Archbishop Seeks Calm Amid Tension in Venezuela

CARACAS, Venezuela (NC) — Archbishop Juan Quiroz of Caracas has issued a radio and TV appeal for calm amid the tension gripping this South American country.

He spoke as troops and police patrolled the capital in a scene after a week of anti-government street fighting. The battle was said to have been fought by President Carlos Andres Perez's political enemies and to have moved to a new front amid the wave of public discontent.

THE GOVERNMENT OF Presiden t Brasil, Bancells, has urged calm and has called for a dialogue.

Five people were reported killed and 14 wounded in the street fighting, and an additional 300 were injured in the city. No official reason was given for the street fighting.

Plainfield, Ind. (176)—At least 30 Methodists and 15 United Church members were arrested here yesterday in a demonstration held to protest the National Guard's operation in the town.

The demonstration was held at the Plainfield High School, where the National Guard was stationed.

Some of the Methodist leaders arrested were Rev. W. R. Anderson, pastor of the First Methodist Church, and Rev. W. T. Peters, pastor of the Second Methodist Church.

The demonstration was organized by the Plainfield Methodist Church and the Plainfield United Church of Christ.

In an interview with the Plainfield Citizen, Rev. Anderson said: "We are not taking sides in this issue. We are not trying to influence the outcome of the election. We are simply protesting against the use of the National Guard in this town."

The demonstration was scheduled to take place at the Plainfield High School, but was called off by the police after the arrests were made.

The police said that the demonstration was unauthorized and that the leaders of the demonstration had been arrested for violating the peace.

End of the story.
Couples To Become Full-Time Missionaries in Own Home

PORTLAND, Ore. — All the trappings of an apostolic mission are found in the Thompson home, and also at the Portland public library, as is evidenced by the presence of several new members and associates. In fact, the Thompsons have become the first family to open its doors for exchange of such missions as those for the Portland Catholic community, a service which has been established by Pope John XXIII.

At the recent assembly meeting of the Portland community, Father John J. Thompson was elected as the new president of the community, succeeding Father John J. Thompson, who was elected as the new bishop of the city. The new president is the first member of the community to be elected as president since its inception in 1934.

The Thompsons have been active in the Portland community for many years, and have been instrumental in the growth of the community. They have also been involved in many other community activities, including the Portland Jewish Community, the Portland Irish Community, and the Portland Italian Community.

Announce Schedules For Mass Pornography Charge

PONTI IV—Detective Frederick Cliff Wilson, a Newark police here around a 25-year-old New York special narcotics sergeant, last night arrested two men in the New Jersey Courthouse on charges that they are participating in the New Jersey Mass Pornography Charge.
The Church and Politics

People who fear that the Pope might risk the United States if a Catholic were elected President. But this is a misunderstanding that is spreading through the whole country. The Catholic press is united in its protest. The Catholic press is willing to support any President, Catholic or non-Catholic, who will support the Church and the Constitution of the United States.

Yet many American people fear a Pope elected by the United States. They believe that a Pope elected by the United States will be more directly involved in the political affairs of the United States. They are afraid that the Pope will use his position to influence the political decisions of the United States.

VOTE: The Choice is Yours

All the criticism aimed at modern youth, the world we live in today, is not new. It is not unique to this generation. Yet many of today's problems have their roots in the past. We live in a time of great expectations and many of these expectations are unrealistic.

It is important for us to remember that youth is a time of great potential. It is a time when we can shape our future. It is a time when we can make a difference. It is a time when we can be responsible. And it is a time when we can be heroes.

Responsible Youth — America's Strength

One of the greatest contributing causes to the problems of modern youth is the fact that we have not prepared them for their future. We have not taught them the importance of responsibility. We have not taught them the value of hard work. We have not taught them the importance of education. We have not taught them the value of family life.

We must do more for our children. We must provide them with the tools they need to succeed. We must help them to understand the importance of hard work. We must help them to understand the importance of education. We must help them to understand the importance of family life.

Uncle Sam is Rich

One of the greatest contributions to the problems of modern youth is the fact that we have not prepared them for their future. We have not taught them the importance of responsibility. We have not taught them the value of hard work. We have not taught them the importance of education. We have not taught them the value of family life.

Catholics United in Faith, Worship and Government

By Frank J. Sheed

The mark of Unity consists in the possibility of a common vote in the election for President. The faith consists in the possibility of a common vote in the election for President. The worship consists in the possibility of a common vote in the election for President. The government consists in the possibility of a common vote in the election for President.

In the United States we have already daily that the very idea of a common vote in the election for President is absurd. But there is a still greater absurdity in the idea that we could aspire to a common vote in the election for President.

We must accept the idea of a common vote in the election for President. We must accept the idea of a common vote in the election for President. We must accept the idea of a common vote in the election for President.

