"Just the Kind of Saint
The Church Needs Today"

VATICAN CITY (ANSA) - March 6, 1981 - Pope John Paul II canonized Blessed Martin of Tours. He was said to be "the kind of saint the Church needs today."

The Pope also canonized S. Padre Pio of Pietrelcina and 109 other prelates and laypersons.

Bishop McNulty of Brooklyn, N. Y., said: "Our 'Hearts Open to Cubans'

"Our hearts and homes are open" to refugees of Castro's Cuba. Bishop McNulty said this week is a prepared statement with called "Operation Open Heart," to provide a place of refuge and security for those who seek asylum.

"The announcement came soon after the U.S. government announced plans to accept up to 50,000 Cuban refugees.

The move, attributed to the U.S. government, was made in response to a request from the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees.

Bishop McNulty said: "We are committed to providing a safe haven for those who seek refuge from persecution and oppression in their homeland.

"Our hearts and homes are open to them."

The move was viewed as a step toward normalization of relations between the United States and Cuba.

In his report, Archbishop John O'Malley of Boston, the last of the four archbishops to address the conference, said that the United States has more than its share of problems, but it also has many strengths.

"We have a rich history of democratic values and institutions, " he said. "But we also have a tendency to take these things for granted."

The key to solving our problems, he said, is education and understanding.

"We need to continue to educate our young people about the values of democracy," he said. "And we need to continue to educate ourselves about the challenges we face."
Librarians Hear Bishop Wright Stress Importance of Words

PITTSBURGH (NCN) — A call for the "liberations of words" was made by Bishop John A. Wright of Pittsburgh at the opening of the 47th annual meeting of the Catholic Librarian Association.

The bishop cited the current emphasis on action, ideas, and formulas and the demand for mass "sound bites" and "jingles" that "seem to mean everything and anything at the same time." He said, "Words are the currency of civilization. They can be harnessed or hijacked by those who want to control the world."

"It is not so much the words that are the problem," the bishop said. "But the ways in which they are used, particularly the power of the press to veer off course to the ends of confusion."

Blocks Law Teacher

DETOY — A proposed bill to substitute in the acceptance of Catholic school graduates for all educational levels must not be signed into law, Synodual Board of Catholic school teachers urged in a statement.

Refraining from comment about public figures, the statement called for a positive effect by both religious and secular leaders and organizations working together in the area of mutual understanding.

PROBLEMS — Jayson said religious and educational leaders experience the same problems in the present educational structure. These problems also include the different worlds of the public and private school systems which converge in school and church, and will change and grow as the years go by.

He said it is necessary for Catholics and Americans to understand that in the world of religious leaders, "today's decisions are tomorrow's disagreements, tomorrow's decisions are next year's disagreements, and next year's decisions are this year's disagreements."

Seton Medics Find Bone Disease Cure

JERSEY CITY — Certain dogs, in large lumps, have been discovered to be suffering from a bone disease by a research team from Seton Hall College at Morristown. It is a report to the Association of American Physicians in May 3 in Atlantic City, the Seton Hall team notes that bone disease has been manifestly increased in recent years. They describe their success in finding a bone disease among dogs, as a small triumph in the battle against bone disease.

The dogs were studied by New Jersey physicians and veterinarians in various parts of the state. They report that bone disease is more common in dogs than in other animals. They believe that the disease is caused by a lack of vitamin D in the diet of the dogs.

The study was conducted by a team of veterinarians at Seton Hall College, under the direction of Dr. William H. Waddell, professor of veterinary medicine. The team consisted of Dr. Waddell, Dr. Robert E. Smith, and Dr. John H. Brown. The study was supported by the American Veterinary Medical Association.

The Promise Fulfilled

By William H. Moorings

One of Robert Kennedy's few errors was,据说, the one who was his personal aide for many years. Now it seems that the majority of the book's authors

are members of the Kennedy family. To some extent, the book is an account of the

In our society, it is a

JUDGMENT OF THE

Widows' Hats.

The charge is that the

movie "The Widows' Hats"

is offensive and should be banned. The movie is about a woman who is widowed and must support her family.

She does this by taking on different jobs, including prostituting herself.

The director of the movie,

William H. Moorings,

defends the film, saying that it is a realistic view of the world as it is. He argues that the film is not intended to entertain, but rather to persuade people to consider the problems of widows.

The film has been shown in a number of countries,

including France, Italy,

and Germany. In these countries, it has been allowed to be shown

without restriction.

However, in the United States, the film has been banned in a number of cities, including New York,

London, and Chicago.

The charge against the film is that it is too graphic and too explicit. The director

it is not meant to be

Vocation Explosion Needed

Indecent, teasing magazines and pornography still fuel the fire, but not necessarily in the same way. The Vatican introduced a new arresting action, and the Church is pressing the issue. The popular press, refusing to adhere to the Church’s standards, continues to publish and promote what the Church condemns. The Church, on the other hand, is not giving up. It is fighting against this influence, and the Vatican’s new action is a sign of this struggle.

