Pope Reads English Speech at Audience

CASTELGANDOLFO (NC) — For the first time at a public audience, Pope John XXIII read a short message in English.

Some days earlier the Pope had spoken briefly in English, but this was the first time he followed Pope Pius XII's custom of giving a short formal English-language speech at audiences.

The Pontiff spoke at the Saturday general audience Sept. 3 at his summer residence here to thousands of pilgrims.

The English part of the talk took about two minutes. Pope John began by saying: "I do not speak well in English, but I speak from the heart."

"Then he spoke in heavily accented English of the love of Christ. He stressed that "no matter what nationality we are, we are all brothers."

The Pope gave his first formal speech in English last October when he went to the North American College in Rome to participate in the celebration of its 100th anniversary. He also read a formal address in English when he received President Eisenhower at the Vatican last December. His brief remarks in English here at Castelgandolfo came at the end of the audience.

ROME parishes who had come to audiences at the Vatican.

"It is said that things change for the worse, but this is unjustified pessimism," Pope John said. "If there are things that do not go so well, there are others that go better."

"The presence in this hall of so many beloved sons is eloquent testimony of this fact, because they belong not only to Rome's parishes, but to the parishes of the world and to every social class and status."

"In those days the Pope was Pius X — St. Pius X — but today he is called John and, fulfilling the will of the Lord, he speaks not only to the faithful of Rome but also to representatives of the whole earth. This is a reason to thank and bless the Lord almighty and always more."

Speaking of his role as Pope, the Pontiff said that "to hear oneself called Holy Father makes one tremble. It gives one a feeling of confusion and a sense of great humility and inspires a prayer for all."

He urged all at the audience to pray that he might deserve the name of Holy Father.

Officers Named for Biblical Association

DENVER (RNS) — Msgr. Robert H. Krumholtz of Norwood, Ohio, was elected president of the Catholic Biblical Association of America at its 23rd annual meeting here, attended by some 100 clergy, nun and lay Bible scholars. He succeeds Rev. John J. Collins, S.J., of Weston (Mass.) College.

Other new officers include Rev. Bruce Yawter, C.M., of St. Thomas Seminary here where sessions were held, vice president to replace Msgr. John F. Whealon of Borromeo Seminary, Cleveland; and Rev. Louis F. Hartman, C.S.S.R., of Catholic University of America, Washington, executive secretary.

Rev. Joseph Fallon, O.P., also of Catholic University, outgoing executive secretary, was named treasurer.

Father Hartman, who served as the association's secretary before 1959, spent the last year in Jerusalem where he was guest annual professor at the American School of Oriental Research, a residence for scholars. During the meeting here he gave a report on his stay in the Holy Land.

Scholarly and technical papers on various aspects of Biblical research were read at the sessions.

Says 'Hate America' Campaign Spreading

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (NC) — A "hate America campaign" is spreading throughout all of Latin America; a Colombian priest asserted here.

"The people in general hate Americans," said Rev. Alberto Chaparro of Santa Maria, Colombia. Fidel Castro's success in Cuba was based on hatred of money and other materials to help former dictator Fulgencio Batista, he charged.

Father Chaparro spoke at a banquet during the fourth annual convention of the National Catholic Social Action Conference at Niagara University.

"In Latin America," the priest said, "about 10% of the people handle 95% of the wealth. The various appropriations given to Latin America (by the U. S.) are given to those who control the government — who come from the rich." Most of that money, he said, has never been seen by the poor.

"Your government's student exchange program also does little good," he continued, "since it is only the sons and daughters of the rich who participate in it."

Stating that the threat of communism is more serious than ever before, he added that communist workers "get down to the poor and actually do something for them."

This year, he added, 28,000 students from Latin America will attend Friendship University in Moscow. The Soviet government will pay all expenses, including transportation, living costs and clothes.

TO OFFSET communist gains in Latin America, Father Chaparro suggested that the United States should make scholarships available to the poor but intelligent students and instead of giving outright economic aid to Latin American governments, stipulate that a group of American officials must dispense the aid.

He also said that American industrialists should leave some of the profits from the Latin American investments in Latin America. These profits should be left in the form of better wages, better housing conditions, and improvement of living standards, he stated.

He added that if these or similar steps are not taken by the United States, communism will control Latin America within 10 years.

