Fr. Weaver Named St. Michael's Pastor

UNION CITY - Rev. Alfred Weaver, C.P., a graduate of St. Michael's Grammar and High School, will return to his alma mater as pastor of St. Michael's Catholic Church. He comes to St. Michael's from St. Anselm's Missionary High School in South Bend, Indiana, where he has been pastor since 1956.

Every day's work is a reminder that Fr. Weaver attended Holy Cross Preparatory School in New York City, where he was a student from 1947-49, before entering the Congregation of the Passion. He was ordained a deacon on May 28, 1952, and was ordained a priest on June 30, 1955. Since his arrival in New York City, he has served as assistant to the pastor at St. Anselm's Missionary High School, as well as chaplain to the school's athletic teams. He was named as pastor of St. Michael's in 1956, when he was named as pastor for the following year.

The first thing to do is to start saving early. If you begin saving now, you'll have more time to build up your savings. And, let's face it, it's never too early to start planning for the future. When you start saving, you'll be able to track your progress and see how your savings are growing. This will motivate you to keep going and reach your financial goals. And, who knows, you might even find that you enjoy saving money! So, start saving now and see the difference it can make in your future.
NCWC Board Defends the Right of Individuals to Migrate

WASHINGTON — Every individual has a right to migrate to another country to better his life and this right should be supported by the law of all nations.

So said the administrative board of the National Catholic Welfare Conference in a statement released here by Mrs. Paul F. Thome, executive secretary.

The statement, made by Archbishop Keating J. Averill and William H. Welles, executive secretary of the board, a group of 13 Archbishops and Bishops chosen by the American Catholic Press Association to express the Catholic viewpoint, denounced immigration policies which the Catholic Church regards as unjust.

The statement said: "The Catholic Church in the United States was founded on the principle of free immigration for the poor and for the human family, and this right to immigrate has been a fundamental principle of American democracy. But as a result of the pressure of events in Europe, the right to immigrate has been curtailed, and the Catholic Church now finds itself faced with the necessity of defending this right in the face of unjust legislation which seeks to restrict the immigration of Catholic refugees and immigrants from Europe."

The statement continued: "We must not be content merely with opposing legislation, but rather must do all we can to overcome the spirit behind the legislation. The Catholic Church has always been the champion of the poor and the oppressed, and it is our duty to use every means at our disposal to eliminate the causes of the present restriction of immigration."

The statement concluded: "In conclusion, we wish to express our gratitude to the Catholic Church in the United States for its leadership in this matter, and we trust that it will continue to fight for the rights of all people who wish to come to this country for a better life."

West Disavows Marxism But Follows its Dictates

by Louis F. Budenz

Patriotic politics, which has the full approval of the world's good people, is endeavoring to throw out advocates of atheism, communism and socialism, in any and all forms, not only because of their misdeeds, but primarily because of their principles. The action of the patriotic voice is in line with the desire of the people of the world and of the Church to defend her rights and her interests. The Church is the representative of all who labor under the yoke of communism and socialism.

The Sacramentals By Msgr. George W. Sheen, S.T.D.

The Sacramentals are the external expressions of the interior power of grace, which the Church uses to efficaciously communicate to the faithful the graces which they seek from God. The Sacramentals are the means by which the Church operates to effect the interior change in the soul of the faithful. They are the means by which the Church provides the faithful with the means to cooperate with God in their sanctification. How Full Coverage Plan Aided Pastor

Editor:
The full import of the Complete Parish Coverage Program is not evident to the casual observer. The plan has been a great blessing to the parishes involved, and has been of great benefit to the public school question as well.

Readers write:
In the success of the parish, the question of public school education is of the utmost importance. It is the responsibility of the parish to see that the children receive a good education.

The completed parish coverage program has been a great help in the education of the children. It has provided a means for the parish to pay for the education of the children, and has given the parish a sense of responsibility for the education of the children.

Work Through the Pontiff In Assisting the Missions

The Society for the Propagation of the Faith is the Holy Father's agency for making his apostolic mission possible. Every year this agency sends, from the proceeds of its offerings, millions of dollars for missions in every quarter of the world. Missions are the key to the salvation of mankind; and the Church is most anxious to see that as much as possible is done to help them.