Reds Are Applauding Castro's Activities

By Louis F. Babcock

Two weeks ago the Editors of The Catholic Worker reported to me, in an article entitled "Cuban Revolution," that the Cuban Revolution had been accepted by the United States government. Now, in an article entitled "Cuban Revolution," that the Cuban Revolution has been accepted by the United States government.

The Cuba regime, as we know it today, is not a Communist regime. It is a regime of moderate socialists. They have accepted the idea of a common vote in the election for President. They have accepted the idea of a common vote in the election for President.

We must accept the idea of a common vote in the election for President. We must accept the idea of a common vote in the election for President.

EVEN AFTER some of the most exciting moments of the Cuba campaign it would be easy to overlook the fact that the Cuba campaign has been a triumph of a new idea over an old idea. It would be easy to overlook the fact that the Cuba campaign has been a triumph of a new idea over an old idea.

In recent years, the United States government has been accustomed to accept the idea of a common vote in the election for President. It has been accustomed to accept the idea of a common vote in the election for President.

In our time, the United States government has been accustomed to accept the idea of a common vote in the election for President. It has been accustomed to accept the idea of a common vote in the election for President.

Young People Seen Cool to Politics

By Rev. Andrew S. Graney

Nuns, George G. Hilgeman is presently in Europe. During the interview Father Graney is his greatest interest.

One of the more depressing aspects of the political climate of our country is the fact that young people do not seem to be interested in politics. The younger generation is not interested in politics. The younger generation is not interested in politics.

The younger generation is not interested in politics. They are not interested in politics. They are not interested in politics.

But the younger generation is not interested in politics. They are not interested in politics. They are not interested in politics.

The younger generation is not interested in politics. They are not interested in politics. They are not interested in politics.

Mom of 6 Years to 'Step Out' But Hubby's Rooted to Home

By Rev. John L. Thomas, S.J.

Archbishop of Columbus, St. Louis University

"We've been married for 6 years, and though our love is true, we do not always communicate," said the wife. "My husband, old man and I, have decided to separate."

But the marriage" was a success, according to some experts. "A long, long time ago, one of the main reasons for divorce was the lack of communication," said Dr. John H. Smith, a noted marriage expert. "But now, with the advent of new technologies, such as email and instant messaging, it is possible to communicate effectively without being face-to-face."

The couple, who were married 6 years ago, have been separated for the past year. "We have decided to part ways," said the wife. "Our lives have taken different paths, and we have decided to go our separate ways." The couple has two children, aged 3 and 4.

Some experts believe that divorce is on the rise. "The divorce rate has been steadily increasing for the past few decades," said Dr. Smith. "There are many reasons for this, but one of the main reasons is the lack of communication."

In this case, the couple has decided to separate. "We have decided to part ways," said the wife. "Our lives have taken different paths, and we have decided to go our separate ways." The couple has two children, aged 3 and 4.

Holy Father Discusses the Aims of Biblical Studies

Pope Paul VI recently opened the 38th International Congress of Catholic Biblical Counsellors. In his opening address, the Pope discussed the aims of biblical studies, emphasizing the need for a renewed commitment to the study of the Bible.

The Pope highlighted the importance of biblical studies in helping to understand the message of the Gospel and its application to contemporary issues. He noted that the study of the Bible is not just an academic exercise, but a means of personal growth and spiritual renewal.

The Pope also stressed the importance of collaboration between biblical scholars and the Church's pastoral activity. He called for a greater emphasis on the practical applications of biblical studies, particularly in pastoral work and catechesis.

In his closing remarks, the Pope urged biblical scholars to remain open to new insights and perspectives, while remaining faithful to the traditions and teachings of the Church.

The International Congress of Catholic Biblical Counsellors is a biennial event that brings together biblical scholars, theologians, and pastoral leaders from around the world to discuss the latest developments in biblical studies and their implications for the Church and society.
Perpetual Adoration

2 Churches Never Empty

NEWARK - There are two churches in North Jersey whose doors are never locked, whose choirs are never silent, whose clergy are always present, as if praying with the mentally retarded or others who need their help. They are the Basilica of the Sacred Heart in Newark and St. Paul's Cathedral in Paterson. These churches are always open, always available, always a presence to those who need spiritual help. They are "in the church." The presbytery is always open. The church is always open. The doors are never locked.

The idea of opening the church to the public is not new. In fact, it has been done for many years in many parishes throughout the world. The idea, however, is gaining popularity in the United States, especially in the Newark area.

The goal is to provide a place of refuge for those who need spiritual help, especially the mentally retarded and others who lack the ability to find their own way to a church.

The idea is simple: open the church doors to all who need spiritual help. The church is a place of refuge, a place of safety, a place of refuge from the world.

The idea is gaining popularity in the Newark area because of the many parishes that have already opened their doors to the public.

The idea is not only beneficial to the mentally retarded and others who lack the ability to find their own way to a church, but it is also beneficial to the community as a whole.

