Pope John Plans Document on Leo's Labor Encyclical

VATICAN CITY (NC) — Pope John has announced he will issue a deplentur to commemorate the 75th anniversary of Leo XIII in 1958, but he has not yet specified whether the document will be an encyclical or another type of papal address.

The announcement was made in a speech to the Vatican's diplomatic corps on the occasion of the 75th anniversary of Leo XIII's death on Nov. 29.

"The encyclical will be a document of great importance," Pope John said. "It will be a declaration of principles to guide the Church in the future.

The Pope noted that his predecessor, Leo XIII, had been a great defender of the working class and had fought for the rights of workers. He said that the encyclical was intended to continue that tradition.

"Leo XIII was a great man," Pope John said. "He was a great leader in the fight for justice and peace."
Fatima Survivor Explains Why Message Was Secret

MISSISIPPI (AP) - Fatima Lucia dos Santos says God did not want her to be a prophet in the same sense as Jesus. She was told not to speak of visions and secrets even among family. She was told to talk of prayers and work for others.

Sister Lucia told members of the three peasant children of Fatima at the time of the visions that she would never reveal the secrets of the visions she had seen.

The secrets have been kept for 50 years. The Vatican declared the visions authentic in 1930.

"I do not want him to be a prophet in the same sense as Jesus. He did not want me to speak of visions and secrets even among family. He wants me to speak of prayers and work for others," Sister Lucia said in 1950.

The three children saw Fatima three times, in May, 1917, and on Oct. 13, 1917, when Fatima appeared and told them to build a church on the site of the visions. The church was built.

Sister Lucia has always been known as a modest, unassuming and simple woman. She is 82 years old.

She writes that she was told by the Angel of Peace that she was the most important person in the world.

Sister Lucia says that she was told that her life would be marked by trials and suffering.

The book by Sister Lucia is expected to be a bestseller.

The Vatican has said that the Fatima secrets will not be revealed until 1967, the 50th anniversary of the visions.

The American edition of the book is being released by Howard Books.

FILE - In this July 13, 1950, file photo, Fatima, Our Lady of Peace, author of the Fatima vision, is shown. (AP Photo)
Asks How We Can Make The Decency Pledge Work

By William H. Mooring

In an essay, Father William H. Mooring, J.S.M., associate professor of literature and modern languages at Holy Cross College, Connecticut, asks how we can make the Promise to be Decent报价 work. He concludes that a major problem with the pledge stems from a lack of understanding among people who have signed it.

The Decency Pledge is a promise made by those who believe in the need for proper behavior in public places. It was introduced by the National Catholic Welfare Council in 1920 as a way to encourage respect for decency and good manners. However, despite its widespread adoption, the effectiveness of the pledge has been debated by many.

Father Mooring argues that the problem with the Decency Pledge is a lack of understanding among those who have signed it. He suggests that people who sign the pledge may not fully understand what it means or how it can be implemented in their daily lives.

The pledged principle of avoiding “all unseemly and offensive language and behavior” cannot be realized unless every person who signs the pledge understands that it applies to a wide range of situations, from public places to private conversations.

Father Mooring concludes by suggesting that the Decency Pledge can be made more effective if people who sign it take time to understand its implications and how they can incorporate it into their daily lives.
Physician, Heal Thyself

It is said that three days in a row without the medical profession in the daily newspapers is a crisis. Certainly this is the case in present-day medical practice. The number of medical doctors working in the United States is constantly increasing and the demand for their services is also increasing. The medical profession is a vital part of our society, and it is important that we support and sustain it.

Our Adult Youth

Our young people of today face problems that are unique to their time and place. They are exposed to a world of new ideas and possibilities, and they must grapple with their own identity and purpose in this world. One of the greatest challenges they face is the temptation to use addictive substances.

The Addict Needs a Physician

The drug addict is a sick person. The fact that he uses drugs is a symptom of his illness, not the cause. The physician is the one who can help him to understand and overcome his illness.

