Zoning Law Key . . .

For instance, a section that says, "It is unlawful . . ." requires the city to give a specific reason why the property should be zoned in a particular way. Otherwise, it would be open to interpretation.

The law comes with considerable responsibilities. The city must keep careful records of all the applications, hearings, and decisions. The law also sets maximum heights and building sizes.

In the 1970s, the city was faced with a similar situation. A developer wanted to build a high-rise apartment building in a residential area. The city council was divided on whether to approve the development. The zoning law was a guide for them to consider.

One of the decisions made under this law was the approval of a new hospital in the area. The hospital was needed to serve the growing population of the city.

In the 1980s, the city was once again faced with a zoning law issue. A developer wanted to build a shopping mall in a residential area. The city council once again turned to the zoning law for guidance.

The zoning law was a key factor in the decision to approve the development. The law requires that the mall be built with certain safety features, such as emergency exits and fireproofing.

Bishop Finds Laytity Lacking In Knowledge of Faith

JEPPESEN CITY, Mo., May 17 — Bishop Herbert M. Keating, of Kansas City, Kansas, said in a message issued to the clergy here Sunday, that the church is in a grave situation because the laity is lacking in knowledge of faith. Bishop Keating said that the message he issued to the clergy recently was not intended to preach an offensive sermon but to stress the need for the clergy to concentrate on religious instruction in their work.

In drive $13 Million Collected

NEWARK — Newark begins a new month of religious activity with a $13 million drive to raise funds for the Archdiocese of Newark.

The drive, known as the "Nazarene Crusade," was launched here yesterday by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John J. O'Brien, auxiliary bishop of Newark.

The drive, which is expected to last until June 15, is designed to raise funds for the Archdiocese of Newark and its affiliated institutions.

The drive is expected to be the largest in the history of the Archdiocese of Newark.

Archbishop Notes Contrast In Faith of Two Astronauts

WASHINGTON--Archbishop Paul S. Cheverus of Portland, Maine, has written a letter to the astronauts John H. Glenn Jr. and James A. Lovell Jr., congratulating them on their recent space flight and contrasting their faith with that of the atheists who have publicly opposed the mission.

In the letter, Archbishop Cheverus said that the world was watching with keen interest to see how the men of science would handle the problems that would arise in their flight to the moon.

He said that the information available to the public about the space flight was limited and that it was important that the men who were going to be the first to travel into space should be given every possible opportunity to do so.

The Archbishop also expressed his hope that the astronauts would be able to give an accurate account of their experience when they returned to earth.

WASHINGTON--The Archdiocese of Washington has announced the appointment of Monsignor John F. Flaherty as the new pastor of the Archdiocese of Washington.

Monsignor Flaherty succeeds Father John J. Haney, who was named to the Archdiocese of Cincinnati last month.

The appointment was announced by Archbishop John J. McCaffrey, who said that the Archdiocese of Washington had been working for some time to find a successor for Father Haney.

He said that the appointment of Monsignor Flaherty was a good indication of the future of the Archdiocese of Cincinnati.

The appointment of Monsignor Flaherty was welcomed by the Archdiocese of Cincinnati, which had been working closely with the Archdiocese of Washington.

The Archdiocese of Cincinnati has had a close relationship with the Archdiocese of Washington for many years, and the appointment of Monsignor Flaherty was seen as a good indication of the future of the Archdiocese of Cincinnati.

The Saddle River Issue

Americans should be aware today as never before of the horrid conditions here and now in Saddle River and the entire county of Bergen County. The press, radio and television stations are salute the need of immediate relief in Bergen County. It is a hard time when American can any judgment in Bergen County. It is a time of change, a time of challenge. But we cannot allow our lives to become a challenge with no real issue.

THE GARDEN STATE is experiencing a serious upsurge in the ledger of murder. The recent murder of a young man in Saddle River has once again brought attention to the problem of murder in our state. It is a problem that must be addressed, and addressed quickly.

33 More Priests

By now, the words of Cardinal Spellman and the Diocese of Paterson have long since been published in the press and on the radio. But the story of the 33 priests who have been removed from the Diocese of Paterson is still a significant one. These priests were accused of various offenses, ranging from moral misconduct to more serious crimes. The Diocese of Paterson has taken steps to ensure that these priests are no longer able to function in the clergy.

Holy Family Begins The 'Hidden Years'

The Holy Family, along with other Catholics, went into hiding following the failed assassination attempt on Pope Pius XI. The family was forced to leave Rome and travel to various locations across Europe to avoid detection by the authorities. Despite the danger, the family continued to pray and offer sacrifices for the salvation of the world.

MURDER IN THE WOMB

CBS plans to reveal its most full-length commercial for legislative abortion. This advertisement features a mother's story of how she chose to have an abortion.

As Jack Gold of the "Time Magazine" put it, "The IRS should have set forth more thoroughly the guidelines of its own authority; this sort of abortion should be legal."

But as Jack Gold of the "Time Magazine" writes, "The IRS should have set forth more thoroughly the guidelines of its own authority; this sort of abortion should be legal."

The term moral action relates an action that is right or wrong depending on the circumstances. The action of abortion, however, relates to the criteria of the moral agent. The moral agent must consider the consequences of their actions. Just as consequences should be considered before abortion, consequences should also be considered before marriage.