Essex Smut Raids Net Four As Sheriff Faces New Suit

NEWARK—Essex County sheriff's detectives and Newark police raided four confectionery stores here last week and arrested the owners on charges of possessing obscene literature with the intent to sell it.

Sheriff's Detective Arthur Magnusson, who has been assigned full time to obscenity investigations, led the raiders. Sixty-eight allegedly obscene publications were seized for presentation as evidence at the trials of those arrested.

The raids were part of a series in a drive against printed smut inaugurated by Sheriff Neil G. Duffy last Fall. More than 20 arrests have been made as a result of the drive.

Last week's raids were staged on stores at 1108 Broad St., 202 Broadway, 814 Broadway and 282 Clinton Ave. Store operators arrested were Meyer Pizula, 1344 Carrington St., Elizabeth; Jules Chattman, 28 Demarest St., Newark; Frank Barone, 11 Martin St., Bloomfield; and Jacob Horowitz, 24 Johnson Ave., Newark.

An indictment will also be sought against the Hudson County News Co., which Magnusson said distributed the publications, and against a Union City, N. J., publisher.

Arguments for these indictments will be presented when the sheriff's office brings those arrested before the Grand Jury. This will mark the first instance where it has been possible to move directly against a publisher.

MEANWHILE, the arrested store operators are free on $1,000 bail after a preliminary hearing in Magistrate's Court here. No trial date has been set, but the first of the previous pending cases is scheduled to be heard Sept. 12 unless another postponement is granted by the court.

Detective Magnusson also revealed that five more publishing groups have filed suit against the sheriff's office claiming the anti-smut activities illegally interfere with the distribution of their magazines. Another defendant is Irvington Public Safety Director J. Elmer Hausmann.

The suit is scheduled for Superior Court. Four other publishers filed a similar suit last Spring but the court upheld the validity of Duffy's actions when enjoining Hausmann from circulating letters warning newsdealers against dealing in the publications.

The newest suit has been filed by Stanley Publications, Romance Publishing Corp., Hanro Corp., Detective House, Inc., and

Cuban Youth Back Hierarchy's Stand

HAVANA (RNS) — Six hundred delegates to Cuba's first National Catholic Youth Congress wound up their sessions here by adopting a statement of principles that pledged them to resist any outside domination of the country or infringement of the rights of the Church in their homeland.

Although their statement made no mention of the Castro regime the delegates clearly echoed the recent warning by the hierarchy against communist inroads in Cuba.

They did so by affirming their intention to "remain in the vanguard of the defense" of Cuba's "full and total sovereignty, without subordination to outside powers or interests."

At the same time, they called for "respect for the dignity of the person of the priest, the free carrying out of his ministry and preaching as well as the inviolability of the sanctity of our temples."

The NCWC News Service carried a report to the effect that Rev. Marcial Bedoya, Spanish Jesuit who is in a Havana hospital with a leg wound suffered in an incident last week, will be tried by a Cuban revolutionary tribunal as a conspirator against the Castro government.

NCWC News said some sources claim the priest was arrested with a group of "counter-revolutionaries" en route to pick up illegal arms. The sources say two Castro counter-espionage agents who had infiltrated the group were killed in the incident.

Neither Church nor government spokesmen would confirm this version of the shooting.

MEANWHILE, SOME 600 delegates to the youth congress staged an anti-communist demonstration, shouting "Cuba yes, communists no!"

The week-long meeting ended with the passing of a resolution pledging loyalty to the Church. The congress also resolved that respect for priests and Bishops, and freedom for them to carry out their ministry, is "indispensable for the full exercise of religious liberty."

Workshops, Awards Ceremonies To Feature CCD Lay Institute

NEWARK—Archbishop Boland will preside and be the main speaker at the Institute for the Laity to be held at Seton Hall University Sept. 18 under sponsorship of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine.

Theme for the institute, as set by Auxiliary Bishop Curtis, confraternity director, is: "The Confraternity — A Program for Parish Catholic Action."

REGISTRATION for the program will start at 1:30 p.m. with the welcoming address by James Harrington, president, CCD executive board, listed for 2 p.m.

Features of the program will be nine workshops covering various phases of CCD activity, presentation of the Pius X

Awards to those who have completed 10 and 20 years of service in parish CCD programs, and Benediction.