The Vatican’s action is important because it sends a clear message to the public: the Church is not a passive observer in this battle. It is actively taking steps to protect the morals of its followers. This is a positive step, but it is also a reminder of the need for further action.

The Church is not alone in this struggle.

Other religious organizations are also taking action. The Catholic Church is not the only one fighting against pornography and indecency. Other religious groups are also making efforts to combat these problems.

In conclusion, the Vatican’s action is a positive step in the fight against pornography. However, it is not the end of the battle. More needs to be done, and the Church is not alone in this task. Other religious organizations are also making efforts to combat these problems. The battle against pornography is a long one, but it is one that must be won.

The Farm Problem: An Intricate Maze

By BRY. T. L. H. Y. LEE, J.J.

Negro George Washington Branch of the Farm Bureau Pleases Farm Bureau with a detailed report on the farm problems, with solutions to the problems, on what the future holds for the farmer. The report was written by the National Farm Bureau, of which Mr. L. J. is a member. The report was sent to the members of the Farm Bureau and to the National Farm Bureau, of which Mr. L. J. is a member.

The report is divided into two main sections: the first, "The Farm Situation," and the second, "The Future of the Farm."

In the first section, the report outlines the current state of the farm. It highlights the challenges faced by farmers, such as the high cost of living, the lack of proper education, and the increasing demand for food. The report also discusses the effects of the Great Depression on the farm economy.

The second section of the report focuses on the future of the farm. It discusses the potential solutions to the problems faced by farmers, such as the need for better education, the importance of proper planning, and the importance of diversification. The report also discusses the need for government support to help farmers overcome these challenges.

The report is a comprehensive overview of the current and future state of the farm industry, and it provides valuable insights for farmers and policymakers.
Giver Shares in Church Growth Through Annuity

You can help yourself and the Church by entering into a carefully planned and designed annuity agreement. Here is the plan in which we are interested. It is called a "Church Growth Annuity Plan." You can be fully independent in all parts of your life and leave your Church to the Church without any limitations.

Your Church, through the Catholic Foundation for Church Development, invites you to join in this most helpful project. You may select the amount of your gift, the number of years for the annuity, and any other conditions that you may wish to specify. You may even wish to designate the Church or Church People to whom your income will be paid. This plan will give you the satisfaction of knowing that your gift will be used for the purpose you have designated and that your income will be paid to you for the number of years you specify.

Holy Father Notes Need for Spirit of Solidarity

In the Nov. 15 edition of the "Dienst Kleriker," the official publication of the German Bishops' Conference, a letter was published by Cardinal Joseph Ratzinger, Cardinal Prefect of the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith, expressing his concern over the current state of affairs in Germany and elsewhere in the world. He noted that there is a growing trend towards polarization and division, both within and between nations, and that this trend is leading to a loss of solidarity and a lack of understanding between different cultures and religions.

He emphasized that Christians must work to counter this trend by promoting a spirit of solidarity and unity. He noted that this requires not only a willingness to listen to and respect the views of others, but also a willingness to engage in dialogue and work together towards common goals.

In his letter, Cardinal Ratzinger also expressed his concern over the growing number of refugees and migrants from the Middle East and North Africa. He noted that these individuals are often treated with hostility and discrimination, and that this is leading to a loss of respect and understanding for their cultures and traditions.

He called on all Christians to work towards creating a more welcoming and inclusive society, one that respects and values the contributions of all people, regardless of their background or origin.

In conclusion, Cardinal Ratzinger urged all Christians to remember the teachings of Jesus Christ, who called for love, compassion, and solidarity, and to work towards creating a world where these values are put into practice.

Worship and understanding in the Church are in accord with the following conditions:

1. The Church is the body of Christ, the living presence of God in the world.
2. The Church is the people of God, gathered in the name of Christ.
3. The Church is the community of believers, united in faith and love.

In the current hour of need, the Church offers its support and assistance. It provides a place of comfort and solace, a source of strength and hope. It offers a place to find guidance and direction, and a place to find peace and quiet.

The Church is a place where people can come together to share their faith and their values, to pray and to worship. It offers a place to find comfort and support, and a place to find meaning and purpose.

Newark CYO's Report
Stresses Church's Role

NEWARK — The role of the CYO in the Diocese of Newark was stressed in the April 9 Sunday Bulletin. A CYO spokesman said that the CYO is working in conjunction with the council of laymen, youth, adult education and religious education to promote the values and should carry on the mission of Christ in CYO activities.

In THE introduction to the report, it is pointed out that youth work is a continuing effort of the Church. The CYO is an opportunity. The purpose of the CYO is to promote the values and place them in the youth's minds so that they can carry on the Church's mission in the future.

The CYO is the youth branch of the Church and is a part of the Church's mission. The CYO is a means of bringing the Church's values to the youth. The CYO is a means of promoting the values of the Church in the youth.
