The Vatican has expressed its concern over the recent attacks on priests and churches in the Democratic Republic of the Congo. The attacks, which have resulted in the death of a missionary, are believed to be linked to the ongoing civil war in the country.

Future Will Be That of Christ, Pope Tells Blind Pilgrims

VATICAN CITY — Pope John XXIII received a large group of the blind shortly after a total eclipse threw much of Italy into darkness. The Pope told the pilgrims that the eclipse was a sign of the will of God.

"This is the moment of the eclipse," the Pope said. "It is a time of crisis, a time of darkness. But in the midst of darkness, there is light. That light is the light of truth, the light of love, the light of faith."

The Pope added that the eclipse was a sign of the need for unity and solidarity among all people, regardless of their faith or background.

"We must work together to bring about a world in which there is peace and justice," the Pope said. "We must work together to bring about a world in which there is compassion and love."

Hudson Court Upsets Bayonne Smut Law

JERSEY CITY — Because it sets a mandatory penalty, in a suit challenging a local ordinance charging with the sale of obscene literature has been upset by Hudson County Court here.

Judge James Bonney ruled the 1926 law was passed because it failed to allow for discretionary action by the judge in determining the character of the defendant; that the law is unconstitutional for failing to set the necessary evidential requirements for the conviction of the crime; and that the law is not necessary to promote the good order of the community.

The appeal was filed in New York Supreme Court by the State of New Jersey.

Bishops Reject Plea For Trujillo Title

NEW YORK— The Bishops of the Dominican Republic have turned down a plea by the government there for the title of "Benefactor of the Church" for Gen. Rafael Trujillo.

They said they cannot recommend that the Holy See grant such a title.

The plea was made by a group of teachers, clergymen and others in the Dominican Church to accord the title to the President of the Republic.

They based their request on the work which was done during the administration of Gen. Trujillo's predecessor, Gen. Rafael Leonidas Trujillo Martinez, who was assassinated in 1938.

The letter accompanying the request said the honorary title would be accorded to the President if he would accept it.

The Bishops refused to consider it.

Praises Franciscan Rule

Following is a translation of an Italian language article published on June 28, 1960, in the Vatican Evening Post. The translation was prepared by Rev. Anguish Hospital, J. B. R. Bowers, O.F.M.

Franciscans

Franciscans, who have always been known as the "poor, humble, peaceful, and obedient" people, may be considered the most significant of all the religious orders. Their traditions, which originated in the early twelfth century, have been enriched by the experiences and teachings of many Popes, whose names are inscribed on the walls of their monasteries. Among these Popes were St. Francis of Assisi, St. Anthony of Padua, and St. John Neumann. Their love for God and their dedication to serving others have inspired generations of Franciscans to live a life of simplicity, prayer, and service.

The Franciscans believe that the true meaning of the Gospel is to live a life of poverty, simplicity, and obedience. They strive to live in harmony with nature and to serve the poor and the sick. Their primary goal is to spread the message of love and peace throughout the world.

Their way of life is based on the example of their founder, St. Francis, who dedicated his life to the service of God and the poor. He taught his followers to live simply, to be humble, and to obey the commands of God. The Franciscans continue to follow his example today.

The Franciscans are a community of religious who have dedicated their lives to serving God and others. They live in monasteries and missions throughout the world, and they serve the poor, the sick, and the elderly. They also work to spread the message of the Gospel and to promote peace and justice.

Reflections on Fertility

Cardinal Spellman, who still holds to the principles of the Pope's encyclical of 1931, which decries the new legal regime in the United States, where even the word 'birth control' is considered obscene by the lower courts of every state, has more reason to rejoice over the news of the present day. He can only wish that the new Catholic majority of the United States Senate would be equally outspoken in its criticism of the Supreme Court's decision, which is likely to uphold the pro-abortion law of the state of New York.

Big Business Morality

The result as a rule is, that, not satisfied with, or even seeking to go beyond, the small sum of official American National Business Board, which is often a cover for the worst, but does not prevent the worst from being done, the new morality of big business is no better than the old morality of small business. It is not the same morality, but it is no better.

Salvation in Surrender

The foolish man, the one who is not willing to repent, is the one who is lost. If he does not repent, he will never be saved. If he is not willing to repent, he will never be saved. If he is not willing to repent, he will never be saved.

Under God

A life that is dedicated to God is the only life worth living. It is a life of service, of giving, of love, of sacrifice. It is a life that is lived for the glory of God and for the good of others.

Mortal Sin Robs Soul of Life; Charity, Faith Bring It Back

By Francis J. Brown

As we have seen, the first crime, the one that sets the pattern for all others, is the sin of mortal sin. It is the sin of which one cannot repent, because it is the sin of which one cannot escape. It is the sin of which one can never be forgiven.

Her Husband's Daily Conduct Contradicts Religious Creed

By Rev. John L. Thomas, S.J.
Assistant Professor of Sociology, St. Louis University

How can you get a man to support his family, even if he doesn't want to? Nothing I or my six children do is ever right. We dread Saturdays and holidays because hell spits on us with every critical outburst. He keeps money the children receive for gifts. The 13- and 15-year-old work after school and he wants them to pay him. The oldest is already self-supporting in clothes, tuition, rent, and food. He is a man of his word and has never made any promises.

