Despite the fact that the government of Cuba is a communist state, the church has been accepted by the government as a revolutionary force.

Bishop Larrain of Chile Tells Urgent Needs of Latin America

BISHOP LARRAIN was present in New York last week to discuss the urgent needs of Latin America. The visit was incident to the Christmas party of the Latin American Catholic Community. He met with the American bishops, as well as Catholic leaders and friends.

In his talk to the bishops, Bishop Larrain stated that the needs of Latin America are urgent and pressing. He emphasized the importance of education and health care, and the need for economic development to lift the people out of poverty. He also spoke about the need for peace and stability in the region.

He mentioned the problems faced by the Catholic Church in Latin America, including persecution and harassment. He called for the support of the international community to help Latin American Catholics.

Bishop Larrain also discussed the situation in the hemisphere, including the challenges posed by communism. He called for understanding and dialogue between the two sides.

In his talk to the American bishops, Bishop Larrain emphasized the importance of solidarity with the Latin American people. He called for increased support for the Catholic Church in the region.

He concluded his talk by expressing his gratitude to the American bishops and their supporters for their support of Latin American Catholics.
Religious

The exceptionally modern expression "cold war" has largely been applied to the inter-religious schism, because it was not until after the Second Vatican Council that the concept of religious pluralism was recognized by the Catholic Church. But the cold war is gradually coming to an end, as evidenced by the growing number of ecumenical movements and the increasing cooperation between religious groups.

The appeal of the Pope to all religious leaders, the prospects of an inter-faith conference, and the establishment of a World Council of Churches are all contributing factors to the current thaw in the cold war of religions. The fact that the Pope has shown a willingness to address issues of common concern to all religions is a positive sign that the inter-religious conflict is not purely a matter of "clash of civilizations," but rather a result of misunderstanding and ignorance.

The current thaw in the cold war of religions is evident in the increasing number of joint initiatives and meetings between religious leaders. These efforts to bridge the gap between different religious beliefs are a welcome sign of progress. The goal of these initiatives is to foster mutual understanding and respect, rather than to promote conversions or the suppression of diversity.

It is hoped that this thaw in the cold war of religions will lead to greater cooperation and collaboration between religious groups, ultimately leading to a more united world. The Pope's appeal to all religious leaders to address common issues is a positive step in this direction.

Christmas Gift Suggestions

As we approach the Christmas season, it is time to consider what gifts we can provide to others to spread the joy of the season. Here are some suggestions for Christmas gifts that can make a meaningful impact:

1. Religious books: Consider giving a religious book that explores the teachings of your faith, or a book that provides insights into other religions. These gifts can help deepen one's understanding of different beliefs and promote mutual respect.

2. Religious artwork: A piece of religious art, such as a painting or sculpture, can be a beautiful and lasting gift that connects the recipient to their faith.

3. Religious music: A CD or vinyl record featuring religious music can be a wonderful way to share the beauty of worship and prayer.

4. Religious clothing: A religiously themed shirt or sweatshirt can be a practical and thoughtful gift that the recipient can wear as a reminder of their faith.

5. Religious jewelry: A religiously themed necklace or bracelet can be a sentimental gift that holds special meaning.

These gifts can help bring together people of different faiths and promote a spirit of understanding and unity during the festive season.

Mary Is the First Steward In Dispensing God's Grace

By Franklin F. Lander

At the Annunciation, that day so long ago when the Holy Ghost overshadowed the Virgin Mary, who was to become the mother of God, the Lord spoke through the Archangel Gabriel: "Hail, full of grace, the Lord is with thee: blessed art thou among women." This event marks the beginning of Mary's role as the first steward in dispensing God's grace to humanity.

The role of Mary as a steward of God's grace is evident throughout her life. From the moment of her conception, she was set apart as a vessel of grace to accomplish the will of God. Her obedience and humility throughout her life demonstrate her unwavering commitment to God's plan.

Mary's role as a steward of God's grace is also evident in her role as the Mother of Jesus. Through her faithful obedience and her unwavering love for her Son, she was able to bring about the Incarnation and the redemption of humanity. Mary's example serves as a model for all who seek to follow in her footsteps and dispense God's grace to the world.

