WASHINGTON (EN) — A committee of U.S. bishops has added faces to the annual gathering of American bishops, to be held in December in Hollywood.

The five bishops who guide the work of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops in board meetings will now be joined by a sixth bishop, from California. The new bishop will join the others in the annual meeting, which will be held in Los Angeles.

The bishops noted that they are not the only ones to have been invited to the meeting. The others from across the country will be represented by their respective bishops in attendance.

The meeting is scheduled for the 1st of December in Hollywood, with the attendance of bishops from California and Pennsylvania.

The meeting will feature discussions on various topics, including the challenges facing the Catholic Church and the importance of unity and cooperation among bishops.

The Novena (CELAM) is in preparing the meeting, and the bishops hope to receive a positive response from their colleagues in other countries.

The bishops also expressed their gratitude for the support and encouragement they have received from the media and other organizations.

The meeting will also focus on the ongoing dialogue and the need for continued efforts to promote the unity and cooperation among the bishops in the United States.

CPA Plans Joint Program With Latin America in Mass Media

NEW YORK (AP) — The Catholic Press Association of the United States and Canada has announced a project which will bring a team of Latin American journalists to the United States to discuss the joint program on behalf of Church activities in Latin America, the CPA said.

The CPA will sponsor a series of joint regional programs in Latin America and offer job training for Latin American journalists. Plans for the program include joint projects with the Catholic Press Institute of Latin America, the Latin American Press Service, and the Latin American Catholic Association.

The program will also include a series of lectures, seminars, and workshops on topics such as the role of the press in Latin America, the importance of press freedom, and the challenges faced by Latin American journalists.

A TASTE Derby, Fall 1898, has been a life of study on the part of American Catholic journalists. Plans call for these newsmen to work in the region of the United States, and the CPA said that they would be able to offer advice on a number of topics, including the challenges of modern journalism.

Catholic Families Warned Against Modern Pressures

ARCHDIOCESE, WU — Catholic families were warned against modern pressures on December 1, 1960, by the Archbishop of Miami, who told them to be on guard against the dangers of modern society. In his address to the congregation, the Archbishop said that families are the basic units of society and that they must be strong to withstand the pressures of modern life. He urged parents to be firm in their faith and to provide a strong religious environment for their children.

"The family is the foundation of society," the Archbishop said. "It is the place where we learn the values of life, and it is the place where we learn to love. We must be careful to protect the family from the pressures of modern life, and we must be careful to provide a strong religious environment for our children."

Cooperation Seen Needed In Interracial Field

CINCINNATI (AP) — A move to pair neighborhoods in the city could make a greater impact if the national government didn’t always look for the problem from Columbus-first, said Mayor C. A. Crouch. A former civil rights advocate in Washington, he said the initiative must be an integrated effort in the area of race relations, not just the black community, with members of other churches and community leaders involved. The city’s black churches have begun to form a coalition to fight against the spread of the National Catholic Church’s new national convention for interracial cooperation in the city.

There is need for a new, more inclusive approach in the city, Crouch said.

Second Chance for Errant Mate To Save Him From Remarriage?

By Rev. John L. Thomas, S.J.

Are there three times when a wife is not available for her husband? Of course there are. Any married woman might have a good reason for not being in the neighborhood for a month or so. But there are times when he’s married, and he’s not available. He’s remarried. It’s a situation that’s almost as bad as his having died, and for the effects of his absence on the children. Your marriage is really over if you can’t come back. What’s my suggestion in a wife? Your best solution would normally be a divorce, but I’m afraid that’s out of the question. Even if he is quite tolerant, he’ll see the whole situation in its negative aspect, and that’s bad. I mean, the divorce is a legal act, and the effects of it are irrevocable. The only thing that you can do is to try to make yourself as happy as you can, and to try to be as good as you can. That’s the only thing you can do.

Poverty Follows the Missionary Padre on His Parish Rounds

By Floyd Anderson

...to get there. His Maryland birth would not alter the Father's judgment. He would find some poverty, some suffering. And the Saints having in their midst that sort of people, would be given our most earnest cooperation, for the Father's work, the Church.

LET ME TELL you about a food, a holiday gift program named after Charles McCarthy, the late famous, if not the best, of New Jersey's food editors who was the Father's friend. As Father's friend he had three hundred plus friends...but there are still plenty of others that have been converted to the Father's ways.

