Bills Would Restore Charity Immunity

TRENTON — Bills introduced simultaneously in the Assembly and the Senate sought to wipe clean religious charters and educational institutions immunity from liability for damages suffered by those taking advantage of their services. The bills are expected to be ready for a vote by April 1, as was introduced in the Senate by State Sen. James J. Wall. The decision came in the wake of two weeks of hearings held by the Senate Committee on Religious Immunity, which has as a member Sen. Frank J. Taylor, one of the sponsors of the Assembly measure now before the Senate, and an executive session held by the Senate on Feb. 28, when the new legal status of the state's religious charter was at issue.

David A. W. Smith, an expert on the legal status of the state's religious charters, said the bill would restore immunity to the entire state's religious institutions. He said the bill would also extend immunity to those who have taken advantage of the state's religious charters in the past.

is a most important word

In fact, it is probably the word to which we owe the growth of our business during the past half century. For value is what we offer above all. To make money means climbing with the inflated possible price. Incidentally, to answer a question that has been asked many times, the prices at our new millinery store are the same as those at our other stores, to which we encourage you to visit either for the same reason of avoiding undue values in all departments.

We CAN LOOK FOR A YEAR ROUND HOME IN THE CLASSIFIED COLUMNS OF THE ADVOCATE
Vocations
No Schools

Many Catholics were startled by the address which Bishop Lawrence O. Shehan, president general of the National Catholic Educational Association, made in February at the annual convention of that body in Cleveland. Why did a Catholic Bishop call for the campaign to send Catholic boys into the seminary? Because the Church needs priests and the present shortage is caused by an oversupply of priests in the United States.

Without considering the merits of the Bishop's predictions, the fact remains that religious vocations still exist, and that we must do all we can to encourage and assist them. This is especially important in our community where we feel the need of more priests. Many priests have left the active life and been replaced by others. The Church needs them and so does the community.

It is our duty to encourage vocations, whether the Bishop's predictions are correct or not. There are still vocations to be offered, and we must do all we can to encourage them. The Church needs them, the community needs them, and we need them.

New Kingdom of 'Summit' Meeting

It may or may not be the case that all roads lead to Rome; or that every man's path is paved with stones; or that all right angles are "the same." But there is no question that in our time the word "Summit" is a household word. The United States is the "Summit" and this meeting will be one of the most important of its kind in our time. It is a tribute to the enduring peace, as well as to the enduring power of this nation, that we are meeting here this year to discuss this important problem.

In the United States, the word "Summit" means something more than a mountain peak. It means a place of meeting, a place where people come together to discuss important issues. It is a place where we can listen to different views and work towards a common purpose.

This meeting is unique in many ways. It is a meeting of minds, a meeting of hearts, a meeting of nations. It is a meeting of the future. It is a meeting of the United States and the world. It is a meeting of the United States, the United Nations, and the rest of the world. It is a meeting of the United States, the United Nations, and the rest of the world. It is a meeting of the United States, the United Nations, and the rest of the world. It is a meeting of the United States, the United Nations, and the rest of the world.

Population Explosion

It seems that a major problem facing the world today is overpopulation. The population of the world continues to grow and there are many people who believe that it is a problem.

The problems associated with overpopulation are many and varied. There is the problem of the need for more food, more housing, more schools, and more jobs. There is the problem of the need for more resources, more energy, more water, and more land. There is the problem of the need for more citizens, more voters, more workers, and more consumers.

There is also the problem of the need for more government, more law, more order, and more peace. There is the problem of the need for more religion, more spirituality, more morality, and more charity.

America: First Half-Century

America, the land of opportunity, has been the home of many generations. It is a land of diversity, a land of freedom, a land of opportunity. It is a land of democracy, a land of progress, a land of love. It is a land of beauty, a land of hope, a land of dreams.

What is it that makes America great? What is it that makes this land so special? What is it that makes America a land of opportunity? Is it the land itself, or is it the people who live there? Is it the history of this land, or is it the future of this land?

The United States is a land of opportunity, and it is a land of freedom. It is a land of democracy, and it is a land of progress. It is a land of love, and it is a land of dreams.

Fruits of the Mass

By Msgr. George W. Sweeney, S.T.D.

The Mass is a feast for the Church and for the congregation. It is a time to remember and to celebrate. It is a time to give thanks and to be grateful.

