Persecution Hit by Pope At Consistory

VATICAN CITY—Pope John XXIII this week urged the 72 Cardinals of the Catholic Church to stand up to the "persecution" of the papacy by the 75 members of the Communist government in East Germany. His message was reinforced by the official communiqué of the papal press office, which reported that the Pontiff had written to the members of the Catholic Church in East Germany, expressing his deep concern for the situation of the Catholic Church in that country.

The Pope's message was read at the Consistory, which was held in the Vatican, and was broadcast to the world via the Vatican News Service. The message was a response to the persecution of the Catholic Church in East Germany, which had been ongoing for several years.

The Pope said that the persecution of the Catholic Church in East Germany was a "new form of persecution," and that the Church must stand up to it. He also said that the persecution of the Catholic Church in East Germany was "a new form of slavery," and that the Church must stand up to it.

Will Study Key Issues

NEW YORK (AP) — New York City's relatively small gay population, long frustrated in the effort to change church and state policy, is preparing to stage a major event this week to dramatize the need to end discrimination.

The event, which is scheduled for Tuesday, is expected to draw thousands of gay people to the city's Times Square to demand equal rights.

The gathering, which is being organized by the Gay Media Network and the National Gay and Lesbian Task Force, is expected to be the largest gay protest in the city's history.

The protest is expected to draw a large response from the gay community, which has been struggling for years to gain equal rights.

The gay community has long been frustrated in its efforts to change church and state policy, and the protest is expected to be a major event in the gay rights movement.

Cuban Children, Arriving Alone, Need American Foster Homes

WASHINGTON — Cuba is expecting a major influx of Cuban children arriving alone, some as young as 5, as part of the U.S. effort to assist in the ongoing refugee crisis.

The children are expected to arrive in the United States over the next few weeks, and the U.S. government is scrambling to find foster homes for them.

Church Thrives in Hong Kong Despite Communist Shadows

HONG KONG (AP) — Hong Kong, a British colony on the southern coast of China, is among the world's leading financial centers. But in the city's star-studded skyline, there is a small but significant sign of the times.

A church, the Cathedral of St. John, is operating without permission from the Chinese government.

The church, which has been operating in violation of Chinese laws for more than 20 years, is one of the few places where residents can openly worship.

Rule 'Act of God' Defense Invalid

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A man accused of shooting a woman in the face with a shotgun was sentenced to 30 years in prison Friday for a crime that many people consider an act of God.

Radio an Invaluable Asset For Bolivian Missionaries

HONORED BY ROM — Pope, Patrick J. Mahoney, pastor of Holy Name Church, East Orange, is presented with a plaque by John D. Gildea, president of the Independent Holy Name Society, which named the church after him for his directorship of the archdiocesan Development Campaign. At the conclusion of the Mass celebrated by Rev. John Byrnes, diocesan master of ceremonies, the Pope was presented a plaque inscribed: "The Pope's "name day" as he was baptized Angelo Giuseppe and the second name in honor of St. Joseph. "The Pope said that by founding such plants, the Church had duplicated foreign plants and built up industries for the benefit of the natives by laboring people good salaries of money and priests who fixed the native's conscience to many points of the Catholic religion.

Here's a great new way to collect money for your favorite charity or service organization. Just save "White Star" caps from bottles of Pepsi-Cola! Your Pepsi-Cola bottles will donate one-half cent for every cap you turn in. Money adds up fast—and those caps are worth a lot of money! You can write 'SP' in the "W" of each "White Star" cap. Please send me Pepsi-Cola "White Star" fund registration card today!

Please send a registration card to Pepsi-Cola for fund raising. For information on how to participate, write to "White Star" Caps, Pepsi-Cola, Department F-100, 200 North Street, Teterboro, New Jersey.

Here are the results of pew sales in all successful enterprises. Mrs. Helene Fassett and Maryknoll Sisters have established a collection center in Ridgewood, N.J., which is being used to collect the caps. They have raised $8,000 so far.

Any religious or humanitarian organization can participate in the "White Star" cap campaign. The company agrees to pay 10 cents per thousand, or one-half cent per cap, on caps sent in by the participating organization. The caps are valued at about 50 cents each.

The caps can be saved by collecting every "White Star" cap from a Pepsi-Cola bottle, regardless of whether it is full or empty. Caps can be sent to the collection center at any time, but should be sent in batches of at least 100. Caps must be in good condition and not damaged.

