PAPAL BULL RESTORATION

- The Papal Bull of Pope Paul V, 1618, was found in the Archives in 2016. It was folded and so could not be read
- In 2017, the Library contracted with Conservation Center for Art and Historic Artifacts to unfold and conserve it

PAPAL BULL RESTORATION

- Conservators exposed the parchment to humidity and slowly added weights to unfold it, while protecting the rare metal bulla and cord, allowing the text to be read

PAPAL BULL TRANSLATION AND INTERPRETATION

- The Bull was written in an ecclesiastical dialect of Latin
- It had to be translated into proper Latin first – then it could be translated into English
- Classics professors, here and in Italy, worked with retired Professor Peter Ahr to create an English translation

Out of the duty of apostolic service laid on us from above we aim freely at procuring advantages and benefits especially for monasteries and places of those under other rules, and pursue them with suitable favors.

Long Ago of Paul II, our predecessor of happy memory, spoke in the following manner to the Servants of God, for the eternal remembrance of the matter.

Righteousness of justice and purity of conscience should be observed, even more should this be observed in the grants of alienation of ecclesiastical property, which concerns the stewardship of the poor, matters must not be done and managed for profit. Wherefore it is fitting that in the examination of cases of this sort formally delegated by the Apostolic See, if they yield clear benefit to the judges of the church, no favor is to usurp, no fear is to extort, no subvert justice and conscience.

Under the endlessness of divine judgement, and we strictly command all judges of this kind that they cautiously and diligently pay attention to cases in apostolic letters and examine them carefully, cross-examine witnesses, and take evidence of the truthfulness of those giving testimony, and having God alone before their eyes, having put aside every fear or favor, let them be mindful of the liberties of the Churches, and not in any way whatsoever issue a decree to the their harm or loss.

NOTES ON THE STATE OF VIRGINIA BY THOMAS JEFFERSON

- This first edition of Thomas Jefferson's text contained a rare fold-out map
- However the cover was connected to the text block only with tape, and the first pages were completely unattached
- In this condition it could not safely be used

NOTES ON THE STATE OF VIRGINIA

- The leather was repaired, pages reattached
- A protective box was built for it to ensure proper storage for the future
- The map can now be seen and used without risking damage to the book

Hackensack Meridian School of Medicine Launches ‘Support Our Schools’ to Meet COVID-19 Challenges

October 19, 2020

School's Human Dimension Program will complement health network's 'Reopening America' Program. Hackensack Meridian School of Medicine is pleased to announce a new program to assist schools in getting their academic year started more effectively, amid the challenges of COVID-19.

In June, Hackensack Meridian Health launched the Reopening America: Hackensack Meridian Health's Assist Program, which helps business owners and schools navigate the COVID-19 crisis and create a safe work environment for employees, customers and students. The program is tailored to meet the needs of any organization by offering three tiers of solutions that can fit any type, size and scale of business. These tiers include a hotline resource, weekly newsletter, on-site visits, and policy reviews and endorsement, among other benefits.

- This program linked medical students, clinicians, librarians, and other experts with K-12 public school districts in New Jersey, with the intent of helping them navigate the science related to K-12 school reopening and COVID-19 transmission.
- SOS toolkit disseminated to all the districts with key resources related to school reopening.