Supreme Caesar

During the recent controversy over the 1956 Hungarian revolution, the Pope, in an address to the Pontifical Academy of Sciences, said: "The Church, like the State, cannot be used as a means of punishment. "

This principle would be followed by any religious as well as by any non-religious community, since every community has the right to freedom of conscience, to determine its own program, and to use its own instruments. The Church, like the State, has the right to use its own instruments to serve the common good of all men, and to fulfill its own mission.

The Church must take care not to use its own instruments for punishment, but rather to use them for the common good of all men. The Church has the right to use its own instruments for the education and formation of its members, for the maintenance of its own institutions, and for the promotion of its own interests.

And if we hesitate in our actions and our words, we must remember that the Church is not a political institution, but rather a religious institution, which has the right to express itself only in religious terms.

Prayer in Public Schools

In December of 1956, the New York State Board of Regents, by a vote of 9 to 2, reversed a 1902 decision to allow the recitation of the Lord's Prayer in public schools. The Board of Regents declared that the recitation of the Lord's Prayer was a violation of the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

The recitation of the Lord's Prayer in public schools was challenged in the courts by the New York Education Association, but the decision of the Board of Regents was upheld. The N.Y.S. Board of Regents has since taken action to prevent the recitation of any religious prayer in public schools.

Peace, Bright Star, Mary, Baby, King. Love—Are Christmas Words

By June Dever

Bright, bright star, how beautiful, so your light shines so bright, Jesus, King. Baby Jesus, King, we adore you. Bright, bright star, so small and so sweet, Jesus, King.

Daydreams can now dream the Christmas scene in just a few weeks. And the whole beautiful story of that child, who came to earth as a baby, to bear his cross and to die for the sins of the world, is brought to life by the four gifts, love, light, joy, peace.

Many of us are looking forward to the Christmas season, not only for the joy and peace it brings, but also for the pleasure of giving to others. Christmas is a time for love, for sharing, and for the joy of giving.

The magic of Christmas is not just in the gifts we exchange, but in the memories we create and the relationships we strengthen. It is a time to come together as a family and to enjoy each other's company, to share our thoughts and feelings, and to create lasting memories.

Christmas is also a time to reflect on the true meaning of the holiday, to remember the reason for the season. It is a time to think about the love and sacrifice that Jesus Christ brought to the world, and to remember the joy and peace that he brought to us.

In conclusion, Christmas is a time of joy, love, and peace. It is a time to come together as a family and to celebrate the true meaning of the holiday. So let us all enjoy the season and the joy that it brings.

THE BRIGHTEST GIFTS ARE those that come with love, light, joy, and peace.

Winter Theme

For Marylind

A private Christmas tree will be the center of interest for the classroom activities this morning on Saturday, December 19. The theme of the day will be "The Beauty of Christmas." Children will be invited to join in a special program at 9:30 A.M. which will feature a beautiful tree, an exhibit of invitations, and a Christmas tree decorated by the children. A special program will be presented at 11:00 A.M. by the priest of the school, Father John J. Kane, who will speak about the beauty of Christmas in the Catholic Church.

A Christmas tree will be decorated and set up for the pupils to enjoy. The tree will be decorated with various items such as candles, ribbons, and ornaments. The children will be invited to place their own decorations on the tree, making it a true "Tree of Joy." The tree will also feature a special "Tree of Love," decorated with gifts and cards from the students to their families and friends. The entire school will participate in the decoration of the tree, creating a festive atmosphere for all.

The day will culminate in a special service at 3:00 P.M. led by Father Kane. The service will feature a reading of the Christmas story, a prayer, and a moment of reflection. The children will be invited to participate in the service, either by reciting a prayer or reading a paragraph from the Christmas story. The service will be followed by a special Christmas treat for all students.

This day will be a special occasion for the students, filled with joy, love, and a sense of community. It will be a day to remember, as the students will be immersed in the beauty of Christmas, surrounded by festive decorations and the warmth of each other's company.

Union Plans End To "Wallflowers"

After weeks of planning and preparation, the Union plans to end the "wallflowers" tradition this year. The event, which has been a staple of the Union's social calendar for over a decade, has been replaced by a new tradition called "Floral Fantasia." This new tradition aims to provide a more inclusive and enjoyable experience for all attendees.