Uncle Tom’s Tent

CIVIL RIGHTS

The QUESTION BOX

Will you give us your candid views on the following of the value of Negro acts by Negroes?

A. The letter to the editor of the Advocate which was presented to the Board of Education by the Negroes was a step in the right direction. It is a sign of the times, and we should support it.

Vocation Indulgences

Members of the Apostles for Vocation work are asked to confer in their parishes the following indulgences.

FORTY HOURS

Archdiocese of Newark

Archdiocese of Newark

In Your Prayers

Communism’s Survey

Of Battle of U. S.

By Louis F. Riedel

In this day of the araçes are starting to be as frequent as newspapers. A great deal of the time is spent in discussing the reasons behind the war. The reasons for the war are complex and multifaceted, but they are not yet fully understood.

The Adocate

Archdiocese of Newark

Archdiocese of Newark

The Adocate

The Adocate

AROUND THE PARISH

Having traced Mrs. O’Donnell about her reluctance to speak, Mr. O’Donnell left himself scheduled to introduce a speaker—and is desparately searching for someone “off the cuff” moment.

The Messenger

The Messenger

The Messenger

The Messenger
Wife of Roving-Eye Guy Asks: Am I Jealous, or What?

By Rev. John L. Thomas, S.J.

Assistant Professor of Psychology, St. Louis University

I'm deeply troubled and may you help. You see I'm wondering if I'm insecure or if I'm just being paranoid sometimes when I get a little jealous. My husband has always been kind and loving to me, but he has a lot of friends, and I sometimes feel like I don't get enough attention.

I have a friend who's married to a man who's very successful, and she often talks about how her husband can't spend enough time with her. I think she's just being paranoid, but I'm starting to wonder if I'm being insecure.

I was wondering if you could help me understand if I'm just being paranoid or if I'm actually insecure. I love my husband, and I don't want to cause any problems in our marriage.

Letters to the Editor

The Advocate (New York)

Christmas Artwork Called “Exquisite”

Editor:

Permit us to congratulate you on the exquisite reproduction of the Christmas artwork on the cover of your Supplement to the issue of Dec. 22. Virginia Fredericks has a passion for the original artwork, which was one of the most beautiful creations of yesterday and today. The work of the artists, such as Fredric, has never been so brilliant and passionate. The editorial and production staff at the Advocate should be commended for their fine work.

-The Art Lover

Ask Prayers in Crucial Years

The year 2023 will be a year of great distress and suffering as predicted by the Bible. The Advocate will be there to provide guidance and support. We encourage you to pray for strength and perseverance during these challenging times.

The Advocate (New York)

Cap’s Philanthropy Career With $15 Million Bequest

Chicago’s Cap Grasso, 72, who was once one of the nation’s most powerful mobsters, is giving away his fortune. Grasso, who is close friends with Nelson Rockefeller, was convicted of racketeering in 1963 and sentenced to 10 years in prison. He was released in 1973 after serving only five years.

Grasso, who has been living in Palm Beach, Fla., has been quietly giving away his fortune to various charities. His bequest, the largest ever given by a mobster, will go to the Rockefeller Brothers Fund. The fund will use the money to support education, health care, and other causes.

By Elise T. Grasso

Eliot's View of the Jews

The Advocate (New York)

Eliot’s view of the Jews was characterized by his use of caricature and ridicule. He often depicted the Jews as overindulgent and overly focused on money.

However, Eliot also had a more complex view of the Jews. He was drawn to their intellectual and cultural achievements, and he admired their ability to adapt and thrive in a changing world.

Eliot’s writings on the Jews were often seen as controversial, but they also provided a valuable perspective on the role of the Jews in American society.

By Dr. John E. Grasso

Cap's Philanthropy Career With $15 Million Bequest

Chicago’s Cap Grasso, 72, who was once one of the nation’s most powerful mobsters, is giving away his fortune. Grasso, who is close friends with Nelson Rockefeller, was convicted of racketeering in 1963 and sentenced to 10 years in prison. He was released in 1973 after serving only five years.

