NEW YORK (Dec. 3) — There were 41,014,600 Catholics in 1940, 70,960,400 in 1950, 79,000,000 in 1960 and 93,000,000 in 1970. The Religious Right, with an increase in population of 20% in the last 10 years, has grown to be a major force in the Catholic Church. The Religious Right is a group of Catholics who are dedicated to the promotion of traditional Catholic values, such as the traditional family, the traditional church, and the traditional religion. They believe that the Catholic Church should be the sole source of religious and moral guidance in the world, and that all other religious and moral systems are inferior to the Catholic Church. They are also opposed to the use of contraception, abortion, and same-sex marriage. The Religious Right is a powerful force in the Catholic Church, and they have been able to use their influence to shape the direction of the Church in recent years. They have been able to influence the appointment of new bishops, the establishment of new policies, and the development of new programs. They have also been able to influence the direction of the Church's social teaching. The Religious Right is a significant force in the Catholic Church, and they will continue to play a major role in shaping the direction of the Church in the future.

BEGGINGING MEN: John A. Winkle and Frank are greenhorns for the new school additions at the School of the Cross's program. Waiting their turn to dig in the gold mine, Rev. John W. Midgley, Rev. Joseph Fitzpatrick, Joseph M. Bynes, trustee, and Rev. Richard M. Golden are anxious for the work to start for order.

WORKS IN TIME. Industry was hard and risk of infidelity great. Sister Eunice's success became more secure, perhaps her influence the same. The records of her work were kept in the annals of the convent.

Late in 1929 she was sent back to Victoria, School of the Cross, and at the time when her mother died of consumption, in January 1931, she became superior. The death of her mother left her a burden too heavy for her young age, and her health was affected. She had to be taken to hospital in the summer of that year and was there for a few months. She used this time to recover her health.

In May 1932 she was again sent to the convent, and from then on, her health improved. She was soon able to work, but in 1933 she had to be taken to hospital again. She was not able to work at all after that.

The convent was very much in need of funds, and Sister Eunice was one of the people who were asked to work on the convent's finances.

The original plan was for a new convent to be built on the site of the old convent, but this plan was not realized because of the economic crisis.

In 1935, the convent was closed by the local authorities. The sisters were given permission to stay in the convent, but they had to work to support themselves.

The sisters worked hard, and they were able to raise enough money to keep the convent open. They were able to remain until 1939, when the convent was closed permanently.

The sisters were then able to return to Victoria, where they were able to work on the convent's finances.

A Private Chapel In White House?

Editor:

The existence of a private chapel in the White House is to be desired if it is used for the President and his family and friends, as the public is interested in the worship of the President and his family. So far as the American public is concerned, the President is not above the laws of our country and is subject to the rules of our church.

Holy Father Dispenses Mission Aid Equitably

The Society for the Propagation of the Faith (S.P.F.) is an ancillary body of the Catholic Church, established by Pope Pius IX in 1844. Its mission is to assist the Church in furthering the work of mission and apostolate. The Father’s excerpt highlights the equitable distribution of mission aids, which includes financial support, literature, and other resources to support the spread of the Gospel worldwide.

The S.P.F. operates through the Parishes in the United States, and its work is supported by the faithful through donations. The equitable distribution of mission aid ensures that resources are directed to where they are needed most, whether in rural villages or urban centers. The S.P.F. is committed to working alongside local churches and other mission partners to ensure that the aid provided meets the specific needs of the communities receiving it.

In summary, the Father’s statement underscores the importance of equitable distribution in mission work, ensuring that resources are effectively and efficiently allocated to support the spread of the Gospel and the development of the Church worldwide.

The bill, sponsored by Representative John Smith, would establish a zoning commission for each city in the state. The commission would be responsible for enacting zoning ordinances that would regulate land use in their respective jurisdictions. The bill has been met with opposition from several groups, including the real estate industry and agricultural organizations.

Ours Our Pray For The Future

Why We Must Build...

The statistics above tell of the work being done by the area’s largest hospital. Facilities are strained by each new demand of modern medicine. We must meet today’s challenges and develop facilities that will be able to handle the future.

Why We Can’t Do It Alone...

St. Joseph’s is a Privately-Owned, Non-Profit, General Hospital. Salaries and wages of all employees exceed $3,000. This salary is a taxable income that is beyond the means of many of those who work in medicine.

Our financial needs are great, and we are in need of the public’s voluntary support. The hospital is seeking the help of friends and supporters to provide the capital needed to construct a new hospital.

How You Can Help

There are many ways you can help St. Joseph’s Hospital in its efforts to build a new hospital. You can make a donation, volunteer your time, or simply spread the word about the need for new facilities.

the property. "It is a question of those operating facilities and had no express written permission for the disposition of the property. "It is a question of those operating facilities and

"plugged-in" cardiology has revealed to the hospital its problems, and the hospital is in the process of remaking changes to meet this demand.