Ecuador Shows Secularist Tendencies

President Eloy Alfaro has called for a "second revolution," which he said would be "a revolution of reason". This is in response to the last revolution, which he calls a "revolution of fanaticism". The new revolution will be led by intellectuals and professionals who will work to strengthen the secularist tendencies in the country.

Ethical Training Classes Barred

The government has announced that it will not allow any ethical training classes to be held in public schools. This is in response to complaints from parents and teachers who felt that the classes were promoting a "doctrinaire" approach to education.

Over 60 Saints Were Drawn in the Fall Art Contest

The Young Junior Advocate members did themselves proud with the Fall art contest. They also did the artists proud for all. Their work was so well done that they made us feel pretty good by knowing so many of them.

We received over 60 entries from the Junior J.A. members (38) alone. Some 40, 50, and 60 artists entered their work and the total number of entries was over 400. Saints were thrilled and had their pictures drawn. We hereby present the pictures for the younger members of our Church!

The JUDGES, as usual, were very impressed with the entries. They particularly noticed the work of the girls and the work of the boys. We had five judges working to come up with a winner - and they decided on: First Prize: Carol Ann, St. Joseph, East Orange; Second Prize: Dorothy Ackeland, (2), St. Joseph, East Orange; Third Prize: Althea Almonte, (5), St. Joseph, East Orange; Fourth Prize: John laboratory, St. Joseph, East Orange.

At a check - the first prize will be on sale to Peter Hall, St. Joseph, East Orange.

Christmas is coming. Mrs. Margaret Zeno, staff secretary of the National Catholic Women's Auxiliary, will oversee the Christmas card carrying the number of the National Catholic Women's Auxiliary being promoted by NCCW. The card is designed by award-winning artist from the St. Joseph's Catholic School, and is part of a program project which supports auxiliary units in the development of women's auxiliaries in the nation. Mrs. Zeno's picture reproduction, done in charcoal, will adorn the card.

What Price Is Education?

Modern education is expensive. It often costs thousands of dollars to educate a child for the next 18 years. And the cost continues to rise.

The New Jersey Department of Education estimates that the average cost of educating a child for 12 years is $12,000. This figure includes tuition, books, supplies, and transportation costs.

In many cases, the total cost of education can run much higher, especially for children from lower-income families. In these cases, it may be impossible to afford the cost of education.

In addition to tuition, books, and supplies, there are many other costs associated with education, such as transportation, extracurricular activities, and technology fees.

Parents must also consider the cost of living in their area, which can vary significantly from one region to another.

Parents need to weigh the cost of education against the potential returns on investment. A college degree can lead to better job opportunities and higher salaries, which can offset the cost of education over time.

Parents should also consider alternative education options, such as home schooling or online education, which may be more affordable than traditional education.

In conclusion, the cost of education is a significant factor for parents to consider when making decisions about their children's education.

NEW MANAGEMENT

For Unique Milwaukee English — a textile manufacturer and owner of a large property in New Jersey has recently invested over $10 million in the expansion of his firm.

A new building is now under construction and the company has purchased additional land.

The new building will be used for the production of textiles and the expansion of the company's facilities.

The owner, John Smith, said that the company was expanding in order to keep up with the increasing demand for textiles.

He added that the new building would be equipped with the latest technology and the company was looking forward to the completion of the project.

The expansion is expected to create over 1,000 new jobs in the area.

John Smith, who has worked in the textile industry for many years, said that he is confident about the future of the company.

He added that the company will continue to invest in new technology and facilities in order to maintain its position as a leader in the industry.

The new building will be located in the heart of the city and will include state-of-the-art equipment.

John Smith said that the company is committed to providing high-quality products and services to its customers.

He added that the company will continue to invest in research and development in order to stay ahead of the competition.

School-Age ‘Stumpers’ List Advocate as ‘Man Who’

NEWARK — There’s more to the “Stumpers” Club of Holland and Cedar down St., now a large and popular neighborhood, than your belief in this name, says one of its members.

We refer to the election year, as every child in the neighborhood is a potential voter. The club has been formed to teach young children about the game of democracy and the importance of voting. The club meets every Saturday morning at 10 a.m., and every child is expected to bring a newspaper and a pen with them.

Presented in this comprehensive guide is the history of the club, its aims, and the manner in which it operates. The club has a membership of 40 children, and is led by the club’s president, a young boy named John.

What’s in it for the stumpers? To begin with, each child who subscribes to a subscription to the club will receive a membership card, which entitles them to attend all club meetings. The club also provides a newsletter to each member, which includes club news, upcoming events, and tips on how to vote.

Presentation Plaque

Tango, a Lankan

The presentation plaque to be given to the first member of the Holland and Cedar down St. school board, was presented to the school board by the Holland and Cedar down St. school board members. The presentation plaque is a token of appreciation for their support of the Holland and Cedar down St. school board.

Election Day

This Saturday is Election Day. The polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m., and all voters are encouraged to cast their ballots at one of the polling places.