Grasso, who has been living in Palm Beach, Fla., has been quietly giving away his fortune to various charities. His bequest, the largest ever given by a mobster, will go to the Rockefeller Brothers Fund. The fund will use the money to support education, health care, and other causes.

By Elise T. Grasso

Eliot's View of the Jews

The Advocate (New York)

Eliot’s view of the Jews was characterized by his use of caricature and ridicule. He often depicted the Jews as overindulgent and overly focused on money.

However, Eliot also had a more complex view of the Jews. He was drawn to their intellectual and cultural achievements, and he admired their ability to adapt and thrive in a changing world.

Eliot’s writings on the Jews were often seen as controversial, but they also provided a valuable perspective on the role of the Jews in American society.

By Dr. John E. Grasso

Cap's Philanthropy Career With $15 Million Bequest

Chicago’s Cap Grasso, 72, who was once one of the nation’s most powerful mobsters, is giving away his fortune. Grasso, who is close friends with Nelson Rockefeller, was convicted of racketeering in 1963 and sentenced to 10 years in prison. He was released in 1973 after serving only five years.

Grasso, who has been living in Palm Beach, Fla., has been quietly giving away his fortune to various charities. His bequest, the largest ever given by a mobster, will go to the Rockefeller Brothers Fund. The fund will use the money to support education, health care, and other causes.

By Elise T. Grasso

Eliot's View of the Jews

The Advocate (New York)

Eliot’s view of the Jews was characterized by his use of caricature and ridicule. He often depicted the Jews as overindulgent and overly focused on money.

However, Eliot also had a more complex view of the Jews. He was drawn to their intellectual and cultural achievements, and he admired their ability to adapt and thrive in a changing world.

Eliot’s writings on the Jews were often seen as controversial, but they also provided a valuable perspective on the role of the Jews in American society.

By Dr. John E. Grasso

Cap's Philanthropy Career With $15 Million Bequest

Chicago’s Cap Grasso, 72, who was once one of the nation’s most powerful mobsters, is giving away his fortune. Grasso, who is close friends with Nelson Rockefeller, was convicted of racketeering in 1963 and sentenced to 10 years in prison. He was released in 1973 after serving only five years.

Grasso, who has been living in Palm Beach, Fla., has been quietly giving away his fortune to various charities. His bequest, the largest ever given by a mobster, will go to the Rockefeller Brothers Fund. The fund will use the money to support education, health care, and other causes.

By Elise T. Grasso

Eliot's View of the Jews

The Advocate (New York)

Eliot’s view of the Jews was characterized by his use of caricature and ridicule. He often depicted the Jews as overindulgent and overly focused on money.

However, Eliot also had a more complex view of the Jews. He was drawn to their intellectual and cultural achievements, and he admired their ability to adapt and thrive in a changing world.

Eliot’s writings on the Jews were often seen as controversial, but they also provided a valuable perspective on the role of the Jews in American society.

By Dr. John E. Grasso

Cap's Philanthropy Career With $15 Million Bequest

Chicago’s Cap Grasso, 72, who was once one of the nation’s most powerful mobsters, is giving away his fortune. Grasso, who is close friends with Nelson Rockefeller, was convicted of racketeering in 1963 and sentenced to 10 years in prison. He was released in 1973 after serving only five years.

Grasso, who has been living in Palm Beach, Fla., has been quietly giving away his fortune to various charities. His bequest, the largest ever given by a mobster, will go to the Rockefeller Brothers Fund. The fund will use the money to support education, health care, and other causes.

By Elise T. Grasso

Eliot's View of the Jews

The Advocate (New York)

Eliot’s view of the Jews was characterized by his use of caricature and ridicule. He often depicted the Jews as overindulgent and overly focused on money.

