Course Description
Discussions of possible Russian meddling in the US elections, as well as Russia’s intervention in Crimea and Eastern Ukraine it present key challenges to the international community. It is impossible to approach these challenges without a broader view at the sources of foreign policy in the former Soviet area. This course will survey the main issues in the history of Soviet relations with the foreign world, as well as the new foreign policies of Russia, the other Soviet successor states, and (to a lesser extent) the East and Central European states (in particular Poland, Hungary, the Czech Republic, Romania, and Slovakia). The first part of the course explores topics such as longstanding sources of Russian and Soviet policies pre-dating 1917, the tensions between the pursuit of revolution abroad and state-building at home as sources of Soviet foreign policy, the links between domestic reform and foreign policy initiatives in the perestroika period, and the effects of the demise of the Soviet empire on the international system. The second part of the course analyzes the international behavior of Russia and the other former Soviet and former Soviet-bloc states after 1991. As examples we will discuss the role of interest groups in foreign policy-making in the post-Soviet period, alternative forms of political and economic integration within the Commonwealth of Independent States, the challenges of integration into Western politico-economic (EU) and security (NATO) structures faced by the Central and East European states, and new forms of Russian intervention starting in 2014.

Important Notes:

Plagiarism and other forms of academic dishonesty will be reported to the administration, and may result in a lowered or failing grade for the course and up to possible dismissal from the School of Diplomacy. See University and School standards for academic conduct here:

It is the policy and practice of Seton Hall University to promote inclusive learning environments. If you have a documented disability you may be eligible for reasonable accommodations in compliance with University policy, the Americans with Disabilities Act, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, and/or the New Jersey Law against Discrimination. Please note, students are not permitted to negotiate accommodations directly with professors. To request accommodations or assistance, please self-identify with the Office for Disability Support Services (DSS), Duffy Hall, Room 67 at the beginning of the semester. For more information or to register for services, contact DSS at (973) 313-6003 or by e-mail at DSS@shu.edu.

Policy on Incompletes:

Incompletes will be given only in exceptional cases for emergencies. Students wishing to request a grade of Incomplete must provide documentation to support the request accompanied by a Course Adjustment Form (available from the Diplomacy Main Office) to the professor before the date of the final examination. If the incomplete request is approved, the professor reserves the right to specify the new submission date for all missing coursework. Students who fail to submit the missing coursework within this time period will receive a failing grade for all missing coursework and a final grade based on all coursework assigned. Any Incomplete not resolved within one calendar year of receiving the Incomplete or by the time of graduation (whichever comes first) automatically becomes an “FI” (which is equivalent to an F). It is the responsibility of the student to make sure they have completed all course requirements within the timeframe allotted. Please be aware that Incompletes on your transcript will impact financial aid and academic standing.

Papers should utilize one of the Chicago Manual of Style citation formats: Notes and Bibliography.

Books and course materials
The following books are available for purchase at the SHU bookstore or online:
[NB: you must use the fifth edition of this book. Previous editions are significantly different and do not fulfill syllabus requirements].

Paperback ISBN 0253205611

In addition, the other books mentioned in the syllabus will be available on the Reserve Room of the SHU library (it is best to check under the instructor’s name – some books may be listed under DIPL 4185 NA/6405 NA, as well as DIPL 4193, DIPL 6001, DIPL 6016 and DIPL...
Selected books may also be borrowed from the instructor. Unless otherwise noted, all journal articles listed in the syllabus are available through the SHU e-journal portal. Please download, print, and bring these materials to class in printed form.

All students are encouraged to follow current news from Russia, the former USSR and Central-East Europe daily through The New York Times, Financial Times, and other news sources.

Optional:

Russia-related segments in “The Rachel Maddow Show,” MSNBC.

Class requirements

1. Class attendance and participation
2. Completing all required readings before the session for which they have been assigned, and being ready to discuss them in class
3. A map and geography quiz (September 6, 2017) covering all geographic areas named in the syllabus, all states bordering the FSU and Russian Federation, capitals of all post-Soviet states, as well as main geographical features (such as rivers, oceans, mountain ranges, etc).
4. Two news presentations. The news presentation should be brief (c. 8 minutes), and should include at least two current news item from each a) Russia in general b) ethno-territorial units within the Russian Federation, c) other former Soviet republics; d) former European Warsaw Pact/COMECON states (“Central-East Europe”), in that order. Current sources such as Financial Times, The Economist, and the New York Times can be used, but should be supplemented by more specific resources such as Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty, Johnson’s List on Russia, and other agencies from Western and Eastern Europe and beyond. You should be ready to discuss the link between these specific news and the larger these discussed in the class. Please use a pedagogically-oriented power-point presentation. Sign-up for news presentations will be on August 30, 2017. The items presented should be chosen based on their importance and relevance (i.e., the most important and relevant current news items should take precedence over less important and less relevant ones)

5. Two 15-minute (including 5 minutes for discussion) presentations on a particular optional reading or a substitute reading chosen with the approval of the instructor. “Readings for student presentations” are listed for each class. Please note: When no reading is given but a “TBA” is written, you should propose a presentation reading (related to the topic of that class) to be approved by the instructor at least three weeks in advance of the presentation date – please start your search early.) Your presentation can be based on an article (or two related articles) or several chapters of a book. Please check the actual availability of your materials in the SHU library/e-library at least three weeks the syllabus date of your presentation, as you may need to order them through Inter-Library Loan. Sign-up for presentations will be on August 30, 2017. Graduate students are required be available to do a presentation on the second week of classes.

