Advocate Staff Pho HOLY STAIRS: Roman women ascend the Scala Santa (Holy Stairs) on their knees. The 28 marble steps in the Church of St. John Lateran, Rome, are said to be those ascended by Christ in the pretorium of Pilate after He was crowned with thorns. Glass markers indicated where His blood is said to have fallen. It is believed that St. Helen brought the steps from Jerusalem in 326.

Bishop Walsh Ill, Taken From Jail To China Hospital

HONG KONG (NC) - Bishop James E. Walsh, M.M., last U. S. Catholic missionary in Red China, was moved from a communist prison to a Shanghai hospital on Feb. according to a report received here from a reliable Shanghai source.

The report said that the Bishop He said he believed that his was not well, but did not disclose presence gave moral support to the nature or seriousness of his Chinese Catholics.

the nature or seriousness of his illness. Neither the Shanghai prison, where the Bishop was detained, nor the hospital, where he is pres-ently residing, was identified in the report.

Bishop Walsh had repeatedly stressed his intention of remain ing in China as long as possible. despite communist harassment.

IN 1937, POPE Pius XI said that communism had spread so rapidly because "too few have been able to grasp the nature of communism."

Last month, the American Bar Association's house of delegates adopted resolutions proposing legislation dealing with our internal security in the light of recent U.S. Supreme Court decisions

Back of these resolutions was a report of the Bar Association's Special Committee on Communist Tactics, Strategy and Objectives, headed by Peter Campbell Brown, former chairman of the Subversive Activities Control Board

BECAUSE OF THE importance of this report in describing the present-day workings of communism, The Advocate is publishing the report in full. The first instalment begins below; the second, dealing with ommunism and Safe guarding Our Republic," will appear next week. These were originally published in the Congressional Record.

"WAR TO HILT BETWEEN communism and capitalism "WAR TO HILT BETWEEN communism and capitalism is inevitable. Today, of course, we are not strong enough to attack. Our time will come in 20 or 30 years. To win we shall need the element of surprise. The bourgeoisie will have to be put to sleep. So we shall begin by launching the most spectacular peace movement on record. There will be electrifying overtures and unheard-of concessions. The capi-talistic countries, studie and decedent will relate to compare talistic countries, stupid and decadent, will rejoice to cooperate in their own destruction. They will leap at another chance to be friends. As soon as their guard is down, we shall smash them with our clenched fist."

Georgi Dimitrov advised the Lenin School of Political Warfard how to make use of innocents and dupes in these words:

"As Soviet power grows, there will be a greater aversion to induces of withdrawal. Never appear in the foreground; let our friends do the work. We must always remember that one sym-pathizer is generally worth more than a dozen militant commu-insts. A university professor, who without being a party member lends himself to the interests of the Soviet Union, is worth more lends himself to the interests of the Soviet Union, is worth more than a hundred men with party cards. A writer of reputation, 17. Bonnetti v. Rogers. The Court reversed two Federal courts and held that, although the 'nternal Security Act of 1950 provides that any alten, who "at any time" after entering the United States shall have been a member of the Communist Party, is deportable. Bonnetti, an alten who became a communist after entering the United States was not deportable because he had leader who is outside our ranks but defends Soviet inter national policy, is worth more than a thousand party members.

THE KEY TO COMMUNIST tactics is the dialectic. Just as the movements of the planets are predictable by astrono-mers, so are communist movements predictable by those who have studied the dialectic. The dialectic is an instrument which gives the communists complete freedom from normal and logical restraints. According to the dialectic, the communist objective is never approached in a direct, persis-tent line. It is not even approached in a circuitous, winding pathway. The dialectic mode of progress consists of a series of advances and retreats. Communists do not wait for an

the goal, you are still fullilling the scientific method of approach; and therefore the reverse movement must be carried out with the same fervor and determination.

