In the apostolate, as you have well understood, is not a human endeavor with transparent dynamics; it is a divine initiative of God in the Church through its priests and people. The work is a mystery, a hidden, spiritual work, and the Church today needs more than ever the combined efforts of all its members for its development.

"If therefore union between the Church and the lay apostolate is necessary, you must understand how much more necessary it is when the Church is itself divided within itself." The Pope said.

"The union with the Spirit is necessary to the accomplishment of the divine plan - to be initiated by the Church and its members - to be carried out by the prayer and sacrifice of the people of God. The work is for the Church itself, not for the Church and the world."

The Pope said that profound human initiatives have appeared in recent months, such as those of "the lay apostolate," which are not new and have been known since antiquity but have been renewed in the Church today. In this case, the Pope said, "the Church must continue to be the Church, the Church must continue to be the Church."

In conclusion, the Pope said that the Church is not a social institution, but a mystery, a hidden, spiritual work, and the Church today needs more than ever the combined efforts of all its members for its development.

Debate Starts on Main School Bill
Ask Senate to End Inequities In Defense Education Act

WASHINGTON (NC) — Two educators speaking for the Baltimore Catholic Schools Conference have appeared in the Senate to end inequities against private schools in the 1964 Act.

They also asked that U.S. grants replace loan privileges of local school districts in buying laboratory equipment and other special teaching aids.

Youth City, educational consultant and private schools consultant for the Archdiocese of Baltimore, spoke.

WASHINGTON (NC) — Senate Finance officials have been told that they view some of the main points of the NEA's bills for a comprehensive reform of the act, most of them amendments:

• Make all new teachers who have the federal money while in college eligible for aid under the act.

• Provide significant federal aid to public schools which have less than 2,000 students.

• Amend existing Federal grants to private schools.

• Allow states to reallocate aid among private schools.

The action was taken at a meeting of Senate Education officials who agreed to hold hearings on the bill.

The 1726 report on the act was read last week.

The Senate has yet to be told that the bill passed for the A.R.E.F. by a vote of 19-1.

Mayor Joseph T. McVeigh, chairman of the Finance Committee of the city, said that the bill has been passed by the A.R.E.F. and is still being considered.

He said that the public schools may be able to provide a substitute on the tax roll needed to provide the amount of aid to the 15-17 year-olds.

It has been observed by those present that every public school will be given a subsidy, but that the bill is too generous.

He said that the bill is a good one and that every public school is needed.

Moral Spirit Seen 'La Dolce Vita'

NEW YORK—The National Legion of Decency this week placed the movie "La Dolce Vita" in the "Separate Classification" category, according to the Legion's Executive Director, Mr. J. E. M. Elsen. The movie, which was released last month, has been controversial and has been viewed by some as a satirical depiction of the Italian high society.

"In spite of the moral tone of the story, the film's emphasis on materialism and extravagance makes it difficult to classify," said Elsen. "The movie's emphasis on materialism and extravagance makes it difficult to classify as a moral film."
Castro Persecutes Church

A note that has been reported was publicized extensively in Cuba, and it is generally accepted that the Jesuit Order was the target of the attack. The following is a translation of the note:

"Castro has been reported as wanting to execute a group of Jesuit priests. It is feared that their lives may be in danger."

The note was written in Spanish and was found in various places throughout Cuba, including schools, churches, and shops. It is believed that the note was written by a person who was in contact with the Jesuit Order, and it is believed that the note was written to warn the Jesuits of their impending doom.

The note was followed by a series of attacks against the Jesuit Order, including the burning of several Jesuit buildings and the destruction of several Jesuit books. The attacks were carried out by a group of radicals, who were believed to be followers of Castro.

The attacks were carried out in the name of the Revolution, and it is believed that the attacks were carried out to prevent the Jesuit Order from interfering with the Revolution.

DOLCE VITA' COLUMN

Irresponsible

Editor:

The syndicated column of William H. Ureng, which appeared in The Advocate last week was in my judgment a most dignified example of irresponsible journalism. In his review of the recently released Indian film, "La Dolce Vita", he makes a series of allusions concerning Indian social conditions and practice. The entire column is replete with inaccuracies and unfounded assumptions. It is a travesty on the truth and a disgrace to journalism. Such columns are sure to cause much harm to our country and the image of the country abroad.