The presentations should concentrate on the particular reading chosen, yet should also draw and make connections with the rest of the materials assigned for that class day, and with appropriate factual materials (drawn from case studies or newspapers). No later than 5:00 pm on the day before the presentation date (as per the syllabus), you should hand the instructor the following (in a single file).

a) a two-page (max. 700 words) typed summary of your presentation arguments in essay form (i.e., using complete sentences.) You may also distribute outlines in the class (optional). Please include:
   1. your name and full class information (top of first page)
   2. full citation of presentation material (top of first page)
   3. a summary of the reading
   4. a summary of the author's arguments
   5. how it relates to other class readings? Does it support, or contradict them?
   6. your own personal assessment

b) A list of five or more questions for class discussion based on that reading.

The day of the presentation, you should bring to class copies of an outline and/or other visual aid for distribution to all students.

Please note: students should have a two-week flexibility concerning their presentations. Because of possible scheduling issues it is possible that the date of your oral presentation may be delayed for a week or (maximum) two. The deadlines for the written presentations remain unchanged – i.e., even if we fall behind the schedule, please submit your written presentation by the original date (i.e., the day before the original date of the presentation). It is the student's responsibility to remember the date of the presentation. Late assignments will be subjected to a 20-point (20%) penalty (1st day), plus 10% for each subsequent day.

5. An in-class, mid-term examination (Wednesday, October 18).

6. A take-home examination (due Wednesday, December 13). You will have two weeks to complete this examination.

Submission of assignments:

Unless otherwise noted, assignments are due on or before 7:30 pm. of the deadline date in the instructor's mailbox and as e-mail attachment.
Please note that all assignments must be also submitted as hard copy. Please make sure each assignment includes full class, assignment, date and name information in the first page, as well as a “header” on each page with your name and short assignment name, as well as page numbers. Please use 1” margins and 12 point fonts, with 10 pts. for footnotes.

Files submitted by e-mail should be labeled clearly, using the following format:
YourName_DIPL6405_SHORTASSIGNMENTNAME_day.mo.year.doc
So, for example: JohnEdwards_DIPL6405_GAZPROMPRESENTATION_18.03.2015.doc
Files not labeled correctly may be subject to a 2% grade decrease.

Late assignments policy:
It is essential that assignments are submitted on time; I am unable to grant extensions. If you cannot come to campus to bring the hard copy, please mail it with sufficient time to reach me by the deadline. Due to the large number of students, we are unable to accept submissions by fax. Late assignments will be subjected to a 20-point (20 %) penalty (1st day), plus 10% for each subsequent day. (For example, an assignment that merits a 95 (“A”) grade will get 75 points if submitted a day late.) Late penalties are prorated for electronic/hard copy submissions: if an assignment is not turned in in hard copy form but only in electronic form, the penalty will be 10% per first day late (5% for each subsequent day); if it is not turned in in electronic copy form but only in hard form, the penalty will be 10% per first day late (plus 5% for each subsequent day). Assignments submitted >45 minutes after the due time are counted a day late. The deadline ensures the instructor enough time to read and comment on assignments.

Use of laptops, phones, and digital devices in class

While the use of computer resources is an important part of your experience at SHU, for our 130 minutes of classroom interaction, we will follow the following principles:

Closed laptops, open minds

130 minutes of electronic device-free dialogue Let’s give each other a chance to interact, not via Facebook, but through the real face-book: talking face-to-face and reading each others’ faces like a book – communicating with words, images, expressions, and subtle gestures. This is a crucial skill in diplomacy and negotiation!

No distractions, focused interaction Before class can start, kindly fully turn off and put away your phone and other digital devices.

Better understanding through retyping and re-organizing class notes For best results, take notes by hand during the class meeting (printed outline provided). After class, go over your class notes as well as your notes from the readings, and retype the class notes connecting them with concrete examples or concepts found in the readings and additional searched information (maps, etc.).

E-mail communications:
Please submit electronic versions of course assignments at the same time as the hard copy; both copies must be identical. Please label electronic copies as noted above. As a result of an uncontrollable flood of unnecessary e-mails, I have set my Spam program to delete questionable messages. To assure efficient communications, please keep in mind to:

1. Start subject line with DIPL 6405
2. Include a clear and fully self-explanatory subject line, including any action requested. Examples of self-explanatory subject lines are: “DIPL 6405: Special appointment needed to discuss draft due October 30,” “DIPL 6405: Cannot make meeting March 15, special appointment requested,” etc. Non-explanatory Subject lines such as “DIPL 6405” or “Class” will result in a delayed answer or a lost message – my Spam program deletes e-mails that do not contain content-related subject lines.
3. Include an appropriate professional greeting. My Spam program deletes e-mails lacking an appropriate professional greeting. (Appropriate professional greetings are: “Dear Prof. Balmaceda” and “Dear Dr. Balmaceda.”)
4. Use your Seton Hall e-mail account. My Spam program deletes unexplained e-mails from unknown (non-Seton Hall) accounts
5. Please label any attachments clearly, using a document title such as DIPL6405PresentationSMITHDAYMONTHYEAR.doc.
6. E-mails will normally be answered in three batches: late Monday evenings, Wednesday evenings, late Friday evenings. If I have more than one e-mail from you waiting in my inbox, please keep in mind that I will look at the most recent of your e-mails first; please incorporate into it any relevant information from other e-mails you may have sent during this period. Complex discussions are more efficiently conducted in person or by phone than by e-mail correspondence.
