Newark — A solemn benediction has played a major role in modern Church history. Pope John XXIII being the first pontiff to use this benediction, it was believed by many that this was a sign of the times, a century when the Church is responding to the needs of the world.

Like most benevolent gestures, the benediction begins with God, "Benedictus Deus in sanctis suis." "Benedictus" is an archaic word meaning "blessed." The benediction concludes with the "Amen." This is a customary form of closing that is common in all religious communities.

The benediction is an expression of faith, love, and hope. It is a sign of the times, a sign of the Church's response to the needs of the world.

Classifying ‘Adult’ Movies Would Require State Laws

By William H. Manning

Two recent events—Catholic bishops conference in New York and the 15th annual convention of the National Catholic School Superintendents Association in Chicago—have been a focus of controversy regarding the classification of movies for adults. At both conferences, resolutions were adopted recommending that all movies considered adults by the motion picture industry be required to be screened by state or local authorities before distribution to ensure that they are suitable for adults.

The resolutions were part of a larger effort to address concerns about the growing number of violent and explicit films being released by Hollywood studios. Bishops and educators argued that such films could have a negative impact on children and adolescents, and that a system of state-level classification would be necessary to protect young people from inappropriate content.

Many states have already implemented some form of movie classification, but the resolution called for a uniform system that would apply to all states. The bishops and educators envisioned a system similar to the one used by the Motion Picture Association of America (MPAA), which assigns ratings such as G, PG, PG-13, and R to films based on their content.

The resolutions also called for加强对teachers and parents to be educated about the rating system and to help children understand the importance of choosing appropriate movies.

The resolutions were greeted with mixed reactions from the film industry. Some studios supported the idea of state-level classification, while others were concerned about the potential for increased regulation and costs. The resolution will serve as a basis for further discussions with government officials and industry representatives on the issue of movie classification for adults.

Msgr. Dougherty Writes on Bible

By Anna Mae Buckley

DARLINGTON — A bridge from the mind of the Bimah scholar to the ken of the ordinary reader has been constructed by an outstanding expert on the Scripture. Msgr. John J. Dougherty.

Far from consoling Bible reading to the informed scholar, Msgr. Dougherty says in the preface of his new book, "Letting the Scriptures Speak," that the task is to make it "an instrument of the highest order" and "an argument of the highest order."" He refers to the Biblical exegesis that is evidence that a God is to be found in the Bible.

"It is a matter of science rather than of religion, says the author in his analysis of the nature of the Bible. "That's the reason why some seem so ironical to the average reader of the Bible."

"The author has however reminded the reader to the origin of the Bible."

"In his exploration of the "whole world" and the people, the author has laid out the Admira Bibles, providing many instances of the Bible, which can be seen in a single volume.

Debts and Decisions

The Advocate
October 8, 1959

$60 million dollars is a great deal of money. In fact, it is more than the annual budget of many states. And it is more than the entire budget of many small towns. Yet, it is not enough. The people of America are being asked to pay for something that is not only essential, but necessary. The problem is how to best use this money. And this is where the decisions come in.

Moscow Reaping Benefits From Khrushchev Visit

By Louis Francis Buddens

Twenty-two years ago, when America was a nation of farmers, women, and children, there was a much different world. A world where the Soviet Union was just an idea, and the people of this country were more concerned with their daily lives than with the future of the world. Today, however, the world is a different place. And so is America.

The Soviet Union has made impressive gains in the past few years. Their recent visit to Moscow by President Khrushchev has drawn much attention. People are wondering what this means for America. Will we be able to compete with the Soviet Union in the global arena? Will we be able to maintain our position as the world's leader?

The answer to these questions is not clear. But what is clear is that America must be prepared for whatever the future may bring. The Soviet Union is a formidable opponent, and we cannot afford to be caught off guard.

The Decision to Buy

The decision to buy is a difficult one. It requires careful consideration of the costs and benefits. But in the end, it is the decision that will determine the future of America. Will we be able to compete with the Soviet Union? Or will we be forced to withdraw from the global arena?

The decision to buy is a complex one. But it is necessary if we are to maintain our position as the world's leader. And it is a decision that we must make soon. For the future of America depends on it.
Teen Dating Can Be Useful If Not Taken Seriously

By Rev. John L. Thomas, S.J.
Assistant Professor of Theology

I'm a junior and most girls and boys in my class go out to dinner or go to the movies only when they go any place. Since I intend to go to college, I've an interest in starting a relationship. Sometimes I think it's good to cut itself off from others.

During this time, I've enjoyed getting a chance to know other people. I've also been able to share my desire with others and develop my own emotional and social life. Besides the opportunity to develop in a group, dating offers the potential of developing a new relationship with a mate.

If you're interested in dating, there are many benefits. You'll learn how to communicate and develop your own self-confidence. In the next few weeks, I'll discuss the reasons for dating, and you'll have the chance to develop your own opinions about the topic. What should you do? Where should you go? What can you talk about?