The closing of the Daily Worker was a dialectical maneuver The Communist Party made a dialectical retreat in st publication of the leading party organ on Jan. 13, 1958, retreat in stopping the subterfuge that it was in dire financial condition. In so

Not one American serviceman has been accounted for or released. The communist have followed Stalin's principle of diplomatic intercourse. "Words must have relation to estim — otherwise what investigation and the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee new only one public hearing. On July 5, 1953, the press reported that congressional investigations into the communist conspiracy have reached an all-time low for the last two decades, although com-mittee files are bulging with data on the conspiracy which are crying for exploration. The experience of France, and particularly Germany, shows the danger of restricting legislative investigations. Bismarck so

In the end one or the other will triumph — a funeral requiem will be sung over the Sovier Re-public or over world capitalism." On Sept. 17, 1955, Nikita Khrushchev warned us: "If anyone thinks that our smiles mean the abandonment of the teachings of Marx. Engels, and Lenin, he is deceiving himself cruelly. Those to learn how to whistle." Everyone admits that government employment is not a right but a privilege. Yet the effect of the Cole, Service, Slochower, and Sweery decisions is to prevent federal and state governments from withdrawing this privilege from those who associate with communists or who are security risks.

On July 9, 1958, the legal chief of the State Department Pass port Division testified in Congress that, as a result of the June, 1958, decisions in the Kent and Dayton cases, the State Department has had to issue 77 passports to suspected subversives and has against the security of the United States. He pleaded for early against the security of the United States. He pleaded for early passage of the legislation submitted by President Eisenhower to overcome these decisions and to give the State Department author-ity to bar passports from persons whose travel abroad may be deemed injurious to American security. 4. The Peace Offensive

4. The Peace Offensive. On Apr. 1. 1951. the House Un-American Activities Commit-tee issued a report called "The Communist Peace Offensive: A Campaign to Disarm and Defeat the United States." This docu-ment showed in detail how intellectuals, professors, writers, and others who influence public opinion, were sucked into various communist peace fronts. This report said: "The mest dangerous hoax ever devised by the interna-tional communist conspiracy is the current worldwide 'peace' offensive."

Today, under the slogans "peace" and "peaceful coexis-tence," we are witnessing a revival of this communist peace offensive. The Czechs and Hungarians found that coexistence with community, no create and nungarian to a cage with a hungry lion; after the lion has eaten the man, they lie down and coexist in peace. Peaceful coexistence means communist conquest without war. In with his February, 1956, report to the 20th congress, Khrushchev as serted in Aesopian language that peaceful coexistence to the victory of world communism

Dr. Fred C. Schwarz, in his testimony before the House Dr. Fren C. Schwarz, in mis cesamony of the scribed Un-American Activities Committee, has accurately described what the communists mean by peace: "Every act that contributes to the communist conquest is a

"Every act that contributes to the communist conquest is a eaceful act. If they take a gun, they take a peaceful gun, con-taining a peaceful bullet, and kill you peacefully and put you in a peaceful grave. When the Chinese communists murder mil-lions, it is an act of peace. When the Russian tanks rolled into Budapest to butcher and destroy, it was glorious peace." This is what J. Edgar Hoover calls "semantic sabotage." We cannot negotiate with the community because they insist black is white and murder is peaceful coexistence.

We commend the Veterans of Foreign Wars for their brilliant evaluation of the program of cultural exchanges with Soviet Russia. The VFW said: "The United States is losing and Moscow is gaining through this program as it is now operated. ... Moscow obviously wants only those exchanges and contacts which give its trusted agents an opportunity to mislead foreigners about the Soviet Union ... Moscow has also used the visitor-exchange program as a means of weakening United States security regulations." We also commend AFL-CIO President George Meany for his statement on chltural exchanges. "No believer in the basis principles of free trade unionism could today conceivably dese-

7. Recognition of Red China.

Diplomatic recognition is essential to communist subversion. The communist espionage apparatus needs diplomatic immunity of its embassies and consulates to set up spy centers. It needs the unbroken seal of the diplomatic pouch to transmit orders to its spies and couriers and to receive back their reports and microfilmed documents.