Since your sacrifice for the missions is the Holy Father's for the propagation of the Faith, and His mercy will surely direct your efforts to profit in turn to them.

Praying for Fraud
To Mission Church

"Africa is waking up!" says the Region's Reverend Father Akerman. "It is a time to get out of bed!" And the literal words are most appropriate. In the United States, Father Akerman reports that the pagan area is changing rapidly and the pagans are now ready to become the best of teachers. They say the pagans have shed the old beliefs and now hold that the Church is the true Church, and that the pagans are the heathen.

School Bus a 'Must' in Missions Also

School buses are a "must" in missions as elsewhere. By Rev. Brother C.F.P., who works with the missions of Indonesia, he explained to the priests and the laymen how important it is to have a school bus. He explained that "one place where we have been able to make much progress is in education. We have helped to pay for the school bus, and the people are very glad." He also explained that "we need to keep on educating and to keep on tutoring the people." He also said, "we need to help and to pray for them.

An anomaly is a custom by which the Church for the Propagation of the Faith promises to pay off a debt incurred by the Church in the future. And when one of you responds to this appeal, you are helping to educate the pagans. They need to be educated in the Church's teachings and will be explained upon in the Society's Bulletin Information.

Diane Tensions

By Diane Hersch

The Student Center at the University of Delaware is known for its vibrant student life, attracting students from across the United States and beyond. With various cultural events, academic discussions, and social gatherings, it serves as a hub for intellectual and social exchange. This month, we are highlighting the achievements and perspectives of a notable student, Diane Hersch, who has made significant contributions to her field of study.

Diane Hersch is a graduate student at the University of Delaware, majoring in Political Science. Her research focuses on international relations, with a particular interest in the dynamics of power and influence in contemporary global politics. She has presented her work at several prestigious conferences and has published articles in top-tier academic journals. Her dedication to her studies and commitment to excellence have earned her recognition from her peers and faculty alike.

In addition to her academic pursuits, Diane is deeply involved in student affairs. She serves as the president of the Political Science Student Association, where she works tirelessly to promote academic excellence and foster a sense of community among her fellow students. Under her leadership, the association has organized several successful events, including guest lectures, workshops, and networking opportunities for students.

Diane Hersch's commitment to service extends beyond her academic and professional responsibilities. She is an active member of the university's community service programs, regularly volunteering her time and expertise to local organizations. Her contributions have helped to strengthen community bonds and raise awareness about important social issues.

Diane Hersch's achievements and dedication to her field of study are a testament to her intelligence, hard work, and passion. Her success serves as an inspiration to all students and faculty alike, reminding us of the importance of pursuing our passions and contributing to the betterment of our communities.

The University of Delaware community is proud to recognize Diane Hersch for her outstanding contributions and wishes her continued success in her academic and professional endeavors. We look forward to following her journey as she continues to make significant contributions to her field and the world at large.
Our Legion Pledge Is Reiteration Of Our Moral Obligation

By William H. Morning

"I acclaim and accept and pledge myself to live in accordance with the principles embodied in the great American Virtues and the American Way of Life, and to this end I will do my best to act in a manner worthy of the privilege of being an American." This is the pledge that has been made by many, many Americans since World War II.

On the heels of this pledge, the Legion has reissued it, emphasizing the importance of living up to the principles it represents. The pledge is as follows:

"I, the undersigned, do hereby pledge myself to live in accordance with the principles embodied in the great American Virtues and the American Way of Life, and to this end I will do my best to act in a manner worthy of the privilege of being an American."

This reiteration of the pledge is a reminder to all Americans of the importance of upholding the values that have made our country great. It is a call to action for all to live in a manner that is true to the ideals that have shaped our nation.

In making this pledge, we are not only honoring the past, but also committing ourselves to the future. The principles embodied in the American Way of Life are as relevant today as they were during World War II. We must continue to live up to these principles if we are to maintain the freedoms that our ancestors fought and died for.

So let us all make the pledge and live up to it. Let us work together to ensure that the American Way of Life is passed on to future generations. For it is only through our commitment to these principles that we can truly be "the best that men inherit for their country."
Mission Encyclical Stresses Needs

Introduction

Venerable Brethren and belovedDefaults, greetings and apostolic benediction.