Old Man Winter Whispers
His Secret Through the Trees

By Jane Daye

The leaves have been blown from the trees again and old man winter is starting to make his entrance. The trees, changed into winter, stand like silhouettes against the sky. The snow on their branches is a silent reminder of the coming season. Winter may be a time of solitude for some, but it's a time of beauty for others.

Old man winter is just reaching the peak of his glory. The trees are now bare, and the wind howls through the branches. The cold temperatures bring a new kind of beauty to the landscape. The world is transformed into a winter wonderland.

The trees, though bare, have a new kind of beauty. The snow that clings to their branches is a silent witness to the beauty of winter. The world is transformed into a winter wonderland.

Mary sang the song "The Road to Emmaus" while on a bus ride. She was a woman who was very much in love with her religion. She was a woman who was very much in love with her faith.

Month for Mary

There’s no doubt about it, the month of May is dedicated to Our Lady of the Rosary, the month of Our Lady of Fatima, and the month of St. Joseph. All denominations — Roman Catholic, Protestant, and Jewish — will gather for a card party on May 26 to celebrate the feast day of the patroness of the home.

This past weekend was the annual Blue Mass breakfast hosted by Our Lady of the Rosary Church in Closter. The breakfast was held at 9 a.m. at the Closter Yacht Club. The proceeds from the breakfast will be donated to the Closter Catholic Community Center.

At the same time, the Blue Mass breakfast was held at St. Mary’s Church in Ridgewood. The breakfast was held at 11 a.m. at the Ridgewood Golf Club. The proceeds from the breakfast will be donated to the Ridgewood Catholic Community Center.

The Blue Mass breakfasts are annual events that bring together members of the community to celebrate the feast day of the patroness of the home. The breakfasts are held at different locations each year, and the proceeds from the breakfasts are donated to local Catholic community centers.

So, mark your calendars for May 26 and join your friends and neighbors for a delicious breakfast and a chance to support local Catholic community centers.

Anniversary Marked by Canadian Bishops

QUEBEC — The Bishops of Canada, on the 200th anniversary of the establishment of their hierarchy, have asked Canadian Catholics to pray for canonization of Bishop John Joseph Ignace Bourget.

He was Bishop Francis Xavier Lacombe, a French-Canadian who was consecrated in 1839 and died in 1861 after being the first Bishop of Quebec. He is currently under consideration for sainthood by the Vatican.

Bishop Bourget, who was born in France, arrived in Canada in 1831 and served as a priest in Quebec City before being appointed as Bishop of Quebec in 1839. He built the first Catholic Church in Quebec City and established the first Catholic school in the province.

The Canadian Bishops announced their call to prayer for Bishop Bourget during their annual fall meeting in Ottawa. They said prayers for his canonization would be included in the Masses they celebrate on his feast day, October 17.

The Canadian Bishops also announced that they would be holding a special Mass for Bishop Bourget on October 17 at the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception in Quebec City, where Bishop Bourget was the first Catholic Bishop of Quebec.

The Canadian Bishops expressed their hope that Bishop Bourget’s canonization would “be a source of inspiration and encouragement for all Canadians, particularly for those who are involved in the work of building up the Church in our country.”
New Vatican Pay Increases May Cut Pope's Charities

VATICAN CITY (N.C.) — Two weeks before he died, Pope John XXIII confirmed the former president's instructions and then, in a farewell address, said his successor would have more money to use in the various funds and charities for which he has raised funds throughout the world.

The pope's pay raise, which was announced in the Vatican on July 1, was made in accordance with the wishes of his predecessor, who had been a wealthy man. The pay raise is designed to help the Vatican meet its financial obligations and to provide a margin of safety for the future.

The pay raise is expected to result in a significant increase in the Vatican's financial resources, which will be used to support a number of important causes, including the construction of new churches and schools, the provision of educational opportunities for the poor, and the promotion of social justice and human rights.

The pope has been a strong advocate of social justice and human rights, and has called for the establishment of a just and equitable society in which all people are treated with respect and dignity. He has also been a vocal critic of war and violence, and has called for the peaceful resolution of conflicts.

The pope's pay raise is expected to have a positive impact on the Vatican's financial resources, and will enable the Vatican to continue its important work in support of social justice and human rights.

“Why we chose Preakness Valley Estates the second time we bought a home...”

Rob Capozzoli tells how he picked the second home for his wife and five children.

“After living in a small cape cod in Long Island for nine years, we were ready to move upstate where we could be closer to our new home. After doing a lot of looking, we chose the new Preakness Valley Estates. After the first home, we knew we had to come back to Preakness Valley Estates because it was a great place to live. "One of the things we were looking for was a bigger house, and I particularly liked the big two-bedroom on the ground floor because it is perfect for our family with five kids. We love the outdoor space and the peace and quiet of our new home in Preakness Valley Estates."
