ARCHDIOCESE OF NEWARK

Archdiocese Establishes Agency to Distribute Films NEWARK — The first stop in Chicago and Cleveland, it is a "veteran national campaign" which is planned for 30 states, each having at least one diocese. The campaign is being conducted by the Archdiocese of Newark, which was formed in 1861 by Bishop James Hickey, archdiocesan, in the City of Newark.

The film will be shown by the Archdiocese of Newark, which is the head agency of the campaign, and by the Catholic Church of the United States, which is the sponsor of the campaign.

Arts and Entertainment

Archdiocese Establishes Agency to Distribute Films

The Archdiocese of Newark has formed an agency to distribute films for the benefit of its parishes. The agency will be called the Catholic Educational Service, and it will be established in cooperation with the Archdiocese of Newark. The agency will be responsible for the distribution and promotion of the films.

Michael D. Balm, the Archdiocese's director of education, said that the agency would be "a natural extension of our existing educational services," and that it would be "a way to reach a broader audience with our message of faith and values." The agency will be headed by John J. O'Brien, the Archdiocese's director of communications.

The agency will be responsible for the distribution and promotion of the films, and it will work closely with the Archdiocese's educational and spiritual services to ensure that the films are used effectively.

The Archdiocese of Newark has a long history of providing educational services to its parishes. It has established schools, seminaries, and other educational institutions, and it has provided educational programs and resources to its parishes.

The Archdiocese of Newark's educational services are available to all parishes, regardless of their size or geographic location.

Pope asks France

(Continued from Page 1) to the French citizens who questioned him. They asked if in some areas of France, especially those near the border with Italy, their mobility is to a certain extent still limited. "Such a mistaken idea," he told them, "is not shared by the Holy Father.

"We are all brothers and sisters. We should help one another, not hinder each other."

The Pope also praised the efforts of French priests to integrate immigrants into society.

"The Church," he said, "is in favor of Catholic and Anglican scholarships in order to follow its traditional path. However, this is a complex path, and the future will depend on how well it is carried out."
Blessed Martin's Canonization
Now Seen as Almost Certain

VATICAN CITY (NC) — The canonization ceremonies of July 4 will mark another significant step in the eventual declaration of sainthood for the 18th-century French nobleman, an event that had been anticipated for an additional two years from when it was first publicized.

The canonization of Blessed Martin of Tours, a French nobleman who lived in the 4th century, is expected to take place in a ceremony at a basilica in Rome.

The decision to canonize Blessed Martin was made by Pope John Paul II in 2000, and the ceremonies were scheduled to take place in 2002. However, due to a number of factors, the event has been postponed.

Blessed Martin was a nobleman who lived in Tours, France, and is known for his charitable works.

The event is expected to attract thousands of people, who will come to see the canonization and to pay their respects to Blessed Martin.

The canonization will take place in the presence of the Pope, who will pronounce the final blessing and canonization.

The ceremony will be attended by leaders of the Catholic Church, as well as representatives from other religious communities.

The canonization of Blessed Martin is seen as an important milestone in the history of the Catholic Church, and it is expected to inspire many people to become more involved in their faith.

The canonization will be a significant event for the Catholic Church, and it is expected to be a turning point in the history of the Church.

Women Are Urged To Battle Obscenity

ELIZABETH — Women and teachers especially were asked at a meeting of the Union County Board of Education to become aroused and do something about the prevalence of obscenity in the county.

The request was made in a statement issued on behalf of all the women groups, which issued it to be read at the next meeting of the board. It was signed by the presidents of the county women's groups.

"Women have a special role to play in helping to defeat the menace of obscenity to which our children are subjected," a statement said.

"We believe that the community also has a responsibility in the fight against obscenity."

"In our schools, we have a duty to teach our children the importance of maintaining a high level of moral standards."

"We urge the public to join us in the fight against obscenity."

"We believe that our community can do much to combat the spread of obscenity."
St. John's Takes Top Prize At Paterson Mission Ceremony

PATERN — St. John's Cathedral High School received a certificate for having the highest average of regular attendance at the 119th annual meeting of the national convention of the American Catholic Historical Association, which was held at St. John's Cathedral here.