FATHER McCARTHY was one of the first to respond to the need of poverty in his community. He used to be known to three hundred plus friends. And the food business was always the topic of discussion.

CAN YOU STAND a lowly food editor? build-in product that was too low...when a humble baker of some or more children would ask for help, say, "I have no clothes to wear to school," or even older, "nothing to eat for dinner." If his hands were filthy he would try to make some sense out of the situation. They got them from the neighboring farmers...a few potatoes and so on. They were given to the Father's work...and the Father's work was...feeding the hungry.

A YEAR ago last August Father McCarthy began what he called a "food campaign," visiting the Catholic churches of the diocese...except the ones of the diocese...except Diocese of Paterson and Paterson, in particular. In March they showed Father McCarthy and finely boxed food in a 15lb. box...and within two days on the way...box was opened...and the food was given to the Father's work...and the Father's work was...feeding the hungry.

FATHER McCARTHY was one of the first to respond to the need of poverty in his community. He used to be known to three hundred plus friends. And the food business was always the topic of discussion.

PERHAPS THE savior you give away to the Thanksgiving Dinner, not later than week before the 1st day of November, is the best food that the hungry can have. His hands were filthy, but he was given to the Father's work...and the Father's work was...feeding the hungry.

In Your Charity Remember Lepers at Christmas Time

A picture of a leper might lighten you, but not so much the poor suffering, but you won't help anything if you try to help them, as the money you raise by selling the picture will be lost. The money will go to the Archdiocese of Chicago for a mission in China, where the lepers are most numerous, and the money will be used to establish a mission for the relief of Chinese lepers. Happy Marriage in the Eternal Lepers' Church

One of the great benefits of the present war is to be found in the many thousands of people who have been driven from their homes and who are now living in the streets of the cities. Many of these people have been converted to the Catholic faith and have been introduced to the Church. They have been given a beautiful picture of the Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin Mary and have been told that it is a picture of the Mother of God. The picture has been given to them as a token of the devotion of the people who have been converted to the Catholic faith. The picture has been given to them as a token of the devotion of the people who have been converted to the Catholic faith.

Happening Christmas in the Eternal Lepers' Church

On Christmas Eve the lepers' church was decorated with beautiful and fragrant flowers, and the air was filled with the sweet fragrance of the flowers. Grid Returns Are In, Balloons to Be Counted

NEWARK—All the returns are in for the 1960 football campaign. If not from the presidential race, it is a matter of whether the 8-5555 star New Jersey Catholic championships.

A double play, or perhaps a triple, to the enders as they lay to the

No. 14 pick of the personnel.

In the "A" group of defending teams, the "B" division—last year's and No. 1 junior—will be the dominant factor in the division.

The position of the "B" division was the one that looked like the "A" division a year ago. The division was the outstanding player of the, of course, on the New Jersey Catholic leagues.

Big scores marked most of the games, and the "A" group will be the one to watch for the "A" group of defending teams. Big scores marked most of the "A" group of teams and will be the one to watch for the "A" group of defending teams.

Bochicchio's (6-0), No. 11) and the group of teams and will be the one to watch for the "A" group of defending teams.

The English send off at St. Mary's/kot at St. Peter's, but the Persimmon class to the reader will continue.

Cubans in Miami—Many Are Hungry, Needing Jobs, Help

MIAMI — The exodus from Castro's Cuba has brought thousands of political refugees to the Miami area, where assistance efforts are being made to care for them. About 30,000 Cubans have been processed at Miami International Airport, and half of those have sought assistance from Centro Hispano Catón, the Miami chapter of the Catholic Migration Center.

The center was able to offer immediate help to 120 Cuban refugees when it opened about a month ago, but it has come to handle between 200 and 300 new arrivals each day. The work has also been expanding to offer help for Cuban workmen, who have also been processed at the airport. The center has also been handling the care of more than 3,000 youths who have been sent by the U.S. government to schools in the Miami area.

Cuban children of school age are being processed in the same way as adults. For this reason, 700 children have been processed by the center, which has been able to place them in a number of schools.

The center, which has been able to place them in a number of schools.

Cuba's long-standing problem with civil rights, including freedom of speech, freedom of the press, and freedom of worship, has been highlighted in recent events. The Cuban government has been accused of suppressing dissent and limiting the rights of its citizens. The United Nations has expressed concern over the human rights situation in Cuba and has called for respect for fundamental freedoms and human rights.

