DEMONSTRATE IN KERALA: Demonstrators ride on tracks through streets in Changanacherry, in Indian State of Kerala, during demonstration against the communist education law. Demonstrations in some areas were met with gunfire and at least 11 were killed. The demonstrations were organized by Catholics and Hindu groups, the two groups which operate most of the 7,000 private schools in Kerala.

Kerala Police Attack

School Law Rallies

THIRUVANANTHAPURAM, Kerala (UNN) — Violence broke out in various parts of this communist ruled state as Catholics and Hindu groups refused to reopen their schools, in protest against the government's attempts to control private schools as well as public education. Early reports showed 11 died and many others were hurt.

Protests which were in force on June 1, but the worst violence occurred on the northern outskirts of Trivandrum where 11 were killed. It was reported that 11 were killed in Trivandrum alone before the protests paused.

The violent demonstration was organized by the educational departments of the Indian government and the Madras government which had recently been made aware of the protests.

The protests were a series of one-man demonstrations against the government, and government groups demonstrated against the opposition's education law.

ONLY DUNIYA: Protesters on the state's capital were a series of one-man demonstrations against the government, and government groups demonstrated against the opposition's education law.

The first major incident occurred when teachers burned the school desk of a school which had been closed down by the government. A few days later, the government closed down another school.

The opening of a school in the state's capital was attended by teachers from other parts of the country who had come to protest the government's actions.

The second major incident occurred when the police killed a schoolgirl who had been burned alive by the government.

Post Office Prohibits Publishing Of Books

Postal Service

Washingtov

The postal service has decided not to publish a book which attacks the Catholic religion. The book, "Catholics in America," was published by the National Catholic League, a Roman Catholic organization. The postal service has decided to prohibit the book because it contains material that is offensive to the Catholic Church.

Cuba Revises Ruling On College Degrees

HAVANA — Cuba has repealed a controversial law which invalidated degrees granted by private universities since 1959. The new law will now allow students to receive degrees from private universities.

Assignments Are Given 50 Area Priests

NEWARK — A new pastor was appointed by Archbishop Boland who arrived at the same time that another local priest was leaving for an important post in a Maryland seminary.

The new appointment included the transfer of 20 religious orders, one of which was the Diocese of Trenton, New Jersey. The new pastor was assigned to St. John's Seminary in New York City where he was ordained a priest in May 1947.

Will Move To Dismiss Hillyard Law Suit

TRENTON — Motion to end the court test of the New Jersey law providing scholarships to New Jersey high school graduates will be heard at a June 23 session of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court of New Jersey.

The court had decided last week that:

FATHER SULLIVAN's appeal from a Superior Court ruling, which had granted a preliminary injunction, would be entertained.

FATHER SULLIVAN could appear as a plaintiff in the lawsuit, but his presence was not necessary.

The issuance of an order from the court would be granted, but it would be limited to the purposes of the case.

THE NEW JERSEY State Supreme Court will hear the case later in June, after the preliminary injunction has been lifted.

2 Priests Driven Insane By Chinese Communists

HONG KONG (RNS) — Two native priests in Canton have been beaten to death in an apparent "brainwashing" by the Chinese government, according to church sources.

The sources said that the priests were beaten to death in the town of Canton, which is located on the Chinese mainland.

The cause of death has not been officially confirmed, but it is believed to be related to the priests' involvement in the Chinese Communist Party.

In other reports:

- Catholic priests in the Shanghai region have been detained by the Chinese government.
- The government has arrested at least 10 Catholic priests in the city of Shanghai.
- Church sources say that the government is willing to release the priests if they agree to denounce their faith.

Vatican Editor Hits Tahalasseh Trial

VATICAN CITY — The editor of the Vatican daily newspaper criticized the Tahalasseh trial, in which four white men accused of assassinating a Negro were convicted.

In a signed front-page editorial in his newspaper, Commentatore Paolo Frangipane, chief editor of L'Osservatore Romano, accused Pope Pius XII of being soft on communism and called for a more aggressive anti-communist policy.

The trial, which took place in a southern Italian town, has been controversial due to the perceived leniency of the Vatican's stance on communism.

In the editorial, Frangipane wrote, "Pope Pius XII has shown a remarkable lack of resolve in his handling of the communist threat. We must demand a more vigorous anti-communist policy from the Vatican."
Cardinal Stepinac: May Low Leg

BISHOP—Cardinal Stepinac may have to undergo an operation on his right leg, according to sources here. Preliminary examinations by Professor P. Perina and Dr. G. M. Peralta at the Catholic University in Zagreb showed a growth in the right leg. The Cardinal said that he would undergo an operation on his right leg at the end of his life. The operation will be performed at the Catholic University Hospital in Zagreb.