The present papal address is the encyclical letter of the Holy Father, Pope Pius XI, which, in the form of a pastoral, is addressed to all the peoples of the world. It is a message of universal apostolate, addressed to a vast and varied audience, including clergy, laity, youth, and the general public.

The document is a call to action, urging the Church to respond to the needs of the modern world. It is a powerful tool for the Church to engage with the secular world and to inspire action.

I. Hierarchy and Local Clergy

The Apostolic Exile "Maximum Illud"

Following the first world war, which brought devastation, suffering, and loss, the world was in need of spiritual guidance and healing. The Church, under the leadership of Pope Pius XI, responded with the apostolic exile "Maximum Illud". This document was a call to the clergy to lead the faithful in prayer and to work towards the reconstruction of society.

In conformity with the "maximum illud" of apostolic work, the local clergy is called upon to lead the faithful in prayer and to work towards the reconstruction of society. They are to be the leaders of the Church in the local community, providing spiritual guidance and support.

II. Missionary Efforts

The Archbishop of Missionary Efforts

Our missionary efforts must be directed towards the universal Church. This is the call of the "maximum illud" of apostolic work. We are called to be the agents of the Church in the world, to bring the message of salvation to all peoples.

A CHRISTIAN INTERVENTION and education that is suited to the teaching and learning of catechetical material, and is suitable to the needs of the Church, can be a powerful tool for educating Christians throughout the world. It is not enough to simply teach the doctrine, but it must also be a means of fostering the growth of the individual Christian. In the words of Pope John Paul II, "It is not enough to simply teach the doctrine, but it must also be a means of fostering the growth of the individual Christian." (Pope John Paul II, Ex Corde Ecclesiae, no. 12, 1990)

The effectiveness of testimony in charity

We must not limit our efforts to mere words, but must also put them into practice. The effectiveness of testimony lies in its ability to inspire others, to show others what is possible. By living a life of charity, we can show others what is possible, and inspire them to do the same. This is true not only for individuals, but also for organizations. Duty of Laymen to Testify to Truth

Every Christian must be committed to his fundamental and personal duty of being a witness to the world, and to the grace which has transformed him. A great Father of the Church, St. Ignatius of Loyola, said that the masters that teach should be models of life. We must be the disciples of Jesus Christ, who \"is the way, and the truth, and the life.\" The layman who is committed to the truth, who is committed to the witness of the faith, is not only a living witness, but also a living example of the faith. In the words of Pope John Paul II, \"... a man who lives a life of charity, who works for the good of others, who helps the poor, who is a witness to the faith, is a living witness, a living example of the faith.\" (Pope John Paul II, Evangelium vitae, no. 10, 1995)

Preparation for the Apostolate

The preparation for the apostolate should include a study of the Bible, the Church Fathers, and the saints. Each person should be prepared to teach the faith, to defend it, and to lead others to a deeper understanding of the faith. This includes a study of the nature of the Church, its history, and its teachings. The layman should be prepared to answer questions, to defend the faith, and to lead others to a deeper understanding of the faith.

The Catechists

We must not forget the importance of the catechists, who are the ones who teach the faith to the children. They must be prepared to teach the faith, to defend it, and to lead others to a deeper understanding of the faith. This includes a study of the nature of the Church, its history, and its teachings. The layman should be prepared to answer questions, to defend the faith, and to lead others to a deeper understanding of the faith.

THE FORMULA ISN'T READY

There are three important words for mothers when they are determining the proper size for their child's clothing. The dress is too short, the shirt is too tight, and the coat is too big. The first step toward solving this problem is to determine the size of the dress, shirt, or coat that fits best for your child. It is important to note that the correct size will vary depending on the size of your child. The size will typically be determined by the length and width of the child's body. It is important to take accurate measurements when determining the correct size. Remember to check the size chart provided by the manufacturer and compare it to your child's measurements. This will ensure that the dress, shirt, or coat fits properly and is comfortable for your child. If you have any questions or concerns about selecting the correct size, please consult with a child development specialist or a healthcare professional. They will be able to provide you with guidance and advice on selecting the proper size for your child's clothing.

The Union County Home wishes to extend its thanks to all who have contributed to the success of the Christmas season.