SIR,

An Industry Council System Necessary

By Mag. George C. Higgins

Director, Social Action

Department, N.C.W.

The following is an article by Mag. George C. Higgins, Director of Social Action, on the necessity of having an Industry Council System minimal to the social and economic welfare of the country,

The general principle is that industries are to be organized into a system of councils so that the functioning of an entire industry can be coordinated.

The councils would be in charge of the distribution of the labor force, the right to strike, the right to organize, etc. The councils would be responsible for the economic welfare of the country and would be subject to government control.

The purpose of these councils is to facilitate productive work, to prevent class hatred and economic inefficiency, and to establish and maintain a just and equitable economic system.

God Love You

On Making Friends

By Bishop Fulton J. Sheen

It is a well-known fact that the more friends you have, the better off you will be. This is true in every walk of life. A man who has no friends is a man who is cut off from the rest of the world. A man who has many friends is a man who is a part of the world.

The key to making friends is to be able to understand and appreciate the people around you. You must be able to see the good in others and be able to see the good in yourself.

In the end, it is not what you have that matters, but who you have. It is not what you can do, but what you can be. It is not what you can receive, but what you can give.

You must be able to see the good in others and be able to see the good in yourself. You must be able to see the good in others and be able to see the good in yourself.

In the end, it is not what you have that matters, but who you have. It is not what you can do, but what you can be. It is not what you can receive, but what you can give.

Call Message of Christ, Pope Tells Women

WCCP, New York

Following is a translation of a message by Pope John XXIII in which the Pontiff addressed the World Council of Churches' Women's Organization at the Vatican on May 3, 1961. In it, the Pope urges the Church to make available to women in every time and place the means of performing their mission as generations. The document is a result of the conclusions of the Gregorian Gregorian. Council of Church. NEWWARKER'S PARISH ROUNDS IN PERU

J.L.H., Peru— This July something new will be added to the apostolate of many communications in Peru. It is the work of the Daughters of St. Paul, already well known throughout the world for their excellent work in bookstores.

Mother Maria Lusia of the Daughters of St. Paul, described her work to us as follows:

"Our plan is to open a bookstore in Lima and a similar one in Arequipa. We have a house there, but it is rather far from the center of Lima. In Arequipa we will open a bookstore in a mission.

"We also plan to start a radio program in Lima to reach the people who cannot come to the bookstore."

IN ARGENTINA

For a number of years the Daughters of St. Paul have been involved in religious work in Argentina. They have a bookstore in Buenos Aires and a similar one in Rosario. They also have a radio program in Buenos Aires and are planning to start another one in Rosario.

The Daughters of St. Paul have a growing presence in Peru. A recent article in a Lima newspaper mentioned that they have opened a bookstore in Lima and a similar one in Arequipa.

College Squads Shoot For Winning wind-ups

NEWARK — With defeats coming more frequently than victories in recent games, both the St. Peter's University and St. Peter's College would like to wind up their 1961 campaigns as more pleasant.

The Pirates, who began the season with a 1-3 record, will continue to try to get that first win of the year Saturday when they meet Seton Hall at 3 p.m.

St. Peter's, after the three defeats, will try to turn the situation around against the Pirates. Their first game came on Thursday against the University of Richmond.

Although the Pirates have been trying to improve since the beginning of the season, it will be a tough job for them to get their first win of the season.

Seton Hall has already had the opportunity to begin their season, but their first game was against the University of Richmond.

In the Leagues

St. Joseph's, Don Bosco Nines Building 2 Climax Clashes

WEST NEW YORK — Things are building to quite a climax for the distinguished churches between St. Joseph's (RWSY) and Don Bosco in the Tri-County Catholic Conference.

Both have been compiling outstanding records with St. Joseph's sporting an unblemished 18-0 record in its first 18 games, including five in the league. The Rams, who fell in their 1st 18 games to the University of Richmond, have 3 in 18.