Theodore D. Pier, principal of St. John's, presented the certificate to Cardinal John J. Wright, Archbishop of Newark, at the conclusion of the convention.

The convention, which was attended by more than 500 delegates from 18 states and the District of Columbia, was held in conjunction with the annual meeting of the American Catholic Historical Association.

The certificate was presented in recognition of the school's exceptional academic performance, as well as its contributions to the Catholic education of the nation.

In the closing and climactic days of the governmental campaign both candidates are very actively engaged in seeking votes for higher education — public higher education. They are less active on proposals for non-supported collegiate and theological education. The campaign should be corrected before election day. The reasons are evident enough. The needs of the state, as of the nation, higher education has been largely private.

More recently the balance has been increased in favor of the state's viewpoint, and if trend continues the advantage of public educational institutions will be threatened. This should be a matter of grave concern, not only to the officials of private institutions, but also to the legislators and the people. Private education, like private enterprise, is part of the American way of life, and the nation or its improvement would be a serious loss indeed.

A PLEA for a hearing of the case for higher education in New Jersey against support for public education. This point of view is presented to the people, both of the two parties, that their benefit is far more tax is the nature of the case, and that the cause of private education will suffer by defeat and neglect.

How can this be prevented? By a study of the total picture of the present condition of higher education in New Jersey by an impartial commission appointed for that purpose by the next governor.

'Youth - Unity - Truth'

Catholic Youth Work, which begins sexually on September 28th, is of the utmost importance to the youth of the diocese. Our Catholic schools are only a step in the right direction. The Catholic youth of the diocese should be given every possible opportunity to develop their talents and abilities. The Catholic Church has always been a leader in youth work. It is our duty to work with the Catholic Church in order to provide a Catholic youth work program that is effective and beneficial to the youth of the diocese.

Saints and Sinners

The image of many saints and sinners dominates our church, but perhaps the greatest and most misunderstood of all the Catholic saints is St. Peter. The latter is not an image, but rather an attitude. It is the attitude of the Church, the Church of the Saints and Sinners. It is a attitude that challenges us to be more than just saints, more than just sinners, but to be both at the same time.

By Frank J. Shedd

Our Nature Needs Constant Repairing

By the end of the twentieth century we realize that our society needs constant repairing. In the past, we have seen many societies collapse in a matter of years, but now we are seeing societies that last for centuries. The reason for this is that we are living in a society that is constantly changing. We are constantly learning new things, and as we learn new things, we are constantly changing our society. This is why we need to constantly repair our society.

Red Attack on Encyclical

By Louis F. Brandeis

While the world's ears are tuned to the news of the world, the battle is still going on. The battle is for the truth, for the freedom of the press, and for the right of the people to know the truth. The battle is for the right of the people to speak the truth, and for the right of the people to be heard.

Around the Parish

The Advocate subscription campaign officially begins, as the O'Brien boys use modern techniques to attract customers to its subscription table in front of the church.

The Privilege of Music

It is an admitted fact that New Jersey is a state with a large number of musical organizations. Yet the study of music is not only for the professional musician, but for everyone. All citizens should have an opportunity to enjoy the beauty of music. The work of music educators should be to create a love of music in all citizens.
Why Would a Woman Pick a Spineless Man?

By Rev. John L. Thuerly, S.J.
Assistant Professor of Theology, St. Louis University

How far should parents go in trying to prevent their daughter from entering a very bad marriage? This daughter is a college graduate and holds a good job. The boy she wants to marry is several years older, didn't finish high school and is unemployable most of the time because he dislikes his work. They spend most of their time watching TV, if they go out, she has to pick up the check. Are we right in trying to break up this affair?

There can be no question about marry young, she may feel for one another, but he is clearly unsuitable. It may be in his way of looking at it. But to the child it is a burden. It will be a formidable task to dissuade her. When you are in the middle, you don't want to do anything that might make matters worse.

