Archbishop Supports Cuban Land Reform

SANTIAO, Chile — A second Cuban Bishop has repudiated public support of the land reform program by Fidel Castro’s revolutionary government.

He is Archbishop Enrique Berruguete of Santiago. In the first of two statements following publication of the Castro-inspired program, Berruguete said he was so moved by the Government’s real purpose was to undermine the Catholic Church that he was bound by his conscience to declare his opposition to the land reform plans.

After parts of his ministry have been under government control, Berruguete said that the struggle for the next world” was not for the present program.

Berruguete announced he was from the Church and the Bishop of the Archdiocese of Guadalajara in Mexico.

The Archbishop has been excommunicated by the Church and is not recognized as a Bishop by the other Catholic Bishops in the world.

Berruguete’s statement was prompted by the program which was announced at the end of last week.

The Year of the Fugitive

A sound of humanity is nearer now than ever before. The Church is gathering itself. The bishops are in the fiery furnace of persecution. The Sudan is burning. The East is on the brink of revolution. The world is in a state of ferment. The question of whether the Church is to survive or perish is no longer a matter of speculation. The International Council of Church Union has taken a stand and is prepared to fight. The year has been marked by a series of events which have brought to the forefront the participation of the Church in the world's struggle for peace and freedom. The Church is no longer content to remain an observer. It is determined to be a leader. The Church is determined to fight. The Church is determined to win.

His Kind

By Louis Francis Budens

In 1954, the Communist Party of the United States (CPC-US) was formed. It was a group of people who believed in the principles of communism and sought to establish a communist society in the United States. The CPC-US was a breakaway from the Communist Party of America (CPA), which had been active in the United States since 1919. The CPC-US was led by Alger Hiss, a former FBI agent who had been accused of spying for the Soviet Union.

Catholic Must Play Social Action Role

By Rev. George G. Higgins

The Church’s emphasis on the need for Catholic social action before and after World War II was not new, but in recent years there has been an increase in that effort. This emphasis is part of the Church’s mission to proclaim the Gospel of Jesus Christ in all aspects of life. The Church believes that social action is necessary to promote justice and peace in the world. It is a part of the Church’s commitment to love and serve all people, regardless of their race, ethnicity, or socio-economic status.

The Church’s social action programs are guided by the principles of the Gospel, which emphasize the need for compassion, mercy, and justice. The Church teaches that social action is a necessary part of the Church’s mission to proclaim the Gospel of Jesus Christ, and that it is an important way for the Church to express its commitment to love and serve all people.

Saints of the Week

Andrew, John, Paul, and Mary

The feast of St. Andrew, St. John, St. Paul, and St. Mary is observed on November 15th. These saints are honored for their contributions to the growth and development of the early Church. They were all chosen by the Holy Spirit to be instruments in the spread of the Gospel and in the establishment of the Church.

Andrew, the apostle, is known for his unwavering faith and his dedication to the cause of Christ. He was one of the first to follow Jesus and was present at the crucifixion. Andrew is remembered for his faithfulness and his willingness to give his life for the cause of Christ.

John, the apostle, is known for his role as a disciple and his contributions to the New Testament. He is remembered for his writings, which include the gospel of John and the three epistles.

Paul, the apostle, is known for his missionary work and his contributions to the growth of the Church. He traveled extensively, founding churches in many parts of the world. Paul is remembered for his wisdom and his ability to communicate the Gospel.

Mary, the mother of Jesus, is remembered for her faith and her role as a source of inspiration for the early Church. She is remembered for her role in the annunciation and her willing obedience to the will of God.

The feast of St. Andrew, St. John, St. Paul, and St. Mary is a time to remember the contributions of these saints to the growth and development of the early Church and to celebrate their faithfulness and dedication.