To participate, the organization must have at least 500 members. Participating organizations will be paid on a weekly basis. The organization will be responsible for all advertising and promotion of the campaign. The caps will be collected and counted at the Pepsi-Cola headquarters in Teterboro, New Jersey. The organization will be notified of the amount of money raised and the amount of caps sent in.

The program has been successful because of the widespread interest in the "White Star" cap campaign. Organizations have raised over $10,000 so far and the caps are still being collected.

To participate, organizations should write to "White Star" Caps, Pepsi-Cola, 200 North Street, Teterboro, New Jersey. For information, call 201-585-6800.

Would Extend Bill To Private Schools
WASHINGTON (AP) — A House committee has approved a bill to extend tuition tax credits for private and public schools. The bill was supported by several religious and education leaders.

The petition was made on behalf of the Archdiocese of Washington, which has been fighting to extend the tax credits for private schools. The bill's sponsor, Rep. John/type 1 (D-Md.), said the credits would help students attend parochial schools. The voucher system would allow students to use the credits to pay for tuition at any private school, regardless of religious affiliation.

The bill's supporters argued that extending the tax credits would help low-income families send their children to good schools. They also said it would help parens choose the best educational environment for their children.

The bill's opponents, however, said it would undermine public education. They argued that the vouchers would siphon money away from public schools, making them less able to provide a quality education for all students.

The bill now goes to the Senate, where it is expected to face similar opposition.

U.S. News Roundup

Annal Ban on Bible Reading

In 1961, the state of Pennsylvania passed a law banning the use of the Bible in public schools. The law was upheld by the U.S. Supreme Court in a 1963 decision, which held that parochial schools are private institutions and not within the jurisdiction of the court.

The ruling will affect thousands of school districts in Pennsylvania.

Swedish Mission

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — The Central U.S. Province of the Order of St. Francis has announced that it will seize Alfred, a parochial school in St. Paul, and convert it to a public school.

The action has been taken at the request of Archbishop Joseph, Apostolic Delegate for the U.S. and Canada. The move follows a 1962 decision by the U.S. Supreme Court to uphold the constitutionality of parochial schools.

The Supreme Court also is considering a case involving a public school in New York State that opposes the inclusion of Catholic schools in public education.

A large group of teachers and students from the school district is expected to rally outside the school today.

St. Paddy’s Day Gift

Sent to Bolivians

SILVER SPRING (AP) — An airborne package in Bolivia has given the hungry people of Bolivia a special St. Patrick’s Day gift — in the form of a package of wheat.

The gift is in partial fulfillment of a pledge made by Bishop C. John Arriola of Washington, D.C., earlier this year.

The action was taken at the request of Archbishop Joseph, Apostolic Delegate for the U.S. and Canada.

The wheat will be distributed to the people of Bolivia to help feed them.

Center for Aging

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) — The Archbishop of St. Louis has opened a new center for the elderly in the nation’s capital.

The center, called the Center for Aging, will provide a variety of services to elderly people, including dining, lodging, and medical care.

In the New World
Mary and Joseph held a picture of Jesus in their hands. With the picture they could look at Jesus and remember his teachings. The picture was a reminder of the love Jesus had for them. Mary and Joseph could look at the picture and feel the love that Jesus had for them. They could also look at the picture and remember the promises Jesus made to them.

In the Old Testament
The Jews had similar pictures of God. They had pictures of the Temple, the Tabernacle, and the Ark of the Covenant. These pictures reminded the Jews of the promises God had made to them. The pictures were a reminder of the love God had for them. The pictures were also a reminder of the promises God had made to them.

In our prayer
When we pray to God, we can also have a picture in our minds. We can picture the cross, the Holy Spirit, and the Lord's Prayer. These pictures remind us of the love God has for us and the promises God has made to us.

immature, St. Peter's Fives Know Same Road Can Have Different Lengths

by Ed Woodford

Rockwood — It's surprising how much different is the length from St. Peter's Victory Gardens Friday. A few more miles, we're in New Jersey, a few less and we're in New York. That's where the Delavan Gardens were located. St. Peter's fifth game on Friday.

The Rev. Joe O'Brien's game had come on the road in — and out of — the win.

St. Peter's have only 12 games, six home, six on the road. St. Peter's doesn't play at the Garden, so the four games at home were not in the Garden. The Garden, however, was used for the first three games of the season.

"Only half the Blues come around on weekends," O'Brien said. "So it's not too bad to have six games here, especially with the weather of late."

O'Brien has warned his coach to be careful with the weather, but the six home games have been played.

