Pope Pledges for Support of Poor Countries

VATICAN CITY - Pope John XXIII on Tuesday asked wealthy nations to help the poor by exercising their political freedom, and warned that nations can expect no aid from countries that are not willing to help the underprivileged.

The pontiff made his appeals in his weekly audience to a crowd of thousands of faithful at St. Peter's Square.

The pope praised the United Nations as a valuable tool in the fight against poverty, and asked that nations contribute not only in terms of money but also with goodwill towards each other.

He also called for a greater role for the church in political affairs, saying that the church has a responsibility to speak out on behalf of the poor.

The pope said that nations that give aid to the poor should be recognized for their efforts, and those that are not willing to help should be criticized.

The pontiff also called for a greater role for the church in political affairs, saying that the church has a responsibility to speak out on behalf of the poor.

Places in the News

An interesting occurrence has been taking place at churches and shrines in New York. It is the 25th anniversary of the birth of the statue of the Virgin Mary at Fatima, Portugal. The statue is said to have been visited by three shepherd children who claimed they saw visions of the Virgin Mary.

A bill has been introduced by Rep. John E. Ryan, D-N.Y., in the state Assembly that would provide for the appointment of a special commissioner to handle the case of children who are being neglected.

Diplomacy Goals Told

VATICAN CITY (NC) — Pope Paul VI has told Vatican diplomats that he wants his foreign policy to be based on a policy of non-intervention in the affairs of other nations.

Speaking in the wake of the recent developments in the Middle East, the Pope said that the Church should avoid becoming involved in the affairs of other nations.

Public Review Can Democratize Unions

By Magr. George G. Higgins (Oklahoma City, Okla.)

A group of progressive unions in Oklahoma City and surrounding counties, has recently been getting public review through a new organization, the "Public Review and Campaigning Union League." The League has been established to promote public education and to aid in the democratization of unions.

The League, composed of men and women active in the labor movement, is working for the education of the public regarding the problems of the working class and the need for democratic control of unions. The League's program includes the following objectives:

1. To educate the public regarding the problems of the working class and the need for democratic control of unions.
2. To promote the democratic control of unions through public review and campaigns.
3. To cooperate with other organizations working for the democratization of unions.

The League is holding meetings in various parts of Oklahoma City and is planning to hold meetings in other parts of the state.

There are many important problems facing the working class today, and the League is determined to do its best to help solve these problems. The League is working for the education of the public and for the democratization of unions, and is determined to continue its work until these goals are achieved.
Yank Missionaries in City of Saints

By Floyd Anderson

LIMA, Peru— Lima has many missions but few Yanks. But there is one— the Square-Dancing mission. Four Yanks are in Lima, and they have been successful in giving a new face to Lima. Since they began their mission two years ago, they have had several thousand people in their classes and church. The mission is located in an old church on the outskirts of Lima, and the Yanks have been very well received by the people of Lima.

Your Prayers Can Work Miracles in Missions

An average per capita income of $10.00 leaves little hope of raising even a small sum for such work. The Department of Missions of the Christian Advocate has a fund to which it is possible to contribute and to which you can do infinitely more than you can do in other ways. This fund is raised by voluntary contributions from all parts of the country and the world. It is used for the support of missions, of foreign and domestic, and for the promotion of missions in general. We can do infinitely more in this way than we can in any other way. We can do infinitely more for the promotion of missions than we can in any other way. We can do infinitely more for the promotion of missions than we can in any other way.

The Society for the Propagation of the Faith is a lay organization whose members are invited to join in the work of missions. The Society is composed of men and women who are interested in the work of missions and who are willing to contribute to it. The Society is a voluntary organization and no one is asked to contribute more than he is able. The Society is a voluntary organization and no one is asked to contribute more than he is able. OKLAHOMA FOUNDER Elizabeth McMahon of Hillsdale, O.C.S.O. and Convent Sister, Rochester, is shown on the steps of the Convent of the Holy Cross in Rochester, N.Y., the first of three stops Nature's Way participants will make on their religious life journey. Previously she lived in the convent in Rochester, N.Y. and one of her nieces is Sr. Mary Joseph of Rochester, O.C.S.O., in whose province she was active before coming to the diocese of Brooklyn. She is pictured with the 89-year-old nun who has dedicated herself to prayer, study and work through the years.

In addition to their training, the nuns conduct classes for parents who send their children to the convent schools. Convent Sisters also develop childrens' reading and math skills.

Garden State Loop Adds Basketball to Program

SOUTH ORANGE — Confirmation that the Garden State League has added a basketball team to its program was announced this week that the Garden State League has added a basketball team to its program.

The Garden State League, which consists of the best basketball teams in New Jersey, will add a basketball team to its program. The team will be made up of the best players from each of the league's six schools.

A meeting was held last week to discuss the possibility of adding a basketball team to the program. The meeting was attended by representatives from each of the league's schools.

The Garden State League is a nine-school league that is considered one of the best basketball leagues in the country. The league has produced many All-American players and has sent many of its players to the Professional Basketball League.

The basketball team will be added to the Garden State League's program for the 1961-62 season. The team will play a 16-game schedule, with each school playing four games against the other teams in the league.

The basketball team will be coached by Steve Dembowski, who has been the head football coach at St. Joseph's College for the past five years. Dembowski is a former player at St. Joseph's College and has been a successful coach at the school.

The Garden State League basketball team will play its first game on Saturday, November 18, against the Montclair State College team. The game will be played at the Montclair State College gymnasium.

Sunset Hill Hall Hospital is Facing New Litigation

JERSEY CITY — A series of legal actions has been filed against Sunset Hill Hall Hospital, alleging that the hospital failed to provide adequate care to patients.

The lawsuits, filed by individuals injured at Sunset Hill Hall, claim that the hospital’s failure to provide proper care resulted in serious injuries.

The litigants, represented by Attorney John B. Blair, have filed complaints in the Superior Court of New Jersey, Hudson County, seeking damages in excess of $1 million.

The lawsuits are the latest in a series of legal actions against Sunset Hill Hall Hospital, which has been the subject of numerous complaints over the years.

The hospital management has denied any wrongdoing and has stated that it will defend the lawsuits vigorously.

Before the end of the month, additional lawsuits are expected to be filed against Sunset Hill Hall Hospital, according to legal analysts.
