Mission Activity at a Standstill in Turbulent Congo Province

LEOPOLDSBURG (NC) — Missionary activity has been interrupted in the Province of Kasai, where 10% of the Congolese have been driven from their homes by the recent political ferment, said Msgr. Richard X. Sorice, Territorial Vicar of the Catholic Missionary Society in the Democratic Republic of the Congo.

The Missionary Society, which has been working in the Kasai region for many years, was forced to suspend its activities due to a widespread 6-month civil war that began in 1960. The war, which has been fought by a number of political factions, has resulted in the displacement of thousands of people, including many Catholics.

Msgr. Sorice said that the Missionary Society has been unable to continue its work in the Kasai region due to the conflict. He said that the organization has been able to provide some relief to those affected by the war, but that more assistance is needed.

"The Missionary Society has been providing food, clothing, and medical aid to those affected by the war," Msgr. Sorice said. "But we need more resources to continue our work."

Things are quiet, strangely so, new around the city. The only sounds one hears are from the boxcars and the trains, the gas stations, and the occasional ululation of a passing bus. No one moves, everyone seems to be pausing for the inevitable collision. The only people one runs into are those who are on their way to a meeting, a movie, or a church. Everyone is tired, everyone is worn out. It is a time of rest, of pausing, of waiting for the inevitable to happen.

No Eut derived on the policy of a state which would meet the needs of the world, organization of the nations, and the establishment of the principles of peace and justice. The United States is committed to the cause of peace and justice in the world, and its efforts are focused on the prevention of war and the promotion of international cooperation.

The Assembly was not holding a meeting, everyone was getting ready for the big one. The organizers of the assembly had done a good job of preparing the city for the big event. The streets were clean, the signs were up, the banners were flying. Everyone was in a good mood, everyone was looking forward to the big event.

God's Words, Law, Body Are the Foods We Need

Bishop urges aid to the missions

PATOOTS - The plight of the African nations and the fact that "wherever the priests and religious are at work, there is progress and peace," was noted by Bishop McCloskey as he called upon all the faithful of the Diocese of Paterson to participate in Mission Sunday, Oct. 12.

At 8:30 a.m., the Bishop will preside at Mass, concelebrated by Auxiliary Bishops Theodore H. Beche and John M. Corcoran, and the Revs. Joseph R. Cambria, Daniel J. O'Hara, and John E. Ryan, ordained as priests in the diocese in 1942.

The service will be presented by Rev. Noel C. McNulty, O.M.I., and Fr. Thomas J. Shanahan, Scotch Plains, who will address the audience on the need for mission work.

DURING the week Edward H. Keenan, publisher, will visit Mission Sunday Commemoration at St. Francis de Sales Church, and Rev. Fr. Joseph F. Walsh, S.J., assistant pastor of St. Peter's Church, will conduct Masses at St. Peter's on Oct. 16 and 17, and Oct. 17 and 18.

These masses will be broadcast by Rev. John M. Milligan, O.M.I., and Rev. John J. Ryan, ordained in the same year as Bishop McCloskey.

Another step forward: Msgr. John O. Buch- man, pastor of St. Leo's, Burlington, explains to the shorel in the groundbreaking ceremony for the Archdiocesan Mission at the Brookdale High School. At right is Rev. Edward G. Price, pastor of the Mission. The ceremony took place Oct. 18.