to its spies and couriers and to receive back their reports and microfilmed documents. How the Red diplomatic apparatus functions is described in detail in the report of the Canadian Royal Commission which investigated code clerk Igor Gouzenko's revelations, in the report of the Australian Royal Commission which investigated Embassy Secretary Vladimit Paternie of the Australian Royal Commission which investigated Editoriasy Secretary Vladimir Petrov's confession, and in the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee investigation of United States commu-nists working for the U. N. conducted by Senator Herbert O'Conor, past chairman of this committee. That Red China will model her tactics after the tactics of

That Red China will model her tactics after the tactics of Soviet Russia is made clear by the statement of Premier Chou En-Lai in the communist magazine International Affairs: "The great Communist Party of China, organized by progressive ele-ments of the Chinese people, was founded and developed under the influence of the October Revolution, and was modeled on the Communist Party of the Soviet Union."

8. Halt Nuclear Tests.

The current communist tactic to get an agreement with the West halting nuclear tests is similar to Soviet exploitation of the West nationg nuclear tests is similar to Soviet exploitation of the agreement made at Panmunjom not to rearm the North and South Koreans with jet planes and other modern weapons. The Soviets promptly violated this agreement. Then they violated its inspection clause by refusing to permit the neutral inspection

Inspection clause by refusing to permit the neutral inspection team to inspect North Korean airfields Most experts agree that the net results of the suspension of nuclear tests would be that the United States would stop testing but that, within the vast isolated Soviet land mass, there would be circumvention of the ban on testing. The National Academy of Sciences, in a report on "The Biological Effects of Atomic Radiation," said that the United States population is exposed to radiation from the natural back-ground of commic rays also of observed. States population is exposed to radiation from the natural Dack-ground of cosmic rays, etc., of about 4.3 roentgens, and from medical and dental X-rays of about 3 roentgens. Nuclear weapons tests — if continued at the rate of the past five years—would give a probable 30-year dose of about 0.1 roentgen. This is less than one would get from a radium dial on a wrist watch. This report was confirmed by a report to Parliament made by the Medical Research Council of Great Britain.

9. East-West Trade.

9. East-West Trade. Khrushchev's report of Feb. 14, 1936, calls for East-West trade; and this has been part of the communist line for many years. Foreign trade, to a communist country, is a means of wag-ing cold war. It is a means of obtaining from the outside world the strategic materials with which it can arm itself for world conquest. Trading with the communist bloc would be a psycholog-ical as well as a military defeat for the United States. The goods we might sell to be communist bloc will be used assisting the ical as well as a military defeat for the United States. The goods we might sell to the communist bloc will be used against us, just as the superb Rolls-Royce jet engines sold to Russia were used to power the Mig-15s against us in Korea. In May, 1958, Khrushchev sent an eight-page letter to President Eisenhower in which he brazenly suggested that the United States grant Soviet Russia long-term dollar credits in order to finance trade with the United States. We would not gain by trading our machinery for Soviet IOU's or even Russia's raw materials. The Senate Report on the "Accessibility of Strategic and Critical Materials" issued July 9, 1954, shows that the Western Hemisphere contains all the 77 critical and strategic materials needed for military security. The answer to the propaganda for East-West trade is more North-South trade.

II. Communist Tactics

COMMUNIST RUSSIA HAS been called "a riddle wrapped in mystery inside an enigma." This is true only for those who re ignorant of communist writings. The communists have set forth their master plan of world conquest even more forth rightly than did Hitler in Mein Kampf. The Communist Manifest "The communists disdain to conceal their views and aims." said: mmunists have never deviated from the theory enunciated by Marx and the strategy devised by Lenn. For those who want to understand communism, we prescribe, not a 15-day trip to Russia, but 15 days in a library studying the communist conspiracy. The following quotations from communist authorities are an accurate summary of communist tactics, strat-gy, and objectives. . . . ctives. . . .

J. Edgar Hoover also testified that a top communist func tionary described the decision in the Smith Act case of June 17, 1957, as the greatest victory the Communist Party in America has ever received. The Daily Worker summed up the Yates, Watkins and other cases of that same day in these words: "The curtain is closing on one of our worst periods." The Sunday Worker of May 11, 1958, contains strong opposition to any legislation to overcome the Supreme Court's rulings on internal security.