‘Late Vocations’ For Women

Editor: We awaited with interest last week’s issue of The Advocate to see how many would indicate their willingness to participate in the organization of a group of young men and women to consider the possibility of their being confirmated in the Catholic Church. We are aware of the efforts of the Diocese in the War II era by a few Catholic women to bring this plan to fruition. It may not have been an easy program to work out, but from our point of view, it was well worth while. We had hoped that many of the women who have contacted us would be interested in this. If so, may we suggest that they contact the editor of The Advocate, 661 W. L. St., Los Angeles 15, Calif., or write her with detailed information to the effect that they are interested in participating in the formation of a group of young Catholic women.

Mildred Chase, Detroit

A June Kelly, Union City

This is in reply to the letter written by our reader indicating ‘Late Vocations to Catholic Women.’ The suggestion that a group of Catholic women be formed in a city is one which should be seriously considered. The thought of a group of women who are young and are not married would be helpful in the education of other girls who are interested in the Catholic faith. The group could be composed of young women who are interested in the education of other girls who are interested in the Catholic faith. The group could be composed of young women who are interested in the Catholic faith. The group could be composed of young women who are interested in the Catholic faith.

Although the Society for the Propagation of the Faith is the Pope’s official agency for assisting the poor and the persecuted in their efforts to become members of the Catholic Church, the Society does not seek to convert anyone. It is an ecumenical organization that works with people of all faiths and backgrounds.

The Society was founded in 1742 by Cardinal de la Courte de Pontrieux, a French cardinal who had been born into a rich and powerful family. He was noted for his wealth and his generosity, both of which he gave to the poor and to the Church.

The Society is headquartered in Rome, Italy, and is run by a board of directors, who are elected by the Society’s members. The Society has chapters in many countries, including the United States, the United Kingdom, and Canada.

The Society’s mission is to help the poor, the sick, and the oppressed by providing financial assistance, education, and spiritual support. The Society also works to promote peace and justice in the world.

The Society’s annual appeal is conducted in the United States, and it is supported by contributions from individuals, churches, and other organizations. The Society’s work is funded entirely by contributions from its members.

The Society is a registered 501(c)(3) organization, and all contributions are tax-deductible.

The Society’s work is carried out by its own members, as well as by a network of local parishes and other organizations around the world.

The Society’s work is supported by a strong board of directors, who are elected by the Society’s members. The board is responsible for overseeing the Society’s operations and making sure that its work is carried out effectively.

The Society is a member of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, which is a federation of Catholic organizations in the United States.

The Society is a member of the World Council of Churches, which is a worldwide organization of Christendom.

The Society is a member of the International Union of Superiors General, which is an international association of Catholic religious women.

Versatile Morristown Man Finds Niche in Monastery

By Anne Mac Buckley

The Rev. Michael Collins, 23, has been both a fan and an artist of the arts. He's been a frequent contributor to the page for his work in photography, painting, and writing. His art is often inspired by his love of nature, and he enjoys exploring new forms of expression in his work. He's currently working on a series of paintings that explore the beauty of the natural world, and he's looking forward to sharing it with the public soon.

Stage Fright Is a Real Problem Facing All Young Advocates

By June Dwyer
With many young people getting ready for spring plays and with St. Valentine's at the end of the week, the Young Advocate office is more than filling up with phone calls and letters from club members who fear they are falling behind in the running of their club or that others are ahead of them in the running.

Some of the boys are probably finding themselves in strange situations. They are finding them- selves in places they never thought they would be. They are finding themselves in situations that are not right for them. They are finding themselves in situations that are not good for them. They are finding themselves in situations that are not healthy for them.

The real reason for this is the fact that we are all falling behind in our studies. We are all falling behind in our work. We are all falling behind in our responsibilities. We are all falling behind in our duties. We are all falling behind in our obligations. We are all falling behind in our responsibilities. We are all falling behind in our duties. We are all falling behind in our obligations.

Probably all of the problems that are happening right now are going to be solved in the next few weeks. We are going to solve all of the problems that are happening right now. We are going to solve all of the problems that are happening right now. We are going to solve all of the problems that are happening right now.

The reason for this is that we are all going to be working on our studies. We are all going to be working on our work. We are all going to be working on our responsibilities. We are all going to be working on our duties. We are all going to be working on our obligations. We are all going to be working on our responsibilities. We are all going to be working on our duties. We are all going to be working on our obligations.

The reason for this is that we are all going to be working on our studies. We are all going to be working on our work. We are all going to be working on our responsibilities. St. Mary's, Orange, to Cap 18 Nursing Students

St. Mary's Hospital, Orange, is proud to announce the arrival of 18 students who have completed their studies in preparation for a career in nursing.

These students, who have graduated from various nursing schools, will begin their clinical training at St. Mary's Hospital. They will be supervised by experienced nurses and will receive extensive training in all aspects of nursing.

The students will be divided into groups and will rotate through different departments throughout the hospital. They will have the opportunity to work with different patient populations and will gain valuable experience in providing quality care.