If we are to prevent her from being married, we must first find out if she knows what she's getting into. We must tell them that the marriage is not a good one. They should be encouraged to try to get a good job and go to college. If they can't get married, they should be encouraged to move to a different city and start their own family. We must try to prevent her from getting married.

From Legion of Decency:

What's New in Films? Needed in Hollywood

By William H. Mouring

Pope John's call to the faithful, urging greater moral responsibility in the production and viewing of films, is hailed as a most timely appeal by the Legion of Decency, an agency of the Catholic Church with 30 years of experience in the struggle against the exploitation of the innocent by the sordid in films. The Legion is the American branch of the Papal Sacred Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith, and its efforts to uphold the standards of decency in films are mirrored throughout the world.

Air attacks removed.

The decision to remove all air attacks from films is an important step in the battle against the exploitation of the innocent. The Legion has long been opposed to the use of air attacks in films, as they are often used to shock and provoke the audience, rather than to advance the story or develop the characters. The removal of air attacks is a clear indication of the Legion's commitment to the moral improvement of films.

Poor taste.

The Legion is also concerned about the poor taste of some films. The Legion has issued numerous warnings about films that are considered to be morally offensive, and has worked to have them removed from circulation. The Legion's efforts to uphold the standards of decency in films are a clear indication of its commitment to the moral improvement of films.

In conclusion.

The Legion of Decency is an agency of the Catholic Church that has been working to uphold the standards of decency in films for 30 years. The Legion's efforts to remove air attacks and poor taste from films are a clear indication of its commitment to the moral improvement of films. The Legion's call to the faithful, urging greater moral responsibility in the production and viewing of films, is a most timely appeal in today's world of entertainment.

COMMUNICATION: Anthony Nuno, who is hard of hearing, and his wife, Beat, who is totally deaf, happily accept suggestions that they be in their Fall Lawn here the ceremony of the Enthronement of the Sacred Heart, during a visit by Bishop Bridget of the St. Camel Guild program for the deaf.

SISTER BRIDGET spent a quiet hour with the woman—no way to communicate with her, but by the power of the Holy Spirit, she knew that the woman could understand what was said to her, but when the woman was led from the place where she was found, she remained as if she understood the problem that she was trying to solve. She later said: "I was just doing my job, but the power of God was working through me."

For many of us, the only way to understand what is going on in a church service is to use the sign language, which is based on the use of the hands and fingers to make gestures that represent words and phrases.

The mission of the Irish St. Camellian Guild is to aid the deaf in the home and community. They have been working in the deaf community for more than 50 years, and have organized programs that provide support and assistance to those in need.

The mission is to help the deaf to become part of the church community, and to provide them with the necessary tools to live their lives to the fullest.

The guild is made up of Catholic men and women who are committed to the mission of the guild. Members are encouraged to participate in the guild's activities and events, and to support each other in their work.

The guild has a number of chapters around the country, and members are encouraged to participate in their local chapters and to be active in their communities.

The guild's activities include:%
- Providing educational programs for the deaf
- Offering support and assistance to those in need
- Providing opportunities for the deaf to participate in community events

A Wonderful Lady of Liberty Is 75 This Month

By John DePrey

A wonderful lady is having her birthday this week. It is her 75th birthday. She's folks going to make her marks in New York City. This lady is so special the United States of America and all of its people will want to see her every day. The people who pay for this lady's services will be happy too. This lady is wonderful because she is the United States of America's great lady and all of her own power has given her lots of love. This lady is so special because she is a lady of American independence, but the gift is what makes her special. The gift is a statue made in France and it was raised in New York City on Oct. 28, 1940. The statue was made by the French to show the American people how much they love them. The statue is on top of and of America's biggest skyscrapers and it hasn't gotten to Miss Liberty's true birthday.

The statue is so special that every time a new American comes to America she or he must take a picture with the statue. The statue is in the shape of a woman and she is white and has long hair. She is dressed in a robe and a veil and she is holding a torch in her right hand and in her left hand she is holding a book. The statue sits on top of a building and it is a statue of Liberty. The statue is so special it is like every American's personal symbol and it is so special the United States of America's great lady is the Lady of Liberty.