The idea for "Floral Fantasia" came from the Union's committee on social events, who wanted to create an event that would cater to a wider range of interests. The committee worked closely with the organizers of the "Wallflowers" event to ensure a smooth transition. The new tradition will feature a variety of floral arrangements, live music, and interactive activities that will engage attendees of all ages.

"Floral Fantasia" will be held on Saturday, January 20, from 7:00 to 10:00 P.M. in the Union's Great Hall. Tickets are available for purchase online at the Union's website or at the Box Office. For more information, visit the Union's website or contact the Office of Student Life at 555-5555.

Whether you're a fan of flowers, music, or just looking for a fun night out, "Floral Fantasia" is sure to be a hit. Join us for an evening of fun and celebration as we say goodbye to "Wallflowers" and welcome "Floral Fantasia."

Church's Seven Songs for Waiting

In the Fullness of God's time and when all things were made ready, Christ came into the world. New Jerusalem was brought a new life to earth's people. This was the event for which the ages of the Old Testament had prepared. Its fruits would be felt for nearly two centuries.

In the song of the Church which opened the Christmas Story, we are told to return the contraries of our lives, to either the living or the dead so that we may open the eyes of our hearts and prepare them for the birth of the Saviour. In addition, we are exhorted to give our families, to those who are lost, and to our nation a new life in Christ, to prepare our hearts for His incarnation which transforms us.

No better is the story of the history of the years of waiting more dramatically exemplified than in the story of the Reformation. The Reformation project, the House of Refuge, and the enforcement of the Old Testament, are shown in their specific and singular project, the Christmas Tree. The Christmas Tree is the gift of the year, given us by Christ, and this year, the twelve days before Christmas and on which the Christmas Tree brings to us the greatest light which Christ could bestow.

In this celebration, you must find your way to the house of your faith, and treat the Christmas Tree as one of the great gifts of God. The Christmas Tree is the symbol of our faith, and to have it in your house is to help us to see the glory of God shining through the years, and through the blessings of the Church.

The Christmas Tree is the symbol of Christ, and an old custom being revived like many of the customs in this nation. It reminds us that the Christmas Tree is a symbol of Christ, new born.

Sight: Christmas, and even more, O Lord our God, when you have given your people a king in your kingdom, to be our leader.

In the word, Emmanuel, is summed everything. It is the summary of the hopes of the ages. To Emmanuel means God with us. Emmanuel, our Lord with us. Emmanuel, the God who enters into our midst as a man and a child.

The children of Israel, longing in their heart long ago, can now be said to have heard Emmanuel. The Lord has come, as He said. And the Lord has come as Emmanuel, as God with us.
Family Carolers Share Joy

At Christmas Eve, you are busy about a hundred things, and maybe wondering where you will find the real spirit amid all the modern clutter. Suddenly you hear singing voices—sweet Christmas carols—"a capella." And they come coming nearer.

Suppose then you go to your door and are greeted by a group with several hundred figures ranging from tiny to tall, some carrying lights, some lanterns to heighten the thrill for reading from script. What would you think?

This was one of the highlights of the evening. Many people were delighted with the display and the spirit of the past when people sang and caroled, and the whole room was filled with Christmas joy.

Christmas Morn 'Curtain' For Family Nativity Play

Let's imagine you are in a cozy living room on Christmas morning. The Knapp family, led by Mrs. Knapp, a talented mother, is preparing for a nativity play that her children are planning to perform. The children have been practicing for weeks, and everyone is excited. The stage is set in the living room, with a manger made from a cardboard box and hay made from shredded paper. The children are dressed in simple costumes, and the atmosphere is festive and warm.

Happy Day, Holy Night: Christmastime at Darlington

Traditional Start: In a traditional ceremony, a student at Immaculate Conception Seminary lights the four candles on the Advent wreath for the last time — on Christmas Eve. The wreath hangs in front of the lectern in the refectory; the candles are lit daily at the main meal as the seminarians prepare for the Christmas celebration. Fraught with tradition, stirringly beautiful, Christmas at Darlington is cherished by the seminarians, long-remembered after they are ordained priests.