THE ADVOCATE

A few years back the American Bar Asso-ciation established a section and appointed rep-utable members of their association to a commitciati tee to explore Communist strategy and tactics in the United States. After a painstaking, deliberate and exhaustive study, they submitted their report. Senator Styles Bridges secured a copy of report. Senator styres bridges secure a copy on this report and had it inserted in the Congres-sional Record before it had received the approval of the House of Delegates. In their February eting in Chicago the American Bar Association adopted the resolution to publish the formally of this committee.

This document is so important and so informative that The Advocate, as a service to our Catholic people, will publish it in its entirety in two installments. In this issue and next week's, the complete text of this important report will plimented on such a project. Its House of Dele-gates, by endorsing this in their resolutions, have proved themselves to be Americans interested in retaining our freedom and liberty. It is indeed retaining our freedom and liberty. It is indeed consoling to know that such a body of men is cognizant of the great evil of the day and has given this wonderful document to the public of America. The role of the lawyer in our American way of life can never be underestimated. Whether he be in the courtroom, on the bench, or a member of the bar, he is the symbol of American justice. Vigilance is the price of liberty. We compliment the American Bar Association for this truly great document, and recommend that every American read it.

The Liturgy and the Lord

Sunday the Church goes into mourning for tts Master. The Church realizes that the reality of christ's suffering will not be forgotten as long as the ritual of her mourning of remembrance endures. With a sense for the dramatic the Church veils her statues and crosses with purple cloth. The color bespeaks her mourning until the Friday of climax when her accents put on deeper black.

In the early Church crosses bore no corpus. by were adorned with spiendid jewels, for the ss had passed from a sign of shame to a sym-They cross had passed from a sign of shame to a sym-bol of glory. The jeweled crosses were covered to recall the pain that went before the glory, a pain that no art could portray. The Christian must turn within himself and in his solitary heart without images ponder the pain of his Lord. The liturgy of the Church is in itself an ex-quisite art form. This does not strike us as im-mediately in the case of the liturgy as it does mediately in the case of the liturgy as it does in a painting by El Greco or an altar by Donatel-lo. There are several reasons for this, not the least being that it is in an unfamiliar tongue. use of an English Missal. Another factor is that most churches lack the personnel and the equipment to present the liturgy with that finish and refinement that is the ideal. It is often like the work of the parish dramatic society compared to a Broadway production. The best presentation of the liturgy will perforce be done in seminaries, monasteries, and cathedrals. It is a recognized fact that the Gregorian Chant is one of the great-est art monuments to come out of the Middle Ages. To prove itself it demands a fair hearing.

These observations are set down descriptive-ly, not critically. The purpose behind them is not to start a grass roots movement for a more not to start a grass roots movement for a more artistic liturgy, but to remind us that great things handled in a small way do not thereby lose their greatness, and also to encourage those who can to go and see the liturgy where it is at its best. What is of greater importance is to experi-

What is of greater importance is to experi-ence be it in a small church or a great cathedral, the feeling expressed in the liturgy, the sensitivity, the loving warmth, the broken heart of our forefathers in the faith, who wove out of the Scriptures, sacred chant, and symbolic action a liturgical fabric of such loveliness. To, enter into a real experience of the liturgy is to enter into the hearts of our predecessors in the faith who loved the Lord so much and expressed it so loved the Lord so much and expressed it so eloquently

More important even than this is the spiritual reality behind the liturgy. All liturgical rites are constellations to the sun that is the Eucharist. The consummation of the liturgy is the sharing of the sacramental life in Christ. All liturgical action is a preparation for that moment of mys-tery. It bestirs faith and devotion, appeals to the imagination, the mind and the heart. The liturgy is a treasure to be prized, and to be handled with that feeling of reverence and sensitivity with that feeling of reverence and sensitivity with which it was created, for Christians yet to come it was created, for we are forefathers of