Plus X award winners will be presented to the Archbishop by Rev. Roger A. Reynolds, executive secretary of the CCD.

Workshops will be held for beginners in confraternity work, for parish executive board members, for confraternity teachers, for "fishers" and "helpers" (two groups which assist parish confraternity work), for discussion club members and for members of the parent-educator and apostle of good will programs.

THE INSTITUTE is planned and conducted by the archdiocesan executive board which is composed of 10 parish CCD leaders chosen by Bishop Curtis for two-year terms. The board works with the Bishop and Father Reynolds in planning archdiocesan CCD programs.

In addition to the institute, the board will arrange smaller county meetings during the year and a Day of Recollection. Board members will also be available to help organize parish confraternity programs.

Officers of the board for 1961, besides Harrington, include: William F. Moran, St. Aloysius, Jersey City, vice president; Mrs. Juanita Lowery, St. Leo's, Irvington, treasurer; Mrs. Evelyn Rafter, St. Francis, Ridgefield Park, secretary.

He will continue his studies for the priesthood at the Kilroe Seminary of the Sacred Heart, Honesdale, Pa.

Thomist Congress In Rome Sept. 13-17

GENEVA (NC) — The fifth International Thomist Congress will be held in Rome Sept. 13 to 17.

The congress, originated by the Roman Academy of St. Thomas Aquinas, is held every five years.

The 1960 congress will have three themes: Foundation and aids to morality; rights of truth and liberty — and their agreement; true notion of labor.

Outlines Children's Discipline Program

NORTH WINDHAM, Me.— Msgr. George A. Kelly, family life director of the New York Archdiocese, outlined a five-point program for discipline during a regional convention of the Christian Family Movement at St. Joseph's College here.

"It is fortunate," he said, "that the let them do as they please school of child training is becoming passe."

He added that "children who are permitted to do as they please without a control system to govern their actions tend to become insufferably selfish, thoughtless of the rights and needs of others and incapable of exercising self-discipline when they become adults."

He made these five points:

1. Keep in mind what purpose your discipline is intended to serve.
2. Let the punishment fit the crime.
3. Punish only once for each offense.
4. Be consistent.
5. Investigate before you punish.

MSGR. REYNOLD Hillenbrand of Winnetka, Ill., national CFM chaplain, spoke on the responsibility of the Catholic layman in society. He said that each family has a role to play in the social, political, religious, economic and international fields.

He called the racial segregation problem the "national sin."

Segregation is ludicrous when it is seen in the light of the teaching on the Mystical Body of Christ.

More than 200 couples renewed their marriage vows during the three-day meeting.

To Bless New Convent in Caldwell Parish

CALDWELL—With Archbishop Boland officiating, the new convent in St. Aloysius parish here will be blessed and dedicated at 9 a.m., Sept. 10.

A two-story structure with exterior matching the other parish buildings, the convent accommodates 17 Sisters of St. Dominic. Members of the community have been teaching at St. Aloysius since 1892. Ground for the structure was broken by Rev. Patrick F. Joyce, pastor, in May last year.

In addition to the rooms for the Sisters, the facilities include a chapel, reception parlors, library, community room, refectory and kitchen as well as various utility rooms.

Welcome back to school! What a wonderful opportunity you have to make this the best year you have ever known. New teachers, new subjects, new books—and a whole new

You sent us favors for every holiday of the year—for children and adults—for hospitals and orphanages—for school parties and for house parties. The judges couldn't believe their eyes when they saw the clever ideas you used and how well you made your entries.

Here is a chance for our Juniors to show how much they love their favorite saint.

You can draw him (or her) standing alone or with others. You can use crayons, paints or chalk, but you must draw the figures yourself. Be sure to tell us who your favorite saint is too.

Here we go again, Young Advocates. A new year, a new contest and new chances for you. The checks of $5, $3, and $2 will go to our contest winners and Honorable Mention certificates will be sent to the top entries.

Wouldn't you just love to start this school year off with a victory? Why not try?

We thought you did so well that we decided to give you another chance to show your talents. That means that the Senior Young Advocates can get out the paste pots and colored paper again (no kits are allowed) and put on your thinking caps.

