Tours and twenty treasured shrines

For more than three centuries, the devout people of Oberammergau, near Munich, have set aside each year for special pilgrimage to The Passion of Our Lord. This is their Channel of Thanksgiving — in the years of the Black Plague.

And to local Catholics, it offers special inspiration. In a tour arranged by Martir Travel Bureau under the distinguished leadership and spiritual guidance of Rev. James S. Gallaway, assistant pastor, Holy Rosary Church, Ethiopia, N.J., for twenty-five days — from July 4th through July 28th — tour members will share moving experiences that cover nearly 5000 hallowed miles of Catholic history.

The Passion Play at Oberammergau is the most spectacular audience with the Holy Father at Comol Gandolfi, the shrines of St. Anthony of Padua and St. Francis of Assisi.

The special lift in learning about the religious affairs of the Holy Land and Southern France and Spain. Yet with all of its once-in-a-decade spiritual special, this offering of Montclair Travel Bureau is potentially of much more than ordinary "sightseeing" tours: a modest 1150 including all transportation by air and first-class rail or automobile, first-class hotels with private bath, all meals, transfers, admission fees and guides.

Reservation, however, are limited. Your call, today, can insure your accommodation on a rare spiritual pilgrimage....

Wanted: One Vocation

Ed. Note: As the world mourns through a race of communication and supported suffering, the world-wide is at hand for all who seek. To those who seek a better life, this is our advice: begin with the Church of Christ.

The Church makes only one vocation, that one who at this moment is invited by God's grace in higher Christians and denials. The Church offers not a single vocation or a single job, but just one voice to the service of Christ.

Church. The Church offer at one time, at one moment, at one place. We must do that. Without that our work in the world will be without a purpose. Without that the Church will not be the Church.

Church. The Church will then be the Church of Christ, as is the Church in Christ. The Church of Christ in Christ. The Church in Christ. The Church in Christ. The Church in Christ. The Church in Christ.

Collected Titbits

By Dan Hirt

This week we have several interesting news items that add spice to the news of the week. We can find them in a variety of sources including newspapers, magazines, and even radio and television programs.

One such item concerns theLP records. LP records have been around for a while now, but they are gaining popularity among younger listeners. They are unique because they provide a different listening experience than traditional records. The sound quality is higher, and the records are longer, making them a great choice for music lovers.

Another interesting item is the increase in the number of people traveling to Oberammergau. This small town in Bavaria, Germany has become famous for its annual "Passion Play," which tells the story of the life of Jesus Christ. The play takes place in the open air and is performed every 10 years.

Their star, Jack Farragut, is in top form. He won the 440-yard dash and the 880-yard run, and also set new records in the 1,000-yard run and the three-mile run.
