grew into a man is the picture of what we need. Jesus did not grow into a man of the way that people usually grow into manhood. He didn’t grow to the manhood of the world, but He grew to the manhood of the world’s one true Man, Our Lord Jesus Christ.

WHAT I am going to think about is the way Jesus grew into a real man. He grew into a real man that people could love. He grew into a real man that people could respect. He grew into a real man that people could serve. He grew into a real man that people could serve him.

WHAT I am going to think about is what Jesus did as a step-by-step process. Jesus grew into a real man as a step-by-step process. He grew into a real man as a step-by-step process.

WHAT I am going to think about is that Jesus grew into a real man as a step-by-step process. Jesus grew into a real man as a step-by-step process.

WHAT I am going to think about is that Jesus grew into a real man as a step-by-step process. Jesus grew into a real man as a step-by-step process.

WHAT I am going to think about is that Jesus grew into a real man as a step-by-step process. Jesus grew into a real man as a step-by-step process.

WHAT I am going to think about is that Jesus grew into a real man as a step-by-step process. Jesus grew into a real man as a step-by-step process.

WHAT I am going to think about is that Jesus grew into a real man as a step-by-step process. Jesus grew into a real man as a step-by-step process.

WHAT I am going to think about is that Jesus grew into a real man as a step-by-step process. Jesus grew into a real man as a step-by-step process.

WHAT I am going to think about is that Jesus grew into a real man as a step-by-step process. Jesus grew into a real man as a step-by-step process.

WHAT I am going to think about is that Jesus grew into a real man as a step-by-step process. Jesus grew into a real man as a step-by-step process.

WHAT I am going to think about is that Jesus grew into a real man as a step-by-step process. Jesus grew into a real man as a step-by-step process.

Look Best of Hudson Teams

JERSEY CITY — The panoramic view of Hudson County's 10 Catholic high school basketball teams became even more clear this year as St. Joseph's (N) joins the Ten Catholic County "A" Conference for the first time, replacing St. Peter's (H).

Rivalry at the center of an exciting basketball season will be the event of the year, with St. Joseph's facing St. Peter's in the first game the following Tuesday. A visitor from Wood-Ridge is also expected.

St. Joseph's is a new addition to the conference, and the list of teams will be official if the New Jersey State Conference Association approves.

There will be a ball game at St. Joseph's (N), with the visiting team named the St. Peter's (H) "A" Conference. The first game will be played on the first day of the season, and a home game will be played at St. Peter's (H) on the second day of the season.

A tribute to the growing spirit and good humor is the fact that there are only seven members of the ten Catholic County "A" Conference who have not played against each other in the past three years.