Woodsmen: Seminarians gather pine for the wreaths and decorations which will be hung throughout the seminary in the best old-fashioned tradition of “Deck the Halls.” Sometimes, as above, snow falls, on the seminary campus to make the scene even more picturesque.

Silent Night: On Christmas Eve, shortly after dinner, groups of seminarians carol at the nearby convent and the homes of lay workers at Darlington. Above, Sisters of Charity brave the night’s cold to accept the musical greeting.

Call to Mass: As midnight nears on Christmas Eve, the Philosophy Choir, composed of third and fourth-year college students, sings Christmas carols in the halls to wake the seminarians for Mass. Carrying lighted candles the choristers move through the corridors inviting: “Venite adoremus.”

Let Us Adore Him: A seminarian stops to pray at the crib erected by his classmates in the chapel.

Moment of Glory: The climax of Christmas at the seminary is the celebration of the solemn high Midnight Mass in the seminary chapel.

Tree Trimmers: Trimming the main Christmas tree in the refectory is a beloved tradition and eagerly-approached project for the seminarians.

Mail Call: The Christmas season also brings with it thoughts of home, and here the eager seminarians respond to mail call bringing holiday greetings from their loved ones.

Peace on earth, good will to all at the joyous Christmas season

"Ye shall find the bale wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger. And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, ‘Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.’"

Arose the years whoEchoes of the story of the Christmas season, an inspiration, a promise and a blessing to all mankind. At this holy, joyous season, we wish to all our friends and customers a holiday visit in the spiritual Rewards of Christmas, and a full portion of all the good things that a happy Yuletide holds.

Tell Christmas Tales

Boughs, Blossoms and Berries

VEN THE flowers and plants of Christ- mas may serve as props for instructing children about the real meaning of the season.

There are many legends associated with such growing things as holly, poinsettia, ivy, mistletoe, bay leaf and the real which can enrich Christmas traditions for adults as well as children.

To begin with, as Mater shows a holly wreath on the door and places it on the mantel, she explains: "Growing poinsettias in the garden and arranging a centerpiece of red and green is a popular Mexican custom. When the flower was first introduced into this country, it was thought to be a symbol of Christmas because the Mexican Christmas festival took place during the week in which Christmas is observed. From that time on, the poinsettia has been the most popular Christmas flower."

As the children's eyes light up with interest, the parents repeat this dictum: "Unlike other flowers, this one will not fade as quickly because it is not picked."

To explain the ivy, the parents might say: "Ivy is part of Christmas. It can be found in ancient manuscripts, and its meaning is not known. Ivy is used in the wreath to remind the world of the coming of Jesus Christ and the eternal life which He brings."

In explaining the bay leaf, the parents might say: "Bay leaves are used in the traditional Christmas wreath to remind us of the three wise men who brought gifts to Jesus."

As the parents explain the meaning of bay leaves and the purpose for which they were used as an offering, they may add: "The three wise men brought incense, frankincense and myrrh to the baby Jesus, who is the Christ child."

The parents might explain that the two diseases of Christmas are used to explain the meaning of the baby Jesus. The bay leaf is used to remind the world of the Christ child, who brought light into the darkness of sin and death. The bay leaf is used to remind the world of the Christ child, who brought light into the darkness of sin and death.

To explain the rose, the parents might say: "The rose is a flower that symbolizes the Virgin Mary. The rose is also used in the traditional Christmas wreath to remind us of the Virgin Mary."

As the parents explain the meaning of rose leaves and the purpose for which they were used as an offering, they may add: "The rose is a flower that symbolizes the Virgin Mary. The rose is also used in the traditional Christmas wreath to remind us of the Virgin Mary."
The 12th Day of Christmas
When the Magi Arrive...

With a blessing, a cake, a little king wearing a crown, and gifts to recall the Magi, the Feast of the Epiphany, Jan. 6, can be made much of in the home. This feast, after all, has wonderful lessons to teach it is the day commemorating the manifestation of Christ to the Gentiles, of his recognition as King, of his reception of gifts which have come to symbolize our own love, prayer and sacrifice.

12TH DAY: In the morning, Jan. 6, the 12th Day of Christmas, is to move the figures of the Wise Men into the home, says Mrs. Birdwell. The cake has been hopefully brewing from the Christmas Eve, and now the wise men are to come into the home.