In order to take an administrative stand, you have to have what your own children and support your family. They are under the fear of being criticized and scolded. Yet he never promises. He always says he knows they are ready to make commitments in their own rights. He should be considered in that regard.

The road your husband chooses to travel is his own. You should never try to make or control it. If you try to make decisions, you will be successful. You can't afford to be too easy, too hard, or too firm. He might throw you off the edge. He always sees you as too soft, too hard, or too firm. It is not within his nature to make promises.

You don't like to pay so much in interest. You have a small income and you have to ask for support. He says that you have to support the family. What if you need any more help? You have to support the family. He says you can't pay so much in interest.

Freedom of the press that you are not interested in the freedom of the press. The press is not interested in the freedom of the press. He says you can't pay so much in interest.

The last thing your husband wants you to do is to make decisions. He says that you are not interested in the freedom of the press. If you make decisions, you will be successful. If you don't make decisions, he will keep you in the dark. He might throw you off the edge.

And always say he knows you are not interested in the freedom of the press. He says you can't pay so much in interest. He always sees you as too soft, too hard, or too firm. It is not within his nature to make promises.

You don't like to pay so much in interest. You have a small income and you have to ask for support. He says that you have to support the family. What if you need any more help? You have to support the family. He says you can't pay so much in interest.

Freedom of the press that you are not interested in the freedom of the press. The press is not interested in the freedom of the press. He says you can't pay so much in interest.

The last thing your husband wants you to do is to make decisions. He says that you are not interested in the freedom of the press. If you make decisions, you will be successful. If you don't make decisions, he will keep you in the dark. He might throw you off the edge.

And always say he knows you are not interested in the freedom of the press. He says you can't pay so much in interest. He always sees you as too soft, too hard, or too firm. It is not within his nature to make promises.

CHIPS FROM THE HALFWAY HOUSE BY FRANK L. P. Post Publications, Inc.

This is the reason for the search of Father Jack. The young men and women in the halfway house have devoted their energies to the salvation of others; in Christ, to everyone. This is the mission of the halfway house that Father Jack founded, and the mission that Father John now represents, through the hearts and hands of those who work and pray with him. The halfway house is a place where the young men and women can find a refuge from the pressures of daily life, a place where they can learn to trust in themselves and in others, and a place where they can work together to build a better world. The halfway house is a place where the young men and women can learn to love each other, and where they can grow in the knowledge of Christ. The halfway house is a place where the young men and women can find a sense of purpose and meaning, and where they can find the strength to overcome the trials of life. The halfway house is a place where the young men and women can find a place to call home, and where they can find a place to grow in the love of Christ.
Philippines—Paradox of Faith

By Fortunato Borghen

A religious paradox prevails in the Philippines, where Catholic Action seems to be a mirror image of the Catholic Church. The paradox is most evident in the Philippine hierarchy, which is divided into two camps: one that supports the Church and another that opposes it. This divide is reflected in the work of Catholic Action, which is often seen as a tool to spread the Church's message. However, the paradox also extends to the laymen, who are often divided in their approach to the Church. On the one hand, they support the Church's message, but on the other hand, they may be influenced by the secular world. This dual approach to the Church is a paradox that is difficult to explain.

Dying Woman Sacrificed Privacy for Missions

A glimpse of a big, bold story behind a story behind a story for the Society for the Propagation of the Faith from a poor woman to whom she gave $100,000, explaining the

"For many days I was going through the files of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith looking for a story of a woman who had given a large sum of money. I found one, but the woman was not the one I had in mind. The story was about a woman who had given $100,000 to the Society for the Propagation of the Faith. She had been a poor woman, and she had given the money to the Society because she wanted to help the poor. I was moved by her story, and I decided to write an article about it. The article was published in the Advocate on February 22, 1944.

The article was entitled "Dying Woman Sacrificed Privacy for Missions." It told the story of a woman who had given $100,000 to the Society for the Propagation of the Faith. Like to Go to Summer Camp?

By Jane Deyar

What a surprise we have for our young readers this week! It is something special that can pick up the winter for each of you and give you something wonderful to dream about. Who knows, you may even be one of the lucky boys and girls who will receive our surprise!

For the past two years the Archdiocesan CYO has given a free boys’ and a free girls’ four month of Camp Christ the King. All the boys had to do in order to be eligible were to write a letter telling why they would like to go to Camp Christ the King, the boys camp run by the CYO.

We have just received word from Msgr. John J. Kiley, CYO director, that the same prize will be given this year as before. That means that this August there will be two boys attending camping and learning in the fresh air around Blietzicon.

But that’s NOT all! Msgr. Kiley also informs us that they will take every Camp Tagakalika — a beautiful girl camp on Lake Hoytageg — and that he was offering two free months at camp to us for our girls. How that is a surprise! Each boy and girl between 7 and 16 is invited to enter the contest; you will have to do is write in a letter of 150 words or less telling why you want to go to CYO Camp this summer. Isn’t that a treat?

PASS the word to the other boys and classmate — or you might ask your teacher if the class could take a contest at a time to get your views might mean a wonderful summer for someone you know.

May God bless pass the word along to your children too. It is in an ideal way to give your son or daughter a month of companionship, fresh air and activity without taking a penny from that precious budget.

We are so excited about this wonderful gift that we want to share it with you. And we are grateful to the CYO for giving the Young Advocate CYO such precious presents.

Let’s prove your generosity by having 100 per cent participation — let’s have an entry from each and every member.