However, Eliot also had a more complex view of the Jews. He was drawn to their intellectual and cultural achievements, and he admired their ability to adapt and thrive in a changing world.

Eliot’s writings on the Jews were often seen as controversial, but they also provided a valuable perspective on the role of the Jews in American society.

By Dr. John E. Grasso

Cap's Philanthropy Career With $15 Million Bequest

Chicago’s Cap Grasso, 72, who was once one of the nation’s most powerful mobsters, is giving away his fortune. Grasso, who is close friends with Nelson Rockefeller, was convicted of racketeering in 1963 and sentenced to 10 years in prison. He was released in 1973 after serving only five years.

Grasso, who has been living in Palm Beach, Fla., has been quietly giving away his fortune to various charities. His bequest, the largest ever given by a mobster, will go to the Rockefeller Brothers Fund. The fund will use the money to support education, health care, and other causes.

By Elise T. Grasso

Eliot's View of the Jews

The Advocate (New York)

Eliot’s view of the Jews was characterized by his use of caricature and ridicule. He often depicted the Jews as overindulgent and overly focused on money.

However, Eliot also had a more complex view of the Jews. He was drawn to their intellectual and cultural achievements, and he admired their ability to adapt and thrive in a changing world.

Eliot’s writings on the Jews were often seen as controversial, but they also provided a valuable perspective on the role of the Jews in American society.

By Dr. John E. Grasso

Cap's Philanthropy Career With $15 Million Bequest

Chicago’s Cap Grasso, 72, who was once one of the nation’s most powerful mobsters, is giving away his fortune. Grasso, who is close friends with Nelson Rockefeller, was convicted of racketeering in 1963 and sentenced to 10 years in prison. He was released in 1973 after serving only five years.

Grasso, who has been living in Palm Beach, Fla., has been quietly giving away his fortune to various charities. His bequest, the largest ever given by a mobster, will go to the Rockefeller Brothers Fund. The fund will use the money to support education, health care, and other causes.

By Elise T. Grasso

Eliot's View of the Jews

The Advocate (New York)

Eliot’s view of the Jews was characterized by his use of caricature and ridicule. He often depicted the Jews as overindulgent and overly focused on money.

However, Eliot also had a more complex view of the Jews. He was drawn to their intellectual and cultural achievements, and he admired their ability to adapt and thrive in a changing world.

Eliot’s writings on the Jews were often seen as controversial, but they also provided a valuable perspective on the role of the Jews in American society.

By Dr. John E. Grasso
Mission Benefactor Finds God Assists His Friends

A woman without a job had been a privilege to be in the country. When visiting the church, she discovered the mission. She was interested in the formation of the mission and decided to support it. She started by giving a small donation and then continued to give more. She was able to support the mission and the people there.

Bishop Stanton

Bishop Stanton will make an announcement for the Promotion of the Faith in the diocese. He will also make an announcement for the Apprenticeship of the Faith. He will be in contact with the mission to discuss these matters.

Tells of Appreciation

Many thanks to the God who has helped us in the past year. He has given us strength and courage to continue our work. We are grateful for his blessings.

Relates His Need

For Church-School, there is a need for funds. The mission needs money to continue its work. We are asking for your support.

Obituary

It is a holy and obedient Christian who has passed away. He was a teacher at the mission and his service to the mission will be remembered.

Deacon Francis MURPHY

Deacon Francis Murphy has been a dedicated member of the mission. He was a pillar of the mission and his contributions will be missed.

Mendon Parish Lists

Mendon Parish has been active in the community. They have been working on a project to build a new church and have made great strides in recent years.

Apostleship of Prayer

Removal of Unity Obstacles Is The Intention for January

Apostleship of Prayer will be held on January 31. The purpose of this gathering is to remove unity obstacles and to promote unity in the community. It will be held at the mission.

Many other events will be held in the month of January. The mission will be active in the community and will work towards the removal of unity obstacles.