There are various customs associated with the Epiphany cake. One is a custom started in a family of Mrs. Birdwell, who, in the morning of Jan. 6, will tip the cake in a bowl of milk on the dining room table. A piece of the cake will be cut, and the remainder will be baked and returned to the bowl. The piece of the cake that is cut is for the young in the family. The rest will be divided among other family members.

1ST PRESENT: To the King of the home, the bread and cardamom cake, is to be offered by the King, in this house, the little king. He is King of this home, and he is to be feted and honored as such. He is King of all the family.

According to custom, the first gift of the Epiphany is to be brought to the home by the little king. This custom is observed in many homes. The gifts are brought to the home on the day of the Epiphany. The gifts are usually brought by the children of the family.

THE MAGI BLESSING: Dick Birdwell asks Three Kings' initials and the year numbers, 1961, sure to be gay with traditional blessing of the home. On Jan. 6, with his wife, Evelyn, and their children, Ellen, Peter, David and Jane look at A right Peter gives a manly Epiphany gift which he will present to other members of the family. His first crown as the prince of holding out the gift comes to him because he found the home to be gay with the children.

The cake, made for the day, is to be placed on a ring of confections give drops to look like a jeweled crown. Peter loses the crowns, learn about their meaning by asking questions.

We join you in saying...

"Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace among men of good will."

JOURNEY'S END: Jane places the first King in the crosier as Ellen stands by with the other members of the Magi group. The little ceremony occurs at the Church on Jan. 6. The Feast of the Epiphany

Since Christmas Eve the figures of the Magi have been moved each day a little closer to theanger from their starting point on the other side of the living room. Epiphany ceremonies are just one of the many home traditions the Birdwells enact; no elaborate ceremony is the rating of a Parish Meal on Holy Thursday, sometimes with one of the parish priests presiding.

Christmas 1-9124

Christmas 1-3124

The project came to light last summer when St. Paul School of Chicago, under the leadership of Father Joseph J. Condon, O.S.A., launched a campaign to build a new Most Holy Trinity Church in Chicago. The project, which was planned by Father John M. O’Toole, O.S.A., was under the direction of Father John J. Ryan, O.S.A.

CHRISTMAS

A Conclusion to Christmas

On Christmas Day, the Feast of the Epiphany, the Church celebrates the arrival of the Magi, the Wise Men, who brought gifts to the Child Jesus. This feast marks the climax of the Christmas season and is a time for joy and celebration. The Church invites all to come together in prayer and to share in the spirit of Christmas. For the past two months, the Church has been preparing for this great feast by celebrating the Christmas season in various ways, such as through the distribution of gifts, the lighting of candles, and the singing of carols. With the arrival of the Wise Men, the Church enters into a new phase of its ministry, dedicated to the spread of the Gospel and the bringing of light to the world. As we celebrate this day, let us remember the great love of Christ for us, and let us respond with our own love and devotion to Him. Amen.
The Ukrainian Christmas Begins on Jan. 6

By Ed Grant

Jan. 6, when Christmas trees are being stripped of their decorations in many North Jersey homes, Ukrainian Catholic will be sitting down to their traditional supper of the "Bratky Vechir," or "Little Eve." At the home of Wysy Pudshak in Irvington, five places will be set around the festive board: one for his wife Sophia, one for his older daughter Oria, and the two younger daughters, Sviati and Julian, "lav," on Jan. 7.\n
Preparation for Christmas is the Ukrainian church year's most important observance, comparable in some ways to Advent in the Western Church. On Nov. 28, which this year fell on a Saturday, with the opening of Advent, the period called "Advent Christmas," the liturgical calendar is inaugurated.\n
Soon after, it was noticed in the old country to be listing on Wednesday and Fridays, a practice no longer observed in this country.\n
FAMILY FEASTS were the custom of the Ukrainian church, and it was there observed in the homes of the faithful. On Nov. 28, there were family observances such as the blessing of the home, the lighting of the Advent wreath, and the giving of the advent wreath.\n
Some of the families of the church were the family which the church and the home were the symbols of the church. The family was the center of the church, and the home was the center of the family. The family was the focus of the church, and the home was the focus of the family.\n
The family was the center of the church, and the home was the center of the family.\n