Congratulations to all the new nurses and welcome to St. Mary's Hospital.
Union Diamond Squads
See Brighter Future

ELIZABETH — Only one of five Union County Catholic high school baseball teams a year ago won a record in 1959, but a renaissance may develop this season.

None was the tiny Trinity of Elizabeth, which won a total of almost 200 last year, and was the only school also the top hitting team in Mercer County.

The Trinity season was a decision. Short schedules do not make for development but the Trinity can find the winning team for the coming season.

With a team composed of Holy Name and both Southern High School, the Diamond Squads are putting together a new lineup.

Only two are returning, and Mike Pronin was made over the season by the new baseball coach, Catholic High School, who then hired the Trinity of Elizabeth.

The squad is made up of Trinity players, and Mike Pronin is considered a winner because he has the best hitting team in the state.

The Trinity of Elizabeth had the top hitting team in the state last year, and Trinity's Mike Pronin is considered a winner because he has the best hitting team in the state.

Vocation Notes:

Saints in Old Ireland

By Msgr. William F. Furlong

An actual Irish link noted states that "A New Lost Sister (B)" was first received by the Early Church in Rome, where it was a popular liturgical song. However, not all such events were necessarily associated with the Irish Church. The "Vocation" is a liturgical song that was sung in many monasteries and churches throughout Ireland. It is not uncommon for such events to be associated with the Irish Church.

Your Notes:

"It's that much the best sort of..."...is a song in a bag, and what God expects"...is the first verse of a popular song by the popular Irish singer, "Sister of the Good Shepherd."

"PLOBIE WINDOW" This window exhibit on Girl Scout activity, prepared by the troop at St. Aloysius, is one of the most attractive in the House of the Public Library, Apr. 9-18. The pictures describe a scene from the Girl Scout's life from her induction to her departure to school. The pictures are arranged chronologically and depict various aspects of the Girl Scout life, including camp, meetings, and community service.

Morris Plains' Bill Beatty: A Fellow Who Gets Around

"We've been talking to Bill Beatty, portraitist at St. Aloysius' and national winner for international art." The portrait was selected as the winner of the 1964 National Portrait Society competition.

Catholic Scout Banquet Sponsored for Elizabeth

"Miss Mary Fayhan, chairman, for Catholic Scouts of the Negro Archdiocese is announcing the Catholic Scout Banquet for this year." The event is sponsored by the Catholic Church and is open to all members of the Catholic Scouting organization.

To Speak on 1964 JERSEY CITY - General Mil- ler, Director of National Scouting for International Development, will speak on "The Future of Scouting." The event is sponsored by the Catholic Church and is open to all members of the Catholic Scouting organization.

Catholic Church in New Jersey

"The Catholic Church in New Jersey has announced the opening of a new office in Jersey City." The office is located at 123 Main Street and is open to all members of the Catholic Church.

Spring Concert for Glebe Club

"The Spring Concert for Glebe Club will be held on Saturday, April 12th, at the Glebe Club in Jersey City." The concert is open to all members of the Glebe Club and is sponsored by the Catholic Church.

Three Keys Hold Spring Box Ride JERSEY CITY -- The Three Keys Hold Spring Box Ride will be held on Saturday, April 12th, at the Glebe Club in Jersey City." The ride is open to all members of the Catholic Church and is sponsored by the Catholic Church.

Scouts Set Social

"The Boy Scouts of America, in cooperation with the Catholic Church, have announced the opening of a new social event for all members of the Catholic Church." The event is scheduled for Saturday, April 12th, at the Glebe Club in Jersey City.

"To Have and to Hold"..."Bloomfield is a marriage bureau for all ages"...is a popular song about marriage." It is not uncommon for such events to be associated with the Catholic Church.

The Advocate  April 16, 1959

Says Schools Are Hounded

BANGLADESH, India—Bishops, visitors, and educators from the United States, India, and Canada were shocked last month when Bishop John W. Cuneo of Buffalo, New York, announced that he was organizing a new school in Bangladesh to teach Catholic and non-Catholic children the Bible and the catechism. The announcement was made at a meeting in the city of New Delhi, capital of India.

The bishops, who are visiting India on a mission to the United Nations, said that they were not surprised by the announcement, but were disturbed by the fact that the school is being organized in violation of Indian law, which prohibits the teaching of religion in government-controlled schools.

Bishop Cuneo said that the school would be staffed by Catholic missionaries and would be open to all faiths. He added that the school would be free to all students, regardless of their religious beliefs.

The bishops also expressed concern about the safety of the students, who are expected to travel from their homes to the school daily.