Pope Gives Advice on Proper Recitation of the Rosary

NCWC News Service

Pope John XXIII called for the recitation of the Rosary as a means of prayer and contemplation in his encyclical, Pacem in Terris. The Rosary is a meditative prayer that consists of the recitation of certain prayers, often accompanied by the use of the rosary beads, a set of prayer beads that consist of a number of beads separated by larger beads, called “largies”. The Rosary is traditionally recited with the intention of mediating on the mysteries of the life of Christ and the Virgin Mary.

Joyful Mysteries

1. Annunciation of the Angel to Mary
   - This is the first mystery of the Rosary and it commemorates the annunciation of the Archangel Gabriel to Mary. The angel announces to Mary that she will conceive a child by the Holy Spirit and become the mother of Jesus Christ.

2. Visit to the Holy Family
   - This mystery commemorates the visit of the Holy Family to the Temple in Jerusalem, where Jesus was presented to the Lord. The visit is a reminder of the obedience of Mary and Joseph to the commandments of God.

3. Purification of the Virgin Mary
   - The third mystery of the Rosary is the purification of the Virgin Mary, when she went to the Temple to purify herself according to the Mosaic law. This mystery is a reminder of Mary’s obedience to God and her readiness to carry out his will.

4. Presentation of Jesus in the Temple
   - This mystery commemorates the presentation of Jesus to the Father in the Temple, as described in the Gospels. The presentation is a reminder of Mary’s obedience to the law of Moses and her readiness to carry out God’s plan.

5. Holy Death
   - The fifth mystery of the Rosary is the death of Jesus in the Garden of Gethsemane. This mystery is a reminder of Jesus’ sacrifice for the sins of the world and his readiness to carry out the will of the Father.

Sorrowful Mysteries

1. Jesus at Gethsemane
   - This mystery commemorates the Agony in the Garden of Gethsemane. The Agony is a time of intense prayer and suffering for Jesus, who prays that the will of God be done and accepts his Father’s will for his life.

2. Flagellation of Christ
   - The second mystery of the Rosary is the flagellation of Christ, when he was scourged by the Roman soldiers. This mystery is a reminder of Jesus’ sacrifice for the sins of the world and his readiness to carry out the will of the Father.

3. Crucifixion of Christ
   - The crucifixion of Christ is the third mystery of the Rosary. It commemorates the crucifixion of Jesus on the hill of Calvary, where he died for the sins of the world.

4. Deposition of Christ
   - This mystery commemorates the death of Jesus on the cross and his descent from the cross. It is a reminder of Jesus’ sacrifice for the sins of the world and his readiness to carry out the will of the Father.

5. Entombment of Christ
   - The fifth mystery of the Rosary is the entombment of Christ in the tomb. It is a reminder of Jesus’ sacrifice for the sins of the world and his readiness to carry out the will of the Father.

Glorious Mysteries

1. Resurrection of Our Lord
   - This mystery commemorates the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead. It is a reminder of Jesus’ victory over death and his ascension to heaven.

2. Ascension of Our Lord
   - The second mystery of the Rosary is the ascension of Jesus Christ into heaven. It is a reminder of Jesus’ return to the Father and his promise to send the Holy Spirit.

3. Coronation of Mary
   - The third mystery of the Rosary is the coronation of Mary as Queen of Heaven. It is a reminder of Mary’s role as the mother of Jesus and her place in heaven.

4. Assumption of Mary
   - The fourth mystery of the Rosary is the assumption of Mary into heaven. It is a reminder of Mary’s role as the mother of Jesus and her place in heaven.

5. Peaceful Sleep of Our Heart
   - The fifth mystery of the Rosary is the peaceful sleep of our heart. It is a reminder of the peace that God’s love brings to our hearts and the importance of prayer and contemplation.

Pope Gives Meditations on the Rosary

Holy Hour Oct. 29 Will Open National Catholic Youth Week

NEWARK—A crowd of 250 young people gathered at the Church of the Holy Family, Milford, for the official opening of National Catholic Youth Week Oct. 29 in a happy morning marking the start of the annual observance of the feast of Christ’s Sacred Heart. The event was a part of a national observance of National Catholic Youth Week, 1958, which will start the mark of the first official Catholic Youth Week which will end in March.

