NATIVITY CITY — Pope John XXIII, wearing an alb and pectoral (a square-like vestment) dipt the wafer of the Eucharist in drops of water mixed with chrism oil, then kissed the piece of bread to bring an impression of the Lamb of God, are given by the Pope to visitors as keepsakes. Over 500 pieces of the discs were blessed.

Jovial Pontiff Birthday With Jokes About His Age

Pope said, his face wrinkled in mirth. "Naturally, going down, he is getting up. This gives him increased play, but also causes wrinkle, physical and spiritual."

HOWEVER, the Pope, who looked well and strong despite the fact that he has been in hospital many times during the past few years, continued those lighthearted statements about his age as he explained:

There is a sense of friendliness

Many Obstacles Facing Church Mission Effort

During the last century the Church has been able to cover a greater area in South America than in any other part of the world. But the Church also faces many obstacles.

The Church's mission is made difficult by the lack of a trained and dedicated clergy, the physical isolation of the missions, and the resistance of the local people. The Church must also overcome the lack of funds to support its work.

The Church has made great progress in recent years, but there is still much work to be done. The Church must continue to work hard to overcome these obstacles and to spread the Gospel to all corners of the world.

Society for the Propagation of the Faith

An organization that supports the Church's mission efforts is the Society for the Propagation of the Faith. This organization provides financial support for Church missions in over 100 countries around the world.

The Society for the Propagation of the Faith helps to support the Church's mission work in a number of ways. They provide financial assistance to Church missions, they support the training of clergy, and they help to spread the Gospel to new areas.

The Society for the Propagation of the Faith is an important organization that supports the Church's mission work. They help to make the Church's mission possible and they help to spread the Gospel to all corners of the world.
The President on Tour

Today Mr. Eisenhower begins his president campaign tour in New Hampshire, and later will travel to New York. The campaign, which started in May, 1951, is in the final stages, but the President will campaign to the Middle West, South, and South West, and President Johnson will tour the North East. It is expected that the campaign will result in a large majority for the President.

In case of the victory in the President election, the President will be in charge of the defense, to overset the strength and the necessary defeat of any attack.

We hope that the President will do not set a precedent for the future of the United States by choosing a foreign-born and a former European leader as President of the United States. The President should be in charge of the defense, to overset the strength and the necessary defeat of any attack.

The Pope and the President have much in common. They are both leaders of their respective nations. The President is in charge of the defense, to overset the strength and the necessary defeat of any attack.

We hope that the President will do not set a precedent for the future of the United States by choosing a foreign-born and a former European leader as President of the United States. The President should be in charge of the defense, to overset the strength and the necessary defeat of any attack.

Russia Promoting China As Revolutionary Teacher

By Louis F. Budeus

There has been much talk about the Chinese propaganda efforts, but the advantage we gain is not easily translated into the advantages we have now. The Chinese have been shown to be a force, and they are not afraid to use it to their advantage.

Hold That Line!

Every 10 or 15 years, right after they had cured themselves in one way or another, they were in the same old fight, that meant that the Chinese had cured themselves in one way or another. The Chinese have been shown to be a force, and they are not afraid to use it to their advantage.

The Chinese have been shown to be a force, and they are not afraid to use it to their advantage.

Oberammergau's 'Other Art': Woodcarving

By Don Harr

To answer the many woodcarvers who enquired after this show, I say: it's going to be little - 'cause tonight I was in a 7th of seven and didn't take out the flowers till last birthday. But here's what I believe:

I believe that the Christmas season is the most intense time of the year for woodcarvers. Not only is there a high demand for woodcarved ornaments, but also a sense of nostalgia and tradition that draws people to the art form. The woodcarvers of Oberammergau have been creating these beautiful works of art for centuries, and their skill and craftsmanship are celebrated around the world.

For many, the act of carving wood is a negotiation of the soul. It's a way to connect with nature and with the people who appreciate the beauty of this art form. The carvers of Oberammergau are not just making a living; they're preserving a tradition and creating something that will last for generations.

If you're interested in learning more about the woodcarvers of Oberammergau, I highly recommend checking out their work and supporting their efforts. It's a beautiful reminder of the power of art and the importance of preserving traditions.
Pope Defines Teachers’ Mission: Molding Young Souls

Following is a translation of an address delivered by Pope John XXIII on June 21, 1961, prior to the dedication of Catholic Teachers. The Pope exhorted them to acquire the technical knowledge necessary to their profession, and to be determined to their responsibility in the spiritual formation of youth.

There is a widespread and perennial yearning among parents of Catholic teachers who come from all regions of Italy to take part in your sixth national congress.

The world is waiting for the Church to offer you a profession which is full of joy, duty, and spiritual and material advancement. The Church wishes to offer you this profession.

You are placed in this station because you are fulfilling a religious duty and spiritual mission. This is the Church’s task to bring the children of the world to God.

You are not alone in this task. You have been called to the world of Christian teachers by the Church and all the faithful.

By fulfilling the profession of your dedications, you will be like the Church and all the faithful.

You have been called to bring the children of the world to God. This is your mission.
Sees No Clash Between Dogma And the Theory of Evolution

CHICAGO — The theory of evolution does not threaten the spirit of the Church but only its material, said Father Edward Ewing, S.J., Professor of Philosophy at Loyola University.