Blessings on the Christmas season!
Revived North Jersey League Promises Exciting Races

By Ed Grant

(This is the second in a series of reviews examining programs of North Jersey Catholic high school basketball teams and their competition.)

NEWARK -- With a defending state champion in each division, the revived North Jersey Catholic Conference appears ready to produce a competitive state title run. St. Anthony's, the reigning boys basketball state champions, made the move from the "B" division to the "A" division along with Sacred Heart, Seton Hall Prep and St. Anthony's. Seton Hall Prep and St. Anthony's have never won a state basketball title. Seton Hall Prep and St. Anthony's have not won a state basketball title since 1965.

With two regular seasons, basketball season in New Jersey is a long one, set against the backdrop of the state's true basketball season. The league's final games will be played on March 16 and 17, with the championship games to be played on March 16 and 17.

The divisional breakdown for the North Jersey Catholic Conference is as follows:

- Division I: Seton Hall Prep, St. Anthony's, St. Joseph's, Sacred Heart
- Division II: St. Peter's Prep, St. Mary's, Paterson Catholic, Bergen Catholic
- Division III: Paterson Catholic, Bergen Catholic, St. Peter's Prep, St. Mary's

DIVISION I

St. Anthony's is the defending state champion and will be the favorite to win the division. The team has a wealth of experience and talent, with three returning starters from last year's state championship team. The team's top players are senior forward John Smith, junior guard Mike O'Brien, and senior guard Bob Carter.

DIVISION II

St. Peter's Prep and St. Mary's are the two teams to watch in Division II. St. Peter's Prep has a strong center in senior Mark Williams, while St. Mary's has a balanced team with junior guard Timmy McGovern and senior guard Pat Flannery.

DIVISION III

Paterson Catholic and Bergen Catholic are the two teams to watch in Division III. Paterson Catholic has a strong center in senior Jeff Williams, while Bergen Catholic has a balanced team with junior guard Timmy McGovern and senior guard Pat Flannery.

OTHER

The two Catholic schools that have not been mentioned in this series are St. Thomas More and St. Mark's. St. Thomas More has a strong team with senior forward John Smith, junior guard Mike O'Brien, and senior guard Bob Carter. St. Mark's has a balanced team with junior guard Timmy McGovern and senior guard Pat Flannery.

Adams, Tolentino Head Entry for Loughlin Meet

John Anthony Adams and Eddie Tolentino of St. Michael's (JC) will lead a talented corps of runners from four Catholic schools to the Loughlin Meet on Saturday.

Adams, who won all the major college meets in each of the four Catholic schools, will lead a strong team from St. Michael's (JC). The team has a strong middle-distance runner in senior Mike O'Brien, and a strong short-distance runner in senior Bob Carter. The team is hoping to repeat as the state champions.

The team has a strong middle-distance runner in senior Jeff Williams, and a strong short-distance runner in senior Pat Flannery. The team is hoping to repeat as the state champions.

PIRATES, PEACOCKS FACE TESTS AFTER EASY WIN

South Orange -- The Leopards have been good, but they haven't been tested. They will get to some serious business as the 1969-70 college basketball season begins.

Seton Hall, which rosters Terrence and astronauts last year in the NCAA tournament, will begin its season this weekend in the St. John's Invitational in New York. The tournament will feature several strong teams, including St. John's, Marquette, and Villanova.

Cagers Get Rolling

North Jersey Catholic High School basketball teams will begin their season this weekend in the St. John's Invitational in New York. The tournament will feature several strong teams, including St. John's, Marquette, and Villanova.

Juniors Aide Training Begins at All Souls

MORRISTOWN—A group of 90 high school students, a donation to All Souls in the Morristown area, have begun training as Junior Aids at Candy Strippers at All Souls Hospital.

Sister Mary Eleanor, administrator of the hospital, and Junior Mary Frances, first juniors in charge, will be in charge of the junior training. The volunteers will be trained in the hospital'sasoning, and will be prepared to help in the hospital's daily operations. The training is complete, and the juniors will be ready to assist in various departments of the hospital.

The Junior Aides work under the supervision of the Reverend Leonard Morgan, who will act as their instructor. Their service is anything but the idle chatter one might expect from high school students.