In Need of Volunteers

The mission is in need of volunteers. They need help with various tasks and activities. If you are interested, please contact the mission.

Estate of Clarence J. West

A section of the estate of Clarence J. West was sold to the mission. The proceeds will be used to support the mission.

Search for Mr. Collins

Mr. Collins is missing. The mission is searching for him and is asking for help from the community.

Mary Mother of God Church

An announcement has been made about the construction of the new church. The community is invited to the groundbreaking ceremony on January 28th.

Flyer for the mission is enclosed.

For more information, please contact the mission.
Newspapers

By Thomas G. Winfrey

The regiment, made up of Catholics, was given for the first time a Catholic chaplain, in 1861, and Father Burke, the chaplain, a priest, trained in the seminaries, and who was also serving as a military chaplain, was assigned to the regiment. He was the first Catholic chaplain to serve in the military during the Civil War. Father Burke wrote: "I was the first Catholic chaplain in the Army of the United States."

Father Burke

was the first Catholic chaplain to serve in the United States

Army during the Civil War. He was assigned to the 69th

New York Infantry, also known as "The Irish Legion," one of the most famous units of the Union Army.

Father Burke wrote:

"I was the first Catholic chaplain

in the Army of the United States."

Father Burke

was the first Catholic chaplain to serve in the United States

Army during the Civil War. He was assigned to the 69th

New York Infantry, also known as "The Irish Legion," one of the most famous units of the Union Army.

Father Burke wrote:

"I was the first Catholic chaplain

in the Army of the United States."

Father Burke

was the first Catholic chaplain to serve in the United States

Army during the Civil War. He was assigned to the 69th

New York Infantry, also known as "The Irish Legion," one of the most famous units of the Union Army.

Father Burke wrote:

"I was the first Catholic chaplain

in the Army of the United States."

Father Burke

was the first Catholic chaplain to serve in the United States

Army during the Civil War. He was assigned to the 69th

New York Infantry, also known as "The Irish Legion," one of the most famous units of the Union Army.

Father Burke wrote:

"I was the first Catholic chaplain

in the Army of the United States."

Father Burke

was the first Catholic chaplain to serve in the United States

Army during the Civil War. He was assigned to the 69th

New York Infantry, also known as "The Irish Legion," one of the most famous units of the Union Army.

December 10, 1961

The Advocate

North Jersey Date Book:

A Nun and Seventeen Ham Recipes Win a Two-Week Trip to Poland

DOMINICAN HONORED FOR CUBAN RELIEF WORK

CLEVELAND (Ohio)—The 13 baru recipes which were presented in a series of lectures by Sister Josephine Cullen here were preceded by a widely circulated pamphlet telling the story of the sister's work in Cuba.

And it's a good thing they were good. The 13 bars were originally written by the author and Sister Josephine Cullen was invited to write them.

The book, "Sister Josephine's Recipes," is a collection of her own recipes and those of other nuns from the Dominican Order in Cuba.

DOMINICAN HONORED FOR CUBAN RELIEF WORK

The Honorable Sister Mary Agnes, a nun who has a major role in Cuba's mission to the world, was honored with the highest award of the Dominican Order Oct. 13.

The Order of San Jose de Creston, a religious order in Cuba, presented the award to Sister Mary Agnes, who is the superior of the Dominican Order's Mission in Cuba.

SISTERS MARRIED, one of the sisters cited by the news media, was named as a hero in the world of Catholic relief work.

A Nun and Seventeen Ham Recipes Win a Two-Week Trip to Poland

Trick or Treaters" Raised Over $1 Million for UNICEF

UNITED NATIONS, Nov. 4 — A $1 million check was turned over to the United Nations yesterday by a delegation of Catholic relief workers.

The delegation was led by Sister Mary Agnes, who is the superior of the Dominican Order's Mission in Cuba.

SISTERS MARRIED, one of the sisters cited by the news media, was named as a hero in the world of Catholic relief work.