On the other hand, goon squad activities by union organizers won't balance the scales of industrial injustice; rather, they expose all union-ism to public wrath and government reprisal. Dynamiting, bombing, personal assaults may force recalcitrant non-union employers tempor-arily into line, but wholesale violence, in the long run, will destroy labor's hard-earned gains. A smokescreen of misleading facts and wrongly interpreted statistics has been cast to obscure the certification of the citizency. ation and the potential of private education in this state. As always when such policy is obvious, then the question as to the motive behind the policy instantly arises. We believe that a group of men dedicated to the idea of state education, the training of the individual by the state, the complete domination of the col-lege student's mind by the state, has caused this smokescreen to be created. The thought of these men seems to be that the state will as-sume almost absolute control of all education. It is this thinking that holds up a scholarship It is this changing that holds up a scholarship bill which would permit qualifying students to choose their own colleges: it is this thinking which is sponsoring a panic program of expendi-ture in arder to frighten the unsuspecting voter into submission. Some of these men whose educational thinking seems completely at variance with the traditional American pattern have played down the contribution of private education so that the voters will be stampeded into author-ting unheard-of sums for state-controlled ed-ucation. Facts like the following have been carefully concealed so that state-controlled educat seem an imperative necessity. In the last two years, Fairleigh-Dickinson has purchased and developed a new 180-acre campus in addition to the two already in operation. Rider College has purchased a whole new campus in Lawrence Township. Rider will have built within the next two years two dormitories, a class building, a dining hall and a student union. College of St. Elizabeth has just completed a student activities building at the cost of $1.5 million and is embarking upon a $2.5 mil-lion further expansion program. Workers' Wages

... The worker must be paid a wage suffi-cient to support him and his family. That the rest of the family should also contribute to the common support, according to the capacity of each, is certainly right, as can be observed es-pecially in the families of farmers, but also in the families of many craftsmen and small shop-

THE ADVOCATE 10 March 13, 1959 A Spring Contest for Addie

By June Dwyer

Spring is in the air! So much so that Addie has Spring fever. We have tried to get her out of but it is no use. She told us that he was going to cele-brate the coming of Spring early this year — and what is more, she is going to get the whole Young Advocate Club to help hert help her!

We didn't know what to do. We didn't know what to do. Finally we decided to go along with Addie and then maybe she would get back to earth. So here it is. Young Advocates — Ad-'s message to you and our new contest.

ALL BOYS and girls in the fifth through the eighth grades can help Addie by writing some poetry. During the year we re-ceive poems from boys and ceive poems from boys and girls. Some of them are very good and we would like to print them, but we have a rule that we only use work that is done by the club members in the con by the club members in the con-tests. So here is your chance. Your poems may be on any phase of Spring — the flowers, the trees, what it means to you, the baseball games, why God gave us Spring. There are hun-dreds of thoughts on this beau-tiful time of the year. We have tiful time of the year. We have to agree that Addie has at least chosen a good subject to ket the boys and girls thinking

THE BOYS and girls from the kindergarten through the fourth grades have a choice in the con-test this time. The ones who can write are asked to write us an article on their favorite sea son. It might be Spring with its flowers and green things: it might be winter with its snow and cold winds. Or, it might be the autumn or the summer

We are sure you can think of our own good reasons for liking a special season. We also have a feeling that some of you will pick summer with its long vacation. It you can't write yet, and we have some good friends in the club who can't, we want you to draw us a picture of your favorite Spring flowers. We'll take the best ones and put them on Addie's desk so she can look at them all day. That will make her very happy. That will make her very happy

THE CONTEST opens today nd will close Wednesday, Apr 15 The smart boys and girls will get to work right away so they will have time to write they winning entries. The winners will receive cash prizes as al-ways: $5, first prize; $3, sec-ond prize; $2, third prize. And we will have certificates for the winners and the honorable men tion winners The Young Advocate Club secretary asked us to remind you to please write clearly. Sometimes we cannot be sure what you are writing. We take a guess and find we are wrong, and the mailman returns our letter. That means that your membership card or certificate do not arrive. She also asked us to remind you that all boys and girls from the kindergarten through the eighth grade are welcome to join our club. All they have to do is to send us an entry and do is to send us an entry and check the little box that says they want to be a member. WE WANTED to show this

WE WANTED to show this article to Addie but she is sit-ting by the window looking out. I guess the only way to get her back to work is for the Young Advocates to get the entries in fast. She never stops working when the Young Advocates are concerned.