St. Peter's will play its next six games on the road, with three at New York, two at New Jersey and one at Boston. The six games will be played against the Garden, New York, New Jersey and Boston.

"The Garden is a tough one," O'Brien said. "It's the only one that we play in the Garden."

St. Peter's won its first game of the season against the Garden, but lost the other five.

"We're going to try to win the next six games," O'Brien said. "We're not going to try to lose the next six games."

Parish Support Alien to Peruvians

BY REV. VINCENT T. MALONE, M.M.

LIMA (OJC) — A number of priests have come to Lima to support the Church is radicalized by the Peruvian Catholics. The new government, however, is not so radical. The Church is still alive in the same situation as before the Second Vatican Council, but at present the situation is different. The Church is not as dependent on the government as it used to be.

In some places, the government has been forced to leave the life of the Church. In other places, the Church has been forced to leave the life of the people. In some places, the Church has been forced to leave the life of the country. In other places, the Church has been forced to leave the life of the world.

Liturgy Study Day
At St. Elizabeth’s

CONVENT — A Liturgical Study Day dedicated to the memory of the centennial of the archdiocese will be held at St. Elizabeth’s Convent College on March 25. The morning Mass will be celebrated by Bishop Ivereigh of the English Catholic Church.

The program will include a session with Sister Elizabeth Marie, O.P., another general council member of the Order of St. Dominic, to discuss the program that will be used for the study days, and a coffee hour at 4 a.m.

The OPENING address will be given by the Rev. Frank J. McShane, director of Sacred Liturgy for the Pennsylvania Diocesan Inns. All interested, O.P. and the public, are invited.

During the year 1961 Catholics of North Jersey completed 41 pieces of all-new construction at a cost of $19,088,000.

In the past five years they have completed nearly 250 buildings costing well over $100 million.

Still underway are another 107 buildings. That's a lot of clean new bricks lined up end to end and securely mortared. But there is more to the story than the cool precision of newly-laid bricks, the methodical sounds of digging and hammering, the mathematical calculations of blueprints.

This construction story is as warm as the smile of a child.

It is to the Catholic children of North Jersey that the bulk of this year's construction is dedicated. Of the 41 new buildings 24 are schools, school additions or residences for the Sisters and Brothers who teach in them. A total of 100 new grammar school classrooms were built last year.

And of the 107 buildings now under construction or planned, 61 are related to the education of youth. About 250 new grade school classrooms are being built.

The Newark Archdiocese, with a Catholic population of nearly 1.5 million, completed 33 new buildings costing $18,036,500 — 13 in Bergen County, eight in Essex, and six each in Hudson and Union.

The Paterson Diocese, with just about one-fifth of Newark's Catholic population, completed 8 new buildings costing $1,051,500 — four in Passaic County, and two each in Morris and Sussex.

Nineteen of Newark's 33 buildings are related to education and are five of Paterson's eight. Of the 78 buildings yet to be completed in Newark, 68 are for education, as are 15 of the 29 buildings underway in Paterson.

It is not unusual for a five-year-old Catholic school in North Jersey to announce that it must build an addition of eight classrooms to accommodate the mushrooming enrollment.

It is not unusual for a brand new parish to make its first building a school with an auditorium for Masses, while the dreamed-of church building must wait a number of years.

It is not unusual for the people and their priests to assure their youth a Catholic education.

This is the construction story in Catholic North Jersey... as warm as the smile of a child.

High Schools’ Pilot Project

By ED GRANT
WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP — The educational background of many students at the new Washington Township High School is varied. Some have a history of private school education, others have not. The school's pilot project is designed to help these students adjust to the educational environment.

The pilot project is divided into two parts: the first is a four-week period during which students are introduced to the school's curriculum. The second part is a six-week period during which students are assigned to specific classes.

The pilot project is aimed at helping students who have been away from school for an extended period of time, or who are new to the area. It is also designed to help students who are not yet ready to enter a regular classroom.

The pilot project is funded by a grant from the New Jersey Department of Education. It is being administered by the school's pilot project coordinator, Ms. Mary Lee.

The pilot project coordinator said, "We are trying to create a supportive environment for these students. We want them to feel comfortable in school, and we want them to succeed.

The pilot project has been well-received by students and parents. Many students have reported feeling more confident and prepared for their first day of school.

The pilot project is expected to continue for the next several years. The school hopes to use the pilot project as a model for other high schools in the area.

The pilot project is a success story. It is helping students who were struggling to succeed in school.