The Church of the Holy Family is a community of faith which strives to proclaim the Gospel of Jesus Christ and to nurture the spiritual growth of its members. The Church serves as a place of worship and a community of faith. The Church is open to all persons and seeks to provide a supportive and welcoming environment for those seeking to grow in their faith.

Anguish Over Laos Policy

By Joe F. Redden

Our lives will undoubtedly be changed by the events in Laos and the policies of the United States. The situation in Laos is complex and multifaceted, and it is difficult to predict how it will unfold.

Theahn backs Laos

In the negotiations leading up to the Geneva Accords, there was a significant amount of debate about the future of Laos. The North Vietnamese were determined to reunify the country under their control, while South Vietnam was determined to maintain its sovereignty. The United States also had significant interests in Laos, including concerns about communism.

The elections and draft

In the 1950s and 1960s, Laos held several elections, including the first national election in 1951. These elections were often contentious, with many disputes over the results. In addition, the draft was implemented in Laos, with conscription being used to fill the ranks of the armed forces.

The loss of Vientiane

The capital city of Vientiane was lost to the North Vietnamese in 1975. This was a significant loss for Laos, as Vientiane was not only the capital city, but also a cultural and economic hub.

The Khanh regime

The Khanh regime was in power in Laos from 1953 to 1975. The regime was characterized by corruption and authoritarianism, and it faced significant challenges in maintaining control over the country.

The effects of war

The war in Laos had significant effects on the country, including devastation of infrastructure, displacement of people, and a legacy of landmines.

The future of Laos

The future of Laos is uncertain. While the country is now independent and sovereign, it faces significant challenges in rebuilding and maintaining stability.

Intentions for May

The Holy Father's general audience for 5 May is open to the public for booking.

For Vacations

Brothers of the Americas have arranged a week-long retreat for the following locations: New Mexico, Arizona, and California. The retreat is designed to provide a spiritual experience for those interested in the life of Jesus Christ and the meaning of the Incarnation.

The Question Box

Dual Marital Rite Was No Exception

The passage of the Civil Rights Act in 1964, which the Pope recently praised, "is a birthday for all of us," was a significant step towards ending the legal discrimination against African Americans. The Pope's reference to the Civil Rights Act is a reminder of the shared history of struggle and progress that has characterized the Church's commitment to social justice.

The Question Box

Dual Marital Rite Was No Exception

The Pope's remarks about the Civil Rights Act are a significant reminder of the Church's commitment to social justice and the importance of human dignity. The Church's tradition of social action has been integral to its understanding of the Incarnation and the meaning of the Incarnation.

Now, as in the United States, the importance of this commitment to social justice is more pronounced than ever. The Church's understanding of the Incarnation as a radical act of love and commitment to human dignity is the foundation of its work for social justice.

The Vanishing Relaxation: Trainride and a Whodunit

By JOSEPH A. BREID

I AM HOPPELY opposed to the gradual vanishing train. Train travel is the only time I can relax. Whether I am riding in the caboose or the east seat, I can sit back and read a book, or just look out the window without the worry of what is going on behind my back. This attitude is now being replaced by telephone calls, visitors, the next mail, the bank, etc. I find that the only time I can really relax is when I am on the train being served a meal on the train.

Little Tommy of Newark Prepared His Sick Friend To Receive First Holy Communion and to Meet God

By JUNE BURISH

There are so many beautiful stories of love, kindness, and compassion—some in the Bible, some from saints, some from others we have known.

One of the most beautiful is that of Tommy, the son of Elizabeth and Jack Loeb, who prepared himself for his first holy communion.

Tommy was not just any little boy; he was a child of love, a child who knew the meaning of sacrifice and selflessness.

On the day of his first communion, Tommy woke up early, dressed in his Sunday best, and ready to go to church.

Tommy's parents were so proud of him, and they knew that he was ready to receive the holy sacrament.

As they walked into the church, Tommy looked up at the altars and saw the beautiful statues of the saints, and he knew that he was going to meet God.

Tommy's first communion was a beautiful moment, and it was a moment that he would always remember.

After the mass, Tommy's parents took him to a restaurant for a special lunch, and they all had a great time together.

Tommy's first communion was a beautiful moment, and it was a moment that he would always remember.

Serra Mass At Cathedral

NEWARK — A special Mass in honor of the Virgin Mary will be celebrated at noon on June 16 at the Cathedral of the Sacred Heart. All members of the clergy and members of the diocesan Scholastic Choir will take part. The Mass is being sponsored by the faithful of the City of Newark.

Propective Foster Parents Of Cuban Refugees Briefed

PATERSON — An orientation program for prospective foster parents of Cuban refugees will be held here May 27 at Associated Catholic Charities, 463 Main Street. About 150 people attended last month's session sponsored by ACCH.

Biking McHitty recently attended a Catholic in Pas Houn, St. John's, and St. Mary's, Children's Hospital in Newark, and St. Theresa's. Of the group of 45 or so, more than 20 were by St. Joseph's Housen.

The orientation included a presentation of old pictures of Cuba and the U.S. by old boy who worked at a school in Cuba and wrote about his experiences in Spanish and also told stories by Miss Cari