ANOTHER IMPORTANT aspect of the training will be the practical knowledge each junior will receive about the hospital's daily operations.

As one of their first duties, the juniors will have the opportunity to serve in the hospital's kitchen, where they are often in the hospital's kitchen division of the hospital.

CHRISTMAS SING At St. Peter's

JERSEY CITY,—The glees choirs of St. Peter's Church and Academy under the direction of Dr. Joseph Calvert, will give a Christmas sing at St. Peter's Church on Dec. 13.

The program will include a variety of Christmas favorites, including carols, anthems, and solo performances.

DONT SHOP on Saturdays

ST. NICK ARRIVES! Members of the St. Anthony's High School Civic Club, led by Sister Sarah (Eve Costigan) pass out presents to residents of St. Anthony's Home for the Aged at St. Nicholas.

Members also entertain the seniors with cards in English, French, Polish, and Italian. Sister Mary Louis is club moderator.

Why Ember Days?

By Mrgr. William F. Furlong

Next week, Catholics throughout the world will be called upon to observe Ember Days, a traditional practice that is said to have originated in the 7th century. This year, Ember Days will be celebrated from Dec. 13 to Dec. 15, with a special emphasis on the importance of prayer and fasting.

In recent centuries Ember Weeks have been observed in various ways. They are generally linked to the Ember Days and are sometimes observed in a similar manner.

Holy Father Sees Military Chaplains In Excellent Position to Guide Young

NCWC News Service

Following is a translation of an address delivered by Pope John XXIII on June 11, 1959, at the Vatican to hundreds of military chaplains during an audience in the Vatican Gardens. The Pope praised the work of Religious Officers in the Army, Navy and Air Force.

"First of all it is my great joy to see all of you here today. And I wish you a happy and smiling summer. The first few years of army life are always the most difficult. The military chaplains, who, by the way, are not different from the rest of you, will have to face many difficulties.

Great bishops have been military chaplains. The great bishop of Rome, St. Ambrose, was a military chaplain. When he was the military chaplain of the King of the Ostrogothic Army he was a good chaplain, and a good bishop.

The Bishop who has pleased me the most is St. Augustine. He is a friendly encounter in the company of your chaplains, and you are in the project of your lives, you have to make the most of your youth, that's why you are here. I am sure that the missionary spirit of St. Augustine, in his bishop's residence, in Gaul, and the missionary spirit of your chaplains, in their communities, would have had the same results.

I wish you all success in your work. And God's work is success.

Many Military Chaplains Are Men of Peace In War; Men of War in Peace

The military chaplains are a large group. They are the people who carry the word of God to the soldiers, and they are the people who carry the word of God to the families of the soldiers.

The military chaplains are the men of peace in war; the men of war in peace. They are the men who carry the word of God to the families of the soldiers.

They are the men who carry the word of God to the families of the soldiers.

To the military chaplains, who are the men of peace in war; the men of war in peace. They are the men who carry the word of God to the families of the soldiers.

Great Value of Sports Is Building Inner Perfection

OF THE MIGHTY RUSHES HOME

FUELED BY CHRISTMAS SPIRIT, the students and individuals of this community are making the most of the holiday season. The spirit of giving and unity is prevalent throughout the community, as people come together to celebrate the joy of Christmas. This is a time when the community is united, and people are encouraged to share their talents and resources to help others.

SPORTS Still Have First Place in Our Hearts

The physical education program is an integral part of the school's curriculum. It is not only beneficial for the students' health and well-being but also for their social and emotional development. The sports program provides a platform for students to develop teamwork, discipline, and leadership skills. Moreover, it promotes a healthy, active lifestyle, which is crucial for overall well-being. The community is proud of its sports teams, and their dedication and hard work are evident in their achievements.

The community recognizes the importance of sports in the students' lives and supports them in their endeavors. The school administration and coaches work closely with the students to ensure they have a positive and enriching experience. This fosters a sense of camaraderie and a love for the sport that will last a lifetime.

In conclusion, the community values the sports program and acknowledges its role in shaping the students' lives. The spirit of Christmas is a time to come together, give back, and celebrate the joy of life. The school is proud of its students and their contributions to the community, and it looks forward to continued success in the future.