The pilot project is a unique opportunity for students who are new to the area. It is also helping students who have been away from school for an extended period of time.

The pilot project is an important step towards creating a more inclusive and supportive educational environment.
Hospitals: Trends and $14 Million

The trend of increasing community planning and cooperation among health care providers continues to grow. This is evidenced by the recent trend of joint planning among hospital, medical school, and other educational institutions.

Community Planning

The trend towards community planning has been accelerated by the need for more efficient use of resources and the desire to provide better care to patients. This is exemplified by the recent joint planning efforts among hospitals and medical schools to improve patient care and reduce costs.

The Physical Plant

The physical plant of the hospital is undergoing a radical change, with new buildings and renovation projects aimed at improving patient care. This is exemplified by the recent construction of new buildings and renovation projects for patient care and office space.

The Staff

The trend towards community planning has also been reflected in the staffing of hospitals. This is exemplified by the recent hiring of additional nurses and other health care professionals to improve patient care.

The Future

The trend towards community planning is expected to continue, with further joint planning among hospitals, medical schools, and other education institutions. This is exemplified by the recent announcement of plans for further joint planning projects in the near future.

Parish: 'Unbelievable'

Parishioners of St. Joseph Parish were excited to celebrate the completion of the new building at a cost of $678,000 during the Orange County Fair in the fall of 1960, marking a significant addition to St. Joseph's campus.

This was just half of the $1,356,000 total cost of completed construction projects, which has been ongoing for the past several years. With the addition of a new rectory at the end of September, the parishioners could hardly wait for the formal opening of the new building.

The new building, a two-story addition to St. Joseph's, was completed in time for the Orange County Fair and is expected to be occupied by the end of the month.

There won't be any more work on the fair, and the parishioners are looking forward to the grand opening of the new building.

Visitors Increase

VATICAN CITY (CNS) — More than 620,000 people visited the Vatican Museums during the first six months of 2013, an increase of 13% over the same period in 2012.

The Vatican Museums have been seeing increasing numbers of visitors in recent years, with the increase attributed to efforts to improve the visitor experience and promote the Museums as a cultural destination.

The Museums, which house a vast collection of art and historical artifacts, are a major attraction for tourists and art lovers alike. Visitors come from all over the world to explore the collections and experience the rich history of the Vatican.

In addition to the permanent collections, the Museums also host special exhibitions and events throughout the year, providing further opportunities for visitors to engage with the art and history on display.

The increase in visitors is seen as a positive development for the Museums, which play a crucial role in informing and educating the public about the history and culture of the Vatican.

We congratulate the Archdiocese on the success of the development fund.

NEW IN EAST HANOVER — St. Rose of Lima parish built its new school, in fulfillment, during 1961, totaling $135,000. It contains eight classrooms, four of which are already in use. It is one of five new buildings in the Parish Diocese devoted to education of youth, as are 13 of Paterson's parishes and seven in Newark.

Schools Occupy Builders in Morris

Two new buildings were completed by Catholics of Morris County during 1961, both of which are new parochial schools.

In Morris County there are Catholic parishes and in one year five new schools were erected.

Peabody, architect, under construction in early 1960 in Morris County was a new school building located on the site where the parish's old church was erected.

For Peabody, under construction in early 1960 in Morris County was a new school building, located on the site where the parish's old church was erected.

The Peabody school, under construction, will contain eight classrooms and a gymnasium, the latter to be used for physical education and also for Sunday school classes.

The school is planned to complete the current 1961-62 school year, with the new school expected to be ready for fall.

By St. Joseph's, Montclair, where an eight-classroom school will be completed by August 1, 1961, the completion of this school is expected to add a total of 250 pupils to the Montclair school system.

A teacher of the Montclair school system, Miss Mary L. O'Neill, will be the principal of the new school, which is expected to be ready for fall.

The O'Neill school, under construction, will contain eight classrooms and a gymnasium, the latter to be used for physical education and also for Sunday school classes.

Purchasing Agency for Catholic Institutions in the Archdiocese of Newark and the Dioceses of Paterson, New Jersey

It has been a pleasure to associate with the supply agencies and lay people who have been helping us to execute the City's Contract for the Catholic Institutions in the Archdiocese of Newark and the Dioceses of Paterson. We wish to thank them for the services they have rendered in helping to extend our purchasing dollar a bit further, through their willingness to help more who take part in them than our own. We wish to thank them for their cooperation and assistance in the great undertaking of our institution and we wish to thank them for their patience and their willingness to do all things to help and assist in the work that they have placed in our hands.