A Nun and Seventeen Ham Recipes Win a Two-Week Trip to Poland

Trick or Treaters" Raised Over $1 Million for UNICEF

UNITED NATIONS, Nov. 4 — A $1 million check was turned over to the United Nations yesterday by a delegation of Catholic relief workers.

The delegation was led by Sister Mary Agnes, who is the superior of the Dominican Order's Mission in Cuba.

SISTERS MARRIED, one of the sisters cited by the news media, was named as a hero in the world of Catholic relief work.

A Nun and Seventeen Ham Recipes Win a Two-Week Trip to Poland

Trick or Treaters" Raised Over $1 Million for UNICEF

UNITED NATIONS, Nov. 4 — A $1 million check was turned over to the United Nations yesterday by a delegation of Catholic relief workers.

The delegation was led by Sister Mary Agnes, who is the superior of the Dominican Order's Mission in Cuba.

SISTERS MARRIED, one of the sisters cited by the news media, was named as a hero in the world of Catholic relief work.
Immaculate, Marist, Don Bosco Tech
Score Impressive Holiday Tourney Wins

The results are now in on the Christmas basketball tournaments and it’s up to a roll at every tournament, performance by North Jersey Catholic schools.

Off the 13 tourney, the St. Patrick religiously swept the league crown. Don Bosco Tech and St. Mary’s (12) will be the top two teams in the conference and will be on the ballot for the Catholic高低 school honor. The two teams are now in a tie at 12-0 with one game left to play. Parking Tech will play Bergenfield Friday and St. Mary’s will play at St. Joseph’s-Beekman. The two teams will play each other in the final game of the season.

The St. Patrick were the only team to win an impressive 7-0 in the league and will be the top team in the county. Their record of 16-0 makes them the top team in the county.

The St. Patrick are led by senior guard Michael Smith, who has scored in 30 of the team’s 33 games. Smith has scored 28 points in six games for a 4.5 average. His scoring and rebounding are the highest in the county.

The six seniors scored 47 points in the tournament, with Smith leading the way with 16 points. The seniors were: Smith, John Murphy, James McQuade, John Kelly, Michael Flinn, and Daniel Kelly.

The seniors were honored on the court at the tournament’s final game on Saturday.

IMMACULATE, MARIST, DON BOSCO TECH

The results are now in on the Christmas basketball tournaments and it’s up to a roll at every tournament, performance by North Jersey Catholic schools.

Off the 13 tourney, the St. Patrick religiously swept the league crown. Don Bosco Tech and St. Mary’s (12) will be the top two teams in the conference and will be on the ballot for the Catholic高低 school honor. The two teams are now in a tie at 12-0 with one game left to play. Parking Tech will play Bergenfield Friday and St. Mary’s will play at St. Joseph’s-Beekman. The two teams will play each other in the final game of the season.

The St. Patrick were the only team to win an impressive 7-0 in the league and will be the top team in the county. Their record of 16-0 makes them the top team in the county.

The St. Patrick are led by senior guard Michael Smith, who has scored in 30 of the team’s 33 games. Smith has scored 28 points in six games for a 4.5 average. His scoring and rebounding are the highest in the county.

The six seniors scored 47 points in the tournament, with Smith leading the way with 16 points. The seniors were: Smith, John Murphy, James McQuade, John Kelly, Michael Flinn, and Daniel Kelly.

The seniors were honored on the court at the tournament’s final game on Saturday.
Renew Grant to Father Schuh

JERSEY CITY—Rev. Joseph A. Schuh, S.J., chairman of the Department of Theology and the Religious Studies department at St. Peter's College, has received a renewal of a grant from the National Council of Catholic Women.

Sisters of St. Joseph, former diocesan sister, and a native of Bayonne, for planning a $2,500,000, three-story college for the Sisters of St. Joseph for Women at the former Our Lady of Guadalupe School, Jamaica, N.Y. The proposal was received by the Association of Schools and Colleges of the Catholic Church, New York City, for research purposes.

