Sainthood Near for 2

YATSKY CITY (CNS) — The Secretariat of Study of Causes for Sainthood has set the process for Pope John XXIII for a re-consideration of the cause in the Diocese of Newark, N.J., where the late Bishop Francis J. Duca, who died in 1960 in Washington, D.C., was appointed in 1959. The cause will be investigated by the Congregation for the Causes of Saints, which will then make a recommendation to the Roman Congregation for the Causes of Saints, which will be studied by the Pope.

GLORY R. — The proper regalia for the grand day staff in the Washington Bureau of Holy Name Society will be the Red, White and Blue. The staff will consist of four members: the Bishop, the Finance Director, the Secretary, and the Treasurer.

Church Property Damaged

Priests, Nuns Give Aid in Storm

The winter snowstorm which swept across the New Jersey countryside last week left a trail of destruction in its wake. The damages were estimated at $100,000,000.

ARCHBISHOP — The Archdiocese of New York has announced that the damages caused by the snowstorm will be assessed at $100,000,000.

VATICAN CITY - Pope John XXIII, this week re- presented Mrs. John F. Kennedy the papal gold medal and a replica of the Pontifical and American's First Lady, who is 52 years old, married in Florence, Italy.

Mrs. Kennedy and her party arrived at the Vatican Palace at an early morning hour, but the Pontiff was already waiting for them in his audience room. After the audience, the First Lady rode to the Vatican's Central Cathedral, Venetian basilica of St. Peter, where she became acquainted with the children and two nuns from the Vatican's orphanage. The Cardinal gave her a gold key to the house of the Vatican's orphanage, a St. Peter's key as a token of appreciation for her visit. The Cardinal also gave her a gold medal, a St. Peter's key as a token of appreciation for her visit.

Baltimore Prelate Backs Anti-Bias Legislation

U.S. News Roundup

Baltimore (CBS) — Archbishop Lawrence J. (Jim) Keane of Baltimore and the bishops of all 13 other Catholic dioceses in Maryland have lined up behind a project to write a state anti-bias law.

"The Maryland bishops have met this week to discuss mutual strategies, one of which is to promote the passage of an anti-bias law," said Keane.

The project, which is called "Maryland Against Hate," aims to create a broad-based coalition of faith groups, civil rights organizations, and other interested parties to work towards the goal of passing an anti-bias law.

"We believe that such a law is necessary to promote equality and protect the rights of all Maryland citizens," Keane said.

The project has several key components, including public awareness campaigns, advocacy efforts, and legal action if necessary.

"We will work tirelessly to ensure that all Marylanders are protected from discrimination," Keane concluded.

Community Colleges

Hardly a man is now alive who has lived through the entire college population. The birth rate in the U.S. suggests that the college population of the nation will reach a new high shortly after World War II. The college population was about 2,000,000 in 1940; it will be 10,000,000 in 1960, or more than five times as large. There are, of course, other factors which will eventually bring about a decline in the number of those attending college, but these are not well understood. In the meantime, it is certain that the college population will continue to increase.

The trend in the United States is toward the smaller, more highly specialized college. The larger colleges, with their large number of students, are becoming less important. The smaller colleges, on the other hand, are becoming more important. The trend is toward the smaller, more highly specialized college.

Letters to the Editor

Doctor's Letter: Callod Gk Rx

Editor:

The letter of Dr. William T. Jones, of Marillac General Hospital in Laredo, Texas, in last week's issue, of the local hospital's policy of refusing to treat patients if they have no health insurance is quite surprising, with the exception of where physicians should be paid for public policy.

In my primary care, I commonly use only a very small amount of Carambola, with the exception of where physicians should be paid for public policy.

Are physicians being paid for their services? In this regard, I am not sure it would be possible to pay them.

Catholic Laymen: There'll Be Changes

By J.D. GRANT

Newark — "The Catholic Laymen today is expected to change its name to Catholic Laymen of America," the chairman of the Newark Diocese Catholic Laymen's Conference announced here this week.

"This statement by Joseph Source of the Diocese of Newark, who is also the chairman of the conference, is expected to be met with approval by the members," said Mr. Source.

The change is a reflection of the organization's desire to broaden its scope and appeal to a wider audience.

The new name, Catholic Laymen, is designed to emphasize the lay role in the church and to reflect the increased activism of its members.

"We want to be more than just a social group," said Mr. Source. "We want to be a voice for the laity and a force for change."
Girls Scouts a Saint and Lovely Green Things

By JOHN BURKE

There are few important subjects of more general interest to boys than the Scout and his work. We have the 30th anniversary of the establishment of the Boy Scouts in America this week. It is a matter of congratulation that our young men have taken up such a movement with such enthusiasm.

The boy who joins the Scout movement at a young age is the one who will be most likely to remain in it throughout his life. The Scout is a boy who has been taught the value of hard work, and who has learned to appreciate the worth of honest effort.

The Scout is a boy who is taught to respect the rights of others, and to be a friend to all. He is taught to be a leader, and to be a good citizen. He is taught to be a gentleman, and to be a good sport.

The Boy Scouts are the future leaders of America. They are the ones who will carry on the work of their fathers, and who will be the ones to carve out a new world for their children.

The Boy Scouts are the ones who will be the ones to make the world a better place for all. They are the ones who will be the ones to lead the way to a brighter future.

Handmade Armor — Mrs. Robert Boyle of Shaker Heights, Maryland, is a member of the March 10th Committee, which is going to be the beginning of the 30th anniversary of the Boy Scouts in America.

The committee was organized in the spring of 1910, and has been in existence ever since. The committee has been working very hard to plan the celebration, and has been very successful.

The committee is planning to have a parade, and to have a large number of people attend. They are also planning to have a fireworks display, and to have a large number of games.

The parade will be held on Saturday, May 1st, and will start at 2:00 p.m. The parade will go through the city, and will end at the City Hall.

The committee has been very successful in their work, and they are very proud of their accomplishment.

The committee is very grateful to all of the people who have helped them, and they are very grateful to all of the people who have supported them.

Pirate Records Fall

By ERIC GRANT

Newark - Newark's 13th straight win for the season gives game fans the highest steady growth in the state's top Catholic track conference.

Newark's 13th straight win was a milestone achievement for the Newark boys track team, which has come to be known as the "Pirate" because of its assertive play in the track meet.

Head Coach Michael J. Werkman said after the win that the team's performance was "the best I've seen in years." The team's steady growth has been attributed to a combination of hard work and determination.

In addition to the Pirate Records Fall, the team has also set records for the longest streak of consecutive wins in the conference.

Werkman's team consists of some of the most talented athletes in the state, and their performance has been a source of inspiration for other teams in the conference.

Orders at March end:

In St. Benedict's Preparatory School, a devoted living wage and full implementation of the Church's teaching. Labor unions have not been a great help to play the role of the Holy Father's words.

We expect that religious vocations will continue to be renewed, at least for those who wish to remain in their unions, and to be encouraged by their members. But we cannot avoid the fact that there is need for the Church to be present in the world and for the whole Christian community to work together for the common good.