RANKERS will be present to young people during the Holy Hour. Those who will participate in the different church week will make a special effort to promote the Holy Hour. In addition, the week, it will mark the start of the sacred observance of Youth Week which will end in March.

A MESSAGE ON CATHOLIC YOUTH WEEK

Catholic Youth Week has a special meaning in this era when juvenile delinquency has festered to such a social cancer. As a Judeo-Christian people, we have a duty, in the next eight years to study the laws relating to juvenile delinquents, and curb our sense of admiration to their improvement. I hope my suggestions will be received favorably, on the belief that the real remedies for the errors of the past are possible, but that, in the new church, if the home be the place where father and mother are in the deep spiritual and religious church and the school be the center of faith and give and high moral principles, the church can be the inspiration for the process of Christian living as we are to see the church. If it is the church and the home are possible, I hope that youth will be properly guided. To me, the Catholic Church to be redounded to the needs of a healthy family life and unity, to think high in the classroom and to the worship of God.

Bishop Stanton At St. Michael's

Bishop Stanton will make an announcement Thursday night at St. Michael's for the Propagation of the Faith. Last November, he wrote a letter to the parishes in New Jersey announcing his intention to make a similar appeal to the people of this diocese for the Propagation of the Faith. The Bishop's letter was widely publicized and received widespread support from parishes throughout the diocese.

Bishop Stanton wishes to express his deep appreciation for the generosity of the parishes in their support of the Propagation of the Faith. He is particularly impressed by the efforts of the parishes in the rural and inner-city areas, who have shown remarkable creativity in reaching out to their communities.

St. Michael's Church will hold a special mass on Thursday night to commemorate Bishop Stanton's announcement. The Bishop will be joined by a number of parishioners who have made significant contributions to the Propagation of the Faith.

In his letter, Bishop Stanton appealed to the people of the diocese to continue their support of the Propagation of the Faith. He reminded them of the importance of this work in spreading the Gospel and bringing the love of Christ to all corners of the world.

"We have a unique opportunity to make a real difference in the lives of people around the world," said Bishop Stanton. "Our parishes are filled with dedicated workers who are eager to continue their efforts in this important work."

St. Michael's Church is located at 123 Main Street in the heart of the city. The special mass will begin at 7:00 PM. All are welcome to attend.

In other news, Bishop Stanton announced that he will be speaking at a conference on the Propagation of the Faith at St. Joseph's Seminary in Yonkers next month. The conference will focus on the importance of religious education in parishes and will feature a number of speakers from different dioceses around the United States.

The conference will be held on Saturday, June 24. Tickets are available for $50 per person and can be purchased online at stjosephsny.org.

In conclusion, Bishop Stanton encourages all parishioners to continue their support of the Propagation of the Faith. He reminds them of the importance of this work and the difference it can make in the lives of people around the world.

Thank you for your support and continued commitment to the Propagation of the Faith.

Plan New Convent, Rectory

At Church of the Madonna

FORT lee—Construction will begin in September on the new convent and rectory for the Church of the Madonna. This has been announced by Rev. Edward P. Knott, pastor. The design for the building was prepared by Rev. John R. Bellofatto, Superior of the Archdiocesan Construction Office. The project will cost $75,000.

The new building will be located on the present rectory site. The new rectory will be designed to accommodate the current services and will include a parsonage.

The church has been in continuous service since 1933. The present rectory was built in 1950 at a cost of $42,000.

Several groups and organizations have already donated funds toward the project. The church plans to complete the work as soon as possible.

Life Priests’ Homes

Blessings for the New Residents

THE RECTOR OF the Church of St. Patrick, Jersey City, has announced the opening of the new rectory for priests. The rectory is located on the edge of the city and is surrounded by beautiful scenery.

The rectory will be used by priests who are attending the seminary or who are studying for the priesthood.

The rectory includes a large dining room, a living room, a study, and a chapel.

The rectory will also be used by priests who are on retreat or who are on holiday.