Sisters of St. Joseph, former diocesan sister, and a native of Bayonne, for planning a $2,500,000, three-story college for the Sisters of St. Joseph for Women at the former Our Lady of Guadalupe School, Jamaica, N.Y. The proposal was received by the Association of Schools and Colleges of the Catholic Church, New York City, for research purposes.

Sisters of the Resurrection, former diocesan sister, and a native of Bayonne, for planning a $2,500,000, three-story college for the Sisters of the Resurrection for Women at the former Our Lady of Guadalupe School, Jamaica, N.Y. The proposal was received by the Association of Schools and Colleges of the Catholic Church, New York City, for research purposes.

Sisters of the Daughters of Charity, former diocesan sister, and a native of Bayonne, for planning a $2,500,000, three-story college for the Sisters of the Daughters of Charity for Women at the former Our Lady of Guadalupe School, Jamaica, N.Y. The proposal was received by the Association of Schools and Colleges of the Catholic Church, New York City, for research purposes.

Sisters of the Sacred Heart, former diocesan sister, and a native of Bayonne, for planning a $2,500,000, three-story college for the Sisters of the Sacred Heart for Women at the former Our Lady of Guadalupe School, Jamaica, N.Y. The proposal was received by the Association of Schools and Colleges of the Catholic Church, New York City, for research purposes.

Sisters of Charity, former diocesan sister, and a native of Bayonne, for planning a $2,500,000, three-story college for the Sisters of Charity for Women at the former Our Lady of Guadalupe School, Jamaica, N.Y. The proposal was received by the Association of Schools and Colleges of the Catholic Church, New York City, for research purposes.

Sisters of St. Francis, former diocesan sister, and a native of Bayonne, for planning a $2,500,000, three-story college for the Sisters of St. Francis for Women at the former Our Lady of Guadalupe School, Jamaica, N.Y. The proposal was received by the Association of Schools and Colleges of the Catholic Church, New York City, for research purposes.

Sisters of St. Joseph, former diocesan sister, a native of Bayonne, for planning a $2,500,000, three-story college for the Sisters of St. Joseph for Women at the former Our Lady of Guadalupe School, Jamaica, N.Y. The proposal was received by the Association of Schools and Colleges of the Catholic Church, New York City, for research purposes.

Sisters of St. Joseph, former diocesan sister, and a native of Bayonne, for planning a $2,500,000, three-story college for the Sisters of St. Joseph for Women at the former Our Lady of Guadalupe School, Jamaica, N.Y. The proposal was received by the Association of Schools and Colleges of the Catholic Church, New York City, for research purposes.

Sisters of St. Joseph, former diocesan sister, and a native of Bayonne, for planning a $2,500,000, three-story college for the Sisters of St. Joseph for Women at the former Our Lady of Guadalupe School, Jamaica, N.Y. The proposal was received by the Association of Schools and Colleges of the Catholic Church, New York City, for research purposes.

Sisters of St. Joseph, former diocesan sister, and a native of Bayonne, for planning a $2,500,000, three-story college for the Sisters of St. Joseph for Women at the former Our Lady of Guadalupe School, Jamaica, N.Y. The proposal was received by the Association of Schools and Colleges of the Catholic Church, New York City, for research purposes.

Sisters of St. Joseph, former diocesan sister, and a native of Bayonne, for planning a $2,500,000, three-story college for the Sisters of St. Joseph for Women at the former Our Lady of Guadalupe School, Jamaica, N.Y. The proposal was received by the Association of Schools and Colleges of the Catholic Church, New York City, for research purposes.

Sisters of St. Joseph, former diocesan sister, and a native of Bayonne, for planning a $2,500,000, three-story college for the Sisters of St. Joseph for Women at the former Our Lady of Guadalupe School, Jamaica, N.Y. The proposal was received by the Association of Schools and Colleges of the Catholic Church, New York City, for research purposes.