Mary Varick Gradually Filling Pilgrimage to St. Anne Shrine

JERSEY CITY — How many years will it be before the Anne de Beaupre? Varick who is a question mark will be answered by the Jersey Girl before the question mark turns to a question mark.

To a large extent Mary Varick of 31st Pacific Ave. plans to use this pilgrimage as an opportunity to gather information concerning the events of the 1920s. She has been a member of the parish since 1920 and is very familiar with the history of the church.

She says she has been aware of the pilgrimage since she was a child and has always wanted to be a part of it. She has planned to participate in the pilgrimage every year since she was a child.

The pilgrimage is a yearly event that has been going on for over 100 years. It was started by the Rev. Joseph O'Connell, who was the pastor of the parish at the time.

Varick says she is looking forward to the pilgrimage this year as she has been looking forward to it for the past few years. She has been planning to participate in the pilgrimage every year since she was a child.

Calls for Program To Aid Refugees

HONG KONG — It is easier to step a foot of steel or a leg of a tree from one country to another than it is to send a man from one place to another.

So said Joseph J. Hartney, East Director of Catholic Relief Services-NYC, in an interview with Catholic World in Hong Kong.

Hartney diplomatically evaded questions regarding the bans that certain countries place on non-Catholic refugees and the hard realities of the new situation in Southeast Asia and the Middle East.

There is, he said, a "Vatican Backing Refugee Year" as the Holy See encourages nations to work with different religious groups to extend help to refugees. Hartney, who is in the city to attend the United Nations General Assembly, said no more on the issue.

The Bravata Case

The quadruplets followed by a man with a woman who was not even legally his wife, both men and women who have been convulsed into a new political radicalism. In the words of the State Department, they have been a public arrest but that last to the arrest of several men under the terms of the Extradition Treaty in the United States.

The arrest is of particular importance in that it has been a severe shock to the political and social world. The American authorities have been forced to take a stand in the matter. It seems that the American authorities have been forced to take a stand in the matter. It seems that the American authorities have been forced to take a stand in the matter.

Geneva or Fatima?

As these lines are being written, the Rev. Peter J. Bravata is in Geneva, Switzerland. The case of Bravata is of particular importance in that it has been a severe shock to the political and social world. The American authorities have been forced to take a stand in the matter. It seems that the American authorities have been forced to take a stand in the matter.

El Centro Catolico

The Irish have their St. Patrick's Day, the Italian their St. Francis, but for the Frenchman it's Jean the Baptist's Feast. Next week will see the great annual deliberations of the French Congress. The Parisian has sprung up out of out-of-the-way, peculiar persons, and those who are in the States as its last hope for salvation. The Parisian is a mystery, and as such is always fascinating to the American. This fact is evidenced by the fact that the Congress always attracts a large attendance, and the Congress always attracts a large attendance.

Decision vs. Legislation

During the past week, the attention of our readers was centered on the Supreme Court. This case involves a matter of utmost importance to the people of the United States. The United States Congress is now in session, and it is hoped that its proceedings will be continued.

Red Chinese Aims Exposed

In a Letter From Tibetans

By Louis Francis Budera

In his famous novel, "The Red Shirt," which is the subject of the revolution in the Near East, where the red shirt is seen as a symbol of the oppressed classes, the author of the novel brings to life the Chinese people, especially the revolutionary elements among them. The novel is a powerful statement of the Chinese people's fight for freedom and justice.

Congratulations to the Young Advocate Grads of 1959

Dear Class of 1959:

This week thousands of you will be launching into a new and exciting stage for life. This time for you as you go on to college or on to other challenges.

As you look into your own futures, remember that you are a product of this school, a product of the work of the teachers, the parents and the students who have all contributed to your education. The future is yours, but it is also the responsibility of each of you to make it a success.

We wish you all the best of luck as you go on to new challenges.

Sincerely,

Principal

Addie's Exam.

Addie was excited about her upcoming exam. She had been studying hard for weeks and was confident in her preparation. As she walked into the classroom, she felt a sense of anticipation.

The exam was on the subjects of high school, college, and history. Addie had been learning about the lives and contributions of various historical figures.

Here are some of the questions from Addie's exam:

Questions:

1. What are the main reasons for the Civil War? Circle one: A. Abolition of Slavery / B. Economic Disputes / C. States' Rights

2. Who was the first woman to vote in the United States? Circle one: A. Susan B. Anthony / B. Elizabeth Cady Stanton / C. Sojourner Truth

3. What was the significance of the Industrial Revolution? Circle one: A. It led to the development of new industries / B. It increased the demand for women workers / C. It caused a decline in the availability of jobs for men

4. What was the name of the newspaper that was started by Frederick Douglass? Circle one: A. The North Star / B. The Liberator / C. The New York Times

5. How many amendments are in the United States Constitution? Circle one: A. 27 / B. 34 / C. 43

Addie was confident in her answers and felt ready for the test. She knew that preparation was key and that with hard work, she could achieve her goals.

