Stresses Obligation Toward Missions

SAN FRANCISCO — Every Catholic should be a member of a Catholic missionary concern, Chairman of the Catholic Missions Commission, the Honorable W. G. L. Ong, told the National Catholic Missions Congress here today.

Mr. Ong said, in addition, that each Catholic should do his part in supporting the missionary concerns of the Holy See, the bishops and religious groups.

Congress School Aid Action Seen Uncertain

WASHINGTON — What will Congress do about the school aid program once it is allowed to expire in the fall? The question is causing much concern among Catholic educators and religious leaders.

The program, established in 1965, provides funds to local school districts to help pay for transportation costs of students who live in rural areas.

The program is due to expire at the end of this fiscal year, and many Catholics believe it should be continued.

Meanwhile, the Catholic Church, through its National Catholic Education Association, has been working to promote the program.

A letter from the National Catholic Education Association to the Department of Education, dated February 1, 1966, stated that the program is needed.

The letter stated that the program is necessary to provide quality education for students in rural areas.

The Catholic Church has also been active in promoting the program through its various organizations.

Air Transport

The U.S. Postal Service has announced that it will continue to provide air transportation services for the Catholic Church in the U.S.

The service, which began in the 1950s, has been a vital link for the church in transporting religious leaders and other officials.

Restitution Asked

The President of Denmark has announced that he will seek restitution for damages caused by the occupation of Danish lands by Germany during World War II.

Mr. Ong said that the program is needed to help pay for the transportation costs of students in rural areas.

The program has been a source of controversy in recent years, with some lawmakers arguing that it is too costly and that it diverts funds from other programs.

The program is expected to cost about $1 billion annually.

Saga of the Christmas Tree

BOSTON (UPI) — The tradition of decorating a Christmas tree was commemorated today when the final Christmas tree was produced in advance of the holiday season.

The ceremony was held at the historic Faneuil Hall, as hundreds of volunteers gathered inside the hall to help decorate the tree.

“Every year, this event is a reminder of the joy and spirit that Christmas brings to our community,” said Mayor Marty Walsh. “We are grateful to our dedicated volunteers who make this event possible each year.”

The tree, which stands 30 feet tall and is adorned with thousands of lights and ornaments, will be displayed in Boston Common starting tomorrow.

Livingston Marked Tanganyika's Freedom

BY JOSEPH R. THOMAS

Livingston — In a bold move, the British government today declared Tanganyika a free and independent nation.

The move comes after months of negotiations with the Tanganyika government, which had sought independence for years.

“Tanganyika has been a valuable asset to our country,” said Prime Minister Joseph Thomas. “We are proud to see it become a sovereign nation.”

The declaration of independence is expected to bring significant changes to the region, including the establishment of a new national government and the transition to a democratic form of governance.

The baby was born earlier this month and is doing well. The Moffet family is deeply grateful for the support of our community during this special time.

“Fr. Moffet and his family are truly an inspiration to us all,” said Fr. John Smith, pastor of Peace Community Church. “We are grateful for their commitment to mission and ministry, and we know that with your support, we can continue to make a difference in the community.”

Get Younger by the Flow

By Ed Cogni

M E R I C A — There is evidence on hand in the documentation of a number of records that the age of the child is 3. At the tender age of two, the child was a father.

When the Westerners arrive in the area of the country, they are often startled by the sight of a group of small boys, each with a small sword in his hand. This is because the boys are leaders in their community.

As a child, he was already a leader in his community, and as a young man, he became known as a leader in his community.

The child, who was 3 years old, was seen playing with a group of small boys in the streets of the town.

THE BUS PARENTS BOUGHT: Billy Nurkin, Ann Marie Bana, Anthony Patel and Sue Cote were among those who bought the bus. They were said to be preparing for a trip to Washington, D.C., for the dedication of the new building.

The bus, which was purchased with the help of the community, will be used to transport the children to and from their school.

NURMENI: “The parents bought the bus because they want to ensure that their children have a safe and healthy environment,” said Nurkin.

IN 1980, 1981 the county issued a search warrant for the name of the child. The search warrant was served on the child’s father, who was returned to the name of the child.

The parents, who were returning home from the hospital, were able to get the child back to their home, where they were reunited with the child.

The child was reunited with his family after being missing for two days.

RICHARD BAYNE: “The parents are very grateful to the community for their support,” said Bayne.

They are also grateful to the doctors and nurses who helped care for the child during his stay at the hospital.

Do You Understand Christmas?

By Anne Dooper

It’s so hard for people to understand Christmas. In fact, it is hard for us to understand Christmas. Do you know what we mean? Sometimes we do things that are customary at Christmastime, and we may not understand why we do them. Then the reason for the things will come to us after that we are done, and we wonder why we did it. That’s the way it can be with Christmas customs and traditions. People should mean that much in what we do. It means what we do.

Do YOU know who will understand each other and understand? It’s too bad you thought down in writing. Then others can react, and that means more. And we do see many things. The best way is to understand. And we can see more things. We can change them if they are cruel or unclear understand, only if they are truly how real we are.

Some people think, "Why do we do this thing? The Young Advocate Club has turned a picture on the inside of cards and girls from the kindergarten through the eighth grade to write a letter to Santa Claus."

St. Mary's has a strong lineup with Tom Sweeney (14-7) and Kevin Dougherty (16-7), who will be key players in the season's outcome.

Mission Life Also Rough On Parish Buildings

The poverty of the little girl in those Filipino regions filled with hunger was never more evident to Sister Rosalie J. Carter than the day she was given a copy of the New York Times.

"I have just returned from an eight-year mission in the Philippines where the poverty of the people was never more evident to me than in the day when I received a copy of the New York Times," Sister Carter, a member of the Sisters of Charity of Notre Dame, said recently. "I was brought to the realization that there are people who live in poverty and who have no newspapers to read about the news of the world."

The Sisters of Charity of Notre Dame have been working in the Philippines for the past eight years, and the mission has provided Sister Carter with a unique perspective on the plight of the poor.

"The people in the Philippines are very poor, and they have no newspapers to read about the news of the world," Sister Carter said. "I was brought to the realization that there are people who live in poverty and who have no newspapers to read about the news of the world."

Sister Carter said that the mission has provided her with a unique perspective on the plight of the poor in the Philippines.

Pope John Appeals for Unity, Defends Primacy of Papacy

The Holy Father, Pope John XXIII, in his message to all Christians at the end of the 15th century of the death of St. John of Rome, expressed his appreciation for the loyalty of the faithful in the past and called for unity among the faithful in the present.

In his message, Pope John XXIII said:

"The Church of Christ, the faithful living and dead, is one in Christ. The unity of the Church is not a matter of the external or temporal aspects of the organization of the Church, but of the inner, spiritual, and real unity of the Body of Christ. The unity of the Church is not a matter of organization, but of the inner, spiritual, and real unity of the Body of Christ. Filth in the Movies—
At Home and Abroad

By William H. Mooring

In this land of the free one would hardly expect that the spirit of the movies, driven by the spirit of the press, would start far throwing things on the screen. Indeed, these have been scientists, artists, and others who are leading the way. But one thing is certain: the spirit of filth, which was always there, is now being prominently displayed in the movies.

THE MOST notable example of this is the case of "The Lady and the Fool," which was shown in New York City last week. The film was made by the American Film Producers Association, which has been fighting against filth in the movies for many years. The film was described as "a most remarkable achievement in the art of filth." The film was shown in New York City last week.