The Rams have been tops in the Tri-County Catholic Conference for the past few seasons, but this year they are up against the University of Richmond, who have compiled a 12-6 record.

In the Past

In the past, a Rams' victory over a University of Richmond team has not been enough to win the championship. The Rams have had to win more than one game for a championship.

Individual努力

St. Joseph's has been led by the efforts of John D'Angelo, who had 17 points in the Rams' 10-point victory over the University of Richmond.

The Rams' victory was their 14th in 18 games, and they have not lost since the first game of the season.

At the Other End

Don Bosco has been led by the efforts of John D'Angelo, who had 17 points in the Rams' 10-point victory over the University of Richmond.

The Rams' victory was their 14th in 18 games, and they have not lost since the first game of the season.

Vacation Notes

"...More Than Others Do?" by Magr. William F. Furlong
I will be conducting a tour of the French language and culture for French students from May 15th to June 15th. My goal is to immerse them in the rich tapestry of French culture through a series of interactive workshops and discussions. Throughout the program, participants will have the opportunity to explore the history, literature, and art of France, as well as engage with contemporary French society and its unique challenges. The tour will culminate with a visit to the historic city of Paris, where we will have the chance to experience the essence of French life firsthand.

Important Difference
Love, however, is something beyond mere affection. It is an emotion that transcends the boundaries of language and culture. Love is a force that binds us together, regardless of where we come from or what language we speak. It is the bond that connects us to our families, friends, and loved ones.

Why?
On that memorable day, theresurrection of Jesus, the power of love, and the joy of life, all were experienced in a single moment. The embrace of Mor-Gerard by his friends and family was a symbol of the power of love to overcome even the most difficult challenges. It is a testament to the resilience of the human spirit and the enduring nature of love.

Apologetics for Vocations

Morris CYO to Pick Queen
As the end of the academic year approaches, the Morris CYO is conducting a search for a new queen. The selection process will include interviews and consultations with students, faculty, and staff to ensure that the chosen individual embodies the values and ideals of the CYO community. The final decision will be made by a panel of students and faculty members. Those interested in being considered should submit an application to the CYO advisor.

PARISH COUNCIL

The Morris CYO has a long tradition of excellence, and we are committed to maintaining its high standards of excellence.

Students Conduct Against Dues
A Morris CYO student has been suspended for two days for refusing to pay dues. The student was one of the few who did not pay their dues on time, and the administration took action to ensure that all students are aware of the importance of paying their dues on time. The student has been given the opportunity to appeal the decision.

Senior Given Assistships
A senior has been awarded a scholarship to attend a prestigious university. The student has worked hard throughout their high school career, and their efforts have paid off. The scholarship will help the student pursue their academic goals and continue their education.

Ears Degree
The Morris CYO has been awarded a degree in recognition of its outstanding contributions to the local community. The CYO has been active in various community service projects, including food drives, blood drives, and tutoring programs. The degree is a testament to the CYO's commitment to making a positive impact on the lives of those around them.

SOUTH ORANGE — With Mrs. Kennedy, who did so well in the language, accompanied her husband, President Kennedy, on his forthcoming trip to France, the universal city of light that has come to be known more and more as Paris.

St. Joseph's Tops Million Dollar Mark

Newark — The Archdiocese of Newark has announced the results of the 1961 Vocation Campaign, which has raised a total of $3,950,000. This is the highest amount ever raised by any diocese in the United States.

The campaign, which was conducted from May 1 to May 31, 1961, was supported by all the parishes in the Archdiocese of Newark, as well as by the diocesan offices and the Catholic Charities.

The proceeds of the campaign will be used to support the education of future priests, to build new parishes, and to support the work of the archdiocese.

The campaign was conducted by the Vocation Department of the Archdiocese of Newark, under the direction of Father Robert J. Murray, S.J. The department was established in 1949 to promote vocations to the priesthood and to support the education of future priests.

The campaign was supported by the Catholic Charities, which raised over $1,000,000, and by the parishes, which raised over $2,000,000.

The results of the campaign were announced by Father Murray at a press conference held at the Archdiocese of Newark headquarters on June 1.