See if you can beat last year's entries in number and beauty. You'll have quite a job.

Lives of the Saints

Mary's Days

They are two special feasts of Our Blessed Lady that come within a week of each other: Sept. 8, the birthday of Mary, and Sept. 15, the feast of the Seven Sorrows of Mary.

We know that Mary is the daughter of St. Anne and St. Joachim, but we are not sure where she was born. Some say she was born in Nazareth while other historians are sure it was in Jerusalem near the pool of Bethesda. (There is even a place in the Church of St. Anne of Jerusalem thought to be the exact spot Mary was born.)

A FEW SHORT days after Mary's birthday we remember the seven big sorrows that fell in her life. Do you know what each of these sorrows is?

They are listed in this order in the liturgical office:

(1) The prophecy of holy Simeon. We read: "There was a man named Simeon, and this man was just and devout; and he said unto Mary: Thine own soul also a sword shall pierce."

Simeon said this to Mary the day she and Joseph had brought Jesus to the Temple to be circumcised. We celebrate that day as a feast on Jan. 1.

(2) The flight into Egypt. When Herod realized the Wise Men would not tell him where the Infant Jesus was, the evil king ordered all of the male babies in Bethlehem killed.

But an angel had come and warned Joseph to take the baby and leave. The angel said: "Arise, and take the Child and His mother and fly into Egypt; and be there until I shall tell thee."

(3) THE THREE days when Jesus disappeared from his parents. Mary, Joseph and Jesus were in Jerusalem with the rest of their large tribe. As they left to return to Nazareth, the boy, Jesus, became separated from his parents.

Mary and Joseph searched for three days for their Son until they finally found Him in the Temple preaching to the people. When Mary saw Jesus, she said: "Son, why hast thou done so to us? Behold thy father and I have sought thee, sorrowing."

Jesus then said to Mary and

Joseph: "Did you not know that I would be about My Father's business?"

(4) The trial and the journey to Calvary. Mary knew her Son was innocent but she had to stand by as the people laughed and jeered and took her Son before the jury. Then she had to follow as the soldiers scourged Him, crowned Him with thorns and put a Cross on His back.

(5) THE CRUCIFIXION. "And when they were come to the place which is called Calvary, they crucified Him there. Now there stood by the cross of Jesus His mother."

Mary, full of sorrow, watched her son hang for three hours in agony and she could not help Him. Then she saw Him die.

(6) Taking the Body down from the Cross. "Joseph of Arimathaea begged the body of Jesus. And taking it down from the cross His mother received it into her arms."

(7) The burial. "What a sadness of heart was thine, Mother of sorrows, when Joseph wrapped Him in fine linen and laid Him in a sepulchre."

MARY'S seven sorrows are the sorrows any mother would feel for her child—but how much worse they were for her knowing that Jesus was also her God.

On Sept. 8 say Happy Birthday to Mary with special acts of goodness—and then Sept. 15 offer her a Mass to ease her sorrow.

A GIFT: Annette Hirsch, pediatrics supervisor at St. Mary's Hospital, Passaic, accepts a donation of 50 cents on behalf of Sister Eileen Teresa, hospital administrator. The gift came from the children pictured above who staged a home variety show with the box office receipts going to the hospital to buy lollipops for young patients. The young thespians, left to right, are: Leslie McDevitt, Becky and Kevin Maher and Anne Bono, all of Passaic. Their charity was rewarded by a trip to the North Jersey Playhouse where they met Margaret Truman who is currently appearing in a show there.

MADISON TOWNSHIP (PFS)—Cantor & Goldman Builders, Inc. David Dickson has been appointed vice president of Saul Cantor Associates, Inc., here, one of the largest home-building firms in the East, it is announced by Saul Cantor, president, who also asserted that the name of Saul Cantor Associates, Inc., represents a change in corporate identity from the former designation, Cantor & Goldman Builders, Inc.

Bi-Level Popular at Old Farm

COLONIA (PFS)—Overwhelming public acceptance, in fact public demand, of the bi-level ranch design is reported this week by W.J. Hoppel & Co., sponsors of Old Farm Estates, off Inman Ave. here as a result of a sales market study of the 40 homes purchased to date. Eighty per cent of the purchasers, or 32, chose the bi-level ranch model out of the three offered. Ten per cent each chose one of the other two models—a seven room split level and a two-story Colonial home. "In spite of the fact that our bi-level ranch is our highest-priced model," Hoppel stated, "the public has chosen it overwhelmingly. On a per-square-foot basis, the builder can offer much more in this model for the dollar, than any other design. Old Farm Estates features the three different designs priced from $17,990.