Pope John I

The newspapers have told us many things about Popes dur-ing the last few months. One Catholic but who treated the people kindly. Sometimes he even favored the Catholics. But of the things we learned was that the name John was taken most often by Popes. Our own Holy Father added another John to the list and become Pope John XXIII. this changed The emperor thought the Ro-man officials were plotting against him with Justin I the emperor of Constantinople.

Theodoric was quiet at first, but when he heard that Justin This week's saint is also named John In fact, he was the first Pope John He lived way back in 546 when the was being strict with Theodor ic's people living in Constan-tinople, he decided to send an ambassador to Justin at once. He picked Pope John to han-dle this dangerous job.

College Cage Season Ends With Victories

JERSEY CITY - The 1958-59 basketball season ended for North Jersey's three college teams last week, with reactions here, in South Orange and in Paterson, ranging from mild disappointment over the past to restrained enthusiasm for the future.

thusiasm for the future. St. Peter's closed out another successful campaign (15-6) with perhaps its top performance of the winter, a 92-70 rout of an Adelphi team which had won 18 of its past 19 games. This win, added to Manhattan's triumph over Fordham, gave the Peacocks as good a claim as anyone else to the metropolitan collegiate title. Still there was disappointment as the Peacocks were not selected to Washington the selection of the area this scoring honors for the area this score and a selection the selection of the selection to the metropolitan collegiate title.

as the Peacocks were not selected for either of the major tourna-ment — NIT or NCAA. By Msgr. William F. Furlong God asked him to do it, so he did it! Although he had been away from home, in captivity, for six years, God asked him to leave and in the interpret of the second as a missionary, and he did. God asked him to leave travel to an unfriendly pagan land as a missionary, and he did. God asked him to spend his days in tireless labor, and his nights in seem-ingly endless prayer, and he did that too. God asked him to con-vert all of Ireland, and St. Patrick did.

Maybe You Too

Reliable historians tell us it is unquestion-ably true that St. Patrick did to Christianity in less than 30 years! He himself wrote about "multitudes," and the "many thou-sands" whom he baptized and confirmed. And one history book tells of Patrick's consecrating 350 Bishops to take care of his many converts. Of this we can be sure what St. Patrick as to the inspiration put into his mind by God-"Patrick, become priest.

Of this we can be sure: what St. Patrick ac complished for the Church of Christ has never been surpassed, and perhaps never has been equal ed. And it all could have been so diferent! And it uld have been very different if Patrick's answer had been "No"

Surely the picture of the world today as God sees it, is very different from the way He planned for it to be. And the big-gest reason for the difference is that, down through the centuries, too many, invited by God as Patrick was, have said, "No, Lord."

"No, Lord." Just before ascending into heaven Christ said, "Go teach all nations." He wanted the whole world to be enveloped in the saving embrace of His Church. That was over 1,900 years ago. But today only 18.5% of the world is Catholic. Only about 34 million of the only 18.5% of the world is Catholic. Only about 34 million of the 171 milliom people in the United States are Catholic. And in the Archdiocese of Newark, more than one-half the people — more than one million — are not Catholic. The picture is not good. And why? Because not enough young men—and young women— called by God have had the love and the courage of a St. Patrick. Perhaps God is calling you to be another St. Patrick and to do phenomenal things just as big as he did. Are you amiling as though such a thing were absurd? If someone had made the same suggestion to 15 or 16-year-old Patrick, don't you think he too would have smilled? And even if it is very little God is calling you to do as a priest or Brother or Sister, every little bit counts a lot.

NEW STOCK OF FAMILY FOR WOMEN, CHILDREN, MEN

Since our 215 MAIN ST. location burned out, many of our customers have asked when and where Stenchever's would be ready to serve their family footwear needs. Now . . . Stenchever's is celebrating this big grand opening celebration with a most complete selection of brand new footwear for Women, Children and Men at 120 MARKET ST., corner MAIN, just a half block from our previous location. We cordially invite your patronage.