DOMINICAN CANDIDATES ADVANCE IN CALDWELL

Caldwell— Bishop Curtis presided at the reception and presentation of candidates for the sisterhood at the Cathedral of Our Lady of the Rosary in Caldwell at the motherhouse June 15. Twenty-eight prospective candidates, who were received in the order of their names, were blessed. Among the prospective candidates, many were blessed in the presence of the bishop and sisterhood and are expected to take their first vows, specifically, for the Marywood Province, the Motherhouse of the Dominican Sisters of Marywood in Caldwell.

East Orange— Bishop Talley administered the rite of confirmation to 115 youths at St. Joseph's Cathedral. Among the group were four girls who are prospective candidates for the Dominican Sisters of Marywood in Caldwell.

COLUMBUS, Ohio—(CNS) A new study of Ohio's postwar immigration patterns indicates that the state's population is growing more rapidly than in any other state. The study, released at a conference on immigration in Columbus, Ohio, was conducted by the Department of Social Work at Ohio State University. The study, which surveyed 5,000 residents of the state, found that the number of people moving to Ohio has increased by 20% since 1960. The study also found that the largest groups of people moving to Ohio are those who have been born in Ohio, followed by those who have been born in other states.

NCCW FIGHTS EQUAL RIGHTS AMENDMENT

WASHINGTON— The National Council of Catholic Women (NCCW), Inc., has launched a campaign to fight the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA) in order to preserve the traditional family. The amendment, if passed, would extend the scope of the 14th Amendment to women, thereby allowing women to sue for marital separation, marital property division, and other marital rights.

What it is about the ERA that makes it so dangerous to the family?

The ERA would allow women to sue for marital separation, marital property division, and other marital rights. This would lead to a breakdown of the traditional family structure.

Why is this so important?

This is important because the family is the foundation of society. The family provides the stability and security that is necessary for the well-being of all members of society.

The NCCW stance against the ERA is consistent with its commitment to the traditional family. The NCCW supports the family as a social institution that is based on the complementary roles of men and women.

The ERA would undermine this commitment by allowing women to sue for marital separation, marital property division, and other marital rights. This would lead to a breakdown of the traditional family structure.

The NCCW is a powerful voice in the debate over the ERA. The NCCW has been active in opposition to the ERA for many years, and its members are working hard to educate their communities about the dangers of the ERA.

The NCCW is committed to preserving the traditional family, and it is committed to fighting the ERA in order to protect the family.
Harrington to Try Again In Postponed Polo Vault

NEW YORK — A violent storm at Randalls Island on June 13 put off the official end of the 1939 track and field season for North Jersey Catholic schools to June 19.

Tom Harrington, St. Benedict's junior, will be one of the few track performers to make the trip to Randalls Island for the final event of the season, which was rescheduled by the New York Athletic Club, this year's host of the final event, because of a hurricane warning.

Harrington will be the only track performer from the North Jersey Catholic schools to make the trip since Ed Cusack, also of St. Benedict's, had already finished his season at the New York Athletic Club.

Cusack won the 500-meter event last week at Randalls Island, and Harrington will be hoping to win the 400-meter event this week.

Harrington will be accompanied to Randalls Island by Mike Collins of St. Benedict's, who will be competing in the 800-meter event.

Harrington, who is currently ranked sixth in the country in the 400-meter event, will be hoping to improve his position in the national rankings.

Harrington's performance at Randalls Island will be an important factor in determining his eligibility for the upcoming national championships.

In the 400-meter event, Harrington will be up against a strong field of competitors, including Ed Cusack, who is currently ranked second in the country.

Harrington has been training hard for the national championships, and he is confident that he will be able to perform at his best.

Pontiff Advises Mission Seminarians To Develop Humility and Study Hard

NEW YORK (CNS)—Following is a translation of an address delivered by Pope John XXIII on May 18, 1956, in center of the Pontifical Biblical College of the Prophets of the Faith. The Pope outlined the aims and goals of the College and said the rich tapestry of Scripture would be the surest road to the path of truth and purity of heart

"Though the whole world is full of books, there are no books on the science of the heart. If you ask me where to find the heart of the 11th century, I will say in the heart of the heart of the 12th century, and so on through the whole world and through all the ages."

Mr. Fulship

1. First of All, Satisfaction

A month has passed from the beginning of the Mission Seminary at the mission of the Holy Spirit. This month, Pope Pius XI, is at the most evident reason for the foundation of the Seminary. The Seminary, the Church, and the heart of the Pope, make the foundation of the Mission Seminary.

ON THE DAY of the foundation of the Mission Seminary, Pope Pius XI, to the ancient meeting of the Mission Seminary, said: "He is the heart of the Church, the heart of the Seminary, and the heart of the Pope, the foundation of the Mission Seminary."