Princeton Hill Opens In Murray Hill Area

MURRAY HILL (PFS)—Opening this weekend on Southgate Road, off Mountain Ave., in the Murray Hill area of New Providence, is the first section of a new community of 104 homes, called Princeton Hill. The developers of the project are John Cali and R. Daunno, who were also the builders of Golf Edge in Westfield, Holiday Ridge in Morris Plains, and Tanglewood Homes in Rockaway Township. At Princeton Hill, a choice of four split level, bi-level ranch and two-story Colonial models is offered, priced from $26,900 with mortgage financing by Prudential Insurance Company. City sewers and all utilities are being installed by the builders. The homes have seven and eight rooms and 2 1/2 baths, full basements, laundry rooms, and built-in two-car garage. The homes were designed by architect Stephen J. Potter and are situated on large fully landscaped wooded plots. Furnished model homes are open for inspection daily and weekends. The tract is within walking distance of the South St., New Providence station of the D.L.&W. Railroad. Schools, Our Lady of Peace Church, local and highway shopping, golf courses and swim clubs, Route 22 and bus service to neighboring Summit are nearby.

Archbishop to Bless St. Mary's Addition

RUTHERFORD — The modernization of St. Mary's Grammar School will be officially completed Sept. 10 when Archbishop Boland lays the cornerstone and blesses the addition at 3 p.m. The ceremony will be followed by Benediction in the church.

The extension program, which effects the high school as well as the grade department, was begun in July, 1959, under direction of E.W. Fanning Associates. The project called for interior renovation of the high school, an addition to the grade school, and redecoration of its exterior, with a connecting bridge between the two schools.

physical requirements as set down by the Middle Atlantic States Accrediting Board. St. Mary's High School will be visited by the Middle States board in early Spring for an evaluation.

The grammar school has been done in red brick with Indiana limestone finish to match the high school building. Under the new plan, the high school will use classes on the top floor of the grade school which can be reached via the bridge.

Present enrollment of the schools is 1,700—1,200 in the grade school and 510 in the high school.

At Newark Parish

List Mass, Novena For Puerto Ricans

NEWARK — A Mass and a novena for Spanish-speaking have been introduced into the parish schedule at St. Rocco's Church here because of the influx of Puerto Rican families.

Announcement of the special services was made by Rev. Michael A. Fuino, administrator of the central Newark parish.

The Mass for the Spanish-speaking will be held at 9:30 a.m. each Sunday. Both the Gospel and the sermon will be in Spanish. The novena will be held every Monday night in honor of Our Lady of Divine Providence, patroness of Puerto Rico.

CONFESSIONS are also being heard in Spanish for the newcomers and they are being given an opportunity to seek advice and assistance at the rectory.

Explaining the need for special services for the Spanish-speaking, Father Fuino points out that last year 35 Puerto Rican youngsters made their first Holy Communion at St. Rocco's. This year almost double that number of Puerto Ricans will be in the parish First Communion classes. Some 40 Spanish-speaking youngsters attended the summer vacation school at St. Rocco's.

Two special parish organizations — a senior and a junior sodality — have been formed for the Puerto Ricans. Some 2,000 leaflets have been distributed throughout the area announcing the new services.

Guild Announces Marriage Program

NEWARK — A new community service for couples having "serious marital difficulties" will be inaugurated soon by the Mt. Carmel Guild of the Newark Archdiocese, the guild announced this week.

Only those couples who have exhausted other methods of alleviating the situation will be accepted, the announcement said. The program, it added, will consist of a 16-week series of group discussion periods lasting 75 minutes each.

Wives and husbands will meet in separate sections on the same night. Each group is to be self-governing and will decide the nature and extent of its topics in answer to the need of individuals in the group.

The service, it was added, is not intended to supplant any other type of counseling. "It is offered as a method in itself," the announcement said, but it can also be used as a supplement to other remedial programs.

Ten couples will be selected from among the applicants for the initial series.