Before the 50,000 goal was reached, there was a move by the medical community to increase the number of beds at the hospital. "We were told by the medical community that we needed to increase the number of beds," said one of the hospital’s physicians.

About the 50,000 goal, the physicians said, "it was a realistic goal that we set for ourselves."

Clare's Features Odd Pair of Firsts

DENVER — Two widely divergent "firsts" for Denver were announced today by St. Clare's Hospital, one is a gradual illness, the other, piped in loud music.

The hospital special care ward opened early last February. It is for mentally ill patients who are usually in a mental institution.

The ward is in the basement. The 12 men are piped in from noon to 10 p.m. every day. Dr. Paul E. Margolin, department chairman, believes that the music will improve their mental condition.

Clare's Sprinkler System

New York — A sprinkler system has been installed in the building of Clare's Hospital, New York.

This is the first time in the medical field that a sprinkler system has been installed in a hospital.

The system is designed to provide protection against fire in the hospital's operating rooms.

The hospital is a large, modern hospital with a capacity of 1,000 beds.

Quiet Please

Dane — The hospital doctors will no longer require that their patients' relatives be quiet, according to the Medical Society of Dane County.

The new regulations were adopted in order to improve the comfort of patients, who are now able to enjoy the company of their relatives.

For years, some hospitals have been criticized for their strict rules, which have led to a decrease in the number of visitors.

The change in policy is expected to increase patient satisfaction and reduce stress.

The hospital has also introduced a new policy to allow patients to bring their own food and to have visitors for longer periods of time.

Cardinals Proposes Extension Of Defense Education Act

WASHINGTON,—President John F. Kennedy Thursday proposed extending the Defense Education Act by three years, before it expires in 1962.

In a message to Congress to accompany legislation that would carry the act through 1965, the President said the measure would help the nation "to meet its defense responsibilities in the years ahead."

The President's proposal would extend the program of financial aid to all American states and territories, except those that elect by referendum to be excluded. The program has served to increase the number of college graduates in the armed forces from 226,000 in 1957 to a projected level of 750,000 in 1962.

The President also expressed his concern that the National Defense Education Act (as it is now called) has not been utilized as an instrument for the development of science in this country and produced only a small number of scientists and engineers.

As a last resort, the President recommended that Congress provide grants to states for research in the sciences, and express his willingness to discuss the matter with the Appropriations Committee.

The President asked Congress to approve his recommendation for an extension of the act.

NOW!

YOU HAVE THREE CHOICES OF GIVING TO THE CAMPAIGN!

(AN OPEN LETTER TO CATHOLICS WHO WISH TO PRACTICE CATHOLIC ACTION)

Dear Fellow Parishioner:

For the past several weeks your Archdiocese has been conducting the Memorial Gifts Phase of solicitation to the Archdiocesan Development Campaign. Thanks to the generosity of your Catholic friends and neighbors who have given Memorial Gifts and the zealous efforts of your parish campaign workers, this phase has been eminently successful with nearly $9,000,000 pledged toward our Archdiocese’s goal of $25,000,000.

Now we have opened the last and largest phase of the campaign in which we will be calling on every adult Catholic in every parish of the Archdiocese to make a gift to the campaign payable over a 24-month period. As yours will be one of the households to be visited, we are directing this appeal to YOU.

We know you will want to do something to help the drive — something that will indicate your loyalty to your Archdiocese and your faith in its most worthy development program. We feel that with the three ways of giving which we will list below the campaign will be within your financial reach. Remember, we are not asking a lump sum. Only a pledge over 24 months with a token down-payment.

We are sure you will agree that our gift program is fair and equitable for all.

Sincerely,

Your Parish Campaign Worker

MEMORIAL GIFTS

$360 and up on
50¢ per day

(Memorial donors’ names will be enshrined in the “Memorare Book” in each new building and each donor will also receive a Memorial Donor’s Certificate attesting to his generosity and sacrifice. We hope that you will join with your fellow parishioners who have taken advantage of this opportunity for generous giving.)

BENEFACTOR’S GIFT

$200
25¢ per day

Benefactor’s gifts may range from $200 to $359 if you feel your share of the sacri-cifice is greater than $200. (The benefactor’s Gift is for those parishioners who do not feel they can quite afford a memorial, but wish to make a substantial contribution to the campaign. Donors of this gift will receive a Benefactor’s Certificate in recognition of their sacrifice.)

BUILDER’S GIFT

$120
16¢ per day

Builder’s Gifts may range from $120 to $199. (The Builder’s Gift is for those among you who feel they cannot afford 25¢ a day. To raise $25,000,000—the amount needed—every working adult must contribute at least this amount. Even at 16¢ per day, your minimum gift can go a long way toward guaranteeing that your children will receive a Catholic education; your aged fellow Catholics will be cared for in their twilight years and your Archdiocese will be able to offer more young men a chance to study for the priesthood.)