Cuba is a one-party state ruled by the Communist Party, and the government has been criticized for its authoritarian and repressive policies. The country has been under international isolation for decades, and many of its citizens are denied basic freedoms and rights.

Cuba's economy has been severely impacted by the ongoing economic sanctions imposed by the United States and other Western countries. The country relies heavily on tourism, which has been a major source of revenue in recent years.

The Cuban government has been accused of using the tourism industry to profiteer from the suffering of its own citizens. Critics argue that the government has failed to invest in infrastructure and social welfare programs, leaving many Cubans in poverty and destitution.

Cuba's relationship with the United States has been tense for decades, and the two countries have rarely engaged in diplomatic relations. The U.S. embargo against Cuba has been in place since the 1960s, and it remains a significant barrier to the development of mutual understanding and cooperation.

Despite the challenges, Cuba has a rich cultural heritage and a long history of resistance. The Cuban people have shown resilience and determination in the face of adversity, and their struggles continue to inspire others around the world.
Urges World-Wide Charity

NOW: News Service

Following is a translation of an address delivered on July 17, 1960, in Paris by John XXIII, in Capistrano, in Argentina, to the 150th general assembly of Catholic Charities in Rome. The Pope and the charter organization of local Catholic Charities are united in spirit in their endeavors to assist others.

We welcome this opportunity to thank you, and you who are with us today, for your support of the work of this assembly of Catholic Charities. You are a true sign of the Church, a sign of the good news of the Resurrection. We must not forget that the Church is a missionary Church, and that she must always be on the move, in the midst of the problems of our world. The task we are facing is a great one, but we have the strength to carry it out.

In all parts of the world, in all climates, in all conditions, the Church is present. We must therefore be present, too. We must be present in the midst of the poor, in the midst of the sick, in the midst of the dying. We must be present in the midst of the people who are suffering, in the midst of the people who are hungry, in the midst of the people who are alone.

We must be present in the midst of the people who are searching for truth, for justice, for love. We must be present in the midst of the people who are aspiring to a better life, to a better future. We must be present in the midst of the people who are aspiring to a better world, to a better world for all.

We must be present in the midst of the people who are living in the midst of the world, in the midst of the world that is hungry, in the midst of the world that is sick, in the midst of the world that is in pain.

We must be present in the midst of the people who are living in the midst of the world that is divided, in the midst of the world that is in conflict, in the midst of the world that is in war.

Explosion Damages Dominican Seminary

CABACAS, Venezuela (AP) — A dynamite blast has partially destroyed a seminary school for the Santisima Trinidad seminary in the Dominican Republic according to reports reaching the seminary.

A source said the explosion was created by an unknown maker. Initial reports differ as to the status of the seminary. The seminary has been a very active and controversial place over the past several years. It has been reported to be involved in a number of political incidents.

At least 10 people were injured in the blast. Initial reports indicate that the explosion was caused by a gas leak. The blast has caused significant damage to the seminary and a number of other structures nearby. The cause of the explosion is still unknown.

The seminary's religious community is currently in shock. The religious community has taken steps to secure the area and ensure the safety of their members. The local government has also been notified and is currently investigating the incident.

Plans are underway to rebuild the damaged structures. The seminary community is also working on a plan to provide temporary housing for those who have been affected by the explosion. The seminary administration has called for the community to come together and support one another during this difficult time.

The seminary community has requested the public's help in providing financial support for the rebuilding efforts. They have set up a special fund to support the rebuilding efforts. The local government has also offered to assist in the rebuilding process.

The seminary community is committed to continuing their mission of providing a quality education to young men from all walks of life. They are working to ensure that the seminary remains a strong and active community.

Tributes have been pouring in from the religious community worldwide. Many have expressed their support and solidarity with the community.

The seminary community has assured the public that they will continue to provide quality education to young men from all walks of life. They are committed to rebuilding and enhancing the seminary to provide a safe and secure environment for their students.
Holy Father Discusses Work Proper to Women

NCRC News Service
Following is a translation of an address delivered by Pope John XXIII on Aug. 22, 1964, to members of the world League of Catholic Women. The Pope said that the issue of the family "is the most important, for the woman who enters the working world." We are greatly indebted to the League of Catholic Women for the role it has played in the world in behalf of the defense of the family, and for whom it has expressed the ideas of the Church as to the meaning and value of the family, the Church's teaching on marriage and the family, and its concern for the rights and duties of the married couple, in the light of the Gospel and the natural law. The Pope also emphasized the importance of the family in the development of society and the Church.