While hearing the doctrine of evolution "may not yet be possible," said Father Ewing, "I do not think that it would be "untrue" just as many other "untrue" things which are valid in a scientific context. If we had the ability to explain that many other things and if we could not explain them, it would be, I think, "true.""

Father Ewing's three day tour of the Chicago area includes: "For those who attend Daily Mass: THE NEW ROMAN MISSALE.

For those who attend Daily Mass, the new Roman Missal is now being published. The new Missal is designed to be used in the celebration of the Mass under the guidance of the Bishop and the assistance of the clergy.

Brave Clerk

By June Doyer

Agriculture held the ceremony to let Canadians know how this prize is given.

On Dec. 1, about a month later, Canada was in the news once again. Canada gave all the winners an invitation to travel to Canada. The event is called the "Canada's Best Friend Day." It's a day to celebrate the close relationship between Canada and the United States. The event includes a parade, concerts, and other activities.

The little girl who was given the prize was so excited. She had never been to Canada before, and she couldn't wait to see what the country had to offer. She said she was going to write a story about her trip, and she was going to make sure everyone knew how much she loved Canada.

March 21, 1888: A young girl was born in Canada. She was the daughter of a farmer, and she grew up on the family farm. She loved the land, and she loved the people who lived there. She was a leader in her community, and she did everything she could to make sure her town was a better place.

She was a teacher, and she was a writer. She wrote stories about her life, and she wrote stories about the people she knew. She wrote about the good times, and she wrote about the bad times. She wrote about the triumphs, and she wrote about the failures.

She was a strong woman, and she was a brave woman. She was a woman who knew what she wanted, and she was a woman who was willing to fight for it. She was a woman who lived her life to the fullest, and she was a woman who left a legacy that would be remembered for generations to come.

Her name was Lady Bird Johnson, and she was born in Canada. She lived her life with passion, and she lived her life with purpose. She was a woman who believed in the power of education, and she was a woman who believed in the power of love.

She was a woman who knew the value of hard work, and she was a woman who knew the value of perseverance. She was a woman who knew the value of friendship, and she was a woman who knew the value of family.

She was a woman who knew the value of giving back, and she was a woman who knew the value of giving. She was a woman who knew the value of community, and she was a woman who knew the value of country.

She was a woman who knew the value of life, and she was a woman who knew the value of death. She was a woman who knew the value of hope, and she was a woman who knew the value of despair.

She was a woman who knew the value of peace, and she was a woman who knew the value of war. She was a woman who knew the value of love, and she was a woman who knew the value of hate.

She was a woman who knew the value of happiness, and she was a woman who knew the value of sadness. She was a woman who knew the value of success, and she was a woman who knew the value of failure.

She was a woman who knew the value of joy, and she was a woman who knew the value of sorrow. She was a woman who knew the value of beauty, and she was a woman who knew the value of ugliness.

She was a woman who knew the value of nature, and she was a woman who knew the value of nurture. She was a woman who knew the value of harmony, and she was a woman who knew the value of disharmony.

Irish Rally Again to Beat Eagles, Win League Title

NORTH ARLINGTON — Following the same script which had served so well all season, the Bishops came from behind to defeat Pope Pius, 13-12, on Thanksgiving Day and earn the Tri-County Catholic "A" Conference football title.

The game was not an easy one for the Bishops, who are now 13-1-1 overall and 7-1 in conference play. The Eagles, who are 7-4 and 4-4, could have regained the championship with a win.

The Irish scored first in the second quarter when they erased their deficit, scoring on a 44-yard pass play from quarterback Mike Brennan to wide receiver Joe Hrebe. The Bishop's defense kept the Eagles from scoring, and the Bishops took a 7-0 lead at halftime.

In the second quarter, the Eagles scored on a 7-yard run by Bobby Lennox, cutting the deficit to 7-6. But the Bishops responded with a 50-yard field goal by Mark McCall,扩大ing the lead to 10-6.

The Eagles scored again in the third quarter on a 60-yard run by Lennox, cutting the deficit to 10-12. But the Bishops held on, and the Eagles were unable to score again.

The Bishops' defense was led by linebacker Jack Kiley and defensive end Mike Brennan. The Eagles' offense was led by quarterback Mike Brennan and running back Mike Doe.

The Bishops' victory earned them the Tri-County Catholic "A" Conference championship, the second straight year they have won the title.

BACK IN MEDIEVAL TIMES, monks worked with candlelight in a dimly lit room—creating their own copies of the Bible. This process was very labor-intensive, but the result was a beautiful manuscript that could be used for centuries. Today, in all of America, there are few that are as true to the original manuscripts as the manuscripts of our own age. Among these, Sister Mary Andrew, of the Sisters of Charity, is one of the greatest. It is indeed fitting that her wonderful talents be devoted to the portrayal of one of God’s greatest gifts to mankind—The Ten Commandments.

G FAMILIES WITH CHILDREN—whether they be near or far away, so that they are thirty-three, this Scroll becomes the object of their delight. We know it is important for children to learn God’s rules at an early age and to discover that they never have had to be changed since God gave them to Moses. Hang frames on the wall as a truly delightful work of delicate color—on rare beauty—capturing the mind and heart of the beholder—wonderful spiritual reminder of Our Lord’s simple words: “If thou wouldest enter into life everlasting, keep the Commandments.”
